Modernizing Plan Heard By Library Board

A long range plan for modernizing Culver Public Library was presented to the Library Board recently by Mr. Harrell, representative of the Library Services Construction Act of the Indiana State Library.

A Federal Grant is available at this time whereby libraries such as Culver can secure up to 45 percent of the total cost of expanding and modernizing the present facilities.

Mr. Harrell stated that the unused space in the basement is worth $35 to $40 a square foot and should be used to better advantage.

Probable changes include the addition of a wing to the east at the ground level; redecorating the present building by using a wall covering, new shelves, indoor-outdoor carpeting, drop ceiling, and new and better stairs to the basement; and an adult section which would be in the basement making it more accessible to older people and also providing a more quiet atmosphere.

Other libraries in Indiana that have taken advantage of this program are Lowell (whose librarian is Mrs. Margaret Quivey, a former Culverite), Goshen, Tell City and Kendallville.

Culver Community School Board News

Pre-final inspection of certain areas of the new high school building now under construction, were conducted on Tuesday, it was announced to the members of the Board of School Trustees at their meeting here this week.

Directors of the Building Corporation and School Board Members have been invited to participate with the architect personnel in the inspection. The area of the building inspected includes the south wing or Section C, all primarily class rooms, the music rooms, the mechanical room and equipment, the art room and offices.

The Gym, locker rooms, auditorium and shops are on schedule but are not expected to be available for pre-inspection.

Though construction is estimated to be 92% complete according to the architect's reports, approval for occupancy will be based upon inspection and upon agreement for partial lease of specified areas.

In other business, the resignation of Mrs. Frank McLane, veteran Culver First Grade Instructor, and Mrs. Dorothy Huff, Latin teacher, Culver High School, were accepted by the Board. Mrs. McLane is retiring and Mrs. Huff has accepted a position in the Plymouth Community Schools.

The Board approved procedure for tire purchase for busses, signed a special teaching contract for summer with William Garver, teaching contracts with Harold Howard, Gwen Danti, Joy Richter, and bus driver contract with Valenine Reinhold, Jr.

The Board considered four parent's Request for Transfer of seven North Bend students to Knox-Center School, all of which were denied.

With the unification of the three high schools, four busses will shuttle high school students from Aubbeenaubee and Monterey Schools. The Board is also considering the operation of a bus from the new unified high school to Bass Lake, Monterey, and Leiters Ford, for students involved in extra-curricular activities after the close of the regular school day.

In other business, the Board continued its study of participation in the Joint Marshall Starke Special School program and their study of Budget.

Budget studies involving contract commitments, costs of school operation, and service, will be concluded for the Culver Community Schools Corporation during the next week.

Data concerning calculated expenditures, incomes, valuation, etc., has been examined and reviewed by the Board of School Trustees during the past month.

The proposed budget includes the operation costs of the new high school building in which three high schools, Culver, Aubbeenaubee, and Monterey, will be merged, and the operation of three other district buildings for K-8 pupils.

There is little change in Administration, Health Service, Maintenance, Community Service, and Debt Service projection in the General Fund accounts.

Account 200, Instruction and Instruction Supplies, will be up $58,000; Account 500, Transportation, shows an increase of $19,500; Account 600, Plant Operation, $25,000; Fixed Charges, $5,000; and Transfer Accounts, $9,400, payable in 1968. The Debt Service listed expenditures for lease-rental payment, School Aid, and Civil Aid Bonds, will be $34,000 over last year. Reduc-

CULVER TOWN BOARD NEWS

Surface drainage was the main topic of conversation at the otherwise uneventful meeting of the Town Board. Esther Powers requested that Mr. Jack Spencer relate to the Board the alternate plan for surface drainage that had been suggested to him by an engineer. Mr. Spencer suggested that the Board consider a settling basin at the north end of town which would allow the debris from the surface water to settle before the excess water is drained into Lake Maxinkuckee. This method has been effectively used in South Bend and many other towns and cities. Since the Board has accepted no definite plan as yet, it was suggested that they look at some areas where this has been done successfully, check on cost of such a project and the feasibility of the plan for Culver. The Board will "take this under advisement."

In other action, Don Mikesell stated that the property owners on School St. had agreed to put in a sidewalk across thier property to the new school site but they do not think it necessary to have a 5' terrace between curb and sidewalk. Mr. Mikesell said that if set back this far, it would interfere with the maple tree in his yard. Board Head, Donald Osborn, said that the present Board has gone on record as being one that will be happy to compromise wherever possible. He also stated that the sidewalk was not required by the town but by the school board. It was suggested that the affected property owners contact Mr. Rust, the superintendent of schools if they wanted to know why the sidewalk must be installed. The Board will, however, inspect the property and determine whether a compromise as to the width of the terrace can be reached.

Paul Snyder reported that raw sewage was backing up in the E.U.M. Church basement and asked what could be done. Verl McFeely answered that one of the two pumps had broken down and repairs will be made as soon as the parts are received. Mr. McFeely also said that it might be wise to purchase a small generator in the event of power failure such as happened last week. The Board would favor proposal if the cost were not prohibitive.

A letter has been received by the Broad from Postmaster Wayne Mattox asking that something be done regarding stop signs at the Post Office. Several minor accidents have occurred there. The Board will investigate this problem in the near future.

tions of $15,000 in Capital Outlay and $2,000 in School Maintenance have been effected.

Of primary interest in the budget preparation is a necessary $18,750 reduction in December, 1968 income, Marshall County, due to an error in requested valuation exemption in 1967. This amounts to nearly eleven cents levy on the adjustd valuation. Also taken into account is a charge of $19,400 for transfer costs, nearly half of which could not be appropriated due to State action after 1967 budget preparation.

Guy Davis, Retired Local Farmer, Dies

Guy B. Davis, 73, R. R. 1, Culver, died at 3:30 pm., on Thursday at Marshall County Parkview Hospital, Plymouth, after being in failing health for two years.

A lifetime Marshall and Fulton county resident, Mr. Davis was an active civic and church leader. He served two terms (eight years) on the Marshall County Council.

Mr. Davis was born Dec. 28, 1894, in the Mount Hope neighborhood to Levi and Nancy Cowen Davis. He was married on June 14, 1918 near Rochester to Fredona Rinehart, who survives. Mr. Davis, a member of the Mount Hope United Methodist church, was a retired dairy farmer and was a thresherman for 35 years, before combines came into use, averaging four threshing rings a season.

He served for 29 years as a Sunday school superintendent and lay leader, and was chairman of the church board of trustees for many years, as well as being active in other offices. Mr. Davis recently had received a 14-year pin for perfect attendance. He was the church janitor at the time of his death.

Surviving with his wife are three sons, Donald A. and Eldon P. Davis, Culver; and Harold A. Davis, Columbus, Ohio; three brothers, Norman Davis, Argos; and Emery and Dale Davis of Culver; seven grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. One daughter, Barbara Ann Davis, preceded him in death.

Services were conducted at 2 p.m., Sunday at Mount Hope United Methodist church, northeast of Leiters Ford, with Rev. Calvin Daniels, officiated. Burial was at Leiters Ford I.O.O.F. Cemetery. The Easterday-Bonine Funeral Home had charge of the arrangements.

Boy Scout Is Fatally Injured At Academy

David W. Little, Jr., 15, an assistant in the Culver Summer School Scouting staff, was fatally injured in a construction accident late Thursday morning, Aug. 1. He was assisting other members of the scouting staff in construction of a lean-to when a falling log fractured his skull, killing him instantly. No one else was injured in the mishap.

A memorial service was conducted for the Bloomington Indiana University High School student at the Woodcraft Chapel Service in the Culver Memorial Chapel on Sunday. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Little of Bloomington.

The Easterday-Bonine Funeral Home of Culver had charge of the local arrangements.

NOTICE

There will be no driver examiners at the Plymouth Auto Licence Branch Monday and Tuesday, Aug 12 and 13. The driver examiners of this area are attending a confence in Indianapolis on these dates.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE SAID that in the game played today, a 30-game winner is a thing of the past. Of course many people also have said in years past that no one will ever hit 400 again, also that Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers was one that would stand forever. Walter Johnson's scoreless innings record was safe and that Ty Cobb's stolen base record of 96 was untouchable. In recent years, all have dropped by the wayside to the modern day athlete except the 30 game-day and the 400 hitter.

THIS YEAR AN HONEST TO goodness attempt is being made at the 30 game win season by Detroit's Denny McLain. The young righthander Sunday made it 22 by the fourth of August and with eight weeks left from that day, McLain should be a starting pitcher at least another 12 times and probably closer to 13 or 14 if he needs the attempts to get to that 30 level. He is only a little ways ahead of Juan Marichal, of the San Francisco Giants, who also has hit the 20 peak and is really putting together a string of complete games.

THIS HAS BEEN THE YEAR of the pitcher. Through Sunday's games, not a single American League regular was hitting .300. In the National League where usually a lot more reach that mark, only half a dozen were at the lofty level. Shutouts have been a real common thing as the season progresses. Pitching has dominated play to the extent that any more a lop-sided game is almost a rare thing. You hear all kinds of reasons for this, but the one that probably holds the most water was made Saturday on the pre-game show of the "Game of the Week." An interview between McLain and Sandy Koufax simply disclosed that the ".300 hitters" just simply weren't hitting .300."

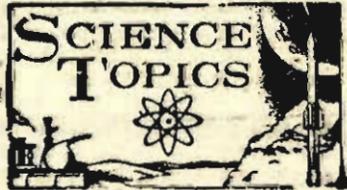

THE .250 HITTERS ARE still hitting .250 and so on, but the better hitters who have the ability just aren't having that season up to par at this date. They pointed out how much injuries had hit these players in the American League this year and an injury to a good ball player can leave him well below his potential. Another item of merit in this discussion is the fact that almost every team in the majors now is playing in a big ball park. It isn't hard to remember the day when many parks were nicknamed handboxes due to the short pokes out of the fences. However, when a stadium like Detroit's is considered one of the best for a hitter and the center field fence still drops off to 440 feet, there is a lot to be said for the parks. Outside of Detroit's Tiger Stadium, Crosley Field in Cincinnati and Boston's Fenway Park, most of the parks now have a lot of room to roam in them. At Detroit it is really only the right field wall of 325 that makes it seem short.

THE SHORT FOUL LINES are still in Yankee Stadium where if it is right down the line, but if it is right down the line, but if the ball isn't pulled, it is a long way to see a wall. Parks, weather and travel all have an effect on the hitters probably more so than the pitchers. Hitters who play day in and day out, then don't benefit from the traveling from one town to another. It is a tiresome thing and add the tremendous number of night games and time changes now in the majors and it is easy to see where an irregular schedule can become a handicap to a regular.

PITCHING HAS HAD ITS moment this year, but still there isn't a great number of pitchers who are threatening the 20 win mark. Pitchers like McLain, Luis Tiant, Mel Stottlemyer, Marichal, Don Drysdale and Bob Gibson have earned every bit of what they have done this year. Earned run averages are low and complete games are much higher just because these pitchers are getting the job done. Also look at any of these and see what their base on balls ratio is to their innings pitched and you will find they are helping their own cause by holding down the mistakes they are making.

WITH ALMOST EIGHT weeks left, there are still many who think the American League will be a pennant race. Baltimore has really come to life under their new manager and both Cleveland and Boston every once in a while make a run like they mean business and then slip again. A lot can happen in eight weeks and if McLain can get any pitching help and the Tigers can continue to score some runs, they should be the opponents of the Cardinals in the World Series.

MECHANICAL HEART BEING DEVELOPED A TEAM of doctors at the University of Utah Medical Center — led by the man who invented the world's first successful artificial kidney — is now at work developing a mechanical heart that can be implanted in the human chest. Dr. Willem J. Kolff says artificial hearts have already been placed in animals with some degree of success and he believes prospects for further progress are good. HELIUM, the familiar lifting gas used in blimps and balloons, will help boost the Saturn rocket in the Apollo moon shots. The rocket requires about 13 million cubic feet of the gas for a firing. The first-stage rocket motor is fed with fuel pressurized by compressed helium. The lightweight gas is used, reports Chemetron Corporation, because it will not react with propellants or plumbing. Helium was first discovered 100 years ago by a French scientist in the spectrum of the sun's chromosphere and is named after the Greek word for sun — helios. DEVELOPMENTAL evidence suggests that primates did not evolve from tree shrews, a University of Wisconsin anatomist says. His research indicates that tree shrews are not closely related to primates. Other scientists have claimed a sequence approximating evolutionary changes from tree shrews, through lemurs, monkeys, apes and man. He said that tree shrews appear to be the most primitive of all mammals alive today and are most similar to moles, shrews and carnivores. ASTRONOMERS from Harvard University are busy studying more than 4,000 pictures of the sun as never seen before. The photographs, the first ever taken of the sun in ultraviolet light from a satellite, reveal new information about the chemical composition and distribution of temperatures within the sun. The astronomers say their findings temperature and chemical elements present at various heights in the sun's atmosphere. In turn, this would modify currently held ideas about the origin and evolution of stars like the sun. BIRDS of a feather don't always flock together — especially if they are tropical birds and breed at different times during the year. Many tropical bird species breed more than once during the year, and their breeding periods alternate with the breeding periods of other species. UNIQUE PULSATING CELLS in the heart may hold the clues to early detection of cardiovascular trouble, reports a microbiologist at Louisiana State University. He believes these heart cells produce a substance essential to maintain their peculiar pulsating characteristic. "If we can isolate and identify this mysterious factor and then determine its role in maintaining and inducing the beating of heart cells in the laboratory test tube, we may find a method for the early detection of cardiovascular trouble," he said. THOROUGHLY MODERN MILLING and a lot of time are needed to manufacture fittings used in central power stations. More than 200 hours were required recently to mill a wye fitting specially forged from high-temperature, high-pressure alloy steel by Pennsylvania Forge, it weighed 2,540 pounds. ARE SOME PILOTS, like some drivers of automobiles, accident prone? A member of the Federal Aviation Administration's aeromedical staff culled through the records of some 16,000 general aviation (non-airline) accidents looking for an answer. His findings are encouraging: Less than five per cent of these accidents involved repeaters — that is, pilots involved in more than one accident. If every driver strives to drive safely it will make our highways safer for everyone.

Time For Some Action!

Since the assassination of Robert Kennedy, we have heard many times about gun legislation and laws to curtail the purchase of guns, etc. There are arguments for and against and both have a lot of merit.

It seems that gun deaths in the United States are exceptionally high . . . and they are. Just last week on the news in one night, three in the area were reported. It seems that this civilized country we live in acts in a very uncivilized way. Death, crime, riots, demonstrations, racial trouble and you could go on and on, makes the headlines every day of the year.

Guns enter the picture in a good percentage of these stories. What the answer is, nobody knows, but legislation against guns isn't going to ease this situation very much if at all. The trouble seems to be in our judicial set-up.

Over the years, more and more protection is given the guilty to the point where it seems like the guilty gets a better deal than the innocent. This is especially true if the person is one of a minority group.

Such situations as we read about time after time exemplify this rule. In one case after another, a guilty party gets little if any punishment for their misdoings. It is true that a person is innocent until proven guilty, but when they once are proven guilty, often nothing happens at that time.

If the laws and courts were a little stricter and the police and other law enforcement officers were given a little more power and authority in making an arrest, maybe such cases as we read about day after day would not occur out of fear of being punished. When a person such as Sirhan Sirhan can be caught with the gun in his hand which had to be taken by force, with one dead and several others injured, and then plead not guilty to the charges, somewhere along the line something isn't right. Pleading guilty to a lesser charge doesn't put life back into Robert Kennedy or take away the injuries from the wounded people. Seeing a rioter or an arsonist in action but being unable to stop him just because he is protesting something, doesn't give back the businessman his merchandise or place of business.

It just doesn't make sense. Protecting the troublemaker, supporting those who don't want to work and submitting to the minority groups just hurts the people who want to try to live right.

It appears that gun legislation and more and more hand-outs of money isn't the answer to anything. A get tough policy and stricter enforcement and better interpretation of the laws we once lived by might clear up a lot of the bad news we get day to day. How do they ever expect to live in a world of peace when we can't even live in a country of peace where one man can get along with another?

CULVER COMMENTS

by Alienor Osborn

Some of Culver's residents have been voicing their opinions that the planned new relocation of State Road 10 will curtail expansion of the town in the only direction expansion is possible. They could be right because State Road 10 is on one side, the lake on another, and the sewage plant on yet another. It might be a good idea to leave the road where it is and use all that money to relocate the sewage plant. If they put that odoriferous plant near the present Road 10, no one would have to worry about future traffic, either.

Of late I have been getting a few questions concerning what constitutes a yacht. Since I didn't want to appear stupid and ask the members of Maxinkuckee Yacht Club, I have made an extensive study and come up with the following:

Tuesday night's storm has temporarily checked the ravages of the drought which is doing serious damage to the corn crop. A bolt of lightning struck a large oak tree in Mrs. Sara Rugg's yard at Maxinkuckee, setting fire to it. The same flash momentarily stunned a lady on the porch of the Rector Hotel.

About 200 railroad tickets to Plymouth were sold here last Monday, circus day. There were 162 tickets sold at Hibbard to area residents who attended the circus at Plymouth.

a rowboat on up or down (depending on what you own) is considered a yacht. The yachts with oars (formerly called row boats) are for fishing but are constantly chased off by yachts fitted with motors and water skiers. The yachts that look like a wide board with a pole in the end and a bed sheet flying in the wind are the ones that turn over all the time. These are called sailboats presumably because they're supposed to stay upright and skip across the waves. The yachts that resemble a raft with a canvas roof are called pontoons. Inertubes and rubber ducks are not considered yachts however.

Culver has returned to normal since that awful spell of hot weather break. It was a welcome sight to see the coffee-breakers again marching shoulder to shoulder toward their steaming cups of coffee. Almost makes you feel like waving a flag.

The local auxiliary police serve a great deal of sympathy. I'd like to know who the smart aleck is who has been calling them Keystone Kops. A name like this shows no respect and is obviously in very poor taste.

If some of you people don't think that Ruth and I are always on the alert for big news stories how about this one? There is a sunflower growing out of a tree on Madison St! Just remember, you read it in the Citizen before any of the big city newspapers got wind of it.

Will the lady that sent in the recipe for the Sauerkraut Banana Marble Cake please bring in a sample so we can taste it before we turn it loose on the readers?

Mrs. Ted Strang gleefully reports that the "Good Will" box has accumulated quite a few articles already. One lady has expressed a desire to donate a stove to this worthwhile cause. I'd sure like to be there when she puts it in the box.

The Moonlight Serenade looked lovely but who could hear it? The accompanying "gurgle-gurgle" of the yachts in the Fowlers wake drowned out the music.

Let's Go Boating

Water Skiing Is For People Who Like Fun
by Liz Allan

Water skiing has meant so much to me that I am always glad to share its enjoyment with others. For teenagers, you can't beat water skiing and other water sports for good, clean fun. There is no meanness in water skiing.

I learned to swim and began to water ski when I was five years old. My family had just moved to Florida from Germany where my father was in military service. One of the first things he did when we got settled in our new home was to buy a boat. This started a whole new world of enjoyment for our family.

My sister and I not only learned to swim and ski but we joined an outboard motor cruising club and began to enjoy the water as a family with others like us in the Winter Park-Orlando area.

Swimming and water skiing are my two favorite sports.

Now Possible To Shrink Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases—to relieve pain, itching and shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction took place. The secret is Preparation H. It also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Suppositories.

Swimming has been more than fun to me. For one thing, it has kept my weight down. This is important to a girl and is double important to a competitive skier. Swimming also helps me to keep in condition when the weather is too chilly to water ski.

Another thing about swimming is you can't beat it for water-sports safety. I think everybody should learn to swim before they learn to ski. We have competition skiers who don't know how to swim, but I think they would be better skiers if they took the time to learn to swim.

However, whether you can swim or not, you ought to wear a safety jacket in boating or water skiing. I wouldn't think of getting out on the water without a ski jacket or ski belt on. My Dad and I often stop to tell kids to put a jacket on when we see them skiing without one. This is something you never have to tell a tournament skier.

I will never be able to pay water skiing back for what it has meant to me. How many girls of 14 get a chance to compete in a world tournament in Australia, competing against skiers from all over the world? You can, if you work for it.

I would advise any young person to learn to ski if the chance ever comes—and maybe even go out of your way to make the chance. If you know any skiers, they will be glad to teach you to ski. I taught my best friend to ski, and even the 8-year-old girl next door, who's already skiing on a single ski.

Once you learn to ski, you ought to start a club and get other skiers together. If there are no tournaments in your area, start informal competition among your club members. The American Water Ski Association in Winter Haven, Fla., will help you get organized.

Once you begin competing, practice becomes more than just fun.

You're working toward something; there's always a goal in front of you.

One thing to remember—don't ever give up. You'll get discouraged at times. I do, but I lay off for a few days, and then come back fresh and usually I can work the problems out.

It's a great sport, whether you compete or not. I hope to enjoy the fun of it and the people involved for a long time.

PRUNING SHRUBS

You can enhance or preserve the natural beauty and shape of shrubs by pruning. Usually, you should begin on established plants during the second or third year after planting, says H. W. Gilbert, Purdue University extension landscape architect. A uniform "barbershop cut" is not recommended except for hedges and very formal plantings. Instead, prune branches to maintain natural shape and to avoid ugly pruning cuts. After pruning, cover all wounds larger than 1/2 inch in diameter with tree wound dressing. A pair of small hand pruning shears will do for most jobs. For heavy stems, use lopping shears or a pruning saw.

Yews, junipers, arborvitae and muho pine can be pruned in mid-summer. Remove about one year's growth as well as any dead or diseased areas. Do not remove healthy lower branches. Those shrubs that flower on the previous year's wood—forsythia, lilacs, bush roses, etc.—can be pruned just after bloom. Most should have 1/5 to 1/3 of the old growth cut back to ground level every year. Always make cuts flush with a side branch or bud to avoid "branch stumps."

You may also need to prune trees occasionally. Such trees as birch, dogwood, elms, maple and yellowwood may be pruned during the summer. Engage professional tree surgeons to remove large limbs, or for any jobs requiring the climbing of large trees.

Proper pruning helps to insure that your shrubs and trees will grow properly.

Married At Culver Military Chapel

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Robert Patterson will be at home at Claremont, Calif. following a wedding trip west. The couple was married August 2 in Culver Military Memorial Chapel, Culver.

The bride, the former Miss Marsha Lea Estey, is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Melvyn A. Estey of Culver. Col. Estey is the Commandant of Cadets at Culver Military Academy. Mr. Patterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Patterson, of Tujunga, Calif.

Rev. Carl Baker of Culver Methodist Church, and Chaplain Jerome Berryman of Culver Military Academy, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of soft organza and re-embroidered Alençon lace which featured a wedding ring collar and long sleeves tapering at the wrist. A lace appliqued empire bodice encrusted with seed pearls complemented an easy A-line skirt with a full gathered waistband that swept into a chapel train. A camelot headpiece, sprinkled with seed pearls and crystals, held her tiered French illusion veil. She carried white daisies and ivy.

The attendants wore neize organza gowns with scooped necklines, long puffed sleeves, empire bodices, A-line skirts and full gathered cage backs. They wore large white hats with yellow velvet streamers and carried baskets of white daisies.

The reception was held at the Culver Inn, which was decorated in yellow and white daisies predominating.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary F. Scruggs of Clearwater, Fla. Bridesmaids were Miss Lela Donnelly, Miss Eley Graham, and the Misses Dawn and Candice Criss, all of Culver. Miss Sandra Baker, Culver, was in charge of the guest book and Miss Mary Jurgenson and Miss Marian Jones poured.

David Patterson served as his brother's best man. The ushers were Capt. Melvyn Estey, Jr., brother of the bride, of El Paso, Texas; James Robinson, Cincinnati, Ohio; Harry Kitch, Teague, Peru; and Marshall Brown, Culver.

The bride is a graduate of Culver Military Academy, attended Denison University and is now attending Furman College, Claremont, Calif. She is a member of Tri Kappa, Epsilon Nu Chapter.

Mr. Patterson is a graduate of Culver Military Academy, and is attending California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Calif.

Taking The Dog On Vacation With You

So you're taking the family dog on vacation with you this year?

Then heed these suggestions.

Before the trip —

Check motels or hotels where you plan to stop and see if dogs are permitted.

Keep the rabies vaccination current (less than one year) and take the certificate with you. Check with your veterinarian about regulations in the area where you plan to travel, especially if you are leaving the country.

Have your veterinarian give the dog a physical examination to be certain he is able to travel. Minor skin ailments, ear infections, etc. could become an acute problem on the trip.

If the dog has been car sick on previous trips, ask the veterinarian to prescribe medication to prevent this.

Be sure the animal receives a distemper-hepatitis booster injection if he has not had one within the last one to two years. While on the trip —

Provide the dog with his regular food, if possible. Take his dish along.

Don't forget the leash. When the dog is allowed out of the car, be sure he is on it.

Include exercise and relief stops for the dog in your driving schedule.

Always leave the windows of the car open slightly when leaving the animal shut in. And, where possible, park the car in a shaded area.

Have a "howling" good time!

Let people know you as you are—not as you imagine you are.

PRICE PROSPECTS FOR INDIANA FARMS

Indiana farmers can expect somewhat lower grain prices and slightly higher livestock returns in the coming 12 months as compared with the previous year.

Cost of living will continue to rise, but at a somewhat slower pace than in 1968. National unemployment rate will edge upward to four per cent; it now is between 3.5 and four per cent.

A Gross National Product of about 900 billion is in prospect for 1969. This represents a gain of 6 to 6.5 per cent compared with a gain of 7.9 per cent in 1968. The gain will be about equally distributed between real growth and inflation.

Of specific price prospects for Indiana farmers:

"Corn prices are expected to fall below loan price at harvest—based on present crop conditions, and may range from 90 cents to $1 a bushel for No. 2 corn at the peak of harvest. A discount of three cents per point for excess moisture would mean a price of 75 to 80 cents a bushel on a wet corn basis at harvest.

"Wheat prices at harvest have been the lowest in 26 years. However, a 1969 wheat acreage reduction and producer holding at less-than-loan provide the basis for a post-harvest price increase sufficient to make storage attractive.

"Prices of the 1968 soybean crop will be closely tied to the government loan structure. Prices will fall below loan price at harvest, then increase by the necessary amount to pay off the loan and interest charges, plus a small incentive to redeem the loan rather than delivering the beans to CCC storage. Soybean prices for the year probably will range from $2.35-$2.60 a bushel.

"Prices of barrows and gilts at the eight major markets are expected to average $21 per hundredweight during the July-September period, dropping to $19.25 in September. Then they will average around $18 for the October-December period, ranging from $18.75 in October to around $17.50 in December. Prices during the first half of 1969 will probably range between $18 and $20.

"Prices of all choice steers at Chicago averaged $27.31 per hundredweight for the first three months of 1968 and $27.18 for the second quarter. Prices for the third quarter are expected to strengthen to $27.75 to $28. Some price weakness can be expected in the last three months of this year."

The fellow who lets his mind wander a lot will probably never travel very far.
