TOWN PARK NOW READY FOR SEASON

The Culver Town Park is a more beautiful place due to the efforts of a small, but enthusiastic group of individuals who gave willingly and unselfishly of their time last Saturday and Sunday working on the park grounds.

Mrs. Marshall Brown, who was responsible for organizing the community clean-up, appealed to the residents to share in this worthwhile project. A special thanks is extended to Colonel Edward Payson and Mrs. Gordon Roberts for cleaning up the beach, which had an unbelievable amount of leaves and debris scattered over the area and to Larry Berger who responded immediately to an emergency in removing the debris by truck on short notice.

The faithful volunteers did a tremendous job raking, trimming and cleaning up the area. All members of the Park Board were present for the clean-up. The following volunteers also contributed to the project: Mrs. Gordon Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dunnell, Gwen Dunnell, Mrs. Elmer White, Mrs. Wendell Nelson, Ronald Tusing, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Brown, Richard Brown, Teresa Long, Cindy Tusing, Julie McCombs, Kathy Jo Wynn, Girl Scout Troop 52. Park Board members present were Latham Lawson, Mrs. James McCombs, Mrs. Ronald Tusing, Arthur Hughes, Walter Johnson, Jesse Sims.

Nelson Wynn, town employee, spent both days mowing the park and made many trips to the town dump with the accumulation.

School To Hold Free Basketball Clinic In June

The Culver Community School Corporation and its Department of Summer Recreation is sponsoring its 2nd Annual Free Summer Basketball Clinic. The clinic will be under the direction of Coach Dave Huffman and two members of his staff.

Any boy that will be entering the 5th thru 9th grades next school year is eligible and strongly encourage to attend. The first week (June 9-13) will be for 5th and 6th graders. The second week (June 16-20) will be for 7th-8th-9th graders. The clinic will run from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. each day and time will be divided between such activities as instruction, drills, video-tape replay, philosophy, films, etc.

This year all clinic sessions will be held at the new Culver Community High School gym. Free shuttle bus transportation will be provided to and from each session. Interested boys may be picked up at the Monterey School at 12:10 p.m. and the Aubree School at 12:25 p.m. Prizes (rubber basketballs, Converse low-cut basketball shoes, goal nets, etc.) and awards (trophies and certificates) will be given. Each boy is requested to provide his own equipment such as shoes, socks, shirt, shorts, supporter and towel.

No pre-registration is necessary. The attendance at the first session will provide sufficient registration and information.

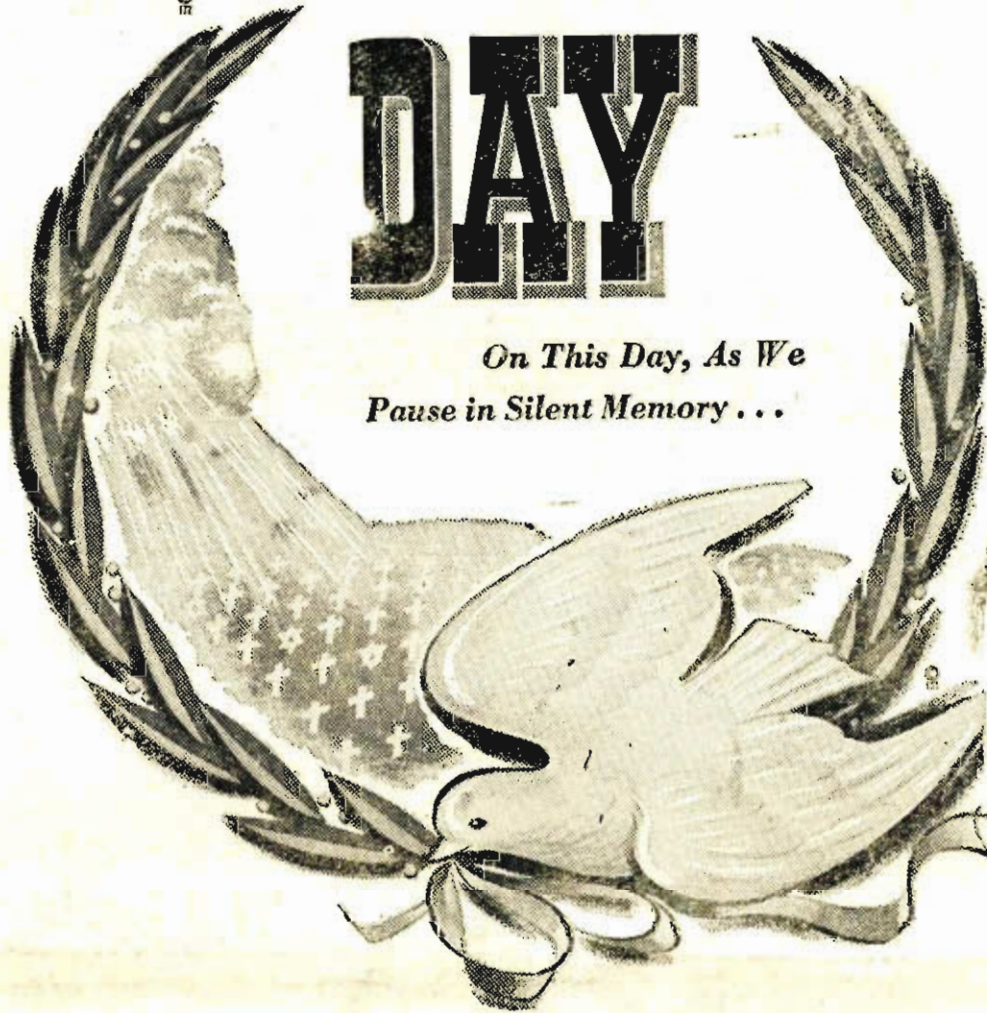

Any questions or inquiries should be directed to Coach Huffman at 842-2347 or 842-3391.

MEMORIAL

DAY

On This Day, As We
Pause in Silent Memory...

Mrs. Norm Kelly To Head Chamber

Mrs. Norman Kelly, pictured here with Rev. Carl Baker, was elected the new president of the Culver Chamber of Commerce Monday night at a dinner held at the Three Sisters Restaurant. The election was held to fill the vacancy left by the department of Rev. Baker as he was moved by the United Methodist Church to serve in North Manchester at their recent conference. Rev. Baker has served as president for the past 17 months.

Other officers unanimously elected were: 1st vice-president, Allen Marshall; 2nd vice-president, Tom Sturdevant; secretary, Mrs. Ted Strang and treasurer, Ron Tusing.

Dr. Otis R. Bowen, speaker of the Indiana House of Representatives, was the featured speaker for the evening event. Dr. Bowen briefly outlined the recent session of the General Assembly, telling what critical matters faced the legislators and what results came from a very busy 61 day session. He elaborated on a few of the main issues and after a very fine talk of Indiana government, he answered questions from the floor.

Dr. Bowen's talk was very well received by the enthusiastic group. His time is very valuable and his visit to Culver was especially appreciated at this meeting.

Courthouse Hours For Memorial Day

HOME EC. CLASS

STYLE SHOW

The Home Economics Class of Aubree Schools seventh and eighth grades had a Style Show on Tuesday evening at the Aubree school.

The dresses were made in their class. Several mothers of the girls were in attendance.

Someone has described a golfer as a guy who yells "fore", takes six and writes down "five".

Marshall - Starke Development Center Closes

The M-S Center closed for summer vacation Monday with a lunch prepared by the teachers and children and a magic show in the afternoon. The kids chopped vegetables, mixed punch, helped open cans and mixed rice pudding. Some of them were excited and happy that they would be out of school, others were quiet, already beginning to miss the company of their classmates.

After lunch dishes were cleared away, Kamdu, the magician arrived. He opened his bag of tricks and with the help of some of the children, showed us that his hand was quicker than our eyes. He never had a more delighted audience and is sure to be a topic of conversation for days to come. When he finally closed his trick bag and told the children goodbye he left souvenirs — a playing card with a mysterious hole in the center, a length of magic, self-mending rope and another experience to enlarge their lives.

Then, while teachers and volunteers gathered all the children's various projects into labeled bags for them to take home, the students took their last turn on the swings and slides and gave the tether ball its last workout until next Fall. Goodbye hugs and kisses were exchanged and the buses and cars went their different ways, taking the kids to what will hopefully prove to be an enjoyable, stimulating vacation.

MAY MEETING OF

M-S AUXILIARY

Fourteen members were present at the May meeting of the Marshall-Starke Auxiliary with Mrs. Jean Roush presiding.

The Auxiliary voted on sending at least three children from the center to the Epworth Forest Camp at North Webster, Ind. The Boy Scout leaders reported that six Bear badges were awarded, three Wolf and Bobcat badges and three received gold arrows under their Wolf badges. The Girl Scout leaders reported that nine girls had received their health and sewing badges.

Helen Kutschke and Agnes Shei were appointed delegates from the Auxiliary to the board of director's meeting. The rummage sale was a huge success and a big thanks to everyone who contributed was given. The following members had a perfect meeting attendance for the year 1968: Mrs. Jane Roush, Plymouth; Mrs. Iris Snyder, Plymouth; Mrs. Dorothy Thurin, Culver; and Mrs. Agnes Shei, Culver.

Mrs. Christine Rinckenberg and Mrs. Hanna Kersey are to be hostesses for the June meeting. The meeting was then adjourned followed by refreshments which had been prepared by the young adult class at the center.

Crescent Group Enjoys Birthday Party May 21

The May 21st meeting of the Crescent Group was a birthday party held at the Grace United Church, with 26 members present.

The president Mrs. Wilfred Craft welcomed those present and read a poem called "Treet Talk". The May minutes were read and approved, followed by the roll call. Thank you notes were read from Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Star, Mrs. Elgie Hawkins, and Mrs. Pete Onesti's families. Mrs. Craft then conducted the business for the evening and thanked the committee in charge, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Crabb, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Ringle, and Mr. and Mrs. Cloyde Miller. She also reminded all to remember the church picnic on June 15th.

Members, Mr. Harold Baker and Mrs. Jenny Dickson were in the hospital, and the members were asked to send them get well cards. A card was signed by those present and sent Mr. Baker.

A poem, "Happy Birthday To All Of You", was read by Mr. Craft, and the meeting turned over to the committee. Mrs. Cloyde Miller read an article entitled, "The Most Acceptable Gift and followed with a prayer. Mrs. Cleo Ringle gave a piano solo.

The group chose sides and had a spelling bee, which was won

A Soldier And His God!

The poem below first appeared in the "Becker County Record", Detroit Lakes, Minn. It was found on the body of a 19-year-old soldier in Vietnam.

Look God: I have never spoken to you, but now —
 I want to say: "How do you do?" You see God, they told me
 You didn't exist
 And like a fool — I believed all of this.
 Last night from a shell-hole I saw your sky —
 I figured right then they had told me a lie.
 Had I taken the time to see the things you made,
 I'd know they weren't calling a spade a spade.
 I wonder, God, if you'd shake my hand.
 Somehow — I feel that you will understand.
 Funny, I had to come to this hellish place,
 Before I had time to see your face.
 Well, I guess there isn't much more to say
 But I'm sure glad, God, I met you today.
 I guess the zero-hour will soon be here
 But I'm not afraid since I know you are here.
 The signal—well, God—I'll have to go,
 I like you lots—this I want you to know.
 Looks like this will be a horrible fight.
 Who knows—I may come to your house tonight.
 Though I wasn't friendly with you before,
 I wonder God—if you'd wait at your door—
 Look—I am crying, me shedding tears,
 I wish I'd known you these many years.
 Well, I'll have to go now, God—goodbye
 Strange—since I met you—I'm not afraid to die.

Elvira and I got so tired of T.V. reruns that we decided to switch to radio. We tuned in a polece program that was better'n any comedy on T.V. It sorta sounded like this:

"Deputy, we got this here speed trap ready to go and I mean to arrest a few people tonight so get in your car and keep the radio on."

"OK chief. I'm ready to uphold the law."

"Deputy, there is a brown car approaching you with a white haired woman speeder in it."

"Sorry chief, the only car approaching is a white one driven by a brown haired woman."

"Pick her up anyway! And nah the blue sedan also. While you're at it pick up the black and white spotted dog, too."

"I'm holding the cars, chief, what should I charge the dog with? Speeding or fleaing the law?"

"Have you captured the dog, deputy?"

"Sort of, he's got me by the seat of the pants and chief, what should I do with all the teenagers down here?"

"Are they rioting?"

"No, but they're standing on the sidewalk laughing at me. Please send some help. I'm holding so many cars that it's created a traffic jam."

"Help is on the way, deputy. Contact the judge to stand by for some arrests."

"He knows about it, Chief, he's standing around laughing with the teenagers."

"Deputy, don't panic. Show 'em you mean business."

"Get you, Chief, but I have to leave in ten minutes."

"Why?"

"My wife says that if I'm not home by 9:30, she's going to beat the tar out of me."

S S

Someone should take a little time and congratulate the Brownies for their efforts in removing the debris from the Town Park. There's been a great deal of gripin' but not much action from some people. One man in particular has spent hours complainin' about the length of the grass. He could have cut it himself in half the time he took hollerin' abut it. The younger set and their leaders used action instead of words.

S S

It's beginnin' to look as if the sewage plant is in for a rejuvenation. With improvements comes costs so it's reasonable to bet that the sewage rates will go up. But most folks 'round here are bettin' that this town board will see to it that EVERYONE will pay their fair share this time around.

S S

Elvira and I sure noticed the new sidin' that Klines Appliance store has added. Peeked in the window and saw some remodelin' goin' on inside too.

S S

While in town I overheard some Culverites discussing this column. From what I could gather it seems that folks still are comparin' it with "Culver Comments", and I ain't comin' out too good in the comparison. Maybe I ain't blood thirsty enuff.

Voice Of The People

Dear Mr. Urbin,

The Girl Scout troops of Culver want to express their appreciation to you for the excellent service you have given them this year.

We appreciate your cooperation in making the Girl Scout program more effective through the Girl Scout News which appears in the Culver Citizen each week.

Culver serves 125 girls in the four levels of scouting, and many adults are involved in making the organization function. It is important to us that parents and the Girl Scouts well informed to the various activities and events that are scheduled during the year. We feel the weekly column is an asset to the Culver Neighborhood.

Thank you.

Yours truly,

Mrs. Marshall Brown

SOME FUN!

"I DIDN'T SAY A WORD ABOUT YOUR BISCUITS DID I?"

Teentime Partytime

by Betty Crocker

When the teenagers are coming, think big. Plot your party refreshments, then double up on quantity. And to please their bottomless appetites, how about a batch of Fun Doughnuts? Or a double batch maybe? With an array of do-it-yourself frostings and toppings, which is what makes Fun Doughnuts fun. The teens frost them themselves while sipping Mulled Apricot Nectar. Real groovy, Mom. The doughnuts you can make ahead, you know. Then cool and freeze in plastic bags. On party day, thaw in freezer wrap. Or if you're in a hurry, remove from wrapper and thaw in 325° oven about 15 minutes. Now let's run through the recipes.

FUN DOUGHNUTS

2 cups Bisquick
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/3 cup milk
 1 egg

1 teaspoon vanilla
 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Fun Frills (right)

Heat salad oil (3 to 4 inches) in heavy saucepan or deep fat fryer to 375°. Mix all ingredients except Fun Frills until smooth. Gently smooth dough into a ball on lightly floured cloth-covered board; knead 10 times. Roll 1/8 inch thick. Cut with floured doughnut cutter. Drop rings, 3 or 4 at a time, into hot oil. Fry about 1/2 minute on each side or until golden brown. Lift from oil with fork; drain on paper towels. Makes about 1 dozen.

Fun Frills: Set out several kinds of Betty Crocker Ready-to-Spread Frostings and bowls of chopped peanuts, flaked coconut, chocolate shot and colored sugar. Guests frost and decorate doughnuts as they eat them.

MULLED APRICOT NECTAR

1 can (46 ounces) apricot nectar
 1/2 lemon, thinly sliced
 2 cinnamon sticks
 15 whole cloves
 8 whole allspice

In large saucepan, combine all ingredients; heat to boiling, stirring occasionally. Simmer 5 minutes; remove from heat. Cover and allow to stand 30 minutes. Strain; serve hot. Makes twelve 1/2-cup servings. For munching, serve hot popcorn.

Memorial Day Enters In Century Of Remembrance

Memorial Day is entering its second century of remembrance to our loved ones who have died. It was first observed on May 30, 1868 as a day to remember Union soldiers who died in the Civil War—yet had its beginning in a Confederate cemetery near Richmond, Virginia.

Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, Gen. John A. Logan, issued an order on May 5, 1868 to set aside May 30 as a day for honoring the Union dead.

The graves of the Confederate soldiers had already been decorated by their friends and relatives when Mrs. Logan visited the cemeteries earlier in March, 1868. Gen. Logan was to have visited the battlefields in Virginia but business prevented him from making the trip. He urged his wife and two children to go as planned, where they toured the churchyards and cemeteries at Richmond, Petersburg and other historic points.

Returning to Washington she related to her husband of the graves where small bleached Confederate flags and faded flowers and wreaths had been placed in remembrance. Gen. Logan being touched by the description as his wife, said it wasn't too late for the Union to follow the example of the people of the South. Thus, the proclamation of May 5, 1868 to honor the war dead on May 30.

Through the years the observance has not been limited to the war dead, it is a day for remembering all our loved ones. Bouquets and wreaths of flowers are placed on the graves with small American flags being put on the graves of all veterans of all wars.

As their annual custom, the American Legion is in charge of the program at the ceremony. Being an organization of veterans who have helped preserve our Nation and our Flag, they, and their Auxiliary are more aware of the respect that should be given to our flag.

Too many people throughout our country are lax in the proper etiquette to our flag. While many are gaining unfavorable publicity for desecrating our flag, many more are trying in their small way to show their love for their flag and their country. What better way can we show our love than by observing proper flag etiquette.

FLAG ETIQUETTE STATES - During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the Flag, or when the Flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons present should face the Flag, stand at attention, and salute. Those present in uniform should render the military salute when not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with right hand, holding it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Men without hats should salute in the same manner. Aliens should stand at attention. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the Flag in the moving column should be rendered at the moment the Flag passes.

When the National Anthem is played and the Flag is not displayed, all present should stand and face toward the music. Those in uniform should salute at the first note of the Anthem, retaining this position until the last note. All others should stand at attention, men removing headdress. When the Flag is displayed, all present should face the Flag and salute.

"This little pig," Mark Kepler said as he poked Kent Good, "is muct too small and has entirely no ham!"

Sound like the Fair? No, it was the May 22nd meeting of the Jr. Livewires. The Culver Wesley United Methodist Church was filled with laughter as various members tried their hand at being pigs, cows or whatever, and as their fellow members tried to "judge" them.

Kevin Overmyer and Mark Kepler led the pledges.

Wayne Plante gave a leather demonstration explaining how to use the various tools in designing. Kent Good's small engines to demonstration told the parts of the engine and more important, how it wrked.

Mark Voreis' health and safety report was over several important rules for pedestrian safety.

Everyone out for the fun at Linda Ringer's on June 11th. For all of you new members, it will be initiation night so be prepared.

Marshall - Starke Center Children Visit Storyland

The mentally retarded child may not ever absorb reading, math or other academic subjects, but he can experience. And through daily, varied experiences he can become to some degree a participant in life - not simply a bystander. Anyone watching the students of the M-S Center at Storyland Zoo Wednesday would have been delighted with the wonderful fun they were having. True there were two or three children who were too timid to get into the action. Until entering the Center these kids were so protected and so segregated from daily living as normal children know it that their retardation was actually enhanced. At the Center they are encouraged, urged and sometimes actually pushed into activities and experiences which their lives and draw them from or prevent them from descending into as the case may be, a state of lethargy.

We boarded a school bus, driven by Mrs. Charles Peele, at ten o'clock. There were three teachers, Mrs. Ronald Smith, who has the adult group; Mrs. David Weeding, teacher of the intermediate group and Mrs. Raymond Eckert, the Pre-School group's teacher. Extra volunteers had been requested so that seven regular volunteers and two young mothers assisted in keeping an eye on the children. And because the whole student body went, we also had the help of the older students in watching that the little ones didn't get hurt or separated from their group.

At about 10:45 we reached the zoo. The day was ideal, a warm sun and a cool breeze and the zoo was freshly painted buildings and fences. Just inside the park we were given a warm welcome from a baby llama - easy to see why she's near the entrance! She nuzzled the children as though she and they were old friends and took a special liking to the ruffle on one little girl's skirt so that we had to withdraw it carefully while it was still in one palce.

We gently shooed a low-slung mama goat back into her pen. The Spring day had apparently given her a touch of wanderlust. And we nearly succeed in capturing her young ones on film but they were just too quick. Just what nursery rhyme little greeters pertained to escaped us but we did recognize the cow that jumped over the moon and deduced that the roomy cage nearby with the water and feed bowls was the habit of the fiddling cat - another case of wanderlust? The kids took a dim view of the hobbles on the male sheep and goat but we explained that these didn't hurt them, only kept them inside their pen.

We met the monkeys who saw no evil, heard no evil and spoke no evil - a rare thing in this age! We admired the ducks in their sparkling bluepond, visited Mr. McGregor's Cabbage Patch, where three pink-eared bunnies hopped through hollow logs and did their own sight-seeing of us. It was hard to pull the kids away from the glass clock inside which many white mice ran up and down, but the ladies in the group persisted not too impressed with the superiority of these mice over the ordinary garden variety! The small monkeys (not the dumb ones!) who ate lettuce, oranges and sliced bananas reminded some of the kids of lunch and we hurried a little to start the rides for it was indeed lunch time. In the course of our walk our children joined other groups on the playground and swung, bounced and revolved while those in charge counted noses, making sure they were the right noses! Then the man who ran the train showed up and we were all passengers on the first run of the day. The kids helped with the sound effects, blowing their whistles loudly at every curve.

After two turns on the train, two rides on the merry-go-round and a plane ride, we headed for a shady grove, a water fountain and other needed facilities. The crowd was starved and sack lunches were distributed while the teachers went for cold drinks for their classes. Had it not been necessary to get back to the Center in time to meet the regular school buses we would have been ready to take another whirl at the park. But it was just as well because the little ones were mighty relaxed on the way home an one or two stole a catnap. Besides there's always next year. And maybe, by the grace of God and the fine work of the teachers at the Center, there won't be any children who are afraid of the merry-go-round horses or the small red airplanes next year.

A guy who puts all his money on a horse's nose usually makes the other end of the horse out of himself.

It may not be flat, but this old world certainly is on edge.

Girl Scout News

Fifteen members of Brownie Troop 47 and their leaders, Mrs. Marshall Brown and Mrs. Gene Drosley, joined in a Community project at the Town Park on Wednesday, May 21, and cleaned up the West Pavillion area. The brownies were divided so that each girl worked with a Buddy, and enjoyed her duty as a wood gatherer, broom sweeper or a grass raker. The recepticals filled up quickly much to the delight of the volunteers, and this project proved to be one of the most enjoyable ones of the year. A happy and enthusiastic group of Brownies returned to the church feeling they had shared in a community project that will be continued by the older youth and adults of Culver on Saturday, May 24.

The girls of Junior Troop 52 ended their regular meetings for the year by giving a play, "Raggedy Ann" and the "New Dolls" to their mothers and Brownie Troop 273. The girls worked several months on the Troop Dramatics badge under the direction of Mrs. John Bays. The role of Raggedy Ann was played by Twyla Shaffer. Mary Lynn Measels and Julie Pinder played the New Dolls. The dolls' mistress, Marcella, was Tami Woodward. The other dolls and toys were Debbie Boetsma, the Jack-in-box; Kathy Dehne, the French doll; Carol Johnson and Brenda Martin, clowns; Pam McCune, the Dutch doll; Jana McKee, a boy doll; Kelly Musson, a puppy; Cheryl Pinder, Indian doll; Luellen Weiger, Hawaiian doll; Debbie Shock, tin soldier. Belinda Stevenson was the stage manager and Betty Ann Slusher acted as hostess.

Following the play the girls presented Mrs. Bays with a certificate of appreciation, an adult membership in the Girl Scouts and a Girl Scout pin. An after play party was then held. All gathered in the Town Park and helped clean up trash and raked leaves. Before leaving, the girls cooked their lunch.

Although there will be no regular meetings during the summer, the troop plans to do some camping. Following the Culver Neighborhood Day Camp at Camp Limberlost, the girls hope to do some overnight troop camping.

Major Lane Will Attend Strategy Seminar

Frederick D. Lane, chemistry instructor at Culver Military Academy and a major in the US Air Force Reserve, has been selected to attend the Defense Strategy Seminar in Washington, D.C., June 15-27.

Major Lane will represent the reservists of Air Weather Service at the seminar at Ft. Lesley J. McNair. The program will be conducted by the National War College for selected reserve officers of all military forces.

Seminar topics include areas of national and international security and the threats and techniques of the cold war.

Major Lane is a meteorologist on mobilization assignment with the Air Force Reserve. He trains once a month at Grissom Air Force Base.

Named To Teach Summer Session At Notre Dame

William A. Strow of Culver Military's faculty has again been named to teach at the National Science Foundation's Institute for High School Chemistry Teachers at the University of Notre Dame.

This will be Strow's third summer of instructing the teachers in the first year of a five-year program leading to master's in chemistry. The institute director is Dr. Emil T. Hofman of Notre Dame.

Strow has been a member of the Culver faculty since 1942 and he holds an endowed chair in chemistry. He has two master's degrees in chemistry, one from Syracuse U. in 1941 and the other from the U. of Pennsylvania in 1963. He did his undergraduate work at the U. of Miami (Ohio).

In 1957 he held an NSF grant to study biology at Purdue U. In 1959 NSF awarded him another grant to study physical chemistry at the U. of New Hampshire. He is a native of Columbus Grove, Ohio, and is a former president of the Teachers Council of the Independent Schools Association of the Central States.

You feel a little edgy, or maybe cross.

Sooner or later, that day comes, the day when a woman feels she's changing. It's not a good feeling either. And she could use a good old-fashioned medicine then.

You might even have what we call hot flashes and feel sad and slightly off-balance.

Whatever you feel, we have something for the day you need a little comforting. Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets. They're made with gentle, natural ingredients that work to help you feel better. When you start changing, you could use a good old-fashioned medicine for an old-fashioned problem. And, you don't run any chance of the kind of unpleasant side effects you can get from some of the newer drugs.

HOMEMAKERS CLUB MAKES TRIP

Thirty-seven members and friends went on their annual bus trip last Tuesday. They were guests of the Chicago Home Arts Guild for lunch. Some time was spent shopping and in the afternoon the group visited the Lincoln Park Conservatory after which they toured through the "Old Town" area of Chicago.

The group enjoyed their dinner in Gary. Mrs. D. Hatten and Mrs. Larry Zechel were in charge of the arrangements.

KNOW YOUR INDIANA LAW

"BEWARE OF LAND SCHEMES"

The boom in the sale of foreign real estate is on again. Shades of the 1920's and ancient land schemes. Land swindles are not new in this country; however, they have taken on new characteristics.

Many newspapers and magazines carry advertisements of top quality land in foreign states or countries at cut-rate prices, presenting the reader with what appears to be an irresistible bargain. Any would-be-buyer, however, should proceed with caution.

The scheme which individuals should be most aware of involves the purchase of land in Brazil and other South American countries. Despite pictures of golden opportunity painted by the sellers, in most instances, this land is under-developed and inaccessible. This fact is not mentioned in the sales pitch.

Furthermore, many of these sellers cannot convey clear title to the property. Local laws prohibiting aliens from holding property are not uncommon in international law.

In many instances, there are large amounts of taxes owed and due on the land.

In addition, individuals purchasing land in foreign countries may have their land subjected to appropriation and confiscation by the foreign country without proper compensation being made, particularly if the country is one where government upheaval is imminent.

Problems may also exist when one is involved in purchasing land in the States. For instance, one Florida company selling land to out of state residents neglected to disclose in its brochure that their property was adjacent to a bombing range.

Individuals who are purchasing foreign land should make every effort to physically examine the land being purchased. They should also check with an embassy or department of the foreign government to obtain title requirements or the name of one who can provide such information. Also they should be sure to inquire concerning requirements of residency, registration, taxation and official zoning. Many foreign countries have stringent residency requirements, which require working and living on the land.

Purchasers should consult with his attorney prior to entering into any purchase agreements of foreign or out of state land.

Who Pays For Divorce?

It comes as a shock to some litigants that a divorce can be a costly experience, and generally the shock is felt by the husband. Because, by the common law, by statute in Indiana and by custom, it is Daddy who pays the lawyers. He doesn't have to be a "Big Daddy" either for he must pay if the wife is either successful in getting a divorce granted by the court or the wife is either successful in getting a divorce granted by the court or defends successfully if the husband brings the action and fails to win the divorce suit.

It is rather clear then that the average husband in the average divorce case can expect to "foot the bill".

As mentioned last week, in the first or preliminary hearing the court can allow such immediate suit expense money to the wife as will provide for an adequate preparation of her case. This is so whether the wife or the husband is the complaining party. The court can order this paid in a pre-emptory fashion and failure to follow the court order can cause the physical attachment of the husband to coerce his following the order. In simple language, this means the court can put the husband in jail for his willful failure to provide suit money in a divorce.

At the conclusion of the suit the court in its discretion can make a further order for the payment of attorney's fees. If the wife is successful then the court can order a final fee payable to her attorney. This is predicated on the complexity of the divorce, the amount of property involved and the time spent in the representation of the lawyer of the wife.

One bright ray for husbands is that if the court finds in favor of the husband in granting the divorce, then in Indiana there is no provision for a final fee being awarded to the wife's attorney.

The Indianapolis Bar Association in its published minimum fee schedule suggests a minimum fee of $350.00 in divorce cases involving children. To this is added such other suit money as the court finds necessary based upon the magnitude of the divorce case.

Since divorce fees seem to rankle clients very much, particularly husbands, let me say the best way to avoid divorce fees is to avoid divorce. It can be a very costly item. Next week I'll discuss property settlements in divorce.

EARTHQUAKES tend to recur along faults — fractures in the earth's crust along which two blocks of the crust have slipped with respect to each other — says the U.S. Geological Survey. One crustal block may move horizontally in one direction while the one facing it moves in the opposite direction. Or, one block may move upward while the other moves downward. Along many faults, movement is both horizontal and vertical. The fact that a fault zone has recently experienced an earthquake offers no assurance that enough stress has been relieved to prevent another quake.

Never dictate the right-of-way — you could be dead right.

Make Father CHAIRman of the House

NEW YORK (ED)—With Father's Day fast approaching, it's time to start thinking about a gift Dad will enjoy. This year, instead of traveling the well-worn slipper-tie-and-wallet circuit, why not consider getting something a little more substantial—like his very own recliner!

It's amazing how popular these lounging chairs have become. While the rest of the furniture market has edged up a comfortable five percent, the sales of recliners have skyrocketed 25 to 35 percent annually. This represents a lot of very happy Daddies enjoying all the comforts of home—and then some.

One of the main reasons for their surge in popularity is that today's models offer a greater variety; years ago, recliners were made in one basic style—bulky, heavy and drab, sometimes referred to as the "battleship" design. But now manufacturers have turned to fashion and function in their designs so that now there are recliners available to suit the moods of many rooms in a house from a dainty bedroom to a rugged family room to an elegant living room.

Leading furniture manufacturers in the recliner field as La-Z-Boy, Berkline, Burn's and Kroehler. They are making these popular lounge chairs in Naugahyde vinyl upholstery that combines the leather-like comfort with scuff-resistance and easy spongeability. In addition, this marvelous vinyl fabric retains its shape and never fades. Many chair models are available with ottomans for Dad's feet-up case, and some have recliner construction where the footrest swings out when the chair is in a lowered position. Choosing a chair as a gift is a lot easier than one would think. With the "eclectic" look popular today, you can readily mix and match styles and periods.

For Father's Day, why not give yours a chair he can really call his own. It's a marvelous way to make the chair-man of your house feel very special!

THE FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION'S 27 air route traffic control centers reported another record year in 1968. Preliminary figures show that the centers handled 19.5 million aircraft in 1968 — a 17 per cent increase over 1967. Three FAA centers, Chicago, New York and Cleveland, each logged 1.5 million aircraft operations. It was the first year any center had reached that mark.

The Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon this Sunday re-

After overcoming unprecedented problems because of rain, 33 of the world's fastest cars and drivers are ready for the 53rd annual 500-Mile Race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Friday.

All gates to the grounds will be thrown open at 6 o'clock (EDT) and the colorful pre-Race pageantry will get under way at 10:30. The parade of bands from all areas of the United States will be led by Purdue University's all-American marching unit and many celebrities from the entertainment world will share the spotlight with "500" Festival Queen Janet Lee Faires. Chief Steward Harlan Fengler will make a final track inspection at 11:30 and the traditional pageant will move on to its climax with the playing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" followed by the presentation of The Colors and "Back Home Again in Indiana" as thousands of multi-colored balloons float toward the sky.

Speedway President Tony Hulman will give the electrifying command, "Gentlemen, Start Your Engines," at 11:53 and the field will begin the parade lap behind the Chevrolet Camaro pace car driven by '60 Indianapolis Race winner Jim Rathmann. Split-second timing calls for the pace car to cross the starting line exactly at noon. The winner will receive the Chief Steward Harlan Fengler (Right) and Starter Pat Vidan review the procedure for the "flying start" of the 53rd annual Indianapolis 500-mile race Friday.

Borg-Warner trophy in "Victory Lane" at the conclusion of the Race and all prize money, which is expected to exceed $700,000 for the third straight year, will be presented to the participants at the Victory Dinner Saturday night. Bobby Unser, who earned $175,139 for winning last year, holds the Race record of 152.887 miles an hour.

CROWDS ARE INTERESTING and one of the most interesting crowds you will ever see will gather Friday in Indianapolis. Not only will this crowd be one of the most interesting, but also one of the largest as an estimated figure of around 300,000 will gather to watch the greatest spectacle in racing and one of the outstanding sports events ever. The annual Memorial classic 500 mile race is something that draws people back again and again as race fans gather to watch this exciting and dangerous sport.

IT ALL WILL BEGIN LONG before that famous, "Gentlemen, Start Your Engines." For many it has already started as the hotels and motels within quite a radius of Indianapolis have been taken for some time as the crowd gets in early and enjoys the carnival like atmosphere. For others it will begin around 4:00 or 5:00 a.m. Friday morning as the packing of food and beverages, binoculars, radios and cameras, plus blankets and rainwear are packed and the trip is started to the big 2 1/2 mile oval race track.

ARRIVING AROUND 8:00 A.M. is standard procedure as you see many, many thousands already at the track, mostly those who have fought for a spot on the infield where they can view the race. However, at this time there are many who have set up "residence" in their seats to be sure and see everything. Approaching the track the traffic gets heavy, but an efficient crew of police and Speedway workers keep the traffic moving well, especially if it is dry at the site.

THE THRILL OF IT ALL

calls Paul's timely advice to the Romans: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light." The subject of the sermon is "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced." Another passage in the lesson, from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, explains: "The Christian Scientist demonstrates that divine Mind heals, while the hypnotist dispossesses the patient of his individuality in order to control him."

comes before you are inside. Just seeing the large racing oval and knowing that you are going to witness speed and action at incredible amounts, kind of makes the goose bumps start. Then entering the track properly and seeing that asphalt oval itself with the cement retaining walls that both carry the scars of spinning and crashing racers, effect one even more.

BY THE TIME YOU ARE IN the infield and parked, the action has already started as numerous bands are performing on different areas of the track and the public address system is carrying a steady conversation of interest to race fans. It might be interviews with drivers, mechanics, car owners, speedway officials and former drivers, but the conversation is always of interest to all. After a while it is celebrity time. Such as Hoss Cartwright, Erim Zimbelist Jr., Raquel Welch, the astronauts and many, many others will be interviewed and later wheeled around the track in the Camaro convertibles for each to be viewed by the fans. Add to this the list of queen candidates and members of the court and the All-American Purdue marching band, and you have had a lot of entertainment long before the first little sleek racer is seen.

ON THE INFIELD AREA you will see picnics, breakfast being cooked over charcoal fires, people playing ball, kids running and playing and about anything you could see from a group of such numbers as this. After you find your seats, the crowd watching is a good part of the race. Tension starts to really mount after the celebrities have made their lap and the speedway officials give the final OK to the track.

WELL AFTER 10:00 A.M. the pit crews begin to wheel the shiny bright speedsters out to their starting positions on the track. Activity picks up at a rapid pace once this is started. The Purdue Band and a celebrity singer plays "Back Home Again in Indiana" and the National Anthem. Taps are sounded and the annual barrage of balloons are released from the infield. It all boils down to a head when Tony Hulman takes the milk and gives the command, "Gentlemen, Start Your Engines." From here on it is all business. One by one, 33 powerful engines start to roar and not long after, 11 rows of racing's finest ears follow the pace car around the track.

AFTER A COUPLE OF minutes, they are visible coming out of number 4 turn and soon the sleek, shiny cars make their way down the main straightway. On the pace lap the tempo picks up an aerial bombs explode as they make their way around the track. This time everyone is standing as they come out of number 4 and head down the main straightaway with the pace car doing 100 plus and it takes to the pit area as the deafening roar of motors races by to accept the green flag from starter Pat Bedan. And then they're off!

THE CHASE IS ON. ALL OF a sudden you are aware that the high speed auto race is on and in less than a minute, everyone again is standing to see who it is leading the first lap. This time as they streak by, it is at speeds of upwards of 200 miles per hour. After a few laps of everyone popping up to see, the crowd finally settles down to watch the race as things progress. Race fans want to see a good, hard-fought for race, but all set in fear of seeing that yellow light come on. It will happen, but it is the most feared sign a race fan can see. All want 33 cars to safely make the journey, but one by one and sometimes if trouble strikes it is faster than that, cars fall by the wayside.

THIS YEAR IT IS A BATTLE between the turbo-charged Fords, granted the more powerful engine, against the turbo-charged Offy, the more established engine. In all, 19 offy's are in the race to 11 Fords, a stock block Ford and two Jack Brabham's Australian made engines. If the Ford engine is ready for the 500 miles, Foyt and Andretti are favored. But don't forget that third man in the front row, Bobby Unser. Others rated a good chance to make the victory lane are rookie Mark Donohue, such veterans as Gordon Johncock, Roger McCluskey, and Jim McElreath. However, one flick of fate's finger can change the entire completion of any race. A good steady driver can move along in good shape and take advantage of others mistakes and trouble. Such was the case of Graham Hill in 1966 when he was unnoticed on the track until suddenly he was the leader.

FRIDAY WILL BE QUITE A day. The Indianapolis 500 mile race always a new thrill and excitement. If the lead starts changing hands and action is good and fast, there can be no greater thrill in sports than to watch these high speed dare-devils lay it all on the line in quest of racing's greatest prize... a trip into victory lane and the championship of the 500 mile race.

Rainbow News

Monday, May 19, Culver Rainbow Assembly held a formal meeting at the Culver Masonic Hall for the initiation of Julie Van Horn and Susie Holt.

Under the direction of Vicki Clifton, Worthy Advisor, Mary Ann Easterday, Faith and Paula Haenes, Drill Leader led the initiates through the degrees. As the newly initiated members signed the bylaws, Kathy Tasch, accompanied by Carol Kline, sang "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way." Mary Ives presented the Rose Lecture, and as she placed the roses on the altar, Miss Tasch sang "Only A Rose". Miss Clifton welcomed the new members and appointed Kathy Tasch as Julie's Big Sister, and Norma Davis as Susie's. Julie then introduced her father, Mr. Don Van Horn, and Susie introduced her mother, Mrs. George Holt. Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Graham of Kowanna were also introduced. Mr. Harry Winkler and Mrs. Fred Masten complimented the assembly on their fine work.

The meeting was closed with the singing of "Blest Be the" and the formal march was in honor of Miss Clifton as it was her last meeting as president. Refreshments were served in the Club Room with Mrs. Kowach, Brenda Kowach, Hoesel, Connie Kelly and K. Wolverton serving.
