French Pianist To Appear At CMA

French pianist Bernard Ringeissen returns for his fourth appearance at Culver Military Academy Sunday afternoon. The recital begins at 2:15 (EST) in Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium and is open to the public.

Bach's "Suite Francaise No. 5," Schubert's "Wanderphantasie" and Rachmaninoff's "Trois Preludes" are on the program. Ringeissen will conclude with "Sonata No. 7" by Prokofiev which brought him critical acclaim after his Bethel College recital last week.

The 35-year-old Parisian has been touring the world for 15 years. When only 17 he won first prize at the Paris Conservatory and since then he has won the highest awards at the leading international festivals — in Naples, Geneva, Warsaw, Paris and Rio de Janeiro.

He has given concerts with the most famous orchestras, taken part in numerous festivals and played recitals all around the globe.

The performance at Culver is part of the Academy's annual Concert-theater series.

"Total Julius" To Be Shown Second Time

There will be a second performance of "Total Julius" at Eppley Auditorium, CMA, Friday night at 8:15. This modernized version of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" was written by Harvey Fierst, director of theater.

The second performance falls on the eve of the Ides of March when Caesar was assassinated in 44 B.C. The cast wears modern dress and unusual theater techniques are employed. Stage entrances, for instance, are usually from the back of the auditorium instead of the side of the stage.

Many Culver students are included in the large cast, including Terry Powers, son of Mrs. Esther Powers, who plays one of the leading roles as Brutus. Two young girls, Fairlie Fierst and Wendy Walker, give a charming dance during the show and there is also a gymnastics exhibition.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

Tri Kappa Present Summer Reading Program Books

Epsilon Nu Chapter, Kappa, Kappa, Inc. (Tri Kappa), recently presented the students of Mrs. Don Kline, Second Grade, and Mr. Harold Howard, Seventh Grade, with the books they won for their rooms in the Summer Reading Program.

This program is sponsored by Tri Kappa for the pupils of the Culver Community Schools as an outside reading project after the close of the school year.

Last summer approximately 150 students in Elementary School and Junior High participated in the Summer Reading Program through the Culver Public Library.

Credit was given for each book read, and in the fall after the start of the school year these credits were totaled and applied to the given rooms. The two rooms selected were the ones whose students contributed the highest number of points in books read.

Books totaling $100 were divided between the two rooms and will become part of their permanent room collection.

Mrs. Norman Scuggs, Librarian, Culver Public Library, is in charge of this program and coordinates it through the Culver Community Schools.

Tri Kappa Gives Art Cart To Riley Hospital

Kappa Kappa Kappa Sorority last Wednesday presented to the James Whitcomb Riley Children's Hospital of Indianapolis a specially designed art cart, which will bring pictures to the rooms of children under treatment in Riley's new intensive care Burn Ward, now being finished. The new facility will be available to all children in Indiana, and will provide unique emergency services for critically burned children. Last year the hospital, in its existing departments, cared for over nine hundred children from north central Indiana.

The art cart, fabricated in Riley's own shops but paid for by Tri Kappa, will hold approximately forty specially prepared reproductions of paintings, carefully selected for their appeal to children. The cart will be brought into a child's room so that the child himself may choose a picture to hang where he can see it as he recovers. Pictures selected need to be approved as to content by the professional staff at the hospital, and then must be specially framed and coated so that they may be cleaned for display in a sterile ward.

As befits an institution which serves the whole State, Riley has been benefited by gifts from Tri Kappa chapters all over the State. In addition to the art cart, the sorority has begun a collection of original paintings by Hoosier artists — in keeping with its program of encouraging local art — and these paintings will be on permanent display in the halls, offices, and lounge of the hospital. An even more impressive fact is that Tri Kappa gifts over the past few years, placed in interest for the Burn Ward project and greatly increased by matching gifts from business and industry, have been responsible for the present availability of $75,000 toward furnishing and equipping the Burn Ward, according to John W. Hillman, Executive Secretary of the Riley Foundation. Mr. Hillman, together with Perry W. Lesh, president, accepted the art cart last week and expressed the hospital's thanks to the sorority for its work on behalf of the children of Indiana.

The art cart, made of aluminum for strength and lightness, will be on display with its pictures at the annual Tri Kappa convention, to be held at French Lick April 10, 11, and 12. Hospital authorities believe the idea of an art cart can be a positive morale factor in any hospital, but especially where children are concerned, according to Mrs. John F. Edgell of Culver, Art Chairman for Province Ten of Tri Kappa, who originated and supervised the project for Riley.

NOTICE

The Culver Order of Eastern Star will meet Tuesday, March 18 at 7:30 p.m. There will be initiation for two new candidates. This will also be a farewell party for the 1968 officers.

AND NOW THERE ARE 16! The Indiana state tourney took the second big step to finding a champion Saturday at 16 sites around the state. Now only 16 teams can still achieve the title of State Champions for Indiana as the action thinned the list to this number Saturday in some very exciting basketball.

THE LINE-UP OF THE REMAINING teams and their schedules is like this: At Ft. Wayne, probably the best semi-state meet this year, will find Goshen and Ft. Wayne North playing the first game and Marion and Huntington in the second. At Lafayette, North Vermillion will meet Rossville and in the second contest South Bend St. Joseph will battle Gary Tolleston.

INDIANAPOLIS WILL HAVE number one ranked Indianapolis Washington in their meet playing the second game against Silver Creek while the first game will find Richmond and Jac-Cen-Del fighting it out. At Evansville, Bedford will play Rex Mundi and two teams sporting 25-0 records, Vincennes and Scottsburg, will meet in the second contest.

LAST WEEKS ACTION WAS spicy with some good games and some fine individual performances. Upsets were not entirely uncommon and from the various points, most had good basketball to see. We choose Elkhart as the site to visit to watch for a return match between Goshen and Warsaw. It turned out to be a whale of a game as Goshen came through in an overtime although it was very doubtful for quite some time. Goshen features the best individual ball player in Northern Indiana this season in John Ritter and his heroics made the trip worthwhile in itself.

WARSAW HAD LITTLE trouble with Larwill in the first contest although the small Larwill team did make a run at the Tigers late in the first half. However, the handwriting was on the wall and scratch the little school from the meet. Next was Mishawaka, Marian and Goshen. This proved to be a fine ballgame until the two big boys for Marian, Vervet and Creevy, both got in foul trouble and left the game. The Redskins then took over for an exciting 77-70 win. Ritter got 24 in this game without hardly handling the ball due to Marian's defensive efforts.

THIS SET THE STAGE FOR the final game that everyone wanted to see. Goshen broke ahead early, but Warsaw battled back to tie the count by half-time. From here on out it was dog eat dog until Warsaw pulled to what seemed an uncatchable margin. With over five minutes left, the Tigers led 50-42 as breaks in the third and early fourth quarter left Goshen leading. However, the Redskins, with Ritter and Hoggensboom doing all the scoring, battled back to tie the score at 50-50 by the end of regulation time and went on to win in the extra three-minute period.

Just A Few Miles away, South Bend was having a slam-bang final to their regional after two afternoon games that didn't kick up too much excitement. Michigan City disposed of Valparaiso and St. Joseph completely dominated the entire game against Knox to reach the finals. A seesaw battle finally found St. Joe coming out on top although the Red Devils had several chances to win in the last 41 seconds.

ANOTHER UPSET OCCURED at Lafayette when the North Vermillion team upset the Jefferson Broncos 72-71 in what had to be a great one. The North Vermillion team gained a little attention on Friday night when Mike Newell hit 54 in the early first round due to a Purdue-Indiana game on Saturday afternoon. Finding a semi-state without Lafayette Jeff is rare, but in Indiana basketball, anything can happen and usually does somewhere along the line.

INDIANAPOLIS WASHINGTON, certainly the class of Indiana High School basketball this year, had a much closer call in the afternoon from cross-town rival Shortridge than they are used to. The stalling tactics of Shortridge resulted in a final score of 46-38, but everything returned to normal in the night game as an overwhelming 87-41 victory was recorded. Playing this powerful team is similar to inserting one head into mouth of one hungry lion. Marion, Ind., another unbeaten club, eliminated another undefeated team Saturday night as Carmel fell by the wayside. Vincennes, also perfect this year and a finalists last season, moved on giving the top three teams in the state, all with perfect records, a chance to advance on for the crown.

THE PREDICTIONS OF last week didn't keep anyone awake or in money if they bet on our picks. Only nine of 16 were chosen right with several being the victims of upsets. This week it doesn't sound as hard. We would have to go with Indianapolis Washington, Marion, Vincennes and Gary Tolleston. This would set the stage for an

A self fabric bow was attached to the back waistline and her mid-back veil of illusion cascaded from a pillbox of satin with pearl appliques. She carried a cascade of white roses and violets.

Finished But Not Completed

The 1969 session of the Indiana General Assembly completed their work for at least a while Monday night (or Tuesday morning) without the usual stopping of the clock for days on end at the end of the session. However, it appears a very good chance that the legislators will be called to Indianapolis by governor Whitcomb to complete some work that still isn't completed.

The session is over, but the work isn't done or Indiana is in for some mighty rough times if the projected figures and studies made by those in immediate touch are accurate. If the legislature is done and no recall is made, it would mean that the action of this year would last until the session that is scheduled to begin in January of 1971. Most feel that a crisis could easily arise before this time.

To point out what the completely outdated schedule of meeting only once every two years means, if you are a family that operates on a budget, or even close to a set budget, you know you would have trouble setting down today and figuring a budget to last two years. This is exactly what the legislature in Indiana faces every other year.

Add to this fact, a near crisis seems to be just a step away from many of the school corporations in Indiana and already several have had to start whittling away on their programs to satisfy the money they have coming in, and this is only one phase of the state, but one that affects many, many people. The end result of the 1969 general assembly did offer some additional help, but not nearly what was asked for as school operating costs and teachers salaries just continue to climb year in and year out.

This is not the only phase that needs money and needs it soon. When the lawmakers first met, much speculation was made as to what forms of raising more money would result. It is a much known fact that most people want relief from Indiana's personal property tax and yet those that stood to be increased in this session included sales tax, state income tax, cigarette tax, excise tax, liquor tax, gasoline tax and right on down the line. As the end result, it appears that the vehicle end of the taxes suffered the most.

The gasoline tax was increased. Registration of vehicles is set to increase and of course, the vehicle inspection law was revised, but still left in effect and will take another bite out of the pocket for every vehicle in the state.

More occurred that is promising for the future than just the tax situation. The proposed amendments were approved for the second time and will now be placed before the voters on the ballot in a 1970 referendum vote. They are: make possible annual sessions of the legislature; and the present method of nominating and electing judges of the Indiana Supreme and Appellate Courts and provide they be appointed first by the governor from a list submitted by a judicial nominating committee, and then they would run against their own record for the voters. Another appointment would be made if one were rejected. Third, elect the offices of secretary of state, auditor and treasurer or four years instead of the present two year terms.

These amendments, plus eight more that will be placed again before the 1971 session for second approval, could certainly update the Indiana Constitution greatly, not necessarily making it 100 per cent right, but would be a step in the right direction.

Especially important is the one that would have the legislature meet every year. This would do away with the rush that occurs near the end of each session to try and come to a compromise on many important issues. More time and more thought would certainly mean more efficiency.

Time will tell what the governor will do, but the beating he took in this session, trying to live up to his campaign promises, might just mean an extra session to further resolve some of the trouble that still is present for the coming two years.

Miss Esther May Cavender died Thursday evening. Mrs. Hollett has accepted the position as instructor in the domestic science department of the Culver schools to fill the vacancy.

CULVER COMMENTS

By Allenor T. Osborn

What happens when an irresistible force hits a movable object? This thought provoking question just happens to be up for bets around town. Take one drainage ditch on Forest connecting at a right angle with the tile at the bottom of the hill. Come a downpour with water gushing through said tile. What happens when it comes to the sharp turn?

Will such force cause the man-hole cover to shoot up into the air. Our local gamblers are betting it will. The only argument is how high. To date they're making book on from 3 to 45 feet.

— C C —

Won't someone please volunteer to inform our town marshal as to where the fire is when the alarm goes off. I don't want to say he's discouraged exactly but he was overheard to say that if he wants to know where the fire was, he has to read about it in the "Citizen".

— C C —

I wish to thank the teachers of Culver for their walk-out in support of taxes. I don't think they accomplished anything but now, at least, when the kids don't feel like going to school they have a new excuse. The old ones such as "my head aches" or "we are supposed to have a blizzard", etc. have been replaced. Now they come up with "I think the teachers are going to walk out today."

— C C —

Sue McCombs has a pamphlet on Lake Maxinkuckee written in the 1880's. The language is charming and written in the flowery style of that period. For instance, "Yachts and row-boats float lazily, where fishers drop their lines, or dart to and fro, under sail, like white winged gulls in the distance."

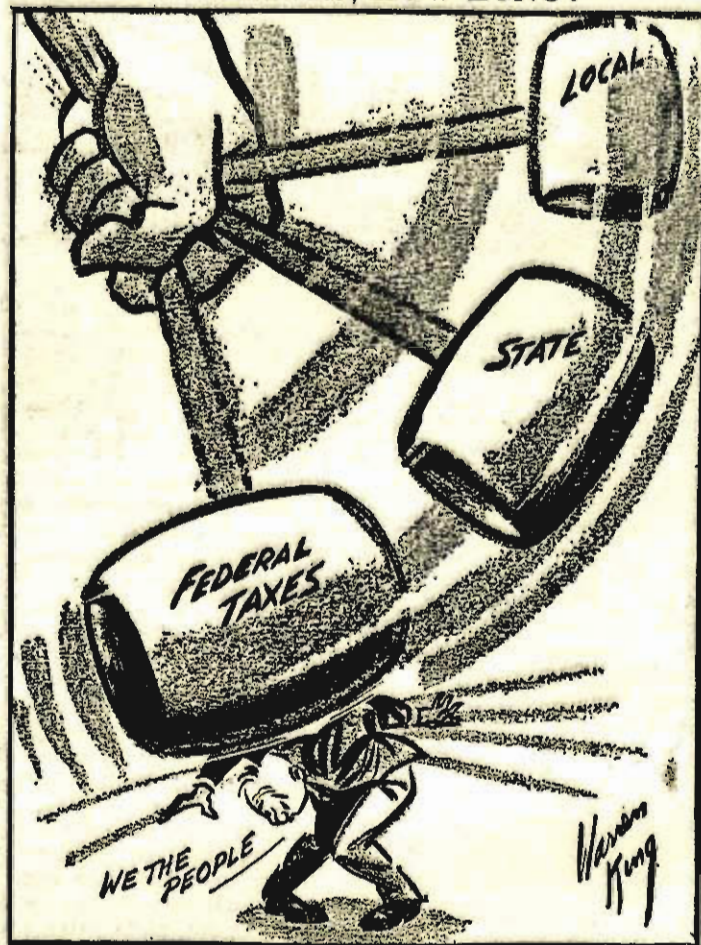

Sue has this delightful book at the Petite Bakery where she works, so drop in and glance through this description of the "Good old Days."

Want a tip on a fast growing blue chip stock? Street Stop Signs are up 10 points on the Dow Jones average due to a sudden surge of sales.

We all realize the police are

trying to slow traffic down - but do they have to bring it to a complete halt?

At the rate the signs are popping up, in a week or two the only direction to go will be straight up.

— C C —

NAME THE HALL CONTEST

Verl Shaffer has not as yet come up with an official name for the meeting room above his barber shoppe. He needs help! Will all you clever people try to think up a name suitable to Verl's personality.

— C C —

ATTENTION: STREET DEPARTMENT — All your work to improve our streets has not gone unnoticed. One grateful resident wants you to know that he appreciates you fellows filling in the craters in the streets. He says that when he falls into one now, he can at least climb out.

— C C —

I have been asked to announce that the story circulating around town that an autographed picture of "Major" will NOT be given with each purchase of a dog tag. I can't imagine how these rumors got started.

— C C —

The CD car has certainly been zooming around town the last week or so. Some of us laughed when we saw the old wreck but it's amazing that a new skate key and rubber band can do — not to mention greasing the pedals.

Voice Of The People

Dear Friends,

We thank God daily that you are aware of our work and for the ways it has moved forward on account of your assistance with our candy project.

The candy project is - in a real sense - the boys' project from the first ingredient right down to the happy customer. It gives them a sense of accomplishment not realized by many teenagers today, for they are proud of their efforts in making an outstanding product and the fact that they are earning a portion of their livelihood while doing it.

The assistance of interested folks, like you, is deeply appreciated by both the boys and staff. We hope this year, 1969, brings an abundance of blessings to you and all those dear.

Sincerely,
Bill Smith

Academy Hosts Invitational Track Meet

Trackman from Bremen, Gary Andrean, Chesterton, Merrillville, Ft. Wayne Snider and Culver Military Academy will compete here Friday night in the ninth annual CMA Indoor Invitational Tract Meet.

Indiana cross country champion Wynder of Chesterton will be back to defend his meet record of 4:34.5 set last year on the 12 yard cinder track.

Host Culver has won the invitational every year except 1967 when Merrillville took home the honors. So far this year Culver has lost dual meets to Hobart (82-28) and Ft. Wayne Northside (92-27) and scored 40½ points to place between Ft. Wayne South Side (88½) and Montpelier, Ohio (17).

Coach Dave Burke reports the best performances by CMA so far are Terry Albright's long jump of 20'1½" and Dan Romein's pole vault of 11'11½". Albright is a senior from Karlakee, Ill., and Romein is a freshman from St. Anne, Ill.

Three new meet records were set at last year's invitational and two from previous years were matched. Culver's 12' lap relay team of Gordon Delk, Lee Couch, Stasz Gorski and Andy Griffith set a record with 3:04.7.

The eight-lap relay team of Jack Shoaf, Charlie McNagney, Terry Albright and Drew Dobson set a record of 1:56.4. With the exceptions of Albright and Dobson, a junior from Culver, these runners were lost to graduation.

Last year Merrillville's Sam Inman matched Andrean's Jack Samar's 1967 record time of 25.7 in the 220-yrd dash. Merrillville's 1965 record of 5.7 in the 45-yard low hurdles was met '67 by CMA's Jack Shoaf and '68 by CMA's Gordon Delk.

Other meet records standing are 4.6 in the 40-yard dash (Jack Samar, Andrean, 1965; 50.7 in the 410-yard dash (Pete Simpson, CMA, 1967); 2:05.3 in the 880-yard run (Bob Ancira, CMA, 1964); 10:17.1 in the two-mile run (Walker of Bremen, 1967); and the oldest record, 5.9 in the 45-yard high hurdles (Wolf, Logansport, 1962). Peru, which declined the invitation to return this year and was replaced by Ft. Wayne Snider, holds two meet records — in the high jump (6'2") and long jump (21'1").

Other records are Jack Shoaf (CMA) 12' in the pole vault set in 1967 and Manihofer's (Merrillville) 1965 shot put of 50'11".

The indoor meet begins at 7 p.m. The public is invited and there is no charge.

"Will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded?" This verse from I Kings is part of a Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Substance" to be read this Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

One of the selections to be read from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, is the following: "The everlasting I AM is not bounded nor compressed within the narrow limits of physical humanity, nor can He be understood aright through mortal concepts. The precise form of God must be of small importance in comparison with the sublime question, What is infinite Mind or divine Love?"

MAJOR POINTS AND MINOR, TOO

Nicky and Susannah

Two news stories the other morning coincidentally evoked memories of a visit in Morocco, for I met all three of the principals involved while in Rabat just two years ago. The three names in the news were those of Conrad (Nicky) Hilton Jr., who died of a heart attack in Los Angeles at age 42... and of Actress Susannah York and her husband, Michael Wells, listed by Columnist Dorothy Manners as being in an alleged domestic tiff because of Miss York's "friendship" with Danny Apollinar, author and actor.

At Rabat Hilton

I was at the beautiful Rabat Hilton, one of the showcase hotels of Africa, when Nicky Hilton arrived with his attractive oil heiress wife. Also at the hotel were Susannah, then riding high on her success in "Tom Jones" and "A Man for All Seasons", and her actor-hut-not-big-time husband. I joined the Hiltons, whom I had met previously, for a day in fabulous Marrakesh and again for a dinner with King Hassan of Morocco. The king abruptly ended the meal when time came for coffee, which he wanted served in another room. Hilton was invited to join him, to receive a decoration, and I came along, with five others. The king was austere, aloof, sitting across the room in his chair with one attendant whispering in his ear. Then came the coffee, the medal presentation, and the audience was over. The king got into his Rolls Royce and headed for the nearby palace.

Sweet and Unaffected

Susannah York proved to be a charming, sweet, unaffected gal. I recall particularly a day with her and her husband in Fez, one of the holy cities of Morocco. She astounded the Arabs in one small town en route, where we stopped for gas, by doing her limbering up exercises on the sidewalk, her pink miniskirt riding high on her thighs and backside. We had a delightful day, which ended under a full moon on the return trip. She and her husband joined in songs, and Wells recited beautifully from Shakespeare and other writers. They seemed genuinely happy together; I hope she hasn't changed as a result of "The Killing of Sister George," etc., and that the comment by Miss Manners was just show biz publicity talk.
