Frank Keller, of Logansport, was in town over Sunday.

W. S. Easterday has just erected a handsome awning in front of his furniture store.

If you wish to be right at the front, visit "Camp Plenty" in Kreuzberger's Park.

We are pleased to see the smiling countenance of Bert Culver at the lake at present.

Twenty-five car load of ties were loaded at Burr Oak Saturday. They were cut by Wm. York last winter.

Call at this office and pay your subscription. Remember that we need our just dues in order to meet running expenses.

While you cottage people are looking for a place to trade, remember that H. J. Meredith keeps a first class stock of groceries, and he aims to please the trade. Then you will find his prices very reasonable. Anything in the grocery line can be found at his place of business.

"Beaut" the great St. Bernard dog, belonging to Mr. Culver is dead. He was overcome by the heat last Friday and at once waded out in the lake and was drowned. He was a mammoth specimen of the canine race, and very intelligent. Also upon the same day one of the horses belonging to the "famous black horse troop" died of blood poison, caused by coming in close contact with a barbed-wire fence.

Capt. Milt. Segrave, of Logansport, visited Lake Maxenkuckee for the first time last Sunday, since 1854. And even at an earlier date he was familiar with the lake and its surroundings, when the savage and wild beasts roamed at will over the broad expanse of country surrounding the lake, and has shot many deer and other game. He was agreeably surprised at the wonderful improvements that have taken place since 1854, and says the lake is yet in its infancy, but the time is surely coming when its beauties will be extolled from ocean to ocean, and that there will be such wonderful changes made that every available spot upon the lake shore will be occupied by cottages and hotels. He says the citizens of Marshall county do not half appreciate the gem they have in their midst, and should as one man work for the day to come when all other resorts will sink into insignificance when compared to Lake Maxenkuckee.

An excursion numbering about 800 people visited the lake last Sunday. They were from Kokomo, Galveston, Walton, Indianapolis, and Logansport.

We are especially pleased to state that although he was very ill upon his arrival at this place, that Hon. H. H. Culver is feeling much better, and his physician, F. V. L. Browkan, of St. Louis, positively states that there is now no doubt of his recovery.

There is nothing more charming to the eye than beautiful shade trees, hence it should be the duty of every citizen to protect them so far as possible, instead of picking the leaves from young trees and breaking the limbs.

Phillip Working, who lives south west of Burr Oak, smiles a sweet smile now and it would take "heap big" money to buy him out. In fact Phil considers himself worth one hundred thousand dollars more than he was a week ago last Thursday as an only son came to bless his home last Friday morning. We congratulate him.

One thing that has agitated the cottagers at the lake is how they can procure fire protection, and after a little figuring we have concluded that the steamboats are the factors that can at least furnish the water. For instance: Suppose those who occupy cottages east of the Lake View, should erect a large tank, and place in one hydrant, which with a certain amount of hose would reach the hotel and every cottage. Let one of the steamboats put in a powerful water pump, and for a certain price the said steamboat could keep said tank filled with water, thus affording ample protection. This plan could be worked all around the lake, and there is not a cottage owner but what would pay a boat a good price for the protection. Try it.

When the question is popped to a Burr Oak girl, she blushes and trembles a little and says, "I will give the matter careful consideration." The Hibbard girl looks surprised and sits with lips parted in astonishment for five or six minutes, and then says, "it came sooner than expected, but it's all right." The Argos girl drops her eyes resignedly, pats the carpet with a neat foot and responds, "The Lord's will be done." The Plymouth girl grins very sweetly and says, "Wouldn't that kill you?" and then lays her head on his shoulder to think about it. The Culver City girl looks him squarely in the face and says, "Why, cert. Do you suppose that I have been letting you bug me around here for the past two months just for recreation."

Rev. W. W. Raymond, of Plymouth, visited the lake Monday.

Lawyer Tebbetts, of Plymouth, transacted business in our city, Monday.

John G. Williams and family, of Terre Haute now occupy their cottage at the lake.

C. M. Batt a renowned newspaper man and his sister, of Battle Creek, Mich., are registered at the Lake View.

Six horses perished in Union township last week, by being overcome by heat.

Edward Sherman and wife, of Indianapolis, were guests at the Palmer over Sunday.

There will be services at the Catholic church, this city, next Sunday at 11:30 a. m. All are invited.

County institute will be held Aug. 23-27. President J. Swain, of the Indiana university will deliver two evening addresses.

Garn Bros. are putting the finishing touches upon the J. H. Zechiel residence upon Zechiel Ave., by the way of artistic painting.

John Wolford, the imitable John, of Plymouth, made Culver City a pleasant call Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Young and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Southworth, of Plymouth, are guests at the Palmer.

Judge Capron and wife and John Capron and wife are now permanently located in their cottage at Long Point for the season.

B. G. Hudnut, S. S. Early, and F. Crawford and their families are occupying their cottages at the lake. Mr. Crawford is paymaster upon the Vandalia.

Mrs. John B. Elam and family will be residents at the lake during the season. They can be found at their beautiful cottage near the lake View.

Dr. Jaeger is much sought after as an instructor of French and German by a number of our cottagers. His students express themselves very enthusiastically over the original method of the doctor by which they learn to speak these languages in a remarkable short time. Those desiring instructions will please call at his home where arrangements can be made.

A little girl at Laporte, the Argus says, in saying her prayers the other night, was told to pray for her father and mother, who were both very ill and for one of the servants who had lost her husband. She faithfully did as she was told and then, impressed with the dreary condition of things, added on her own account, "And now, Oh, God, take care of yourself, for if anything should happen to you, we should all go to pieces. Amen."

Wm. Kennedy a life prisoner and one of the most noted prisoners in the northern penitentiary will be set at liberty just as soon as his friends find employment for him. The history of the crime for which he was convicted and the devotion of a sister who believed him innocent makes one of the most interesting stories revealed by the records of the governor's office. She has been pleading with the governors for 12 years. When his brother died the governor paroled him for 10 days so he could attend the funeral. He went unaccompanied and returned to the prison at the end of ten days. His record as a prisoner has been first class.

There is a common law among the gypsy tribe that when a woman has been proven guilty of the crime of adultery that she must suffer death. Over at St. Louis the husband thought he had good proof, so he killed his wife; and on his trial he was found guilty and sentenced to death. The governor commuted his sentence to life imprisonment on account of this belief. It would be a good thing for some other people if they had that kind of a law, and had a good stand-in with the high powers of the state.

"OUR POET."

The Oasis.

Its the Lake called Maxenkuckee
The people love so well,
And of its scenes and pleasures too
We all do love to tell.
And 'round its shore and on the banks
To sit and walk and lounge
To look and see and feed upon
The sights that there abound.

To look into her peaceful face,
To feel her cooling breath,
To listen to her gentle voice
Will soothe the savage breast,
But, be upon her broad expanse
When waves and billows roll
Will make you think the time has come
To hunt a safer hole.

Its to this lake the thousands come
To drive dull care away,
To lay themselves in nature's arms
And rest the live long day.
They come by train and wagon way—
By "foot-back" some do come,
For any way to reach this lake,
Is just the way for some.

Here lawyers, doctors, merchants come
And "statesmen" great and small,
The politician may be seen—
And with him too his gall,
The lover and his "choicest one"
Beneath a tree you'll see
But not a word will either speak
Nor is there room for three.

To go upon the lake's broad space
So wide, so deep, so clear,
To fish, to sail or ride the waves
Is sport for thousands here.
O, yes indeed its quite a place
To rest, to "spark," to swim,
And one can drink a "little bit"
Or "fill up to the brim."

Numerous little cottage homes
With flowers garlands round,
With hammocks swinging here and there
And music's charming sound,
With little children, boys and girls
And mamma, papas too
Are here and there in family groups,
As they are wont to do.

For there's no sport of any kind
To high or low in price
That is not here for all "to git"
And all of course is nice.
The "strait and narrow path" is closed
The "broad road" has no gate
You take your choice and pass along
From early morn till late.

Its from this lake that nature makes
The tons and tons of ice
That's shipped around in summer time
For use "ven vater's hie."
There are three handsome steam-boats here
The "Peerless" and "McSheehy,"
But the favorite of the people
Is the "Aubbeenaubbee"

There are six hotels 'round the lake
Their boarding houses too
You take your choice and pay the price
And eat till you get through.
"Old Maxenkuckee" feeds all well—
Its natures paradise,
You take a bath in summer time
In winter get your ice.

"Culver's" Military school is here
Where students by the score
Are taught the "art" of soldier life
On Maxenkuckee's shore.
"H. H. C.— the grand "old man"—
The founder of this school
As one of God's philanthropers
Obeys the "golden rule."

He is a man in thought and life—
A benefactor sure
He's made this lake and "Culver town"
The place where pleasures cure—
The ills that disappointments cause
And business cares inflict
And never has he failed to fight
In nature's fierce conflict.

Every heart has sorrowed much
Because afflictions hand
Has laid its blight upon the health
Of this, dear good old, man:
But we're told he's "pulling through."
May God his health restore
For never will another come
To Maxenkuckee's shore.

H. E. Winks.

Culver, Ind., July, 16, 1897.

Ladies, Gentlemen and Fellow Citizens:—
Throughout Marshall county and elsewhere. As "Richard" was "himself again" so is the "undersigned." These lines are not only addressed to—"whom it may concern," but to all others, and as your truly, am anxious that all be concerned in my resumed professional welfare. Some things, occurrences, events and facts, are stranger than fiction, and this appeal from a "departed" acquaintance, may be the one of all facts that is stranger than fiction. In my return to the professional "crib" I hope to get a few "nubbins," and by and by, "corn in the ear."

"Ask and ye shall receive, knock and it shall be opened, seek and ye shall find" is true professionally as evangelically. I hope, Owing to my juxtaposition to the "lake," the opportunity to—sink or swim, survive or perish is good. The "room" and strength of the professional "ladder" offer encouragement to me and if there is an unoccupied "round"—within reach,—the crowd at the foot not being too large, the appellant will be found on a "perch." My "vacation" from "professional labors," has indeed been a vacation, but my return to the law practice is indeed a return.—"just as I am," with two eyes single to law business, real estate and life assurance. I can be found on the European plan in my office over the Exchange Bank. What law I don't know, is in the law books and in this I am as capable as any, by hard work and good clients, I expect to earn my portion of the "sound money" and honest dollars and being used to "prosperity" it will not get the better of me when it "comes."

Sincerely yours,

V. P. Kirk.

A Sad Accident.

Last Friday morning while Mrs. Truett Jones, of Vanburen township, Pulaski Co., was feeding her chickens her bright little boy 14 months old, crawled out of bed and found some molasses in which she had put some Rough on Rats, for the purpose of destroying the rodents.

The innocent child proceeded to eat the deadly poison. The poor child died in great agony on Saturday morning. The grief stricken mother is greatly affected by the loss of her child and grave fears are entertained lest she may become insane. The deadly drug destroys all its victims, whether the lovely prattler or the destructive rodent.

The above only verifies the fact that it is exceedingly dangerous business to throw out poison or to carelessly have it sitting around. Sometime since, a person supposed to be a man, spread poison out into his yard, and 24 fine chickens were poisoned. Suppose some little child had found the bread and eaten it, what terrible results would have followed. A man who will distribute poison for the purpose of destroying property is an unsafe person in any community and will bear watching. In fact such a man is a contemptible, low-lived scoundrel and deserves to be sent to the pen, which can be done if the law takes its course.

Two Kinds of Girls.

The Fort Wayne Sentinel says: The girl who gives way to a desire to gad about the street, to cultivate the acquaintance of young men, and to act simperingly, is laying a foundation for a useless after-life, and when married will develop into a slatternly gossip, if no greater misfortune befalls her. It is the girl who loves home and helps mother, who wins the model man and becomes an ornament to womanhood. The girl who does this and devotes some of her time to reading, and strives for the guard of mental culture, commands the esteem and respect of everybody.

Hibbard Feedings.

Mrs. Wm. Rhodes is convalescent.

Several cases of measles.

Harvest is in full blast; a heavy crop in sight.

Mr. Geo. Ditto and wife, of So. Bend, returned home after calling on friends and relatives for a few days.

Mr. Oscar Clarke the "night owl" returned from a short visit with relatives at Garrett, Ind.

Mr. German who relieved Mr. Clarke is working at Argos.

Mr. Chas. Bope and wife returned to Knox Sunday.

Miss Ella Burns visited in Hibbard Saturday and Sunday.

A bad accident which ought to be a warning to boys is reported from Burr Oak.

Mrs. Emma Eagan and family, of Garrett, Ind., will visit for a few weeks with her mother and sister Mrs. Weirman and Mrs. Brinkman.

Pike are biting at the river and many large catches are reported.

Mrs. Catharina Wise escaped injury by a hair breadth Saturday afternoon while driving along north of the Nickel Plate tracks. She lost one line, the horse taking advantage backed the buggy into the ditch completely demolishing same, throwing the lady out and luckily she escaped by receiving only a bruised wrist.

"Bonny" where art thou? Behind the screens of course. We often really wonder where some people's brains are, they often score but when and where. We have often heard the good a scythe can do with a pair of muscles but Bonny must be near sighted when attempting this "ruse" to not wield his own machine. Oh! come again.

The New Tariff Law.

Which has just been signed by the President, may be appropriately considered an Industrial Declaration of Independence. An official text of the law has just been published by the American Protective Tariff League, and should be carefully examined by every citizen. Protectionists ought to have a few copies of this law for distribution. Five copies will be sent to any address for ten cents. Ask for Document No. 30 and address W. F. Wakeman, Gen'l Sec'y, 135 West 23, Street, New York.

Porter & Co., have just received a splendid line of canned goods. They are all fresh and of the choicest selections.

Eastern Minnesota received another drenching Tuesday night, increasing the apprehension regarding the crop. So much water has fallen since July 1 that thousands of acres of small grain along the rivers are completely submerged.

PASSES THE SENATE.

Tariff Bill Goes Through by a Vote of 38 to 25.

By the decisive vote of 38 to 25 the tariff bill was passed in the Senate shortly before 5 o'clock Wednesday. The culmination of the long and arduous struggle had excited the keenest interest, and the floor and the galleries of the Senate chamber were crowded by those anxious to witness the closing scene.

Madrid dispatch: The Government, fearing opposition to the new war taxes, has strengthened the police and concentrated the civil guards of Alicante. Foreign telegrams must now be paid for in gold. Alicante is a seaport about 125 miles south of Valencia, on the southeast coast of Spain.

River Miners Out.

Reports received from the river mines in the Pittsburg district indicate that there is almost a total suspension of work in the pits and that the strike, so far as the river miners are concerned, is general. The bitter feeling between the river and railroad miners that has always interfered when there was a strike heretofore has disappeared, and organized and unorganized and imported miners have united for one purpose.

The Legislative Grind.

The Senate disposed of two tariff amendments Monday, that placing a stamp tax being agreed to with little or no opposition and without the formality of a vote, while the Spooner amendment, proposing a tariff investigation, was withdrawn after a protracted struggle.

Tuesday the Senate agreed to devote one more day to discussion of the tariff under the five-minute rule, and then proceed to vote. The beet sugar bounty clause was withdrawn. Mr. Bacon made a personal explanation of his vote for Mr. Mills' amendment to impose a tax of 5 per cent. on all manufactured products.

The tariff bill passed the Senate Wednesday morning by a vote of 38 to 28. The day was spent in amendments of minor importance. Following the passage of the bill, a resolution was agreed to asking the House for a conference, and Senators Allison, Aldrich, Platt of Connecticut, Burrows, Jones of Nevada, Vest, Jones of Arkansas, and White were named as conferees on the part of the Senate.

The session of the Senate Thursday was uneventful, the deficiency appropriation bill being considered throughout the day. Among its provisions is one accepting the invitation of France to participate in the Paris exposition of 1900. The bill was not completed up to the time of adjournment. An effort to have several amendments added to the bill failed.

The Senate met Friday under the depressing influence of the death of Senator Harris of Tennessee, who has been one of the conspicuous figures in the upper house of Congress for over twenty years. Rev. Mr. Johnston, chaplain, referred feelingly to the loss the Senate had sustained and spoke of Senator Harris' "ragged honesty, his unswerving attachment to his political principles, his opposition to all he considered wrong, his devotion to his State and his service to the nation."

GREAT HOST FOR GOD.

TWENTY THOUSAND CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS MEET.

Convention the Most Successful Ever Held—Rev. Francis E. Clark, Father of the Movement—History of the Society—Mighty Growth Shown.

Every Land Represented, San Francisco correspondence:

When Rev. E. R. Dilke tapped with his gavel in Mechanics' Pavilion Thursday morning he called to order the greatest convention California has ever seen. Ten thousand Christian Endeavorers faced the speaker, men and women from every quarter of the land, representing every part of the world. At the same time in Woodward's pavilion an overflow convention almost as large opened for business. San Francisco was turned over unconditionally to the vigorous young delegates who had journeyed across alkali plains, through deserts, under burning suns and over banks of snow to plant their banner on the Pacific coast. On every side could be seen the colors of the Christian warriors. At every turn were met the earnest faces of the advocates of higher and better lives.

REV. F. E. CLARK, D. D.

The scenes at the pavilion resembled a national political convention, except that more women were in evidence on this occasion than usually attend great gatherings. In fact, fully two-thirds of the delegates were of the gentler sex. But their presence tended to make the scene sorts to a "yell" in characteristic college boy fashion.

Most interesting of all the meetings were the services in out-of-the-way places. Prayer and song and exhortation were made by wandering bands before the heathen temples in Chinatown, in the magnificent gambling saloons, among the sailors, on the wharves, in the jails and in the slums, in the different factories, in the hospitals—in fact, wherever the Christian Endeavorer could plant his two feet and his symbolic flag.

Sunrise Prayer Meetings.

One of the features was the sunrise prayer meetings down on the beach of beautiful Golden Gate. Each morning the sailors were invited to join with representatives of almost every port they touch in their voyages to sing and to pray.

The complete program for the convention would fill a good-sized book. Of special interest were the great choruses of hundreds of voices which sang in the two great meeting places. The first gun was fired Wednesday night, with twelve simultaneous meetings, led by twelve well-known divines from every part of the nation. At the same time Rev. J. Lester Wells of Jersey City, N. J., gave a stereopticon lecture in Metropolitan Temple on "Christian Endeavor Among the Life Savers."

Long before the hour appointed for the opening of the convention on Thursday every seat in the vast pavilion, which accommodates over 10,000 people, was occupied. Promptly at 9:30 the great gathering was called to order by Rev. E. R. Wilke of San Francisco, and after a musical welcome by the choir, brief devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Philip F. King of Benton, Tex. Then the welcome of the committee of '97 was delivered by Rolla V. Watt, who spoke in part as follows:

This morning our dreams are realized, our hopes are fulfilled, our prayers are answered; for we witness the assembling of an international Christian Endeavor convention for the first time on the shores of the mighty Pacific. God bless you. We are glad you are here; we welcome; thrice welcome. We welcome you first and above all for the sake of our Master, whose banner of love is over all and whose servants you are. He had said if we lift Him up, He will draw all men unto Himself, and just as we represent Him in our thoughts, our words, our deeds, in our daily lives, so men will see Him. He holds in His hands the solution of all our problems—social, political and spiritual. It is part of Christian Endeavor to take these preferred gifts and offer them to mankind. We welcome you, therefore, because you are seeking to present the Savior of Mankind to the world, that the world can be made better.

After the applause which followed the remarks of Mr. Watt had subsided, the welcome of the Golden Gate pastors was Moreover, the people whom I have seen have been of diverse creeds and views of religious truth. All, to be sure, have acknowledged the supremacy of Jesus Christ as the Son of God and the only Savior of lost sinners. All have accepted the Bible as the word of God, and the Holy Spirit as the sanctifier, comforter and guide—in such only can Christian Endeavor flourish. But in minor particulars the creeds and forms of church government of these hospitable hosts of our society differ as widely as their complexions. The shade of tan on a man's cheek does not make or unmake his manhood; the shade of his creed does not make or unmake his Christianity.

Our society then has these signs of a universal movement. It was born in obscurity and weakness. It has not owed its existence to human advocacy or ecclesiastical authority. It has spread to every land, it has been found adapted to every evangelical creed, to every form of church government and to every race and class and language and condition of people. It has failed only where the principles involved in our covenant pledge have been ignored, or where it has been crushed out by denominational authority.

In answering the question of the subject, he said the movement must be true to its fundamental idea; must necessarily be unifying; must be a pervasive force; must be sacrificial, and must listen to

SAN FRANCISCO Y. M. C. A. HALL.

God's voice and continually obey it. Continuing, he said:

This is a world movement, thank God, away from materialism, formalism and a barren ecclesiasticism back to God Himself. Endeavorers, let this be the motto, the purpose, the prayer, of this our coming seventeenth year: To abide in Christ, to surrender ourselves to Him, to let Him use us, to think less of our efforts and more of His fullness, to seek a larger infilling from above, deeper draughts of His life, more emptiness of self, more fullness of Christ. Thus only will Christian Endeavor and all for which it has come to stand—Christian citizenship, Christian missions and a thousand forms of benevolence—receive ever fresh life and vigor.

MEET IN MILWAUKEE.

NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONVENES.

Twelve Thousand Present at the Opening Session—Warm Welcome Extended to the Delegates by the City's High Officials.

Throngs of Teachers.

In the vast auditorium of the gayly decorated exposition building in Milwaukee the thirty-sixth annual convention of the National Education Association was formally opened Tuesday night. It was the launching of an event of dual brilliancy. The people of a city and State that have ever fittingly responded to the demands made upon their hospitality and their resources paid tribute to their guests in cordial love and greeting. The delegates whose presence had inspired the magnificence of the welcome formed an array that was a composite picture of intellect and of merit. It was an inspiring scene.

When the great throngs had pressed through the doorways for more than an hour and when no more could enter, 12,000 persons confronted the stage. From the edge of the platform, buried behind a wealth of palms and other tropical foliage, to the furthestmost galleries there were tiers upon tiers of faces. Into every cranny of the immense hall, never before so tested, were massed members of the multitude. In the long rows of chairs that extended the length and breadth of the place below were the educational forces, and all about them and in the galleries were the people that had assembled to greet them. On the platform were distinguished public men, speakers and guests.

Teachers from the little red school-houses in the rural districts, school-masters from the big cities and educators of national reputation from the universities and famous institutions of learning met and mingled with each other. They assembled to listen to suggestions for better educational methods, to tell what they knew of the working of the present systems, to learn and to advise, and, from a an honor to extend thanks to the people of Milwaukee in the name of the institution he represented, the oldest teachers' association in the world.

Deliberations Begun.

After another musical selection by the male chorus the deliberations proper of the convention were begun with addresses by President Skinner and Newton C. Dougherty. The topic dwelt upon by President Skinner was "The Best Education for the Masses." Prof. Skinner referred to the development of educational institutions in this country, until now it is no longer necessary for any person to go abroad for his schooling. He placed great stress upon the importance of properly educating the children of the masses in the right direction, to the end that they shall become fully equipped for exercising the duties of citizenship and fulfilling the obligations due their country and society. Newton C. Dougherty of Peoria followed President Skinner in a timely address on "The Study of History in Our Public Schools."

The second day's session of the National Council of Education, which is recognized as the senate of the Educational Association, attracted a large assemblage of distinguished educators to Temple Emanu-El in the morning and afternoon. "University Ideals" was the subject of three papers read at the morning session. Prof. A. T. Ormond, of Princeton University, read the first paper. President James H. Baker, of the University of Colorado, presented the second address. He said that the university represents the philosophy of a people at a given epoch and their political, social and industrial tendencies. The third of the series of addresses was delivered by Prof. Joseph Swain, of the University of Indiana, and formerly of the faculty of Stanford University.

At the afternoon meeting of the council the subject discussed was election in general education, and an address on the subject was delivered by E. E. White of Columbus, Ohio. He gave his views as to the policy of permitting the student to step aside from set courses of study and mark out his own line of research and investigation.

At 2:30 in the afternoon the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the N. E. A. took place. Treasurer J. C.

vast or limited experience, to add something to the efforts of the best educators to insinuate rather than force knowledge into the minds of the young.

First General Session.

The first general session was opened with prayer by Rabbi S. Hecht, and after the singing of "America" by the immense male chorus, composed of over 300 voices from the leading musical societies of the city, which was lustily applauded by the 12,000 teachers in attendance at the gathering, the addresses of welcome and responses thereto were delivered and met with a kind reception from the audience.

A number of pleasant things were said by Gov. Scofield, Mayor Rauschenberger, State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Q. Emery and H. O. R. Siefert, superintendent of public schools in Milwaukee, in welcoming the visiting educators to the fair Cream City. The address of Mayor Rauschenberger was particularly calculated to tickle the fancy of the visitors, and called forth a generous round of applause. The responses by A. E. Winship of Boston, J. L. Holloway of Arkansas, Aaron Gove of Denver and Albert G. Lane of Chicago were also in a happy vein and calculated to make the Milwaukee people feel good over the great success of this year's convention of the Educational Association, as well as content with the manner in which they arranged for the reception of the immense throng of people now being entertained in the city.

After these formalities had been gone through with President Charles R. Skinner delivered his annual address, and Newton S. Dougherty of Peoria followed him with a paper on "The Study of History in Our Public Schools." Both were masterly expositions of the topics treated, and formed a fitting intellectual finale to the evening's program.

Mayor Rauschenberger only echoed the sentiments of every Milwaukeean when he said every citizen was proud of the fact that his native heath had been selected as the rendezvous of the 20,000 bright pedagogues. The addresses by Gov. Scofield, Principal Siefert and State Superintendent Emery were brief and extended to the visitors a hearty welcome to the city and State.

In responding to these words of welcome Prof. A. E. Winship, of the American Institute of Instruction, said it was McNeill of West Superior reported that the total income of the association for the year amounted to $20,540.87, and the total expenditures to $19,948.16, leaving a cash balance of $592.71. During the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Educational Association it was reported that $4,000 had been added to the treasury during the year, and that the reserve fund of the organization now amounts to over $60,000.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT.

Favorable Weather Helps Growth in Northern and Western Regions.

The following crop bulletin is based on the reports of the directors of the climate and crop sections:

In the States of the central valleys, lake region and New England the week has been very favorable to crops, the high temperature being especially favorable to corn. In the Southern States the conditions have been less favorable, the excessive heat and absence of rainfall proving injurious to most crops. On the Pacific coast the week has been very favorable.

In the principal corn States of the central valleys corn has made rapid growth, but in the Southern States it is suffering for rain, in some sections seriously. Excessive rains in Missouri have retarded cultivation and the crop is still backward in Minnesota. In Texas, while the late crop is suffering from drought, the early planted is matured and a good yield assured. Cotton is needing rain over the greater portion of the cotton belt. The bulk of the winter wheat crop is now harvested south of the fortieth parallel, about the latitude of the central portions of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Excessive rains have retarded harvesting in Missouri and caused further damage to that in shock. Good progress with harvesting has been made in Nebraska and Northern Indiana, and harvesting will soon begin in Michigan. The crop is maturing on the North Pacific coast, and in California, where harvesting is progressing rapidly, the grain is shrunken less than was anticipated. Spring wheat has continued to make favorable progress.

The wild gas well north of Anderson, Ind., which caught fire Saturday night, is still burning, and a great deal of damage is being done.

MECHANICS' PAVILION, THE HUGE AUDITORIUM WHERE THE CONVENTION MET.

more striking in color and more animated in spirit. All the streets in the business district of the city and in the neighborhood of the different headquarters were congested with the thousands of visitors.

History of the Society.

The story back of this immense gathering in the land of flowers has a romantic interest that lifts it far above the commonplace. But sixteen years ago this world-wide organization had a humble birth in a little, out-of-the-way church in Maine. To-day there are 48,000 societies, with a membership of 7,000,000 young people in every part of the civilized world, from Spain to the Samoan Islands, in the south seas, and from Australia to Alaska.

In this time 10,000,000 meetings have been held by Christian Endeavorers. Copies of the constitution numbering 5,000,000 have been printed in forty languages, and at least 15,000,000 copies of the pledge. More than 1,000,000 associate members have joined the church, and more than $2,000,000 has been given for denominational purposes. Such, in brief, is the remarkable history of one of the most conspicuous religious movements of all times.

The immense meeting on the Pacific slope has eclipsed all previous reunions. The central meeting place was Mechanics' Pavilion, which occupies an entire square in the heart of that western metropolis, and has seating accommodations for 10,000 persons. The second great meeting place was Woodward's Pavilion, which is about ten minutes' walk from the central rendezvous. It is an octagonal building with a seating capacity of 7,000. These two places of meeting were supplemented almost every hour in the day with gatherings in the various churches. Even the Chinese churches and a mariners' church hospitably throwing open their doors.

This religious siege of San Francisco was nothing if not picturesque. It was a nineteenth century "doings" which doubtless made the monastic saints of long ago turn uneasily in their graves. The Christian Endeavorer goes in for a happy religion, and if he cannot vent his exuberance in a long and loud hosanna he regiven by the Rev. John Hemphill. Lieut. Gov. Jeter then welcomed the delegates and their friends on behalf of the State of California. An anthem was rendered by the choir, and, in behalf of the visiting Endeavorers, the Rev. Ira Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., responded to the various addresses of welcome.

President Clark's Message.

The subject of the annual message of the president, the Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., was "A World-Encircling Religious Movement: How Shall It Fulfill God's Design?" He said in part:

I have attended conventions, since I last met you, in the Metropolitan Tabernacle of CONVENTION BANNER FOR 1897.

London and in the Beels of Bengal; in St. Andrew's Hall of Glasgow and in the ancient capital of the Punjab; among our Irish Endeavorers in Belfast and on the suburban plains of southern India; in crowded Berlin and on the lonely tablelands of the Transvaal; among the Alps of Switzerland and on the vast veldt of the Orange Free State; in sea-girt Stockholm and in the karoo of South Africa; in lordly Paris and in quiet Wellington; in the Cape of Good Hope; and everywhere, amid all these diversities of custom and costume, of manners and methods, of languages and laws, I have found that the Christian Endeavor ideals are substantially the same.

780 societies and a total membership of 3,000,000. Of the States having more than 1,000 local societies, Pennsylvania leads, with 3,443; New York has 3,049; Ohio, 2,583; Illinois, 2,013; Ontario, 1,783; Indiana, 1,387; Iowa, 1,336, and Michigan, 1,071. These figures do not include the Junior, Intermediate, Senior and Mothers' societies. Pennsylvania leads the junior societies with 1,397; New York has 1,288; Illinois, 993; Ohio, 970; California, 551; Indiana, 549; Iowa, 518, and Massachusetts, 517. The banner given to the State that has made the largest gains goes this year to Ohio. The second junior banner goes from Mexico to Spain. There are 366 Intermediate societies, California leading with 51, Illinois having 44; Ohio, 32, and Pennsylvania, 27. The mothers' societies number 70, Illinois leading with 30, Pennsylvania having 20 and Kansas 11. Twenty-seven senior societies have been organized, California, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania each having three and Connecticut two.

"England has 3,925 societies; Australia, 2,124; Scotland, 433; Wales, 311; India, 250; Ireland, 169; Madagascar, 93; France, 68; Mexico, 100; Japan, 66; West Indies, 63; Turkey, 41; China, 53; Africa, 52; Germany, 32—in all, 7,919 societies in other countries. In addition Canada has 3,390. The badge banner for the greatest proportionate increase in the number of societies, now held by Scotland, will go to the Endeavorers on the Emerald Isle.

"In the United States the Presbyterians have 5,531 young people's and 2,934 junior societies; the Congregationalists have next, with 4,156 young people's and 1,322 junior; Baptists, 2,640 young people's and 1,080 junior; Cumberland Presbyterian, 867 young people's and 361 junior; Methodist Protestants, 971 young people's and 251 juniors; Lutherans, 869 young people's and 324 juniors, nearly forty denominations being represented.

"A missionary roll of honor contains the names of 10,468 societies that have given nearly $500,000 to missions through their own denominational missionary boards. During the last eleven months 25,264 of the juniors have joined the church, and from the young people's societies, 187,125—in all, 213,389."

Good Advice.

Let strife and envy cease in business and social circles; let business spirit of hope and home interests be fostered; lay aside prejudice and vindictiveness for "brotherly love," then a unity and community of friendship and interests will grow, wealth and yield business thrift and personal association. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" and all will be well.

Work For It.

Why can't Culver City have a genuine business boom? There is material here for one and surely the spirit of enterprise properly operated, rightly directed and vigorously pushed, would result in "reciprocity" with commercial channels and "annexation" of fruitful fields. The business interests and men here are first in rate and integrity; the natural resources of Culver City are infinite for general business utility and much out-comes awaits the necessary "push." Let us awake and build up our beautiful little city in business and social circles.

BURMESE GIRLS.

Gossiping and Firting as they Fill Their Jars at the Well.

In every household the daughter has her appointed work. In all but the richest merchants' houses the daughter's duty is to bring the water from the well evening and morning, says Blackwood's Magazine. It is the gossiping place of the village, this well, and as the sun sets there come running down all the girls of the village. As they fill their jars they lean over the curb and talk, and it is here that are told the latest news, the latest flirtation, the latest marriage, the little scandal of the place. Very few men come. Water carrying is not their duty, and there is a proper time and place for flirtation. So the girls have the well almost to themselves.

Almost every girl will weave. In every house there will be a loom, where the girls weave their dresses and those of their parents. And very many girls will have stalls in the bazaar. Other duties are the husking of the rice and making of cheroots. Of course, in the richer households there will be ser- vants to do all this, but even in them the daughter will frequently weave, either for herself or for her parents. Almost every girl will do something, if it be only to pass the time.

STATE'S DUTY TO PRISONER.

He Should Come Out of Prison Equipped to Earn a Living.

The average age of the convicts of the United States is not far from 28 years. Therefore the men constituting this body are undeveloped men so far as age is concerned, and, as already stated, they are undeveloped in their moral and intellectual faculties—in fact, they are undeveloped in all directions except to a certain extent in the criminal tendency, which comes from their environment, says the North American Review. They are also, to a very large extent, short-term men. A careful classification of the convicts of the country shows that six-eighths are short-term prisoners, one-eighth incorrigibles and one-eighth amenable to reformatory efforts. These proportions are fairly correct. They may be a little too large or a little too small, but practically they may be admitted. It cannot make much difference what system is employed so that prices and wages are not affected, when the short-term men are considered. There is not much to be gained, whether in the interest of the state or of the community or of the convicts, in putting them at work under one system of labor as against another. They must be employed, their minds must be occupied and their hands utilized. It cannot, from the very nature of things, be worth while for the state to erect costly plants for the sake of employing them under one or another system of labor. No one can argue with reason that the short-term prisoner himself is to be particularly benefited by any such employment. The chief point to be insisted upon is that his labor shall not be debasing. If he can be employed in making blankets, furniture, coarse boots and shoes and the infinite variety of things that may be needed in the state institutions without the introduction of power machinery, not only the state will be the gainer but also the prisoner himself. He does not stay in the prison long enough, as a rule, to be taught in the higher methods of manual training, and what little he can learn by running some machine is of little consequence in his after life. If he stays long enough in prison the state should see to it that he comes out better equipped to earn a living than when he entered it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; see if sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effect following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extra-ordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists; price fifty cents and one dollar. The wheat harvest in this section is completed, and contrary to all expectations, it will be a fair yield, and of an excellent variety. The heads are large and well filled and the grain sound. The hay crop will be enormous, and has been taken care of in a perfectly dry state. Corn and potatoes look well and only need an occasional shower of rain to insure a large yield.

Leave your laundry with E. Koontz if your shirt needs a new neck band, and get one put on free of charge.

Don't forget that our esteemed citizen, Hayden Rea, the famous harness maker, of Culver, has a large stock of harness goods now on hand and is prepared to give you 19th century prices. He is also considered one of the best harness repairers in the county, and you will save money by giving him a call.

On June 7th, contractor J. H. Zechiel commenced the erection of a residence for himself upon Zechiel avenue. The house is 26x29, and contains nine commodious rooms, which are all finished in oil. The residence is modern in construction, and is built upon the plan of convenience and comfort, and commands a splendid view of the lake. As Mr. Zechiel moved into the house on July 15th, we call it rapid work by the way of house building.

There will be services at the Reformed church next Sunday morning and evening. You are invited.

Mr. J. H. Koontz will move his barn back which faces the street running west from the Cromley market, and we understand will erect a handsome residence upon his lots in the near future.

Long Point.

Long Point presents a scene of activity at present. Almost every cottage is occupied, and several tents can be seen here and there, which are occupied by a jolly lot of pleasure seekers. This is one of the most desirable points upon the lake shore, and there has been many marked improvements made upon the point this year. We noticed that S. S. Chadwick the noted fisherman, sure shot and general all-round sport, has everything around his camp in apple-pie order, and has branched out as a boarding-house keeper and is prepared to accommodate a hungry tourist with the best the land affords.

Homely Truths.

"There is no place like home," nor is there any thing like one attending to his or her own business. "What is your business?" inquired one. "That's my business," said the other. Long snouted hogs are pests so are tongued people. "What made your nose so big?" enquired an inquisitive person. "Keeping it out of other peoples business," was the answer. H. E. WINKS.

Obedient Youth.

"Didn't I tell you that if you went swimming again I would punish you?" asked the stern father.

"I didn't forget," replied Johnnie, whose hair was dripping, "but I can't swim a stroke."

Two Young People Drowned in Eagle Lake.

A sail boat carrying five young persons was capsized in the middle of Eagle Lake, near Warsaw, last Monday. Two of the occupants of the boat were drowned. The others were rescued after a severe struggle. The dead are: Georgia Coulter, daughter of Prof. Coulter, of the University of Chicago, and Bertha Yarnell, daughter of Edward F. Yarnell, Fort Wayne, Ind. The other members of the party were John G. Coulter, Miss Eunice Munson and Wm. Grey, of Chicago.

New Postoffice.

Henry Speyer took possession of the postoffice in this city Wednesday evening, hence the citizens of this vicinity, received their mail Thursday morning under the new order of things. The postoffice is now located in a handsome little building, which was built expressly for its reception, and plans and specifications were so arranged that it will be very convenient to handle mail with neatness and dispatch. Contrary to all former customs, the postoffice will receive the undivided attention of a competent clerk, and as no other business will be carried on in the building, it must give great satisfaction to the patrons. We wish the new postmaster success, and as he thoroughly understands the business, we predict that there will be no cause for complaint.

Words Spoken in Heat.

They had been married fully three months and were having their thirteenth daily quarrel—thirteen being an unlucky number.

"You only married me for my money," he said.

"I didn't do anything of the kind," she retorted.

"Well, you didn't marry me because you loved me."

"I know I didn't."

"In Heaven's name, madame, what did you marry me for?"

"Just to make that hateful Kate Scott you were engaged to cry her eyes out because she had to give you up to another."

He fell down on the white bear-skin rug at her feet and rolled over in it until he looked like a huge snowball.

"Great Caesar! woman," he sputtered, as he tried to get the hair out of his mouth, "what have you done? Why, I married you just because Kate Scott threw me over."

And by the time dinner was ready their sweet young hearts were once more so full of sunshine that awnings were quite necessary.

BIG STRIKE BEGUN.

Army of Coal Miners Throw Down Their Picks.

FIGHT TO BE BITTER.

Men Are Well Organized and Very Much in Earnest.

Those Directly Concerned Number Nearly 375,000—Coal Shipments Are Threatened in Ohio—Operators Invoke Aid from the United States Court—Miners Say the Strike Will Continue Until They Win—Arbitration Move in Indiana—Vast Army of Idle Men.

HE great wage struggle of the coal miners has been inaugurated, and it is impossible to tell what the end will be. Nearly 375,000 miners are directly concerned, but with the kindred industries of coal mining and iron and steel manufacturing there is about to be added to the army of unemployed in the United States probably more than half a million men. This is twenty-five times as many men as there are regular soldiers in the United States army.

Carroll D. Wright, chief of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, recently published the statement that about 3,000,000 men were in enforced idleness in this country. This, added to the men just called or locked out, makes the following remarkable showing:

Wright's estimate of the unemployed 3,000,000
Miners called out 375,000
Amalgamated workers, etc. 250,000

Grand total 3,625,000

The following statistics of this big strike, among the miners alone, show an length, and in consequence the distress will be great. At Gloucester, Ohio, the miners indulged in threats of holding up coal trains. But their local officials kept them quiet by telling them this was coal mined before the strike was declared. However, several of the Gloucester men said if non-union coal mined after July 4 in West Virginia and the Pittsburg district were hauled across Ohio to the lakes they would try to prevent it. As the West Virginia district has paid no attention to the strike, coal probably will continue to be hauled across Ohio. The provocation thus afforded the strikers for retaliation will be hard to resist. The scattered threats, however, are deprecated by President Ratchford and the other officials of the organization there, and they say no violence will be permitted.

Must Face the Law.

An important step was taken at Cincinnati in connection with the strike, which puts the power of the United States against all violence or unlawful acts in at least a portion of the territory of Ohio. An order of the United States Circuit Court, southern district of Ohio, eastern division, was made by Judge Taft, upon a showing made by Myron T. Herrick and Robert Blickensderfer, receivers of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railway Company and of the Wheeling, Lake Erie and Pittsburg Coal Company, whereby the United States Marshal is directed to protect their miners at work and to prevent unlawful interference with the operations of their railway.

The receivers state that they are engaged in the operation of two coal mines of the Wheeling, Lake Erie and Pittsburg Coal Company, known as the Dillenville and Long Run coal mines; that there is a strike among the mine workers of Ohio and other States under the direction of the United Mine Workers; that all of the 500 miners at Dillenville and one-half of the 400 at the Long Run mine are desirous of remaining at work, but have refrained from so doing by reason of threats and warnings from other miners who have joined the strike; that it is necessary for the mine to continue in operation and that the miners will continue at work if protected from physical injury to themselves and their property. Judge Taft gave an order to the United States Marshal to consult with the receivers of this court and send to Jefferson County and to other parts of this district a sufficient number of United States marshals to protect the mining and railroad property now being operated by these receivers under order of this court.

President Ratchford, in reviewing the upon, and would ask the Governors of the other States interested to join him in furthering the movement.

SWEPT BY A TORNADO.

Ten Are Dead at Lowry, Minn., and the Town Is Demolished.

Dispatches received at Duluth say that a cyclone obliterated the town of Lowry, Minn., and that possibly ten people were killed and several injured. Lowry is situated on the Soo Line, seven miles from Glenwood, on the Northern Pacific Railroad. The cyclone traveled from southwest to northwest.

The cyclone struck Lowry shortly after 6 o'clock in the evening. Evidences of the cyclonic cloud were seen in Duluth about 7 o'clock. The sky was overcast with clouds that circled as they moved rapidly northeast, and there was a yellow cast that was ascribed to the sun penetrating through them. People looked in wonder on the scene, but nobody ascribed the conditions to a cyclone. The clouds moved high in the air and circled with a perfectly steady motion. Every building in the village was damaged. Seven dwelling houses, the station, a church, an elevator and a butcher-shop were totally destroyed. The railroad tracks were twisted and telegraph wires torn down and part of a mill was carried away.

From Lowry the storm continued in a northeasterly direction to the farm of Robert Peacock, where it made a clean sweep of all the buildings. Mrs. Peacock, her daughter Nettie and a boy named Robert MacGowan were all injured, but will probably recover. The next point in the path of the storm was Thomas Andrews' house, where the family took refuge in the cellar and escaped with bruises. All his farm buildings, including a new brick house, are a total wreck. From here the tornado moved about due east to Samuel Morrow's, where it left death in its path. The family were preparing to enter the cellar when the storm struck, sweeping every vestige of the building from the foundations, carrying the inmates several rods. All the other buildings were likewise scattered to the four winds.

LATEST APPORTIONMENT OF REVENUE TO COUNTIES.

Per Capita Distributed Throughout the State Is $1.43—Total Reaches $1,072,299.80—Marion County Pays In More than She Gets.

Report in Detail.

The superintendent of public instruction has prepared a set of tables showing the apportionment of the common school revenue, the amount ready for apportionment in each county and the distributive shares apportioned to each county. The following summary shows the condition of the fund: Amount collected from counties, $1,073,576.07; amount in treasury from all other sources, $17,837.94; total on hand, $1,091,414.01; amount apportioned, $1,072,299.80; balance now remaining in treasury, $19,114.21; per capita, $1.43. #### State Items of Interest.

Gus J. Beck, a business man of Waterloo, was held up while going home and robbed of nearly $50 belonging to Knights of Honor Lodge, of which he was financial secretary. There were two robbers, and suspicion rests on local men. Beck saved $25 from the robbers by dropping it on the ground.

As a result of celebration the Chicago and Grand Trunk lost its passenger depot in Valparaiso. Some girls were shooting firecrackers and threw them on the porch of the building. The loss was $8,000, insured in the Phoenix of London for $5,000. M. L. Baum, owner of the eating-house, lost $2,000; no insurance.

At Jeffersonville several persons were prostrated by heat and are in a precarious condition. Mrs. Virginia Ruddle, who lived near Utica, and Casper Seibert, of Jeffersonville, died from the heat. At Fort Wayne Mrs. Eliza Miller, Miss Eliza Wing and Frank Huxley were prostrated. Mrs. Miller, prostrated Sunday, died. Mrs. William Pollock was prostrated while in a cherry tree and fell to the ground. Both legs were broken. At South Bend Thomas Farrington, of Chicago, a stone cutter, was overcome and died a few hours later.

D. C. Bruce, aged 35, committed suicide at Shelbyville Sunday afternoon by shooting. He went home in his usual good spirits, went upstairs to his room, took a bath, dressed, and sitting on the side of the bed placed a 32-caliber revolver to his temple and fired, the ball plunging through the brain to the upper angle of the skull. He left no word of explanation, and the cause remains a mystery. Five years ago while acting in the capacity of city marshal he was shot three times through the right lung by Charley Hawkins, who was on the same day hanged by a mob, and it is claimed that Bruce's wind has never been right since.

NOTED INSURANCE SWINDLER A FREE MAN.

Clemency Extended Because He is in a Dying Condition—History of the Case Which Led to His Arrest and Conviction.

Set Free to Die.

"Bob" Musgrave has been pardoned by Gov. Matthews that he may die outside prison walls, and the story of his audacious attempt to swindle insurance companies out of $35,000 a few years ago by the supposed loss of his life in a fire is being retold. His term would have expired in November, 1898, but at the request of some friends the Governor's private secretary investigated his physical condition, and finding that he was dying from consumption, the Governor put into effect his policy of pardoning all convicts who are surely on the way to the grave. Musgrave believes that he may recover once out of prison, and in a letter to an old acquaintance in Terre Haute recently, he said: "Tell my friends that if I am to be gotten out at all it must be soon. This matter cannot be delayed until fall."

Operates in Chicago.

In the early part of 1891 he turned up in Chicago, having left Kansas City, where he had been in trouble in connection with his employment with a wholesale house in which a relative was a partner. In Chicago he set up as a broker and promoter. He started the report that he represented an English syndicate with capital of several million pounds. He received letters addressed to T. B. Barnum, and after a while the acquaintances formed in the office building became suspicious of him. He became acquainted with a woman known as Kate Burton, but whose right name was McLaughlin, and he spent considerable money on her. Then as he began to run out of his credit he planned the insurance swindle. He took out seven policies, in all, for $35,000 on his life, some of the regular old line insurance and some in accident companies. Two of these he made payable to the Burton woman. He notified her of what he had done, and when he took leave of her in August, 1891, he told her that when she heard of his death to collect the money on the two policies and then wait to hear from him. The other policies were made payable to his mother and sister, whom he had taken to Chicago from Terre Haute.

Plot is Hatched.

Charles Trout of Terre Haute was a young man who believed Musgrave was the Napoleon of swindlers and his admiration for him was great. He would do Musgrave's bidding, whatever it might be. Musgrave had led him into the scheme, and one night Trout met him at a station five miles north of the city. They made their way across fields to an abandoned log cabin on the bank of the Wabash River. In a satchel carried by Musgrave was a human skeleton, which he had bought from a St. Louis firm. The next day was Sunday, and Trout quietly gave the tip to some of Musgrave's former acquaintances in Terre Haute that he was in hiding at the cabin and would like to see them. Among these was Capt. Ross, now Mayor, and who was then in the real estate business. These went to the cabin and talked with Musgrave. Of course the purpose was to establish his presence in the cabin, which was to be burned that night, leaving the St. Louis skeleton to represent him. In the early part of the night neighboring farmers saw the flames of the burning cabin, but did not go to it until daylight. Trout was there early, too, and he industriously circulated the report that Musgrave had been burned to death. The coroner took out the bones of the skeleton, and the police made a search of the ashes. They found Musgrave's K. of P. charm.

Uncared by Detectives.

The police gave it out that it was a case of suicide, and the matter was about to be dropped when detectives employed by the insurance companies put in an appearance. The knowledge that there was much insurance on his life, together with his known preference to obtain money by doubtful methods, raised the suspicion of a swindle in the cabin fire. One of the Terre Haute papers, which had taken no stock in the local police's suicide theory, pointed out that if the charm could have gone through the fire some of the buttons on the clothing, his keys or the metal on his satchel ought to be found. The police made a second search, but found none of these things. It seems that Musgrave watched the cabin burn, and when the fire was nearly out he threw into it his K. of P. charm. He had boarded a midnight train on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Road and returned to Chicago. He kept in hiding there, dyed his hair, which was red, and grew a beard.

Located in St. Paul.

William Markle, who had married Musgrave's sister, did not believe he was dead, and going to Trout forced that young man to tell him where he was. It so happened that on Markle's arrival in Chicago he saw Musgrave, and knew him despite his dyed hair. Markle wanted $200 borrowed money, and threatened to tell people in Terre Haute that he had seen his brother-in-law. Musgrave could not give the money, but taking alarm left for St. Paul. Then he wrote to Kate Burton, who already had been seen by the detective. She showed them the letter and they arrested Musgrave in St. Paul. The trial was long drawn out, but in the end he was sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years.

ENORMOUS EXTENT OF THE SOFT-COAL STRIKE AND NUMBER OF MEN NOW IDLE.

amazing loss of wealth to the country as follows:

Number of men called out	375,000
Number of States affected	10
Month's loss to 375,000 men, at 90 cents a day each	$10,125,100
Month's loss to operators, at 10 cents profit per ton on 16,000,000 tons	1,600,000
Loss to railroads at 30 cents per ton	4,800,000
Loss to coal companies' stores at the rate of 75 cents a day spent by each miner	$37,500
Monthly loss	$24,962,500

From estimates prepared on the basis of coal mined in the year 1895, making allowance for the present conditions, it is believed that the expense of maintaining the strike in the State of Ohio alone will aggregate nearly $60,000 a day. Of this amount the miner loses nearly $17,000, the coal operators $10,000 and the railroad companies $27,000. To this must also be added the decreased earnings of the railroad employes, dock and lake vessel employes and the profits of retail and wholesale dealers. The total output in Ohio for the year 1895 was 11,000,000 tons in round numbers, an average of 560 tons a miner, which is equal to 1.6 tons a day. It is estimated that 2,500,000 tons of the total output is nut coal, for which the miner receives no pay and is clear profit for the operator.

National President Ratchford said Tuesday that he had received reports showing that the greater part of Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio was idle, and within a day or two a complete suspension is expected. The Ohio miners are practically a unit for higher wages, as 23,000 of the 29,000 miners in the State are already holding out for the scale.

President Patrick Dolan, of the Pittsburg district, estimated the total number of men out to be nearly 15,000. President Dolan further said the reports from all over the district indicate the strike will be more general than at first supposed. Along the Monongahela River work has practically been suspended and a determined battle is in progress. All the mines, with the exception of a comparatively small number, are idle, and it is thought nearly every miner will come out. The circumstances indicate a strike of some situation, said: "Much has been said as to the amount of coal in stock at the head of the lakes and in the general markets, and also that operators in certain fields, through information received, made preparations for the contest by stocking up coal. Such report is erroneous. The operators, the public and even the miners had no information on this matter, and there is no coal in stock in any great quantities. The enormity of the present mining suspension is attracting the attention of members of Congress and the Senate, as well as members of the Cabinet. At present it seems as if some action looking to national arbitration may be effected, or the establishment of an eight-hour work day, which is necessary to take the surplus labor off the market, followed by a minimum wage law. That this will be a solution of the question there is no doubt, but to insure action along those lines the movement must be large in its proportions, and every miner must cease work."

A. Brenholz, who manages the home office for the General Hocking Coal Company, at Columbus, says there is at least 150,000 tons of coal in storage in the Northwest. He estimates that this will supply all demands for at least four months, no matter how general the miners' strike becomes. There is considerable coal on the Ohio docks ready for shipment by lake, but this coal will not be sent West. It will be held for the purpose of supplying transient trade. With respect to a supply for the railroads, it is estimated that the different companies have enough coal on hand to last them about six weeks.

Indiana for Arbitration.

The Indiana labor arbitration commission has taken the initiative in proposing arbitration of the miners' strike. The two commissioners, B. F. Schid, representing employers, and L. P. McCormack, representing organized labor, met in special session Tuesday, and decided to invite the labor arbitration commissioners of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois to meet in Indianapolis, with the view of agreeing upon a proposition of arbitration to be submitted to the operators and miners. Gov. Mount told the commissioners that he would co-operate in any plans agreed Nancy Hanks Lincoln, mother of Abraham Lincoln, who is buried in Spencer County, Indiana, and also to provide a fund for keeping the proposed memorial and lot in repair. A national appeal for public subscriptions will be made by an executive committee appointed for that purpose.

The grave has been neglected for many years, and while a nation has been paying homage to the great emancipator, the grave of his mother has been forgotten. John Burt, a citizen of Spencer County, wrote to the President, calling his attention to the neglected condition of Mrs. Lincoln's tomb, and the President at once communicated with Gov. Mount, suggesting that it would be most fitting if the State of Indiana would take some action concerning the matter. The grave is on an eighty-acre farm adjoining the south end of the old Lincoln farm. Half a mile south of the burial place of the mother is the grave of the only daughter of Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Sallie Ann Grigsby. Mr. Burt finds that years ago the one-half acre of land about the grave of Nancy Hanks was deeded to the United States to be held in trust. No steps have been taken in all these years to make the grave of Lincoln's mother distinguished from the countryside that surrounds it.

Near Hartsville, Tenn., a thrasher boiler explosion occurred on the farm of W. A. Allen Tuesday afternoon, by which nine people were instantly killed and five badly injured. Mr. Allen and his men were just concluding the work of thrashing wheat and were preparing to leave the field when the explosion occurred, from what cause is not known.

WISE WOMEN.

Those Who Heed the First Symptoms of Nervous Derangement.

Special from Mrs. Pinkham.

A dull, aching pain at the lower part of the back and a sensation of little rills of heat, or chills running down the spine, are symptoms of general womb derangement.

These symptoms are not accompanied by leucorrhoea, they are precursors of that weakness. It is worse than folly to neglect these symptoms. Any woman of common sense will take steps to cure herself.

She will realize that her generative system is in need of help, and that a good restorative medicine is a positive necessity. It must be a medicine with specific virtues. As a friend, a woman friend, let me advise the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If your case has progressed so that a troublesome discharge is already established, do not delay, take the Vegetable Compound at once, so as to tone up your whole nervous system; you can get it at any reliable drug store. You ought also to use a local application, or else the corrosive discharge will set up an inflammation and hardening of the parts. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is put up in packets at 25 cents each. To relieve this painful condition this Sanative Wash is worth its weight in gold.

Mrs. GEORGE W. SHEPARD, Watervliet, N. Y., says: "I am glad to state that I am cured from the worst form of female weakness. I was troubled very much with leucorrhoea, bearing-down pains and backache. Before using Mrs. Pinkham's Remedies it seemed that I had no strength at all. I was in pain all over. I began to feel better after taking the first dose of Vegetable Compound. I have used five bottles, and I feel like a new woman. I know if other suffering women would only try it, it would help them."

TARIFF BILL PASSES.

SENATE APPROVES THE DINGLEY MEASURE.

Final Ballot Shows Thirty-eight Ayes and Twenty-eight Nays - It Now Goes to the House for Further Consideration.

Bill Goes Through.

By the decisive vote of 38 to 28 the tariff bill was passed in the United States Senate shortly before 5 o'clock Wednesday. The culmination of the long and arduous struggle had excited the keenest interest, and the floor and the galleries of the Senate chamber were crowded by those anxious to witness the closing scene. Speaker Reed, Chairman Dingley and many of the members of the House of Representatives were in the rear area, while every seat in the galleries was reserved for foreign representatives was occupied.

The main interest centered in the final vote, and aside from this there was little of a dramatic character in the debate. The early part of the day was spent on amendments of comparatively minor importance, the debate branching into financial and anti-trust channels. By 4 o'clock the Senators began manifesting their impatience by calls for "vote," "vote," and soon thereafter the last amendment was disposed of and the final vote began. There were many interruptions as pairs were arranged, and then at 4:55 o'clock the Vice President arose and announced the passage of the bill—yeas, 38; nays, 28. There was no demonstration, but a few scattered handclaps were given as the crowds dispersed. Following is the vote cast:

- |                |                |

| Jones (Ark.),  | Vest,          |
| Kenny,         | Walthall,      |
| Lindsay,       | White—28.      |

The following pairs were announced, the first named would have voted for the bill and the last named against it:

Aldrich and Murphy, Chandler and McLaughlin, Frye and Gorman, Gear and Smith, Hansbrough and Daniel, Hoar and Harris (Tenn.), Thurston and Tillman, Wolcott and George.

An analysis of the final vote shows that the affirmative was cast by 35 Republicans, 2 silver Republicans, Jones (Nev.), and Mantle, and 1 Democrat, McEnery. The negative vote was cast by 25 Democrats, 2 Populists, Harris (Kan.), and Turner, and 1 silver Republican, Cannon. Eight Republicans were paired for the bill and eight Democrats against it. The Senators present and not voting were: Populists, 5, viz., Allen, Butler, Heitfeld, Kyle and Stewart; silver Republicans, 2, viz., Teiler and Pettigrew.

Following the passage of the bill a resolution was agreed to asking the House for a conference, and Senators Allison, Aldrich, Platt (Conn.), Burrows, Jones (Nev.), Vest, Jones (Ark.), and White were named as conferees on the part of the Senate.

The tariff debate began May 25, on which day Mr. Aldrich, in behalf of the Finance Committee, made the opening statement. The actual consideration of the bill began the next day, and debate has been continuous since then, covering six weeks and one day. It has been notable in some respects, although it has lacked many of the dramatic and oratorical features marking former debates. From the outset the advocates of the bill refrained from set speeches, and the discussion was narrowed to a consideration of rates and schedules, rather than general principles. Mr. Aldrich's illness took him from the chamber after the first day, and since then the bill has been in immediate charge of Mr. Allison. The opposition has been directed in the main by Mr. Jones (Ark.) and Mr. Vest (Mo.), while Senators White, Caffery, Gray and Allen have frequently figured in the debate. The bill as it goes back to the House re-enacts the anti-trust section of the Wilson law, while the reciprocity and retaliatory provisions are substituted for those of the House.

One of the most important new provisions added by the Senate is that placing a stamp tax on bonds, debentures and certificates of stock. Aside from these more important changes the bill as it goes back to the House has 874 amendments, of various degrees of importance, which must be reconciled between the two branches of Congress.

What Do the Children Drink at the Table?

Coffee and tea are injurious; they get tired of milk or water, and there is but one other thing to give them, that is, Grain-O, a new food drink that takes the place of coffee and tastes so much like it that even the parents can't tell the difference. It is the opposite to coffee, for instead of breaking down the nervous system it builds it up, instead of making one bilious it keeps the whole system in a healthy condition. Grain-O is a delicious table beverage made of pure grains, having the rich seal brown color of Mocha or Java. Grain-O is not a medicine, but a food drink that every one likes, and every one of the family can drink without the least injury. It costs only about one-quarter as much as coffee. Sold by all grocers, 15c. and 25c. per package.

The New Navy Rifle.

The strongest shooting gun in the world is the new Lee rifle made by the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., New Haven, Ct., for the U. S. navy. When fired there is a pressure on the breech of 60,000 pounds to the square inch. To build a gun that would withstand such tremendous strain was a great undertaking, but the Winchester, with their vast and varied experience and wonderful plant, succeeded in turning out a gun entirely satisfactory in every way to the navy. Like all Winchester rifles they shoot to perfection, work smoothly and easily and are a strong, serviceable arm. The Winchester send a large illustrated catalogue free upon request.

Sound Reasons for Approval.

There are several cogent reasons why the medical profession recommend and the public prefer Hostetter's Stomach Bitters above the ordinary cathartics. It does not drench and weaken the bowels, but assists rather than forces nature to act; it is botanic and safe; its action is never preceded by an internal earthquake like that produced by a drastic purgative. For forty-five years past it has been a household remedy for liver, stomach and kidney trouble.

That Sermon

Rev. Ogden, of Kewanna, occupied the M. E. pulpit last Sunday a. m. and preached from the text, "And I, if I be lifted up will draw all men unto me, and who is this son of man," 12th chapter of John. The Rev. gentleman is well up in homiletics. His exegesis of the text was clear and instructive as to the words "lifted up." He emphasized the necessity expressed by the words "lifted up" i. e. it was necessary that Jesus be "lifted up," -then on the cross, that he be "lifted up" now in the heart, and everywhere. His exposition of Jesus' humility in that; He become poor that we might become rich; his voluntary death, that we might live; His "giving up the ghost," a gratuitous surrender of all for our sake; verified the love of the Saviour. His interpretation of what the Greeks said—to the disciples "Sirs, we would see Jesus" simply was, that the Greeks wanted to actually see Jesus of whom they had heard, and that this was a fulfillment of what the Saviour then said, i. e. "the time is now come when the son of man is glorified. If we could see Jesus to day as the Greeks desired, we too would thereby glorify Him, hence, such would be—"the time has come when the son of man is to be glorified." The young divine was methodical and logical, in the major part of his discourse. He believes in a new salvation, and in this he is sensible. We are not to live and finally die here before we possess the gift of reconciliation, for as its nine o'clock when the hour begins and continues until its past, so does "salvation" begin whenever the person accepts it: Salvation from hunger through bread given by a kind person, salvation from drowning through physical power that rescues; salvation from sin by quitting in obedience to one's diviner nature, which nature reflects God.

He trampled "denominational lines" "out of sight" and by this insinuated his leaning to the unification instead of the denominational application of the Gospel. Amen.

The pulpits vagueness in explaining—'he became sin,'—referring to Jesus, is regretful. The listener is either to believe that Jesus became sin by becoming sinful, or that the pulpit has no explanation of the words "he became sin;" If a moral man becomes financial surety for an immoral man does he thereby become immoral or in any sense take to himself any of the poor man's immorality? No, but he does take the poor man's burden of debt and settles it with his financial credit. And so does Jesus; the "sinless man" as such take up man's needs of redemption, and as the poor and immoral man accepts the offer of the financial good man, so ought man accept Jesus, and as the good financial man's offer and financial ability would save the poor immoral man financially so will Jesus' Gospel save all men from sin and sinful indebtedness. The young divine is a fluent speaker, ready, wordy, gifted and often reached rhetorical heights, his gesticulations and quasi-comic-dramatic postures were agreeable emphasis and expressions, come again.

In the evening Rev. Howard, regular pastor occupied the pulpit and dwelt at length on the element of "faith," taking his text from 1st Peter 1st chapter. He considered "faith" both from a psychological and a theological standpoint.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. Va., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I have suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me; and my friends were only convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June, 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured. For sale at Culver City Drug Store.

The Ministerial Association, of the South Bend Dist, convened at Kewanna on Monday June 28. The occasion of the meeting was one of great profit to both people and the good Methodist preachers who came. The meeting opened with a service on Monday night with a splendid sermon by Prof. Neal, a member of the association but at present a professor in Taylor University at Upland. The regular institute proceeding began at 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning with Rev. E. T. Spohn, of Rochester, conducting the opening exercises, Presiding Elder H. G. Ogden was made President and W. T. Sholy Secretary.
