Stuart Lowry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lowry, was named as recipient of the State Exchange Bank Scholarship at the annual commencement exercises, Sunday, May 26 in the Culver Community Building. Candidates were judged on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and financial need. The scholarship has a value of $1,000 and will pay $250 annually to Purdue University where Stuart has enrolled in the School of Engineering.

The Major Robert Warner Kurtz scholarship, a memorial set up by Major Kurtz's friends, classmates and relatives, and awarded for the first time this year, went to Gary Lee Davis, president of the graduating class, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Davis. Gary was chosen because of his scholarship, love of nation, excellence in citizenship, achievement in athletics, leadership, service, character and financial need. Gary will attend Manchester College.

The A. R. McKesson scholarships were awarded to Virginia Shidier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Shidier, who has been accepted at Purdue University to study Home Economics. Also receiving a similar scholarship is Gary Lee Davis.

The Stanley Cline Music Award, set up as a memorial by the Class of 1953, was presented to Miss Linda Hudson, daughter of Mrs. Edith Hudson, who plans to major in music at Indiana State University.

Susan J. Donnelly, salutatorian of the class, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Donnelly, was the recipient of the Culver City Club award for the outstanding Senior Girl. She was chosen for her virtues of character; achievement in school, community and church; and for her outstanding demonstration during her senior year of the qualities of dependability, leadership and service. She will enter Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri, in September.

The Tri Kappa Nurses' Scholarship went to Miss Sandra Singleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Singleton, who has been accepted at Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, South Bend. The Tri Kappa Vocational scholarship was awarded to Vickie McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McKinney, who will enter Porter Business College, in Indianapolis, in June.

Butler University awarded James Taber, valedictorian of the class, and son of Mr. and Mrs.

William Taber, a General Motors scholarship to study pharmacy.

All scholarship winners were named upon the recommendation of the high school's Scholarship Honors Committee.

Hoosier Scholars Named

Stuart Lowry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lowry, and Susan Thews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thews, have been named as Hoosier Scholars by the State Scholarship Commission of Indiana, according to Mr. A. Judson Dillon, Director of Guidance of the Culver Community schools. Stuart and Susan has been accepted at Indiana University.

Mr. Richard O'Connor, Chairman of the State Commission, said the awards to 5,000 high school seniors represented an expenditure of $1,300,000 to help recipients attend the Indiana public or private college or university of their choice. The Scholarship Program was made possible by the 1967 Legislature with a $4,000,000 appropriation for the current biennium.

Mr. G. David Hunt, Executive Secretary of the Commission, estimated that an additional $1,300,000 will be spent in renewing the scholarships of students who were named winners in the first two years of the competition and are now entering their sophomore and junior years in college.

Mr. Hunt further indicated that of the 5,000 students currently named scholarship winners, approximately one half will receive monetary awards ranging from $100 to $800 while the remaining students will be named honorary winners. A student receiving an honorary scholarship may request financial assistance if a change occurs in the family's financial circumstances at any time during his four years of college. Monetary awards are determined by confidential information provided by the family. The financial data is analyzed by a committee of professional financial aid officers of the State who make recommendations to the Commission on the amount of assistance a student needs.

The State Scholarship program, which was enacted by the 1965 General Assembly, is in its third year of operation. Initially 6,700 students applied for the awards while this year 16,000 high school seniors from the 92 counties entered the scholarship competition.

The stated purpose of the Scholarships Act is to promote scholarships for those students who without this assistance would be unable to attend college. Winners are selected on the basis of their sixth semester rank in high school and their scores earned on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. After they have been selected on the basis of these academic criteria, they are awarded financial assistance commensurate with their families' financial need. The scholarships Act specifically states that no distinction is to be made between honorary and monetary winners. Each award is renewable for a total of four consecutive years.

Sports Corner

THEY ARE ALMOST SET TO go at Indianapolis in a race that may be a real turning point in automobile racing on closed tracks in the United States. We say almost ready because at the time of this writing, still eight spots are to be filled due to rain delayed time trials that found only 25 cars running the proper qualifying runs in the first three days. The fourth day was washed out completely as far as the noon until 6:00 p.m. scheduled time is concerned.

ON THURSDAY MORNING at a few minutes before 11:00 a.m., Tony Hulman, president of the Indianapolis Speedway will give that very famous command, "Gentlemen, Start Your Engines." At that time, the flesh turns to goose pimples as one of the greatest sports events of all time will begin to unfold. Thirty-three gleaming low slung and very sleek cars will get that starter help and soon the engines will be roaring, 33 of them anyway much to the delight of the fans in the main straightaway from Stand C and the Tower Terrace Extension on South. Anticipation will follow around the big 2½ mile oval as the Ford Torino will pull from the pit area to start the parade lap, one of the most beautiful sights in anyone's eyes. Several hundred thousand people will be standing and cheering on the site of the cars coming out of the respective turns and passing in front of the various seats.

WITH AERIAL BOMBS exploding around the track as the cars pass and the roar of the engines, the second time around more anticipation is help, especially on the main straightaway as this time it is for real. The Torino will be running full steam after coming out of number four and right in the middle of the straight of way, the deafening roar of the cars gunning their motors in anticipation of hitting the starting line as fast as possible, will be signal enough to tell everyone the race is now underway.

THE BATTLE THEN WILL be on. More so this year than in the past, it will not be A. J. Foyt against such as Andretti, Graham Hill against Bobby Unser, or Joe Leonard against Gordon Johncock, it will be the turbine against the piston type engine in the minds of everyone. Sure, they will be saying Leonard is still leading or Foyt has moved up well in the early stages or Dan Gurney is going to take the lead when the leader pits, but still it will be can they catch the turbines or will they completely outclass the piston type engines.

AS THE RACE PROGRESSES the cars will begin to spread out. It takes only a couple of laps to get almost half the track into use as the leaders pull away a little from the field and some of the cars starting back in the pack, will find a spot to run without too much of a crowd for a safety precaution. Also, it is bound to happen, shortly after the race starts, one of the cars will be smoking a little heavy or just missing and not running up to speeds. Maybe a pit stop in the first few laps is the first real indication of trouble, but it will happen to someone whether it is a top ranking driver like Andretti or a rookie.

AND SPEAKING OF ROOKIES, a lot of attention will be focused on two rookies at the speedway this year that will have more than their share of attention for a new driver just because of their famous fathers. Bill Vukovich, Jr., a 24 year-old driver whose father was truly one of the greatest is not the greatest at Indianapolis, and Gary Bettenhausen, 26 year-old son of the famous Tony Bettenhausen, never a winner at Indy, but second a couple of times, and two times the leading driver in the country for that year.

THESE TWO ARE FOLLOWING the traditions their fathers left, and just the names are enough to attract attention. They are starting in spots together as they both qualified at almost the same speed. To date, but with the eight spots still left open, there aren't too many rookies in this year's race and yet only two former winners are driving, that being three-time winner and defending champ, A. J. Foyt, and Graham Hill who was a winner in 1966.

WITH ALL THE COLOR AND pagentry that surrounds the 500, this still could be the race that decides the fate of the turbine car. The drivers feel that it is almost a conceded race to the turbines and many have spoken out strongly against this type of car to the extent that they should have their own race. However, these same drivers also stated that if they were to be continued to run, they would come back with turbines of their own. Joe Leonard, Graham Hill and Art Pollard, all driving for Andy Granatelli of STP and Gilbert's Men's Store fame, will be the three to watch for if the turbine is that much superior. Starting number one, two and eleventh, they still will have some good drivers in some fine machines to contend with all during the race. However, the chance of a mechanical failure in the turbine is so much less than in a piston type engine. At any rate, Thursday will be another great day in Indianapolis.

Leiters Ford

With the cooperation of the churches in the area, organizations, and fire department and under the co-chairmanship of John Nelson and Keith Thomas, efforts are being made to make the 1968 Strawberry Festival the greatest ever in Leiters Ford.

Serving of food will begin at 5:00 p.m. Miss Sue Szponar, reigning queen of the festival will be joined by honored guests including "Indiana's Junior Miss" Debbie Burkett and Captain Stubby, well known entertainer and queens from surrounding communities. Parade entries may be sent to Jack Croy, R.R.4, Rochester, Ind. There is no fee for entering.

The big program with Captain Stubby as master of ceremonies and featuring the El-Kords of South Bend will begin immediately following the parade. There is no admission fee. Proceeds will go to the Aubbeenaubee Township Volunteer Fire Department. The department has a well equipped emergency van available to the entire community which was purchased with last year's festival money.

Our pre-teen children have always lived in an affluent society. It's difficult for them to associate with many things which should be of prime concern — such as, for example, the control and use of money and the value of savings.

Every parent of college-age children is singularly aware of the problem, since costs are up to the point where most colleges and universities say a student needs a minimum of $2,500 a year if he enrolls in a school away from his home town.

Frequently we look askance at our children's handling of their finances. In this day and age, five-cent candy bars are rare items. Movie admission prices are higher than when we were growing up, and the five-cent merry-go-round is a thing of the past. And in our discussions about money with the kids, we really ought to try to avoid that time-worn phrase, "Now, when I was young . . ." For it's a fact of life that the breadwinner's salary has gone up, also, to ranges which would have been called unbelievable a generation ago.

"High finance" has become an everyday challenge in homes across America. Most everyone has a budget for regular household expenses, for future needs, for health and insurance protection, and for the education of our children. But it has always been a problem as to how best train our youngsters in the fine art of saving. We've all tried, and have done the best we know how.

But now, come skilled experts in finance are offering to help us teach the children thrift — and in a way which will be entertaining to them as well as educational.

Thousands of Savings and Loan Associations across the United States are offering a free, four color, 20-page comic book entitled "Saving Can Be Fun." The books are available at all member Associations of The Savings & Loan Foundation, Inc. The meppet members of your family may have their complimentary copy for the asking.

It's a fun book to read, easily understandable by any child over the age seven. And it's a safe bet that your own children have experienced some of the same problems encountered by twins Johnny and Judy in the comic book story.

Voice Of The People

The Waving Grasses Sigh
The crosses row on stately row
Give silent voice to what we know.
In life they gave all there was to give,
So each of us could safely live.
Now silent in the battle's cry
The brave shadows of those who die
And the waving grasses sigh
Remember us, we loved you well.
In the steeple the ringing of the bell
Crystal clear in the morning mist
Awakens the day sunshine kissed.
But still the sears of those who lie
The brave shadows of those who die
And the waving grasses sigh.

NO CHANCE

Shirk the burden of responsibility, and you're actually running away from success.

Pinpointing the target is the main goal in any man's life.

CULVER COMMENTS

I have been trying to think of some way to explain to all of you just why the paper was a day late last week. If you laddies will apply the following predicament to a newspaper office you will understand, I'm sure.

Suppose, just suppose you are planning to entertain twice as many people as you ever had before. The lady you hired to help you cook has just left on vacation. Luckily you have someone else who can help out but he breaks his arm the day before the party. The invitations are out so you try gallantly to do it all yourself. The big day arrives and you're worn to a frazzle but you think you can make it. Two hours before the guests arrive the stove conks out. It was just one of those weeks.

There has been a great deal written about so-called "junk mail". Now I have never been one to complain but there are a few types that I feel called upon to complain about. Nothing infuriates me more than to receive a letter addressed to my husband marked "personal" or "confidential"; then when I rush to hide in the closet to open it I find it is an ad for seat covers for the car. Or how about envelopes that proclaim in large letters "you have already won a prize in our $100,000 contest." Visualizing what I can do with that kind of money, hands trembling, I read that I have been chosen to receive a genuine, imitation, simulated pearl necklace and all I have to do to get this bauble is to send in six box tops from packages of Sludge-Go septic tank cleaner.

One of the biggest improvements around is the removal of all those delapidated piers near the outlet on the west side of the lake. Is there anything that looks more forlorn than an abandoned pier?

Want to know how to stretch your coffee break? Nope, not with gum (you've been watching T.V.). It's very simple—you take a coffee break in one end of town then you hop over to the other end for another one.

HELPPFUL HINTS — A few weeks ago we ran a column on making gardening a family affair. I just know that whoever wrote that one didn't have any children. If you can threaten, coax, or starve them into helping you, you have only begun the fight. To start with they want exotic names not vegetables and when they plant the seeds they either don't cover them or they bury them so deeply they don't come up for two months. If and when the seedlings do appear, I challenge you to show me one kid that won't pull the seedlings instead of the weeds. And whatever you do, don't turn them loose with the fertilizer. One year we had tomato plants as tall as the corn but no tomatoes. When it comes to hoeing and watering you will save a lot of strength if you just do it yourself. But what cooperation you get when the time comes to harvest the crops. Then they take full credit. After years of this we finally reached a compromise. My oldest boy specializes in tomatoes and green beans, my youngest in eating them.

Remember, graduates, that the early bird catches the worm so if you're interested in worms, up and at them.

Culver Lions Celebrates 25th Anniversary

On Wednesday evening, May 22 the Culver Lions Club celebrated their 25th anniversary at The Culver Inn. A large crowd enjoyed the fine program which included representatives from several other Clubs in the area. Lions from Rochester, Monterey, Lakeville, LaPaz, and Warsaw were present.

Recognition was given to local Lions for their many years of service, notably Earl Eckman, who is a charter member and has had a perfect attendance record for the 25 years. Lion Eckman received a standing ovation for this dedicated service. Wilber Taylor was honored as having 24 years of perfect attendance in addition to his loyal and dedicated service to the club.

There were many other awards given, such as Old Monarch, Charter Member, etc. Lion Eckman gave a report of some of the projects handled by the Lions Club during the 25 year period. It was amazing to note the variety of the projects and also the effort expended to produce them.

The highlight of the evening was an address by Norman Edward Brennan, Director of Lions International, who reported on activities of Lions International and particularly the wonderful relationships developed between Lions from other countries. The Culver Club was highly honored to have a representative holding so high an office in Lions International. Director Brennan charged the local Club for a continuation of this wonderful service with a renewed dedication for all Lions to provide good will and service to mankind.

Complete Flower Show Plans For Blueberry Festival

By Theresa Houin Anderson
Flower Show Plans For Blueberry Festival:

"Plant for the Festival," Mrs. Frank Boudreau, Flower Show Chairman for the 1968 Marshall County Blueberry Festival urges area gardeners as the planting season gets into full swing.

The Amateur Flower Show, staged by chairmen, Mr. and Mrs.

Frank Boudreau and co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Inks, will be held during the Blueberry Festival on Labor Day weekend, in Jefferson School at Centennial Park, Plymouth.

The theme for the Amateur Flower Show is "A Melody In Flowers" with the different arrangements and colors to be suggested by well-known songs.

There will be four sections to the show. The first will consist of twelve lighted niches to hold arrangements representing the highlights of the twelve months of the year.

The second section will be nine draped triptychs to hold floral interpretations of the most popular songs of nine great musical shows.

Both of these sections will be arranged by talented area gardeners at the specific invitation of the Flower Show chairman.

The third section consists of eleven classes open to everyone in the area, of arrangements of flowers of the type and colors mentioned in the following song titles. Nothing artificial is permitted, only natural materials may be used.

Class I — Yellow Ribbon (yellow flowers)

Class II — The Last Rose Of Summer (roses)

Class III — Red River Valley (red flowers)

Class IV — Green Pastures (all green)

Class V — By The Side Of The Road (wild flowers)

Class VI — Red Sails In The Sunset (red tones)

Class VII — Strangers On The Shore (drift wood or shells)

Class VIII — Among My Souvenirs (mixed)

Class IX — Beautiful Brown Eyes (dark centers)

Class X — Around The World (mixed)

Class XI — In The Garden (mixed)

The fourth section is horticultural, consisting of homegrown flowers, house plants and vines. The entry is limited to just flowers and vases or holders.

Three qualified judges will award over 500 ribbons, four for each class in all four sections.

The list of classes will be published again in August with more details and some suggestions from Mrs. Boudreau on how to create the arrangements according to flower show rules, however, please save this for reference until then.

The space available this year is enough for several times the 127 entries at last year's show so get your seeds and plants and "plant for the Festival."

Three CMA Students Win Scholarships

Three Culver Military Academy seniors — one of them a girl — have been named to college scholarships based on their academic standing.

Brig. Gen. John W. Dobson, superintendent, announced that graduating seniors Ruth Ann Benner and Andrew M. Hodgkin, children of faculty members, and Thomas R. Croy, of Rochester, Ind., will enter their freshman year in college in September with special honors based on their Culver record.

Miss Benner, daughter of mathematics instructor Myron E. and Mrs. Benner, has been named a Pendleton Scholar at Wellesley College, Wellesly, Mass. The college said Miss Benner is one of only a few freshmen named Pendleton Scholars in recognition of outstanding credentials for admission.

Said Barbara M. Clough, director of admissions: "The college considers citation as a Pendleton Scholar a high honor for the student, and also a tribute to the school in which she received superior preparation for college work." Miss Benner ranked near the top of the graduating class all year and, among her extra curricular activities, she was design editor of the yearbook. She is one of 16 faculty daughters who attend Culver.

Hodgkin, son of English instructor Patrick and Mrs. Hodgkin, and Croy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Croy, Rt. 4, Rochester, Ind., were named Hoosier Scholars by the State Scholarship Committee of Indiana. They are among 5,000 high school seniors who are receiving $1,300,000 in aid to attend Indiana public or private colleges or universities of their choice. The program was made possible through a $4 million appropriation by the legislature.

Hodgkin, a cadet captain, musician and athlete, will attend Earlham College. He has been honored for academic achievement during most of his Culver career, and he has been captain of the varsity soccer team among his many extra curricular activities.

Croy has been active in a host of extra curricular activities in his years at Culver.

Girl Scout News

Do you believe in girls? Believe that their growing-up years and important to them--the community and the world?

To raise a child of today for the world of tomorrow, to prepare today's child to be a parent of the future is an overwhelming task. The world is in such a process of change that yesterday's belief is today's fad and by tomorrow is obsolete. In spite of the rapid changes in the world, have children really changed? Was there ever a time when children didn't need friends, a clear sense of right and wrong, and encouragement to try? Today, as yesterday, boredom and a need to belong, to be wanted, may turn some children to dangerous pranks... even crime. Even before the First World War, some people felt that the old values of honesty and decency needed reinforcing. The demands made upon child and parent by present day society make identification, understanding, and communication very difficult.

The goal of Girl Scouting is to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens. From the beginning step to the very last step in Scouting this purpose is behind the whole program. Girl Scouting is not just a hobby, but something vital to do with living. Nature study, for example, is not just a leaf collection, but a step toward appreciation of all living things. Homemaking is not just cooking and decorating, but building the spirit of a real home no matter where it may be.

Girl Scouting is a voluntary organization where there is a chance for every girl to develop the skills and convictions that she can carry through her life. But none of this is possible unless there are adult volunteers ready and able to assist the girls on the long road to maturity, understanding, and acceptance.

The Northern Indiana Girl Scout Council is presently conducting an adult recruitment drive. Why not contact MISS GREEN and show that you do believe in girls! Call MISS GREEN today! Phone 842-2423.

"They that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought. For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee."

These verses from Isaiah are the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the title of the Lesson.

Passages from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include these lines, "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

CULVER COOKERY

Strawberry season is here a gain and you may want to make this delicious pie. The cheese helps keep the berries from soaking into the crust.

French Strawberry Pie

1 cooled 9-inch baked pie shell
1 small package cream cheese
1 quart fresh strawberries
1 cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup whipping cream
Spread cream cheese which has been blended with sufficient cream to soften it, over bottom of baked pie shell. Wash berries, hull and drain well. Place half the berries in the cheese coated pie shell. Mash and strain the remaining berries until juice is well extracted. Bring juice to a boil and gradually stir in sugar and cornstarch which have been mixed together. Cook slowly for about 10 minutes, stirring often. Cool and spread over pie in refrigerator until very cold. Decorate with sweetened whipped cream when serving.

Chesty Mink Ranch Presents Programs

Chesty's Mink of Culver has been presenting programs on "Mink, from Kits to Coats," in spite of the fact that the Ranch has also had a busy month with whelping and building a show room at the Ranch.

On May 2, Dwight Newman gave a program and garment how for the wives of the Indiana Academy of Ophthalmology and Otalargology (Eye and Ear Specialists) which was meeting at the Culver Inn. On May 9 he participated in the Rochester Women's Club Style Show with Mink Garments. On Friday, May 17, Mrs. Dick Newman gave the program at the Walkerton Women's Club annual May luncheon at Holiday Inn, Plymouth. Another program is listed for Rolling Prairie Lions District Ladies Night meeting.

In this program the raising of Mink is discussed along with the making and tyeing of Mink garments. Pelts and finished garments are shown. It is really about "Mink - from Kits to Coats."

Don't be backward about going forward, but be sure to know which direction to go.

Academy Sports

All six spring sports at the Academy wrapped up winning seasons last week.

Golf wound up with a 13-2 varsity record; baseball split a doubleheader for 14-3; track scored a 15-4 record; tennis had a 5-2 varsity season; crew attended the National Schoolboy Regatta for the first time since 1963 after a clean sweep in three regattas; and the relatively new sport of canoeing continued to spread the faith and a trail of individual blue ribbons.

In addition to its 13-2 record, the varsity golf team racked up a first in its own invitational, a second of 15 teams at the St. John's Military Academy Invitational, a sixth of 14 teams at the Lafayette Jefferson Tourney, and a tenth of 20 teams in the La-Porte Tourney. The junior varsity had a 12-1 season.

John Biddulph walked away with Culver's lowest competitive round with a 70, a high school record for the Academy course. Captain Rick Durkes paced the squad with a low match average of 39.7, followed by Biddulph, 39.9, and Doug Eischesser, 40.6.

Although the baseball team split its final two home games against Buchanan, Mich., the team carded a 14-3 season and established a new record by tallying the most victories in a single season of any baseball squad in Culver's history.

Steve Keahey threw a one-hit 3-0 shutout in the Buchanan opener, but the Eagles lost the second game, 5-3.

Sophomore Keahey won eight and lost one and had a 1.50 earned run average. Sophomore John Grant pitched for four wins and a loss, and junior John Reitman won two and lost one. Tom Overdeck, another junior, was credited with three saves as a relief pitcher.

Alex Williams led the battling data with an average of .437 and 14 runs batted in. Rich White and John Crimmins each had .333 batting averages.

Williams won the Most Valuable Player vote and the batting award. George Tezich got the defensive award, and Keahey won the pitching award. Larry Pritchett, who will be unable to play next season because of the nine semester rule, received a special morale award. Next year's captains will be George Tezich and John Crimmins.

Coach David L. Nelson will lose Alex Williams, Rich White, Chip Linnemeier, Bob Eisele and Mark Bodem to graduation. His returning lettermen are co-captains Crimmins and Tezich, Doug Oliver, Steve Keahey, John Grant, John Reitman, Tom Overdeck, Charlie Williams, Ray Stingley, and Dick Storberg.

The Eagle track team scored two victories to close out its 15-4 season. The squad beat West Lafayette, 61-44, and Gary Horace Mann, 70-50.

Jack Shoaf and Terry Albright appeared in Culver's winning column five times against West Lafayette. Shoaf won the high hurdles with 15.9 and the pole vault with 11' 6". Albright took the 100-yard dash in 10.7, the 220 in 23.8, and the long jump with 21' 1 1/2". Other firsts were supplied by Stasz Gorski in the 440, John Ambrose in the shot put, Gordie Delk in the low hurdles, and the relay team of Gorski, Delk, Shoaf and Charlie McNagyn in the 880.

Culver scored eight firsts against Horace Mann, including Shoaf, high hurdles and pole vault; Doug Scholz, mile; Gorski, 440; Ambrose, shot put; Delk, high jump; Albright, long jump; and Joe Cummings, 2-mile. The 880 relay team tied its event.

The 880 team scored a first and a record at the Logansport Relays with a 1:37.6 performance, and Shoaf took a first and a record with a 13' 3" in the pole vault. Doug Scholz ran second in the 2-mile, and Delk did the same in the high hurdles.

Rain interfered with the closing events on the tennis schedule, but the team managed to pull together teams after two tries to close this year's Bishop Memorial Tournament. Culver played the bridesmaid for the second year in a row, losing by one point to Logansport, 3-2. They lost the year before to state champion, New Albany.

In an informal tourney with the faculty, the students lost, 3-1, after finishing Bishop Tourney play. Winning faculty doubles teams were L. Kingsley Moore - Channing E. Mitzell, Fred Adams - Carl M. Eckert, and Colin Stetson - Robert Matson.

Culver's varsity crew was eliminated Friday afternoon from competition in the National Schoolboy Crew Regatta on the Schuylkill River in Philadelphia.

The Culver crew rowed the mile course in 5:00.7 for a fifth in the fastest of two heats. The qualifiers in Culver's heat were J.E.B. Stuart High School, Falls Church, Va., 4:50.8; Monsignor Bonner High School, Drexel Hill, Pa., 4:52.8; and Holy Spirit High School, Ventnor, N. J., 4:54.9.

Qualifiers in the first heat all had slower qualifying times than in the second. They were Washington and Lee High School, Arlington, Va., 4:57.5; St. Andrews School, Middletown, Del., 4:57.6; and Marietta (Ohio) High School, 5:00.9.

Culver beat Marietta by a length and a quarter during the regular season at the Culver Regatta, but it was the heat that counted at the nationals.

Other crews that failed to qualify were LaSalle High School of Philadelphia; Poughkeepsie (N.Y.) High School; Belleville (N.J.) High School; Hun School, Princeton, N.J.; and Howey Academy, Howie in the Hills, Fla.

Coach Gordon R. Hough said, "The boys felt they fowed a good race, but the better crews rowed faster. The other crews had better competition all season--against each other. We were glad at the chance to row against this competition."

Two preliminary heats of six crews each raced in the finals.

This was the fourth time in Academy history that an Academy crew has gone to the nationals. In 1923, Culver won a race similar to the nationals. In 1962, Culver took third in the nationals, finishing two lengths behind Washington and Lee, but failed to qualify by 2.1 seconds in 1963.

G. H. Linnemeir II Is Selected For West Point

George H. Linnemeir, II, a student at Culver Military Academy, has received a senatorial appointment to the U. S. Military Academy.

The office of Indiana Senator Birch Bayh announced Linnemeir appointment based on a competitive system among a number of applicants for entrance to West Point.

The son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. George H. Linnemeir, Jr., he was born in Morehead City, N.C. and before entering Culver was a student in Havelock, N.C. His father, a former Marine Corps pilot, is assistant commandant at the Academy, one of the nation's best known college preparatory schools.

Linnemeir will graduate from Culver June 3 and will enter West Point in July.

G. M. Steinbrenner To Give Address At Commencement

George M. Steinbrenner, president and chief executive officer of American Ship Building Company, Lorain, Ohio, will deliver the commencement address to graduating seniors at Culver Military Academy during June Week ceremonies.

Steinbrenner's address "The Challenge of Today to America's Youth" will be given at the 11 a.m. commencement convocation Monday, June 3 in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium. At the same time, Steinbrenner, a Culver alumnus of 1948, will receive honorary membership in the Culver chapter of Cum Laude, an organization that recognizes academic achievement.

The selection of Steinbrenner as a late change in the June Week program when Lt. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, recently named to become deputy commander in Vietnam in July, was chosen by President Johnson to the six-man U.S. team negotiating with the North Vietnamese in Paris. General Goodpaster had previously agreed to deliver the commencement address at Culver.
