CMA To Host Junior Olympic Fencing Meets

Culver Military Academy has been named one of 50 Junior Olympic Fencing Centers in the U.S. and is planning to sponsor competition this year for all Indiana fencers under 19 years of age.

The appointment was made by the Indiana Division of the Amateur Fencers League of America, the national and international governing body for that sport in the U.S. Purpose of establishing Junior Olympic Centers throughout the nation is to develop young men and women to represent the U.S. in Olympic fencing competition.

"The U.S. has long been a dominant power in most of the major Olympic sports but its position as an Olympic power is seriously challenged because of its weakness in lesser-known spots," said Elmer G. White, Academy fencing coach and chairman of the AFLA's Indiana Division.

"Through Junior Olympic programs such as the one at Culver, a vigorous effort is being made by the U.S. Olympic Committee to insure that in years to come, the U.S. will be able to field strong international teams in all Olympic events."

White said that at the outset, plans for the Junior Olympic program will focus primarily upon those already involved in the Academy's swordsmanship program. Culver has had a varsity fencing team for many years and annually competes against college, high school, and independent fencers. White said Junior Olympic fencing candidates at Culver now include students Mack S. Rau, Huron, Ohio; James Scieszka, Flint, Michigan; Michael Meyer, Dyer, Indiana; Jen Patula, Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania; Pratt Harris, Stahlstown, Pennsylvania and Andrew Blades, New Orleans, Louisiana.

"While we will move ahead with our fencers," White said, "and as soon as possible the center will hold clinics for coaches and beginners and all interested people. We also plan to hold nationally-recognized competition for all Indiana fencers under 19 years of age."

International fencing has been dominated generally by Russia, Poland, Hungary, France, and Italy, where extensive development programs have been established. The only international-caliber fencing contest in the U.S. is sponsored by the New York Athletic Club.

Culver Military Academy Swimmers Prepare For Swimming Season

Versatility from 14 returning lettermen, five of them record holders, should keep Culver Military Academy's swimming opponents guessing in its 12 meets and at the South Bend John Adams Relays.

Culver's coaches plan to use the element of surprise from their backlog of experience. Although they admit a need for a buildup in depth in the freestyle, backstroke and breaststroke events, they are optimistic that the team can improve on last year's 8-3 record from the opening meet at home Nov. 30 against West Lafayette.

Veteran Academy coach Frank W. Walaitis will be assisted this year by alumnus swimmer William G. Roth who broke a few records himself at Culver. They assigned six seniors, a junior and two sophomores as the leaders of this year's lineup.

Senior co-captain Joe Cummings, Sabina, Ohio, also leads one of the 80-man infantry companies on campus. Expected to be the mainstay of the varsity, he will swim the 200 and 400-yard freestyle events and perhaps the freestyle relay. He holds the 400 free record at 4:35.8.

Co-captain Mike Schneider, a senior from Elmira, N.Y., is also a company commander. He will compete in the 100-yard butterfly, individual medley and the relays. Another senior from Elmira, Hiram Smith, is expected to be valuable in the 200-yard freestyle and 100-yard backstroke.

Although Bob King, a senior from Cocoa Beach, Fla., is referred to as a "master of all strokes," the coaches think he will excel in the individual medley, 100-yard breaststroke and butterfly, and the 200-yard freestyle. An academic leader in his class, King also owns the 100-yard butterfly record of 1:00.9.

Mark Krone, a senior from Spencerville, Ohio, is expected to continue to break Academy records in the freestyle sprints as he did last year. His success is needed if the team is to fill the gaps in the sprints left by last year's captain Bill Brown. Krone's brother, Paul, is a sophomore letterman in diving. He is expected to lead the team's underclassmen.

Coach Walaitis said that although Steve Swale, a junior from Prairie Village, Kan., is probably a diver at heart, he is destined to be one of the best backstrokers he has seen at the Academy. He currently shares the 100-yard backstroke record of 1:00.3.

Glenn (Rich) Richmond, a junior from Aurora, Ill., impresses Coach Roth as "everything a Culver athlete should be. He has tremendous desire to win, and, quite obviously, is accustomed to it. He will probably swim in each event some time this season."

Richmond currently holds three varsity records. His specialties are the breaststroke and the individual medley. Last year's letter winners considered Richmond to have made the greatest contribution to swimming and elected him to receive the Tyson Cup. As a sophomore he also received the first Swimming Hall of Fame medal which will be given to outstanding, interclass swimmers across the nation this year.

Another sophomore hopeful, Roger Benson, came to Culver this year from Elgin Academy in Illinois. He has already distinguished himself in practice, and the coaches look forward to his winning ways in the individual medley, breaststroke and 200-yard freestyle during the season.

Three Phases Of Christmas

Get ready for that "Tri-Season." Yes, we said "Tri-Season." This is one way to define our greatest holiday of the year, Christmas.

Christmas comes a little earlier each year. The Christmas season has to be on us once the Thanksgiving holiday has come and gone. Christmas has such an early impact in fact, that now it is a rat race to get Christmas to the people and in their minds just as early as possible. The start of Christmas promotions beats the carving of the turkey in many towns and cities. Parades, the opening of Christmas seasons in certain locales, the decorating of windows, the displaying of merchandise and everything of this sort brings the season to us just as early as possible.

This is one phase of Christmas. Christmas is the time of the year for retail merchandising. It is so much dependant on the Christmas season in many places, that a good Christmas business is almost the sole reason a business survives or fails. This goes from the biggest manufacturer of products for Christmas right down to the neighborhood store that sells this merchandise to you, the people. The economic phase of Christmas is the one that hits us first, last and hardest. But, in a modern way of life, it seems to be a necessary part of the season.

The second phase of Christmas will continue to grow with the continued growth of the first phase. This is the Christmas first known by the children at this time of the year. Children have come to know Christmas first as the time of the year for Santa Claus and gifts, and gifts and gifts. Yes, children take part in many Christmas programs in churches and Sunday Schools, celebrating the birth of Jesus Christ, but still, in their young minds Santa Claus and his phase of Christmas will reign high from now until the cherished moment on Christmas day when the gifts are opened under the tree.

This fact, whether we like it or not, is the product of our own way of living and bringing up the children. This phase of Christmas is partially a product of the first phase with the continued push aimed at the young for their acceptance and choice of gifts. However, more and more of this also comes from the "different" way of life now over years ago. With the Christmas season getting longer each year, and the commercial aspect, it cannot be blamed on the home life as much as the business life.

The third phase of Christmas is the oldest . . . almost 2000 years old. This is the real reason for Christmas, Christ's birth. It was at this time that the gift giving was started as three kings so-honored a new born babe who was given to the people of the world for their salvation. The religious story of Christmas is known by all, and simple as it may be, is the most beautiful story ever told.

The important part of this phase of Christmas is that we all remember it. Not just Christmas eve or in the Christmas programs and services of the respective churches, but all through the Christmas season.

Christmas is coming. It is coming in all three of the phases. All three are an established part of our lives, and Christmas cannot be the Christmas we know without all three. There is time for all three, but be sure you take time for all as one without the other means you are missing part of the dearest time of the year.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Someday, son - all this will be yours, and then by golly, you'll mow it!"

WE WOULD LIKE YOU TO MEET . . .

For a community its size, Culver has an enormous reservoir of talent. In the next few weeks we wish to introduce some of those talented people and present their hobbies to you.

Mrs. Wallace Helber is one of these gifted personalities we would like you to know. When asked what she considered her principal hobby, she said, "My home is my hobby."

We can readily believe this statement as we look about the Helber's comfortable home and see the evidences of her ventures. She is fond of old furniture and likes to refinish and restore it to presentable condition. About her home are several rugs that she has hooked, braided or crocheted. In the summer she is busy canning and making jellies and jams from the produce of their large garden. Needless to say, her hobbies get little attention during this period.

Through-out her home, Mrs. Helber has displayed her paintings which we can safely say are her specialty. Her formal training was gained in her college days at Missouri College, where she majored in art. She was encouraged further in her art, when a group of faculty wives at Culver Military Academy began art courses.

Water color, which she does with an impressionistic flair, is Mrs. Helber's media, but displayed prominently in the Helber's living room is an acrylic collage. This beautiful floral painting is arrived at by pasting pieces of tissue and paper to canvas and painting over it with plastic paints. As a crowning touch, Mr. Helber designed and made the natural finish frame.

Some of Mrs. Helber's paintings will be on display at Radeckie's Art Gallery in South Bend, where the St. Joseph Valley Water Color Society will sponsor an art show on November 25.

A current and seasonal hobby of Mrs. Helber's is designing and making Christmas ornaments. For several years the family saved old jewelry and pieces of ribbon, braid and material. Last year Mrs. Helber bought styro-foam balls and began to fashion lovely ornaments from them. These distinctive balls are first covered with four leaf shaped pieces of satin or taffeta which are pinned on with numerous pins. Ribbon and braid are then used to cover the pins and from these covered balls, Mrs. Helber's imagination takes over and she makes each ball a creation that will be treasured from year to year. You may see and even purchase these lovely ornaments at the "Little House Art Workshop," where Mrs. Helber also has some of her paintings for sale.

Mrs. Helber does not claim all the talent in her family. Mr. Helber is a gifted musician who plays the piano and bass viol. He is presently on sabbatical leave from the Academy, where he is a science instructor, and is furthering his studies at Indiana University. Susan is a freshman at Rockford College, Illinois, and Vicki and Janet are co-eds at Culver Military Academy. All three of the girls were in the theatre production of the "King and I", presented last year at the Academy. Vicki's outstanding voice has won her much praise.

Mrs. Helber and her busy family are interesting people to know. There will never be a dull moment for people who have interests such as theirs.

juniors, and seniors, keep making those posters. The walls really look great with those posters plastered all over them!

We had better close now for our eyes are very heavy and before we commit ourselves to the dreamland of slumber, we wish you a Happy Belated Thanksgiving!

HANS

Super Predictor, Han Von Schnook, has done it again. All of the games of the November 17 and 18 went according to my predictions. Since everyone knows how great I am, I will just go ahead and make my predictions.

On the first of December, I see Knox will hand the hapless Culver team another loss. The veteran Argos team should have no trouble with O. D. Bremen will take John Glenn and CMA over Bethany Christian (amen). Tall Penn will cream LaVille and the Plymouth Pilgrims will find happiness in North Liberty. I'm picking Triton to beat Caston in a close contest. South Central will pluck the Judson Bluejays. Twin Lakes will drown Pioneer and the Cass Kings will crown Rochester. LaSalle should continue to win in a game with Elkhart. As my final prediction, Winamac will scalp Attica.

Saturday, December 2, the Judson-Culver game starts off a small slate of activities. I see it this way. Judson will regain their lost feathers at the expense of Culver. Knox will extinguish the Dragon's fire. John Glenn should beat Aubbee and Bremen will trip Jimtown in a barnburner. Triton's strong Trojans should dehorse the Lancers from LaVille. Caston's Comets will streak past Northfield. My final Saturday night prediction sees Winamac evaporating Twin Lakes.

Language Clubs Grows At CHS

An increasingly active roll is being played in Culver High School by the foreign language clubs. These clubs are intended to familiarize the students with the culture and social life of the people whose languages they are studying.

LATIN

Members of the Latin classes of Culver first affiliated with both the state and national branches of the Junior Classical League in 1965. The purpose of the club is to promote classical learning and ideals among the high school students of the United States. This organization, which has approximately 90,000 members, is the largest classical organization in the world and the second largest co-educational youth group in the United States.

Among other activities in which the members of each chapter of the League have participated has been an annual Roman banquet held each spring, preferably in the month of April, which marks the traditional date of the founding of Rome. At this banquet the members of the club dress like Romans, eat the kind of food the Romans ate, and present skits concerning Roman life. Much research on Roman life goes into the preparations for the banquet.

The members of the Culver Chapter of JCL will meet at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Tom R. Huff, at Pretty Lake at 7:30 p.m. November 30, for an installation of officers and initiation of new members.

SPANISH

Last year, the Spanish classes of Culver High School decided to institute a Spanish Club which would be both educational and recreational. The purpose of the club is to promote and influence the members with the art, literature, and customs of the Spanish speaking countries.

This year the members of the Spanish classes plan to have correspondence between the students of a Spanish-speaking country and the Culver Club. They also plan to invite as guest speakers native Spaniards to speak about their respective countries. Also, the group plans to raise funds so that it can take trips to see such groups as the Ballet du Madrid or the Jose Greco dancers. In addition the school will have films and parties that pertain to the Spanish way of life.

In conclusion, the goal of the Spanish class is to share the Spanish way of life but to have fun while we do it.

FRENCH

The newest language club in Culver High School is the French Club. As far as anyone remembers, this is the first French Club at CHS.

At the first meeting October 18, officers were elected and dues were set. Linda Shirrel was elected president, and the v-president will be Perry White. Ana Barrabes was chosen secretary, and Jan Price is reporter.

The constitution, which will make the club official, is now being drawn up.

The officers have had one meeting since the first and have discussed a Christmas program similar to the one given last year.

SUNSHINE PROJECTS

A special Sunshine meeting was held in the first period Monday, November 20.

The members of the club voted to give a basket of food to a needy family, and the girls all volunteered to bring something for the basket.

The group also voted to have a Christmas dance with a live band, but the date or the dance has not yet been announced.

It is very late. Yawn. . . due to circumstances beyond our control my partner and I are writing this column from deep in the valley of fatigue.

Friday was an exciting day in sixth period world history class. It's too bad we don't have the ball games every night.

Congratulations to the sophies on winning the "Spirit Stick". Any bets on who will get it next week? Also we would like to compliment the Seniors on the skit they gave last Friday.

Due to uncontrollable conditions the sophomore class announce that they have stopped raking leaves.

Only 124 more days until the seniors hop on the train. Keep pinching those pennies!

Pam Scott and Susie Donnelly seem to be getting stares from someone in history class and they don't seem to appreciate it!

Suzi Riester, Pam Scott and Nancy Overmyer were almost asphyxiated last Friday night at the LaSalle ball game. For more information contact any of these three.

Vickey McKinney is happy to announce that Steve will be home for graduation which only happens to be six months away.

Terry Gentry, from the way you played basketball last Saturday night you ought to bring Sue to more games.

ADDITIONAL SCHOOLBELL NEWS

EASIER SAID THAN DONE!

By Susie Donnelly

Many students think that being editor of the yearbook is a snap. After all, the only task the editor has to do is to supervise the slapping of pictures on pages. However, this girl has discovered that the job isn't quite as simple as it sounds.

Being editor of the yearbook entails a lot of work. The first problem is trying to pick a yearbook staff that will do really well. This task becomes difficult when one has to cut a good friend because he is lazy and irresponsible. The editor must then plan what is to be on every page of the yearbook and must decide upon the time when the material is to be completed. Another problem is trying to insert new ideas into a tradition-controlled yearbook. Introducing something new is like batting your head against a stone wall—it hurts, but eventually something must give way. Getting the pictures taken is an ungodly chore. Have you ever tried to get 75 kids together looking the way you want them to for a picture? I'll clue you, it's next to impossible. Next the pictures must be sorted and set on pages, and, of course, some of the most vital pictures are bound to get lost. It is also easy to get the wrong number of pictures for the right number of pages. Captions and written work must be typed and proof-read. Mistakes pop up where can't imagine them so the entire page must be redrawn and typed. The worst problem is the frantic rush to meet the deadlines. You can't imagine what a mess is until you try to take the pictures, write the copy, and draw the mats for ten pages in about two hours. After the book is completely finished, the worst ordeal of the editor occurs—waiting for the book to be printed and to see the reaction of the students.

All the hard work, however is definitely worth the effort, and I'm sure that the staff and I will try to make this year's Tomahawk the best ever.

Pep Rally Welcomes Season

By Jan Price and Ginny Thews

A pep rally celebrating the beginning of the basketball season was held on November 15, in the gymnasium. A bonfire on the track, consisting of one out-door-join which was incidentally for rent, was the main attraction while the band played and froze in the background. The cheerleaders led the crowd on hand in a few yells, then coaches Crosley and Waxman delivered short pep talks.

Everyone then returned to the gym where the judging of the class projects had taken place. It was learned that the seniors had won, with a display of animal crackers (lions) and the words "EAT 'EM UP!" The sophomore class was awarded second place.

The seniors then treated everyone to animal crackers and the crowd dispersed.

Tribe Loses First Two

By Mike Wynn

Friday night our Indians traveled to South Bend for our first game with LaSalle. The swift Lions were just too much for the Indians as they won a crushing victory, 90-41. The Indians led 1-0 on a free throw, but from then on it was all LaSalle. Shooting from the field made the difference. LaSalle hit 37-74 for 50%, while the tribe hit only 14-48 for 31%. LaSalle had 20 points or more every quarter while Culver could only muster a high of 15 points in the 2nd quarter. LaSalle's scoring was led by Kagel with 21 points. He was aided by Dabaets and Wamsley with 14 and 13 points respectively. Culver's scoring led by Phil White's 13 pts. followed by Stu Lowy's 10. In the free throw department, Culver hit 13-20 for 65% and the Lions hit 16-22 for 73%.

Saturday night the Indians were on the road again. This time, to North Liberty. Culver played much better against the Shamrocks, but as the final buzzer sounded, it was North Liberty 54, and Culver 48. Free throws were the Indians downfall. Had they made all their free throws, they would have won by 4 pts. The Shamrocks were lead by C. Anderson's 25 pts. followed by Desits with 11 pts. The Indians scoring was lead by Terry Gentry and Corky Overmyer with 17 and 10 pts respectively.

This Friday the team is host to Bremen in Culver's annual homecoming. Come on out and back the team!

Lament Of A Sophomore

I think that I shall never see,
A thing as sickening as a tree.
A tree whose leaves are always falling,
Making sophomores tired of hauling
Loads of leaves to nearby fields.
With shattered rakes and aching bones,
Shredded tarps and pathetic moans,
Workers advancing from yard to yard,
Find unpleasantly monotonous and hard,
Labor they pledge themselves to do.
The work all done, all kidding aside,
To the home owners of Culver we are much obliged.
A word to the freshmen who laugh with delight,
Next year we will enjoy the sight,
Of the future sophs with rake in hand.

SUNSHINE PROJECTS

The Sunshine Society of Culver High School has begun working on the projects that it has set to accomplish this year.

Presently the committees are working on Thanksgiving baskets for needy people. There is also a committee working on sending Christmas gifts to the boys in Viet Nam.

The Ideal Ladies Party will be held the first Monday in April. The club is also sponsoring a "Daddy Date Night" and a Valentine Dance.

This year we are starting a scrapbook of the Society, which will be taken to camp next summer. Sometime during the year we will have a Peanut-Pal Week, where each girl gets a peanut with another girl's name inside; and secretly during that week they do favors for each other or put little gifts in their lockers. At the end of the week, everyone finds out who her peanut pal is.

Last year the Sunshine Society had a tremendous response with the Clothes Drive for the Children in Appalachia and they hope that this year's Clothes Drive will be even more successful.

Club And Class News

By Margaret Ruhnow

Spanish Club — At the last Spanish Club meeting, the club held a discussion on money projects for this year. So far, the idea of selling Christmas candles has been a possibility. Samples have been sent for, so members can see them before making a final decision. Also, the idea of a sidewalk cafe in the spring appeals to all members. The club was also informed of a student letter exchange for those who like to have a pen-pal.

French Club — The French Club has written and voted their approval of a constitution. They are presently trying to organize a French play for the Christmas program. French club pins, for the entire club are being considered.

Senior Class — At the Senior class meeting a discussion was held on the colors for graduation caps and gowns. A final decision has not yet been reached.

Sunshine — The Sunshine Society has been making Thanksgiving baskets for the needy in our community. Also, members have been busily selling candy for candy sales will soon be coming to a close.

Pep Block — During a pep session for the entire school last Friday afternoon, the SOPHOMORE (!) class was awarded the spirit stick, for exhibiting the most school spirit. An amusing skit was also presented by the Senior class.

Sophomore Class — The Sophomore class will be regrettably unable to rake any more leaves due to conditions beyond their control. (Snow)

MONTEREY SCHOOL NEWS

News Tips From The Monterey Public Library

The Monterey Tippecanoe Public Library has been the scene of much activity this week. On Wednesday the fifth and sixth grade students of the public school visited the library. The fifth grade is being instructed in the many uses of the card catalog by Mrs. Claire Zehner, librarian. The sixth grade is learning how to use the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature. This is very good practice for the children because after their days at public school they will find that wherever they are, libraries, if they know how to use them, hold the key to education. Mr. Don Franklin accompanied the classes to the library.

On Wednesday, the first and second grade students, accompanied by Mrs. Mabel Brucker, visited the library. Eighteen children attended and each was given a registration card. The class was presented a very interesting and appropriate play entitled, "School Bell Fever," by the staff of the library. Each child received a cat or dog name tag. The story of "Angus and the Cat," by Marjorie Flack, was told to the group by Mrs. Zehner. The children then checked out books and were given a little treat.

On Thursday the seventh and eighth grades of Aubbee High School visited the library accompanied by Mr. Howard, the principle, and Mr. Rex Good, their sponsor. The students listened as Mrs. Zehner related many interesting events in past history leading up to the opening of public libraries in Indiana and then to the opening of our own public library nearly 50 years ago, which could only have been accomplished with the great help of the community-minded people and Mr. Andrew Carnegie. A Film, "Research in the Public Library," was shown to the group. They then divided and were given tours of the library, acquainted with Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, and many other useful tools of the library.

Some of the various materials distributed to the students consisted of: Borrowing Procedures of the Public Libraries, Hour Slips, How to Write a Good Book Report, Your Research and Term Paper, and Dewey Decimal Classifications Lists. Lists of periodicals subscribed to by the Monterey Public Library were also distributed. Registration cards were distributed to all the students. The students of Aubbeenaubee Township High School and all persons of Aubbeenaubee Township have borrowing privileges at the Monterey Tippecanoe Public Library through a reciprocal borrowing agreement of the Monterey Board of Trustees and the Rochester Fulton County Public Library Board of Trustees. We hope the students will use the library for all the needs for their term papers and book reports or just general reading pleasure.

All children, pre-school to the fourth grade, of the Monterey Tippecanoe Public Library District, as well as the Pulaski County Contractual Library District, are welcome to attend the Story Hour. The program will be conducted by the members of the library staff. Notices will be sent as to the time and date of each story hour. Parents are welcome to visit the library at the same time as the story hour, but need not be present for registration.

The annual Christmas Craft and Hobby Show will be held on Dec. 16, at the Monterey Tippecanoe Public Library. Everyone should start thinking and planning their favorite Christmas decoration, recipe, or other holiday idea in preparation for this great event. Watch for more information and mark the date on your calendar.

Monterey Biology Students Have Leaf Collection

The biology students in Mrs. Onda Good's class were assigned to make a leaf collection. Each student was to collect at least fifteen leaves although many collected many more than the required amount. They were to give the common name and also the scientific name. Some even told when and where the leaf was found, the date found, description of the tree and the bark.

The students were allowed to draw pictures of leaves or bring in pictures. Some brought in cones, acorns, thorns, bark or seeds from the tree. Some also gave extra information about the trees. They taped the leaves on paper and formed a book with an index.

The students did an outstanding job. The collections were neatly put together and arranged. The covers were usually very attractive. Mrs. Goode was much pleased with their work.

Sooner or later, that day comes, the day when a woman feels she's changing. It's not a good feeling either. And she could use a good old-fashioned medicine then.

God's Light

"I have come as light into the world, that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness."
 — John 12:46

We cannot expect to see God in this world. We cannot take an empty bag to church and return with a supply of faith to carry us through the following week. Yet happiness and strength for living begin with the simple belief in God and are nourished in the practice of Christianity. It is not necessary to walk always in darkness. But we must open our eyes to see; and, we must open our hearts to believe.

Culver Drops Number 3 To Bremen Friday

A strong stretch by Bremen's Lions at the offset of the second quarter, erased a Culver lead Friday night and dampened the Culver Homecoming as the Lions moved from this 2:38 hot stretch to a lead that was never again seriously threatened. Trailing 16-15 as the second period started, the Bremen five came out with four baskets and a pair of free throws to turn the deficit into a 25-16 lead that was never trimmed below four points after this. The loss was Culver's 3rd in as many starts as the Indians are having a hard time getting in the win column.

The game started with Bremen hitting the first two baskets as Frank Shumaker hit first and then Jud Robinett. Culver broke into the scoring column with a free throw by Terry Gentry, but Bremen stretched this lead to 7-1 on a free throw by Paul Hundt and another jumper by Shumaker. The game tightened considerably in the next few minutes as Stu Lowry hit a jumper and Gentry cashed in on the business end of a fast break. Shumaker hit a free throw, but Corky Overmyer scored on a lay-in and made it 8-7, Bremen.

For over two minutes the two teams simply traded baskets until late in the period when Phil White knotted the score with a shot from the side after a Bremen free throw. Fred Hampe broke the tie with a basket, but a free shot, by Lowry and Overmyer's jumper right at the buzzer gave the Indians the lead 16-15. This marked the first quarter of the season the Indians held a lead.

The disastrous start to the second quarter told the story. Pat Stillson hit a jumper and then a long one-hander. Otis Kuntz tossed in one from outside and Hampe hit a pair of free throws. Jim Baker finished off the 10 point spurge with a lay-in before Jeff Krueger broke the spell with a lay-in. Gentry hit a jumper, but the Lions came right back with a pair of baskets to move ahead once again. By halftime, the Lions held a 33-26 lead.

Margin Slowly Increases

This margin slowly increased for the Lions. Three fast baskets in the first minute opened it fast, but the Indians came right back with five straight points. Play was pretty even from here on out with Bremen continuing to use a lot of players in the scoring column to move to a 47-37 three-quarter lead. This was cut to seven in the first minute of the final period as Lowry hit the first three points, but the Lions came back with seven straight and opened a 14 point lead which from this point on, held up. The final score was 64-50.

Shumaker Hits 21

Shumaker was the leading point getter with 21 points on nine baskets and three free throws. He had double figure help from Hampe with 11, but more important, nine Lions hit the scoring column. Lowry had his best offensive game of the young season with 18 points, but no other Indian hit double figures and only four others even scored. This was the difference in the game.

WE'RE SORRY

We're sorry we had to omit some of the news items this week as the balance between advertising and news items just wasn't present. However, all the news of coming events has been included and all the news we have omitted will be published next week.

Thank you for your nice response in our first few very trying weeks and also for your continued support of supplying news. With your continued support and our getting over the rough spots we feel we can make "The Citizen" grow and give to you a good "newsy" hometown paper.
