The Fourth.

The one hundred and twentieth anniversary of American Independence was celebrated at Culver City last Saturday in good old fashioned style. The present generation are quite as patriotic and enthusiastic as they were in ante-bellum days. The spirit of '76 has not diminished one particle in the hearts of the American people either by birth or by adoption, and they fully demonstrated that fact in the manner in which each loyal citizen joined in extending tributes of respect to "Old Glory," the emblem of American Independence and the symbol of Revolutionary glory.

The day dawn auspiciously for the illustrious occasion, and notwithstanding an occasional cloud arose on the western horizon portensions of a rainstorm, it continued throughout mild and pleasant. The atmosphere was impregnated with delicious odors arising from the flowers that grow in profusion along the banks of the lake in the shady woods that extend inland in every direction.

Although there were twenty fast horses at the fair grounds which were entered for the 4th of July races, and that there were a fine attendance of Marshall county citizens, several hundred people sat in their vehicles upon the outside and witnessed the races. This was done we understand for the simple reason that an admission was charged by the management. How people expect that individuals can put up five hundred dollars in purses just for the fun of it without getting any compensation for their time and money expended is truly ridiculous.

At 10:30 o'clock, Joseph Conroy, the "golden-tongued" orator of Hobart, Indiana, was introduced to the audience by the future honorable state representative, Dr. Rea. From start to finish, the speaker poured forth a historical and exceedingly eloquent portrayal of our country's past and the needs of the future. The speaker perfectly electrified his hearers by his flow of eloquence, and his oration was pronounced by all to be the best ever delivered in this section of the country, and won for the handsome young attorney the highest ecomiums from his appreciative audience. At the close of his address, Major Tebbetts, the military commander and general superintendent of the Culver academy, came forward and invited the talented young orator to dine with him at the Palmer, one of the popular resort hotels at the lake. And, by the way, we wish right here to state if any of our sister towns desire something great in the oratorical line, upon any occasion, they should secure Joseph Conroy.

The races as advertised passed off, and were very interesting. The running race being especially a fine exhibition of speed.

The following is the score:

TROTTING.
Starfield,	1	1
Dokiro	2	2
Hub Wilkes,	3	3
Time, 2:54 1/4; 2:53 1-2; 2:47.

PACING.
Frank A.	1	1
Jim Knox,	2	3
Rostoko,	3	2
N. R. G.,	4	4
Time, 2:32 1/4; 2:30.

RUNNING.
Loretto K,	1	2
Sheridan,	2	1
McGinty,	3	3

Sleepy Pet,	5	5
Pat B,	6	6
Time, 54; 53; 55.

Under the leadership of that celebrated musical artist, J. K. Maahorter, the Culver City band furnished soul-thrilling music for the occasion, and by their masterly achievements upon the various instruments used in a cornet band, demonstrated to the satisfaction of all that they were no novices at the business, but stood right in the front ranks as able performers. Our citizens should feel proud of its band and should financially aid it whenever possible as success to any band depends in a great measure upon public patronage.

The shooting match between Elliot, of Rochester, and our champion shot, Shadwick, for a gold medal, was won by Elliot, by a narrow margin of one. It caused a large amount of enthusiasm and considerable money changed hands over the result. In the evening a grand and magnificent display of fire works from the balcony of the Colonnade hotel was witnessed by a large concourse of citizens. All in all the day passed off pleasantly and no arrests were made.

The Present Age and Its Progress.

A retrospective view of the past reveals to us that we are living in an extraordinary age. It has been marked by events which leave indurable impressions upon pages of history. In the fields of science, and inventions, the achievements of recent times are more wonderful than the wildest flights of imagination a century or two ago. But they will be read with far deeper emotions with their effects upon the future ages that will be lasting and startling in its revelations for future greatness in generations to come. Other ages have been marked by brilliant feats in arms. Wars have been waged for the best and for the worst principles. The ambitious conqueror has trodden whole nations under his feet, and the barbarian has broken loose from his fastness and in his progress overwhelmed temples and thrones. The heroes and patriots have successfully resisted the invaders of their country or perished in its defense. Kingdoms have been overthrown through the ravages of wars in their mad struggle for power or human liberty. We may say the mightiest production of genius has been developed in a mechanical way during the past century as we gaze back in a historical retrospect upon the pages of history. This nation in fifty years has doubled its population four times and welcomes to its ports the sails of commerce. She feels that the treasures of her mines, the broad expanse of her rivers, the beauties of her lakes, the grandeur of her scenery, and the production of her soil, makes our country the independent nation of the earth. One of the most characteristics of our age is the diffusion of knowledge. This is the age of reading. In olden times this was the privilege of the few, today the press affords knowledge at practically no cost to the entire country. Another great source of knowledge is our public schools which will be fostered as long as this nation stands. Space will not permit us to eulogize upon the greatness of this nation longer, but we stand unrivaled in the world as a nation of progression, and ere another century rolls around we will have flying machines perfected, and perpetual motion as easily operated as an eight day clock.

If the majority of the human family could be bought at their actual value and sold at each individual's valuation it would be an easy matter to pay off all the national debts, and have millionaires thicker than brigadier generals were in Washington during the war.

The records of the pension department show that there are now living 1,122,000 Union soldiers who participated in the war of the rebellion. The average number of deaths for the past five years was twenty-five thousand. During the fiscal year ending June 30 last 27,816 Union soldiers borne upon the pension rolls died. On June 30, 1895, 970,524 survivors of the war were drawing pensions. Congress appropriated $150,000,000 for pensions the last fiscal year, of which sum $139,807,337.30 was disbursed.

The entertainment given by the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Reformed church at the Kreuzberger building Friday evening was well patronized. The program was not only skillfully selected and arranged but, with one or two exceptions of minor importance due to disadvantages which could not have been avoided, artistically carried out; an achievement which reflects much credit on the management. Among those worthy of special mention in the dramatic part of the entertainment we might name: Misses Flora Oyler, Grace Barber, Josie Overman, Blanche Barber and Ada Hayes; also Messrs. Rea, Keen, Koontz and Easterday. The acting of young Willard Zechiel was particularly praise-worthy. The vocal and instrumental music, under the direction of Dr. Wiseman, were especially fine, and called forth the united praise of the large audience. All in all it was the repetition of the many grand entertainments given by this society in the past.

Bass Lake.

F. G. Howard spent the fourth with the Bethel Sunday school in a picnic on the banks of the beautiful Bass Lake. The forenoon was given to social good time, singing, talking and boating. The afternoon was spent in song and speaking by Revs. Howard, Thorpe, and Cary. The proceeds amounted to something near forty dollars. It was a good day for cream and lemonade.

HEADLESS WOMEN.

They Pay a Sad Penalty for Their Neglect.

If women only headed first symptoms—nervousness, backache, headache, loss of appetite and sleep; palpitation, "blues," etc., and at once removed the cause with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, it would be a saving of time, trouble and money.

But they are suffering, much less would be the case if they had tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, it would be a saving of time, trouble and money.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safe and reliable remedy for all the ailments of women, and all female troubles. Write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., if you wish for advice, which she will give you free.

"I should not be alive to-day, if it had not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was suffering from an attack of female weakness, and nothing I had tried could give me relief; when by the sale in Baltimore in 1870, I had heard of this medicine, I bought a box, and after using it two months I found a different girl, and now at the end of six I am entirely cured."—Mrs. ANNIE KIRKLAND, Patheogue, N. J.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before perfect forms—gentle efforts—pleasant exertions—rigidly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is every where esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only one which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

It is the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Sparkling with life—rich with delicious flavor, Hires Rootbeer stands first as nature's purest and most refreshing drink.

NEGRO WOMAN 120 YEARS OLD.

She is Mary Marks, a colored woman, and was born in the West Indies in 1776.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat recently called to see Mrs. Marks and had a pleasant chat with her. She is mentally as bright as she ever was, but is in feeble health by something she never did until she was forced to it by old age. When a child she was stolen by slaves and was MARY MARKS, OF TEXAS, 120 YEARS OLD.

When a woman of 43 she was taken to Texas by her owner, James White. The first thing White had done and done quickly if it was hoped to save the hide of the old man. Accordingly, the first thing White had done was to take her to Texas, and owned a hotel there, in which Mary was head waitress. At that hotel Sam Houston, R. M. Williamson, Baron de Bastrop, Henry Smith and other men who became identified with the history of the future State, were boarders. Mrs. Marks tells many interesting stories of the days immediately preceding the war which secured freedom for Texas. All of these men have since been honored by having towns and counties named after them.

When 60 years old Mary married John Marks, a noted colored preacher, who afterwards raised the money to purchase her freedom. Her husband has been dead for years and Mrs. Marks is supported by kindly disposed persons and by a small pension granted by the congregation of the church of which her husband was formerly the pastor.

MARITAL WOES.

A Benedict Explains Why Certain Things Come to Pass.

New York World.

A good many hundreds, and even thousands, of long-suffering husbands can bear sorrowful testimony to the fact that this is the sort of catechism the wives of their bosoms subject them to every time they put on their hats to go out in the evening:

"Where are you going?"
"Oh, I'm just going out a few minutes."
"Where?"
"Oh, nowhere in particular."
"What for?"
"Oh, nothing."
"Why do you go, then?"
"Well, I want to go, that's why."
"Do you have to go?"
"I don't know that I do."
"What are you going for, then?"
"Because."
"Because what?"
"Well, simply because."
"Going to be gone long?"
"No."
"How long?"
"I don't know."
"Anybody going with you?"
"No."
"Well, it's strange that you can't be content to stay at home for a few minutes. Don't you be gone long, will you?"
"No."
"See that you don't."

This, dear friends, is one reason why so many marriages are a dead, flat fizzle and failure. It is why so many husbands go out to South Dakota and acquire a residence in a land where divorces come cheap and easy. It is why so many unknown dead bodies of men are found floating in our lakes and rivers. It is why suicide and wife murder are on the increase. It is why so many great, strong, able-bodied men become victims to nervous prostration. It is why there are so many "mysterious disappearances" among married men. It is why our insane asylums are so overcrowded. It is why there are so many "grass widows." It is why so many men say "no," kindly but firmly, when the new woman proposes to them. It is why, alas! that so many honest, noble-hearted men, who have started out on their marriage career full of hope and happiness and enthusiasm, become worn and broken by the way and finally land in the penitentiary.

An Attempt to Rape at Bourbon.
Plymouth News.

The people of Bourbon had thought they were rid of Hi Campbell for good, because he had been away so long, but he has again turned up, coming to this county from Arkansas, it is said. He counts the jail so often as to almost defy the number of times. He seems no sooner have gotten back until he let his evil nature prevail and give it full reign.

He is said to have gone to the home of Frank Miller, near Bourbon, and called Mr. Miller to come outside a few minutes on important business.

On being told by Mrs. Miller that her husband was away from home, he demanded admittance, was refused and proceeded to batter down the door. On gaining admittance to the house he began abusing the frightened woman. She ordered him out but he attacked her viciously. Mrs. Miller fought desperately and succeeded, after nearly all her clothing had been torn from her person, in escaping and giving the alarm to the neighbors. John Beam, an old man, hearing calls for help, went to the assistance of Mrs. Miller, but was knocked down by Campbell, who then escaped, but was captured shortly after by officers and placed in the calaboose, from which he made his escape in two hours.

He was recaptured Friday afternoon by citizens and officers in a marsh south of Bourbon. He was at once taken there, given a hearing and bound over to court under $1,000, failing to give which he was brought to the county jail. There is widespread indignation against Campbell as Mrs. Miller's condition is quite serious.

Tramps.

For the past week tramps have been very numerous in the city, and in some parts of the town have frightened the inhabitants half out of their wits. The marshal has been upon the alert and has given several of the roaming "Willies" a quick walk out of town. Tuesday afternoon a couple of toughs held up a little boy near the ice houses and purloined 10 cents, and Saturday evening they broke into the basement of Gerard's saloon and relieved the proprietors of between 35 and 40 bottles of beer. In their rounds of the town seeking something to devour to satisfy the cravings of their stomach, they were very abusive when turned away, and made all kinds of dire threats against the housewife and the citizens of the town in general. We would advise our common council to create a rock pile, and when these thugs and vagabonds make their appearance, feed them and then force them to break stone. Wherever this has been tried, tramps have given the town a wide berth.

This fall you will want a plow. When buying you want the best. Then just call at the new hardware in the Cronley building and look at those world-wide famous "Solid Comfort" riding plows. They take the ribbons wherever exhibited.

Peter Keller, the tonsorial artist, who manipulates in the "Old Log Cabin," west of Gerard's saloon, reports business pretty good. He is a first-class knight of the razor, and it will pay you to call on him when you want any of that class of work done. Open evenings and Sundays.

Sheriff Smith had the misfortune to lose his valuable black mare last Friday, in a rather peculiar manner. On going to the stable about six o'clock he found her with one hind leg broken. It is supposed to have been kicked by a bay or a brown horse standing in the adjoining stall. Mr. Smith thought a good deal of his black mare and regrets the loss very much. It was only about a year ago that he lost another horse in the same way.—Plymouth Evening News.

Narrow Escape.

Monday afternoon W. W. Herron, of Indianapolis took a sail boat and proceeded out on the lake, and when opposite the Arlington hotel the boat was capsized. A stiff breeze was blowing at the time and the young man not knowing how to handle a boat it became unmanageable. The man succeeded in getting hold of the boat as it lay bottom side up, where he remained for several hours, being finally rescued from his perilous position by the crew on the steamer Aubbenaubee. It is said it will be a long time before he attempts to run a boat again until he knows something about it.

Mrs. John Koontz packed up her household goods this week and shipped the same to her husband, who is employed in a bicycle factory at Kenosha, wis. She will leave for said place today.

A Selfish World.

No matter how things go—the poor always suffer.

Yes, the nabobs who own railroads don't think anything of running over a poor man's horse.

And the man who can afford to own a horse runs down the poor fellow on a bicycle.

And the fellow on the bicycle runs down the poor chap who has to walk.

And the man who walks stumbles against the poor cripple who goes on crutches.

And the cripple on crutches spends most of his time jamming his sticks down on other people's corns.

So don't be too uncharitable with the money-grabbers for, remember, had we a chance, we might be the biggest grabber of them all.

And yet charity, noble charity, perennial abounds in many hearts, and there is more good than evil in the world.
