Dr. Parker Is Elected President Of Culver Mothers

Dr. Camile Kilhan Parker, a practicing physician and ophthalmologist from Logansport, has been elected president of the Culver Military Academy Mothers Club for the next academic year.

Dr. Parker, who is in practice with her husband, Dr. Francis W. Parker, Jr., also an ophthalmologist, will head the 2,200-member organization which contributed $11,800 in memberships and gifts last year to the Culver Mothers Club endowed faculty salary fund.

In addition, Culver parents contributed over $56,000 to the Academy's annual giving program. Dr. Parker will also direct Mothers Club efforts to establish area chapters to assist in Academy admissions work.

She attended Miami (Fla.) Senior High School, Northern Illinois College of Optometry, Wilson Junior College, the University of Chicago and received her B.S. and M.D. degrees from the University of Illinois Medical School.

Dr. Parker took her internship at Wesley Memorial Hospital, post graduate work at the Northwestern University Medical School and residency at the Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Car Hit By Truck, Larry White Is Injured

Larry White, 21, Culver, was hit by a truck at the intersection of Toto road and 1000 E. in Starke County Friday evening, August 23rd about 4:00 p.m. The driver was John Gibbs, 23, of 7017 W. 23rd, Gary, Ind. The White auto was knocked 300 ft. into the adjacent field by the impact. Gibbs was arrested for driving through a stop sign at 70 miles an hour and for driving without a driver's license. Larry White was treated at the Culver Clinic and then taken to the Parkview Hospital for treatment. Gibbs was treated for cuts and released.

Ditty Bags For Vietnam Soldiers Deadline Oct. 1

The Red Cross Shop Early program for Ditty Bags for Vietnam Servicemen has extended the deadline to October 1 instead of September 15. This change is due to the fact that many of the Organizations do not meet in the summer months and more time is needed to finish their projects.

Some organizations in Culver are providing completed bags, some are supplying money for postage and for articles for the bags. At this date, 34 completed bags have been pledged in Culver.

Instructions for making and filling these gift bags are available to any organization or individual interested in contributing to this program, and can be obtained at the Citizen office.

Mrs. Linda Bloom of Plymouth is general chairman, and Mrs. Ted Strang is the Culver Chairman.

School Lists Schedule For All Pupils

Culver High School students will meet according to the following schedule next week.

- Seniors — Sept. 3 — 1:15 p.m. to 3:15 p.m.
- Juniors — Sept. 4 — 1:15 p.m. to 3:15 p.m.
- Sophomores — Sept. 5 — 8:25 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.
- Freshmen — Sept. 5 — 8:25 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.
- Freshmen — Sept. 6 — 8:25 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

Book rentals may be paid at any time and lockers will be assigned upon payment of rentals. Fees are $11.50 for book rentals and lockers for each student, plus additional fees for art, band, home economics, agriculture, science and shop.

Program Set Up For Deaf Children

This fall, the Plymouth Community School Corporation will house a pre-school deaf program at West School. This pilot project, which was developed by the Michigan City Area Schools, will be funded entirely with federal monies under provisions of Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

Plymouth has been selected as one of nine (9) regional locations throughout Indiana to initiate an innovative pre-school deaf program. Other regions in which such a program will be housed include Michigan City, Hammond, New Albany, Connersville, Lafayette, Greencastle, Huntington, and Ft. Wayne. The purpose of the program is to serve the pre-school child between the ages of two and five years inclusive who, because of a loss of hearing, has disorders in verbal communication. Persons interested in obtaining additional information about the pre-school deaf program may contact Mrs. Shirley Amond, Department of Special Education, Plymouth Community School Corporation, Lincoln Building, Plymouth, Indiana. Phone 936-3113.

Mrs. Amond has indicated that the classes for the pre-school deaf children will begin at West School after September 16, 1968.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY TO MEET

Culver Schools Join In Joint Special Education Arrangement

The Culver Community Schools Corporation, in a resolution, formally adopted by the Board of School Trustees this week, joined seven other corporations in Starke and Marshall Counties in a Joint Special Education arrangement.

On May 12, 1968, seven school corporations, including North Judson-San Pierre, Plymouth, Argos, Bremen, Knox, Polk-Lincoln-Johnson, and Oregon-Davis, established the Joint Special School Agreement to supply a program of special education as defined by the Indiana Department of Public Instruction. At that time the Culver Community Schools indicated in a Letter of Intent, their continuing interest in the proposed program.

Funding the costs will be through the 1968-69 Title I Allocation. The Board named Jack Croy, R. R. 4, Rochester, as representative to the governing board.

Notification of local action was made to the officials of the Joint Special School this week.

In other business the Board heard a presentation concerning Civil Rights by Frank Schmidt and J. Dick Newman; reports on building rehabilitation progress on the new building. Contracts for non-certified personnel, including Maintenance, Cafeteria, Clerical and Teacher Aides were approved and signed by the Board, as were eleven teaching contracts.

The Board approved a Notice to Bidders for the purchase of a truck, the request for the use of the Aubeemaubee Gym by a Citizens' Club for Sunday, September 8, 1968, and the Rainbow girls for the use of the Culver Gym, August 23, 1968.

Crickets Can Cause Calamity

A cricket chirping on the hearth may create a homey atmosphere, but it's really not such a fine thing, says Glen Lehker, Purdue University extension entomologist.

Even one or two of these insects indoors may cause you to end up with holes eaten in your clothing. Of even more dire consequence are "cricket invasions" that sometimes take place. This comes when the insects overrun the yard and move indoors by the hundreds.

Crickets usually move inside during the late summer months. Houses in some locations seem to be more susceptible than others.

To keep crickets outdoors where they belong, the Pacific entomologist suggests two things:

First, keep basement windows and other openings closed or fitted with tight screens. Secondly, spray the outside foundation walls and adjacent soil with an insecticide. This is to kill any insects that attempt to cross the barrier.

For this purpose, use two per cent chlordane. This chemical can be purchased as a 45 per cent liquid concentrate and diluted with water to form a spray the proper strength. Unfinished basements and crawl spaces can be treated with the same material.

BICYCLE SAFETY

With the beginning of a new school year, thousands of children will be riding their bicycles to school.

Much of the responsibility for children's safety in traffic rests with their parents.

Parents must stress safety rules to the children. Make sure your children understand and obey the "rules of the road."

Travel in single file when riding with others;

Steer with both hands except when signaling;

Ride alone — riding double on bikes is illegal as well as dangerous;

Stay on the right side of the road and move with the traffic; Obey traffic signs and lights, for they apply to the bicyclist as well as the motorist.

Willsey adds that every bicycle should have certain safety features, such as a light on the front, a rear reflector, and a horn, bell or other warning device.

If children are to be safe drivers and pedestrians tomorrow, they must be trained in safety rules today.

KEEPING CUT FLOWERS FRESH

By following a few simple steps for cutting and caring for cut flowers, you can help them retain their freshness and last longer.

Maturity of the flower is important. If cut too green, some will fail to open. On the other hand, if cut past their prime, many will deteriorate quickly.

Generally, you can cut roses, gladiolus, irises and poppies in the bud stage. Cut asters, dahlias, zinnias and marigolds when well open.

Flowers should be cut in early morning or late evening. The stems are more turgid and the flowers more fragrant at these times. Use a sharp knife and make a long, clean, slanting cut. Then place the freshly cut flowers in warm water in a dark area for a couple hours.

The flowers will last longer if the cut stems are full of water and free of bacteria.

Later, arrange the flowers in a clean container of cool water being careful not to set them in direct sunlight or drafts. Change the water daily. At night, put the flowers in a cool room.

AQUARIUMS

Owning an aquarium is a good way to introduce children to plant and animal life, says E. R. Honeywell, Purdue University extension horticulturist. Besides serving as a source of knowledge, a well designed aquarium can afford much pleasure to young and old.

The aquarium should be big enough so that plant and animal life may respond satisfactorily. Fish bowls are usually unsatisfactory because of their small size and the small area of water surface exposed.

Start with a 5 to 10 gallon tank with about a 2 inch bed of medium size aquarium gravel on the bottom. A good rule to follow is one 1 inch fish (not including the tail) for each gallon of water. Feed the fish once a day, just enough so the food is eaten in 1/2 hour.

Other supplies which you might need, depending on the kind of fish you plan on having, include a heater, thermometer, fish net and dip tube for cleaning.

Also, plan to grow in the tank special oxygenating plants. These will insure proper living conditions for the fish and keep the water clean and pure. These plants supply food in plant form and oxygen and in turn live on carbon dioxide and waste materials given off by the fish. Most common plants are fanwort, water celery, water seed-box and water hyacinth.

Keep your aquarium clean. Remove dirt and refuse once a week. Every few months thoroughly clean the aquarium and change the water.

For Warm Summer Days—A Special Salad

Perfect for any season but most appreciated on a warm early summer day is a fruit salad. And here is a delicious combination of fruits made a little more special with Peter Pan-apple Dressing. The dressing, a smooth blending of peanut butter, pineapple and orange juices and just a dash of maple syrup, has a slightly nutty flavor to compliment the fruit. Pretty as it is appetizing, this salad has nutrition plus, since the dressing contains high protein peanut butter.

PETER PAN-APPLE SALAD DRESSING

(Makes 1 1/2 cups)

- 1/2 cup Peter Pan Peanut Butter
 - 1/2 cup orange juice
 - 1/2 cup pineapple juice
 - 2 teaspoons maple syrup
- blended

Blend all ingredients together. Serve over apple, orange, pineapple and peach fruit salads.

Then, there's that once a month when a girl could use a good old-fashioned medicine.

Maybe you feel just plain bad then. Or maybe a little lonely and sad, like you could use a pair of arms around you.

Well, we have just the thing for this once a month time. Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets. They're made with gentle, natural ingredients, including one that works to help relax tightened muscles that give you cramps. Plus a little iron that a girl could use at a time like this. And, you don't run any chance of the kind of unpleasant side effects you could get from some of the newer drugs.

With an old-fashioned problem like this, couldn't you take an old-fashioned medicine.

Let's Go Boating

by Merrick Lewis
You're the captain. As soon as you sit in the driver's seat, turn the engine on, and cast off, you are in command and you'd better be a good skipper.

That's not a threat. That's advice, from one who's had to do some pretty hairy driving in his career as an off-shore powerboat owner and driver. Nobody in his right mind would attempt what we offshore racers do — charging through high seas and high winds at 30 and 40 mph. Nonetheless, you've got to keep your mind clear and concentrate on what you're doing when you are racing across the open ocean against some of the best drivers in the world.

In a like manner, you've got to keep your mind focused on what you're doing when you're at the helm. The water, whether it be the ocean, a lake, or a river, isn't like a highway with traffic lights, stop signs, and "yield" signs controlling the traffic. All we've got are channel markers and Rules of the Road. The upshot is that vessels can approach each other at any angle, from any direction, without warning.

On a clear day when traffic is light this isn't so hard to handle. But when dusk or fog closes in, or when there's a real armada of boats out, the problem of keeping clear of other craft, of protecting yourself from accident is greater.

I shouldn't call it a problem, because there are good Rules of the Road (you can get a copy of them from your marine patrol or the Coast Guard, or by writing the Outboard Boating Club of America) and when people obey them everybody's happy. It does become a problem, though, when people openly ignore the Rules of the Road. There are always people who like to get away with as much as possible, and boating has its share of them.

So, when you're in the driver's seat, keep your eyes and ears open. While the scenery might be lovely, you'd better leave most of the viewing to your passengers. The swimmer you accidentally hit might not add too much to the scenery.

Another thing. You're responsible in most states for seeing that your boat isn't overloaded (or the boat you're driving, even if you don't own it) and that there are enough approved life preservers aboard for all the passengers and crew. Don't shirk your duty, captain.

If you are a heads-up skipper, you'll enjoy your boat much more. And there's so many ways to enjoy a boat... cruising with the family, water skiing, fishing, diving, picnics, romancing (if you're single), exploring, and, for people like me, racing.

I love boating. The only thing I can't understand is why more people aren't out there enjoying it, too. Give it a try.

That Time Of Year

Despite the fact that almost unbearable hot weather has been on us recently, that time of the year is here again. That time is the start of school.

In the next two weeks, millions of youngsters will once again be returning to schools all over the country. These young people will range from kindergarten right through college age, but the most concerned at this time would be the high school age student.

Little might these students realize it now, but their high school years are the years that have the most effect on their adult lives. High school age is a fun age, but also an important age for molding the future years and determining the paths of life one chooses to follow.

To begin with, high school age is the time that many, yes we mean many, may make a choice to drop out of school. Once a person is 16, this choice is often made before careful consideration of the consequences is studied. The number of times a boy or girl has made this decision and later lived to regret it, cannot be estimated. But to cut short an education upon which you must lean for many years to come, is a serious mistake. Maybe the lure of a job at this time is the determining factor, but in future years when advancement is due to come, the dropouts will be at the wrong end of the line.

More important, in the high school years, young men and women must start planning for the future. This is the time that the academic schedule is left mainly up to you. A boy who plans to be a farmer must follow these lines. A girl who desires to be a secretary should get all the early commercial training offered. Anyone going to college should pattern their courses to best serve their needs once they move on to the institutions of higher learning. And it goes on and on down the line. The choices made now can be very important in another year or two.

Students of today do not realize how lucky they are. It wasn't many years ago that the curriculum was very limited. Now with all the advancements in the education program, a much broader plan can be drawn up for a student to follow. The diversities that are offered in a school can give training that too many years ago was considered advanced training, or such that a person would have to take extra training outside of high school to get. The broader scope you see can save much time and effort while you are getting your high school education.

It is often hard for a teenager to realize what importance is connected with their high school years. But, it won't be hard to realize in a few short years when these same teenagers enter into adulthood. Becoming the money-maker for a family is just a short way ahead for many. Many more will be cast into the spot of responsibility to a company or business through their vacations and when this comes to be, your entire future can be in the balance.

High school days are fun days. But high school days are also the most important days of your young lives. Be active, be friendly and have yourselves a good time, but also be careful . . . the decisions you make in these few short years will be ones that will follow you the rest of your life.

Local students enrolled at Purdue University are Suzanne Dawson, Edward Lane, Richard Large, Judith Onesti, Robert Taylor, and Walter H. Wise.

August 25, 1948

Harold Colby of South Bend and Virgil Strader of Hamlet have purchased the Magee Food Store of Walter W. Magee.

Art Fishburn received a fractured vertebra when a piece of machinery he was repairing fell on him last Tuesday.

Marshall County has acquired a Drunkometer which determines the state of intoxication with 100 per cent efficiency.

The Academy began work this week to relocate the outdoor track and tennis courts. The new track will be built parallel to State Road 10 running from the artillery barn to the East Shore Road and the tennis courts are planned for the same general area.

An automobile accident, involving 12 persons, occurred Friday night about three miles west of town on Road 10 near the Castleman School. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wennerstrom and their five children were in one auto while Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cannon, their two children along with Mrs. Mae Schall, all of Monterey, occupied the other car. Eleven of the auto passengers were injured and required medical treatment.

About 2,200 employees and their families attended the annual picnic of the Shell American Petroleum Company at the Town Park Sunday.

Plans for a new $177,000 school building for Union Township were formulated Thursday night with $80,000 grant furnished by federal government.

A rental system of all text books used in the high school grades 9 through 12 will be launched this fall.

The Indianapolis special train excursion on Sunday brought four carloads to the Lake. On Tuesday the panhandle employees' excursion along with the Logansport band consisted of 28 coaches packed with a crowd numbering over 2,800. The Pennsylvania employees' annual excursion from Indianapolis yesterday required a 21-coach train. Today's contribution to the picnic season will contribute a Noblesville Sunday School excursion.

The elocution recital given by Miss Heim's pupils brought out a large audience of interested friends and patrons.

CULVER COMMENTS

One recent visitor to Culver remarked that he could always judge a town by its curbs and gutters. When asked how our town stacked up he just shook his head and asked "When did the explosion occur?"

After dressing down I got in some quarters last week, I am starting a campaign for a gun control law. The guns I refer to are the "big guns" in small towns who go around shooting their big mouths off at anyone who disagrees with them. These low caliber snipers trigger off all the trouble they can and then get mad when someone blasts back. I am in total agreement with the principle of freedom of speech and press. But, then, so was Czechoslovakia and you know how far they got. I am overjoyed to announce that unlike that unfortunate country, I'm only being attacked from three sides.

If the police are working on Culver's latest robbery, I hope I hope I won't reveal anything that will hinder their investigation. One of our better known lady gardeners has given us an exclusive on this bit of larceny that has been going on. The so far unidentified Cabbage napper has been stealthily sneaking into her cabbage patch at night. The clues are sketchy but we can assume someone in town has a large yen for cole slaw. The usual haul is one head a night but there have been times when the marauder has felt that two heads were better than one. Lettuce hope he is apprehended soon.

Did you ever have a craving to take in all the local and national news, plus the gossip of our town? Well just remember that the Culver band students can make all this reading enjoyment possible, if you will only take advantage of their magazine drive when they come to your home the second week in Sept. You'll be ecstatic to know they will also be offering the Culver Citizen.

NOW WE'VE SEEN EVERYTHING DEPT. — They are actually sweeping the streets of Culver. What with? Would you believe Culver's very own sweeper? Veri McFeely resurrected an ancient one from the junk pile, added a few new parts, greased it up and chugged off. If Veri is ever given a new piece of equipment to work with, the shock may prove too much.

Life is never dull if you happen to be where the action is. Last Sunday an impromptu goose chase on Lake Maxinkuckee caught the fancy of many cottagers, state police, game wardens and the lake patrol. Veri Shafer, well know barber, and Ralph Neidlinger, owner of the runaway flock, zoomed back and forth over the lake armed with a large net trying to bag the gone geese. After a frantic chase they managed to catch one while the others took off for home. The men were almost arrested for netting geese out of season.

Nobody ever tells us anything so we can only speculate about the roll of fencing that is reclining at the Town Park. Unless notified differently, we can assume that they are getting ready to fence in the beach lodge to prevent future robberies. There is also a possibility that the beach area will be fenced by Labor Day — just in time for the swimming season.

Voice Of The People

"My First Train Ride"

It was in the fall of 1889 or 1890 when my parents decided to visit my grandparents in Pine Lake, Mich., now Haslett ten miles east of Lansing.

Why we boarded the caboose of a freight train at Delong I do not know, unless it was to make connection with a passenger train in South Bend, for I know there were several passenger trains on the old Vandalia line in those days.

I can see that pot-bellied stove in the middle of the floor of the caboose yet, and I have never ridden in a caboose since.

In due time we arrived in South Bend and boarded a Grand Trunk passenger train for Pine Lake. That conductor made an impression on me, with his blue uniform with brass buttons and his coming through the coach calling out the stations.

In the evening we arrived at Grandpa Smith's farm home. The farm reached the shore of Pine Lake.

My Aunts, Leafy and Branche, worked in an apple jelly factory, and we went to watch them make jelly. They had a gadget that cored and peeled apples which amazed me. In later years we had the same kind of a gadget in our home.

One day we made a trip to East Lansing, and visited the museum of the State University.

I had never seen an animal larger than a cotton tail, and did my eyes bulge when I walked among those lions, bears and tigers.

Yes, my first train ride was a great experience in my young life.

Some Culver Citizens have the wrong notion as to where sidewalks should be placed. They seem to think they should be placed out along and adjacent to the curbing. Arguing that since they have to mow and take care of the terrace out beyond the sidewalk, that they could do this with less work if the #4 walks were placed next to the curbs.

While it is true such a location would give the property owner the feeling of only having "one lot" to mow and just one side of the sidewalk to clip, the arguments against placing sidewalk out next to the curbs are far greater.

Safety is the chief factor. When you are walking on a sidewalk that is next to the curb you are far more apt to get a muddy splash that would not happen if the sidewalk was back the average width of a terrace or 10 or 12 feet.

When a child is playing on sidewalk next to the street his wagon or bicycle could run off over the curb, throwing the child out into the street into onrush traffic. With the sidewalk back of the average terrace, this would not happen.

If an auto goes out of control and jumps the curb of a street where the walks are adjoining the person on the sidewalk does not have any chance to jump to safety. But if the sidewalks were back 10 or 12 feet not only would the person walking have a better chance to dodge, the driver of the car could possibly pull it back into control and on the street.

Not only do the above arguments hold true but sidewalk against the curbing does not leave a satisfactory place for fire hydrants—nor are they architecturally correct; ask a Landscape architect's opinion of this matter.

Consider what is said here when you lay out your new sidewalk.

Memories From . . .

August 27, 1938

Last Thursday the Lake Maxinkuckee area and the Town of Culver suffered a half dozen successive violent thunder and wind storms, the most severe striking the community around both 7:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m. and causing untold damage—the worst in the Lake region in many years. Student dining facilities at Culver Military Academy will soon be managed and operated by a subsidiary of The Stouffer Corporation it was announced Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Washburn have announced that they will not reopen The Barn, popular sandwich shop and recreation center on North School Street this fall.

MAJOR POINTS AND MINOR, TOO

by Gordon M. Quarnstrom

It's about time: To get more concerned about pollution — of the air, lakes and streams — and yes, our harbors, too!

There is much talk and some action — what we need is much action, on the part of local, state and federal authorities.

The village sewage that runs into a nearby stream is a problem, as is the discharge from an inefficient treatment plant in a large city — we need action at all levels to get results.

What a community can do to help is demonstrated where I live, Wilmette, Ill., which has thousands of trees but where the leaves are not burned in the fall — the officials and residents are cooperating in a leaf pickup program which means the leaves are hauled away and dumped. The air is not polluted by thousands of bonfires, as in other years.

Many legislatures will meet in '69 — this is a good time to talk to the candidates and get their stand on clean air, clean water!

Cartoon caption I liked: Gal with boyfriend: "What's this — a flaw to flaw diamond?"

Fall is a good vacation time, the Allstate Motor Cub says — children are in school, so hotels and motels aren't as crowded. Prices are down, too. If you drive, take it easy — don't travel 500 miles a day and come home tired and without having really seen anything along the way.

Purely personal: One vegetable I never tire of: Corn on the cob, a daily treat — I've missed those luscious juicy elberta peaches which are such a taste delight in the Pacific Northwest — a change of pace came for me recently at Lake Geneva, Wis., where I spent two days at the Playboy Club Hotel, a lavish inn for all seasons — Hugh Hefner's $12,000,000 resort offers a wide variety of recreation and definitely caters to the affluent society — the guy who bothers me lights up a big cigar just after dinner and blows smoke all over the table — whew!

Question Dept. Q: Do you believe in extrasensory perception?

A: I knew you were going to ask that! No.

Insurance to value? Make sure you have sufficient coverage on your house and contents, says the Allstate Homeowners Service. Check the value of your property against the amount of your coverage each year — don't be caught by low insurance in case of fire or other disaster!

Gene Gems: I haven't lost a karate match yet; next week I'll move in against the men — watch what you eat, don't be a tummy dummy.

Hal's Helpings: Free speech is a right, not an obligation — blessed are the poor, for they are not compelled to pronounce or spell hors d'oeuvres.

Eager Beaver: Some people don't live within their income because they don't consider that living — fellow I know has gal friend to whom he can never tell a lie; her name is Polly Graff.

— Wilfred Beaver

Los Angeles: I love Hollywood, and as the poet said, let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to Raquel Welch — in nearby Tijuana the vendors have more brass than Herb Alpert — the Pacific Ocean from Torrance to Malibu is a haven for old and used Hollywood rejects — what sights there are — Talk about prices at the Farmers Market: I questioned a 35 cents price on an orange and the clerk said, "What do you expect for 35 cents? A dozen maybe?" — but it was a large orange, I will admit — and this is a good place to visit, but I wouldn't want to live here.

A winter traffic safety campaign calling on all motorists to turn their lights on at 4 p.m. had one worker somewhat disturbed. "I want to cooperate," he explained, "but my boss objects to me taking time off every afternoon to run out to the parking lot."

(PZ0509) CHU LAI, VIETNAM (FHTNC) Aug. 1—Marine Corporal Thomas E. Schmidt, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Schmidt of Route 1, Culver, Ind., is serving as a member of the First Marine Aircraft Wing in Vietnam.

As a member of the wing he helps provide aviation support to U.S. and Allied ground forces. Pilots from the Wing also bomb enemy targets in North and South Vietnam.

His unit is also engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools. Equipment and materials are made available through the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund.

Lawrence Welk Show Again At Indiana Fair

Lawrence Welk and His Champagne Music Makers, long a favorite with Hoosier audiences, will return to the Indiana State Fair this year after a hit appearance in 1967.

Welk and his orchestra will present four shows at the state fair at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m., Friday, Aug. 30 and Saturday, Aug. 31. All shows will be in the Coliseum.

Welk, whose music is characterized by what a friend described as "a bubbly, frothy quality," started his musical career at age 13 in his native North Dakota, playing an accordion for community social affairs.

After leaving home, Welk played with traveling bands and eventually started his own group. The "Champagne Music Makers," as they became known, grew in size and importance. In 1955, they signed a contract with ABC-TV for a nationally-televised program.

Welk's TV "family" includes many talented performers. Among them is Natalie Nevins, an Irish charmer who has been singing with the Welk show since 1964. She has appeared with Ed Sullivan, Bob Hope and other famous entertainers.

Andrea Willis, a lovely and talented singer, first appeared on the Lawrence Welk Show in 1967 as a special guest and was so popular that in 1968 Welk signed her as a regular.

Steve Smith, a gifted regular on the Welk show, is featured as a soloist and group singer.

Jim Roberts, an experienced tenor, has been with Lawrence Welk since the debut of Welk's TV show in 1955.

Bob Ralston joined Welk in 1965 as a piano soloist, organist and arranger.

Larry Hooper, pianist and vocalist for the Lawrence Welk Show, was first offered a spot in 1948 and has become one of the most popular performances on the show.

Jack Imel, a Hoosier from Portland, went straight from the Navy to the Welk troupe as a result of one performance on the show. Imel's abilities include playing the marimba and dancing.

Bob Lido is a popular and versatile vocalist-violinist who has been a regular on the Welk show since 1965.

Myron Floren is a talented accordionist whose polished performances have entertained Welk fans since 1950.

Arthur Duncan, while not a regular member of the Champagne Music Makers, is a frequent guest on the show as both dancer and singer.

Dick Dale joined Welk in 1951 as a musician and was later discovered to be a fine singer. Today he is one of Welk's top entertainers.

Jo Ann Castle has been a regular on the Welk show since 1959 as a pianist and accordionist, performing both solos and duets with Floren.

Cissy King and Bobby Burgess, dancing partners, have entertained Welk fans in nearly every category of dancing. Miss King has been with the show for a year, and Burgess since 1961.

Buddy Merrill, is a featured guitarist and Kenny Trimble, also under contract to Welk, creates that "Champagne Music" with a trombone.

Featured vocalists with the Welk troupe are Tanya Fallon, Sandi Jensen, Salli Flynn and Joe Feeney.

Ticket prices are $2.50 - $4.50 for boxes and arena; $3, $3.50 and $4.50 for the side mezzanine; $2 for the west mezzanine; and $1 for general admission (east mezzanine).

They may be ordered from Tickets, Indiana State Fairgrounds, Indianapolis, Ind. 46205.

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth in me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father."

This passage from the Gospel of John is part of the Responsive Reading in this week's Lesson-Sermon on "Christ Jesus" to be read Sunday in all Christian Science churches. The service begins at 10:30 a.m. in First Church of Christ, Scientist, 428 S. Michigan, Plymouth.

Related passages from the denominational textbook are also part of the Lesson Sermon. Among those included this week is the following: "His consummate example was for the salvation of us all, but only through doing the works which he did and taught others to do. His purpose in healing was not alone to restore health, but to demonstrate his divine Principle. He was inspired by God, by Truth and Love, in all that he said and did." Plant Evergreens Now For Best Results

It's time to plant such evergreens as spreading yews or spreading and creeping junipers, says H. W. Gilbert, Purdue University extension landscape architect.

While they can be planted in March, late summer — mid-August until mid-September — is the ideal time.

Dig each hole twice as wide and six inches deeper than the root ball — large enough for roots to start new growth. Then set the top of the root ball at ground level and fill with soil composed of three parts top soil and one part peat moss.

If the soil is heavy clay, supplementary drainage of 3-6 inches of gravel should be placed in the bottom of the hole and, if possible, the hole should be connected to a drainage outlet.

This is especially important with yews which will not tolerate a wet root zone, Gilbert cautions. They should not be planted in heavy, poorly drained soils unless provision for drainage of excess water is provided.

Needled evergreens such as junipers, yews, arborvitae, spruces and pines can be transplanted now, Gilbert points out. These same plants can be transplanted until the ground freezes, but they will have less time for root growth before cold temperatures.

Container grown evergreens of all kinds can be transferred to the ground any time the soil is not frozen, Gilbert notes. This is because the entire root system remains on the plant with no root loss in the operation.

Balled and burlapped evergreens that are prepared for sale and properly cared for can be transplanted successfully at various times of the year by following the instructions of the professional nurseryman.

Evergreens planted in planters should have adequate provisions for excess water to drain away. And, they should not lack for water in hot dry periods. If rainfall does not reach the planter, then a regular watering program should be followed.

Gilbert suggests waiting until spring to plant hemlocks, firs and broadleaved evergreens, especially in northern Indiana.

CALE, LAMB CROPS DOWN

Indiana's current calf crop is expected to total 636,000 head, three per cent fewer than the 1967 total of 657,000, according to state - federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University.

This total is nine per cent smaller than the 1962-66 average of 702,000 head.

Number of cows and heifers two years and older on Indiana farms the first of the year, totaled 707,000 head — a four per cent decrease from Jan. 1, 1967, and 12 per cent decrease from the 1962-66 average.

While pastures were somewhat slow in developing this spring, showers in May and June brought extremely good growth that extended into the early summer months. Recent rains gave pastures an additional boost.

The state's 1968 lamb crop also took a slight dip, totaling only 231,000 head, two per cent fewer er than the 1967 crop and 18 per cent smaller than the 1962-66 average.

Breeding ewes a year old and at the beginning of the year were down on per cent from the number on farms Jan. 1, 1967. Number of lambs saved per 100 ewes at 110 in 1968 compares with 111 lambs per 100 ewes in 1967.

Give your worries more time and they'll settle themselves.

More Peachy Desserts

by Betty Crocker

Here come two dessert dazzlers. The first is a spectacular open-face peach pie baked in a pizza pan. The second is a glorious peach shortcake with pecans baked in the dough. Both solo beautifully at a dessert party — or finish off a patio supper with a flourish. Just one quick tip about peeling pretty peaches: Dip them first into simmering water for half a minute, next into cold water. Then slip off the skins and create a peachy extravaganza.

FRESH PEACH PIZZA

2 cups Bisquick
2/3 cup light cream
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
4 or 5 peaches, sliced
1 tablespoon firm butter
1/3 cup Bisquick
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

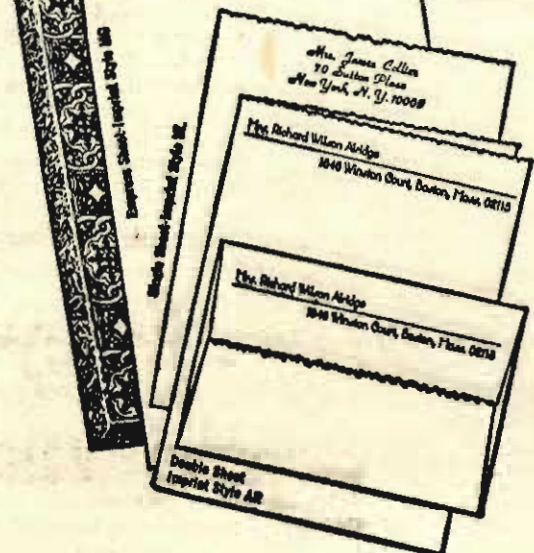

Heat oven to 450°. Mix 2 cups Bisquick, the cream and granulated sugar with fork to a soft dough. Beat vigorously 20 strokes. Knead 8 to 10 times on lightly floured cloth-covered board. Roll dough out to a 14-inch circle. Ease pastry into a 13-inch pizza pan. Flute edge. Cover crust with peach slices, beginning at outer edge and working toward center. With fork, mix butter, 1/3 cup Bisquick, the brown sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg until crumbly. Sprinkle mixture over peach slices. Bake 15 minutes or until edge is golden brown. 8 to 8 servings.

PEACH PECAN SHORTCAKE

2 cups Bisquick
1/2 cup chopped pecans
2/3 cup light cream
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
3 to 4 peaches, sliced and sweetened
1 cup chilled whipping cream
1/4 cup confectioners' sugar

Heat oven to 450°. Mix Bisquick and pecans. Add cream and granulated sugar; mix with fork to a soft dough. Beat vigorously 20 strokes. Knead 8 to 10 times on lightly floured cloth-covered board. Roll dough 1/2 inch thick. Cut with 3-inch floured cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet about 10 minutes. Split warm shortcakes. In chilled bowl, beat whipping cream and confectioners' sugar until stiff. Fill and top shortcakes with peach slices and whipped cream. If desired, garnish each with peach halves. 6 servings.

Ancilla Domini College Lists Evening Courses

Evening courses designed for those who work during the day are a part of Ancilla College's fall term, extending from Sept. 3 to Dec. 20. Five of the courses offered in the evenings are required in Indiana for the certification of elementary teachers. These classes are also open to non-credit students, those desiring the information but not wishing to take the examinations or do out of class work.

Basic Design (2 credit hours), one of the teacher requirements, develops an understanding of visual design through the study of the fundamental principles of design—harmony, balance and rhythm. Classes are to be held Monday and Wednesday, 7-8:30 p.m.

Introduction to Physical Science (4 or 5 hours) is in session Monday and Wednesday, 6:30-9:00 p.m. This course partially fulfills the science requirements for future teachers and combines the basics of chemistry and physics.

The English Language, a 2-hour course, is to be held Tuesday, 7-8:30 p.m. Significant features in the nature, growth and development of the English language will be noted along with an introduction to semantics, linguistics, dictionaries and dialect, and theories of grammar. Those intending to major or minor in English or to teach in the elementary grades need this course.

Also in the English department is Communications I (Writing), a four-hour course extending over two terms. Classes are scheduled for each Monday, 7-8:30 p.m.

General Psychology (3 hours) is also offered in the evening. The scope and methods of psychology, sensation and perception, learning and thought processes, and personality are among the topics to be discussed in the classes to be held probably on Tuesday, 7-9:15 p.m.

Another course requirement for elementary teachers in Indiana is Math Concepts. This class gives an understanding of the basic structure of modern elementary mathematics, tracing the number system from the natural to its full structure in the field of complex numbers. Classes are scheduled for Monday and Wednesday, 5:30-7:00 p.m.

Contemporary Moral Problems will compare moral philosophy with the new morality and discuss some of the major moral problems of our times. This non-credit adult education class will be held each Tuesday, 7:30-8:30 p.m. if at least ten people are interested.

In addition to evening classes Ancilla College offers daytime courses at the liberal arts college.
