What Are You Going to Do About It?

Last Sunday several of the pugilistic element of the Burr Oak district and some of the a la Sullivan element of Argos met and a clash followed in which it is claimed revolvers were drawn, and but for the timely appearance of Marshal Overman, blood might have flowed. Several were arrested, but owing to a lax system of dealing out justice, the marshal had to turn the would-be "scrappers" loose as usual.

It strikes the average citizen that something should be done whereby the disturbers of the peace could be properly punished. It is about time that the citizens of Culver realized that if a man or set of men come to Culver and start on the "war path" and disturb the peace of our city, they should be arrested and taught that law and order should, and shall be respected. It is a disgrace to our town, a stigma upon the law abiding citizens, and shows to the outside world that those expected to see that proper respect for decency should be observed, wink at the same, owing to the fact that this is a resort town, and toughs are expected to "scrap," use indecent language, and in fact do "any old thing" because there is money in it.

Electric Light Plant.

We understand that there is a movement on foot to establish an electric light plant in this city, ostensibly for the purpose of furnishing the town with lights and furnishing lights for the cottages around the lake shore. Such an enterprise would prove a paying investment, and would be highly appreciated by all those interested in the development of our city. Etna Green, with net two-thirds the population of Culver, has electric lights, also Claypool, and if a plant can be made to pay in those "one-horse towns," one would certainly pay here. Electric lights along the lake shore in front of cottages, would lend enchantment to the beautiful scenery, and fill with delight the hearts of all beholders. It is hoped that the matter will receive serious consideration, as it is practically a necessity and must come sooner or later.

Queer Fish Story.

One week ago last Wednesday two servant girls in the employ of A. Herz arose from their downy beds early in the morning for the purpose of trying their luck at fishing. They proceeded out on the end of Herz's pier and cast their line, when presently one discovered a large lard can, which was battered on one side, partially buried in the sand. The girls looked at the can and saw a large fish in the same. The young ladies saw Frank R. New and importuned him to assist them in securing the can and the fish. That gentleman, who is ever on the alert to assist the fair sex in times of trouble, helped them to secure the can, when behold there were two goodly sized catfish in the interior, which they had utilized for spawning. If the Logansport Chronicle desires affidavits they can be furnished.

The Wheat Crop.

There will not be wheat enough raised in Union township for seeding. There are acres upon acres which will not produce over a bushel to the acre. The oat, corn, hay and potato crops will be simply immense, taking present appearances as a criterion.

Logansport Races.

The Logansport races of this year promise to be a grand success. A new track has been built and covered with excellent soil. The track is now about eighty-five feet wide on the stretch, making it the same width as a mile track. New fences around the track have been built, and within a few days work will be begun on a new barn, which will be completed before the date of the meeting.

The association is promised a great field of horses, and while it may sound extravagant to state at this time, nevertheless it is true, that Logansport is giving this year the largest purses given on a half mile track in the United States. The aggregate amount is $5,200, and the association defies any other half mile track in the United States to show as much money hung up for the money winners.

The association is only advertising a three days' meeting, but indications now point to the fact that there will be a four days' meeting. The date fixed is July 31, Aug. 1 and 2.

North Dakota.

Steve Banks, who has been sojourning in North Dakota the past three months, has returned and does not make a very flattering report of that country's prospects at present, as there has been scarcely any rain in the Northwest thus far this season, hence everything is as dry as a contribution box. Wheat and other crops will be almost a total failure, with the exception of flax, which may do fairly well. He says that those people who went there this spring and expended all their money to open up claims, will suffer severely unless helped by their more prosperous neighbors in other states. A letter from Jacob Snyder to his daughter, Mrs. John Hauk, tells the same sad story of the nearly total failure of crops.

Live Stock Market.

Farmers that are lucky enough to have on hand a liberal supply of swine and cattle have a gold mine right at their door, as said animals are bringing a rattling price. L. C. Dillon, the champion hog and cattle buyer of this section of the country, shipped to Buffalo last Saturday 41,000 pounds of hogs and paid $5 per 100 on foot for the same. He also shipped 20 head of cattle to Chicago this week, for which he paid 4 1/2c per pound on foot. He says that hogs and cattle are scarce, and that he will pay 5c per pound for all good grades of hogs.

BASS LAKE.

A new steamer has been launched at Bass Lake.

All the hotels are doing a flourishing business.

William Ayers has put a new roof over his dancing hall at Cranberry Point.

The cottagers are arriving upon every train.

Everett Griffin, an ex-soldier, died last week.

In the month just closed it rained more than in any June for ten years, and yet the year 1900 is lacking in rainfall, according to the monthly meteorological summary issued by the weather bureau. The average rainfall in June for thirty years has been 4.37 inches. This year the June rainfall was 4.42 inches. The deficiency since January 1 is given at 3.18 inches.

Opening of the National Convention in Kansas City.

RICHARDSON RULES.

Tennessee Man Chosen to Preside Over the Big Gathering.

Democratic National Convention Called to Order by Chairman Jones on Independence Day—Speeches Made by Gov. Thomas of Colorado, Ex-Gov. Altgeld of Illinois and Permanent Chairman Richardson—Preliminaries Are Cleared Away and Adjournment Taken Until the Following Day.

Kansas City correspondence:

The Democratic national convention was called to order at noon Wednesday by Chairman James K. Jones of the National Committee amid scenes of great enthusiasm. The convention hall was packed to the doors and the whole amphitheater was a cheering mass of humanity as the best-known leaders of the party came upon the platform. Cheers for Jones and Bryan greeted the chair-

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION HALL IN KANSAS CITY.

Early in the day the crowds began to turn toward Convention Hall and all the approaches to the vast edifice were filled with an eager and excited throng, surging toward the many entrances, and seeking to gain early admission to the building. With them came bands, marching clubs and drum corps, and to the confusion of their crash and hurrah was added the constant crack, boom, sizz of bombs and crackers as the convention enthusiasts and the small boy vied with each other in celebrating the day.

Further away there was evidence of the desolation left by the great fire which swept away the convention hall three months ago—here the tall spire of a church with the chance of mass of ruins, and there the debris of a school house, only the dignified facade remaining. The convention hall itself at first glance looks crude and imperfect, but this was only in its external ornamentation of cornice and column. The substantial elements of the structure were complete, ready to house the delegates and the legion of on-lookers in one of the most perfect convention halls ever offered to the gathering of a great party. The stars and stripes floated from a hundred staffs along the gable and at intervals surrounding the entire building. There were hundreds of these flags topping the structure, giving an idea of its vastness, 340 feet long and 198 feet wide.

Squads of policemen were on the ground, keeping back the crowds and maintaining quiet.

JAMES K. JONES.
Chairman of the National Democratic Committee.

GREAT CONVENTION HALL.

Kansas City Auditorium Has Risen Phoenix-Like from the Ashes.

The great auditorium in which the national Democratic convention met has risen Phoenix-like from the ashes. On April 4 the great structure of which it is a duplicate was entirely destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $235,000. Firemen

PARADE IS NOISY AND LURID.

Marchers Wield Their Pistols and Burn Much Red Fire.

The national Democratic parade Wednesday night probably was the noisiest and the most lurid pageant that ever streaked the streets of a city with fire and detonations, vocal, musical and explosive. It was four miles of men, music, fire and brimstone. Probably there never were so many pistol shots fired in so short a time. Every man and boy along the route of the parade seemed to be occupied industriously in loading and firing pistols of all kinds. They didn't look at the show, but kept their guns hot with incessant volleys. The men in the procession seemed to be seized with the pistol mania also. The flambeau clubs shot skyrocketed so fast that the faces of the men were black with powder. They exploded so many cannon crackers that their trail was like the road up Vesuvius. With roman candles they shot holes in flags and streamers, and the windows of hotels, crowded with watching faces, seemed to be a favorite target.

The Colorado band of Indians, the Montana Miners' band, the Cowboy band from Idaho, the rough riders and cattle punchers, the real whooping Indians, rounded out the carnival of thunder and fire. The rosaries of electric lights, stretched in illumination across the downtown streets, were shattered and unstrung. The only dissatisfied element in the show was the bands of music, which

PLATFORM FOR 16 TO 1

Imperialism Is, However, Declared to Be the Paramount Issue.

National Democratic Convention Nominates William J. Bryan by Acclamation Amid Scenes of Wild Demonstration—Resolutions Adopted Without the Expected Fight—Imperialism the Chief Issue—Trusts and Militarism Denounced—Convention's Dramatic Close.

Kansas City correspondence:

William J. Bryan was nominated for President by the Democratic national convention at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, after a day of immense enthusiasm. The convention had two sessions, both uproarious. A 16 to 1 platform was adopted and imperialism was named as the leading issue of the campaign. The convention then adjourned until 10:30 o'clock Friday morning.

It was after 11 o'clock when Permanent Chairman Richardson called the convention to order Thursday. Bishop Glennon of Kansas City offered the opening prayer. The weather was cooler and the great crowd that packed the hall heard the proceedings with more comfort than on Wednesday. After the prayer there was so much noise that the chairman had to appeal for order. While waiting for the committee on resolutions to report the convention listened to speeches by several orators, among whom were Gov. Hogg of Texas, Alex. Dockery of Missouri and Mayor Rose of Milwaukee. The resolutions committee being not yet ready to report a recess was taken until 3:30 o'clock.

It was not until 4 o'clock that Chairman Richardson picked up the gavel and brought the convention to order. The resolutions committee, headed by Senator Jones, D. J. Campan, Senator Tillman and Judge Van Wyck, pushed their way to the front. Mr. Tillman read the platform in a voice easily heard. Amid a roar of cheers and applause the platform was adopted without dissent.

Nominations for President were next in order. Alabama yielded to Nebraska and W. D. Oldham presented the name of W. J. Bryan. Then followed a wild demonstration. The vote was unanimous, and the convention adjourned till Friday.

The presidential kite was swiftly flown and across it was emblazoned the name of Bryan. But as to the tail of the kite—the nominee for the vice-presidency—there were various opinions.

Friday's Session.
At 10:45 Chairman Richardson, with a sweep of the gavel, cut off the strains of the band, slowly stifled the confusion, and brought the convention to order for its third day's work. After prayer the call of States for nominations for Vice President was begun. Arkansas yielded to Illinois and Congressman Williams placed Adlai E. Stevenson's name before the convention. A burst of applause and great confusion followed. Minnesota presented the name of Charles A. Towne and the demonstration was renewed. Then Senator Grady, of New York, got the floor and named David B. Hill, and paraded broke loose. Hill declined the nomination, and the convention named Stevenson as its choice.

man as he rose, and it was several minutes before he could proceed amid the uproar. Words outlining the policy of the party for the coming campaign were spoken in the address of Gov. Thomas of Colorado, its temporary chairman, and the gathering of 15,000 people listened to the solemn reading of the Declaration of Independence. After the appointment of the various committees the convention adjourned until 4 o'clock. At that hour it was found that the committee on credentials was not yet ready to report and adjournment was taken to 8:30 in the evening.

Throughout the night there had been no sleep, for the sky was lurid and the sound deafening from rockets and cannon and every conceivable device of noisy demonstration. And with the daylight the shock was increased into one long-continued roar in which the patriotism of the day and the enthusiasm of the party blended. The heat was intense.

Inside the convention hall the officials were early on hand to make final preparation. The sergeant-at-arms gave a closing drill to the 300 ushers under his direction, showing that they performed their duties with precision. The doorkeepers, messengers and pages were likewise drilled in their several duties, and all was made ready for the rush to occur.

Night Session.
At 8:30 Chairman Thomas rapped the convention to order. Pending the reports of the committees the convention was addressed by ex-Governor Altgeld of Illinois. The organization committee then reported the selection of J. D. Richardson, of Tennessee, as permanent chairman. The announcement was received with cheers, and upon assuming the chair Mr. Richardson addressed the convention. Shortly after he had concluded his speech a motion to adjourn until Thursday morning was made and carried.

were still at work on the smoldering ruins when the owners of the hall met and decided to rebuild. Next day the clearing away of the rubbish began. Contracts let for the destroyed structure were duplicated, and immediately began the rush of steel structural work, lumber, brick and building material to Kansas City. The original had only been constructed in 1898, and was regarded as a model building of the kind. On June 24 the finishing touches were put upon this building and save for the lack of decoration the convention could have met next day. The rapidity of the execution of a task so monumental reflects great credit upon Western energy.

The hall occupies a space 314 by 200 feet. It is two stories high, built of Missouri stone, with cream brick and terra cotta embellishments. The first story is of the renaissance style and the second of peristyle form, with groups and Corinthian columns.

blew their horns till they uttered typhoons of wind without making any music.

The parade was made up of "most everything." Floats, advertising wagons, politicians, firemen, policemen, Populists, Republicans, Democrats, Odd Fellows, societies of women, of children and of boys, Modern Woodmen, Indians, cowboys, old Deadwood stage coaches, automobiles, shotguns, fine horses, donkeys, pistols and more pistols.

Political Floppers.

Again we've reached the season
When men who change their views,
On slightest provocation,
Will for a time amuse.
For now we see the flopper
Resume his well known ticks,
And hear him make announcement
Of change in politics.

At times some "famous leader,"
Of whom we've never heard,
Discovers that his party
Has on some question erred.
And loudly he's declaring
His reasons why he flops,
He far and wide is quoted,
Then out of sight he drops.

At times some chronic "sorehead,"
Who's on the shelf been laid,
Proclaims in tones of anger
That he has been betrayed.
He cares not for the issues,
His office he desires,
And so he joins the floppers,
Then from the scene retires.

Then some have formed the habit
Of flopping every time
They think that by such action
To prominence they'll climb.
And then there are some others
Who with the band would ride,
For it is their ambition
To join the winning side.

'Tis not the noisy flopper
Who figures in the fray,
For he before election
May flop the other way.
But it's the honest thinker
Who helps to win the fight,
For he'll not stick to party
Unless that party's right.

The Election.

The Democrats and Republicans have met in national conventions, and each party has nominated their national tickets and have issued their platforms. Wm. Jennings Bryan and Adlai Stevenson, who was vice-president under the Cleveland administration, will be the standard bearers for Democracy, while McKinley and Roosevelt will face the issues for the Republicans. That this will be the hottest campaign ever brought before the American people, is conceded by all men who have carefully considered the issues. On the one hand the Republicans by figures and "facts" will defend the present administration, and the Democrats by figures and "facts" will try to show to the people of America that it has been a dismal failure from start to finish. When the end comes somebody will be elected president of the United States, and the world will wag along as if nothing had happened.

Never in the history of Lake Maxinkuckee have its environments been so attractive. The cottage owners have vied with each other in their efforts to beautify their yards and lawns, and from the south-east side of the lake to the extreme north-west side, you witness a panorama of changing scenery. Some of the surroundings of the various cottages would enrapture the eye of an artist, or fill any soul with reverence who loves the divine arts of nature. It would be difficult for any poet's pen to depict the profound beauty of our lake and its surroundings, as the human mind is inadequate to cope with the subject and do it justice. Thousands of strangers visit our lake every year, and from one and all the verdict is rendered that it is the "Garden of Eden," the one spot on earth where nature accomplished something that will remain for ages the joy of the tourist and the place for the weary to rest.

The closed season for fishing in the streams of the State expired on June 30 at midnight. Quite a number took advantage of this and the banks of Yellow river were lined with the disciples of old Isaac Walton on Sunday.—Ex.

Elwood people to the number of twenty-five, who are stopping at Avery's restaurant, Lake Side Hotel and Bradley's, visited Bass Lake Tuesday for a day's outing. They took a big lunch with them.

The prospects for a good melon crop in this section of the state this season are as good as were ever known. The weather man has treated the melon grower very kindly and has distributed the dry and wet weather in a manner entirely satisfactory to the growth of the luscious melon.

A new engine has been placed in the "Dewey," and its old commander, Irwin Fisher, has charge of the same. Private parties desiring the use of the boat will receive prompt attention. This is one of the fastest launches on the lake and has a capacity for carrying 15 or 20 people in perfect safety.

The regular train which arrives in Culver every Sunday morning, will go on to Logansport next Sunday; returning will leave Culver at 7:15 instead of 5:15, it's usual time. The train carries the United Woodmen of America to Logansport where a monument erected in memory of a former prominent member of the order will be unveiled.

Edward Geiselman and wife of South Bend spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Geiselman, of Culver. Edward is a sculptor, who is fast gaining notoriety in his line, as he has some very fine exhibitions of his work at South Bend and elsewhere, which are receiving the highest laudations from the most artistic critics.

The State financial board, composed of the governor, the auditor of state and the treasurer of state, at a meeting recently ordered the payment of $350,000 of the state 3 per cent. bonds. Including the $484,000 5 per cent. bonds owing to Purdue and the State University, and the $5,615.12 of state stock certificates, upon which the interest was stopped long ago and the owners of the certificates unknown, the debt now amounts to $4,704,615.12. To show how interest piles up even at 3 per cent., by this payment alone the state saves $750 per month.

The flax industry in this country is one which the Free Traders have been disposed to treat as of small consequence, but it will not be a long time before we shall raise all our own flax and manufacture all its products. During the past year North Dakota farmers have raised flax to the value of about $10,000,000; and a large mill has been erected at Fargo for the reduction of flax straw before shipment to Niagara Falls for manufacture into manila paper. A flax mill, with a capital of $250,000, is projected at Taunton.

Men are at work digging what is termed the Louis Zechiel ditch. The main ditch will be two miles long with an arm about three-quarters of a mile long. The promoters of this ditch worked it slick by publishing the plans, specifications and individual cost of the same in the Plymouth Democrat in order that as few as possible could read it. Hence, those opposed to the ditch had no time to enter a protest until it was too late for action. Of course, in order to give every one a square deal, it should have been published in the Culver City Herald.
