Culver Community School Board News

The Board of School Trustees of the Culver Community Schools Corporation formally adopted a resolution-request to the 1969 General Assembly urging greater State support for education at the local level.

Recognizing the multi-faceted problems of government with which the Legislature is faced, the Culver Board urged that high priority be given to school finance.

The resolution points out that "our concern is not only for our own school district but for school corporations throughout Indiana. The need is great, and though continuing studies for more efficient operation have and will undoubtedly be more productive, the increasing burden to the property taxpayer is becoming too great.

"We believe that the state level of support to local schools should be raised from 33 per cent to the 50 per cent level, that a studied effort to develop a new tax 'mix' to relieve the property owner is worthy of consideration."

Culver administrative officials and Board members in their continuing studies seek to provide quality education in terms of state requirements and local needs. In this respect it takes pride in many of its achievements.

However, Culver school officials find it increasingly difficult to provide basic education within limits as determined by state support and property tax limits. The Culver general fund rate for 1969 is $4.40. The adjusted ceiling rate is $4.692.

It was pointed out in the Board's discussion on the statement-resolution expressing the need for greater state support and relief for the property taxpayer, that the State is, constitutionally and by legislative and executive action and policy, responsible for public education.

Action by the state, in no small way, determines the school program, the school operation, teacher training requirements, minimum salaries, etc. While they provide for educational standards and in many instances admirable guides and regulations, many cost factors are a result of regulations. Even so, the support by the state to carry out the program of education represents one-third or less, the actual cost.

In terms of the State Assembly's consideration of current bills, the Culver Board does not favor a local option tax, even though equalizing provisions might be included in such legislation.

A Title III application concentrating local effort in reading in the elementary level; Science, Junior High School; and English, Social Studies, and Industrial Arts in the high school, was approved by the Culver Community Schools Corporation Board this week.

Allocation of Title III matching funds for 1969 are estimated at $2,980. Title II Fund allocation to the district schools amounts to $1,989.00 for 1969 it was announced.

In an expansion of the services by the Starke-Marshall Joint Special Education, Shirley Amond, director, has announced plans for an EMR class at Culver to serve the Culver and Argos school districts. The class, to be started in early spring, will have quarters on the ground floor of the Junior High School building.

The Board approved the teaching contract, second semester, for Mary S. Radawski. A grad-

$8917.00 Now In Band Uniform Fund

Hardworking and enthusiastic Band Boosters of the new Culver Community High School are pointing with pride to the co-operation of the total school district and the support of the public in their efforts to raise $10,000 to provide uniforms for the Band which now numbers seventy pieces.

Band parents, organized in the late summer of 1968, have spearheaded the drive for the fund. Though there had been a Band Uniform Fund established in 1967, the balance in the fund on the establishment of the new unified high school last fall was slightly over $800.00. Through combined efforts, work, and co-operation, and certainly the response of hundreds of persons, the fund, in less than six months, has grown to $8,917.00.

Supplemented by a subscription drive, lead by band students; a summer benefit, Old Fashioned Days; and sizable contributions by Culver Lions Club, Tri Kappa, North Band Parents, and interested patrons, civic groups, and business firms, the sponsoring Band Parents group, headed by Roy Nicodemus, is hopeful that the fund will go over the top soon.

Fred Adams, Chairman of the Finance Committee, indicates that the personal approach for contributions has found support among people from all areas of the school district. "The interest and contributions are evidence of the support for this project," he said. The committee points out that a $100 contribution merits a label in an individual uniform. Thus the contributor is the sponsor.

Members of the Ways and Means Committee are Mr. Robert McKinnis, Chairman, Verlin Shaffer, Mrs. Don Davis, Ray Morrison, Mrs. Arnold Lowry, Andrew Venum, Cliff Wamsley, Mrs. Ruth Mackey, Dr. George Stevenson, Mrs. Don Taylor, and Paul Davidson.

Director of the band is Charles Byfield, Clayton Moon is assistant director.

Uniforms, manufactured by a San Antonio, Texas, firm are expected soon.

A Blanket Toss will be featured to benefit the Band Uniform Fund.

ate of Kalamazoo College, Mrs. Radawski will teach Journalism, English 10, Drama at the high school, and one class of English in the Junior High School at Culver.

The request of Emily Wilson, Girls' Physical Education instructor, for a leave April 10-14, 1969, to attend the National AAPHER Conference, Boston, Massachusetts, was approved.

The need for greater bus safety was emphasized with stress on adherence to driver safety rules as they refer to normal speed, use of flashing lights, stopping on highways, rail crossings, etc.

In a joint meeting with Directors of the Building Corporation, the boards heard a detailed progress report on the new high school building. Wendell Ealy, chief inspector for M-W, Inc., Architect, indicated that repairs-correction of flashing, should be completed by March 30, 1969; roof corrections by May 1st; five terrazzo ramps, April 2-8; and the general punch list in thirty days.

Delays in installation of Auditorium seating and in finalizing certain other equipment installation including Industrial Arts, Agricultural Shop, are matters of concern.

School To Be Released Early Wed., Feb. 12

The annual Building Workshop, In-Service Conference for personnel, Culver Community Schools, will be held Wednesday afternoon, February 12.

School will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. to return children to their respective homes.

Programs plans are under the supervision and direction of the principals of each school.

Fuel Contracts Awarded To Texaco Service

Bids for fuel oil and gasoline were opened at the Monday meeting of the Culver Town Board. Low bids for both were submitted by Gordon Cultice Texaco Service and accepted by the board.

Robert Rust, superintendent of schools, appeared to ask permission for a bus to unload children on School St. This is in connection with a special school for rededucatable mentally retarded children that will commence Feb. 15, five days a week, in the old Culver High Building. The class will use the door next to the grade school and since this is a no parking zone, Mr. Rust asked if the Town Marshal had any objections. Mr. Madonna agreed to this since the vehicle will only be there for a short time.

Also under discussion was the sewage line running from the school building. Verl McFeely reported constant trouble with this line that goes up the alley behind the Everett Easterday residence. Paper toweling and tree roots have caused much of the back up. Mr. Osborn suggested that McFeely clean this line once a month.

In other business the board disclosed that due to surface water, the dog pound will have to be relocated. The new site will be decided within the week.

Mr. Madonna was ordered by the board to check on the Von-Ehr property on Cass St. Neighbors have reported that people have been using this property to dump their trash. Mr. Von Ehr intends to eventually level and fence this ground.

Board member, Esther Powers, reported on the County Plan Commission meeting that she attended as a representative of Culver. Mrs. Powers told the commission that the town of Culver was in favor of county-wide zoning.

The Lions Club have asked that the town assume installation

Off To A Good Start

The Indian General Assembly, currently meeting in Indianapolis, appears to be off to a very good start. Even though it seems as just yesterday they convened, the time of this season is half gone. However, it appears that this year the House and Senate are attacking the problems with due respect for the shortcomings they have to work under.

The 59 days they have to meet and act, meeting on an every year basis, is just not adequate time to handle the business that needs to be transacted. Before this group are some very key issues and time does not permit any wasted effort if it is going to be completed.

They are attempting to do away with some of the horse-and-buggy rules they work under... the thing that is needed most. They have had to buck some vetoes by the last governor, fight some supreme court decisions that are hampering their progress and try to bring at least part of the laws that govern them up-to-date in this session.

In this day and age, a budget cannot be planned accurately be set for two years at a time and yet this is one of the restrictions they are working under.

Redistricting is another key issue that is way behind the times and one that is getting attention. Running the state properly on an every other year basis is outdated, but these are handicaps that are not only hard to change, but also hard to work under.

In many cases, the general assemblies have been lackadaisical and serious consideration of the work that should have been done was crowded into the final few days. This year it appears that bills are being introduced at a record pace and that serious attention is being given the matters at hand. Additional revenue must be raised and the bucking the governor due to his "promises" that present income and personal property taxes will not be raised has added extra burden on how this money will be made.

It is a tough session and a critical one. Much could come out of this legislature that will choose the path Indiana will follow... and we hope the general assembly will choose the path forward. Their job this year is a critical one under the considerable handicap of inadequate conditions due to the failure of assemblies before them.

This vicinity, along with the rest of the Midwest, experienced the worst blizzard in eight years and left about eight inches of snow. Roads were drifted in many places and traffic was next to impossible. School busses were unable to make their routes and the children enjoyed a two-day vacation. While many of the side roads are open it is reported that the road around the south end of the lake is entirely blocked and that it will take a large crew a day and a half to remove the snow.

The summer-like weather of the Jan. 24-25 weekend was replaced last weekend with a winter blizzard. Friday brought an all-day snow on the heels of an all-night rain. The wind shifted from the southwest to the northwest and blew hard all Friday night. On Saturday morning the blockage was in full force and effect and the snowfall was accompanied by a howling blast that piled the drifts higher and higher. On Sunday, when the storm began to clear away, farmers were out shoveling through the drifts on the mail routes.

CULVER COMMENTS

Would you believe that this column has been running for an entire year? I would very much like to answer all you people who have accused me of being a "do-gooder."

I hate "do-gooders" and its a darned good thing that I did not intend this column to urge changes upon Culver. For you Die-hard who choose to think I'm a crusader, please read the following:

Last February I remarked about the condition of the streets. Did this start a flurry of repair work? You can bet your sweet bippie it didn't. We not only have the old holes but have added quite a few bigger and better ones.

Somewhere along the line I started mentioning all the coffee breaks. Coffee is still being consumed at an alarming rate and since I couldn't beat'em, I joined them.

Last summer the dust in the street problem came up for criticism. On this we did get some results. Just before the first snowfall the town purchased a street sweeper.

There have been some teensy weensy mistakes such as an upside down street light, a snow plow blade that covered up the truck's headlights and a speed trap that only lasted one day but they were rectified without my help.

Truthfully, I must admit to one crusade. The Pool Table. I felt that this old bit of Americana should be returned to Culver but I failed completely. This evil device was banned from the beach lodge so our youth couldn't be corrupted. Oh well, better to have fought and lost than never to have fought at all.

The police dept. has come a long way since last February. Back then we had two town marshals, now we have one marshal and heaven only knows how many auxiliary police. The auxiliary force volunteer their time to keep law and order. As much as I like to kid them, I'll be the first to admit that we no longer are bothered by riots and shoplifting rings. And the town is almost free of stray dogs. The strict enforcement on loose dogs is almost free of stray dogs. The strict enforcement on loose dogs is so tight that Culver's resident Ground Hog didn't dare stick his head up on Groundhog Day least he be whisked away to the dog pound. Pussy cats and birds are pretty cocky but it's just a matter of time before our law enforcement officers dredge out a state law against them, too.

The town park looked slightly unkempt at the beginning of the summer season but finally the grounds were cut and clipped. This year we won't have that problem because there isn't any grass left, only trenches.

Not all of my suggestions work out too well either. Veri Shaffer reported that he tried my suggestions for filling up the holes in the street with water. I sort of figured it would freeze and make a better surface for cars. Veri spent the entire week end lugging pail after pail of water. So the next day it thawed. I'm working on another idea, Veri, but until I get an inspiration, just detour.

I took the school bus drivers to task for not stopping at the stop signs. They still are not stopping but one of the drivers came in to tell me that they have one of the best safety records in the state of Indiana. That must mean that we have the fastest pedestrians in the state of Indiana.

As a crusader, I'm a flop!

Voice Of The People

(Editor's note: This is a copy of a letter that was sent to General Dobson of the Culver Military Academy.)
Dear Sir:

First of all, let me state a sincere congratulations to the Culver Military Academy and their basketball team in their winning of the game played between the teams of your school and ours. I am, not in the least, being facetious in my congratulations to your team, who played an excellent game in the sense of why the whole game was played. This being the good sportsmanship and conduct of two challenging teams; teams carrying on their shoulder the honor of their school - their means of education - to develop into the kind of leaders that my generation hope will carry our country to greater heights than it has ever before known.

But - never have I seen such a display of physical disrespect that was accomplished by the cadets of your Academy in their actions following the final buzzer which brought an exciting game to a climatic close. All the cadets from the stands, the exact number was hard to discern, rushed onto the playing floor - never mindful of what harm could be accomplished in many other ways. We, and the schools who visit our gymnasium for ball-games or any other athletic event, always congratulate our teams, but we don't walk on a gym floor to do it. I would presume you are aware of the expense involved in just refinishing a floor of that size, let alone the cost of a new floor. We, the taxpayers, of the Culver Community School Corporation will be paying for the new high school and gymnasium for many years to come. This cost, however, little - we feel that we have erected a monument which will educate, for many years to come, all the children of our corporation. We are very proud of our accomplishment and this building is very near and dear to all of us. We have all disciplined ourselves, without orders or rules, that we will protect our property so that it will last for many years.

This particular situation genuinely "hit home", as my husband and I had spent quite a little time, just earlier in the evening, explaining to our daughter - a senior at CCHS - the reasons why the Junior-Senior Prom could not be held on the gym floor, neither should any social events be held there. Our daughter is a member of the graduating class of this year, as are many other children, and this building - for a few months yet - is "their." They, as high school seniors, are the "eighth wonder of the world" - but they are denied use of this gym floor for certain types of activities. For the most part, they understand - but after seeing a demonstration such as happened at the close of the ballgame - it is a little more difficult to tell them now that they "can't even walk on the floor." It also becomes difficult, too, to maintain a feeling of respect for an institution of education which produces students who display such acts of seeming disrespect.

Our country looks forward to the students of today to become the leaders of tomorrow - and one of the first prerequisites for the job of tomorrow is to learn to respect the rights and properties of others.

This may seem like a very minute happening to you, but it is a very large thing to us, perhaps because we all work hard for everything we have and since we do it means a lot to us. I should think that the least that could be done would be an apology to the students and members of our corporation.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Roger B. Wise

Cavaliers Drop Overtime Game To CMA Eagles

When two fine high school basketball teams get together and especially when a little "rivalry" is also present, any native Hoosier can tell you to expect a real old fashioned barn-burner. That was the case last Friday night when the battle of the "Culvers" occurred at the Culver Community High School gym. The Cavaliers, boasting a fine 12-3 record at the start of the game were hosting the Culver Military Academy five, also boasting a very fine record of 8-2.

The result: 32 minutes of good hard action and nothing was settled as both teams had 58 points on the scoreboard. A three-minute overtime period was needed to settle and the result was the Eagles of the Academy came out on top by a score of 63-60 in a game that will keep many buzzing for some time.

In a game that was nip-and-tuck the entire way, John Bauer proved the first hero as he knotted the count at 58-58 all to send the game into overtime. The battle had been a real battle of the boards with the overall size of the Academy contesting the work of John Szponar, Rick Pugh and John Wamsley underneath. The Eagles got the best of this match-up as Szponar fouled out in the final stanza and then to further crimp the style of the EASTERN STAR AUXILIARY

Seventeen members were present at the Eastern Star Auxiliary meeting held Tuesday, Jan. 28 in the home of Mrs. E. W. Carter.

Mrs. William Easterday, Mrs. Harold Hatten and Mrs. John Bigley assisted the hostess.

The business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Evert Hoesel. Yearly programs were distributed and the annual report read. Seven members have had perfect attendance for the year and Mrs. E. W. Carter has had perfect attendance for 17 years.

The group played cards with the prize for bridge being won by Mrs. Evert Hoesel and the flinch prize was won by Edna Stahl. The mystery prize went to Mrs. Cloyde Miller. Cavaliers, high scoring Pugh was eliminated in the overtime, also a victim of five personals. The Cadets outscored the Cavaliers 5-2 in this extra period to come home with the win.

Pugh Takes Scoring Honors

Rick Pugh, before fouling out in the overtime period, copped the individual game scoring honors as he totaled 21 points through the effort of his driving and medium range shooting. He had six baskets and nine from the charity line. Bauer had 15 and Szponar 14 to account for all but 10 of the Cavaliers' points. Meanwhile, the big boys were doing most of the damage for the Cadets. Bryce Taylor, Mike Harrison and John Crimmins totaled 15, 14 and 15 respectively for the winners but both Yates and Pringle chipped in with nine each.

"Whither shall I go from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there." These verses from Psalms are part of the Responsive Reading included in the Bible Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this week. The lesson is titled "Spirit."

Among related passages to be read from the denominational textbook Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy is the following: "Man walks in the direction towards which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also. If our hopes and affections are spiritual, they come from above, not from beneath, and they bear as of old the fruits of the Spirit."

The Food Stamp Plan Part II Eligibility

As mentioned in the previous article the Food Stamp Program is not a welfare program, it is a food assistance program, and you do not have to be a recipient of public welfare or receive help from the township trustee to qualify. Individuals or households receiving assistance may be eligible. Recipients of Old Age Assistance, Aid for Dependent Children, Blind Aid or Medical Assistance may well qualify for the benefits found in the Food Stamp Plan, but those benefits are not limited to those receiving assistance.

There are three categories. (1) PUBLIC ASSISTANCE. Those who receive assistance from the Department of Welfare. (2) GENERAL ASSISTANCE. Those who for some reason do not qualify for public assistance, but because of need receive help from their township trustee. (3) NON-ASSISTANCE. Low income households who receive neither public or general assistance. The majority of patrons in Marshall County are found in this last category. There is no length of residence requirement, but you must reside within the county at the time you make application, and as long as you participate in the county program. The law permits no discrimination because of race, religion, or political belief in the administration of this program. Eligibility is determined solely on the basis of need. The size of the household, the income, and the liquid assets (cash on hand, checking and savings accounts, stocks, bonds, etc. that can be easily converted into cash) make up the base upon which eligibility is determined.

A person may own or be purchasing property and still benefit from the program without fear that a lien will be placed on his property.

To determine eligibility it is first ascertained what the monthly income is, along with the amount of liquid assets. A single person is allowed up to $130.00 a month, and may have liquid assets in the amount of $600.00. The income scale rises with the size of the household. Using figures which the USDA has compiled we will consider some typical examples.

Many of the elderly receive Social Security benefits in the amount of $50.00-$60.00 a month. Of this it is figured that they will spend $14.00 for food. If this $14.00 is used as purchase price for food stamps, the recipient will be given a bonus of $8.00 in stamps, and thus have $22.00 with which to buy food rather than $14.00. This is a 57 per cent increase in his food purchasing power. Elderly couples on Social Security often have a monthly income of $100.00-$120.00 a month. Of this they would spend $32.00 for food. Using this as purchase price for stamps they would be able to buy $48.00 worth, for a 50 per cent increase in their food purchasing power.

One more example: in the spring the migrants move into Marshall Co. Almost without exception they will need short term help. Often they are large family units and are destitute upon arrival in our county. The grower or crew leader will usually tender advance them $10.00-$20.00. On today's market you just can't buy many groceries for $10.00 or $20.00, so they are directed to the Food Stamp Office. There for a purchase price of $3.00 a family of ten can buy $94.00 in food stamps.

It should be noted that in general assistance cases the township trustee determines the amount of the food order according to a schedule agreed upon by the county township trustees. When the food order is made out to the Food Stamp department, the amount of the order becomes the purchase price. To this is added a number of bonus stamps, depending upon the number in the household. By using the Food Stamp Plan the township trustee can reduce the cost of township poor relief.

In the final article in this series a comparison of the Food Stamp Program and the Surplus Commodities Program will be made, and it will be shown how patrons use their food stamps. The Marshall Co. Food Stamp Office is at 216 W. Madison St. A call or visit may benefit you and your family a great deal. If yours is a low income household you may well qualify for benefits under this program. The phone number is 936-3129.

You feel a little edgy, or maybe cross.

Sooner or later, that day comes, the day when a woman feels she's changing. It's not a good feeling either. And she could use a good old-fashioned medicine then.

You might even have what we call hot flashes and feel sad and slightly off-balance.

Whatever you feel, we have something for the day you need a little comforting. Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets. They're made with gentle, natural ingredients that work to help you feel better. When you start changing, you could use a good old-fashioned medicine for an old-fashioned problem. And, you don't run any chance of the kind of unpleasant side effects you can get from some of the newer drugs.
