

CULVER CITY LOCALIZED.

And Put in Good Form for the Benefit of the Herald's Numerous Readers.

Herald Foss is on the sick list.
Edward Gaudy is convalescing.
Prof. Hostetler, of Lapaz was in town Saturday.
Henry Zechiel and family made Plymouth a visit Tuesday.

We would advise "Hicks," the weather prophet, to send us better weather, or forever "hold his peace" and prophesy no more.

Ladies!—you are invited to call on the new milliner at Monterey and see goods and get prices.

MISS LA PEARL HUGHSTON.

It was decided at a meeting of the Maxinkuckee Agricultural Association Monday afternoon, to pay off indebtedness so far as the money would go already collected by assessment.

C. C. Beeber and family arrived in Culver Monday evening. They will occupy their residence near the depot during the summer. Mr. Beeber will open up his Saloon about the first of June.

Robert Kreuzberger, who is now a full fledged citizen of Culver, and who has been assisting his father at Logansport the past two or three months, returned to Culver Monday and cast his ballot for municipal officers.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States will meet at Winona, near Warsaw, May 20th. There will be 700 delegates in attendance, half of them being elders. Among the prominent laymen already elected are ex Postmaster General Wanamaker and Governor Mount.

At this season of the year people eat heavy foods, such as meats etc. causing constipation and other irregularities of the bowels, resulting in biliousness, headaches, dizziness, etc. Dr. Agnew's Kidney and Liver Pills work wonders and give speedy and permanent relief. For sale at the Culver City Drug Store.

We have upon our table Vol. 1, No. 1 of the Kingsville, (O.) Forum. This paper is published by our brother I. V. Nearpass, an old veteran at the business. Having published a paper 13 years in Kingsville, he needs no introduction. His paper is bright and filled with spicy local news and high grade editorials. We wish the new venture success.

Fred Miller, living on the Dan Harris farm on the Bremen road northeast of Plymouth, was attacked by a vicious sow last week and was seriously injured. He climbed over the fence to look at her litter of young pigs was attacked by the animal and knocked down and bitten in various places on the arms and legs. It was a miracle that he escaped with his life.—Ex.

R. W. Roberts, who has been conducting a hardware in this city the past year, closed up his business last week, vacating the building he occupied. While in business, he won a host of friends, and but for lack of capital, to put in a first class stock, would have done a paying business. We still adhere to the fact that "an up to date" hardware could command a good trade and is one of the great necessities of the town. We understand that Mr. Roberts will devote his entire time selling farm machinery.

At the semi-annual conference of the Northern Indiana district of the German Baptist church, the fact came out that the Dunkard colonies in North Dakota have been undergoing great hardships and privations, and those who went out from Indiana would be very glad to return. The conference at Gelma, in Delaware county, has considered resolutions urging fellow-Dunkards to remain in Indiana and may provide the means for the return of those members of their church who joined the expedition to northern Dakota. Here they have found the conditions of life much more severe than in Indiana, and they have had to submit to hardships of which they had no anticipation.

Mrs. Aaron Jones is quite ill.
L. C. Zechiel transacted business at Plymouth Tuesday.

Parties are putting out the steam boat piers around the lake.

John Campbell was sojourning at Plymouth Saturday and Sunday.

Marshall Overman transacted business with the county treasurer at Plymouth Tuesday.

Peter Kryer, foreman of the Plymouth Democrat, was in town Monday transacting business.

Dr Loring, of Burr Oak, was in town Monday. He looks as happy as a boy with a "new suit of clothes."

We shall give a series of articles upon beet culture, commencing this week. They will be from the pen of eminent writers upon the subject.

Parties in the employ of the Vandalia R. R. Co., are painting cottages and other buildings belonging to the company situated along the shore of the lake.

Latest styles in millinery at rock bottom prices at the new store, at Monterey, Indiana, one door west of Keitzer Bros. store.

MISS LA PEARL HUGHSTON.

A 5-year-old son of Landon Linderman of this county, was burned to death while attempting to kindle a fire with coal oil. This is the third death caused by coal oil in this family within a year.

S. P. Solomon, of the firm of Solomon Bros., Merchant Tailors, Chicago, has been in town the past week taking orders. We understand he did not meet with any great success.

During May a complete change will be made in the passenger train schedule of the Nickel Plate road. Three through passenger trains daily will be placed in service between Chicago and Buffalo, and the through sleeping car service increased. The Nickel Plate managers are hustling officials, and are fast making this road one of the finest passenger lines in the United States.

A city like an individual can not stand still. It must go backward or forward. When improvement stop, deterioration will be observed in a city just as it is noted in the individual who fails to meet modern demands in the conduct of his business. Methods that were satisfactory years ago will not answer today, and the city or individual that adheres to them will fall to the rear as naturally as the apple falls from the tree to the ground by the attraction of gravitation. Citizens remember that Culver City will be just what you make it.

Persons who are troubled with indigestion will be interested in the experience of Wm. H. Penn, chief clerk in the railway mail service at Des Moines, Iowa, who writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the merits of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For two years I have suffered from indigestion, and am subject to frequent severe attack of pain in the stomach and bowels. One or two doses of this remedy never fails to give perfect relief. Price 25 and 50 cents; for sale at the Culver City Drug Store."

From this date the HERALD wishes it distinctly understood that it will publish no more communications which have a tendency to score an individual or public institution, unless the full name of the writer is attached for publication with the article handed in. Furthermore, we have every reason to believe that if any one has any complaint to make relative to the conduct of the cadets attending the Culver military academy, and will lay the matter before the faculty, every effort will be made to punish the offender. So far as the HERALD is concerned, it wishes the academy an abundant success, and believes if parents will see that their daughters remain where they belong, we apprehend no trouble in that direction. That the object of the academy is a grand one, and that its founder, and faculty in charge, has only the desire to promote the morals and mould the characters of those in attendance upon a plane that will tend for great good in the future, is a conceded fact.

Mr. F. M. Hardesty, of Kewana, spent Friday at the lake fishing, and was a guest of G. N. Gerard.

Thos. Harris, our lumber merchant, left Monday for Chicago, where he transacted business.

All those known to owe us upon subscription are requested to call and settle the same at once. We must have our dues.

W. F. Hostetler, Professor of penmanship and drawing in the Tri-State Normal College, of Angola, Ind., was a guest of D. W. Wolfe last Friday.

A beet sugar company has been organized at Minneapolis with a capital of $2,000,000. A State association has also been formed to educate the farmers as to the product.

Any item sent to this office for publication without the writer's name attached, not necessarily for publication but as evidence of good faith, will find its way to the waste basket.

Prof. Allen A. Norris, who has been in charge of the grammar department at Markle, Ind., the past year, has returned to his home upon the east side of the lake. We understand he contemplates attending the State University the coming year.

Mrs. R. K. Lord has a fine gravel walk laid from her residence to the Lakeside Hotel which will connect with the walk running upon Scott street to depot. She has also made many improvements upon her grounds by the way of setting out shade trees etc.

A western editor has invented an infernal machine which he places in an envelope and sends to those who "refuse" the paper after taking it for three years without paying for it. The machine explodes and kills the whole family, and the fragments that fall in the back yard kill the dog. Glory certainly awaits that editor when he gets into the sanctum above. He will have an upholstered chair and be allowed to sit with his feet on the table.

The progressive ladies of Westfield, Ind., issued a "Woman's Edition" of the Westfield News, bearing date of April 3, 1896. The paper is filled with matter of interest to women, and we notice the following from a correspondent, which the editors printed, realizing that it treats upon a matter of vital importance to their sex: "The best remedy for croup, colds and bronchitis that I have been able to find is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For family use it has no equal. I gladly recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Culver City Drug Store.

City Election.

Last Monday Culver held its city election. The day was cloudy and rainy, and the weather reminded us of a dismal cold day in December, when "hugging" a red-hot stove was far more preferable than to face the raging elements. The Democrats and Republicans had straight tickets in the field, and all must admit that good men's names were upon both tickets. When the ballots were counted and the returns received, found the result was as follows: Albert Keen, Democratic trustee Second ward, majority 8. Abraham Hayes, Republican trustee First ward, majority 14. Fred S. Carl, Republican city clerk, majority 10. D. A. Smith, Republican city marshal, majority 12. Thomas Slattery, Democrat, city treasurer, majority 8. This could be decidedly called a Republican victory, but the boys are very modest, consequently no demonstration was made. That the town affairs will be conducted by men of ability the ensuing year is conceded by all, hence all hatchets should be buried and everybody should be happy.

Country Schools.

As a nation, we enjoy the reputation of having the best school system extant. While I am fully convinced that our public school system merits this commendation, I am not willing to say that it is not susceptible of improvement, and in that line I think the above plan is a long step in the right direction.

At no time in the world's history has there been so pressing a necessity for the general diffusion of knowledge as at the present time. The social and political institutions of our country are endangered by the influx of foreigners, which, in strict truth, must be said to come from the lowest uneducated classes of other nations, and, in a large degree, from that element which naturally arrays itself against enlightened lawful measures that in any way tend to restrain. The assimilation of all this crude, and often turbulent element, will sorely tax our educational institutions to the utmost. Education and enlightenment should be the watchword of the times. Hence, the importance of giving the pupils of the country this advantage can hardly be overestimated.

Our country schools form an important factor, or feature, of our public school system, and while, without doubt, they were intended mainly for the more general dissemination of knowledge, like many other things, they have not progressed with the times. This plan gives the masses an equal chance with the well-to-do class who are able to send their children to the high school; and at the same time gives them an equal advantage with those living in more favored localities, no matter how remote his home may be, as a conveyance will call at his door and the pupil can step into a commodious coach which will leave him at the door of his school house, dry shod, no matter how inclement the weather.

Go through the country, in any direction, and take notice of the school-houses along the roads. Two-thirds of them are comfortable, dilapidated and unsightly. The clapboards swing and rattle with the wind; the chimney has lost half of its top; it is guileless of paint, to say nothing of unkempt yards and tumbled down fences. Inside, it is no better. Blackened walls, half-century old maps and charts hang in tattered condition by the corners, and a little 2x3 blackboard offers immense scope to the illustrative capacity of the institution. Back-breaking desks, smoky stove, and haphazard ventilation complete the picture, with the exception, perhaps, of the schoolma'am, who should be an important factor in the case. The country schools have fallen into their hands almost entirely. Comparatively few male teachers are now employed in country schools. Female competition has accomplished its usual results, and when we consider that the country school is cheapened in every possible way by the deluded taxpayer, it is no wonder that educated, competent men and experienced lady teachers are driven from the field.

Three-fourths of our country schools are now managed, or mismanaged, by inexperienced Misses, who have, by parrot-like repetition, learned to answer the simple questions propounded by our examining officers, and have obtained limited third-grade certificates. This is not the place to say what the best parents are beginning to feel about the whole sale methods of training their children. A reaction is at hand and a very powerful minority begins to demand a better type of mental and bodily development.

A PATRON.

Commencement.

On Saturday evening was held the Tenth Annual Commencement of the schools of Union township at the W. M. church, Burr Oak. Although the exercises were announced to begin at 7:30 p. m., the relatives and intimate friends of the graduates began to wend their way to the church as early as 6 p. m. to secure a suitable seat. The church rapidly filled, until at 6:45 all seats were occupied. At 7:20 County Superintendent Fish, Hon. H. G. Thayer, Trustee J. J. Cromley, Rev. F. G. Howard, and Trustee Taylor, of Tippecanoe township entered the church and were escorted to reserved seats by Mr. F. Behmer. At 7:30 the march was begun and the graduates filed up the aisle and took their places on the platform and the exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Howard, followed by a song from the Burr Oak choir. The graduates as they appeared on the program were: Miss Anna Duddleson, Miss Daisy Curtis, Miss Edna Krieger, Mr. Frank Krieger, Miss Ethel Jones, Miss Ruth South, Miss Mabel Garn, Miss Alma Zink, Miss Daisy Voreis, Miss Lulu Carl, Mr. Herbert Zechiel, Miss Clara Blanchard, and Miss Bertha Zechiel.

In their selections they proved themselves worthy of the honors accorded them, not one requiring any prompting or becoming discomfited. Especial mention should be made of the Misses Lulu Carl and Daisy Voreis, the first for her free and natural grace, and the second for her splendid voice. Miss Ethel Jones secured the honor of the best grade, not only in the township but in the county. Superintendent Fish, in awarding the diplomas, expressed his pleasure in presenting the documentary evidence of their arduous labors, and complimented Union township upon producing the largest graduation class of the county.

of this as an evidence of the able corps of teachers and trusted that the patrons of the township appreciated that fact.

Hon. H. G. Thayer delivered a noteworthy address. He showed the need and desirability of true and noble manhood and womanhood expressed in American citizenship and of the influence and tendency of the class before him in that direction. The address was spiced with so many brilliant and important lessons that we cannot give them all; but suffice it to say it was one of the best we have heard on a similar occasion and was well appreciated.

The program was well spiced with select music by the Burr Oak choir that ably filled their part, especially the female quartette. The exercises closed a little after eleven o'clock with benediction by Rev. Howard. May the township increase in precedence in this direction in the future and next year lead the county. W. M.

Sugar Beet Tests in Indiana.

Early in April the Indiana Agricultural experiment station received a quantity of sugar beet seed sent to it by the United States Department of Agriculture for distribution in this State. By arrangement with the Government, this seed was to be distributed to persons in Indiana who would agree to grow a certain specified area of beets under the direction of the Station, and at the proper time would harvest the roots and send samples to the Station for examination for sugar content.

This seed has now been distributed to the proper parties in Indiana, and the Station will be unable to send out more this season. This statement is made for the benefit of those contemplating writing for seed, and as explanatory to those who have written for seed that has not been sent them.

A great deal is being said and written at the present time concerning sugar beet culture in the United States. Beet sugar factories are being built at several points, and farmers are planting sugar beet seeds in many States this spring. It will interest the readers of this paper to know that the Indiana Experiment Station for nine consecutive years has been engaged in growing sugar beets and studying the adaptability of this State to profitable sugar beet culture. In February 1891, a bulletin was issued by the Station containing information on seed, climate, soil, planting, cultivation and harvesting of sugar beets, with results of sugar tests of beets grown in different counties of the State under the direction of the Station or the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. In April 1892, another bulletin contained additional information along the same line, with results of examination of many beets grown under station direction in different counties in 1891, was published. This bulletin also contained an account of a new disease of sugar beets. In 1892, beet seeds were sent to 250 points in 92 counties in Indiana by the station, and a bulletin in March 1893 contained a report of this work. In the spring of 1893 seed was sent to 167 sub-stations. In March 1894, a 28 page illustrated bulletin on sugar beets, containing much information with many more Indiana tests was published. In March 1895, another bulletin contained considerable data along the same line, with analyses of beets grown in 23 different counties of the State in 1894. In both 1895 and 1896 beet experiments were continued, and the same may be said for 1897, on a better scale than ever before.

This station has demonstrated that Indiana is in the beet sugar producing belt, though the work of 1897 it is hoped will add much to the data on the subject.

The Station will be glad to assist all persons in the State who may desire information in future on the sugar beet question.

City Locals.

We are pleased to note that Mr. H. H. Culver is convalescing, and that in the very near future he will be around directing his business affairs in this community.

The officials of the Vandalia passed through this place North Wednesday. They returned Thursday and took a ride around the lake upon one of the steamers.

The Purdue University will give an Excursion to Culver about the 22nd. It is expected that a vast crowd of people will be present, and as it is the first of the season will be highly appreciated.

Banker John Osborn is devoting considerable time upon his farm east of the lake. He is making many improvements. The wheat upon his place looks immense.

Mrs. R. K. Lord and Capt. J. Smith, favored a number of our citizens with a ride around the lake Wednesday evening upon one of her beautiful steamers. The trip was enjoyable, it being the first of the season.

J. C. Miller and wife, of Walkerton, Ind., were in town this week looking for a location to settle. He and wife are well pleased with Culver and it is hoped they will find just what they want. He is an old veteran.

We understand that Babcock & Wallace have disposed of their stock of merchandise at Maxinkuckee. Henry Speyer is in said place this week invoicing the stock. We did not learn who the purchaser was.

Culver City Cornet Band will have new quarters over the Nussbaum, Mayer & Co's Store hereafter. It has been engaged to furnish music Decoration Day. It has decided to allow no more spectators in their quarters during practice hereafter.

Ready the Peerless and

Wednesday navigated upon the Aubbeaubee, of lake Maxinkuckee, crystal first time this season. These for tiful boats will be directly under the supervision of that amiable and trustworthy seaman, Capt. Crook, which means that the public will be treated just right during the resort season.

Cemetery Improvement.

All those who are interested in beautifying and improving the appearance of Culver Cemetery are requested to meet at the cemetery Monday May 10th, at 8 o'clock a. m., money has been collected for the purpose of paying for team work and shovels and those desiring to furnish teams, and those desiring to shovel should be on hand said day. Graves are to be remodeled, and grounds cleaned up. This work should be accomplished before Decoration Day, and every person in this vicinity should take an interest in anything that will improve the appearance of our cemetery. A beautiful and well kept cemetery are indications of cultured progressive citizens, and we feel that our citizens will realize the urgent necessity of the work to be performed, and will turn out en masse.

COMMITTEE.

Decoration Day.

It is now thoroughly understood, that at no time in the history of this city has there ever been a memorial demonstration made in honor of the fallen heroes of the late rebellion, that will equal the Decoration Day services on May 29th, 1897. We understand that the Culver Military school will attend in a body, equipped with military paraphernalia highly appropriate. We are also pleased to chronicle that Rev. George R. Streeter, of Winamac, one of the most eloquent devines in northern Indiana, and an old veteran, will deliver the oration. We can promise our people something grand and all should attend the services which will be held at the M. E. church, Saturday May 29th.

Notice.

I have Pure Plymouth Rock Eggs at 30 cts for 15 eggs. White Brahma Eggs at 30 cts for 15 eggs. Anyone wanting any eggs should order at once as orders will be filled as received. DANIEL EASTERDAY.

West Township S. S. Association.

The West Township S. S. Association convened at the Stuck church, Twin Lakes, last Saturday. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the workers were slow in assembling, and the meeting did not open until 11 o'clock just as the President, S. J. Burgener, arrived. The morning session was an active one, considering the small attendance. The principal participants in the discussion were Revs. Jeffrey and Shattuck, of Siigo, Rev. F. G. Howard and W. H. Matthews, of Culver, Rev. Newman, of Rochester, and Frank Baker, of Hibbard.

At noon a bounteous dinner was prepared by the Sabbath school and was well relished by all present.

The interest was increased during the afternoon by the presence of County President J. W. Parks who installed the township officers elected for the coming year. The question box produced much profitable discussion. Jacob Myers, of Rutland, pronounced it an interesting session. Mrs. Hume was debarred from being present by sickness. Many thanks are due the Sabbath school for their hospitality.

South Riverside.

Hibbard has several cases of measles. Al McGowen went to Hibbard Saturday.

Beautiful sunshine on the banks Tuesday.

Mushrooms are beginning to peep. Hoop-a-la!

Some nice fish are being hooked at the river, now-a-days.

Farmers are busy at present preparing for corn planting.

Mrs. Edward Walker, of Hibbard is reported on the sick list.

William Rhodes and son Jesse made Plymouth a business call Tuesday.

Chas. and Chris. Davis, of Poplar Grove, made Burr Oak a business call Tuesday.

Benj. Busby is making some improvements on his town property in south Hibbard.

Grandma Wise and Mrs. Annie Hunt visited the Marshall county infirmary Tuesday.

Beautiful fragrant flowers and the warble of birds make the woods a delightful roaming place.

Mrs. Sissell and her daughter Viola, of near Delong, were visiting friends in Shawtown one day this week.

No Sunday school at Burr Oak on last Sunday on account of the mist. Why not organize a "water proof class."

How pleasant it is to sit on the bank, and listen to the croaking of frogs and see the fishes skip and flip their tails out of the water.

The writer desires to extend her well wishes to the thirteen graduates of Union township. Their commencement exercises were excellent, and well rendered. Do not stop, but go ahead.

The West township Sunday school convention at the Stuck church was quite well attended last Saturday. The following from Union township came over and lent their aid: Rev. Howard and William Matthews, of Culver, Jacob Myers and wife of Rutland and F. C. Baker, of Hibbard. They report a good and enthusiastic convention. BONNY.

St. Joseph Classes.

St. Joseph Classes will convene in annual session in the Reformed Church, Culver, Thursday evening, May 27, 1897, at 7:30 o'clock. The opening sermon will be preached by the retiring president, Rev. B. B. Royer, of Goshen, Ind.

In connection with the classical sessions, the Ladies' Missionary Society, of St. Joseph Classis will also convene in annual session.

Also the annual S. S. Convention of the Classis will meet on Wednesday evening May 26, sessions continuing Thursday forenoon and afternoon. Program given later. Everybody invited to attend.

HIBBARD FEEDINGS.

Mrs. Vanderwelle, of Burr Oak, was calling here Monday.

Mr. Busby is making necessary repairs on his buildings, which help to improve his neat home.

Mr. Hathaway, of New Haven, has charge of the day telegraphing here. He will remove his family here as soon as convenient.

Many attended the commencement exercises at Burr Oak Saturday evening, which were fine. We were not represented, owing to the loss of a school house causing a sudden close of our school in this district.

Mr. George Moore has the agency of a Chicago book firm and is doing a promising business. Good luck to him.

There was some talk of a grist mill here a while back. Have our farmers let this matter slip? Wake up and be doing. Hibbard is one of the best locations for a grist mill. With a few inducements we can secure one. Shall we have it?

Housecleaning time has at last arrived and many are now tearing up carpets, buying new furniture, and a general overhauling will take place. It will not hurt Hibbard. The weather, which has been almost unbearable for the past week must surely be the cause of existing "bad feelings."

Many cases of measles are reported. It will be a wonder if many more do not come to light as people are so careless as to the spreading of the "germs."

Mr. Charles Bope, of Knox, made a short call at William Klapp's Monday. Miss Susie Klapp accompanied him to Knox to take care of her sister.

A change of time of arrival and departure of trains from this station will occur on the N. Y. C. & St. L. R'y the last of the week.

At last we have that which we have so long needed—a shoe-shop. It is conducted by Mr. Halley, a pioneer of Indiana, who has been a shoemaker all his life and understands his business. He tells us many reliable stories about Indiana's younger days and promises to eliven our "berg" and will make a good citizen.

BRAN NEW.

Beet Sugar Making.

A heroic attempt is being made to induce the American farmer to produce his own sugar through the medium of sugar beets. It was not until about six years ago that we began to realize the full importance of the beet sugar industry. Since then public sentiment has been aroused an effort has been made to make the people at large understand the gravity of an economic condition by which Uncle Sam is getting the worst of it right along.

We Americans use an immense amount of sugar. Every year we put in our tea and coffee and use in other ways a saccharine mountain whose gross weight is 2,100,000,000 tons. Of this how much do you suppose we produce at home? Just about one-seventh. The rest we import. But this is not the worst of it. We import it from foreign countries which have for years discriminated against us in trade; which have shut us out of their markets, and which exclude our products whenever possible.

From Germany and France we buy annually about 1,700,000 tons of brown or raw sugar. They let us refine it, but the Sugar Trust takes good care that the profits of the business are not widely scattered. It takes nearly all our exports of provisions, including meats and dairy products, to pay our sugar bill.

And what does Germany and France do in return for this custom? They shut out our pork, turn up their noses at our beef, which they declare is diseased, and put the ban on our oleomargarine. Yet we keep on paying them something like $150,000,000 for their beet sugar every year. That leaves the balance of trade largely against us, and that balance we have to pay in gold too.

The American farmer could have this $150,000,000 a year if he were enterprising. Sugar beets can be raised in the United States, not only as well, but even better, than in Germany and France. True, a special climate is necessary and a certain amount of skill in the cultivation is demanded. As for climate, we have a large assortment. Haven't we the brains too?

The Department of Agriculture has found by conducting a series of experiments extending from New York to California that we have a vast area of land suited to the cultivation of sugar beets. A broad belt stretching from ocean to ocean through the center of the country, is adapted to this crop. The industry has even made a feeble start, for we have succeeded in turning out 40,000 tons of beet sugar a year. But this is barely enough to sweeten the lemonade we drink on a hot day.

In many of the southern states it is still doubtful if sugar beets can be successfully raised, and in some of the extreme northern states the seasons are too short. But there are other localities where the climate is just right. More than one-half the weight of sugar in the beet comes from the sunshine, and those sections which have a mild climate and dry, hot summer will produce beets richest in sugar. This is proved by the fact that California, New Mexico and Utah have beaten the world's records in sugar beet raising.

But other states are also experimenting. Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Minnesota are raising sugar beets in comparatively small quantities, and they find that it pays well. It has been shown that the sugar beet crop is much more valuable than grain under the right conditions. The yield will run all the way from 10 to 30 tons an acre, and the average price paid per ton for sugar beets is $4, although Nebraska has fixed $5 as the minimum which must be paid to earn the bounty which the state gives the manufacturer. Any farmer knows that a gross income of $40 an acre is a good one.

Of course the sugar beet farm must be near a sugar mill and a mill will not be built unless there is a prospect of enough beets being raised in the vicinity to supply its demands. This condition could be met by a community agreement in which a score of farmers would pledge themselves to raise ten or more acres of beets each year. In Nebraska the state government is giving farmers encouragement to make the starting of such mills a possibility. Seeds and valuable hints on planting and cultivating are furnished free. There are already two beet sugar works in Nebraska, one at Norfolk and another at Grand Island.

As the sugar works do not start until the beet crop is gathered the farmer and his extra help can make good wages for about three months by helping to convert the beets they have raised into sugar. Beet pulp makes a good fodder for stock, too, and beets do not exhaust the soil as some other crops do. Taking all things into consideration, the American farmer could do much to unlock the closed door of prosperity if he would go to raising his own sugar. C. J. BOWDEN.

Palmer House Sold.

We are pleased to chronicle that last Wednesday Mr. Frank Lampson, of Plymouth, closed negotiations, whereby he became owner of the celebrated hotel known as the Palmer House situated upon the north side of the lake. The new proprietor needs no introduction to the citizens of this community, having conducted the Palmer three years and the Lake View the same length of time. As a hotel caterer he has but few equals, and no man filling like position ever won by square dealing and courteous treatment more friends. The HERALD wishes him the success he so richly deserves.

GREATNESS OF GRANT

STORY OF THE CAREER OF A SOLDIER-STATESMAN.

Hero of Appomattox the Idol of Millions of Mankind—His Humble Birth and Subsequent Rise to Fame—Magnificent Mausoleum to His Memory.

Where His Ashes Rest.

The Memorial services which attended the removal of the remains of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant to their final resting place have revived a grateful interest in that great military leader of the nation. As the President of a free people, the savior of a country, the idol of millions of mankind, the story of his career cannot be told too often to those who knew him as the most commanding figure of his time; or the new generation, which, in the light of a fuller appreciation of his true greatness, venerate him as one of the most commanding figures in all history.

Gen. Grant was born April 27, 1822, in a one-story building of two rooms in Point Pleasant, Ohio, twenty-five miles from the city of Cincinnati. His father, Jesse Grant, a man of revolutionary stock and New England ancestry, was the foreman of a tannery, laboring hard to acquire a competence sufficient to enable him to embark in business for himself. This he did in Georgetown, O., whither he removed in 1823. Here young Ulysses grew up, a sturdy young lad, quiet, reserved, self-reliant. At the early age of 8 we find him breaking bark into the hopper of the bark mill in his father's tannery—a task he did not relish. Less than a year later he regularly drove a team on his father's farm and at the age of 10 he used to drive to Cincinnati, forty miles distant. In winter he attended school in Georgetown, and then in his 14th year he was sent to the Academy at Maysville.

In 1839 came the turning point in his life. He entered West Point as a cadet.

His name up to this time was Hiram Ulysses Grant, but in the making out of his official appointment to the military school the name was written by mistake Ulysses S., and so it has ever since remained. Grant made commendable progress at West Point and had the distinction of being the best horseman in his class. In 1843 he graduated, and was assigned to the Fourth Infantry, stationed at Jefferson barracks, near St. Louis.

During the Mexican war he rendered valuable service, being engaged in every battle except one, and was promoted to a first lieutenant. After the war he was stationed at various military posts and in 1853 was promoted to the captaincy of a company at Humboldt bay, California. The following year he resigned his commission and engaged in farming and real estate near St. Louis. This did not prove profitable and he secured a clerkship in the hardware and leather store of his father at Galena, Ill.

Here Gen. Grant was living when the civil war broke out. Four days after President Lincoln's call for troops Grant was drilling a company of volunteers and later was made mustering officer. Within five weeks he was appointed colonel of the Twenty-first Illinois Infantry and reported for duty to Gen. Pope in Missouri. In August he was made brigadier general of volunteers and Sept. 1 was placed in command of the district of southeast Missouri. He immediately seized Paducah, Ky., thereby saving that State to the Union cause. After the battle of Belmont he advanced against Fort Henry, on the Tennessee river, and Fort Donelson, on the Cumberland. After the fall of the former, the movement against the latter was begun. After three days' fighting Gen. Grant, then in command of the fort, proposed to Grant that commissioners be appointed to arrange terms of capitulation. Grant's famous reply was: "No terms other than unconditional surrender can be accepted. I propose to move immediately upon your works." The same day the garrison surrendered.

Became Famous.

Grant at once stepped into national fame. The question was everywhere asked, "Is he the coming man?" The hero of Donelson was immediately made a major general, and in 1863 took command of all the troops in the Mississippi valley. The siege of Vicksburg and the battle of Chattanooga made an opening for the national forces into Georgia. Grant, now the hope of the nation, was made lieutenant general by Congress, and by special act was given the command of the armies of the United States. A remarkable campaign was planned and carried out. For each of his brilliant aides Grant mapped out a certain duty. As his own opposing force he selected the army of northern Virginia, under Lee, and the battles of the Wilderness, Spottsylvania, North Anna and Cold Harbor—the hardest Grant ever fought—attest the difficult task he mapped out for himself. But he triumphed. The surrender of Lee, the paroling of the entire Southern army, ended the greatest civil war in history.

Gen. Grant started for Washington immediately after the fall of Richmond, to superintend the disbandment of the national forces. Everywhere he went he was greeted with ovations, and these continued until 1868, when he was elected President and took a conspicuous part in the reconstruction measures in the South. On the expiration of his first term he was re-elected by the largest majority that any candidate had up to that time received in the nation.

After retiring from the presidency Gen. Grant decided on visiting the countries of the Old World, and on May 17, 1877, accompanied by his wife and son, he sailed from Philadelphia to Liverpool on the steamer Indiana. Never was such demonstration of esteem and respect given a departing citizen. Distinguished men from all over the country assembled to bid him good-by. On reaching Liverpool a reception, hardly inferior to the demonstration that bade him godspeed at home, awaited him. The river Mersey was alive with vessels bearing the flags of all nations. The docks were lined with thousands, all eager to greet the great military genius, the ex-head of a powerful nation and a plain American citizen. In London he was received by the queen and the Prince of Wales and he afterward visited the queen at Windsor. Banquets, balls, receptions and other entertainments were given in his honor and the members of the aristocracy vied with one another in extending courtesies and hospitalities to the great American.

From England he went to the continent, and the greetings there from crowned heads and the common people were such as he had experienced in England. He next visited Italy, Egypt, the Holy Land, India and China. The Chinese paid him the greatest honors that had ever been bestowed on a foreigner. Prince Kung entertained him and he became the friend of the great Chinese, Li Hung Chang.

When Gen. Grant returned from his world's tour, his entire fortune did not amount to $100,000. Looking around for a means of increasing his income, his attention was directed to the banking business in which his son Ulysses, together with Ferdinand Ward and James D. Fish, was engaged. Gen. Grant invested his $100,000 in the business. In 1881 he bought a house in New York, where he afterward spent his winters. Affairs moved very smoothly for the general until, in 1883, he fell on an icy pavement and sustained injuries from the effects of which he never fully recovered. And then in May, 1884, came another blow. The firm of Grant & Ward failed, bankrupting the general and the entire Grant family, who had invested their money in the concern. Two of the partners in the business had been guilty of the most unblushing frauds. And then came out the shameful story of craft and guile in all its horrible proportions and it was seen that the honored name of Gen. Grant had been used to decoy hosts of friends and acquaintances to their own injury and his. After a little the world knew that his honor was unsullied. For a time Grant was in actual need of household expenses, but he directed his attention to writing his memoirs, knowing that their proceeds would be all he would have to leave to his wife and children.

Meantime the general's health was failing, and in 1884 severe throat complications ensued. His patience and courage through a weary siege of pain were characteristic of his unflinching heroism. For weeks he sat propped up by pillows, his limbs swathed in blankets, writing his memoirs. June 9 he was removed from New York to Mount McGregor, near Saratoga, and here for a time the change of air seemed to strengthen him. He continued on his memoirs and four days before his death he completed them. Immediately after the end of the book was reached, the other end was seen to be at hand. The final crisis was neither long nor painful. July 21 the country was informed that he was failing. For two days his symptoms indicated increasing depression and exhaustion, and on the 23d came the end. He passed away without a groan or a shudder, with no one but his wife and children and his medical attendants by his side.

The remains of the great general lay at Mount McGregor, where he died, until Tuesday, Aug. 4, when they were moved to Albany. Here they lay in state until the following day, when they were taken on a draped train to New York, being accompanied by numerous officials and sorrowing companions-in-arms of the dead general. When they reached New York they were borne in funeral procession to the city hall and there they lay in state until Saturday, Aug. 8. Crowds, gathered from almost all parts of the country, viewed the body. President Cleveland and his cabinet; the Governors of numerous States, with their staffs; generals who fought under Grant and generals who fought against him; battle-scarred veterans of the Union cause and men who wore the gray; judges of the Supreme Court of the nation, Senators, negroes, Chinese, high and low, the rich and the poor, the obscure and the prominent—all swelled the crowds that in almost unending procession passed through the city hall to gaze on the pale features of the honored dead. It is estimated that 350,000 persons viewed the remains.

The Funeral Pageant.

And when on Saturday morning the funeral procession formed its ranks to march to Riverside Park, New York and neighboring cities had poured forth into the streets of the metropolis more than 1,000,000 spectators and mourners.

The funeral car, wherein reposed the remains of the dead captain, was drawn by twenty-four horses, each with a black net reaching to the ground, and led by a negro. One thousand regular troops, 10,000 of the State militia and citizen soldiery from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Connecticut helped swell the military parade. There were nearly 20,000 Union veterans of the war in line and camps of Confederate veterans turned out to honor the man who, great in war, was even greater in the hour of victory and the day of peace. And to show that North and South were united in their sorrow over the grave of a hero two of the great Confederate generals of the war were pall-bearers at his funeral.

As the funeral cortege passed through New York's streets amid the mournful tolling of bells and the muffled sounds of drums, another procession—the naval—moved up the beautiful Hudson until the vessels anchored opposite the tomb prepared for the remains. And there with simple religious services and amid the booming of cannon on the Hudson the body of Gen. Grant was laid in the tomb.

THE GRANT MONUMENT.

A Memorial, in Its Design and Setting, One of the Greatest in the World.

In the interval between the death of Grant and his interment a Grant Monument Committee was formed to raise funds for the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of the great general. In February, 1886, the Grant Monument Association was organized under an act of the New York Legislature. At first money came in generously, but gradually the interest in the project lessened and in 1892 the fund with accumulated interest amounted to only $150,000.

Meantime the design of the monument had been determined on and the plans called for a structure to cost between $500,000 and $600,000. Ground was broken for the preliminary work April 27, 1891. In March, 1892, Gen. Horace Porter undertook the raising of further funds and so well did he succeed that April 27 the corner stone of the monument was laid by President Harrison. By the following Memorial Day the total amount needed had been subscribed.

The monument as it stands to-day represents an expenditure of nearly $600,000. This came from 80,000 American citizens, and it includes the widow's mite and the poor man's modest offering as well as the large subscriptions of the rich. It is a genuine tribute of the people, unlike the great monuments of Europe. The Albert Memorial in London, the tomb of Kaiser Wilhelm in Berlin, and the huge Germania upon the Niedervald were each constructed by governmental agencies. The Grant monument represents the loyal love and patriotic remembrance of a grateful people.

Removing the Remains.

Into the sarcophagus the coffin containing the remains of Gen. Grant was recently moved from its resting place in the temporary tomb of brick which had been erected in 1885 and which stands a short distance from the new and magnificent monument. The coffin was enclosed in a steel jacket and for several days before workmen had been employed in taking the latter apart.

When all was in readiness for the removal, Col. Fred Grant and Ulysses Grant, sons of the dead soldier, a few family friends and an honorary guard of his old comrades assembled at the old brick tomb. The copper coffin containing the remains of Grant was reverently borne to the new monument and after being put in a cedar casket was lowered into the sarcophagus, which is to be its resting place for all time. As the remains of the soldier-statesman were being borne from one tomb to another those taking part in the ceremony uncovered their heads and the thousands of spectators assembled paid a similar mark of respect to the hero's dust.

HONOR TO THE HERO.

GRANT TOMB DEDICATED WITH IMPOSING CEREMONIES.

Brilliant Military, Civic and Naval Pageants—Eulogy by Gen. Porter—Eloquent Address of President McKinley.

To the Nation's Dead.

Amid the sound of cannon, of musketry, and of stately music, in the presence of the dignitaries of our own and of foreign nations, accompanied by fleets and soldiery and a vast concourse of the people, the ashes of the greatest of American soldiers were on Tuesday committed to their last resting place, the splendid-mausoleum at Riverside, New York. Henceforth in all the years to come that tomb by the Hudson, equally with Mount Vernon and with Springfield, will be a sacred shrine from whence new inspirations of patriotism will be drawn. And not of patriotism only, but of encouragement to action and faithfulness to duty.

Grant's new tomb was dedicated by the President of the United States in the presence of a vast assembly. Long before the sun had risen above the eastern horizon the streets were thronged. The ceremonies proper began at sunrise, when from the tall flagpole near the tomb was flung the immense American flag furnished by the Daughters of the Revolution. At the same time the marines on the warships were piped to quarters and landed on shore to stand and receive the head of the land column.

The Fifth Avenue Hotel was the scene of bustle and excitement during the early morning. The broad corridors were filled with native and foreign dignitaries, and almost every second person blazed with bullion and military trappings. In a side room were the members of the reception committee, who formed the escort of the guests of the city. Among the earliest of these guests was Speaker Reed. Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, was under the wing of Chauncey M. Depew; Gen. Schofield and Gen. Ruger were together. Mr. Cleveland arrived at the hotel at 9:15.

Loud shouts of the people announced the arrival of the President at 9:20. He rode in a carriage with Gen. Porter and Mayor Strong. His reception was flattering in the extreme and he bowed repeatedly. The initial step in the parade was made almost on schedule time, and by 9:40 o'clock the presidential procession was on the move.

Cheers greeted the distinguished party as it moved through the decorated streets. Mrs. Grant and her family, to the third generation, were objects of special attention, and the widow of the hero was visibly affected at the great popular demonstration. The visitors got a chance to see a million people. The unbroken wall of humanity six miles long was an inspiring sight.

Ceremonies at the Tomb.

Arrived at the tomb, Bishop John P. Newman made a short prayer, and Gen. Porter in an eloquent speech presented the monument to the city of New York on behalf of the Grant Monument Association; Mayor Strong accepted it for the city. President McKinley delivered a brief address admirably fitted to the time and theme, and the ceremonies of the morning were concluded.

In the afternoon at 12:30 a formal luncheon was given to the President and his party. At 1 o'clock the land parade reached the monument and saluted. A review of the troops and civic societies by the President occupied his time until 5 o'clock, when he went on board the dispatch boat Dolphin and reviewed the fleet in North river. At 9 o'clock in the evening the Union League Club entertained the President at a reception, to which all the visiting army and navy officers and other distinguished guests of the city were bidden.

Somewhat Remarkable.
"I don't see what there was so remarkable about him," said the man with the cob pipe, when a recently deceased acquaintance came up for discussion.
"That's because you don't understand all the circumstances," replied the man with the cigar. "You know, he was a bachelor."
"Certainly. Everyone who knew him at all knew that."
"And he was also wealthy."
"Yes. Everyone knew that. What of it?"
"Why, he's one of the very few wealthy bachelors who have been able to die without leaving a widow turn up and sue the estate."
After a few minutes of reflection the man with the cob pipe admitted that there was a little something out of the ordinary about that.—Chicago Post.

His Back Up.
When Noah blew his horn, the camel humped himself to get aboard, and by a curious freak he stayed humped all his life. Lumbago or lame back humps a man's back simply because he cannot straighten himself on account of the stiffness and soreness accompanying the ailment. Nature helped the camel to his hump for a special purpose. Nature will help a man to get rid of his hump right off if he uses St. Jacobs Oil, because the character of the trouble is such that it needs just such a remedy to warm, soften and straighten out the contracted muscles. From the time of Noah down to the present time men have had lame backs, but only since the introduction of St. Jacobs Oil has the best cure for it been known. Lumbago really disables, but St. Jacobs Oil enables one to attend to business without loss of time.

Precious Stones Fade.
The powerful chemical effects of the sun are felt even by precious stones. The ruby, sapphire and emerald suffer less than other colored stones in this respect, but it has been shown by experiment that a ruby lying in a shop window for two years became much lighter in tint than its mate kept in a dark place during that period. Garnets and topazes are more easily affected. Pearls are said to show deterioration with age, but if they are not worn constantly they will recuperate wonderfully during brief vacations spent in quiet and darkness. The only species of unluck which the practical person believes the opal will bring to its owner is that of loss if the stone is exposed carelessly to heat. It is liable to crack, being composed principally of silicic acid, with a small proportion of water.

From the Republican, Belvidere, Ill.
Many a woman will recognize the ills described below by Mrs. W. L. De Munn, of Capron, Ill. Unfortunately they are ills peculiar to the sex, and we have no doubt whatever will be read with the greatest interest.
The facts are given precisely as stated to a reporter of this paper. Mrs. De Munn said:
"I was almost a wreck. I was all run down and too weak to do anything. I felt as if there was no hope for relief. I managed to keep around the house a good part of the time, but the bed was the proper place for me. No one knew how badly I felt. My appetite was gone, I was troubled with a weakness peculiar to women, and at times became so dizzy that I could not stand up. On several occasions I reeled off the sidewalk and fell when I attempted to walk."
"How did it happen that you were cured?"
"I read an article in one of the papers which seemed plain and honest and was induced to buy a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was delighted to obtain relief before using the entire box. I continued taking the medicine and to-day am completely cured. You can't say too much for those pills," repeated Mrs. De Munn. "Do you know of any other cases?"
"Yes, I know of several. I recommended the pills to my neighbors and everyone who has taken them thinks there is nothing like them. My sister took them for nervous headache and received prompt relief. There seems to be something in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to make sick people well. I think they were rightly named when they called them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Grand Army of the Republic.
According to the last general report of the Grand Army of the Republic it would seem that by no means all of the veterans of the late war belong to that organization. The number of members, in all the encampments, was, last year, 340,610. The number of pensioners classed as "invalids," in 1895, was 750,951. Most, if not all, of these were soldiers and sailors in actual service. If these two showings are correct, only about one-half of the pensioned veterans of the civil war belong to the G. A. R., to say nothing of the hundreds and thousands more who had the good fortune to escape being wounded during the struggle.

A Strong Point for the Winchester.
In time everything breaks or wears out. Ofttimes a break can be repaired if the proper means are at hand. One of the many great advantages of using a Winchester make of rifle or repeating shot gun is that, if any part of the gun is broken, it can be easily replaced at a trifling cost. All Winchester guns are made by a system of interchangeable parts so that a part will fit any Winchester gun of like model. This permits the owner of a Winchester to renew any part of the gun without the aid of a gunmaker. Parts can be obtained through any gun dealer in the country. This feature alone should recommend strongly guns made by the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., New Haven, Ct. Send for their large illustrated catalogue free.

A Classic Find.
On the marble steps of a peasant's house on the Island of Salamis have been found two lines of the epitaph composed by the poet Simonides for the Corinthian soldiers who fell in the sea fight, carved in Corinthian characters. It is hoped that the burial place of the Corinthians may soon be found.

You Have Waited for This.

There are many people who would be glad to abandon the habit of drinking coffee if they could only find a substitute for it. That substitute is Grain-O, made from pure grains and a beverage in every way preferable to coffee. Grain-O is not a stimulant—it is something better. It is cheering, nutritious and strengthening. In other words it is a food-drink, as coffee is not. It is acceptable to the most delicate stomach, and agrees with confirmed dyspeptics. Unlike coffee Grain-O produces no nervous action. It never interferes with sleep. As for the favor of Grain-O, people who use it say that after using it a week or two they like its taste better than that of coffee. Grain-O is sold by all grocers at 15c. and 25c. per package. Try it.

Physicians Wise in Their Generation.

The above class of scientists recognize and have repeatedly borne testimony, to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy and preventive of fever and ague, rheumatism, want of vigor, liver complaint, and some other ailments and infirm conditions of the system. Experience and observation have taught them its value. They but echo the verdict long since pronounced by the public and the press. Only the benighted now are ignorant of America's woe and alternative.

THREE HAPPY WOMEN.

Each Relieved of Periodic Pain and Backache. A Trio of Fervent Letters.

Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my health was gradually being undermined. I suffered untold agony from painful menstruation, backache, pain on top of my head and ovarian trouble. I concluded to try Mrs. Pinkham's Compound, and found that it was all any woman needs who suffers with painful monthly periods. It entirely cured me. Mrs. GEORGE WASS, 923 Bank St., Cincinnati, O.

For years I had suffered with painful menstruation every month. At the beginning of menstruation it was impossible for me to be more than five minutes, I felt so miserable. I then got a little book of Mrs. Pinkham's was house, and I sat right down and read it. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I can heartily say that to-day I woman; my monthly suffering is a thing I shall always praise the Vegetable Compound done for me. Mrs. MARGARET ANDERSON, 363 Lisbon St., Lewiston, Me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of painful menstruation and backache. The pain in my back was dreadful, and the agony I suffered during menstruation nearly drove me wild. Now this is all over, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine and advice.—Mrs. CARRIE V. WILLIAMS, South Mills, N. C.

The great volume of testimony proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safe, sure and almost infallible remedy in cases of irregularity, suppressed, excessive or painful monthly periods.

Finally, through intrigue, malicious persecution and blatant hypocrisy, the enemies of Joseph R. Dunlop have succeeded in carrying out to the bitter end their nefarious schemes, and Dunlop goes to Joliet for two years. The charges against him are that he published obscene literature and circulated it through the mails, when he only did what nearly every other paper in Chicago has done time and again, as a comparison of advertisements will verify. In the Dispatch Dunlop has everlastingly scored the trusts and combines which have already throttled the interests of the people and made a gigantic monopoly of the nation, and coerced those in high official positions to do his bidding. "Right must prevail," and although Joseph R. Dunlop suffers the stigma of being branded a felon, he can rest assured that he will yet be vindicated, for the people are with him, and he will yet see those who should stand for the rights of the people, but now sold to corporations and trusts body and soul, tremble because of the wrath of an outraged people, who will hurl them from their lofty height to the depth where they belong.

The Facts in the Case.

A careful perusal of the Map of Wisconsin will convince you that the WISCONSIN CENTRAL LINES running from Chicago and Milwaukee to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Ashland, Hurley, Ironwood, Bessemer, and Duluth, touch a greater number of important cities than any line running through Wisconsin. Elegantly equipped trains, leaving at convenient hours, make these cities easy of access. Any ticket agent can give you full information and ticket you through.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the ge wiesl kno often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effect following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists; price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention CULVER CITY HERALD and send your full postoffice address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietor of this paper guarantees the genuineness of this offer.

Lung fever is raging in and surrounding towns and many deaths have resulted therefrom. If one uses proper precautions against it one need not fear its evils. Dr. Agnew's Balsam of Tar and Wild Cherry acts like a charm in preventing it and cures the worst kinds of coughs and bronchial affections. Children will like it and cry for more. For sale at the Culver City Drug Store.

Fishing is good and many large fish are being caught. They are not all bass, but a great many are suckers, and two-legged ones at that. There are some people who cannot be caught by a cold, because they use Dr. Agnew's celebrated Cold Capsules that cure the worst cold in head in one day. They sell for 15c. a box at the Culver City Drug Store.

A Cure for Lame Back.

"My daughter when recovering from an attack of fever, was a great sufferer from pain in the back and hips," writes Loudon Grover, of Sardis, Ky. "After using quite a number of remedies without any benefit she tried one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and it has given entire relief." Chamberlain's Pain balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. Sold at Culver City Drug Store.
