Plans Made For Summer School

Plans for Summer School were discussed at the recent School Board meeting with Board approval of administrative recommendations. A remedial program for grades 1-6, under a previously approved Title I, PLS9 ESEA grant, and providing a continuation of the 1967 program which will be held starting June 10, 1968, and closing July 11, 1968. A survey by principals will provide data for selection of pupils not to exceed 125 for the 22-day morning school sessions. Designed to individually assist selected pupils, the program will be served by a special staff of twelve to fourteen instructors.

Summer credit courses to be offered will include driver training and typing. The eight-week course starts June 3, continuing through July 26, 1968. Preliminary surveys indicate the largest enrollment in years in the driver training course with Aubbeenaubee School, 17 from Monterey, and 104 from Culver.

Band and instrument instruction involving 170 students at Culver will be on a full eight-week schedule and on a limited schedule for 40 students at Monterey and Aubbeenaubee. Recreation programs will be detailed later, it was announced.

Modern Dance Program Features Work Of Local Girl

The Indiana University Modern Dance Workshop will feature the work of a local girl during a program to be presented at 3 p.m. Sunday at Culver Military Academy.

The program is sponsored by the Seven Arts Group of the Faculty Wives Association and is to be given in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium. The program is open to the public with no admission charge.

Featured in several numbers of Sunday's program will be Mary Strow, a senior at I.U. and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Strow. Her father is a faculty member at the Academy and Miss Strow is one of a small group of faculty daughters to have graduated from Culver.

Jacqueline Clifford, dance coordinator at the university, said Miss Strow will do a solo dance in a number based on the Psalms and will be part of a duel in a suite of dances entitled "Lonely Soul."

"In addition," Miss Clifford said, "Mary has designed all of the movements in the opening sequence for the program at Culver. She is a senior majoring in dance and her progress here simply has been beautiful."

The I.U. group will base its program upon poetry with a variety of numbers from light to serious presentations. Original music has been composed by J. Michael Lucas, of the I.U. faculty. Production number will include one dance performed on scaffolding, another performed with the dancers using poles. A combination serious and light number is one in which the students, attired in half black and half white costumes, dance while wearing cloth sacks.

The Culver program is similar to the one given by the workshop group as a spring recital last Thursday at I.U. Along with Miss Strow, Sally Cooper, a student in the Culver Summer Schools, will perform. Miss Cooper is from Indianapolis and is a freshman at the university.

TIPS FOR SAFE WINTER DRIVING

With traffic so heavy and coming from so many directions today, it's even more dangerous than it used to be to drive with only a small peephole cut through the windshield of ice and frost, and the practice is just as illegal as it ever was, warns Marshall Charles Croce, who also suggests that worn and streaking windshield wipers be replaced immediately.

Indiana Supreme Court Rules On Culver Annexation

The annexation by Culver of a subdivision developed by Culver Military Academy was ruled legal by the Indiana Supreme Court Monday.

The action upheld Marshall Circuit Court which ruled in favor of the annexation. The question before the high court concerned whether the annexation of West Terrace Subdivision developed by the Culver Education Foundation was in the best interests of the city and the territory to be annexed.

In an opinion written by Judge Norman Arterburn, the high court said, "the evidence in general shows these two territories — Culver and West Terrace — were in fact economically and socially joined."

The case was transferred from the Appellate Court.

To Present Lecture At CMA Friday

A George Washington University professor will discuss "Ideological Diversity in Eastern Europe" in a lecture to students and faculty at Culver Military Academy on Friday, March 15.

Andrew Gyorgy, professor of international affairs at George Washington University's Institute for Sino-Soviet Studies, will speak as part of Culver's American Democratic Heritage program. The lecture is at 3:20 p.m. in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium and is open to the public at no admission charge.

Gyorgy is a native of Hungary and has bachelor and law degrees from the University of Budapest. He completed his master's degree at the University of California, Berkeley in 1939 and completed his doctorate at UCLA in 1942.

His teaching experience in the fields of political geography and political science was gained at the University of California, the University of New Hampshire, Yale, Boston University and the Naval War College. He was research associate at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and visiting distinguished professor at the University of Arizona.

Dr. Gyorgy is widely published in the fields of political affairs with emphasis on world Communism, Eastern Europe, and international relations. He has authored or co-authored several books since 1962, the latest of which is "Ideologies in World Affairs."

Dr. Gyorgy's lecture is part of an Academy-wide program in America's Democratic Heritage in which all students learn more about the heritage of the United States as well as the forces that threaten it in the world today. Along with a ninth-grade contemporary course, many outside lecturers supplement that which is offered in the classrooms.

SATURDAY'S TOURNAMENT play again found the axe hitting some highly regarded teams as four schools earned their way into the final four this coming Saturday at Indianapolis. The three-week ends of action have now found the favorites getting eliminated at a regular clip and as some fans will tell you, this continued to hold true Saturday.

AMONG THE RATHER strong favorites that fell in the latest whack were Michigan City and Evansville Reitz. Despite the fact they were both beaten by very good teams, these two had the support of many to make the finals and final game this Saturday.

AT FORT WAYNE, A VERY interesting day was observed as basketball at its finest and also some at not quite such a good level was displayed. The three games gave the fans a little of everything, good balanced play, dominating by one team and even some very poor play.

THE RED DEVILS OF MICHIGAN City opened with Kokomo. The Kats were underdogs in this clash, but for the first 16 minutes, no one could ask for better play and more excitement. These two teams took off at a torrid pace of play and shooting and by halftime, the fans had to wonder if the pace could continue that found the Kats holding a 43-41 lead. The spirited play by both clubs and the shooting and board work was something to behold.

HOWEVER, THE SECOND half told the tale. Michigan City began to dominate the play as the Kokomo team began to get a little weary at the pace of the play. In the first half the Kats had been hitting boards real hard, but the second 16 minutes found the pace forcing them to lose some ground in this department and with Michigan City not showing any effects of the game, they opened a margin that Kokomo couldn't again reduce. By the end of the third period, thanks to a three-minute cold streak by the tired Kats, City had opened a 69-60 margin and more or less coasted to the final margin of 11.

THE SECOND GAME WAS something else. Very seldom after sectional play does a person see such a game. Often one team will be extremely cold and look very poor, but at a semi-state level when two teams look this way it is surprising. Ft. Wayne Central Catholic made the entire northeast corner of the state look had by being their representative. Their play, shooting and about everything else left so much to be desired, it was hard to figure out how they had gotten that far. After eight minutes of constant missing one basket, the two teams were knotted at 10-10. In the first minute and 21 seconds of the second quarter, Marion had scored 10 points already and this lead was never seriously threatened. CC did manage to trim the margin several times, but Marion was hitting just enough to keep a lead.

THE FINAL SCORE OF 62-51 in a game that neither team was afraid to shoot in did explain that play wasn't good. Both teams took poor shots, missed easy baskets and just didn't look like a threat to the high-flying Devils of Michigan City. Much indication in the press room between sessions was that the night game would be a cake-walk.

IF IT WAS A CAKEWALK, it was probably the most exciting cakewalk ever witnessed. When the chips were down, Marion really came through. Some question had been raised about the Giant's handling of Michigan City's speed. However the Giants came to play ball and play on both ends of the floor. Only occasionally did the Devils get a fast break going good and not too many of these resulted in baskets. Marion, with four started standing 6'4" or more, did a fine job of defending the Michigan City team. For the second time in two weeks, we saw a man covering the quick-shooting Keen completely bottle him up as he just wasn't getting shots and the ones he was getting weren't dropping.

THE AMAZING PART OF the game might not be realized until next year. Both schools were represented by all but two underclassmen in this contest and yet they were very good, polished ball players. Only Meade for Marion, and O'Gorek and Keen for Michigan City were starters that will be gone next season.

ELSEWHERE AROUND THE state, Vincennes earned their way into the Finals with an exciting victory that had to raise some eyebrows as they eliminated Evansville Reitz. The 71-70 thriller eliminated the team that defeated the defending champion and looked like the real power in the southern part of the state. In the afternoon Vincennes dropped Jeffersonville by eight and Reitz tore Bloomington apart by a 20 point margin.

AT LAFAYETTE, THE UN-usual setting of not having Lafayette Jefferson in the semi-state, found Gary Roosevelt raising all the eyebrows. They handled Attica in the second half after a very exciting first half. The other contest found North Miami coming from behind, and way behind in the early stages, to overtake the Greencastle team. This school, entering the semi-state with a losing record, was the Cinderella team in Hoosierland until the bubble not only burst, but was completely disintegrated in the night battle with the strong Gary Roosevelt team. The Calumet area representative jumped to such tremendous leads of 23-5 and 43-13 in the two first half stops, it was never a contest from this point on.

AT INDIANAPOLIS, THREE highly rated teams remained in the play. In the first game it was Richmond over Jac-Cen-Del. This wasn't too much of a contest throughout as the Richmond squad again featured the big lead and then held on as they had to. The final score was 68-49. However, the second grade found some real fireworks. Columbus met Indianapolis Shortridge in this important battle and the game followed strange patterns. Columbus jumped ahead in the opening stanza but Shortridge came back real strong in the second period. Columbus trailed 40-33 at halftime, but the odd quarter was again their strong for as they bounced back from the deficit to take a slim 55-54 third period lead. However, the even quarter again belonged to Shortridge as they came storming back to win going away on the basis of a big 34 point period. It is interesting to note that Shortridge totaled 63 points in the second and fourth periods in this game.

AT NIGHT THE SHORT-ridge team didn't wait so long. They broke in front with a commanding 22-8 first period and from here on out, extended this lead until the final period when the teams played about even.

LAST WEEK WE MANAGED to pick only two semi-state winners, but did hit in all but three games, missing the North Miami and Greencastle game along with the two finals that put Marion and Vincennes in the final four. This week things are tough again. Gary Roosevelt meets Vincennes in the opening contest. On the basis of competition so far and the fact that they have looked very good, we will put Roosevelt into the final game. The second game pits the very good Shortridge team against a taller and can be quite talented Marion Giants. In this game we will go with Shortridge in a possible surprise as their momentum seems to be the best around. At night, we will have to stick with the high-flying team as the next Indiana State Champion. Just don't bet on my predictions.

DEAR ALICE
A top executive had acquired a new secretary. Upon being called out of town suddenly, he told her to write Allis-Chalmers in Milwaukee and inform them that he wouldn't be able to keep their appointment.

Upon his return he found this carbon:
"Alice Chalmers, Milwaukee, Wis., Dear Alice: I'm off for Texas and can't keep our date."
Horried, he immediately telephoned Allis-Chalmers. "I hope you haven't received a certain letter."
"Received it!" was the answer. "It's been on the bulletin board for three days!"

Sangralea Boys To Sell Candy

On Saturday, March 16 the boys from Sangralea Valley will be in Culver selling candy from house to house. They will also sell their candy at the Park & Shop Grocery Store and at the Ben Franklin Store.

The boy's self-help projects of which candy making is a prominent one, pay much of the operating costs of the home.

Troubled boys learn to live successfully with each other and over 90 percent of these young men, after high school graduation, become assets rather than liabilities to their communities.

We hope that the generous people of Culver will welcome these young men and help them to help themselves.

The fellow who tells everyone he keeps his wife guessing is probably dancing with her.

CULVER COMMENTS

By Alienor Osborn

I would like to see a junior police badge or at least a Dick Tracy wrist radio presented to one alert adult member of society. It seems he was following a car containing two young people when he saw one of them lean out and "shoot" at a street sign. He reported immediately to the police that "Bonnie and Clyde" were shooting up the town of Culver. The "gun" had been purchased at a dime store and used beans as ammunition.

It's not too hard to separate the men from the boys in this town. All you have to do is listen to a group of them telling each other that they are going to a school board meeting, a town meeting, or even a club meeting to rattle things up a bit. Comes the night of said meeting and do they go? Of course not, they either get sick, get company, or turn chicken.

This could be a good time to squelch the rumor that Ruth and I are changing offices. We don't know where it started but the only way we will leave is if they throw us out. I will admit that in our case there is a distinct possibility.

Aren't you glad that they are filling in State Rd 17 in the heart of good old Lake Latonka? Does anyone know what "Latonka" means? I've asked people who drive to Plymouth but their answers are just not printable.

HELPFUL HINTS — The weather is getting warmer and women are getting that glazed look in their eyes that can only mean one thing - spring house cleaning. Since this is a most arduous task we must organize to make it simpler. The first thing to do is throw out all unimportant objects that have been laying around such as magazines, empty coffee cans, and your husband. You'd be amazed at the extra room you have and then, too, you'll get to see what condition the sofa is in. Send everything that can be folded to the dry cleaners. If it's too big to be folded have it reupholstered. The next job to be tackled is washing the ceilings. This calls for muscle, determination, and a stiff neck. If you haven't been married too long or are pregnant your husband can be wheeled into doing this. After you have gotten this far, I will have additional advice.

HOROSCOPE — Your health should improve this week but don't let your family or friends find this out. The signs are good for culture with the possible exception of agriculture and that's a mess. Social obligations must be fulfilled so get off those thank-you notes for the Christmas presents you received.

Want to add a little mystery to your life? Call 842-2297 and see what happens.

Voice Of The People

Several Sundays ago my husband suffered a heart stoppage while we were attending morning church services.

Because of the immediate administering of heart massage and artificial respiration, he is alive today and recuperating satisfactorily at home after his hospital confinement.

These words are to thank and praise each and everyone for their thoughtful assistance. We sincerely thank Mr. and Mrs. John Drang. Because they took advantage of this special training and efficiently applied it without hesitation when needed, a life was saved.

With heart disease striking even greater numbers each year, this training is needed more than ever before in humanity's fight and research to battle heart illnesses and thus save lives.

Again, our deepest thanks to the Drangs that they cared enough about their fellowman to use their time to take this training and administer it when the need arose. Also, our deepest thanks to all those who assisted in each and every way in this life-saving event.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Davis

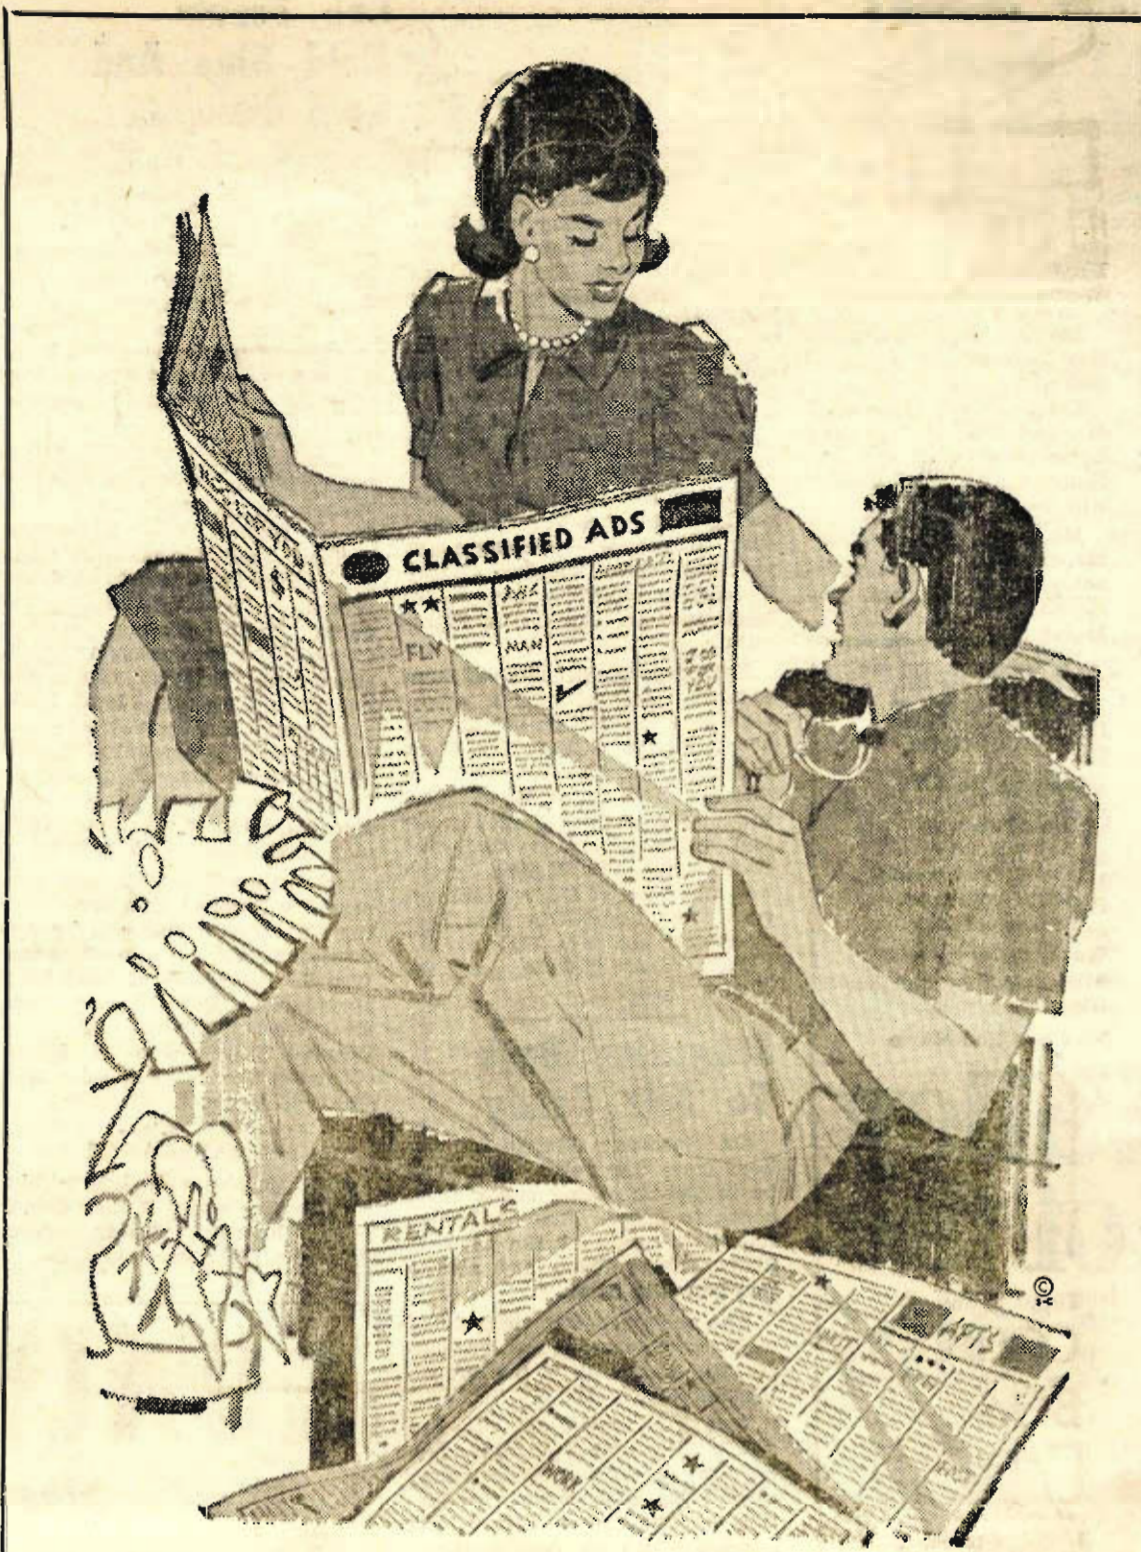

Two young men had been having a few too many drinks, and they were getting rather morose and sloppy in their reminiscences.

"Ya know somethin'," said one guy, with big tears rolling down his face, "I don't really know who I am. I was left on a doorstep." "Jeez!" exclaimed his inebriated pal, "You muss be a milk bottle!"

Wife: "I didn't like that new secretary of yours, so I discharged her this morning."

Husband: "Before giving her a chance?"

Wife: "Before giving you a chance."

The Wet Fall Reduced Wind Erosion Here

By J. R. Goettl
Area Conservationist

Did that dust, sand, and silt in N. W. Indiana on Sunday and Monday, March 4 & 5, blow in your house? On your freshly washed clothes hanging on the line? Did it impair visibility if your driving? Was it filling up road ditches and drainage ditches?

Did you know where it was coming from? Some of it was coming from Illinois, but most if it came from unprotected fields throughout N. W. Indiana.

I work in 13 N. W. Indiana counties and every county has soils which are subject to wind erosion. The mucks and the sands are perhaps the most susceptible. As I drove from Rensselaer to South Bend on March 4, wind erosion was apparent in Jasper, Pulaski, Starke, Marshall and also in St Joseph County.

The wet fall of 1967 which hampered field operations and hindered crop harvest had some advantages. Thousands of acres of corn and bean stubble were left lay on the fields because either the crop was not removed or the wetness halted fall plowing. If it wasn't for this, N.W. Indiana would have been more cloudy (with dust) on that beautiful day, Monday, March 4.

Each of the 13 counties in N.W. Indiana have organized Soil & Water Conservation Districts. Through the efforts of about ninety unsalaried, community-minded SWCD Supervisors with the cooperation and help of the Soil Conservation Service and other agencies, much has been done to reduce wind erosion on many farms. Over 100 miles of field shelterbelts have been planted, thousands of acres of cover crops (rye and winter wheat) are being seeded each year and hundreds of farmers are using minimum tillage (thereby leaving the crop residue on the surface over the winter months).

However, the job is far from being completed. If your soil is subject to wind or water erosion, and you wish to do something about it, stop in at the local Soil Conservation office or see your Soil & Water Conservation District supervisor who lives near you.

The farm and perhaps the life you save may be your own.

SERVICE NOTES

(DO643 CAMP PENDLETON, CALIF. (FHTNC) March 4 — Marine Private Fredrick E. Heise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heise of Rte. 1, Monterey, Ind., completed two weeks of training under simulated combat conditions in the fundamentals of day and night patrolling, employment of infantry weapons, survival methods and assault tactics at this Marine Corps base.

This individual combat training is given every Marine after his graduation from recruit training. Taught by combat experienced non-commissioned officers of the infantry training regiment here, it prepares the young Leatherneck to become part of the Marine air-ground combat team.

While in the field he was taught how to use hand grenades, a compass and the principles of map reading and land navigation. He learned how to detect and disarm mines and booby traps and, while being exposed to live machine gun fire, he learned to advance safely from one point to another.

From this course, he is scheduled to go on to more advanced training before assigned to his permanent unit.

THE JOKER

It's my job this week to test your intelligence and ability to think. I'll give you clues about a certain person and you try to guess who it is.

The first thing you'll notice about this person is that she is a sophomore girl. She's tall, with brown hair and brown eyes. She's matched with a perfect mate, a very tall sophomore boy. You see them together all the time.

She's very quiet but when she wants to talk, she talks! She's a very kind and considerate girl, a student nurse even. The only trouble there is that she doesn't know how to take a temperature, and she faints at the sight of blood!

Other than boys, her favorite subject is world history. I haven't come to a conclusion as of yet, whether it's the course or pestering the teacher she finds most intriguing. She tries very hard to do her best in this class, even down to every bit of extra credit she can do. Her jokes really drive the teacher byserk especially when she forgets the punch line in the middle of telling a joke. What a joker!

This is her first year at Culver, so you won't find her picture in the yearbook. If you haven't guessed by now who she is, I suggest you try her cousin. She seems to have all the answers.

Last week's Born Loser was none other than the one and only Norma Davis! To find out this week's mystery person, read next week's Schoolbell.

My Experience With Glue

In my first attempt at snuffing glue nothing happened. The glue had no effect on me whatsoever. This was discouraging but I decided to try it a second time. Again my result was nil.

After failure the first two times, my spirits undertook a persistent soul. I decided to attempt it for a third time. I held the bottle under my nose, enjoying the smell, when all of a sudden I was overcome by a wild feeling. It was really fantastical it hit me so suddenly. Right from that moment on I began to feel light-headed. I was happy I didn't have a care in the world. Everybody looked good to me. I was wierd I looked into another room and saw a woman with extremely long black hair. She reminded me of a witch. When she went into the room to see who she was, she was gone. I was seeing things. I tried to write but I couldn't. I felt good, but I couldn't do too much.

After two or three hours of lying "high" I was struck with a terrible headache. Also I was very depressed. I felt so good that when the effect wore off, it was depressing. The after effects lasted much longer than the good feeling I had enjoyed.

Concluding my experiment, I have decided to forget glue snuffing. The happiness it brings is not worth the hangover afterwards. Later I learned that sniffing glue can be harmful. It slows you down. It does. Next time I want happiness, glue snuffing is out, I'll look elsewhere.

Karen Bartosik — Seeing President Kennedy's grave at Arlington Cemetery and also the Empire State Building. I would like to go to the Cheetah, too.

Terry Beck — The chance for me to see things I haven't seen before, experience things I haven't done before — and to have fun.

Romeo.. Romeo.. Wherefore Art Thou?

If all goes as planned, by next year we hope to consolidate the enrollment of three schools and move into our new building. If we, as students, are to make the first few years a success we each must carefully plan and decide now what we need in areas to better our school.

After the schools consolidate there will be a much greater need for a variety of extra-curricular activities to encompass a wide range of interests.

One activity which would be enjoyable and beneficial is dramatics. To be in dramatics one doesn't need to be an actor or actress or even have any sort of performing talents. There are many jobs in theater work; such as stage director, lighting and props manager, and make-up crew, to mention only a few. For those interested in stage performance, dramatics would offer opportunities for greater development in acting. Most important though, such an activity would give students a chance to select, try out for, and give productions through out the year.

A dramatics department would be a stable foundation for the organization of a Thespian Society, an honorary society. The Thespian Society, which is a nation-wide dramatics club, is open to all students who are interested in dramatics or theater work. But the club is select and all who try, do not gain membership. It would probably take a year or more to organize a chapter, but a Thespian Society would greatly promote dramatics.

If enough students are interested and would like to have a dramatics department and a Thespian Society, it is certain that we can.

N M S Q T

On Tuesday, February 26, the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests were administered to those juniors who had signed up for them with Mr. Dillion.

This test is given every year to high school juniors throughout the country. It is designed to find those students who are eligible to receive the National Merit Scholarship. Although a very small percentage qualify the information gathered from these tests are useful in gaining scholarships.

The test is three hours long and is given in five sections. Each section deals with a different phase of education. The sections are: English Usage, mathematics, Natural Science, Social Studies, and Vocabulary. Each section is a timed test and may run anywhere from 20 to 45 minutes.

In preparation for the test each junior was given a booklet which gave instructions on how to take the test, sample questions, and a list of scholarships which are available and how to use the data compiled from the test. This shows the importances and usefulness of this test to every college-bound student interested in a scholarship.

Appalachian Children

From March 18 through March 22 the Sunshine Society will be sponsoring a clothes drive for the Appalachian children. If you have any clothes that are just lying around and would like to get rid of them, why not help these poor children.

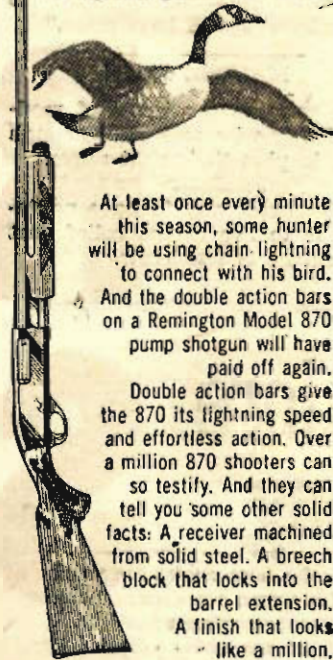

The boys and girls need low-heeled shoes, warm coats, jackets, cotton dresses, jeans, blouses, shirts, skirts, sweaters, socks and underwear. Their parents need practical workshoes and work clothes so they can find and keep jobs. Baby clothes are always welcome — booties, diapers, blankets, sleepwear, rompers, training pants and overalls for crawlers and toddlers.

These items are only a few that the children could use and please make sure that the clothes are in good condition. We shall appreciate any clothes that you would like to give. Remember the drive is from March 18 to March 22.

FAMILY CIRCLE

Dad may be a big wheel at the office, but his circle of influence narrows sharply at home.

Double action bars give the REMINGTON MODEL 870 PUMP SHOTGUN its lightning-fast operation

At least once every minute this season, some hunter will be using chain lightning to connect with his bird. And the double action bars on a Remington Model 870 pump shotgun will have paid off again. Double action bars give the 870 its lightning speed and effortless action. Over a million 870 shooters can so testify. And they can tell you some other solid facts: A receiver machined from solid steel. A breech block that locks into the barrel extension. A finish that looks like a million.

Academy Sports

The indoor track season hits its peak Friday at 7 p.m. in the Culver Military Academy Invitational. The Culver team has invited teams from Bremen, Chesterton, Gary Andean, Peru and Merrillville to compete in this year's event.

Next Wednesday the team will serve as host to Goshen and Huntertown at 4:30 p.m.

The polo team travels to Cornell University for a game Saturday in Ithaca, N. Y. The team beat the Toronto, Canada Polo Club last weekend, 14-3 and 10-6, to compile a 12-2 win-loss record.

Culver's fencers split their contribution to the record last week end by losing, 19-8, to the University of Buffalo and beating Brock University, 16-11, in Canada. The fencers close their season Saturday at 2:30 p.m. with a home meet against the Indiana Institute of Technology.

The track team rebounded from its early season losses by winning in both outings this week end. The record now stands 2-2 after Friday's 61-57 victory over Fort Wayne South Side and Saturday's 60-57 win over Montpelier, Ohio. Two field house records were set in the process.

Fort Wayne South Side's John Lump set a meet record in the 410-yard run with a 49.5, and South Side's Scott Lougheed set another meet record and field-house record with a 13'1" push in the pole vault. Culver's Jack Shoaf set a school record, but came in second, with a vault of 12'9 3/4. Mike Scholz set the other meet record in the two-mile run in 10:49.1.

The Academy's other winners were Jack Shoaf, with 6.0 in the 45-yard high hurdles; Doug Scholz, 4:41.4 in the mile; Terry Albright, 19'8 1/2" in the long jump; John Ambrose, 46'3 3/4 in the shot put; Shoaf, 5.8 in the 45-yard low hurdles; Gordie Delk, 5'8 1/4" in the high jump; and the 8-lap relay team.

Culver's Doug Scholz set a meet, school and fieldhouse record in the 2-mile run with a 10:06.0 Saturday against Montpelier. Five other meet records fell by the wayside in Saturday's event. Delk won the high hurdles in 6'1 and the long jump in 19'3". Shoaf set another meet record by winning the low hurdles in 5.8 Montpelier's Dreher and Kril won the shot put in 48'4 1/4" and the 410-yard run in 51.2 for two more meet records.

Other Culver winners against Montpelier were Andy Griffiths, with 2:12.3 in the 880; Shoaf with 10' in the pole vault and 5.0 in the 40-yard run; and the 8-lap relay team.

Father and mother were discussing junior and father asked, "Mother, don't you think Junior got his intelligence from me?" To which mother replied, "He must have, I still have mine."

MASTER PLAN

In spite of the speed of modern living wise men save enough time to plan their next move.

The surest way to have no future is to live in the belief that the future is tomorrow.

Medical Folklore Usually Wrong

While much of medical folklore is now obsolete and largely forgotten, there are still many completely erroneous beliefs about their health held by sizeable numbers of people in our so-called age of enlightenment.

TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family, points out that grandma is not always wrong in her concepts of health. But she often is wrong.

The book lists some of the common misconceptions about health—

- Eating between meals is always harmful (untrue).
- Bad breath means disease (not so).
- Milk should not be taken at the same time as sour fruits (not so).
- Proteins and carbohydrates should not be eaten at the same meal (incorrect).
- Daily bowel movements are necessary for health (untrue).
- Pain in the back must indicate kidney disease (incorrect).
- Pain in the abdomen means an overloaded stomach (wrong).
- A laxative is good for abdominal pain (it is sometimes dangerous).
- Food kept in an open tin can is necessarily poisonous (not if properly refrigerated).

- Scales from scarlet fever and measles spread the disease (nose and throat secretions actually do).
- Sewer gas makes people sick (no—it's just unpleasant).

- Pimples and boils indicate bad blood (they are due to infections).
- Boric acid strengthens the eyes (it does not).
- Fried and highly seasoned foods are harmful (not in moderation).
- A cold can be broken up or cured (it cannot).
- You feed a cold and starve a fever (no).
- Eye muscle exercises will eliminate the need for glasses (a dangerous fallacy).
- Vegetarianism is good for health (it simply makes good nutrition more difficult). 10/30/67

An attempt will be made to have a wide variety of both children's and adult activities. Also, speakers will be obtained who are helpful to the single parent in raising their children. Helene O'Connell, the Zone 2 Director, will be the guest speaker at this meeting. Helene who is from Mishawaka, is a candidate for P.W.P. National President.

Dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Manson and family were Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Browning and daughter, Kelly of Warsaw, Patsy Leap of Peru, and Jerry Holcomb of Leiters Ford.

The Zion Gospel Chapel Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Doris Overmyer and Mrs. Edith Overmyer, Tuesday, March 18.

Indiana Lions Eye Bank Is Highly Accredited

Every month Hoosiers help to perform the miracle of sight restoration. During March, they will have a special opportunity to assist this program which already has brought benefit to more than 500 of their fellow citizens.

Men and women in Culver and Marshall County will be invited during the month to join with the local Lions Clubs in their campaign to extend the scope of service of the Indiana Lions Eye Bank, a program available to persons in all 92 Indiana counties.

The Indiana Lions Eye Bank, established in 1958, is nationally recognized as a leader among the 55 accredited eye-banks in operation in the United States.

Lion Clubs of the state not only provide the funding necessary for the continued success of the Indiana Eye-Bank, but also provide the necessary manpower for the network of Collection Centers that blanket the state.

Within the areas served by these 65 Collection Centers there are 99 co-operating hospitals — all equipped to help meet the rigid time limit for obtaining eyes after the death of a donor.

All donated eyes are transported to the Eye-Bank at the Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis for examination and evaluation. Only healthy tissue is used for transplantation, but those eyes with unusual conditions or diseases are invaluable in connection with the teaching and research responsibilities of an eye-bank.

Since the purpose of an eye-bank is to provide eye tissue for transplantation, for education and training of future ophthalmologists, and for research into the causes of eye diseases, the number of transplants performed, and the amount of knowledge gained is limited only by the number of persons donating their eyes when they themselves no longer have need for sight.

Tissue determined to be suitable for the purpose is regularly provided to ophthalmic surgeons all over Indiana . . . transplantation need not be done in Indianapolis.

Provision of tissue is made according to an established statewide waiting list of persons in need of sight restoration.

The Marshall County Lions Clubs, during Eye Bank Month, will seek the co-operation of the community in giving sight to others through participation in Indiana Lions Eye Bank activities.

PRICE TAG

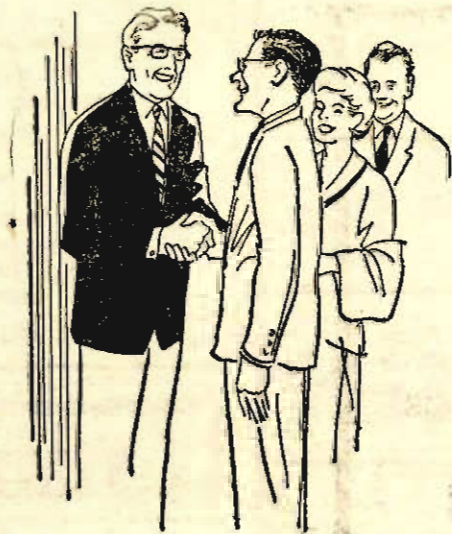

Any person who accepts favors is placing a mortgage on his peace of mind.

Many a man convinces others without convincing himself.

Brotherhood

"Love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor."

— Romans 12:10

To many, brotherhood is a word, an idea. It is not a day-to-day approach to living. It is something one can believe in from the safety of a turtle shell.

Many of us can feel kindly toward our fellow man so long as his efforts to achieve do not interfere with our own or inconvenience us in any way.

We practice brotherhood only if we give something to our fellow man — a smile, a helping hand, patience and understanding.

How much trouble would it be for any one of us to practice brotherhood for a single, full day?

SCHOOLBELL NEWS

Contest Seeks Symbol For Spring Feature

Members of the Schoolbell staff of Culver High School are searching for a new symbol to add pep and vigor to their reporting of the spring athletic program.

The search is taking the form of a contest which began on March 11 and will end on March 16. In the front hall of the high school sits a brightly decorated box which is the repository for any brilliant ideas that members of the Schoolbell staff have concerning a new character or creature to symbolize Culver's spring athletics.

On Friday a committee will review the results and cleverness of the entries and will decide on a winner. A prize is being offered for the entry that is chosen, but the prize itself will be a surprise. Be sure to read the next issue of the Schoolbell to learn who has been chosen as the new mascot of the sports column and who is the winner of the prize.

MONTEREY SCHOOL NEWS

Illness Strikes MHS Principal

What has been missing from Monterey High School for the last week and a half? Could it be the authoritative presence of Principal James Truelove? Ah, yes, it is!! Mr. Truelove underwent surgery early last week at the Parkview Memorial Hospital and is now in the recovering stage. During his absence Mr. Bennie Bair has been in charge of the affairs of the school. All the students feel he has been doing a wonderful job of managing the school and all its problems. He has helped the students and yelled at them just at the right times. (Thanks, Mr. B.) Mr. Truelove plans to return for short periods of the day this week or next week until he is fully recovered. Get well soon, Boss!!!

Monterey Students Hold Successful Science Fair

The science classes of Monterey High School held a Science Fair Friday, March 8. The exhibits were shown in the music and science rooms of the school. The Science Fair was held from 5 to 8 p.m. and the public was invited. The students who participated in the fair are taking general science, chemistry and biology. The exhibits ranged from the germination of seeds to the electrolysis (or decomposition) of water. An interesting chemical magic show was presented several times during the evening by Ed Lehman and Mathew Faulstich. Students will be presented ribbons by Mrs. Onda Good, science teacher.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lowry are the parents of a son, Daniel Larry, born Sunday, March 3, at Parkview Hospital.
