H. of 1904.

E. R. Vetschick has just returned from North Dakota and speaks in the highest terms of that country. He went over the Northern Pacific, and says the agents did not maintain the picture of the country along the Pacific. Neither did the agents over the Great Northern. He will return just as soon as he can arrange matters here, and locate a general store there. The State board of equalization regulations take a good view of agriculture from physicians of other states who wish to make visits to business in prison. The law forbids his and any physician from another state who practice in Indiana unless he is duly licensed in that state. There is a provision, it is thought, that those on the Indiana of full and complete in Indiana at their homes, but that such on visit there, are exempt also.

WHAT OF THAT?

Tired! Well, what of that? Didst fancy life was spent on beds of ease...

Dark! Well, and what of that? Didst fondly dream the sun would never set?

Hard! Well, and what of that? Didst fancy life one summer holiday? With lessons none to learn, and naught but play?

No help! Nay, it's not so! Though human help be far, thy God is nigh.

MEN OF MARK.

Russell Sage says in a recent interview that his good health is due largely to the fact that he had avoided social functions.

William Kern of Providence is still pursuing the trade of watchmaking at the age of 82 years, after 63 years' work at it.

Thomas A. Edison's first large earnings were $40,000. This he got from a telegraph company for the model of the now famous "Nicker" for which he had intended to ask $5,000.

Two of the grandsons of John C. Calhoun live in the northern states. They are Patrick Calhoun of Cleveland and John C. Calhoun of New York. Both are wealthy, having made their money in coal, iron and manufacturing enterprises.

Senator E. Payne, chairman of the house ways and means committee, has a voice which is the envy and despair of most congressmen. In carrying power it has no equal, and through every syllable is plain all over the house the tones are never harsh or wearying.

Senator Cockrell of Missouri is known as a most demure man and a short time ago surprised the employees in the senate folding room by appearing in their midst and taking off his coat, helping to get a quantity of documents ready for mailing.

Congressman William A. Jones of Virginia served during the civil war in the defense of Richmond and earned a nickname which still clings to him. He was born in Warsaw, Va., and his fighting qualities earned for him the title of "Thunder of Warsaw."

All the pictures of the new duke of Westminster convey the idea that he is a small man. This is very far from being the case. Although but 20 years of age, he is over six feet tall and well set up. He rejoices in the nickname of "Red Ox" and is quite as devoted as was his grandfather, the late duke, to sport.

Daniel H. Moffatt, the banker and mine owner of Denver, has given $100,000 to George Ross Lewis, cashier of the First National bank of Denver, and $75,000 to Thomas Keely, the assistant cashier of the same bank, as tokens of his regard. About a year ago Mr. Moffatt took the head waiter of the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, on a trip to Europe.

The will of the late Robert Brock Brigham of Boston bequeaths the bulk of his estate, estimated at several millions, to charities. One of these is a new hospital in Boston to be known as the Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables, to be maintained for the free treatment and support of needy incurables. Nearly every charitable institution in Boston is remembered.

Governor Crane of Massachusetts is very popular among the employees of his paper mill in Dalton. There are several aged men in the town whose sole duty is to walk to the office of the mills and draw their pay, a sort of pension for services loyally rendered in the past. A strike in the establishment has not been known in the three generations of family management.

THE HONEY MAKERS.

Lack of ventilation is a cause of dampness in many homes.

Honey improves with age; the older it is the finer the flavor.

More bees are lost by wintering than by disease, or any other cause.

Extracted honey is much easier kept than comb honey, as the latter is liable to get spoiled.

All work that is to be done with bees in winter time must be done on warm days while the bees are flying, and at no other time.

It is absolutely necessary that sufficient absorbent should be kept over the cluster to take up the moisture. If there is not absorbent enough, diarrhea will set in and more or less loss occur.

During cold weather it is not safe to feed liquids. The only food that should be used is candy, which may be made from granulated sugar. This may be fed in large cakes or slabs laid over the frames.

Every worker bee begins its life as a nurse bee, staying within the hive for the first week or ten days, supplying the larvae with the milky feed and capping them over when they are large enough to take care of themselves.—St. Louis Republican.

PEN, PENCIL AND BRUSH.

William Dean Howells has considerable ability with the pencil as well as with the pen. He is a born caricaturist and with some training would have made a better illustrator of his own books than Thackeray.

James L. Whitney, the new head of the Boston Public Library, speaks fluently French, German, Spanish, Italian and modern Greek. "The Tichener Catalogue of Spanish Literature" is one of his best known bibliographical works.

Rudolph Schwartz, the sculptor, has completed the first one of the colossal stone figures for the great Indianapolis soldiers' monument. The contract calls for its completion by next August, when the monument will be dedicated.

Count Tolstoy is recovering from his recent severe illness and is again at work upon his interminable revisions of the proofs of his "Resurrection." The American edition of this novel, we are informed, will be brought out before next autumn.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Japan has had a Hebrew synagogue since the year 1182.

The bishop of London is a lover of fine horses and used to be one of the best whips in England.

The strength of the various sections of the Methodist church by recent returns shows that throughout the world there are 7,357 churches, with 41,538 ordained ministers.

The Church of England is supported by income from investments, endowments and by voluntary contributions. The total revenue of the church is about $32,000,000.

You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure.

You want a remedy that is pleasant and safe to take.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only medicine in use that meets all these requirements. This remedy is famous for its cures of bad colds throughout the United States and in many foreign countries. It has many rivals, but, for the speedy and permanent cure of bad colds, stands without a peer and its splendid qualities are everywhere admired and praised.

For sale by T. E. Slattery, druggist, says he never had anything do him so in.

When you can not sleep for coughing take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always gives prompt relief. It is most excellent for colds, too, as it aids expectoration, relieves the lungs and prevents any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by T. E. Slattery, Druggist.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

Henry Clay Barnabee of Bostonians fame is 68 years of age, 45 of them having been spent on the stage.

Princess Saville, the soprano, has arrived from Europe and will be heard in concert under the management of Victor Thibaut.

"The Surprise of Love," in which Elsie de Wolfe will play a leading part, will be brought on by Charles Frohman early in the year.

"Brother Officers" and a new comedy by Clyde Fitch have been successfully brought out at the Empire theater, New York, by the stock company.

Charles Frohman will sail for Europe in March to stay until August. He has all his plans made for the rest of the season and nothing more to worry about.

Della Fox refused an exceptionally liberal offer from Foster & Blair to play in their New York house, not because she did not desire to play in vaudeville, but because she was under contract to Charles Frohman.

Louis N. Parker continues to be the great favorite of London theatrical paragraphs. His latest scheme, according to his idolaters, is to write a play in collaboration with M. Tierschu, a French dramatist, which is to be produced simultaneously in England and France.

"Mr. Bowser," the creation of M. Quad, together with his nagging wife, has been made into a play of one act by their delineator, and Gerald Griffin will put it on as a vaudeville act. "Mr. Deoley," the creation of Peter Dunne of Chicago, is also to become a stage character in the near future.

The Passion plays at Oberammergau are to commence next summer, as they did ten years ago, with a general rehearsal, open to visitors, on May 20. There will be 27 performances between May 24 and Sept. 30. Each performance will begin at 8 a. m. and last till 5 p. m., including an hour for dinner.

BRITON AND BOER.

The Boers have forbidden the sale of intoxicating drinks during the war. The barbarians!—Indianapolis News.

And to think of the Dutch farmers working off a gold brick on slick Joe Chamberlain!—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Perhaps one reason why the Boers do not get discouraged faster is that they do not read the London newspapers.—Washington Star.

Possibly Oom Paul is doing a little figuring himself with a view of ridding the burden as light as possible on the British taxpayers.—Baltimore Sun.

Still it is well to remember that General Joubert's plan of campaign was said to include a march to Cape Town at the beginning of the war.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

If Admiral Lord Dersford is correct in his assertion that the British navy is as rottenly directed as the British army, then indeed does England need all the alliances she can lay her hands on.—St. Louis Republic.

The Boers are farmers, but they do not go to war with plowshares and pruning hooks. They have a great many long range guns and other instruments of war which cannot be obtained at an agricultural implement store.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The use of dum-dum bullets adds to, does not lighten, the sufferings of battle. England did not agree at The Hague conference not to use the missiles, but humanity demands that she should not employ them in the war with the Transvaal.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE BEEHIVE.

In rendering beeswax a tin, brass or copper vessel should be used. An iron vessel will darken it.

In cold weather when bees are quiet they are doing well and should on no account be disturbed.

Whenever the bees begin to lead the drones out or pen them off to starve they are of no more value.

One objection to leaving the bees in their unprotected hives in winter is that the moisture arising from them will condense and freeze to the hive.

To feed bees place syrup over the cluster or sugar if the weather is cold. Place oilcloths over the cluster in which are a few small holes, around which the food is placed.

Strong colonies sometimes become depleted in number, with not enough left to maintain sufficient warmth to hatch the eggs. This is because no young bees have been hatched.

Empty frames of combs should be well taken care of during the winter. The worst enemy to empty combs during the winter is mice. Store the combs in mice-proof boxes.—St. Louis Republic.

THE QUEEN'S GENERALS.

If General Roberts makes a single blunder, the British public will quickly forget his extraordinary services to the empire.—Troy Times.

It is George White has done all he is credited with doing, the achievement does not seem likely to be of any substantial service to the British.—Chicago Chronicle.

General Lord Kitchener's first act upon reaching South Africa was to suppress the news. His real trouble will come, however, when he attempts to suppress the Boers.—St. Louis Republic.

Lord Methuen may not be in his right mind, but his South African campaign can hardly be accepted as a proof of the fact, for he has done quite as well as the other British commanders.—Syracuse Herald.

The fact that General Buller has done little or nothing since being in South Africa gives a touch of fine irony to the heliograph signal of Boers to the British recently: "Why is Roberts coming? What has Buller done?"—Indianapolis News.

is the way the old saying reads now. It used to be "the law's delays," but the war people have shown that when it comes to delaying, the law is "not in it" with them.
