The exploring steamer Southern Cross bearing C. E. Borchgrevink and the survivors of the south polar expedition, fitted out in 1898 by Sir George Newnes of London, has arrived at Wellington, New Zealand. Mr. Borchgrevink reports that the magnetic pole has been located. The Borchgrevink expedition left Hobart Tasmania, for the antarctic region Dec. 19, 1898. During the latter part of Feb ruary, 1899, the members landed from the Southern Cross near Cape Adair, Victoria Land, it having been arranged that the steamer should leave them there with full equipment of every kind and should return for them early in 1900. Mr. Borchgrevink's party consisted of nine, including himself.

BALLOT BOX SPIRITED AWAY.

Ohio Village Excited Over a Scandal at Special Election.

The village of Bettsville, Ohio, is in a wild state of excitement over a ballot box which has been spirited away. A special election was held there to decide upon the annexing of certain surrounding territory, of which the village is a part, for school purposes. The trouble began at the opening of the polls in the selection of officers. The two opposing factions jockeyed to obtain the advantage by having officers favorable to their interests. The progressive element won out. Those who opposed enlargement were disgruntled and threatened all kinds of trouble. During the excitement the ballot box disappeared.

WAR DUE TO A PLUT.

Filipino Document Sent to the Senate by the President.

Copies of official Filipino documents captured by the American troops were sent to the Senate Tuesday by the President, in compliance with a resolution. The most interesting paper is a translation of the minutes of a meeting of the Filipino junta at Hong Kong on May 5, 1898, four days after the destruction of the Spanish squadron by the American ships under Admiral Dewey's command.

At that meeting it was decided to prepare the Filipino people to fight the United States if this Government declined to give them independence, and measures were taken to secure arms for the Tagalogs, thus confirming from official Filipino sources the belief that the outbreak against the American troops near Manila on Feb. 4, 1899, was the result of a carefully prearranged plot.

At the junta's meeting on May 5 Aguinaldo, who had just arrived at Hong Kong from Singapore, was elected president of the committee. He told of "negotiations" between himself and the American consul at Singapore. The latter had recommended that Aguinaldo confer with Admiral Dewey regarding the proposition that the Filipino leader go to Manila in one of the American cruisers.

Aguinaldo did not wish to go without first securing a previous written agreement with Dewey, for he said if the latter once had him in power he might compel the signature of any agreement desirable. Therefore he urged the appointment of a committee to call upon Admiral Dewey and ascertain the intentions of the United States regarding the Philippines. Then, he said, if interventionby him were necessary, it would not be out of the way for him to go to the Philippines, procuring by such means as he could obtain succor for the fatherland. Unless there were a previous contract with Dewey, Aguinaldo further stated, the admiral might not "divide the armament necessary to guarantee the happiness of the fatherland." He also refers to the fear that by taking up arms against Spain he would lose his share in the $400,000 which had been deposited in the Hong Kong and Shanghai banks for the purpose of ending the insurrection.

The minutes show that Agoncillo favored sending Aguinaldo to the Philippines, where, as president, he "would be able to arouse them to combat the demands of the United States if the latter to supplement the regular army. colonized the country, and would drive The Federal Government's hand mostly young people, and the average of them (the Filipinos) if circumstances ren- reaches out into the domain of State ages would perhaps be in the twenties. der it necessary to a titanic struggle for their independence, even if later they should succumb to the weight of the yoke of a new oppressor."

According to the minutes the members of the junta voted unanimously that Aguinaldo and the other officers of the Filipino republic should go at once to Luzon, organize the government, and take measures to bring about the independence of the republic. This action was taken nine months before the outbreak of hostilities between the Filipinos and American forces.

AGREE ON "OPEN DOOR."

All the Great Powers Accept Secretary Hay's Chinese Proposal.

The correspondence between the Department of State and European governments in regard to the "open door" in China was sent to the House committee on foreign affairs Tuesday afternoon in response to a resolution introduced in the House by Representative Cummings of New York.

All the great powers-Great Britain, Germany, France, Russia and Italynave agreed to Secretary Hay's proposal for the maintenance of the "open door" in China. Our conditions, which have brought affirmative replies from all of the powers, are as follows:

1. That each, within its "sphere of influence" or leased territory in China, should pledge itself not in any way to interfere with any treaty port or vested right within the "sphere" or territory under lease.

2. That in all ports within the "spheres of influence" except free ports, all merchandise landed or shipped, irrespective of nationality, shall pay the Chinese treaty tariff for the time being, and the duties shall be paid to the Chinese Government.

3. That in ports in the "spheres of influence" the Government controlling that sphere will levy no greater harbor dues on vessels of any nationality than are levied on vessels of its own nationality, and that on railroads built, controlled or operated within these "spheres" the citizens of other nationalities shall pay no higher charges for transportation of merchandise than are paid by the citizens of the powers controlling such "spheres."

As the days were along the desire to visit Jipown at once and make Jilded visit, and he wrote him to that effect.

Then he went to the bank and called on his father. And while he was there his Uncle Tom came in, and the three were closeted for a long time in his father's private room. When they came out his Uncle Tom shook hands with him and patted him on the back in his usual hearty fashlon. And his father shook hands with him in graver fashion, and both the older men seemed highly elated. Spencer shook his head a little doubtfully as he left them. Then he braced up with a swift siffening of his figure and clenching of his hands, and accelerated his pace.

He arrived at Palmyra early in the evening and concluded he would look . Jim up in the morning. He went to the hotel and had his supper. After supper he strolled up to the clerk's desk and inquired about his friend.

"Oh, Jim Robbins?" cried the clerk. "Yes, yes. Jim is one of our leading citizens. He's a great hustler, Jim is, Going to send him to the State Senate next fall. A moment later there were some hurried introductions, and then Spencer found himself with his hand on the arm of Palmyra's Mayor, following closely in the footsteps of Jim Robbins and the distinguished guest of the evening as they passed down the long aisle to the table reserved for distinguished guests. The Hon. Jack Speed was seated on Jim's right and Spencer at his left, much to the latter's increased uneasiness. Then the banquet commenced, and for an hour the clatter and chatter continued without a break. Jim was as delight-

He took a mental brace. He had meant to sit down at the end of his next sentence. He kept right on. He talked well. He talked still better as he warmed to his subject. It was mostly a talk about patriotism. He spoke of the inspiring effect of the sight of the old flag when he saw it abroad. He told of the American who had fallen while attempting an ascent in Switzerland, and whom he had helped to carry to the nearest house where the hastily summoned surgeon limbs. The Ancients and Gems.

Ancient writers seem to have dwelt more especially on the occult qualities or gems rather than on their value, and quaint ideas are current in regard to them. Onomacritus, a priest and founder of Hellenic mysteries, B. C. 500, in speaking of the crystal, once said that "whose goes into the temple with this in his hand may be quite sure of having his prayer granted, as the gods cannot withstand its power." The Romans were at one period very extravagant in their use of gems, for, according to Pliny, they drank out of a mass of gems and their drinking vessels were formed of emeralds. Constantine was the first sovereign who luxuriated in a gemmed crown. The diamond to-day ranks third in value, precedence being taken by the pearl and the Burmah ruby. This is due to the great abundance of the diamond since the opening of the South African maies. Hardness is the test of the diamond-if a mineral cannot be cut by the woman whom above all others he a ruby or sapphire it must be a dia

"In time of war," he contended, women are useless. What would you do in the event of a civil war?"

MACRUM STORY TOLD.

House Committee Hears How Consul's Letters Were Opened.

Charles E. Macrum, former United States consul at Pretoria, was before the foreign affairs committee of the House Wednesday and told his story in regard to the alleged interference with his letters by the British censor. Afterward, in executive session, the committee, after considering the case, practically determined to let the matter drop without further action.

Macrum, in giving his testimony, began at the point where he first asked for leave to come home, saying that he desired to come on private business, and also to place before the Government certain facts, which he thought ought to be known here. Asked when he first became satisfied that his mail was being tampered with he said that he did not receive any mail between Oct. 12, when war was declared, and the second week in November. Ordinarily he had a box of mail a week. The first actual evidence he had was when he received two letters, which had been opened by the British censor, neither of them of any importance. In reply to a question by Representative W. A. Smith, he admitted that he had returned to the United States largely on account of private business. He had made no report to the State Department in regard to the letters, nor had he attempted to make such a report to the department. He declined to say why he had not made a report, but said he had gone to Assistant Secretary Hill and said: "I understand I have been dismissed." Mr. Hill said his understanding was correct, and Mr. Macrum said he therefore had no report to Pressed further by Mr. Smith as to his reasons for believing that the British authorities had possession of the State Department cipher, Mr. Macrum said he could not affirm from actual knowledge, but he explained that on Nov. 6 he had applied in eigher to the State Department asking for leave. That cable had gone through Durban. The next day, Nov. 7, he had been informed a paper in Durban published the fact that he had applied for leave. Mr. Macrum said he had used the State Department cipher of the Slater code, a common code, purchasable anywhere. When asked if other consuls had complained, Mr. Macrum said the German and Belgian consuls had both told him that no cipher telegrams were allowed to go through.

A letter was sent to the committee by the Secretary of State, with a communication from Consul General Stowe, in which the consul general said that when he heard of the opening of the letters to Mr. Macrum he had informed the British authorities at Port Durban. The explanation of those officers was satisfactory. The letters had been opened unintentionally. Mr. Macrum admitted there had been no further interference with the mail.

SAWYER IS NO MORE.

Former United States Senator from Wisconsin Expires,

Former Senator Philetus Sawyer died Thursday morning at Oshkosh, Wis. He had been suffering from a complication of troubles. The Senator was $4 years old. Philetus Sawyer was born in 1816 in Rutland County, Vermont, and he spent his boyhood on his father's farm in Crown Point, N. Y. His schooling consisted of a few terms in a district school, and at 17 he went to work in the pineries of the Adirondacks as a woodsman and sawmill hand.

In 1841 he married Malvina M. Hadley, and in 1847, with $2,200 in his pocket, he went to Fond du Lac, Wis. Not fancying his surroundings he moved two years later to Algoma, which stood on the present site of Oshkosh. He rented a sawmill that had not been paying expenses, operated it at a profit, and afterward purchased the mill. Thenceforward he became a factor in the growth of upper Wisconsin.

Originally a free-soil Democrat, Mr. Sawyer joined the Republican party upon its organization. His first political office was alderman of the city of Oshkosh. In 1856 and 1860 he went to the Assembly. In 1863 and 1864 he was Mayor of Oshkosh, and in the latter year was elected to Congress, serving for ten consecutive years. In 1881 he was elected to the United States Senate and re-elected six years later.

INDIANA INCIDENTS TERSELY TOLD.

Ridiculous Legal Fight Over a Dead Dog - Wheat Damaged by Frost-Gritty Escape from Jail Babe's Body Found in a Log.

A suit over a dead dog was filed in the Supreme Court of the State of Indiana by Jacob Van Treese of Decatur County. The dog, which was of a common variety, was found dead on the public highway, and Ralph Magee took the body. Van Treese sued him for possession, alleging that the body, including the hide and carcass, was worth $2. He wanted the dog's body, he declared, so that he might affectionately bury it on the home farm. A jury in a squire's court gave Van Treese damages to the amount of 1 cent. The Decatur County court reversed the squire's court. Van Treese now appeals to the State's highest court. The costs of the case have reached a high figure.

Indiana Wheat Damaged.

The wheat fields of the north central part of the State are reported greatly damaged by the last cold spell. The continued freezing and thawing, the farmers say, have ruined thousands of acres, all the fields in Howard County being more or less damaged. The farmers who take into account the usual amount of spring freezing and its effect on the crop declare the prospect is the worst for years, with no hope of more than a third of a crop. Many of the farmers are preparing to plow up the wheat ground and plant the fields with other grain.

Through a Fiery Furnace.

Albert Hayes, in jail at Lawrenceburg for stealing rubber hose from the Big Four, and about to be returned to the Plainfield reform school from which he was out on parole, crawled through the register in the hall corridor, down the tin pipe and to liberty through the furnace in the basement. A small bed of coals lay in the furnace. The boy was evidently burned, as he left his coat behind, and it had been partly consumed and left in a bucket of water.

Body Found in a Hollow Log. Two residents of Ervin township made a grewsome discovery in passing through a wood. Secreted in a hollow log were found the partially decomposed remains of a child, supposed to be about 2 years of age. The body bore marks of violence and the theory is that a murder has been committed. The body was found in the Amish settlement.

Asks Village for Epileptics.

A Japanese Dinner.

He who does not like the way the Japanese cook fish must be hard to please. They are better fish cooks than the French. The Japanese waters are very prolific, and the natives geem to have learned in cooking to preserve the inherent flavor of the fish, while their sances are very simple. And as for eels, as they are cooked at the Fandagawa, a tenhouse in Tokyo, he who has tasted them has established a standard in his mind by which to judge other sels.

Napoleon Was a Dandy.

It is pleasant to learn, if one has Navery dainty habits in personal matters; that he was fastidiously clean in the person, according to an arricle in a fame and finally poured the remainder of the contents of the flask over the neck and shoulders. He was also extravagantly fond of clean lines and during his campaigns had relays of it sent to different places. In those days It did not cost a farm to have "starched things" laundered, for, in account with a famous laundress in l'aris, the emperor's "luen" for one "wash" amounted to $86 pieces and cost only a trifle over $20.

reasonable. But his majesty hever wore any article but once, and as he alwage undressed himself without aid from his valet his garments were literally "east" to the four corners of the room. Napoleon's bill for cau de cologne, however, exceeded the washerwoman's by a large majority. It is a relief to learn that the Little Corporal was so much a dude. Some of his predecessors in the Tulleries were not blossed with such excellent habits, if history is to be relied upon.

Things They Did in 1700.

An advertisement in a facsimile isone of a Maryland paper in 1773 shows that the housewives of that day used cooking utensils of a kind that only a favored few can offord to use now. A coppersmith "from Lancaster" living "Baltimore-Town" advertises copper fish and wash kettles, copper and brass brewing kettles, saucepans, coffee and chocolate pots, stewpans and Dutch ovens.

There was plenty of help in the household then with the slaves. Seyeral advertisements refer to them. In one a "Commission and lusurance Broker" "Gratefully ncknowledges the favors of his friends, and hopes for a continuance of their correspondence. -He has now for fale, a Pocket of good HOPS, a 10 inch new CABLEand wants to bay a NEGRO GIRL, about 12 years old." Women were in certain kinds of business at that time, for a firm of "taylors" advertise their business as two doors from Mrs. Chilton's tavern. People liked to hear a little gossip la those days also, as now, and what may be called a society note follows the notice of a wedding and informs the pub-He that "By a late marriage in St. Mary's the Ludy is become Sister-in-law to her own mother and the Gentleman Bon-in-law to his Sister-in-law,"

A Moted Cook.

Formerly appreciative recognition of successful effort was absointely essential to the accomplished cock. Some cooks were so sensitive on this point that they could not do justice to themselves if it was withheld. The late Abraham Hayward gives an instance of this in Felix, a noted chef of his time. This artist was in the empley of Lord Seaford, who was obliged to dispense with his services for economical reasons.

Some months afterward a distinguished connoisseur was dining with Lord Ecaford and before the first course was half over he detected the handiwork of Felix. He made in quiry and was informed by his host that the great chef was again in his service. He had gone from him to the Duke of Wellington. After a brief experience with the latter he had returned to Lord Seaford and togged to be taken back at reduced wages or no wages at all, for he war determined not to remain at Apsley Was the kindest and most liberal of F. A pretty style with fashionable young ladies is the wenting of skirts of black velvet, satin or corded silk, or, again, those of dark Russian green faille, with tints of rose color.

The latest fint of fashion allows the bride to omit gloves on completing the minor accessories of her wedding toilet. The wrist portion of the sleeve extends so far over the hand that the absence of gloves is hardly noticeable.

Amazon cloth is much used by many high class tailors. This fabric differs from broadcloth in having a semitwilled surface which is not distinct and which does not permit of the instrons surface characteristic of many of the fashionable wool materials of the winter.- New York Post.

In watering house plants the best plan is to give enough water at a time thoroughly to moisten all the contents of the pot to the very bottom.

Small fruit culture will always be most successful on the intensive plan. Plant only a small area at a time and give it the best possible culture.

Grafts for spring setting may be cut now at any time when the weather is mild. Label them correctly and pack them in sawdust until ready for use.

Sudden and severe pruning, such as the chopping off of large limbs or taking away of an undue quantity of wood in a single season, is apt to ruin the ensuing fruit crop.

Unless the manure is well rotted and thoroughly fined it should not be allowed to touch the roots of the fruit trees. In nearly all cases it is best to scatter it evenly over the surface.

"Well," said Lasker, "your play has been somewhat peculiar. I notice that you have not once moved your

"No," replied the player, "the fact is that I have not as yet quite mastered the move of the knights, so I thought it safer not to move them at all."

PIET JOUBERT DEAD.

TRANSVAAL'S FAMOUS GENERAL PASSES AWAY.

His Death a Great Loss to the Boers-He Was the Organizer of Their Army and Rival of President Kruger-Beat British at Majuba Hill.

The death of Gen. Joubert was announced Wednesday by way of Lorenzo Marques. Two days previous Pretoria dispatches told of the serious illness of the famous Boer chieftain.

Gen. Pietrus Jacobus Joubert, commander general of the Transvaal forces, better known as Piet Jonbert, or "Slien Piet" (Slim Peter), was born about sixty-eight years ago. He was descended from an old French Huguenot family which settled in South Africa many years ago. He was born in Cape Colony, but was taken by his parents, when 7 years old, to the Orange Free State, where he was taught from early childhood to shoot straight and hate the British. He is described as having been utterly fearless. Of schooling he had but little, and he never saw a newspaper until he was 19 years

In consequence of the acquisition of Natal by the British his family moved from Natal and settled in the Transvaal. Soon afterward he became a burgher of the South African republic and a daring fighter. It was during the wars with the natives that Joubert became acquaint ed with Paul Kruger, and the two men became bosom friends. He was elected vice-president of the Transvaul in 1896, defeated Sir George Colley at Majuba Hill in 1881, and acted as president of the republic in 1883-1884, during Kruger's absence in Europe.

Gen. Joubert was always in favor of the use of force instead of diplomacy, and President Kruger on several occasions had great difficulty in repressing his hot-headed colleague, notably in 1879, when Joubert, with Kruger and Protorius, was planning the rebellion to overthrow British rule in the Transvaal. The result was Majuba Hill and the practical independence of the Transvaul.

It was Joubert who organized the army of the South African republic, later on, dividing the country into seventeen military departments, and each of these departments into smaller divisions, with commandants, field cornets and lieutenants of various ranks in charge. According to the general's plans, every man became a trained soldier without leaving his farm, and had his equipment ready at hand. To such a point of perfection was the system carried that within fortyeight hours after the present war was declared the Boer nation was under arms. It was also due to Gen. Joubert that the South African republics succeeded in amassing the immense stores of war munitions and provisions which have stood them in such good stead during the conflict now in progress,

When the Jameson raiders were locked up in Pretoria jail Joubert was strongly in favor of their immediate execution. It was not until Joubert and Kruger had been closeted together for a whole night that the more merciful counsels of Kruger prevailed.

In November last it was reported that Gen. Joubert had been killed in action. and later reports said he was dangerous-Ay wounded and had to use a cart in order to follow the operations in the field.

Twelve thousand shells were thrown into Ladysmith, killing thirty-five of the garrison and wounding 188.

It is estimated that Gen. Buller and Gen. White lost 6,182 men during the operations around Ladysmith.

By the time Lord Roberts reaches the Vaal river he will command some 80,000 men, while Gen. Buller will have 40,000.

The Dutch rebellion in Northeast Cape Colony seems to be collapsing. Kitchener has been pouring British troops into the district.

DISEASE IN MANILA.

Census Completed Shows Death Rate Over 40 Per Cent.

The census of Manila, completed by the health department, gives the city an unpleasantly high rank among the unbealthful cities of the world. It establishes a death rate of something over 40 per cent at a conservative estimate. Former estimates and censuses had always given Manila 300,000 population. This census was a careful count of natives and Chinese living in buildings and boats in the police districts of Manila, and it gave a total of 190,714, of whom 30,000 were Chinamen. There are to be added the inhabitants of several villages within the city limits, Americans and Europeans, and 1,400 priests in the monasteries. From reliable information the officials estimate their number at between 50,000 and 60,000.

The deaths in Manila, officially reported during the six months from July 1 to Dec. 31 last year, were 6,205. Of these 2,941 were children. Some of the principal causes were: Beri-beri, 570; tuberculosis, 385; bronchitis, 314; dysentery, 229; fevers, 287, while stomach troubles ranked high. Manila now has three diseases epidemic which would throw the average community into a panic-bubonic plague, beri-beri and smallpox. Beri-beri results from a diet of fish and rice, so that whites do not fear it.

Smallpox and leprosy the Philippines always have, and the people look upon them as a matter of course, avoiding direct contact, but hardly giving a second thought to their presence in the neighborhood. Smallpox flourishes in some parts of Luzon constantly. Half of the natives in the country districts are pitted with it, and mothers try to get their children infected with it under the belief that it is less dangerous to the young. The towns along the northern coast and on the railroad between Manila and Dagupan are full of smallpox now. Gen. Benn's famous volunteer regiment, the Thirty-sixth, is suffering from an epidemic. Lieut. Toncray and Lieut. Wing, both of whom were Tennesseeans, the former holding a commission as captain in the Tennessee volunteers, and several soldiers have died, and there are other cases in the regiment.

The easy-going natives and Spanlards paid so little attention to leprosy that the Philippines have never been noted for that disease, but there are more than a hundred lepers in the Manila hospital. Bubonic plague is a recent visitor. Two months ago the first case was discovered in Manila. Since that time there have been 200 cases, according to the estimates of the health officers, and at least 80 per cent of them have resulted fatally.

Saturday night the fiscal year of the Rock Island came to a close. It was a most prosperous one in the history of the road, earnings having been larger than in any previous twelve months.

Notices have been sent out by the Southeastern Passenger Association to the effect that on and after April 30 party rates will be abolished by all the lines in the territory of the association.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at Richmond, Ind., for the Cincinnati, Richmond and Muncie Railway. The road will at some later day provide a short line between Cincinnati and Chi-

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois has entered into a traffic alliance with the Mobile and Ohio, which allows of its be coming an active competitor for freight business to and from the far Southern points.

On Tuesday the Senate agreed to the conference report on the pension appropriation bill. Devoted the rest of the day to debate on the Alaskan civil code bill and the Porto Rico problem. In the House there was lively debate during the consideration of the army appropriation bill. The charge that the Porto Rican tariff bill was the result of a deal for raising a Republican campaign fund was again referred to by Mr. Pierce (Tenn.), but Mr. Hull declared the anonymous author of the charge would never dare to avow himself and be branded as a falsifier. Mr. Sulzer (N. Y.) made an appeal for the extension of official sympathy to the Boers in their struggle for independence, and Mr. Lentz of Ohio delivered a scathing denunciation of militarism and the war in the Philippines. This attack aroused the indignation of Mr. Marsh (Ill.), who declared Mr. Lentz's speech was a disgrace to Congress.

The Senate on Wednesday agreed to vote on the Porto Rico bill Tuesday afternoon, April 3. Listened to a speech by Mr. Davis in support of free trade. Amended the Alaskan civil code bill by declaring void all permits heretofore given to mine for gold in tide waters under the jurisdiction of the United States and allowing all citizens of the United States to do such mining under regulations imposed by organized mining districts. Defeated the Morgan free coinage amendment to the Porto Rican bill by a vote of 15 yeas to 33 nays. In executive session the Democrats broke a quorum and prevented confirmation of the appointment of William D. Bynum as a member of the board of general appraisers at New York. The House devoted the day to consideration of the army appropriation bill. Several minor amendments were adopted, and about half the bill was considered. Mr. Driggs (N. Y.) created a diversion by charging reckless extravagance in the fitting up of the transport Sumner and precipitated a lively tilt upon the subject. He gave notice that later he should ask the House to investigate the subject. The conference reports on the urgent deficiency and the pension appropriation bills were agreed to.

The Senate on Thursday agreed to the conference report on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. Heard an extended speech by Mr. Beveridge in support of free trade with Porto Rico. By a vote of 10 year to 32 pays refused to strike out the committee amendment to the Porto Rico bill imposing a duty of 5 cents a pound upon coffee imported into the island. By a vote of 16 yeas to 33 nays refused to strike out the provision for a duty of 15 per cent of the Dingley law rates on products of Porto Rico imported into the United States. The House passed the army appropriation bill in a form only slightly modified from that in which it came from the committee. One of the amendments adopted opens the soldiers' homes to the officers and men of the volunteer and regular armies incapacitated by service during or since the Spanish war. An incident of the day was a defense of the War Department against the charge of reckless extravagance in the fitting up of the transport Sumner, made by Mr. Driggs of New York the previous day. Mr. Parker (N. J.) produced the itemized expenses furnished by the War Department to show there had been no extravagance, Vincent Boering's right to his seat from the eleventh Kentucky district was confirmed without opposition. His seat was contested by Mr. White, another Republican.

The Senate on Friday heard Mr. Proctor in support of free trade with Porto Rico and Mr. Pettus on the constitutional phases of the problem. During the latter's speech he convulsed his colleagues with humorous sallies at the expense of Senators Gallinger and Beveridge, Devoted the rest of the day to consideration of the Porto Rican subject. The House devoted the day to war claims, taking no action of importance thereon. Adopted the conference report on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

On Saturday the Senate completed consideration of the Porto Rican bill with the exception of two amendments. Senator Fairbanks made a lengthy speech defending the 15 per cent tariff. Bills were passed granting lands to the State of Alabama for the education of colored students, and to establish a light and fog signal at Brown's Point, Puget Sound. The House passed the fortifications appropriation bill as it came from the committee. It carries $7,093,488. A three hours' political debate was precipitated by a general political speech made by Mr. Shattuc of Ohio, many members on both sides being drawn into it. A resolution was adopted to re-elect the present board of managers of the nation-

In the Senate on Monday seven hours were devoted to debate on Porto Rican tariff bill. The House adopted a resolution by Mr. Payne, Republican floor leader, calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to the probable surplus existing revenue laws would create during this and the coming fiscal year. Under suspension of the rules bills were passed to open to settlement 418,-000 acres in the Fort Hall Indian reservation and 2,500,000 acres in Oklahoma by ratifying the agreements with the Bannock and Shoshone Indians and the Kiowas, Comanches and Apaches to divide the northern judicial district of New York into two districts and to appropriate $100,000 for a military post at Sheri-

Agent, St. Paul, Minn .: Dear Sir-As I promised you about two years ago that at some future time I would let you know what I thought of Western Canada and the chances of a poor man making a start and supporting a family at same time. of a man's body where he could be so will write a few facts concerning my own experience the past twenty-one months, and what I have done any able-bodied man can do, provided he will work.

I left Traverse country March 20, 1898, landed in Alameda at noon the 21st, with $3.55 in my pocket, a stranger and among strangers, and when my family came in October, 1898, my wife had nearly $10, or barely enough to pay freight on her stove, sewing machine and clothes and beds. I commenced work March 28; also made entry for homestead same day (the man I started work for loaning me $15 to pay entrance see), and I have earned. or at least received, $478,10 in wages since then and have been idle at least two months of the twenty-one since 1 came. The homestead I took had 12 acres broke by a former occupant. I paid $20 to have it replowed in July, '98, and the seed wheat for it cost me $8.25. I let it to a neighbor for half in elevator clear of all expense except the seed, and this fall I received $70.10 for my part of the crops off of the 12 acres, so my total receipts the

You can truly say to any poor man who pays a big rent to get a farm (somebody else's land), or works for wages to support a family, that I have personally tried both in Minnesota and tried hard to make a success of it, but found to my sorrow that after working hard a poor living was all I could get out of it, and after nearly two years of Western Canadian life I will say that I am very thankful to you for Wounds Bravely Borne.

Writing of the scenes after the battle of Colenso, the special correspondent of South Africa says: Some of the shell wounds were very terrible and ghastly, and many men wounded by the Mauser bullets were hit in several places at once, so that it became very difficult in some cases to find an unwounded part safely handled. Not a word of complaint was heard, and very little groaning or grieving over the wounds. Those who were able puffed away at their pipes and waited their turn for the operating tent in cold pluck. I asked several men if they wanted anything immediately, and always got the same answer: "I'm all right, sir, the orderly is getting me some soup." "When did you have your last food?" I asked. "Two o'clock this morning, sir; but I'm all right."

I saw one man standing looking at the stump of his trigger finger, which had been carried away by a bullet. "You'll be all right," said I; "cheer up! It will soon heal."

"It wasn't that, sor," he replied; "I'm wondering how soon I'll be able to get back to pay out the mon what did that, sor." Such was the spirit shown after the battle of Colenso, after about six hours' desperate fighting against a hail of bullets fired by an enemy that not a single infantryman had a chance of aiming at. I questioned many of the wounded, and they all stated that they had not seen a single Boer the whole

Bos'on Aldermen and Theaters.

Boston's Aldermen have so abused the courtesies which the managers of the leading theaters in the Hub have heretofore extended to them that the latter have almost unanimously decided to refuse written requests for tickets from the municipal legislators in the future. The Aldermen are to be admitted free, however, whenever they may present themselves in prson at the box offices to ask for seats. Not content with this, they are highly indignant over the "insult" offered them by the theatrical men and threaten to avenge the same when requests for renewals of licenses shall be made next year.
