Town Park Is Operated By College Students

Front row: Rayna Reinhold, James Sharp, Lucinda Ricciardi, Patti McCombs. Back: Bill Orebaugh, Marty, Richter, Debby Duane, Sheryl Welsh, Steve Kelly.

A group of college students are proving to the public that they are responsible for running the Culver Town Park. Although there are the usual problems, operations at the Beach Lodge, park and beach are running smoothly. There have been a couple near tragedies, but the experienced lifeguards were alert and responded immediately.

Bill Orebaugh of Anderson and a June graduate of Ball State University, is the park supervisor. The Beach Lodge is capably operated by Patti McCombs of Culver, a student at Valparaiso University. She is assisted by Rayna Reinhold of Leeters Ford who is attending ISU. The lifeguards are Steve Kelly, who will be entering Western Michigan this fall, Sheryl Welsh, a student at Indiana University and Deborah Dunne who is attending Ball State University. All three are from Culver. Also qualifying as lifeguards are Orebaugh and Marty Richter, a summer cottage resident and a student at Indiana University. Miss Richter also serves as a gatekeeper along with Lucinda Ricciardi of Culver who is also attending Indiana University. Rounding out the staff is Jim Sharp of Culver who is in charge of grounds. Jim is a student at Earlham College.

Jaycees Decorate Lodge

Members of the Jaycees and their wives came to the rescue and spent several evenings painting the walls of the Beach Lodge a refreshing shade of aqua mist. The staff would welcome the donation of any decorative poster or college pennants that would help brighten the walls. Games for rainy days are also needed. The staff is open to all suggestions and will consider any that is worthwhile.

A recent dance was held for the teen-age group and $82 was reported as profit which will be used to help with the eventual remodeling of the lodge. Future dances are planned as soon as bands are available.

The Park Board is proud of these students and welcomes everyone to use the facilities of our Town Park.

MAJOR POINTS AND MINOR, TOO

It's about time: For another warning about hitchhikers.

The Allstate Safety Crusade has relayed the warning of various state and local police officials who urge motorists never to pick up strangers along streets or highways.

The hitchhiker can be mentally deranged, an escaped convict... or someone intent on robbery. You're not doing yourself a favor by giving him a lift!

BERLIN VIGNETTE

There aren't many hotels where you can be awakened in the morning by the roar of a lion, or the piercing cry of a swan, but the Berlin Hilton is one! This fine hostelry is built adjacent to the Berlin Zoo, or maybe it's vice versa. Anyway, guests in the hotel can look from their windows into the zoo, and when windows are open, they can hear the animals and the swans! The Berlin hotel is one of two Hilton International has in Germany, the other is in Mainz on the Rhine, and a third is to be opened this fall in Dusseldorf. A word of advice to the Berlin visitor: Be sure to see the zoo. It is one of the world's best, with wonderful displays of animals in the open, in areas surrounded by moats. None of those bars and fences which mar so many American zoo displays.

Flowers do so well in this climate, as in England, British Columbia and the State of Washington, so there are blooms everywhere. Get The Picture

The principal metallic components in the guts of color TV picture tubes are nickel stainless steel. The material has low magnetic response, meaning less picture interference.

STOCKS FOR SCENT

These are stocks with double, rosette-shaped flowers on long, tapering spikes. The color range in the Giant Imperial strain, shown, is from pale pink to deep rose, red and copper-red, from lavender to deep purple, also yellow and white.

Every garden needs some plants that waft fragrance on the air. These might be thyme, an herb that gives off its pungent odor when walked upon or delightfully scented flowers like stocks, heliotrope or mignonette.

Stocks have a particular appeal because they are so luxurious. The double flowers now in vogue, the closely packed rosette-shaped flowers on the tapering spikes, the predominantly Victorian colors of lavender and purple, all give a feeling of garden affluence.

Seeds of both tall and dwarf stocks are available. Although the Dwarf Ten Weeks strain is an excellent choice for planting in containers or for solid beds, the blooms are not good for cutting.

Two strains of taller growing stocks are most popular — Giant Imperial and Trysomic Seven Weeks. They differ in ultimate height and in length of time from seed sowing to flowering.

Giant Imperials grow from 2 to 2½ feet tall; are early-blooming but not as early as the Trysomic Seven Weeks type. These last will flower in just two months from planting but are not as tall — growing a foot to a foot and a half high.

Both strains will produce a high percentage of double-flowered plants. And it usually is possible for the gardener to increase this percentage.

A glance along the row when the seedlings have four leaves will show that some seedlings are sturdier and have darker green foliage than others. The singles are the weaklings. Thin them out.

Remember that stocks develop best in cool weather and should set their flower buds before heat arrives. If you have had trouble with buds setting in previous years, try the Trysomic Seven Weeks strain this year.

These have been bred especially to tolerate heat and still set buds. They have proven the answer to many gardener's difficulties with stocks.

Perhaps the prettiest use of tall stocks is in mass plantings. This is because their own colors blend so well.

Depending on the color scheme of a border, groups of stock seedlings could be moved when small to add these same colors to those of the other border flowers. The stock bloom colors are particularly effective when surrounding blooms are white or pale yellow.

Of course, a prime use of stocks is for inside the house. They last well as cut flowers if picked early or late in the day, stems plunged in deep water, and hardened in a cool place.

Immured To Punishment

One cause for alarm today continues to be the rise in crime rate around the country and the fact that so much of this goes unsolved or unpunished. The continual tightening of the strings on what can be done to a charged person and the number of cases that even though an arrest is made only to have the party go free, has hampered the law enforcement officers to the point that crime continues to flourish.

In the news just recently, both locally and over the broader scope of the news, this is noticed. The most recent killing of a young lady in the Ann Arbor area involved a suspect that has been in prison on rape charges and yet was free to associate again even though the diseased mind could not have been healed.

Take the ease of some of the recent break-ins of the area. The one at the John Glenn High School found "picky" thieves . . . as they took just specific items and ignored others. The entering a building by breaking through a roof has to have nifty parties involved as they appear immured to being punished. The damaging of a new car in a lighted dealers lot right on a U.S. highway shows a lack of fear. A break in to a club, where considerable effort was made to enter and yet nothing was reported missing evidently because no money was found available shows a different type of criminal than there used to be. No less, no damage must have been their thought.

We, as citizens, business people and honest individuals, help pay the debt of this type of society and yet it is our laws that help these people from punishment once they are apprehended. It is something that isn't going to change overnight, but the apparent lack of fear in the minds of these people of being caught has opened the door wider and almost laid a welcome mat out for these people. It will take time and a lot of action to change the laws as the first thing that is heard anymore is discrimination or unfair handling of a suspect.

We found an article in our mail telling of the expense of some of this "legal crime" that resulted from the riots a couple of years ago when police and almost everyone else had their hands tied. We are going to relate the entire article to you in the following separate guest editorial.

The Cost Of Rioting

Within a three-day period, the citizens of two New Jersey cities were handed the bills for the riots incited in 1967. A jury in the case of the Plainfield, N. J., riots ruled that the riots in that city were not an insurrection and a Superior Court judge in Newark two days later issued an identical decision.

The result of these two separate cases is that there may be grounds for damage suits against the two city governments by businessmen and individuals for losses incurred during the looting burning. In fact about 450 suits totaling $7 million are pending in Newark alone and you can bet that there will be many more as a result of the recent decrees.

The sad thing about all this is that the very people who suffered most during the riots will now have to pick up the tab. Sort of a suffer-now, pay-later plan. The ones who should pay are the officials who ignored the warnings of the police, or who let minor incidents get out of hand with subsequent heavy damage.

Anyone interested should read a copy of the report of the Riot Study Commission of the New Jersey State Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, entitled "The Road to Anarchy." One brief quote from this book is a warning for the future:

"Whether or not there was ever an order to that effect, Newark policemen felt they were not permitted to use firearms during the early stages of the disturbances. Such a feeling should not be permitted to exist, and we feel that the local officials deserve censure for not 'clearing the air' on this matter.

"Allowing crowds to form outside the Fourth Precinct station house was also a questionable tactic. What the outcome might have been had the police been allowed to disperse the crowd while it was still small and manageable can, at this point, only be conjectured. Such action, however, should have been taken immediately."

Action was not taken and no one will ever know whether the riots could have been prevented. But you can be sure that the citizen-taxpayers of these two cities will have a lot of second thoughts on the matter when they get the bill for the riots. Meanwhile, the NJ PBA may not say it but surely they can't help thinking, "We told you so."

bastille. After Mr. French got over his giant-sized scare, he told The Citizen that he was willing to forget the whole incident but that he never would forgive his assailant for calling him "a wrinkle-face s.o.b."

James M. Miller, 68, retired Culver business man, and Walter Roy Thomas, 22, son of Clyde L. and Mary Heminger Thomas, were accidentally killed by methane gas while attempting to clean out one of a series of connected dry wells used as drainage for the Miller Dairy. Firemen Frank Hayward and Oscar Booker were also overcome by gas while aiding in the rescue but were revived and have recuperated.

The Culver Fire Department and the Monterey fire fighters joined forces last Thursday afternoon to extinguish a smoldering fire in a mow of hay at the John Newman farm.

Plans for the fifth annual outboard motorboat races, to be held July 4 and sponsored by the Culver Lions Club, were announced here this week.

INFECTIOUS HEPATITIS

INFECTIOUS hepatitis is a disease which mainly affects the liver. It is caused by a virus or a group of viruses. Apparently it is easily transmitted from person to person, although the exact manner of transmission is not known.

Several epidemics have been reported as resulting from contaminated water, food or milk. Infectious hepatitis, also called infectious jaundice and epidemic jaundice, is reported to affect more than 70,000 persons in the United States with a mortality total of between 900 and 1,000 a year.

The proportion of infected persons is not definitely established, and many cases are suspected of having an infection without presenting recognizable symptoms. Most reported cases are in children and young adults, and family outbreaks and institutional or school outbreaks are common.

While there is no specific treatment available that conquers this disease, favorable results are being reported with the use of certain new drugs. Bed rest is considered the only practical way of putting the liver at rest. Diet is a factor in treatment but unfortunately nausea with vomiting is a familiar occurrence in the early stages of infectious hepatitis, which poses a problem in trying to maintain a diet. Preventative measures include community sanitation and personal hygiene.

Early symptoms of infectious hepatitis include abrupt fever, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, lassitude, headache, pain in the back and limbs, and abdominal discomfort. The result of an attack of hepatitis depends on the degree of damage done by the virus to the liver cells.

Cavaliers Down Falcons 2-1

CCHS came back to defeat John Glenn in a stirring finish by a score of 2 to 1 in extra innings. The win gives the Cavaliers a 7 and 4 league record. The loss knocked Glenn out of a tie for first place with LaVille.

The game was a tight pitcher's battle with defense providing the excitement throughout. Both pitchers, Craig DeMyer of Glenn and Steve Crowel threw strong games and had shut-outs going until the seventh inning, when both squads managed to score a run.

In the top half of the inning, Savoie reached first on an error, with two out he was around to third with runners also on first and second. A hard ground ball to third by Buswell was misjudged by Culver and allowed the run to score and give Glenn the lead.

In the home seventh with two out, Perry White ripped a triple to deep left-center. Bruce Snyder struck out for the third out, but the pitch got away from the Glenn catcher and allowed White to score the tying run.

Glenn loaded the bases in the eighth with one out on two hit batsmen and a base hit by Mueller. Larry Shaffer came on in relief of Crowel for CCHS. The Falcons tried to squeeze in the tie-breaker, but Shaffer fielded the ball and threw to home for the force-out. He got the last out on a routine fly ball to center.

In the Culver half of the inning, Steve McCombs tripled to lead with one out. Crowel walked on four pitches and brought John Bauer to the plate. Bauer promptly ended the contest by hitting DeMyer's second pitch for a game-winning single to drive in McCombs.

Shaffer was the winning pitcher in relief of Crowel and DeMyer, the ace of Glenn's staff, took the loss. CCHS has another chance to goof up league standings when they meet LaVille on their diamond Thursday, and again on Friday here in Culver.

Cavaliers Sneak Past Triton Thursday

Thursday evening Culver got back on the winning track by nailing out Triton by a score of 6 to 5. The Cavaliers bounced back for 10 hits including doubles by Steve McCombs and John Bauer (2), and a triple by Bill Liette. The only disconcerting thing about the game for Culver was that they committed five errors.

The Cavaliers picked up on two runs in the first with 2 outs. Bauer doubled and was driven in by Liette's triple, and Liette scored when the Trojans overthrew at third base.

Triton came right back with 3 runs in the second to take the lead. They scored on 4 singles, aided by a walk and an error. Then Culver scored twice in their half of the inning to regain the lead. Steve Snyder walked with one out and McCombs walked also. Crowel then singled to plate one run and McCombs scored on an error by the Trojan short-stop.

The Cavaliers scored what eventually proved to be the clincher in the fourth. McCombs walked to lead off and on the hit and run play Crowel singled. McCombs went to third and Crowel took second on the throw to third. John Bauer promptly scored them both with a long double to left.

Triton scored two more in the fifth to tighten up the contest, but pitcher Steve Crowel, shut them out on their last 2 tries. In the game, Crowel gave up 8 hits, but struck out 6 batsmen. He appeared to be in complete command the last two frames to pick up his third win of the season. The victory gives CCHS a 6 and 4 league record.

CCHS Pierced By Lancers In Baseball

The Cavaliers were put down for the count by a youngster making his first pitching start of the season for LaVille. Miller, mixing a variety of slow stuff, had the Cavaliers off balance all evening as he allowed only one hit—that a single by Perry White in the second. Only two Culverites reached base—another via an infield error, as Miller allowed no bases on balls.

Meanwhile, LaVille jumped on starter Larry Shaffer for two runs in their first, which proved to be enough to win. Kuifer led off by King, but reached first because it was also a wild pitch. After an out by Olsen reached on an error, a walk loaded the bases and a single by Periles plated the two runs.

The Lancers picked up one run in the second and scored two more as insurance in the sixth. Larry Shaffer took the loss, evening his record at 4-4, even though he gave up only 5 base hits and 1 walk. The good hunting by both boys is quite evident by the fact that the game was completed in less than ninety minutes.

Grand Council Fires Featured At Woodcraft Camp

Saturday night, in the heart of Potawatamie country, 50 boys from Culver's Woodcraft Camp will often elaborate Indian costumes for the Grand Council Fire. Their hour-long program of dances will continue a tradition started in 1921.

There will be 1200 tourists and parents gathered around the fire, but no "spectators." According to tradition, friends may come but they must be part of the Council Ring and respect the spell of the wilderness.

Culver's Council Fires are unique because the colorful Indian dances are always built around a story. Richard Zimmerman, director of the Indian lore department, explains this is "because we feel the boys should be able to identify with someone in a story. We always try to show the virtues of the Indians, too."

Zimmerman, a drama teacher at Dearborn, Michigan's Fordson High School, has been on Culver's summer staff 18 years. Thirteen years were spent as a counselor in the Woodcraft Camp but after he started working with crafts, he got hooked on Indian lore. When he wrote his master's thesis for Wayne State U., the subject was Culver's Council Fire and now he heads a staff of six teachers and a devoted crew of regulars.

He calls his electrician "Mr. Council Fire" and helps praise on a Culver seamstress who has been making the colorful costumes for more years than he can remember.

Zimmerman has written many of the shows himself. The library has scripts for 25 different shows from which five were selected for this summer's performances. A sixth, the final show of the summer, is being written by Zimmerman. All shows begin at 9 p.m. and visitors are advised to come early for seats.

The script and music for each program are taped and all dances are authentic. Costumes, too, though Zimmerman admits some are as authentic as possible, touches — such as glitter — are added for color even though they're "pure white man commercial."

Dances are taught by three young men who have studied Indian lore several years. They are Larry Ivens of 2223 Osterhout, Portage, Mich.; John Robertson of 926 W. Second, Bloomington, Ind., and Ed Lawton of 6040 Delong Rd., Indianapolis. Lawton's father is director of the Museum of Indian Heritage in Indianapolis and Ed is the home run dancer at Indianapolis Indian ball games.

Saturday's first show of the season will be "Totem of the Beaver" which is based on the Potawatamie tribe which lived in the Culver-Plymouth area. Other shows will be July 19 ("A Selection from Hiawatha" which will use the poem as a background); July 26 ("Sitting Bull and the Ghost Dance," a new show this year); August 2 ("Little White Beaver," another show based on Indians of Culver area); August 9 ("Southwest Summer," the biggest production of the year); August 16 ("Magic Fire," the new show by Zimmerman).

'Hiawatha' To Be Featured At Council Fire

Saturday's Council Fire at Culver's Woodcraft Camp will feature an adaption of Longfellow's famous poem, "Hiawatha." The program begins at 9 p.m. at the Council Ring off State Road 10. There is no admission charge and the public is welcome to attend.

Richard Zimmerman, director of Indian Lore at the Camp, explains the story: "Gitche Manitou, the Great Spirit, calls the tribes of Indians from across the land to him. He is displeased that the Indians cannot live together in peace and harmony.

His gift to them is two-fold: the peace pipe, a symbol of the love they should bear for each other, and Hiawatha, who shall guide them along the paths of peace.

"The story then shifts in time to pick up Hiawatha as a child at the side of his guiding force, his grandmother, Naokomis. He observes nature; he listens to others.

"Another shift in time and Hiawatha, as a young man, fasts and meditates for four days. Then the spirit of corn, Mow-damin, appears and gives the Indians the gift of corn. Finally, it is time for Hiawatha to return to the Great Spirit."

According to Zimmerman this show is one of the most popular.

Also scheduled for this summer are: July 26 "Sitting Bull and the Ghost Dance," Aug. 2 "Little White Beaver," Aug. 9 "Southwest Summer" and Aug. 16 "Magic Fire."

Treasury Seeks Savings Bond Interest Boost

The Treasury has asked Congress to remove the interest rate ceiling on Savings Bonds and other Government securities.

When asked about the Treasury proposal, Eugene C. Pulliam, Indiana Chairman for U.S. Savings Bonds, stated — "If the legislative request is approved, the interest rate on Series E and H Savings Bonds will be raised from the current 4.25 per cent to 5 per cent, if held to maturity. The increase would be retroactive to June 1, 1969. All outstanding E and H Bonds would enjoy the benefit of the new 5 per cent rate, beginning with the first semiannual interest period which starts on or after June 1."

Series E Bonds would have their maturity period reduced from 7 years to 5 years, 10 months. H Bond maturity would enjoy an automatic extension period. The present 5 per cent on Freedom Shares would continue unchanged until they are removed from sale 6 months after the proposed legislation becomes law. Authority to extend Freedom Shares at maturity is included in the Treasury's request.

Chairman Pulliam pointed out that "Savings Bonds — always a good buy — will be better than ever, enabling the Payroll to put aside even more dollars for that dream vacation, education for the children, or a retirement nest egg. They will be equally attractive to over-the-counter purchasers and to members of our State's younger generation who are planning for their future security. The new rates will also give our State and municipal employees an incentive to start buying Bonds regularly or step up their purchases through Payroll Savings."

GIVE YOURSELF A CHOICE OF CHICKEN

Chicken has become the family dish as well as the company dish, and the ways to serve it seem limitless. We became interested in the universality of chicken . . . and found for example that a popular dish in Hawaii — manu Hawaii comes with a slice of pineapple underneath the fork tender chicken and a topping of shredded coconut. In Bangkok, Thailand barbecued chicken with fruit is called kai yang laa ponlamai cheum. And of course, we know by a quick look through a French cookbook that coq is a very popular meat.

Chicken may be cooked whole, whether a broiler or a roaster and for roasting on the spit whole chickens are often cooked outdoors. As a matter of fact chickens are popular for outdoor eating, as indoor and may be prepared or without foil on grill or spit.

There is always a choice in buying chicken, too. Freshly killed, ice or frozen or canned. And of course, the most recent development is that of buying parts as well as the chicken cut in serving pieces. Halves and quarters are popular for barbecuing as we show here.

Chicken Barbecue With Fruit (kai yang laa ponlamai cheum)

- 2 (2½-pound) broilers, halved
- 2 cup tomato ketchup
- ½ cup Mazola corn oil
- ½ cup white vinegar
- ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- 1 (8-ounce) package herb salad dressing mix
- 1 teaspoon salt

In large bowl, mix ketchup, corn syrup, corn oil, vinegar, monosodium glutamate, herb mix and salt. Marinate chicken in sauce while preparing fire. Line grill with aluminum foil, place charcoal on foil one layer deep, light and allow to burn until charcoal is covered with white ashes. Remove a half chicken from marinade, place on square of aluminum foil, add two tablespoons of marinade sauce, fold securely and place on rack. Cook slowly for 45 minutes, turning several times. Remove chicken from foil and place directly on rack, barbecue for another 30 minutes, basting frequently. Serve with Fruit Casserole. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Chicken may be quartered or cut into pieces.

Fruit Casserole

- 1 (1-pound) can fruits for salad
- 2 (8-ounce) cans apple sauce
- ¼ cup sugar
- ¼ cup light corn syrup
- ½ cup sherry
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 bananas, sliced
- ¼ cup margarine

Mix all ingredients except margarine, and put into a casserole. Dot with margarine, place casserole on grill, cook until bubbly. Can be prepared in advance and reheated.

Hawaiian Chicken (manu Hawaii)

- 2 pounds chicken thighs (fresh or frozen)
- Salt (optional)

- 3 tablespoons margarine
- ¾ cup dark corn syrup
- 1 (3½-ounce) can flaked coconut
- 5 or 6 slices canned pineapple, drained
- Mandarin orange sections, drained

Thaw chicken, if frozen. Sprinkle chicken with salt. Melt margarine in shallow open roasting pan. Turn each chicken piece in margarine to coat. Arrange in pan in single layer. Bake in 400° F. (hot) oven until golden brown, about 45 minutes.

Mix corn syrup and coconut. Remove chicken from roasting pan. Arrange pineapple slices in pan. Place 1 or more chicken pieces on each slice. Spoon syrup mixture over chicken. Bake until coconut is browned, about 15 minutes. Serve with mandarin orange garnish. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Curry Flavor With Chicken

Leftovers needn't be lackluster . . . a new twist, a creative touch and abracadabra they're better than their first time 'round the family dinner table. Here curried chicken or turkey is delicately sauced with plain Swiss-style yogurt, deliciously cupped in big red apples. For a light lunch, the Borden Kitchen suggests ten big flaky biscuits as serve-alongs.

Apples Stuffed With Curried Chicken Salad (Makes 6 servings)

- 6 red delicious apples
- 1/4 cup reconstituted lemon juice
- 2-1/2 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1 cup (8-oz. container) Borden Swiss style plain yogurt
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Salt and pepper to taste

Cut a thin slice off the blossom end of each apple so it will stand upright; dip in lemon juice to prevent discoloration. With a sharp knife, cut around near the stem end of each apple saw-tooth fashion. Scoop and cut out apple centers, dipping each in lemon juice. Reserve cut out fruit for salad; discard cores. Chill in refrigerator. Dice reserved apple; place in large bowl. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Add chicken or turkey, celery and dill; mix well. In a small bowl, combine curry powder and yogurt; blend well. Fold in whipped cream. Gently pour dressing into the apple-chicken mixture. Toss lightly. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator. Spoon salad-mixture into apple cups. If desired, garnish with fresh dill.

Europe's Oldest Synagogue

This old synagogue in the Josef Quarter of Prague, Czechoslovakia, has been in almost continuous use since its construction in the year 1270. Widely-known as the "Old-New Synagogue," it will serve as an impressive backdrop for the forthcoming Millennium celebrations in Prague to mark 1,000 years of Jewish life in Czechoslovakia. A highlight of these celebrations, July 10 through 13, will be a service conducted in the "Old-New" by Dr. Richard Feder, 93, Europe's oldest rabbi. The synagogue is located in what used to be Prague's Jewish Ghetto area which produced such intellectual giants as Franz Kafka and Max Brod. The "Old-New" together with other medieval synagogues in Czechoslovakia, was carefully preserved by Hitler in accordance with his idea of maintaining them later as "relics of an extinct people."

Ice Cream Takes The Cake

Ice cream and parties go together naturally and often, but seldom so elegantly as in this high-style cake. It's triple-decked with strawberry, vanilla and Dutch chocolate ice creams crowned with clusters of whipped cream rosettes. Nestle a plump strawberry amid the whipped cream; wreath with more strawberries and sprigs of mint . . . and the Borden Kitchen bets ice-cream will still be king of the party.

Ice Cream Party Cake (Makes one 8-inch cake OR 8-10 servings)

- 1 pint each: Lady Borden strawberry, vanilla and Dutch chocolate ice cream
- 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream
- Fresh strawberries, hulled and halved
- Few sprigs fresh mint

Line the bottom of an 8-inch spring-form pan with a double thickness of waxed paper. Place in freezer for at least 2 hours or until thoroughly chilled. Let each ice cream soften at room temperature for about 15 minutes. (Note: Do not allow ice cream to melt to a liquid.) Spread softened strawberry ice cream evenly into well-chilled pan. Return to freezer for about 15 minutes or until ice cream is firm to touch, but not frozen solid. Whip 1-1/4 cups of the cream until stiff. Spread about one cup of whipped cream over strawberry ice cream. Return to freezer for about 30 minutes, or until whipped cream is firm enough to touch. Repeat procedure with remaining 2 ice creams and whipped cream. Freeze ice cream cake about 12 hours, overnight or until solid. To serve, remove side of pan; invert onto a well-chilled serving dish. Remove pan bottom; carefully peel away waxed paper. Return to freezer. Whip remaining 3/4 cup cream. Using a decorators' pastry bag fitted with a star tip, pipe rosettes on top of cake. Garnish with strawberries and mint.

WHAT'S "COOKIE-ING"

School's out and the heat's on when your youngster has just brought home his teammates for high tea. In "childrenewse"—a snack!

What do you do? Many parents are "cooling" it with a new lemon-flavored cookie by Sunshine, appropriately called "Lemon Coolers". They're sugar dusted, lemon wafers, and busy Moms with a hungry baseball team waiting expectantly in the kitchen have discovered that this summer-flavored cookie is perfect with fruits and drinks.

Their tangy taste is the perfect complement to a sherbet, especially if the third baseman is a bit of a sophisticate.

Of course, the entire family can enjoy this treat on an outing because "Lemon Coolers" are packed perfectly for a picnic basket with a conveniently reclosable top.

Here's a cookie that's no lemon!

Fair Income Tax Is Goal Of New Organization

Washington: The National Committee on Tax Justice, a new organization dedicated to prompt and meaningful Federal income tax reform, has called for a five-point tax reform package. These reforms would provide equity to taxpayers, relieve the taxpayers, relieve the tax burden on low and middle income families, and provide new funds for the Federal government.

The Committee named former Illinois Senator Paul H. Douglas as its chairman and called for swift enactment by the Congress of the following program:

1. Eliminate preferential treatment of all capital gains.

"This one step would also eliminate the single greatest source of both inequity and complexity in the existing tax system," the committee said.

2. Eliminate special deductions for depletion of oil and other minerals beyond the cost of the mineral property and for the expensing of exploration and development costs.

"Even if a mineral exploration subsidy is needed, the existing tax provisions are highly inefficient," the committee said. "It is nonsense to continue tending a multi-billion dollar oil exploration subsidy while we are artificially restricting domestic well production to less than half of capacity and restricting oil imports."

3. Provide Federal assistance to state and local bond issues instead of allowing a tax exemption on their interest.

The committee said this provides an "enormous tax boon" to wealthy persons and huge financial institutions while costing the federal government more than it benefits other political entities.

4. Withhold taxes on interest and dividends at the source.

"Treasury experts believe that . . . nearly $1 billion of dividend and interest income annually is not reported on tax returns, with a resulting annual revenue loss of $1 billion," the committee stated.

5. Provide tax relief for low and middle income families by providing a minimum standard deduction of $1,000 for all families.

A family of four with income of $3,500 a year or less would pay no taxes under this provision.

This also would provide tax relief to most families with incomes of $11,000 or less.

The committee estimated that its program would provide $7 to $10 billion more in federal revenues while relieving low and middle income families of $2.5 billion in tax liabilities.

In addition to these five points, the committee also asked the Congress to give attention to the erasing of "other unwarranted tax favors." Among these, the committee listed: accelerated depreciation on buildings, multiple surtax exemptions on corporations, and tax law provisions that encourage the formation of "conglomerates."

"The American people know that essential public programs must be paid for; they only ask that their share of the payment be just; that every individual be taxed according to his ability to bear the burden of taxation; and that no one be asked to bear more than his fair share of that burden because of special tax favors accorded others," that committee said. "It is to that end that this Committee on Tax Justice has been formed."

"There are many organizations lobbying for special tax treatment. This is the only organization, as far as we know, that is dedicated solely to advancing the interest of all taxpayers," Senator Douglas said in accepting the chairmanship.

A list of founding members follows:

Ivan Allen, Mayor of the City of Atlanta; Peter Bommarito, President, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America; Harvey Brazer, University of Michigan; Edward Breathitt, Former Governor of Kentucky; Sheldon Cohen, Former Commissioner, IRS; Jack Conway, President, Center for Community Change; Tony Dechant, President, Farmers Union

Miss Betty Furness, Former Assistant to President Johnson on Consumer Affairs; Miss Dorothy Height, President, National Council of Negro Women; Walter Heller, Department of Economics, University of Minnesota; Clark Kerr, Past President of University of California; Phillip Kutznick, Retired Ambassador to ECOSOC; Bronson LaFollette, Former Attorney General of Wisconsin; Robert J. Lee, Past President, League of Women Voters, Members of President's Consumer Advisory Council; Theodore McKeldin, Former Mayor of Baltimore; Arthur Naftalin, Mayor of the City of Minneapolis; Joseph A. Peckman, Brookings Institution; Mrs. Robert J. Phillips, St. Charles, Illinois; Walter P. Reuther, President, United Automobile Workers; Stanley H. Ruttimore; Arthur Naftalin, Mayor of the City of Minneapolis Joseph tenburg & Associates; Terry Sandford, Former Governor of North Carolina; J. S. Seidman, New York Board of Trade; John Siegenthaler, The Nashville Tennessean.

Paul Simon, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Illinois; Phillip Stern, Author "The Great Treasury Raid"; Adlai Stevenson, Ill. Treasurer, State of Illinois; Carl Stokes, Mayor of the City of Cleveland; Charles P. Taft, Member of Cincinnati City Council, Former Mayor of Cincinnati; James Tobin, Yale University; Roy Wilkins, Executive Director, NAACP; Archibald

Woodruff, University of Hartford; Whitney Young, Executive Director, National Urban League.

Today there seems to be no place like away from home.

"I used to stand up and say the world was a miserable place. Then I would sit down and do nothing about it."

Let's face it. All is not perfect in this land of ours. America has taken some lumps and quite frankly it hurts. But maybe we should step back and take a long hard look . . . take inventory of how we are and how we got here. Maybe we should inspect our brighter side as well as some of our ills. And maybe, just maybe, we'll come out thinking this country's good side far overshadows its bad. Then maybe we'll start to do something to make it better. Rather than knocking it, which ends up making it worse.

Now comes the big question. What can you do? You're only one little individual among over 200 million people. How can you help?

For one thing, you might think about investing in your country. Showing your faith in its future.

That's exactly what you do when you sign up to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. You're simply buying a share in America.

You're also socking away some money for yourself.

Money that grows at a guaranteed rate, to pay you back $4 at maturity for every $3 you've saved.

Of course, Savings Bonds are not going to cure all our headaches. But they'll help to provide the economic strength we'll need for the job.

And at the same time, they can cure a lot of your financial headaches in the years to come.

Any way you look at it, they make good sense.

And that's just what we need in this country right now.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

Low Calorie Appetite Appeaser

With more and more people wanting to reduce, diets have become a favorite topic of conversation. The smart dieters know that even though their choice of foods is somewhat limited, the way in which it is prepared and served, can be most attractive and appetizing as well.

For instance, take cottage cheese. Long the dieter's staple, it no longer need be bland. By using Chive Cottage Cheese which is available in dairy or delicatessen departments of food markets, lunch becomes a treat. The bright green of the chives enhances color appeal as well.

An unusual and interesting way to serve Chive Cottage Cheese is in a ring mold. In this recipe, the tangy flavor of chives is rounded out with a dash of mustard, a nip of vinegar and a blend of mayonnaise. This mold then becomes a perfect centerpiece for fresh or canned fruit.

CHIVE COTTAGE CHEESE RING MOLD

Rooms To Please Youngsters

Making young people's rooms more attractive so they'll be encouraged to study or play there can be an answer to solving the problem of a living room that's constantly cluttered with a teen's books and hobby materials or a child's games and toys.

Expensive new furnishings aren't always needed to please young people according to decorating stylist Jeanne Norwood who said:

"More important are a cheerful color scheme and improved storage space so there's a 'place for everything'."

Miss Norwood who is decorating stylist for Norwood Mills, Inc., Janesville, Wis., manufacturer of decorative pile area rugs and carpeting, mentioned that inexpensive shelving on easy-to-install wall brackets can provide space for books and toys. A deep shelf, installed at the right height, can serve as a desk or play table.

For other furnishings, consider what can be saved by poking through the attic or a few thrift shops for suitable items that can be rejuvenated with a bit of do-it-yourself effort.

Even a young child may enjoy helping to paint an old chair or selecting a new lamp shade.

Those who do will take greater pride in their new possessions because they've had a part in improving them.

The one new item that should be included in the budget, if possible, is a cozy pile rug or carpeting in the youngster's favorite color. It will add immeasurably to the room's appeal and comfort, Miss Norwood pointed out, and it can also serve to coordinate an odd-lot decorating scheme

Too many "don'ts" such as "don't snack in your room" can defeat the purpose of making a youngster's room a place he is to use and enjoy. So that you won't need to restrict activities unreasonably, choose a rug or carpeting that is durable and easy to maintain, Miss Norwood advised.

Those made of modern synthetic fibers—the acrylics, mod-acrylics, or polyesters—are a wise choice, because they don't absorb spills. You merely sponge spots away. When necessary, rugs can be washed and dried according to instructions and put down again.

It's easy these days to find a practical rug or carpeting in colors to please a young person's taste. Pile rugs and carpeting range the entire color palette from neutrals through pale pastels and jewel tones. Rugs also come in a variety of shapes and sizes. (NFS)

Auto Inspection Begins August 1

The statewide "Vehicle Inspection Program," a major part of Indiana's effort to curtail the surging traffic toll, will get underway on August 1st. More than 3,000 Official Inspection Stations throughout the state have been licensed to conduct the inspections.

The Vehicle Inspection Program, authorized by the 1967 General Assembly, is intended to rid the highways of unsafe vehicles. Defective safety equipment has been shown to be a frequent cause of traffic accidents.

VEHICLE INSPECTION IS FOR THE BENEFIT AND PROTECTION OF EVERY MOTORIST IN THE STATE.

Stations licensed to conduct vehicle inspections will be recognized by the yellow and black "Official Vehicle Inspection Station" sign that will be prominently displayed at each licensed station. Licensed mechanics will inspect only those items necessary to the safe operation of the vehicle — steering, suspension, brakes tires and wheels, lighting equipment, horn, mirror, windshield wipers, muffler and exhaust system and safety glass.

The inspection of the ten (10) safety items will require only about 10 to 15 minutes. Defects may be corrected during the inspection. The inspection fee is $2.50 per vehicle.

The date by which a vehicle must be inspected is determined by the last number on the vehicle's 1969 license plate. The schedule is as follows: If the last number on your license plate is 1 or 2, the deadline is August 31; 3 or 4, the deadline is September 30; 5 or 6, the deadline is October 31; 7 or 8, the deadline is November 30; 9 or 0, the deadline is December 31.

A rejected vehicle may be operated for a period of 30 days from the date of rejection and repaired rejected items may be reinspected at the original inspection station at no additional cost if repaired within 30 days from the date of rejection.

Deaf Man Perfects Tiny Hearing Aid

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

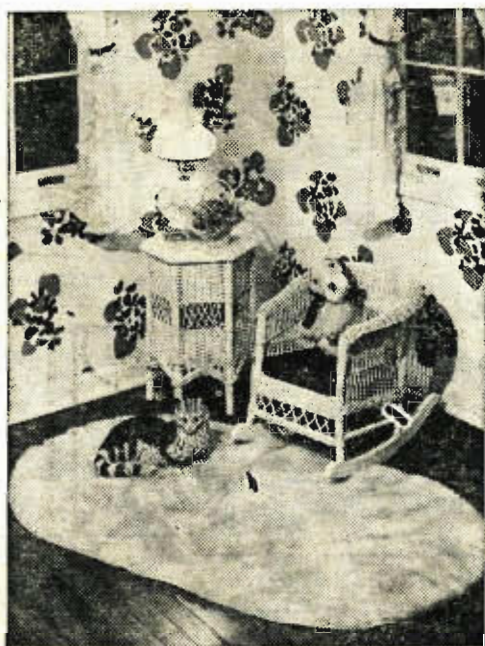

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low.

A true life actual size replica of the smallest all-in-the-ear hearing aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement while supply lasts. So we suggest you write for yours now. No obligation whatsoever. Write to C. Eckert, 311 East Lexington Blvd., Eau Claire, Wis.

INEXPENSIVE shelving mounted on wall brackets can serve as a desk or game table in a teen's room. Luxurious deep pile carpeting underscores the decorative theme. (NFS)

CHARMING CORNER in a little girl's room features old wicker furniture that's been refurbished and a new deep pile rug from Norwood Mills, Janesville, Wis. (NFS)

Hearing an angry yelp from the bathroom, the young bride asked what the matter was? He yelled that his razor blade was dull and just wouldn't cut. She said "That can't possibly be, I know your whiskers aren't as hard as the pencil I trimmed yesterday."

The boy called his date of the night before and asked for another date. She accepted and they were sitting in her living room with nothing to do. He said, "Just last night you said there was something you liked very much about me." She replied, "Yes, I did, but you spent it all last night."

The Golden Text of this week's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon is from Psalms: "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord."

The subject of the sermon is "Lie" and will be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The public is welcome.

"Jesus could give his temporal life into his enemies' hands; but when his earth-mission was accomplished, his spiritual life, indestructible and eternal, was found forever the same." This correlative passage, from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, is also part of the sermon.

KNOW YOUR INDIANA LAW

By John J. Dillon,
 Attorney at Law
 "HERE COMES THE ASSESSOR"

Many owners of real property, particularly homeowners, wonder who is responsible for the present reassessment of real property, what is its intended purpose and effect, and what they can do to protect their interests.

The requirement for the reassessment of all real property is not the product of your township assessor. It results from a mandate by the Indiana Legislature that all real property in Indiana be reassessed, beginning January 1, 1968, to have been completed by April 1, 1969. The initial responsibility for performing the reassessment of any particular real property is the township assessor's or the township trustee's in those townships which do not have a township assessor.

The intended purpose of this reassessment is to determine the proper tax base (assessed value) for each piece of real property in the state. The assessed value finally determined for each property is to be the value on which property tax rates will be levied for real property taxes, commencing with March 1, 1968 taxes payable in 1970. Unless changed, such assessed value will remain the basis for the levy of taxes for each year hereafter until a new reassessment is made six years hence.

The intended effect of such reassessment is to equalize the burden, based upon relative value, which each piece of real property will bear with that which all other pieces of real estate will bear in providing the funds derived from the taxation of real property. The law provides that the assessed value shall be 33 1/3% of true cash value. However, true cash value is a valuation determined by the application of the Indiana Real Property Appraisal Manual, which was duly adopted as a binding regulation of the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

After studies of actual material and labor costs vary substantially from those in Marion County. This Manual also provides the method for determining the true value of lands.

Remember, what the actual dollar amount of assessed valuation is, is not so important provided such valuation is proportionate to other property in the county. If properties are of substantially like character, condition, size and situation, they should have substantially equal assessed valuations.

PROPERTY SETTLEMENT IN DIVORCES

You will note in the title to this article I have referred to the property division in a divorce case as a "property settlement".
 We normally think of this in terms of alimony. But even though the Indiana statute refers to the property division as alimony, in the classic sense it is really a property settlement.

 That is, it is not money or property awarded to the wife as punishment for wrong conduct but as equitable distribution of the property. It should be a present and complete settlement of the property rights of the parties. Since the court has great discretion in awarding alimony it can consider the fact, that prompted the bringing of the divorce case. And if one party, particularly the wife, has been wronged this fact cannot help but influence the court in its determination.

This is a far cry from the traditional law on alimony still recognized in many states where the court can recompense the wife for injured feelings. The courts in Indiana cannot consider the future inability of the wife to support herself but must make a determination based upon the facts present at the divorce case.

I have talked in terms of the wife's alimony. The question will come into the reader's mind,
 "What about 'Daddy'?" Again, like most areas of domestic relations, "Daddy" gets to pay alimony but not receive it. While many lawyers will argue quite correctly that there has been no direct holding that a husband cannot be awarded alimony under the proper proven facts, experience lawyers will quickly tell you it never happens in our courts. This is of course because the law is heavily weighted in favor of the wife and the preservation of the family.

Therefore, in granting a divorce the courts in Indiana must make proper provision for distribution of the property as this is an integral part of a divorce judgment. No divorce case can be truly complete unless the court inquires into and finally settles all property rights of the parties.

Next week I'll talk about custody of children in divorce actions.

TIP TO MOTORISTS

Don't push the law of averages too far when it comes to taking chances on the highway.

HINTS ON HEALTH SWIMMING SAFETY

SAFETY experts can predict with reasonable accuracy that more than 6,000 persons will drown this summer. Most of these drownings could be avoided if swimmers and others engaging in water sports would pay attention to the basic safety precautions. Some of the basic rules are:

1. Learn to swim and relax in the water.
2. Never swim alone.
3. Don't swim when overly tired or when the water is extremely cold.
4. Don't overestimate your ability and endurance.
5. Swim at protected pools and beaches under the supervision of a trained lifeguard.
6. If a boat overturns, stay with it and don't try to swim a long distance to shore.
7. Never dive into unknown waters.
8. Try new activities only after learning the skills from qualified instructors.

Skin diving and SCUBA diving both are fine sports that are gaining more participants each year. Water skiing is an exciting sport, but it also has its hazards. Even a strong swimmer should wear a life jacket when water skiing — even he can be winded by a hard fall at high speed.

Most important of all to safe swimming — if you get into trouble in the water, don't panic.
 Float on your back and paddle gently. It is possible to stay afloat for hours this way.

Sour Cream's The Clue!

Can't make head or tail of fish cookery? Here's a hint from the Borden Kitchen. Stuff a generous-size whitefish with bread cubes sparkled to high flavor by sour cream and spices.

Sour Cream Stuffed Fish (Makes 6 servings)

- |                                       |                                   |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1 (3-lb.) whitefish, dressed          | 2 cups (1 pint) Borden sour cream |
| Salt and pepper                       | 3 tablespoons diced, peeled lemon |
| Stuffing:                      | 1-1/4 teaspoons grated lemon rind |
| 5 tablespoons Danish Flavor Margarine | 1 teaspoon salt                   |
| 1/2 cup chopped celery                | 3/4 teaspoon paprika              |
| 1/3 cup chopped onion                 | 2 egg yolks                       |
| 3 cups toasted bread cubes            |                                   |

Wash, dry and season fish. Melt 2 tablespoons margarine; saute celery and onion. Mix lightly with bread cubes, 1/2 cup sour cream, diced lemon, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 3/4 teaspoon salt and paprika. Stuff fish; close cavity with skewers and string. In a well-buttered (13-1/2 x 9 x 2-inch) baking dish, place remaining stuffing; add fish. Brush fish with 2 tablespoons melted margarine. Bake in moderate (350°F.) oven 30-40 minutes. Baste 2 or 3 times until fish flakes when fork-tested. In double-boiler top, over hot water, heat 1-1/2 cups sour cream. In small mixing bowl, lightly beat egg yolks; heat in a little hot sour cream. Pour into sour cream in double-boiler. Cook 6 to 8 minutes; stir constantly until thickened. Add 1/4 teaspoon each salt and lemon rind. Remove fish to serving platter; remove skewers. Serve with cream sauce.

LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT BEGINS EARLY IN LIFE

WHAT A BABY HEARS in his first year of life is probably crucial to his later ability to use language, reports a University of Wisconsin psychologist. He said that if we can learn how the baby comes to acquire language, perhaps we can make "this colossal task" a little easier for him. Few people realize how extremely complicated this learning process is — until something goes wrong. Only do we begin to see how crucial language is in the total pattern of psychological growth.

PSYCHIATRIC COMPLICATIONS resulting from the trauma of major surgery and anti-rejection drugs are not uncommon in heart transplant patients, says a Stanford University psychiatrist. He said that while in the majority of cases the psychiatric complications have been temporary and of short duration, three patients did develop serious psychiatric problems postoperatively.

THE GAS WE EXHALE —

carbon dioxide — is an efficient fire fighter. It does its job and then disappears. Carbon dioxide fills a vital role in fire fighting because it instantly extinguishes flames without causing additional damage and does not leave a residue. This, says Cardox, Chicago, makes carbon dioxide fire systems especially valuable for protecting missile sites, aircraft hangars, files and record storage areas, electronic instruments and mechanical installations.

SUCCESS can mean many things to many people. For a handicapped worker, success is proving that he can hold a job side by side with any other man. A report by University of Minnesota researchers shows that the performances of these workers compare quite favorably with that of their non-handicapped co-workers, and also they have no special problems in "getting along with" their fellow workers.

THE EARTH'S CRUST ranges in thickness from about four miles in places under the oceans to about 30 miles under high mountains. Rocks having the composition and geophysical properties of granite predominate in the upper part of the crust and rocks having the properties of basalt predominate in the lower part. Under the oceans, the crust seems to be almost entirely basalt.

ORGAN DONATIONS OFTEN THWARTED

A PERSON who wishes to donate one of his organs for transplant after death has little assurance that his wish will be obeyed — even if he has a valid will stating it — says a leading attorney. Legal steps should be taken and are being proposed to ensure that an individual has the primary right to dispose of his body according to his wishes without being thwarted by family, religious, social or legal complications.

A 27-MILLION-POUND MACHINE that "walks to work" is credited with uncovering vast amounts of coal that before now could not be economically mined. It is the world's largest dragline, a type of power shovel also used in dam and road building. It's so big that a low-pressure carbon dioxide fire protection system similar to that found in large manufacturing plants was installed by Cardox, Chicago. The system will detect and extinguish fires in critical hydraulic equipment areas and inform the operator of their occurrence. Fires in the vast complex of operating equipment can be extinguished by carbon dioxide hose lines from the same system.

THE NOBEL PRIZE apparently breeds humility. Nobel laureates in the sciences "exercise 'noblesse oblige' by giving credit to less eminent co-workers increasingly as their own eminence grows," says a Columbia University sociologist. She said that laureates should be first-authors more often than other scientists, but actually they are not. "Their rank imposes special obligations," she reports. "Precisely because the Nobel Prize confers high rank upon them they are expected not to exercise their authority and power to the limit. And so they, more often than the less distinguished (scientists), are moved to give co-workers an enlarged share of the credit."

A SYMPHONY based on physics, logarithms, trigonometry, and performed by a computer? It may be the most exciting musical style of the future, says a physicist at the University of Chicago. He instructs a class called "The Physical Basis of Music," which explores sound, music, and the psychology of hearing in both musical and scientific terms. As a special project his students are creating their own musical works and submitting them to a one-man orchestra, the computer.

WHEN a non-instrument-rated flying priest found himself caught in instrument weather recently he called for help over his radio. His "mayday" call was heard by the Federal Aviation crew in the Santa Rosa, Calif. airport control tower and they guided him toward the field. About 40 minutes later, the flying father dropped through a hole in the overcast near the airport with good reason to believe that somebody down there liked him.
