Last Saturday, the Ft. Wayne "cinder-jack" foot-ball team played with the Culver Military Academy team, the score standing 56 to 0 in favor of the academy. May it always be thus.

Last Saturday evening, a large number of citizens gathered at the residence of Mr. Thomas Harris, and gave his amiable wife a most pleasant surprise. A bountiful supper was served, and after a few hours of social enjoyment, all departed for their various homes much pleased over the fact that they were there.

Miss Ford gave her eloquentary entertainment to a fairly sized audience, at the M. E. church, Monday evening. She would be all right with a dramatic company, but as an eloquentary, she did not make a very favorable impression upon her audience. The recital and instrumental music rendered by home talent was immense.

Mr. Frank Vennegut, of Indianapolis, was married Thursday evening.

Thayer and Mrs. M. E. Heme, of Plymouth. Those last three are quite well known throughout the county among the church and Sunday school laborers, and we cannot find words to express their grateful for in these lines of work in the Masters vineyard. Mr. E. J. Hess formerly one of Union township Sunday school laborers was elected president; Mr. White Jr. was elected secretary and treasurer; and Mr. John Gebber H. C. Supt.

Mrs. Adam Dismore is on the sick list. Her father, Mr. John Wilson drives over to see her quite often.

It is hoped that in the spring when the road commissioner for this district will be doing his work, that a certain part of Main street will be repaired so to stand the racket a little better than it has for some years past. Look out for holes opposite Mr. Miles.

Miss Lizzie Brownlee was at Washington, Arbor Day. She seems to have the energy to help along a good cause at any time.

Mr. Barnes and family, and hired girl made a quick trip to Argos and back last Thursday. His ponies are small but awful good.

A certain man is in the exchange business. He trades a cow for a buggy and money, then comes to town and buys another cow. Nothing like keeping money in circulation.

Mrs. Edwards was visited by grandmum Stevens and Mrs. Aden Stevens last Thursday.

The Lake Store seems to get a fair trade, if it is down near the water.

Mr. David Wallace from Rochester was in our midst last Thursday.

Dr. A. E. Stevens has been having a crew of men fixing up the back part of his barn lot by hauling stone and dirt to level it up and make it safe from a wash out.

The school here observed Arbor day by planting a maple and a walnut tree, and also a rose bush. The scholars gave their recitations and dialogues in the forenoon. In the afternoon Miss Hissong and the scholars went to Washington to meet with the school there.

The Odd Fellows have had the outside of their store and hall building painted, also the inside of the store. Mr. Barnes keeps a nice lot of goods and he and Geo. Spangler are always on hand to show the samples. You can get up to the store better since the front has been filled up and graded.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, is to be seen in Dr. Stevens' front yard. It is a knitting and talking machine combined. It looks as if it may have seen several years of service. Doc is great for curiosities.

Mr. Barne's parents were at his place Sunday.

Rev. Nethercut delivered a sermon on faith Sunday forenoon. He had a fair audience.

A large flock of geese were seen making their way south last Saturday evening. If all signs are true we can fix for cold weather very soon.

There is in all countries a certain class who manage to pay a store bill (if they have to) for fear they cannot get establish another time when needed, but fail to see that an editor needs all that is due him as they can borrow reading matter. The doctors, we understand have it down fine on all delinquents. So mote it be with editors.

ELECTRIC RAILROAD

This Way Provided However, That Culver Gets up and After It.

This was the general trend of the prospects and propositions suggested at the railroad meeting held at Rochester Wednesday last. The editor of this paper and attorney, V. P. Kirk, were delegated to represent Culver at the meeting which was held at the Arlington hotel, convened for the purpose of talking about a route for said road from Goshen to Danville, Illinois. The meeting was a large one in numbers and enthusiastic in interest, for all the various points along the proposed routes were represented, either in person or in spirit. It was quite evident that the road will be built, and just as soon too, as the route can be agreed upon, this to be settled at a meeting to be held at Winamac. A committee from each township was appointed who is to ascertain about the "right of way" through the various townships, and also to obtain the financial aid from the townships toward paying the expense of the survey, and this committee is to report the result of its work at the meeting at Winamac.

Now, we see that we must put on the whole armor of determination and be active, let no time be lost nor stone unturned, or grass grow under our feet, but go out among the people, tell them the glad tidings and urge for and secure this right of way, and Culver's portion of the expense of the survey, and having done our whole duty, we can and will secure this road. Be wise as a serpent and prudent as a saint, and all will be well that ends well.

We had the pleasure of meeting Col. Sears, of Chicago, and Dr. Matchett, of Bourbon, who represent the syndicate end of the road, and they are up to date in social entertainment and business sagacity. Dr. Thomas, of Winamac, was made chairman, and Dr. Matchett, secretary and the editors present as assistants. There were others whom we met and kindly remember. The editors of the Mirror and News, of Bourbon were present in all the glory characteristic of newspaper men.

Dr. Gould, of Argos, paid a glowing tribute to Lake Maxenkuckee as the central point to be considered by the manipulators of the road. Judge V. P. Kirk, also in a most pathetic and exceedingly eloquent manner, portrayed the beauties of the lake and the many advantages Culver can offer to an east and west line. In fact his peroration consisted of first class and convincing argument pertaining to the subject. Others had kindly words for the lake's beautiful waters, and we were carried away to delightful heights of inspiration while listening to the merited encomiums for our beautiful resort. The syndicate has in mind two routes. One by the way of Goshen, Bremen, Bourbon, Plymouth, Argos, Culver City, Monterey, Winamac, Pulaski, Monticello, and Danville, Ill. The other starts at Goshen, proceeds to Bremen, Bourbon, Tippecanoe, Talma, Koehlester, Fulton, Logansport, Monticello and Danville.

We conclude by saying, just make a fight for this road and we will get it. It means work and plenty of it.

Teachers' Institute.

The second institute of the year was held at the Culver City school building Saturday October 30.

In the absence of Prof. Behner, Prof. Hahn of the Culver school presided.

The entire forenoon was spent in the analysis of Grecian philosophy and methods of teaching as portrayed in the writings of Plato.

The dialogue by Socrates and Plato regarding the teaching of virtue received marked attention.

An animated discussion was produced by Plato's Symposium which contains an interesting and amusing disquisition on love.

To youths and others in search of words to adequately express sentiments that come but once in a lifetime from the depths of one soul, this book will be light and sunshine.

The major part of the afternoon session was utilized in language work. In discussing the origin of the child's knowledge and language, much was said that will lead the conscientious teacher to a closer study of child nature.

Some time was well spent in considering methods and devices in teaching geography to the fourth grade. The value of correct definitions was strongly emphasized by the chairman in making a class of the institute.

The meeting adjourned to meet at Culver, December 11.

NOT ASHAMED OF JESUS.

TEXT, LUKE IX-25.

The following is a brief synopsis of the eloquent sermon preached by Rev. Nethercut at Nussbaum hall last Sunday evening:

"These words are Christ's and they outline a course of action which must end in death—in eternal darkness and despair. The result is inevitable. It lies with us as to what the end shall be. When death stares us in the face, we think of it, and we see that God, home and eternal life, and truth are the solid things in human life. Why then be ashamed of Jesus?"

But who are ashamed of Jesus? Not all certainly. But who? First, church members. Sad, but true it is. Staying at home or at the store, not well and kindred excuses are really nothing but shame of the Master. Shaking, hiding from duty, can't work for the Master. Can't read a few verses, is a false pride that borders on ashamed of Him and His word and work. If I could pray or speak like this brother or sister, I would be glad to attend every service. Not willing to do little things for the Master, but "Lord, give me great things to do for thee." We look on Him as a task-master. What a mistake! It will cost many of us a sorrowful entrance into heaven. "My yoke is easy and my burden is light."

Second, those out of Christ. A refusal to confess Him before men, is only because of shame. Hear His word, but remain indifferent, they know they should, but refuse to act. Can't make a sacrifice of pride for Christ. Why be ashamed of love and mercy. Why are you not a christian? Don't the reasons you can give, shame your manhood or womanhood?

Third, Infidels and skeptics are ashamed of Christ. And this is the basest, lowest, vilest, most horrible, and most deadly. How can a man with brains deny God? How can we think of the beauties and mysteries of the world—the sublimity and vastness of the universe, the distance and movements of the planets and fixed stars; the countless stars, studying heaven's blue dome and then deny God's existence? Or, how can we look at a single blade of grass or the beauty and delicacy of a single little flower and deny Him! Bless His dear name; not an infidel has gone out of life, having his senses, but what has acknowledged he was wrong and that God did reign. Thos. Payne said. "It's a leap in the dark."

New Shoe Store.

When the outside world thinks that Culver is not assuming cosmopolitan shape, it is mistaken. There was opened in this city last Saturday noon, an exclusive shoe store, with a stock of goods that would grace the shelves of a store in any other city in this country with credit. This means that there is positively no use to go elsewhere when you desire to purchase shoes, for every person, both large and small can receive an elegant fit, and a first class article in the shoe line just as cheap as can be purchased at any other house in the county. Do not be deceived, but call at the John Osborn Shoe Store, in the Kountz building and examine his stock and learn prices.

Here's a Good Suggestion.

The New Britain Herald makes the suggestion that Connecticut have a new edition of the statutes in two sections. One can contain the laws that are to be enforced and the other the ones passed not to be carried out, but merely to placate public opinion.

The Queen of England owns a dress manufactured entirely of spiders' webs. It was a present from the late Empress of Brazil, who had it specially prepared in her palace by twenty native silk-workers.

The Nervous Americans.

Americans are a fearfully nervous people. It takes less provocation to send the average American into a nervous spasm than any other person on earth. If there is a nation which should 'et stimulants alone we are the nation. Yet—to say nothing of liquor, as to which we are no worse than others—we are insatiable coffee drinkers. Yes, and the practice helps fill our hospitals and penitentiaries. Why not drop coffee and drink Grain-O instead? The latter does not act on the nerves, while it does nourish, warm, soothe, cheer and build up the body. It gives you what you need and does no harm. Prepared from pure grain. Try it and you won't go back to coffee. The whole family can drink Grain-O, at night, too, if you like—then sleep soundly. Ask your grocer for a package; 15c. or 25c. each.

Minding Outside, Not In.

Parents, it seems to me from my limited but interested observation of them, generally bring up their children, morally, according to one of two theories. One is to constantly point out a child's faults and defects, and punish it because it possesses them. The other is to constantly hold up an ideal, and punish the child where it falls short of it.

For instance, the mother of one of the most successful and charming families I know told me she never enforced obedience. "Until a child has learned to obey," she said, "I punish her for disobedience, and then let the matter drop. I used to have sieges that wore out both sides with my self-willed little daughter to make her obey me in even trifling things.

"One day, after a particularly lengthy battle, she finally said: 'I'm minding you, mamma, because you're bigger than I am. But I want you to know that I'm not minding one bit inside.' The personal element, the conflict between her will and mine, was all that her childish reasoning had grasped. And that wasn't at all what I wanted. "After that I put obedience before her as what was right, disobedience as what was wrong, and made her feel that disobedience was promptly punished, while all happiness lay in the path of obedience and right. Little by little her growing instinct upon right and wrong, her developed sense of moral responsibility, made her always choose to obey. She had learned more than simply the hopelessness of holding out against somebody bigger than herself. And meanwhile she hadn't lost confidence in herself from being constantly made to feel naughty."—Harper's Bazar.

"My wife has been studying geology and the house is so full of rocks I can't find a place to sit down." "What will you do about it?" "I've induced her to take up astronomy." "Is that any better?" "Of course; she can't collect specimens."—Chicago Record.

Then she drew a long sigh of relief.

The Worry of It.

The world has come to know that the muscles have much to do with the health of the system, and the era of athletics has so developed them that the whole man is a stronger being than in former years. But the worry of it all is that the muscles are of the flesh, fleshy. A little twist, or slip, or jerk—these happen in all work—and then a sprain. Sprains disable and are costly in time and money, but not if St. Jacobs Oil is used, for it cures surely and promptly and the worry of it is over.

Shipwrecked on the Seine.

Paris, being a seaport, has enjoyed the excitement of a shipwreck on the Seine. A 120-foot steamer collided with one of the wash-houses near the Pont d'Arcole, and had to be beached on the quay to avoid foundering.

A NECKLACE OF PEARLS

Is a beautiful possession. If a woman owns one, and if a single pearl drops off the string, she makes haste to find and restore it.

Good health is a more valuable possession than a necklace of the most beautiful pearls, yet one by one the jewels of health slip away, and women seem indifferent until it is almost too late, and they cannot be restored.

To die before you are really old is to suffer premature death, and that is a sin. It is a sin because it is the result of repeated violations of nature's laws.

Pain, lassitude and weariness, inability to sleep, dreadful dreams, starting violently from sleep, are all symptoms of nerve trouble.

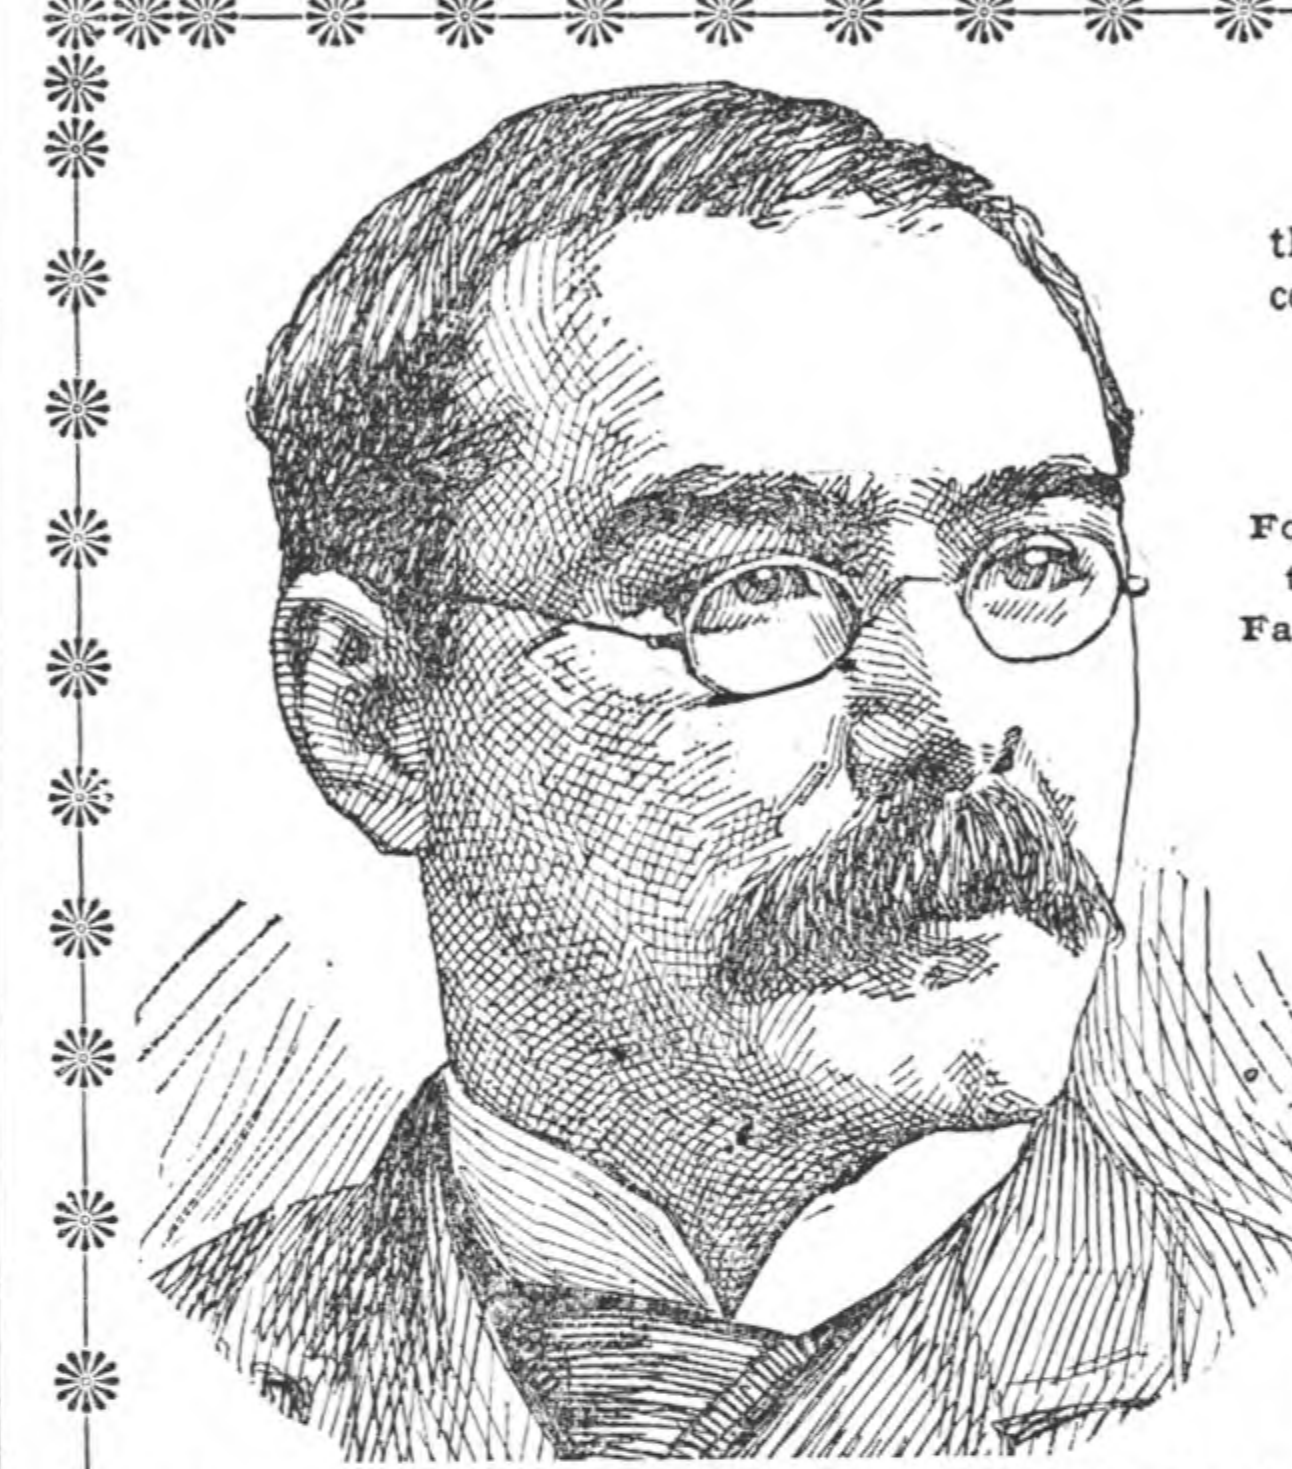

You cannot have nerve trouble and keep your health. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the womb, the ovaries and the bladder are affected. They are not vital organs, hence they give out soonest.

Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, by building up the nerves and restoring woman's organism to its natural state, relieves all these troublesome uterine symptoms. In confirmation of this we, by permission, refer to the following women, all of whom speak from experience: MISS CELIA VAN HORN, 1912 Sharswood St., Philadelphia, Pa.; MISS GRACE COLLARD, 1434 Eastern Ave., Cincinnati, O.; MRS. NEWELL, 50 Ryerson St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; MRS. ISABEL OBERG, 220 Chestnut St., Woburn, Mass.; MRS. A. H. COLE, New Rochelle, N. Y., and many others.

For special symptoms Mrs. Pinkham has prepared a Sanative Wash, which will cure local troubles. Give these medicines a trial.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., if you are not quite satisfied; you can address private questions to a woman.

An eminent Italian physician, curious to observe the effect of fatigue on cyclists, recently examined twenty-four men who had ridden thirty-two miles in two hours and a quarter, and found that, with reference to the hearing, in nearly every instance it was defective, though it became normal again after two or three hours' rest.

While discussing the merits of Ripans Tablets recently, in a conversation with a friend, a surgeon who is employed by the Long Island Railroad, and who has a large private practice among people of social and business prominence in Brooklyn, the City of Churches, expressed himself quite forcibly, saying: "I don't wish my name to appear as an indorser of a medicine that is advertised to the public at large, but there are several of my private patients who have not required my services as much this spring as has been usual, and two of them I found had been taking Ripans Tablets, and were said to have been so much benefited by their use that I became very much interested in their cases, because the illness from which they had suffered was of a sort from which a doctor is no more free than other people are. It was dyspepsia, and I knew by my own experience just what that was and how difficult it is to treat it successfully. I finally tried Ripans Tablets myself and, 'by ginger,' they are all the circular pretends them to be. They are a first-class article. I can heartily indorse them. The formula is an old one, but with one or two slight changes that seem to add an effectiveness that was never before to be relied upon with so much certainty."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABLETS in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—for FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (100 tablets) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 15 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABLETS) will be sent for five cents.

KILLED A MAN EATER.

How a Brave Shikari Schemed to Do Away With the Tiger.

You all know that a man-eater is generally a tiger too old, sick or inactive to catch his natural prey in the jungles, so he hangs about a village like an area sneak, picks up goats and calves, one day falls on a helpless man, woman or child at the edge of the forest, and, having tasted human flesh, longs for more, says the Badminton Magazine. Confirmed man-eaters, it is said, care for no other, but this I doubt; they may prefer it to any other, but it is probably easier to get in many cases. But whether a tiger becomes a man-eater by force of circumstances or malice prepense, he is a terror to the neighborhood he frequents and, as he adds to the tale of his victims, helpless villagers invest him with supernatural attributes and call on their gods to avert his wrath. A noted specimen of this class had killed a great number of people about a certain village somewhere in Kattyawar, and had taken to polishing off dak-runners as they passed through a narrow jungle defile, three or four miles from the village. He grew so cunning that shikaris were baffled time after time in their efforts to sight him. When an armed escort accompanied the dak-runner nothing happened; so after some days it was thought the tiger had shifted his quarters. Then the escort was dropped one evening and immediately another unfortunate runner disappeared. A special reward was offered by the government, but without results. For months and months the man-eater continued to kill with impunity. My cousin in the staff corps, a keen shikari and very determined fellow, swore he would shoot that tiger; got ten days' leave and pitched his tent near the village in question. "Well, all he did," tied up buffalo calves, beat the jungles with 300 or 400 men, even accompanied a dak-runner at dusk through the fatal defile, but in vain. At last he resolved to personate the dak-runner himself and go alone. Attired as a native and armed with rifle and pistol, he slung a mail-bag over his shoulder and started on his perilous adventure one evening at sunset. Jangling a number of little bells attached to his person, after the manner of dak-runners, he trotted on till he reached the place of evil omen. Then all at once, with a bound, the man-eater appeared in the middle of a road not twelve feet wide, facing him. The man pulled up short at a distance of some fifteen yards, raised his twelve-bore, and, by the mercy of God, dropped the tiger stone dead with a ball in the brain.

AN ANECDOTE OF MEILHAC.

How He Chose an Heir at a Party Given by Mme. Pozzi.

To finish with an anecdote about Meilhac. Two years ago he lost his best friend, M. Paul Poirson, whom he had made his residuary legatee, says the London Globe. Meilhac was much affected by his death and it was some time before he could recover from the blow. A few months later on he became firmly attached to M. Ganderax, with whom he collaborated a comedy for the Francais. One evening, while at a party given by M. Pozzi, he found himself by the side of M. Ganderax, to whom he abruptly said: "My dear Ganderax, since Poirson is dead will you be my heir?" Surprised at this proposal, M. Ganderax could not dissemble his confusion. "But, my dear friend," replied Ganderax, "you are not dying yet and I can't see why you should think of your testament. At all events, you must have older friends than myself." Meilhac replied: "That has nothing to do with it. I simply ask you, yes or no, will you consent to become my heir?" Ganderax held out his hand and answered: "In that case, my dear Meilhac, I may consider that, in speaking thus to me, you ask me if I will be your best friend. I therefore willingly accept your proposal." Remembering the large sums of money he earned by his pieces, it is perhaps astonishing that he has left such a small fortune—about £6,000. It is true he was generous even to extravagance and the more he made the more he spent. His funeral at the Madeleine was attended by all the celebrities in art, science and literature.

A BRITISH VICTORY.

SEMPAGHA PASS CAPTURED BY ENGLISH FORCES.

Gen. Gazelee Led the Advance—Troops Halt in Mustura Valley—Sheriff Martin Must Stand Trial for the Shooting at Lattimer.

The East Indian Campaign.
The British forces under General Sir William Lockhart have captured the Sempagha Pass. Gen. Gazelee, in command of the Second Brigade, led the advance upon the enemy's position, which was of the strongest description. The casualties among the British officers already reported are Captain Debatts of the artillery, who succumbed to wounds received during the engagement, and Major Handford-Flood of the West Surrey Regiment, who is among the wounded. The British forces halted in the Mustura Valley and will attack Arhang.

THIEF HAS CONFESSED.

Fellow Who Stole $15,000 from the Mails Is Captured.

Walter R. Houghton, aged 25, has been arrested at Cheyenne, Wyo., and confessed to stealing a registered package containing $15,000 which had been sent Sept. 29 by the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago, to the State National Bank at Butte, Mont. The package was sent in an extra through-registered pouch, and was delivered to Houghton, a postal clerk on the Cheyenne and Ogden run, by Clerk Brill of the Omaha and Cheyenne district, who inadvertently failed to take Houghton's receipt for one of the pouches. Post-office Inspector Frederick of Denver learned that a woman had changed three new $100 bills and secured from her an admission that Houghton had given them to her on the night of his return from his run of Sept. 30. The robbery is the largest which has ever occurred in the registry service.

TRUE BILLS RETURNED.

Sheriff Martin Must Answer for the Shooting at Lattimer.

At Wilkesbarre, Pa., the grand jury returned a true bill against Sheriff Martin and his deputy for the Lattimer shooting. The true bills included nineteen for murder, one for each man killed and one for the victims considered collectively. Thirty-six true bills were found in the same way for felonious wounding against the same defendants. The likelihood is that Sheriff Martin and his deputies will elect to be tried together.

Stowaways in a Piano Box.

While an upright piano box addressed to the Ives Pond Piano Company, Boston, was being put in a freight car at Seattle, Check Clerk Meckstroth noticed that water was running out of the bottom. The box was opened and a man and woman, scantily attired, were found inside. They were well provided with provisions and a big can of water. It was the intention of the stowaways to stop in Chicago, the box being routed over the Northern Pacific and Northwestern roads.

Try Hard, but Give It Up.

The special committee of lines interested which was appointed to meet in St. Louis, Mo., and agree upon a basis of rates that should govern on shipments of grain from southwestern Missouri river points to the gulf and to the Mississippi river, after a two days' session, failed to come to any understanding. Adjournment was taken until Nov. 8, in Chicago.

New Cure Is Indorsed.

The committee of the faculty of Cooper Medical College having in charge the investigation of the merits, efficiency and value of oxytuberculin, the new consumption cure discovered by Dr. Joseph O. Hirschfelder of San Francisco, has met and announced that after patient examination the members unreservedly indorse the remedy.

Appointed Longstreet.

The President has made the following appointments: James Longstreet of Georgia, commissioner of railroads, vice Wade Hampton, resigned; Henry S. Pritchett of Missouri, superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey; Milfin W. Gibbs of Arkansas, consul of the United States at Tamatave, Madagascar.

Georgia Governor Speaks Plainly.

Mob law is severely condemned by Gov. Atkinson in his message to the Georgia Legislature. He advocates stringent legislation against mobs and insists that the Legislature pass a law laying every county wherein such a crime is committed subject to a large indemnity to the relatives of the mob's victim.

Sickness of A. H. Garland.

Ex-Attorney General A. H. Garland, who for several weeks has been under a physician's care in Little Rock, Ark., has been removed to Washington, D. C., and will be placed in a hospital there for treatment. Mr. Garland's health is broken from his long confinement caused by his broken ankle.

Big Fire in Pittsburg.

The Pittsburg Stock Exchange building was completely cleaned out by fire. The building was occupied by the Stock Exchange, Union Trust Company, Durr's cafe and a large number of stock brokers. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

Henry George Is Dead.

Henry George, the candidate of the Jeffersonian Democracy for Mayor of Greater New York, died in the Union Square Hotel in that city. Death is thought to have been due to apoplexy.

HOME RULE FOR INDIANS.

Chief Isparcecher Proposes a Council of Leading Men.

The initial step toward what may be the final termination of the vexed Indian problem in the Indian Territory has just been taken by Chief Isparcecher in a special message to the Creek council. The plan advocated is supposed to be the result of the recent conference of leaders of the Cherokee, Creek and Seminole tribes, and Chief Mayes of the Cherokee Nation is known to favor the plan. In his message Chief Isparcecher says: "Our effort to treat with the United States Government has proved unsuccessful and we can now have no hope of continuing our government much longer as we now do by the terms of any new treaty. The time has now come, in my opinion, when the citizens of the five nations should get together and agree upon the establishment of a general government by which we may perpetuate the rights of self-government. Should we be attacked of Oklahoma as a territory or State this right of self-government will be taken from us by the superior number of its voting population. None of us wants such a connection with Oklahoma, yet there are strong efforts being made by politicians for single statehood including the five nations. They are yet the sovereigns of their soil and politically free born, with the right to shape for themselves a government that will be for the protection of their lives and property." In conclusion the chief recommends the holding of a convention of the leading men of the five civilized tribes, to the end that the United States Government may receive definite proposals looking to the establishment of a government "of the Indians and for the Indians of the five civilized tribes."

PLAGUE GROWS WORSE.

Several Deaths and Many Fresh Cases in New Orleans.

The fever situation in New Orleans is as fickle as a weather vane. For two or three days the new cases and deaths will run to alarming figures. On following days both cases and deaths will drop and the impression be given that high water mark has been reached and that the disease is on the wane. Then there will be another jump. The present situation is not encouraging. The cases have nearly reached fifty and there have been no fewer than five deaths, of which one was that of a distinguished citizen, Rev. Dr. Purser of the Valence Street Baptist Church. The Board of Health officially reports: Cases, 50; deaths, 5; total to date, 1,074; deaths, 117; recovered, 553; under treatment, 44.

DIXIE HAS A BIG BOOM.

Industrial Situation Throughout the South Is Most Encouraging.

The industrial situation in the South shows many encouraging features and the Chattanooga Tradesman's Southern correspondents among prominent manufacturers and dealers report a feeling of confidence and continued satisfaction as to the volume of trade. The iron and steel production is heavy, and the mills have orders on hand to keep them busy until the first of the year. The lumber and textile industries are active, and coal elevators report an increasing demand for their product.

Goods Being Distributed.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "After the heaviest buying ever known in many branches during September and the first half of October it was both natural and desirable that a more quiet period should give time for testing the size and temper of retail trade and for distributing part of the enormous quantities bought. In textile goods the rush of orders went far beyond all distributive demand in August, and represented great replenishment of stocks, and the similar rush for goods has been correspondingly great in other lines during the past two months. The iron industry waits because possible production for the year has been practically ordered, while neither buyers nor sellers regard contracts at current prices for next year's business quite safe. Anthracite coal is sold at $4.15 in New York harbor, or 20 cents below the circular, and conservative estimates make the year's output 40,500,000 tons. The only noteworthy feature in minor metals is a sensational collapse in lead of 30 points, with sales of 3,000 tons. The severe decline in cotton to 6.12 cents from 8.25 cents Aug. 30 is due to widespread confidence in large estimates in yield. A natural consequence is the fall in print cloths to the lowest point in the history of the market. 2.37 cents, and cotton goods generally are easy with limited sales of staples. All woolen goods are firm, but there is no new business of note for spring outside of dress goods. Sales of wool have sharply decreased again at Boston, amounting to only 3,043,000 pounds, against over 13,000,000 pounds the last week in September, and the week there was the dullist since Jan. 7. The produce market acted with as little apparent reason as usual. Although Atlantic exports of wheat were 3,576,607 bushels, flour included, and for three weeks of October 10,309,908 bushels, against 7,742,214 last year, with Western receipts not 500,000 bushels larger, the price advanced 2½ cents. Corn, with smaller receipts and exports, barely a quarter of last year, declined a small fraction. Failures for the week were 224 in the United States, against 274 last year, and 36 in Canada, against 60 last year."

Packing Revival at Sioux City.

The Sioux City, Iowa, dressed beef and canning plant will be opened by the Cudahys of Chicago by Jan. 1. Their lease is for ten years. One thousand laborers will be employed and $200,000 expended in repairing the house. It is almost certain that competing firms will reopen the Silberhorn and Booge plants also before the first of next year.

Texas Send Arms to Cubans.

Within the past few days $50,000 worth of arms and ammunition have been shipped to the Cuban insurgents from San Antonio, Texas.

Tribesmen Lose Heavily.

The losses of the tribesmen at the storming of Dargai ridge, India, were 1,000 killed and wounded.

CAUGHT IN THE ICE.

DISCOURAGING NEWS FROM THE WHALING FLEET.

Fourteen Boats in Distress in Bering Sea—1,000 Hands Are Held Fast in the Pack and Threatened with Starvation—Shot His Father.

Fast in the Ice.

The news reaching San Francisco from the whaling fleet is discouraging. Nearly all the vessels have been caught in the ice and some of them may not last through the winter. Not since the winter of 1884, when the fleet was caught in the ice off Herald Island, has such wholesale disaster threatened. Fourteen steamers, barks and schooners with 1,000 hands are known to be in the pack, and only five of them are supposed to have more than two months' supplies aboard. A dispatch received by the merchants' exchange says: "The whaling steamer Orea and Belvedere, the whaling steamer Rosario and the steam tender Jeanie are frozen in to the west of Point Barrow and may be crushed in the ice. There are no provisions on the whalers, but as they are near land, the crews may be able to reach an Eskimo village."

FIERCE ATLANTIC GALE.

Great Damage Done All Along the Eastern Coast.

With a rush and a roar, spreading destruction in its path, a hurricane from the West Indies swept up the Atlantic coast and created havoc among coasting vessels. The shores of New Jersey and Long Island were strewn with wreckage, and much damage on the beach fronts was reported. The wind out at sea was terrific. Occasionally a velocity of a hundred miles an hour was reached. Even in the vicinity of New York the storm raged with unusual ferocity. The highest tide known in two years dashed over the stone abutments at the Battery, flooded the docks and found its way into the cellars of buildings along West and South streets and Battery place. So severe was the storm that only two vessels left the port. The damage to property on Coney Island is estimated to be not less than $100,000. Much damage was done to other coast resorts. Several vessels were stranded at different places on the seaboard.

ON HYGIENIC GROUNDS.

Belgium Restricts the Importation of American Cattle.

Consul Lincoln, at Antwerp, Belgium, in a report to the State Department at Washington, says that one of the matters now interesting importers is the restriction thrown in the way of the import of cattle from both North and South America on hygienic grounds. The Antwerp chamber of commerce is doing all in its power to remove the restrictions. There has been a large increase in the importation of wheat from the United States, also of rye, barley, corn and oats. The United States furnishes a considerable amount of cast steel, petroleum and tobacco.

Naval Deserters.

Since the cruiser Baltimore has been anchored in the harbor at San Francisco preparatory to going to Honolulu her commander has reported to the police the almost daily desertion of three or four of the crew. Already twenty have succeeded in escaping and unless a stricter watch is kept it is believed that another draft of men will have to be sent from the East to fill her complement. One night seven men succeeded in getting ashore by swimming and in small boats.

Killed His Father.

Thomas Flannely shot and killed his father, Patrick Flannely, one of the most respected citizens of Redwood City, Cal., because he had been ordered from a ranch for disregarding the old man's wishes. The crime was committed in the elder Flannely's home, which the son had evidently entered with the intent of doing murder. The son was arrested after a severe fight in which he was seriously wounded.

Drunken Man's Fury.

At Gorham, N. J., Thomas Monahan, while crazed with drink, shot Joseph Gauthier, an employe of the Grand Trunk Railroad, killing him instantly. Monahan also shot Selectman Gates of Gorham, probably fatally injuring him. Later another body was found, which it is believed, is that of a third victim of Monahan's fury.

GEN. MILES REPORTS.

Says More Soldiers Are Needed to Garrison New Fortifications.

Gen. Miles, commanding general of the army, has made his annual report to the Secretary of War at Washington. He commends the efficiency of the army and speaks of the progress that has been made on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts in the matter of fortifications. He asks that Congress authorize two more regiments of artillery to garrison the new fortifications, and also five additional regiments of infantry. The general devotes considerable attention to Alaska, and says that the waters of Alaska should be thoroughly examined by the naval forces, and that there should be at least three military posts established in the territory to support the civil authorities. He refers to the improved conditions of the Indians, and recommends that the policy of employing army officers as Indian agents be continued. He makes recommendations in detail for the protection of coast points and says the maximum peace footing of the army should be one enlisted man to every 1,000 population and the minimum one to every 2,000.

SHOT BY HIS OWN PALS.

Bank Robber Gilcoin Is Fatally Shot at Blairsburg, Iowa.

Edward Gilcoin, a bank robber, is lying at the point of death in Blairsburg. He was shot by his pals, who mistook him for an officer. The bandits used dynamite, wrecked the building, and got away with $6,000.

The Line to Be Agreed Upon.

It is believed in Washington that in view of the great prominence Alaska has achieved owing to the recent gold discoveries and the importance of definitely fixing the boundary line between our territory and that of the Dominion of Canada that the Senate, when it assembles in December, will take early action upon the treaty pending between Great Britain and the United States for the survey and marking of the 141st meridian. The 141st meridian marks the eastern boundary of Alaska down to within ten marine leagues of the southern coast, where the line trends to the southeast, keeping that distance from the coast. Concerning the 141st meridian there is, of course, no controversy between the United States and Great Britain, but no basis of settlement of the southeastern line has yet been reached by the two countries. But in the determination many intricate questions are involved; whether the coast line shall be assumed to follow the sinuosities of the shore or run from headland to headland; or, whether the line shall be considered to run ten marine leagues from the outer shore of the island, which form a sort of archipelago along the coast. The Government officials who have studied the question are confident that our title includes the islands and ten marine leagues of territory from the coast line with all its sinuosities.

Heavy Floods in Italy.

Unusually heavy rains and floods have done serious damage in the districts about Ancona, on the Adriatic; Recanati, in Macerata; on the Murone, and at Rimini. All these towns are partially submerged. In the Ancona district there has been some loss of life. The Government has assigned troops to assist the inhabitants in saving property and in the work of repairs.

A GRAVE SITUATION.

FEAR SERIOUS COMPLICATIONS IN AUSTRIA.

It Is Possible that the Deadlock in the Reichsrath May Cause a Suspension of the Constitution—Officers for 33d Degree Masons.

Austria and Hungary.

The present deadlock in the reichsrath at Vienna, owing to the German obstruction, has created a critical situation, and in some quarters a suspension of the Austrian constitution is believed possible. At a late session of the lower house, after an uproarious dispute between Dr. Kramarez, the acting president, and the German opposition, the chamber adopted by a large majority the acting president's proposal to discuss the motions for the impeachment of the ministry at the morning sittings and to devote the evenings to the bill for the extension of the compromise with Hungary, the delay in adopting which is causing much resentment in Hungary and rendering the passage of the treaty by the Hungarian parliament extremely doubtful. In the lower house of the Hungarian parliament at Budapest, Baron Banffy, the premier, replying to Herr Francis Kossuth, son of the celebrated Hungarian patriot, who urged the Government to "take advantage of Austrian chaos and try for Hungary's independence," declared that the ministry had no intention of turning Austria's difficulties unreasonably to the advantage of the Hungarians. "The union of the two countries," he declared, "must be regarded as indissoluble. Should the Austrian constitutional system break down—which God forbid—the Hungarian Government would be obliged to act independently regarding the joint questions of the customs and commercial treaty between Austria and Hungary, and of the charter and privileges of the Austro-Hungarian banks." This announcement caused a great sensation, and it is believed that Baron Banffy spoke with the consent of the emperor-king, and that his statement points to the possibility of absolutist government in Austria.

ANSWER FROM SPAIN.

Woodford's Note Does Not Call Forth a Defiant Reply.

President McKinley has had laid before him at Washington the text of Spain's answer to Minister Woodford. In company with Secretary Sherman and Assistant Secretary Adee he went over the document with great care. As a result it can be stated from official quarters at the White House that the construction placed upon the answer by the administration is that it is not defiant in tone, is not menacing and is not warlike. Under such circumstances those officials who are chiefly concerned in the negotiations do not feel that any crisis is near at hand, nor do they fear that the answer presents an issue beyond the power of diplomatic solution. On the contrary, the entire disposition in administration quarters is to treat the answer as satisfactory in tone, and as a marked advance in the assurances Spain has heretofore given. Notwithstanding this official view, there are those who believe that the message is much stronger in tone than the officials will admit, and that it presents issues which will call from the President a ringing message when he lays the case and all the correspondence before Congress a few weeks hence. From no authoritative source, however, can this belligerent view be confirmed.

INDIANA INCIDENTS TERSELY TOLD.

She Thinks She Likes Her First Husband Better than Her Second—Found Her Son After Eighteen Years—Big Oil Strikes Near Peru.

The Husband Came Back.
Several years ago Walter Jameson left Evansville because he was out of work and hard up. His wife remained behind. After waiting for five years after last hearing from him, Mrs. Jameson concluded her husband was dead. She then married George Babcock. A few days ago Jameson returned there to see his wife and he found her in a predicament. He is now a rich man and still loves her. She prefers Jameson to Babcock. An effort will be made to get a legal separation through the courts, there having been no intent on the part of the woman to commit bigamy.

Finds Her Long-Lost Son.
Eighteen years ago, when James Fear died, he left a young wife and a 6-months-old son in destitute circumstances. Being unable to properly care for her baby, Mrs. Fear placed him in the orphan's home at Elwood and then went to California to reside. Several years later she married quite a wealthy man and then sent back for the son. The boy in the meantime, however, had been adopted by a rich bachelor, who had taken him to England, and the mother was unable to find him, although the search for him was never abandoned. Not long since, while in Chicago, she met on a principal thoroughfare a young man who bore a striking resemblance to herself and whom she at once believed was her son. She addressed him and after some explanation found that her surmises were correct.

Big Oil Strikes.
The development of the oil field in Cass and Miami counties has created a craze for speculation among all classes. Less than three months ago Dick Strouse of Peru organized a company and drilled a well which proved a "gusher," and now every little village of consequence in the two counties has its own company, and money at command to drill for oil. Merchants, clerks, farmers and laborers who never before ventured their money in speculation have yielded to the oil craze. At present Peru is the most conspicuous point in the field. Nearly 200 wells have been drilled, and only five or six are yielding less than fifty barrels a day.

Three Killed at a Crossing.
At a dangerous blind crossing between Oakland and Lawrence three men were instantly killed. They had been to a logging camp, and were on their way home when struck by a Big Four train.

All Over the State.
At Limestone, James Neven was struck on the head with a beer bottle hurled by Noah George. He will die.

At Greencastle, Carl Huffman, aged 14, had both of his legs cut off while jumping on a Big Four train. His injuries are fatal.

Mrs. Lizzie Harding, who shot and killed Miss Mary Rosenbaum at Jeffersonville, was indicted for murder in the first degree.

John McCrea, a farmer living three miles north of Princeton, accidentally shot and fatally wounded his 12-year-old son Charles.

John Steward of Kokomo claims to be the oldest Odd Fellow in the world. He has been a member of the order fifty-five years, and is 85 years old.

News has been received of the suicide of William Gray, a farm hand employed by Horace Hampton, near Dover. He hanged himself with a log chain.

Rev. Dr. W. E. Storey of Chicago has accepted a call to the First Baptist Church of Valparaiso. He was a missionary to Japan for four years.

J. L. Dobson of Summitville, has brought action for a receiver for the City Gas Company of Summitville. He is one of the owners, and states it is insolvent.

Mrs. Sarah M. Hooker of Bicknell sued Josiah Phillips, a rich neighbor, for $5,000 damages for breach of promise. Phillips is a widower, 68 years old.

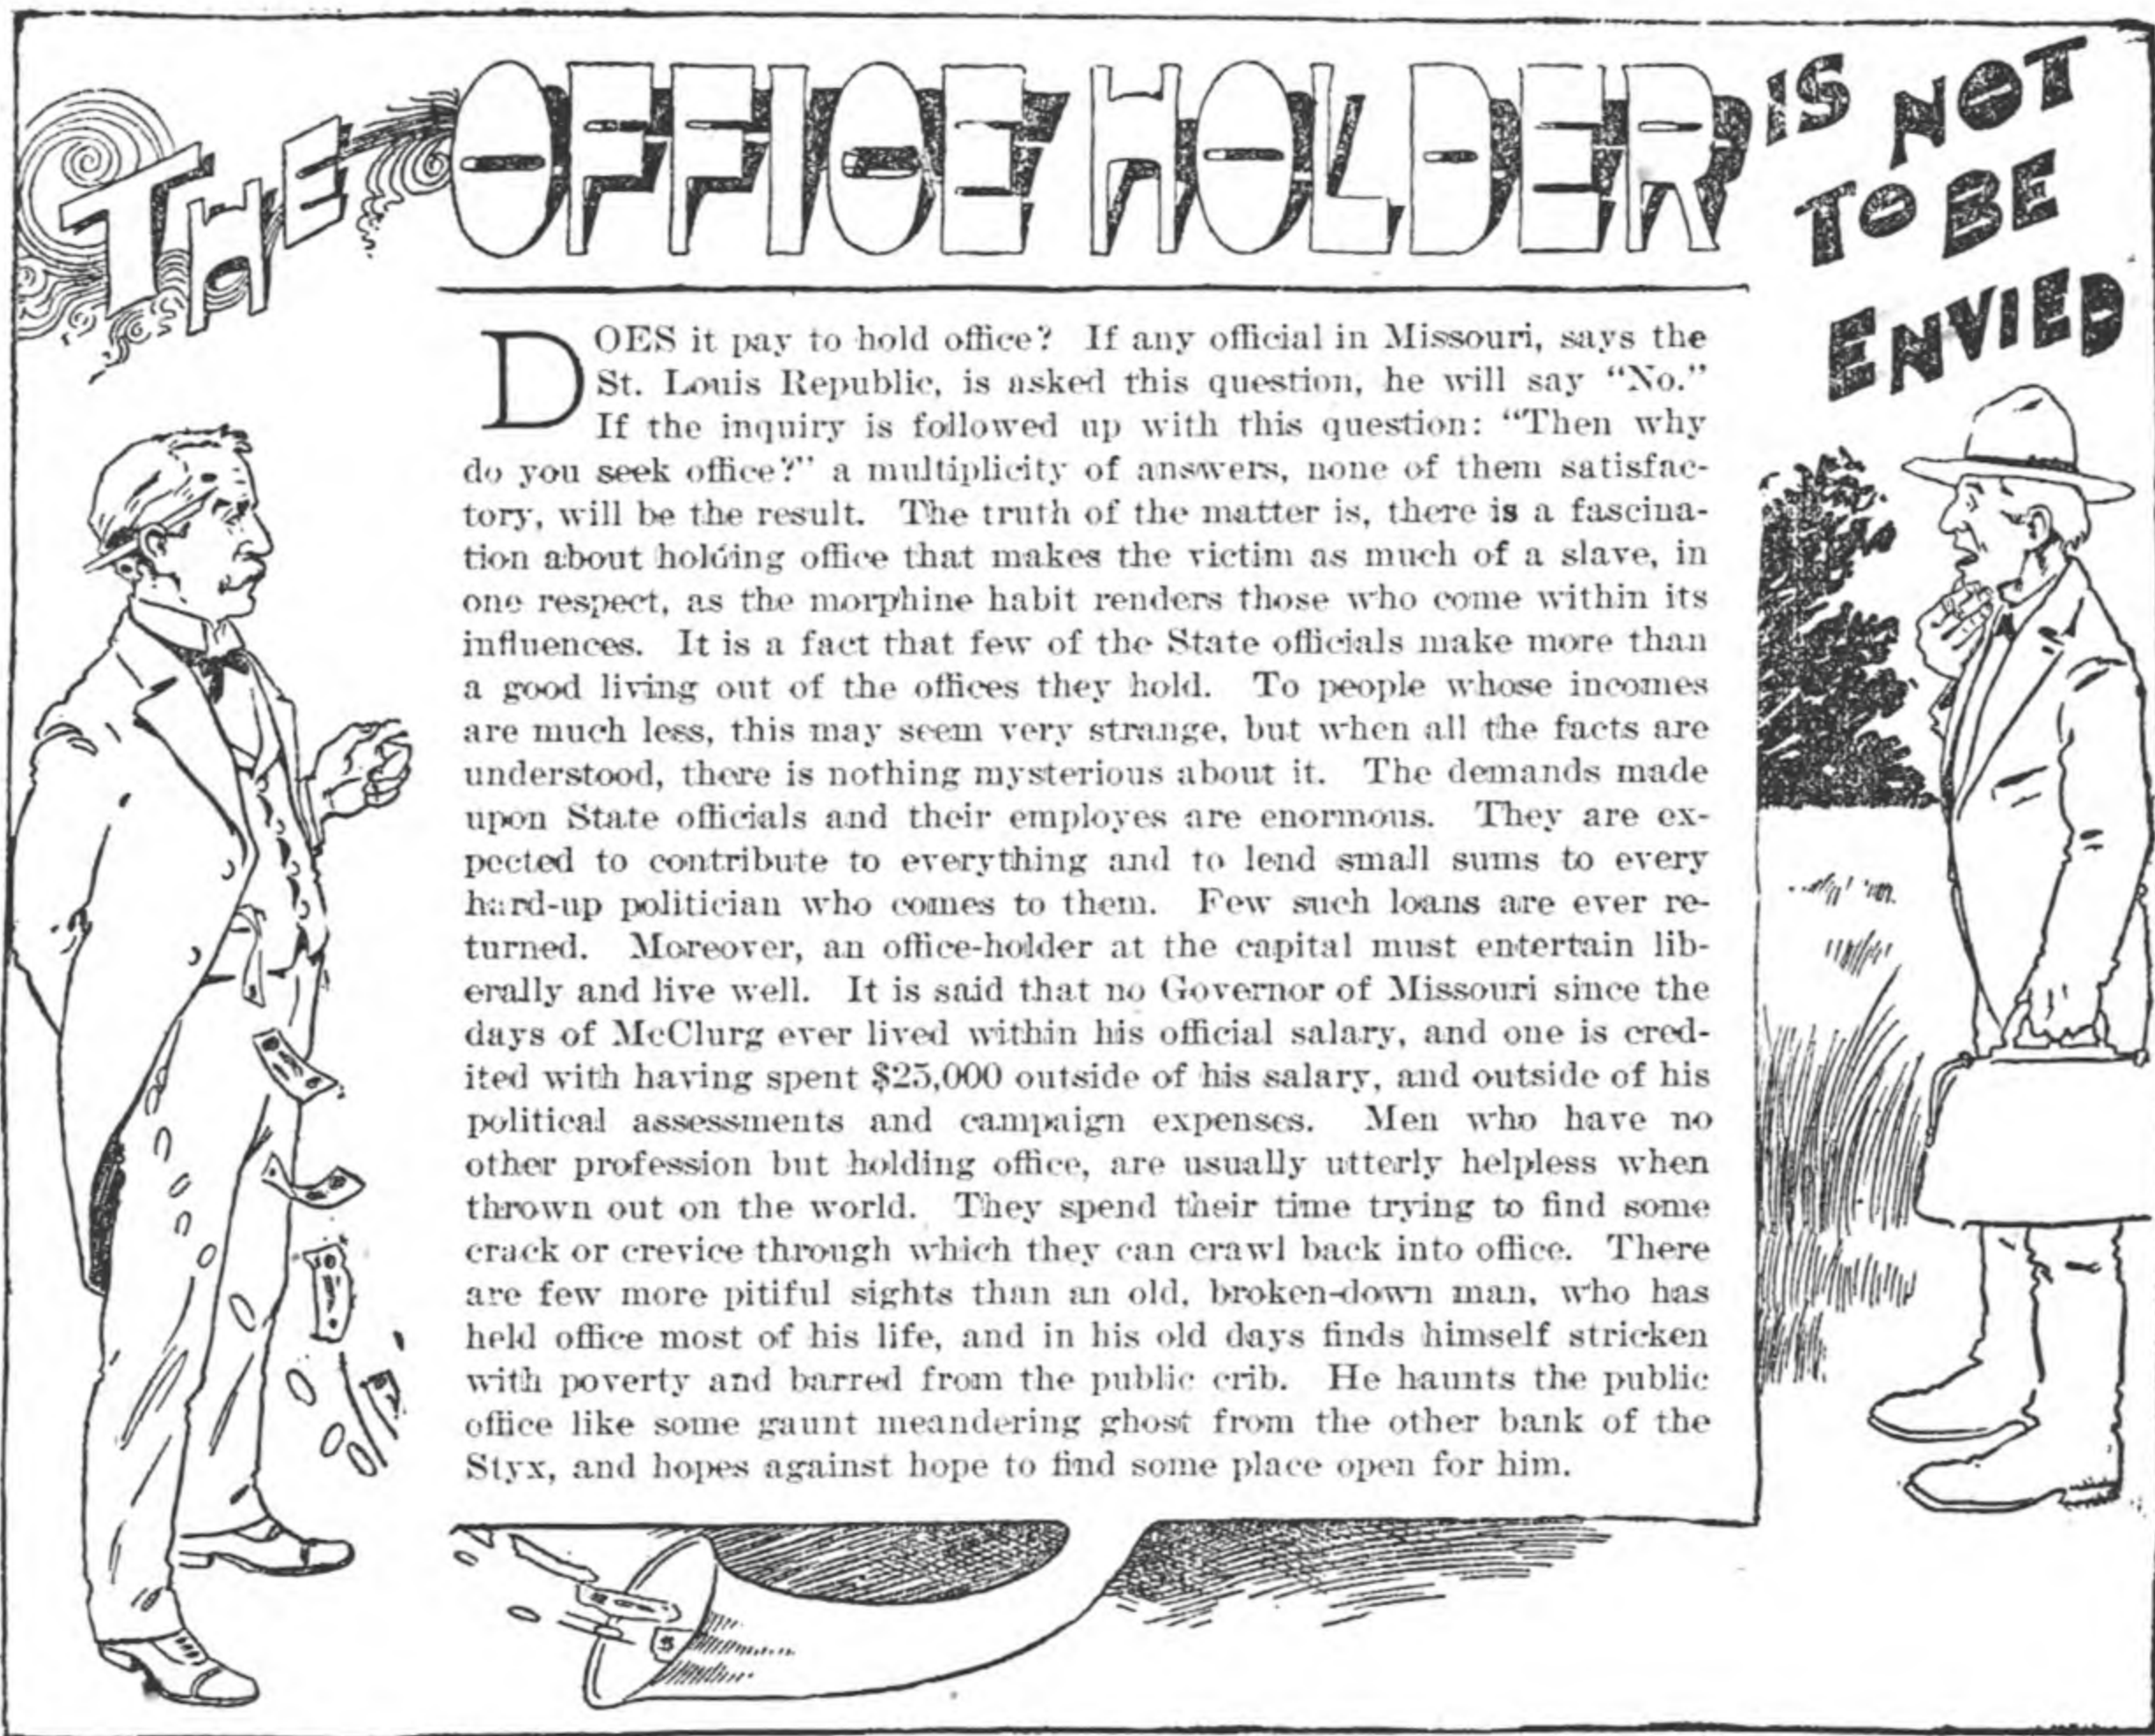

Seymour was defeated by the small margin of 188 votes in the late election on the question of the removal of the county seat from Brownstown to Seymour.

The American Wire Nail Company announces that it will increase the capacity of its plants in Anderson by adding twenty-five more nail machines at once. They now have a capacity of about 2,600 kegs of nails a day and employ seven hundred men.

Masked men forced an entrance into John Wright's home in Munroe County, dragged him from his bed and administered a severe whipping with switches, the alleged grievance being that he did not support his family. Wright is 70 years old and quite feeble.

A robbery occurred the other night at the home of James Hamilton, who lives north of LaGrange. A large fodder stack and a barn were set on fire, and while Hamilton and his neighbors were fighting the flames the house was ransacked, Hamilton sustained a heavy loss.

William P. Miller, once a lieutenant in the Twenty-fifth Iowa Infantry, and chaplain of Post No. 350, G. A. R., at Ridgeville, has been absent from his home since Oct. 11. On the 8th he sent a trunk by express to his daughter, who resides at Council Bluffs, Iowa, and on the morning of the 11th he got his pension check on the Des Moines agency out of the Ridgeville postoffice and started to Winchester, where he left his horse and buggy, telling the liveryman that he would be back in a day or two, and, going to the Farmers and Merchants' Bank, had his pension check (for $51) cashed, since when nothing can be learned of his whereabouts.

DR. HOUGHTON TO RETIRE.

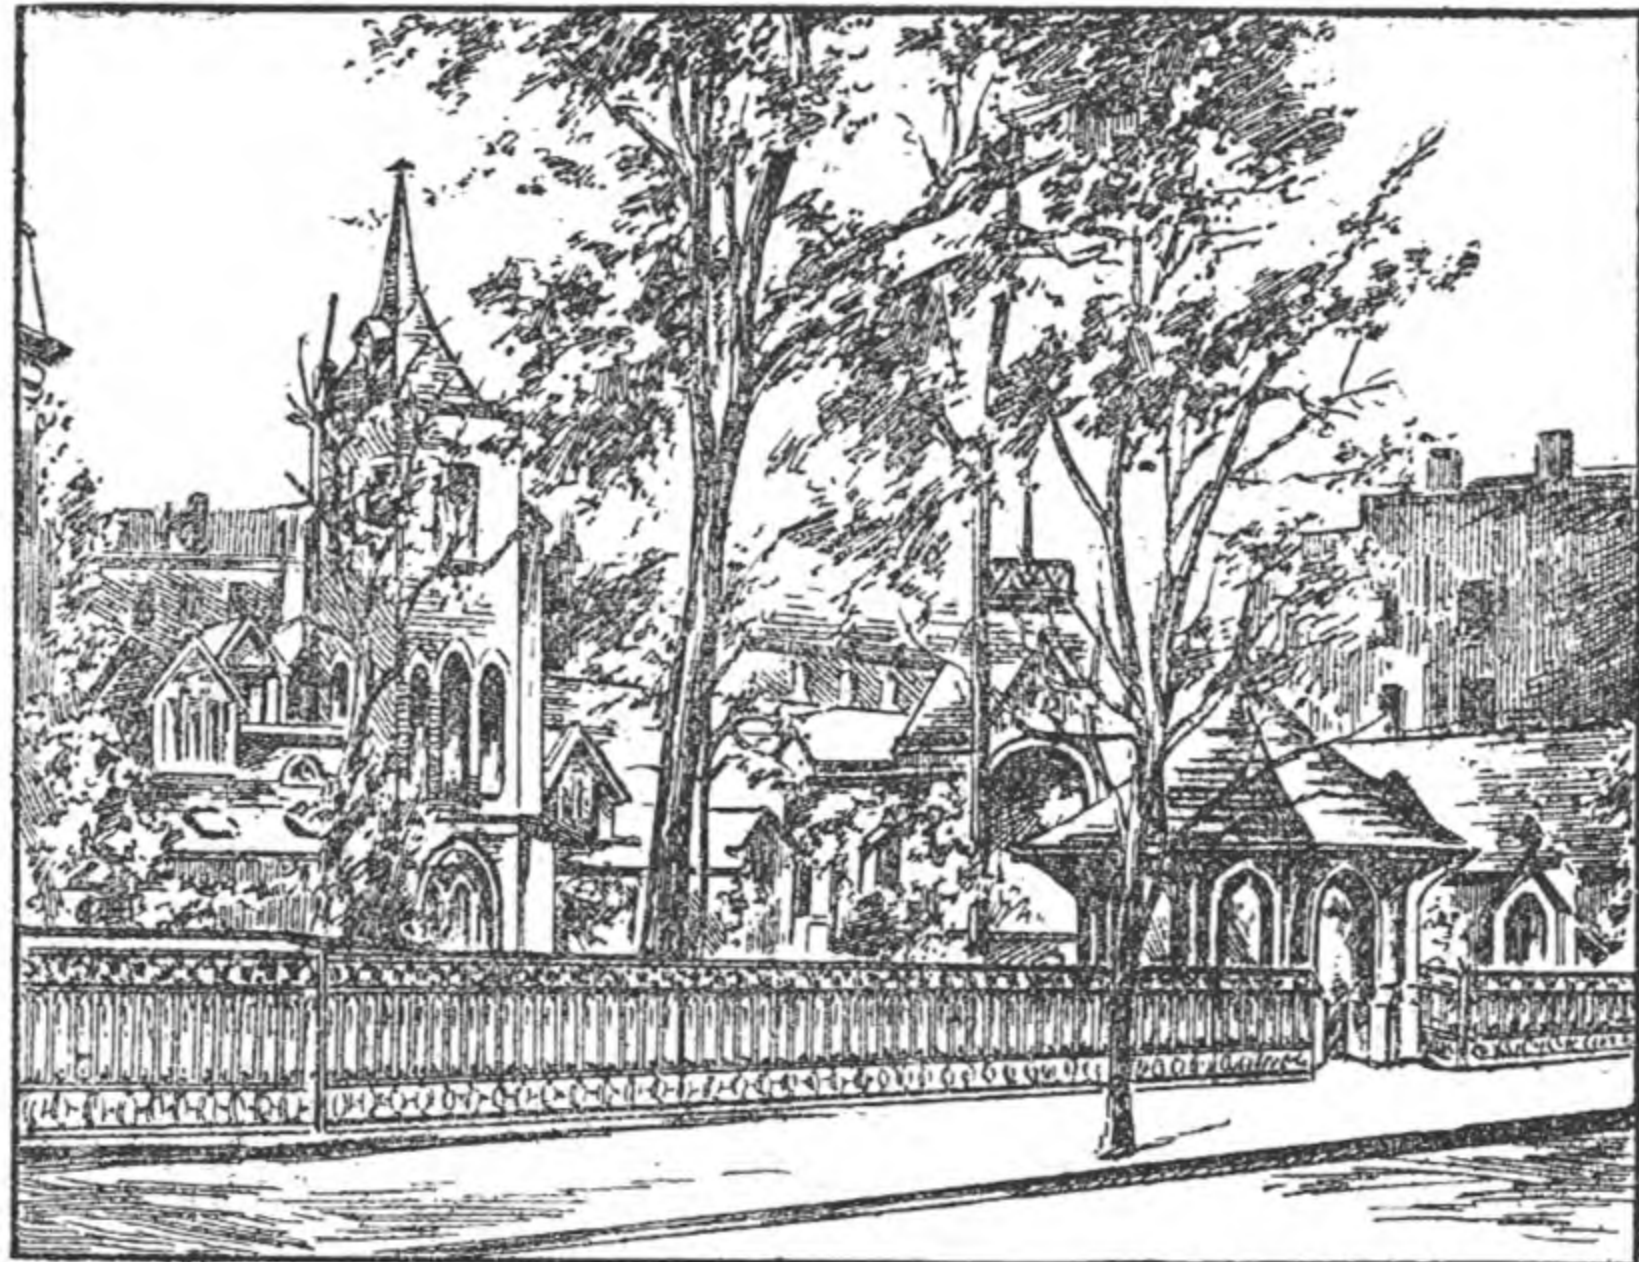

Pastor of a Famous Church to Give Way to His Nephew.

Few religious edifices in the country are better known than "the little church around the corner," technically called the Church of the Transfiguration, located on East Twenty-ninth street, between Fifth and Madison avenues.

REV. DR. HOUGHTON.

New York. For forty-seven years Rev. Dr. George H. Houghton has been rector, and now, old age and faithful service giving him full title to rest, he is about to retire. His favorite nephew, bearing the same name as himself, and at present pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church, Hoboken, will succeed him.

"THE LITTLE CHURCH AROUND THE CORNER."

The little church around the corner is especially associated with actors and actresses, for it is there that the members of that profession have been married and it is from there that they have been buried. It all came about in this way: Joseph Holland, an English actor and the father of Joseph and E. M. Holland, actors of the present generation, died twenty-six years ago in New York City, and Joseph Jefferson took charge of the funeral arrangements. He went, accompanied by a son of the dead actor, to a church that then stood at Madison avenue and Twenty-eighth street, and asked the pastor to conduct the services.

"No," said the minister. "I can't have an actor's funeral in my church. My congregation would not like it. But there is a little church around the corner where they do such things."

Mr. Jefferson was amazed. Then he exclaimed, "God bless the little church around the corner!" and from that church the funeral of Joseph Holland was held. The "little church around the corner" it has been ever since, and to every actor there is a veritable magic in the name.

Let Brides Promise to "Obey."

"If a girl shrinks from the word 'obey,' or hesitates to speak it at the altar, it will be better that she shall never approach the hour of her marriage," writes Edward W. Bok in the Ladies' Home Journal, in reply to inquiries from two girls if they should insist upon the word "obey" being omitted from their marriage ceremony. "Either she is doubtful of her own love or distrusts the heart of her lover. And in either case her marriage will be a sin in the eyes of God. Where marriage is a union of true love—and marriage should be naught but that—the question of 'obey' is not thought of; it does not enter the mind of the girl. One thought alone is uppermost and supreme: the union of two loving hearts, each filled with the thought of the other—both to be united in one complete whole. That is marriage, and that alone. Let non-essentials enter it, and the holiest state into which man and woman can enter this side of Heaven becomes a wrong, an irreparable sin.

"Shall these two girls, then, and all other girls with their faces turned toward the altar of marriage during these weeks to come, say, 'obey'? Yes, a thousand times yes. And as they say it to the men of their hearts, so will the men, in turn, promise to love them as wives, 'even as Christ loved the Church' which unites them, 'and gave Himself for it.' No woman has ever found it difficult to obey the husband who loves her as only a true man can love one woman in a universe. She does not find the little word coming up in her married life to make her regret its utterance. On the contrary, she never thinks of it, except to be thankful that she did not shrink from it. The state of matrimony is not a state of demand on the part of the husband, nor of obedience on the part of the wife. It is a perfect state that lifts two people higher, a state where love is masterful and supreme."

Hints on Carving.

To carve a loin of veal or mutton begin at the small end and cut the ribs apart. A fillet of veal should be cut first from the top, and in a breast of veal the breast and brisket should first be cut apart and then in pieces.

A sirloin of beef should be placed on the platter with the undercut underneath. Thin-cut slices should be taken from the side next the carver, and then turn over the roast and carve from underneath. A portion of both should be helped.

A leg of mutton should be carved across the middle of the bone first and then from the thickest part until the gristle is reached. A few nice slices can be cut from the smaller end, but it is usually hard and stringy.

A man may be a good talker and still have an impediment in his thoughts.

GLUES DOWN HIS GIFT.

Pastes a Dollar on the Collection Plate Every Sunday.

Virgil Richard Jaeger is the name of an eccentric, mild-mannered old man, who in the last two years has caused a great deal of trouble to the authorities of Trinity chapel, West 25th street, New York. Every Sunday in the period named he has appeared in his seat at morning service and has pasted a dollar bill in the middle of the wooden collection plate. He sits in the front row, and his offering is the first to be taken up. He has the bill ready. The under side is covered with a resinous substance which adheres like glue and has the odor of turpentine. He deposits the bill flat, gives it a parting pat to fasten it firmly, and fixes his eyes upon the Caen stone reredos. The mucilage is always fresh.

Mr. Jaeger, who is a printer and about 60 years old, is tall and slender. He comes to church every Sunday morning attired in a long coat, with white necktie, silk hat, kid gloves and an air of gentle solemnity. He takes his place in a calm and dignified manner. He reads the responses, shows a passing interest in the hymns, and after the sermon he draws that bill from beneath the folds of his coat, apparently, and deposits it with patient care. For a long time the church people were unable to learn where he kept the glue with which he stuck the bill. At length it was discovered that the "stickum" was concealed in his hat, which also held a tiny brush used in laying on the stuff. The old gentleman is evidently a harmless member of the large army of cranks.

Pushing One Thing.

"A shoemaker makes a good shoe because he makes nothing else," says Emerson, and the idea may be taken up with advantage in almost any line of business. A merchant tailor in a town of 60,000 population made some cassocks for a few local priests. Now he is advertising himself in the Catholic papers and by circulars to the clergy of that church as a "cassock-maker," and sends hundreds of these garments all over the United States, and is kept busy the year round. At home he is simply a merchant tailor, doing a good business, while his out-of-town customers know him only as a man whose particular business is making cassocks, and who, making a specialty of this feature, is enabled to supply a better cassock and at a lower price than they can get elsewhere.—Printers' Ink.

Certain Flowers Are Poisonous.

As so many salads are now made from flowers, even children have taken to eating buttercups, and, as a result, a small boy at Pittsburg died a few days ago. The poisonous flowers are buttercups, celandine, wood anemone, daffodils, narcissus, lily, snowdrop, jonquil, wild hyacinth, monk's hood, foxglove, nightshade, briony, mezerone and henbane.

DEATH OF HENRY GEORGE.

Noted Apostle of Single Tax Succumbs to Apoplexy.

Henry George, the apostle of single tax, died suddenly at 5 o'clock Friday morning in his room at the Union Square Hotel, New York City. Apoplexy was the cause. Mr. George made four speeches Thursday night in his campaign as candidate for Mayor of Greater New York, and was very fatigued when he retired. It is believed the sudden attack that ended his life was brought on by the unusually severe strain occasioned by his speech-making.

Henry George was the mayoralty candidate of the silver Democrats of Greater New York. He had made up to the night before his death a red hot campaign, in which he promised, if elected, to do his best to send Richard Croker to the penitentiary. To his denunciations of Croker he added denunciations of Senator Thomas C. Platt. He had entered the contest with great earnestness, and his campaign speeches throughout were marked with great fervor and earnestness. His exhaustive labors are thought to have led directly to his death.

Henry George was born in Philadelphia on Sept. 2, 1839, and as a boy went to California. He drifted into journalism in San Francisco and attained some celebrity as a writer on political theories. In 1879 he published Progress and Poverty, which acquired a world-wide reputation. In it he gave the result of his investigations among the poor of the great cities and his theories for reform. About the same time he first expressed his plan of taxing property on a single value—that is, taxing the land itself and not the improvements thereon. This was the origin of the single tax doctrine.

In 1880 he removed to New York. The following year he published a volume on Ireland and England. His publications of various theories on political economy made him one of the best known men in the country. In 1886 he was the candidate of the laboring element for Mayor of New York, but was defeated by Abram S. Hewitt by 22,000 votes. He led Theodore Roosevelt, the Republican nominee, by 8,000 votes. Ever since then Mr. George has been more or less identified with political movements.

WORK FOR THE GOVERNOR.

Washington's State Treasurer Arranges a Big Job for the Executive.

Gov. Rogers of Washington has proclaimed his intention of investigating State Treasurer Young's accounts. He has announced that he, in company with one of the Supreme Court judges, will count all the money in the treasury.

In order that the Governor may have as much enjoyment as possible out of his self-appointed job, Mr. Young has changed every piece of gold and paper currency in the treasury to its equivalent in silver cartwheel dollars. This will enable the Governor and his assistant to bend their backs, lame their wrists and consume a good deal of valuable time in counting 120 tons of silver dollars. Moreover, Treasurer Young will not permit either the Governor or the judge to enter the treasury without giving bonds.

Certainly you don't want to suffer with dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache, yellow skin and loss of appetite. You have never tried DeWitt's Little Early Riser for these complaints or you would have been cured. They are small pills but great regulators. Culver City Drug Store.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.

RESORSE, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. SHARP. For sale at Culver City Drug Store.

One of Two Ways.

The bladder was created for one purpose namely, a receptacle for the urine, and such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. All drugists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention the CULVER CITY HERALD and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
