Culver High School Driver Students Gain Certificates

Norm Kelly, of Hatten Motors; Mr. Long, Instructor; and Mr. John Hays, Principal.

Certificates for Completion of Driver Education, were awarded to 28 driving students by instructor Dale R. Long on March 20. These students under the direction of Mr. Long have completed the state prescribed Driver Education Course, consisting of 50 hours of classroom instruction, and 25 hours of outside classroom work.

This is the first year in which Driver Education has been offered to high school students of Culver Community School during the school year. In offering this course at this time the students have received experience in driving under all types of weather conditions, such as rain, snow, and iced conditions, as well as night time driving.

The purpose of this course being given to beginning students is to give the basic knowledge of how an auto operates and its maintenance, responsibilities of becoming a driver, insurance liabilities, and the rules of the road; coupled with driving experience acquired through driving a 1969 Plymouth, furnished by Hatten Motors of Culver.

IT'S ALL OVER AND THE end result is probably the most controversial state finals on record. And, to further complicate things, the main controversy doesn't involve the final game saying someone else should have won, but involves the first afternoon game, which still causes many to say that someone else should have won. The game in question involved the eventual state champions, Indianapolis Washington, and the Marion Giants, a fine team that apparently fell victim of some very questionable plays in the game.

WASHINGTON DISPLAYED the big star of the tourney in George McKinnis, no surprise to anyone, and despite a 27 point and 15 rebound effort, most felt that Marion's balanced attack were victims of the game situations more so than they were McKinnis and Company. The play of the game of games was put on a subpar level right off the bat when the big scoreboard clocks failed to function.

TO THINK THAT SUCH AS a scoreboard failure could happen in the most important games of the year, is sickening. Both teams were undefeated and Marion after gaining the state finals last year, certainly had their sights set on the title. Indianapolis Washington, rated number one most of this year and featuring the best player in the state, also had high hopes of the championship, adding this much more to this play. However, the electrical problem made these two teams operate under pressure right from the word go. Time is an important thing in any game and to play a tight battle without knowing how the time is going, is more devastating than ever. It not only effected things at the end of the periods, but all through the contest that question of time was in the minds of the players. Teams play different under different time conditions and seeing the "desperation" shots taken and such as this at each quarters' end, made it more confusing.

THEN CAME THE REST OF the trouble. Early in the game, a foul on Steve Downing was credited to McKinnis. Despite tremendous efforts by the Washington coach, Bill Green, this was not changed and it was very obvious to many in the fieldhouse. The officiating followed an inconsistent pattern the entire game as play under the basket was hard and rough, often being called and often not being called. The complete inconsistency hurt both teams at one time or another.

MARION WAS IN THE process of playing a near perfect ball game, the only thing a team could do to beat this combination of talent on Washington's squad, mainly in the persons of McKinnis and Downing. These two giants were devastating under the baskets and were passing out punishment and receiving it also. Their awesome defensive abilities put extra pressure on shooting and challenging them for a rebound was more risky than flagpole painting. The Giants seemed to be pulling the upset of the year in the final quarter as they pulled to leads of up to 12 points.

HOWEVER, AS MANY other teams have done all year long that proved costly, the Giants decided to get a little cozy with the ball and getting cozy with a team of wildcats is not the best idea. The Continentals started controlling play like it was a practice session and all of a sudden a 56-46 lead for Marion was a 57-56 deficit. The Giants then moved ahead by three again as time (whatever it was) was becoming a very strong factor.

THEN CAME A COUPLE OF jewels. One, the calling of Ned Rencher for having his foot on the foul lane on a free throw by Joe Sutter, was unbelievable when you consider it was the first shot of a two shot foul. The missed second shot hurt again, but more than ever, a one-and-one attempt shortly after that was missed was fatal. Downing got the basket to push the Continentals ahead 61-60 after a play in which many felt he committed a foul on a rebound, which had the scorers been right, would have been number five.

A SHOT BY TOWNSEND that possibly wouldn't have been taken under conditions of knowing the time, found big McKinnis clearing the board and two passes ahead hit a wide-open Wayne Pack racing for the basket when Dan Gunn dumped him from behind for a foul that evidently occurred just as time ran out. No one in the fieldhouse was aware of this as no one knew the time had expired. However, a jumping, jubilant bench of Washington's streamed onto the court in a victory celebration and it was later determined that the game was over. Add to the problems that time had entered the situation on several occasions at the end of periods, once taking a basket from Sutter and on two other occasions causing wild shots to be taken unnecessarily, and you could find enough margin of error to change the final decision.

THEN CAME THE SECOND game. This one was like a Sunday School picnic after the wild and woolly first contest. It didn't take the Tolleston team too long to determine who was going to win a very cold Vincennes team ran into shooting problems shortly after the first period ended and never bounced back. Tolleston killed the larger Alies on the boards, but the jumping Jack Raiders were just too powerful.

THIS SET THE STAGE for the final. Between sessions an electrician supposedly had the scoreboard clocks working, but it took just two seconds to realize that this too had gone for naught as once again the teams were playing without visual aid of a clock. However, Washington had the aid of McKinnis and Downing again and away they went. Moving to an 18-14 first period lead, things kept improving for the Continentals in the second period and by early in the third stanza the lead was 19 points. Washington then got a little careless and the free shooting Raiders began dropping some of their shots to slowly trim the lead until the final score of 79-76 resulted.

DESPITE THE FACT THE final margin was only three points, it was most obvious that as McKinnis and Downing stayed in the game, Washington wasn't going to loose after opening up a good margin. When all was said and done, big George was a record breaker in several ways and had completed a season that found the big ace collecting over 1,000 points in one year! This is a first for Indiana basketball in one season and the only thing that will hurt his college chances are his grades, which won't rank him high in any class. However, the big guy has been contacted by tion good, but the third party, the officiating, left a little to be desired. In the future in Indiana, some effort is going to have to be placed on officiating. Why not a third official for these games . . . certainly it couldn't have hurt in this meet. Not saying that officiating cost anyone a game, but it sure did effect play as this was the poorest received officiating by basketball fans these eyes have ever witnessed in a state finals.

SUMMING UP THE MEET, it was great. Great talent and fine coaching will always put on an interesting show. Many of the boys seen Saturday in Indianapolis will venture on to further basketball fame in college. The play was fine, the ac-the school year, and then head of the custodial staff.

What the personnel record doesn't list officially is that Sheep Scott was a friend, confidant and counselor to hundreds of Culver Students.

Evidence of their esteem is the fact that he was the first employee ever to be honored with a full dress-garrison parade upon his retirement in 1946. Mr. Scott recalled that day in an interview for an article in a recent issue of the Culver Alumnus:

"After the parade, the kids all came up and gathered around, and I gave them a nice little long talk. I just tried to tell them what they should get out of life."

At the parade—arranged as a surprise by the students—Mr. Scott occupied the place of honor in the reviewing line. Col W. E. Gregory, then superintendent, called attention to the fact that Sheep had "always served the cadets without regard of time and self and with the best interest of the Academy at heart."

The 1946 student yearbook commented, "If the Academy supplied service stripes for its employees, Roy Scott, better known as 'Sheep,' would have enough harsh marks to extend from his carpus to his scapula."

Sheep summed up his philosophy about Culver for the Alumnus article: "From my first day as a waiter those days got in my heart, and I've never got them out. I've talked to many a kid out there, and I've kept a lot of them out of devilment. In fact it got along up in the years when I just thought the place belonged to me. I did everything I could to improve it. I call that my home, I loved it and do yet."

And Sheep Scott kept on working for Culver even after his official retirement. Until his recent illness, he was in charge of maintenance of one of the guest houses on the Academy grounds. Just this month he was named an honorary member of the Culver Legion, the Culver winter school alumnus association. This honor has been given to only three other Culver employees.

Mr. Scott was born Sept. 22, 1881, in Mexico, Mo., to Lafayette and Martha Adams Scott. He was married June 19, 1905, to Lillie Duley who died April 7, 1965. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Thelma Hodges of Culver; two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Douglas and Mrs. Mary Sexton, both of Mexico, Mo.; and two grandchildren. Officiating at the funeral will be the Academy chaplain, the Rev. Jared Foster. Burial will be in Culver Masonic Cemetery. The Easterday-Bonine Funeral Home were in charge of the arrangements.

"Today, America seems to be very self-conscious. Every institution, every industry, every policy, every public figure is subject to harsh, critical scrutiny. There is great power for good in conscientious criticism, in legitimate social concern, and in honestly-expressed dissatisfaction. Our country has always thrived on discussion and open disagreement.

"All of us deserve to be 'weighed in the balance' and taken to task now and then. It sharpens our responsiveness to the public good and strengthens our democracy.

"Though there is much that is wrong with America today, there probably has been no time in all recorded history when so many people lived so well as they do right now in this country.

"When they attack our institutions, the zealots must be careful, lest they destroy the good with the bad. There is cause for concern when discussion and disagreement give way to disorder and disobedience. There is cause for concern when dissent becomes an end in itself - a 'way of life' for many with no plan but disruption and no purpose but destruction. There is cause for concern when critical attacks than to know what to be for." are motivated by selfish desires for personal popularity, or publicity.

"Dissent not based on facts is deceit.

"The dynamic force that makes this country 'go' is like a mighty engine - powerful, but not fool-proof. Like any such mechanism, under adverse conditions it can literally 'tear itself apart' from within.

"Our American engine is built to close tolerances. It cannot long tolerate either excessive permissiveness or undue restrictiveness. If not properly lubricated, a high-speed engine such as ours can overheat and destroy itself. Excessive, irresponsible critical abuse can contaminate the lubrication. It's the old story of 'sand in the gears'.

"In essence, what this country needs is criticism of a more positive, constructive, responsible nature. I realize, however, that these are relative terms. Personally, I think that to criticize and demonstrate with neither the facts nor a better solution, is irresponsible. The dissenter, himself, may have a different view of his actions.

"This much, however, I do know: It is easier to challenge than to change; it is easier to be contemptuous than constructive; it is easier to be critical than creative; it is easier to be against something

By Alienor Osborn

Last week our up-and-at-them marshall brought in a hub cap. It was his belief that it was the famous hub cap that was stolen in the school parking lot during a basketball game.

Sorry, Sam, but your fabulous detective work was in vain. It does not match the car in question. The unclaimed cap is in the window of the Citizen office and anyone with three matching ones may claim it.

If no one wants it, Sam, I hope you will take it back. You wouldn't want me to be accused of being a "fence," would you?

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT - Verl McFeely deserves credit for purchasing a brooder house for chicken feed (a poultry $30) and converting it into a dog house for the dog pound. He plans to give it a good coat of paint (if he doesn't chicken out) and for less than it would have cost to build, Culver will boast a nifty dog sanctuary.

The only problem is that Verl is having a little trouble getting the dogs to roost at night on those small perches. Maybe you should start with bird dogs, Verl.

It's now time to get the kids in shape for the Easter Egg Hunt at the town park a week from Saturday. A good way to have them practice for this is to have them hunt up missing articles around the house. Send them on a search for all articles that have been missing for a month or so. You might be surprised at the number of socks and mittens that they can turn up. You can give them a hard boiled egg as a prize to get them into the spirit of the thing.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE?
Mrs. Osborn,
Thank you for your kind words in your column. I will be glad to give service to anyone between spotlight changes. I feel I must correct you on one thing. I do not have the time or experience enough in the Post Office to give fast service. At best my service could only be called half fast.

Revised Plan
For Vehicle
Inspection

Governor Whitcomb signed the amended Vehicle Inspection Act on March 15, 1969. The following changes are effective immediately:

1. Vehicle Exempt - shall include farm tractors, farm tractors used in transportation, mobile homes (house trailers), trailers weighing three thousand (3,000) pounds net (not loaded) or less and antique vehicles.

2. Alignment - Toe-in and toe-out has been eliminated entirely. You will no longer use your stuff gauge or toe-in and toe-out bar in the inspection program.

3. Headlamp Aim - headlamps shall be initially inspected visually and shall not be inspected mechanically except when the inspecting mechanic can show the owner or operator of the vehicle there is a substantial divergence or misalignment.

4. Brakes - brakes shall be inspected manually and not otherwise unless requested by the vehicle owner. This means that you will inspect brake pedal reserve, stopping distance and parking brake, and will NOT pull a wheel on a passenger vehicle unless the owner requests one to be pulled. In that event, the inspecting mechanic shall pull a wheel of his choice and inspect the condition of the brake lining or brake pad and condition of the brake drum or disc in addition to the manual inspection. Rejections are the same as in the manual.

5. A rejected vehicle may be operated for a period of thirty (30) days from the date of rejection and repaired rejected items may be reinspected at the original inspection station at no additional cost if within thirty (30) days from the date of rejection.

6. Official Inspection Stations shall charge a fee of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) per passenger vehicle or an official inspection. Inspection stations equipped and approved to inspect trucks shall prominently display a sign setting forth separate fee rates for the inspection of each classification of truck. This means you can charge more than two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) to inspect a truck but you MUST have your fee rates for truck prominently posted and displayed to the public.

7. The sticker of approval or rejection shall be placed in the lower LEFTHAND side of the windshield (instead of on the righthand side).

8. NOTICE: No adjustments or repairs shall be made by any official inspection station or inspecting mechanic without written specific authority of the vehicle owner.

9. Ball joint wear will be inspected for horizontal play only. No axial or vertical inspection will be made.

All other items to be inspected are the same as in the manual and the rejections are the same. Until such time new rules and regulations are written and promulgated, these rules and regulations will remain in effect.

10. Vehicles bearing a 1969 Indiana license plate ending with the digit "1" or "2" shall be inspected on or before August 31, 1969; those ending in "3" or "4" on or before September 30, 1969; those ending in "5" or "6" on or before October 31, 1969; those ending in "7" or "8" on or before November 30, 1969; and those ending in "9" and "0" on or before December 31, 1969. Self inspectors shall have all vehicles inspected on or before August 31, 1969.

Please notify all of your inspecting mechanics of these changes and make sure they get written authority on all repairs.

A shy young man at a dinner party had been trying to think of something nice to say to his hostess. At last he saw his chance when she turned to him and remarked: "What a small appetite you have tonight!"
"To sit next to you," he replied gallantly, "would cause any man to lose his appetite."

Any man can be proud of making his mark in the world except when it's in red ink.

Culver Military Academy Art Class Has Final Session

The C.M.A. faculty art class concluded its final session on Wednesday. The class has attracted a lot of interest. In this photo, Arthur Hughes is posing for sculptors while various other projects are underway under the watchful supervision of Donald Adams, art instructor.

NO CHANCE

The fellow who lives in the belief that the future is tomorrow will have no future.

Red Cross Water Safety Instructor Course

Thirty-five residents of the Marshall, Starke and Fulton county area are completing the new redesigned American Red Cross water safety instructor course held at the Culver Military Academy pool under the supervision of Brother Louis Hureik, C.S.C., from the University of Notre Dame.

Members of the class include: John Byerline, Cliff Hess, Dave Clauson and Dave Clinger of Rochester; Charles Glaub, Miss Arlene Holm, Miss Pam Kubley, Miss Becky Lattimer, Miss Sharon Renz and Dan Umbaugh of Plymouth; Miss Patricia Hutson, Miss Jane Lovett, Bill Lovett, Chet Marshall, Dick Rafes, Miss Margaret Sollenberger, Mike Sollenberger, Miss Pam Welsh of Culver; Gary Copeland, Keefe Davis, Dick Griffin, Frank Hutson, Mike McGuire, Glenn Richmond, Doug Robertson, Doug Schaff, Mark Segall, Bob Thompson, Bill Thompson, Dave Reese and Doug Stone of Culver Military Academy; Miss Ann Thompson, Miss Becky Kuzmaul and Bryan Roudebush of Winamac and Roy Orth.

Brother Louis Hureik is on the staff of the National Aquatic School, a Small Craft Instructor and Water Safety Instructor.

He was assisted at Culver by Dick Mariotti of South Bend who is on the staff of the National Aquatic School and Lt. Carl Lederer of the South Bend Fire Department who is also a member of National Aquatic School.

Brother Hureik, Mr. Mariotti and Lt. Lederer are members of the St. Joseph County Red Cross.

Part I of the redesigned water safety instructors course consists of 5 three hour sessions of review of standard swimming techniques and of learning new strokes and lifesaving methods to bring swimming skills closer to competitive swimming.

The swimming strokes and techniques were devised after motion picture studies were made of champion competitive swimmers to learn how their more efficient swimming techniques differed from the standard.

Part II consists of 5 three hour sessions of practice teaching techniques of swimming with two dozen young novice swimmers recruited from C.M.A. faculty children, Culver Boy Scouts and children of Red Cross affiliated families.

The course also includes demonstration of safety features for boating and canoeing, such as how to empty, "right" it and climb back into a boat or canoe after an accident. Face masks and snorkel equipment were also demonstrated.

All Red Cross water safety instructors must complete this new course to be eligible to teach Red Cross water safety programs in 1970.

Age is no obstacle for the fellow who plans for the future.

Miss Berger Wed In Chesterton

Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Berger of Culver are the parents of the bride and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yagelski of Chesterton, Indiana.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of candlelight satin peau de soie which had an empire bodice of chantilly lace, encrusted with seed pearls and sugar crystal beading with a sculptured neckline and tea cup sleeves formed by the lace. A deep band of lace encircled the hem of the full dome skirt and the removable chapel train was also highlighted with the by medallions of the lace. A mat-beading, had a dainty center crown effect with crystal drops and the veil was of imported silk illusion. The bride carried a nosegay of candlelight roses and carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Marilee Harrmann and she wore a maxi-length dress of apricot tanieta which had candlelight lace ruffles accenting the elbow-length sleeves and high neckline continuing down the front of the dress. She wore a matching dainty floral plateau which held a face veil.

Kristine Berger, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a maxi-length dress of candlelight peau de soie with candlelight lace ruffles accenting the elbow length sleeves and forming a high neckline, continuing down the front. She wore an apricot bow with flowers for a headpiece and carried a basket of petals.

The best man was Steve Bushore, Chesterton and the ushers were Steve and Gerry Yagelski, brothers of the groom. Ring bearer was Kevin Berger, nephew of the bride.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the St. Patrick's School. A five tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Dwight Cochran, cousin of the bride, and Miss Karen Banks. The varsity free throw went to Mike Yates who, along with Mike Haworth, was named co-captain of next year's team. The B-team free throw trophy went to H. A. "Bud" Hornbeck of South Bend.

Coach Tom Baker's varsity record of 14-4 is the best CMA basketball record in 17 years. The 1951-52 team had a 13-3 season.

The 103 points scored against Argos High School established a new Eagles' scoring record. The old record was 97 points against Avilla in the '64-65 season.

APPLICATIONS BEING TAKEN FOR FIELD AUDITOR
James O. Mathis, Commissioner of the Indiana Department of Revenue, announced recently that the Department will hold written examinations in South Bend, Indiana, for applications who wish to become Field Auditors with the non-partisan Division of Audit.

The examination will be held in South Bend on Saturday, April 12, 1969, at 9:00 a.m. CST, on the Indiana University Regional Campus, 1825 Northside Boulevard.

The Commissioner pointed out that the prior knowledge of double-entry bookkeeping and a general understanding of Indiana's income tax, sales tax, and intangibles tax laws is desirable. Only applicants 21 years of age and over will be considered for these positions.

Mr. Mathis stressed that political activity is not a prerequisite toward being accepted for employment in the Division of Audit.

Application forms and additional information may be obtained from any one of the 15 field offices located throughout the State or by writing to Mr. E. W. Norris, Director of Education and Training, Box 1575, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204. All applications must be received by the Department of Revenue on or before April 4, 1969, to receive consideration.

 The Golden Text that will be read at services in all Christian Science churches this Sunday is from Psalms: "Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holiness."

Passages to be read from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, will include the following: "In the material world, thought has brought to light with great rapidity many useful wonders. With like activity have thoughts' swart opinions been rising towards the realm of the real, to the spiritual cause of those lower things which give impulse to inquiry."

The subject of the Bible Lesson-Sermon is "Reality".

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Lester D. Kimmel who passed away one year ago on March 29, 1968.

Do not ask us if we miss him
 There is such a vacant place,
 Often we think we hear his footsteps,
 And to see his smiling face,
 Days of sadness still come o'er us
 Tears in silence often flow,
 Memory keep him ever near us,
 Since he left one year ago.
