Cavaliers End Losing Season With A Win

Culver dumped Oregon Davis Friday night 91-64 to end their losing season with a 4-15 record. Culver's ninety-one points was the highest that they had been able to attain all season.

Four seniors and Greg Dolezal started the game for Culver. Coach McIntire substituted freely allowing the whole team a chance to see action in the first half. Doug Mikesell was the only Cavalier who did not score against the Bobcats. Mikesell had an excellent opportunity to score Culver's ninetieth point, but Doug took the liberty to take an assist to exhibit the fine teamwork presented for the seniors final game at Culver.

The Cavaliers did an excellent job of controlling the boards. Culver's defense was also superb. The Cavaliers allowed O-D a high of 23 points in the third quarter while Culver scored 20 to maintain an eleven point third quarter lead.

O-D had their fourth quarter score doubled by the excited Cavaliers. Culver rampaged for thirty-two points and their tight defense allowed the Bobcats a dismal sixteen.

A well balanced effort by Culver was led by Junior Mike Bauer. Steve Reinhold added thirteen while Ruhnaw and Greg Dolezal each added twelve.

Culver's B Team ended their season fighting hard, but in defeat. Coach Pinder's squad was handed their 13th defeat against ten wins as Oregon Davis downed the Cavaliers 53-45. The Cavaliers started the season out with six losses, but won the next ten of fifteen.

Depositories For School Funds Named

Organize as a Board of Finance, the Board of School Trustees of the Culver Community Schools Corporation named the State Exchange Bank, of Culver; the Leiters Ford State Bank; and the First National Bank of Monterey as depositories of school funds at their regular meeting here this week.

The resolution authorizing the two year depository arrangement provided for a percentage allocation, based upon statements, as submitted by the banks.

In a study, analyzing projected needs for operating funds through June 30, 1971, the school Board adopted a resolution authorizing arrangements for temporary loans. Need for the funds to meet current general operating expenses will exist on or about March 3rd and 20th, April 5th, May 5th, and possibly, May 20th and June 5th, depending upon tax funds available for advance draws.

Notice to bidders for tax warrants were issued this week, with bids to be received March 2nd.

It was noted in the projected study that cash balance replenishments on the specified dates due to the fact that State Support is received by the corporation during the first half of the year in January and April, and tax payments from the county authorities, in late June.

The Board approved building requests for the use of the high school gym by the Culver Fraternal Order of Eagles, July 31, 1971 and the use of the high school cafeteria by the music Boosters for a carry-in supper on March 4th. Also approved were requests for the Aubbeenaubee 4-H boys and girls for the use of the Aubbeenaubee building and the Union Township 4-H boys for the use of the Culver Elementary building.

The Studies of the Marshall Starke Joint Special Education Administration, as they relate to phase I and II of the planning to implement the 1969 acts, providing for special education by 1972-73, were presented to the Board. The recommendation that the Culver corporation consider a Special Education Class, Junior High School Level, for the year 1971-72, together with Speech and Hearing Therapy, was taken under advisement for further study.

Jr. Band Soon Will Have New Blazers

Blazers for the junior high school band will be a reality by May if all goes well. Orange in color, they will top black skirts and pants to complete new uniforms.

Each year the band performs at least six times, in parades, concerts and at ball games, and the new uniforms will present a neat appearing band for these functions.

The Music Boosters are planning a fundraising fish fry for April 3. Donations to this fund by organization or individuals would be appreciated.

Voice Of The People

School Sick and Tax Poor
So the masterminds of our school system have decided to re-evaluate the system. And just how do they go about this monumental task? By appointing themselves, of course. If those committee members are a "cross-section" of the community then the rest of us have been doubly crossed. Better to call it what it is — a cross-section of yes-men.

Now just what do the rest of us do when we make mistakes (especially costly ones)? We deny them, naturally, which is exactly what that bunch of cross-sectioned citizens will do.

If the roof leaks as soon as the high school is built, well "golly gee," that could happen to any unexperienced, untrained, appointed school board. If they have to keep borrowing money because they can't budget their money, well what the heck — we all have a tendency to run short at the end of the month, don't we? Why should we expect them to tell us all about their costly mistakes?

Do you really expect the maintenance men to explain why they are so hard to find? Will the cafeteria staff blame themselves for food that is greasy and unattractive? Or will the superintendent admit that any dissention on the part of board members is not only unwelcome but unpopular? Is it possible that the school board will inform us as to why they do not retire the present superintendent when they have a younger alert man already in this system who could and just might do a better job?

The majority of us are well aware of most of the errors, but what can we do? I'll tell you what we can do — just go on paying crushing property taxes while they carry on their experiments.

The entire problem could be lessened if we could elect our school board and not have them crammed down our tax-paying throats.

LET'S BE HONEST ABOUT IT!

This year, as wage earners have already noticed on their pay-check deductions for Federal taxes, the tab for "social security" has been substantially increased. The base tax rate jumped from 8.6 percent to 10.4 percent; one-half of which is deducted from the earnings of the worker before he gets his paycheck, and the other half (theoretically, at least) deducted "after" he receives his wages. Actually, of course, the worker never sees any part of the money; the whole amount is deposited by the company in a special account which is then turned over to the Federal government.

To say (as the Department of Health, Education and Welfare alleges) that the employee pays half, and then "the company pays half" of the Social Security tax is a crude deception. There is not a single business establishment in this country, large or small, that possesses a magic money tree or which has the authority to print nice new dollar bills. All of the money paid out by each business firm, whether in the form of wages taxes, rent, utilities and other operating expenses must come from the earned income of the employees. If the employees don't earn it, the company can't pay it — period. If the company brings in a little more money than it pays out in combined expenses and salaries, then it will make a profit. But if it brings in less money than that expended — including "both halves" of the Social Security Tax—then that company goes broke.

Thus, a worker in the $5,000 bracket (by Government reckoning) is now tapped for $520, as against $480 last year; one half of this amount is reported on the paycheck, but the other half is simply turned over to the Government without anything being said about it. But the biggest increase hits the wage earner in the $9000 bracket (by Government calculation) by ours, a true earned income after business overhead, of closer to $10,000, which increased from $748 in 1970 to $936 in 1971.

As long as we have the Social Security tax, why not be honest about what it is actually costing us?

Splash down of the Apollo 14 astronauts ended a vigil Sergeant Richard W. Mackey began at Cape Kennedy, Fla., two days before the Saturn V hurled the three-man crew into space for the third U.S. lunar landing.

Sergeant Mackey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Mackey of 503 W. Madison St., Culver, Ind., is a member of the Air Weather Service (AWS) detachment at Patrick AFB, Fla., that provided weather forecasts for the launch area some 48 hours prior to lift-off.

Detachment personnel were responsible for forecasts and observations to an altitude of 295,000 feet above the Apollo 14 launch pad. Meteorological rocket observations to 400,000 feet were also provided in the event of spacecraft re-entry in the Atlantic area.

(Working jointly with U. S.

Weather Bureau personnel at the spaceport, Sergeant Mackey's unit also provided meteorological advice to the Eastern Test Range safety officer, operations officer and Department of Defense manager for manned space flight.

The weather observer and his unit form a link in the AWS network supporting U.S. military flight operations worldwide.

The sergeant has completed a year of duty in Southeast Asia.

A 1966 graduate of Culver Military Academy, he attended Indiana University and Central Missouri State College. He also studied at the University of Maryland Far East Division in Vietnam.

"...and then, while I was doing a margarine commercial, I goofed and said the word, 'butter'!"

Iron-On Buttons?

New iron-on buttons from Bondex are easy to apply.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — Great Scott! What will they think of next? Now it's buttons pre-sewn to iron-on patches. That's right — buttons that iron on to shirts, blouses, dresses, pajamas, children's clothing, etc.

Think of it. Junior's front-lawn wrestling matches with play-mates may still result in three buttons missing from his shirt, but instead of a needle and thread, all you need to repair the damage is your iron. Recent studies showed women especially like iron-on buttons because they can conveniently apply them while ironing the family wash. And the iron-on patch that holds the buttons also mends the tear where the old buttons were ripped off.

Wait till Dad hears the good news. How often has he been late for work because you discovered a missing button on his shirt just as he was kissing you goodbye at the door? Now he can be on his way as quickly as it takes your iron to heat up.

And your teen-age daughter? Let's face it Mom. She never learned to sew on buttons like you and probably doesn't want to. But she's particular about her appearance and won't mind replacing a missing or broken button now that she can just iron one on.

Grandma may be as skeptical about the idea as she was about men traveling to the moon — and no wonder. In her 70 years, who ever heard of an iron-on button? She'll convert quickly, though, once she tries and discovers the convenience of this new product. Caution: you may be in for another lecture about how easy modern women has it compared to the old days. The iron-on button is the latest brainchild of Bondex (T), America's leading producer of iron-on tapes, patches and fabrics. Bondex products are made by Permaseal Division of Johnson & Johnson, and are sold nationally at drug and variety stores, supermarkets and at department store notion counters.

Application is simple. Merely use a dry iron heated to the proper setting. Next, smooth the area of the missing button and place the patch with its pre-sewn button so that the button lines up with the button hole. Finally, iron the patch area surrounding the new button — and presto! — the job is complete.

Once ironed in place, the buttons are there to stay. A special adhesive on the patch won't lose its grip through repeated washing and drying. And the patches work equally well on woven or knit fabrics of natural fibers such as cotton, silk, linen and wool, or on man-made fibers like rayon, nylon, acetate, polyester, etc. Even durable press and blended fabrics are duck soup for this new product.

Bondex iron-on buttons come six to a 49¢ package. The patches are individually cut, 1/4" x 1/4". The buttons themselves come in white (on white or blue percale fabric), green (on workshirt green), and gray (on workshirt gray). (T) Permaseal trademark.

"Thy Will Be Done"
The next instruction in the prayers that for seeking for the pleasure of God to be accomplished on this earth. While we are to be asking for God's purposes to be done here. The comparison is drawn between heaven and earth.

Asking for the will of God on earth implies that his will is not being done, or that man is not going and doing that which God desires.

What is heaven like? The angels that God has created are walking in complete obedience to every command of God. There is no desire for self esteem but only pure submission to God.

Jesus then, is instructing men to ask that everyone desire of God be accomplished here on earth as God speaks. God has spoken through the apostles and we have the Bible, so God's desires are here if we only will read and obey what He has said. In order for God's will to be done on earth as it is being done in heaven we must put away all selfish desires and seek only to perform those things that are pleasing to God. We cannot ask for God's will to be done upon earth until we are doing exactly what He has commanded in His written Word.

If you pray this prayer are you willing to submit yourself to complete obedience to God's Word?

Super Supper: Sauce 'N Sandwich

Rabbit or rarebit? No one really knows the origin of this tasty cheese dish. But legend says that when a Welsh clan exhausted its game supply, the chieftain requested that the cook improvise from supplies on hand; the resulting dish was called cheese "rabbit." However it began, we're glad it did!

Try this variation of the traditional: a sauce of sharp cheese and cream—flavored with Worcestershire, mustard and cayenne—served atop crunchy corn bread sandwiches. It's so easy to make the corn bread with convenient corn muffin mix. Then split the hot corn bread, sandwich Canadian bacon between and spoon the sauce over.

Welsh Rabbit-Corn Bread Sandwiches

- Makes 6 servings
- | | |
|---------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Corn Bread: | 3/4 teaspoon salt |
| One 12-oz. pkg. Flako Corn Muffin Mix | 3/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce |
| 1 egg | 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard |
| 3/4 cup milk | Dash cayenne |
| Sauce: | 1/2 cup light cream or half and half |
| 1 tablespoon butter or margarine | 1 egg yolk |
| 1 lb. sharp Cheddar cheese, grated | 6 slices Canadian bacon, heated |
- For corn bread, heat oven to hot (400° F.). Empty contents of package into bowl. Add egg and milk. Blend only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened. (Batter should be slightly lumpy.) Pour batter into greased 8-inch square baking pan. Bake in preheated oven (400° F.) 20 to 25 minutes.
- For sauce, melt butter in top of double boiler over hot water. Add cheese, stirring frequently until melted. Stir in salt, Worcestershire sauce, dry mustard and cayenne. Gradually stir in cream. When mixture is thoroughly heated, remove from heat and beat in egg yolk.
- To serve, cut corn bread into 6 pieces; split each horizontally. Place a slice of Canadian bacon between 2 pieces, sandwich style. Spoon the sauce over each. Garnish with parsley and sprinkle with paprika.

Tips On Winter Shoe Care

Feet, and what goes on them, are a special concern at this time of year. Winter weather—no matter the climate—is bound to result in soggy shoes or boots for almost everyone in the family!

It can be a particular problem if there are active, young children in a household, or the man-of-the-house spends at least part of his day outdoors. The shoe care experts at Dow Corning point out that exposure to rain and snow can ruin even the best quality footwear. Wetness can also contribute to winter colds and flu, not to mention the foot problems that develop from neglected shoes.

One way to help protect your family's footwear is to place a plastic tray near the door. Each person can then remove his or her wet shoes as soon as they come inside, and put them on the tray. Most boot trays have high, wide ridges that the footwear rests on. Water thus can drain away from shoes and boots, allowing them to dry thoroughly. (Boot trays also help you protect rugs and bare floors!)

Here are some other timely hints on caring for your family's shoes:

- Try to see that each person alternates shoes so the same pair isn't worn two days in a row. This allows them to dry out and air. Rotating shoes also helps them to wear longer, and feet will feel better.
- A little preventive shoe care is especially important in winter, when you and your family are apt to be caught in a sudden storm. A silicone water repellent like Shoe Saver helps to weather-proof leather boots and shoes. The clear silicone liquid keeps water out, shoes stay soft and flexible after exposure to moisture. The new five-ounce family size bottle holds enough to treat four to five pairs of shoes. An eight-ounce aerosol can is also available.
- If shoes get drenched, and you forgot to apply Shoe Saver, you still may be able to salvage them. The footwear should be removed as soon as possible, stuffed with tissue or clean, soft cloth, and allowed to dry away from heat. Attention to your family's footwear before problems develop will keep shoes in good condition longer. They will look better, and feel better, no matter the weather.
