Marshall County Food Stamp Scheduled To Open March 1

The Food Stamp Program is scheduled to open March 1 in Marshall County. This was announced today by Donald Patton, Director, Marshall County Department of Public Welfare.

"This is just like a new business coming into the community", explains Mr. Patton, "for it will increase the food buying power of low-income families and, in turn will increase retail business."

In pilot areas where the Food Stamp Program has operated, retail food sales have increased about 8-percent, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, co-sponsor of the program.

The County Food Stamp Issuing Office at 216 W. Madison Street, Plymouth, is scheduled to begin selling books of USDA food coupons on March 1 to eligible families. The coupons can be spent like cash for almost any food at retail stores authorized to handle them by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

This is a voluntary program. The head of the household can decide if he wants to use USDA food coupons to buy his food.

If he does, then he must accumulate enough cash to buy food coupons equal to the amount of money he would normally spend for food. Then, he will receive an additional amount of USDA food coupons as a "bonus".

The "bonus" coupons not only will mean more food on the table of low-income families, but will mean more dollars worth of new business to the community.

USDA food coupons can be spent for any food for human consumption except imported meats and foods labeled on the package as imported.

Applications are being taken now for persons who may be eligible and are interested. The County Food Stamp Department will eventually have an issuing office open one day per month in the town of Culver should the sale of coupons justify this service.

"Youth versus Age" was read by Mrs. Roger Thews before she introduced Judge Rakestraw.

Mrs. Evert opened the meeting with a reading of the Gallup Poll, "Meet Your Fellow American." She then announced that the Grace United Church would hold the March 1 World Day of Prayer services.

An Abraham Lincoln motif of miniature log cabins, made by Mrs. Jerome Zechiel, Jr., and small antique lamps, decorated the refreshment tables. PTA Hears Plans Of Curriculum For New School

The Culver P. T. A. met Tuesday, February 6, with Adolph Massa, president, presiding.

It was decided that the remainder of the 1966-67 carnival fund be held in the treasury for possible further improvement of the outdoor basketball court. A donation of $100 from the treasury was voted to the Culver Band Department. The 1967-68 P. T. A. budget was read and adopted. Included in this was $25 for the P. T. A. Scholarship Fund which provides a scholarship open to juniors and seniors taking teacher training in Indiana state schools.

Mrs. William Dante's fifth grade room was given the award for having the most parents as members of the P. T. A. The attendance award for the evening went to Mrs. Allen's second grade room.

Chosen for the nominating committee for 1968-69 officers were Mr. Edward Torok, Miss Ruth Shanks, and Mrs. Robert Boswell.

The speaker of the evening, Mr. Charles Downing, assistant to the Superintendent, outlined curriculum development plans for the new school, stating that journalism, speech, and drama will be added in the English Department. In the Industrial Arts Department, architectural drafting, electricity, graphic arts, auto mechanics, and power mechanics will be added. Also to be included in the list of studies will be business arithmetic, vocational agriculture, music appreciation, and an extension of the physical education program through the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades. Mr. Downing stated that the basic objective is to meet the students' needs; he also answered many parents questions of interest to parents and teachers.

Following the adjournment, punch, coffee, and cookies were served from a table attractively decorated in a Valentine motif in the rear of the study hall. The sophomore girls, under the direction of Mrs. Winters, were in charge of the refreshments.

Start Good Habits Early

A program to encourage formation of good heart and health habits in childhood, with the view of reducing the risk of heart attack in later years, has been launched by the Indiana Heart Association.

Here is a thumbnail resume of what parents are asked to do:

1. Get the latest heart-saving facts and share them with your children.
2. Stress the importance of normal weight. Obesity often begins in youth.
3. Form good diet habits by serving more foods low in saturated fats and fewer foods rich in cholesterol.

4. Encourage to keep physically fit through regular exercise.

5. Teach children that smoking is bad for health.

6. Make doctor check-ups a family routine.

The concept makes sense. Good living patterns ingrained through childhood are likely to last. If they do last, the individual will have fewer risk factors working against him during the adult years in which heart attack becomes a real threat.

A seventh recommendation might well be added: Support the 1968 Heart Fund, which will be conducted here and throughout the nation in February.

They'll All Be Winners

That time is almost here when we see our high school youth at their best. That is tournament time in Indiana.

Indiana has long been known for their basketball and in this fine state, sectional time right through the final game of the state tourney finds a different atmosphere in high schools all over the state.

It is true that the young people of today make many headlines that aren't always in the light we want to see, but at tournament time, that light shines bright all over the state. It is true that everyone wants to win and still only one team and one school will take home the first place trophy, but at this time they all turn out to be winners.

Tournament time gets students from all schools, big and small, gathered together to witness one of the greatest spectacles in both sports and sportsmanship. Defeat is taken in stride to the fullest extent with tears turning to smiles of satisfaction as some other school progresses on. Hard feelings are soon past and that entirely different air continues regardless of who wins or loses.

Anyone, even those who do not care for basketball, would be proud to see these kids in this time of the year . . . they can grow a lot in a few hours or maybe days and weeks and learn lessons that are not put in books by their attitude.

Pride and school spirit is a fine thing, but knowing how to control these assets is even a greater thing. This will be happening all over the state next week and despite the fact that only one team and one school wins the trophy, 487 others will be "winners" in their own right in this highly emotional, highly exciting time of their life. You can be proud of these young people and get some reassurance that the good greatly outnumbered the bad in today's jet set.

Answer Questions About Taxes

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - Last year's medical expenses don't add up to 3 percent of my income. Does that mean I can't use the new provision that allows you to deduct one-half of your medical insurance premiums?

A - You may deduct one-half of your medical insurance premiums up to the maximum of $150 even though your other medical expenses do not exceed the 3 percent income limitation. However, to take this deduction you must itemize all your other deductions such as taxes, contributions, and interest expenses. You can't deduct your medical insurance premiums if you take the standard deduction.

Q - My brother and I provide over half our support. Who gets to claim her?

A - If each of you contributed over 10 percent of your mother's support and the combined total adds up to over half of her total support then either of you may claim her as a dependent. A special declaration must be completed by the one not claiming the exemption and sent in with the return of the one who claims the exemption. Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration, is the one to use.

Q - I just filed my 1967 return. What records should I keep in case I'm audited?

A - Keep whatever you need to substantiate the income and deductions on your return. Cancelled checks, paid bills, Forms W-2 and 1099, bank books and similar records will be helpful.

Q - If I send in my return now, how long will it take to get my refund?

A - Accurate and complete returns are normally processed and the refund issued within five or six weeks.

Q - Do you have anything that explains how a small businessman should handle depreciation of tools and facilities?

A - Depreciation is covered in our publication "Tax Guide For Small Business. It is available at IRS offices for 50 cents.

Q - My son is going to school under the G.I. Bill. Will those benefits lose us the exemption we take for him?

A - Benefits received by your son under the G. I. Bill have to be included as part of his support. Determine his total support requirement for the year and if you provided more than half of this then you are still entitled to claim him as long as the other dependency tests are met.

Check your 1040 instructions for further details.

Q - Is alimony considered taxable income?

A - Yes, alimony is taxable income to the recipient and should be reported. Payments specified in a divorce court decree for child support, however, are not taxable.

Q - One of my wedding gifts was shares of stock. Do I have to report this?

A - No you do not have to report gifts on your income tax return. However, any dividends on the stock or profits from the sale of the stock must be reported by you.

Q - I was just billed for taxes I paid last month. What should I do?

A - Write the office which sent you the bill telling them when you made your last payment and where it was sent. It is possible that your payment got separated from the return or notice accompanying it.

To make sure payments are properly credited, always put your social security number on your check or money order. It will also be helpful to write on the check what it is for and to return any bill or notice you may have received.

Q - I had several employers last year. Do you need all of my W-2 statements or just the total?

A - A W-2 for each job held

Q - Where do you report profits from the sale of a home?

A - Use Schedule D to report gains or losses from property sales. Schedule D is available at many banks and post offices as well as local IRS offices.

Q - I helped paint some classrooms for my church school. Can I deduct anything for my time?

A - No, you cannot deduct the value of your services to a charitable group.

Q - Do people over 65 have to file a return?

A - Yes. A tax return has to be filed by someone 65 or over when gross income is $1,200 or more.

Q - My wife earned several thousand dollars last year working part-time. Should we file joint or separate returns?

A - Generally, joint returns are more advantageous for married couples. Compute your tax both ways and then file the way that results in the lower tax. The tax could be lower on separate returns when both have medical expenses or net capital losses, for instance.

Hello, Hello, this is your smiling little CSH man bringing you all the latest gossip-type news. Congrats to all the students who were initiated into the National Honor Society! Hey! Has anyone heard anything about the tight rope walking on the landings of the second and third floors? It's really nerve racking.

ATTENTION SENIORS!! Only 43 days until the senior trip and only 110 more till graduation!

Hey Debbie — Have you lost any cars lately?

We hear Marcia Cham and Craig Gunder saw a flying saucer Sunday night. Care to tell us about it?

Congrats to the eighth grade for winning the 4-way tourney at CMA!

Wendy N-why did you have your shoes off in the ticket stand Monday night?

Good grief Poood, can't you keep track of your shoes?

Hey, Phil White, what kind of an operation did you say Charlie had?

Mr. Williams, why is it that you're not truthful to your fifth period class?

S. P. came to school two days in a row. This calls for a celebration!

Phil Edgington, Why did you walk home from the game Saturday night?

Norma can't you do anything right?! Your're going to give Mr. Wolfe an ulcer.

Well, I guess that's all for now. See you next week.

If At First You Don't Succeed . . .

By Tim Frain

The second-year chemistry class, including our exchange student, Isabel Herane, are now involved in Semimicro Qualitative Analysis. Semimicro Qualitative Analysis is really tests to discover the quality (Qualitative) or "ingredients" of an unknown dissolved in a liquid (Semimicro).

The students started out first by running through preliminary tests to see what results turn out to be when working with known solutions. Then this information is stored for future reference when Mr. Wolfe hands out the unknown solution. When a student receives his unknown solution, he ceives his unknown solution, he runs the same tests as were run on the known solutions and from these tests he can discover the identify of the unknown. After each of the preliminaries of the five groups being studied, each student takes an oral test to satisfy Mr. Wolfe that the student has covered the preliminary thoroughly and that he knows what he is doing.

After going through thousands of mimeographed sheets during the first semester, most of the students enjoy the change of pace. To finish the title . . . dump it and try again!

The Shadow

This week the lively shadow is known for her activeness. So I will call the victim of the week, Miss Active.

After a short but exciting week end, Miss Active awakes to see a wonderful day ahead of her even though it begins another slow week of studies. She arrives at school rather early for once and skips up to third floor to deposit her coat and book. Then she hops down to second floor to find the same old friends talking over the week end gossip. She puts her say so in, and shortly after she begins to speak, the bell rings so Miss Active hurries up to study hall to begin her daily homework.

First period is very dull after she finishes her work so Miss Active decides to make things lively and begins talking to her neighbors. In the second period, Miss Active enters her shorthand class in which she learns and writes some funny letters. Although, again she completes her work and starts talking to her neighbors. Third period Miss active is absored in Chemistry and for once she is quiet for the whole period. In the fourth period she staggers with hunger into office practice and does her daily office work. Miss Active eagerly awaits the noon whisle.

The noon hour slips by with Miss Active taking a small walk around the block eating candy. The noon hour closes, and Miss Active is ready to settle down to her afternoon classes.

In fifth period she listens carefully to the lectures from Mr. Lawson about natural re-

WRESTLING

by Tom Vondra

The Culver wrestling team was tipped by the North Judson 30-28 in last Tuesday night's meet. Culver gave two forfeits to North Judson (10 points) as the Blue Jays returned to us one default (5 points). The outcome of the meet would surely have been changed if Culver had had a 180-pound or a heavyweight wrestler. This is Culver's first year with a wrestling team and North Judson's second. Culver earned five pins, one decision and one default. Although this was a "B-Team" meet, Phil Edgington faced one of North Judson's varsity wrestlers, who placed second in the sectional wrestling tourney. Steve Thompson's opponent was injured, bringing Steve's undefeated string to six.

NOON AT MONTEREY HIGH SCHOOL

By Carrie Wilcox

Let us look at Monterey High School at noon with an imaginary friend called Pete. The first lunch bell is ringing. Watch out, Pete. The doors swing open and the students start the hundred-yard dash to be the next in line in the cafeteria. Oh, no, One of the teachers just caught an unlucky student running in the halls.

The aroma of food is wafted all through the school and stimulates the appetite of already-hungry Pete. A crash resounds from the cafeteria.

Pete is in the hall on the bottom floor now. He sees some boys standing around talking and laughing. Some are in the gym bouncing a basketball. The second bell is ringing. While on this floor, he sees a small crowd of students with their arms out at an angle. He discovers later that these pupils are buying merchandise from the juniors' stand.

By now some students have left the cafeteria. Pete is upstairs just looking around. He discovers that some of the students go to the study hall to spend their noon period. They are looking at the pictures in a magazine laughing, talking, and playing. One or two students go to studyhall to try to study.

At last the third bell rings. By now the noise has increased. As Pete is looking around, he sees groups of would-be comedians standing around cutting up. While he is watching the students ascending and descending the stairs, some poor girl falls down.

On the bottom floor Pete sees pupils with their coats on waiting for a bus which is to take them to Culver. As they wait, they are discussing the events of the day and their plans for after school.

The noon hour is over — and so to class.

Being a good husband is like any other job—much easier if you get along with the boss.

Some folks believe in fair play only when they are completely out of the game.

Some husbands are scared to even make a minority report.

CMA Tops Indians In Basketball

The renewal of the rivalry between the Culver High School and Culver Military Academy basketball teams occurred Saturday night and the Academy came out on top by a score of 67-52. Using their great height advantage plus some good shooting early in the game, the Eagles jumped to a lead and never were threatened by less than three points the entire night.

Tom Matlock opened the scoring in proper fashion as he hit the first three baskets of the game with three jump shots in less than a minute and a half. Jeff Krueger put the Indians on the scoreboard with a free throw after almost two minutes had passed, but Matlock matched this before Stu Lowry hit the Indians first basket. Another free throw for the Eagles, this time by Rich White, was followed by a lay-in by Lowry cut the lead to 8-5 only to have the Academy team hit a good streak and the Indians turn cold for well over three minutes. Matlock hit a free throw to start a streak and White followed with a pair of jumpers. Gordie Delk added a single point and Matlock scored from under to give the high-flying Eagles a big 16-5 lead.

Terry Gentry broke the streak with a free throw, but this was matched by Delk. Steve McCombs hit a pair of free throws and Corky Overmyer a lay-in with just two seconds left to make the score CMA 17, CHS 10 at the end of the first period. Academy Doubles The Score

In the second period, the Indians made another run at the Eagles before the big team really took command of the play to double the score on the Indians by halftime. This quarter was one of all free throws for the Indians as they never tallied once from the field in this entire period. Don Barren hit first and then Delk made it 21-10 before the parade of free shots began. Lowry hit two, but John Crimmins hit a jumper for the Academy. Phil White added one more to the Indians totals and Lowry came back with another pair cutting the lead to 23-15, with 4:05 left in the half.

This is where the blitz started. Mark Bodem lit the fuse that set off the bomb at this point. First he hit a pair of charity tosses and then a jump shot. McCombs added one of two from the foul line, but a free throw and then another basket by Bodem was followed by a jumper by Crimmins before Bodem hit again. A pair of charity shots by Crimmins opened the gap to 36-16 before McCombs and Lowry each hit a pair of shots from the 15 foot line. However, Crimmins hit again and Baron ended the half with a basket for a 40-20 lead at the main intermission.

From here on out, it was just a matter of time and how much. Lowry hit first in the final half, but Matlock matched this with a lay-in of his own. McCombs hit from under, but Crimmins did likewise. Lowry put in a single point before Bodem hit a jumper, White and Delk lay-ins and Bodem ended a fast break with a short jumper. By this time the lead was 52-25. The Indians outscored the Eagles 8-3 in the last three minutes of the period to trail by 55-33 going into the final quarter.

This lead was increased by four quickly as Delk hit a pair of lay-ins to start the final period before old reliable Lowry paced a last period effort that cut the final score to 67-52. In the final stanza, Lowry accounted for 15 of the Indians 19 points as he put on a one-man scoring show. Three baskets and nine free throws were hit by Stu while Dan Spencer and Gary Davis each added baskets.

Lowry Hits 28 Points

Lowry ended the night with over half the Indians points as he gathered 28 in this game. The Eagles had a much more balanced attack with Bodem leading the way with 16 while Matlock added 14, Delk 11 and Crimmins 10.

Academy B Win

The Eagles B Team made the night a sweep with a closer and exciting 52-45 win over the scrappy Culver B Team.

TIP FOR SAFE WINTER DRIVING

When you stop your car for a stop sign or signal on icy snow-packed streets, be careful how you start out again, advised Charles Groce of the Culver Police Department. You can't depend on a quick get-away. Car wheels may spin, don't try to pull out in front of an approaching car if there's any doubt about making it. Remember: if you have trouble starting, the other fellow may have trouble STOPPING!

Monterey Lists First Semester Honor Roll

Those Monterey Students who are included in the semester honor roll at Monterey are: Seventh Grade: Wilma Johnson, Patty Large, Becky Scott, and Susan Stark; Eighth Grade: Brenda Reinhold, and Julie Reinhold; Freshman: Marsha Keller, Vicky Keller, and Renita Woodward; Sophomore: Pam Leham and Terri Taiclet; Junior: Sue Allen, Karla Hoover, and Carrie Wilcox; Senior: Lynn Weaver, Judy Keller, and Pauline Ruschau.

She Did It! She Did It!

"She hit it! She hit it!" exclaimed a senior boy suddenly raising up from the desk at which he had been slumping over his lessons. Somewhere off in the music room of Monterey High School a band student has been practicing a contest selection over and over. She had played the piece well each time until she hit the very last note, which has been invariably sour. At last she played the note correctly. Those in the school who had been almost unconsciously aware of her struggle rejoiced and they relaxed.

The entire student body has thus vicariously been involved in preparations of four band students for the music contest which was held at Argos on Saturday, February 3.

The following students entered and placed in the contest: Diana Tanner, Nora Enyart, and Connie Ringen placed first with a trumpet trio playing a number entitled "The Buglers Holiday." Diana won a second place with her solo "The Trumpeter's Lullaby." Two second places were awarded to Nora who played a trumpet solo "The Trumpeter," and a drum solo, "The Connecticut Halftime." Their trumpet numbers were accompanied by Karla Hoover.
