Lloyd McScheehy, son of the ed itor of the Logansport Chronicle, who had an appointment to West Point from his district, has had it changed to an appointment to the naval academy at Annapolis. He is now sojourning at the lake.

Miss Mary Boyd, who has been visiting Rev. F. O. Fraley and family for the past three weeks, went to Camden, Ind., Saturday, where she will visit Rev. F. G. Howard and wife a few days before returning to her home in Roachdale, Ind.

The following arrivals are registered at the Maple Grove House, Maxinkuckee, July 17: Mrs. H. J Martens and family, Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Klein and son, Mr. Alonzo Smidt and wife, all of Indianapolis; Mr. C. J. Herber and wife, Mr. John Klug, wife and son, Mrs. J. H. Black. and family, Mrs. Overstreet and daughter, Mrs. Douham, Mrs. Dr Coombs, Mrs. Charles Abbott, all of Terre Haute.

The Elwood people who have been spending their summer vacation at the lake have returned home They were loud in their praise of the lake and its surroundings, and especially speak of the kind treatment they received at the Park Cafe, Lake Side and Bradley's hotel. A quartet of singers in the crowd furnished excellent vocal music on several occasions, which was greatly enjoyed by all those fortunate enough to hear them.

The Iroquois Glub.

By far the most representative crowd of business and professional men who have ever visited beautiful Maxinkuckee is included in the above social organization, from Cinciunati, O., who have pitched their tents on the Edwards property near the Indianapolis pier. This club makes annual trips to different parts of the country, and its camp is the most complete and luxurious that has ever been to Maxinkuckee. The club membership is confined to a select number of prominent business and professional men of Cincinnati, and their sole aim is to enjoy themselves in their annual outings. The following gentlemen came to Culver in the lake residents will take pride in. private car of the club: Charles Kuntz, H. W. Freund, I. Nussbaum, Wm. Schuchardt, Dr. A. M. Goldberg, Jno. Myers, Samuel Joseph, Chas. Diehl, H. Metzger, Wm. Trost, Louis Nussbaum, O. E. Weidlich, Nat Dreifus, Ralph Freiburg, Dr. C. T. Pearce, Dr. H. Bamger, with their chef, W. L. Garrison, assistant Charles Gray, Lawrence Weaver and Lewis Johnson-the latter two being professional musicians.

Since the advent of the club its camp has been the mecca of all the cottagers, and with its illuminations and fire works have given the south side of the lake more gayety than has been its portion in a long time. The nightly floating concerts that have been given by the club's colored musicians have also added to pleasure of the summer residents. Several social affairs have been given for the club by the cottagers and hotels. While the members of the club have been enjoying the social side of Maxinkuckee they have been pretty active anglers, and their catches have probably been larger than those made by any similar organization in a long time. Probably the largest season was hooked and landed by Henry Bamberger of the club. Mrs. John H. Meyers and son John are at Lake View hotel, while Mr. Meyers is at the camp.

Mr. A. Curtis and wife entertained the members of the club in true Ohio hospitable manner Monday evening.

Mr. Samuel Joseph, who with Mr. H. W. Freund, of the club, compose the large cigar manufacturing firm bearing his name, was called home by sickness of his baby.

The rag-time music of the two col ored musicians of the club, Lawrence Weaver and Lewis Johnson, has been the source of much enjoy. ment to everybody who has heard it. They are the most expert musicians in their line that have ever appeared

SCHEME GOES AWRY.

PLAN OF TRAIN ROBBERS FOILED BY ENGINEER.

Contemplated Disaster to Union Pacific Train Near Manhattan, Kan., Is Prevented-Arizona Cattle Die from Drouth and Indians Face Famine.

What appears to have been an attempt to wreck and rob the Union Pacific westbound flyer was discovered at a siding four miles west of Manhattan, Kan., the other night. When the train reached the siding the engineer saw that the switch had been thrown and immediately set brakes, bringing the train to a stop within ten yards of the end of the siding. Had he noticed the thrown switch two seconds later the train would have been ditched. A search of the vicinity revealed a shotgun, several sticks of dynamite and a bottle supposed to contain nitroglycerin on a pile of ties. The trainmen believe robbers tried to wrack the train, planning to get away with the express safe in the confusion and blow it up at their leisure. The failure to ditch the train, it is thought, disconcerted them and they fled.

ARIZONA INDIANS FACE FAMINE.

Cattle Dying from Drouth and Food Supply Running Short.

The prolonged drouth, probably unpre cedented in the history of Arizona, has greatly augmented the sufferings of the famine-stricken Pima Indians on the Sacaton reservation. Members of the tribe have told Superintendent Cowan of the Indian school that their cattle are dying rapidly from starvation and thirst. Most of the Indians now depend for food on the few who still have provisions and the supply cannot last long. They are emaciated and suffering and unless the $33,-000 congressional appropriation can be used at once private subscriptions or similar relief measures must be taken.

TRAIN-WRECKING PLOT FAILS.

Attempt to Rob Washington Express of $3,000,000 Miscarries.

According to officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, a deliberate attempt to wreck the Washington express bearing $3,000,000 in gold to the subtreasury in New York came near being successful at Folsom, a short distance outside of Philadelphia. The train consisted of two sleepers, two day coaches and three baggage cars and left Washington at 11:30 p. m. It was due in Philadelphia at 3:10 in the morning. While going at a good rate of speed it ran into an open switch at Folsom. The engine was overturned and the three baggage cars were derailed, but no one was injured. An examination of the switch by the railroad men disclosed the fact that it had been tampered with, for the apparent purpose of wrecking a train. Whether it was done with the intention of wrecking the express bearing the currency could only be conjectured. It is believed, however, by many in the vicinity that it was the work of small boys. The railroad officials have placed detectives on the case.

OUR FLOUR IN JAPAN.

GROWING DEMAND FOR IT IN MIKADO'S COUNTRY.

Used Not Only in the Larger Cities, but in the Country Districts-American Wheat Also Imported-Another Bank Official Goes Wrong.

Vice-Consul General McLean has made a report from Yokohama on the subject of the importation of American flour into Japan. He says that the use of flour is not confined to the large cities of Japan, but is becoming common throughout that country. He speaks of three or four American-built flour mills, the largest having a capacity of 150 barrels a day, that are now helping to supply Japan with flour. There are many small native mills of hand and water power throughout the country, but their product is of a coarse character and they do not compete to any extent with the imported stocks. American wheat also is being imported into Japan and a considerable amount of flour made from it is being sold there. The demand for flour throughout the Orient is rapidly increasing, the best points of consumption at present being Russian possessions in northern China and eastern Siberia.

OWNERS OF NATURAL BRIDGE.

Thomas Jefferson Knew What He Was

About When He Bought It Cheap. The fact that the Natural Bridge tract is to be sold has opened the way for some writers to romance about it. It is stated that it was a part of the inheritance of Thomas Jefferson, but that is not our information, says the Richmond Dispatch. We have always thought that Mr. Jefferson patented the land-i. e., bought it from the crown at about a shilling an acre.

Mr. Jefferson and George Washington both were far-seeing men and good judges of land and "tookup" numbers of valuable tracts. Washington, particularly, owing to his personal knowledge of our Western (Virginia) lands, was fortunate in his selection.

Mr. Jefferson acquired the bridge tract in 1774. Of the bridge itself, he wrote that it was worth a trip across the ocean to see; but for a long time its inaccessibility caused it to be seldom visited, even by our own people. The construction of the old James River and Kanawha canal put it near a highway of travel. Later, railroad lines came within a few miles of it, and now thousands visit it annually.

Since Jefferson's time the bridge has had many owners. At one period it belonged to the Harman family. Colonel Henry Clay Parsons bought it about 1881, and formed a stock company to "run" .it. His residence there led up to his death at the hands of Conductor Goodman, at Clifton Forge, on June 29, 1894. To what extent he or his family held stock in the bridge company at that time we are not informed, but the amount held is supposed to have been considerable.

ISOLATED CREATNESS.

The man who never makes mistakes, He is the creature who awakes The soul to scorn, the brow to frown With wrath no charity can drown. Men sound his praise with zeal intense

And bid us heed his excellence. But none the less, when he comes

'round. Discomfort seems to reign profound. For how can he, so coldly wise, Extend a hand and sympathize With simple, struggling, mortal men, Who rise and fall and rise again? How can his heart responsive beat To that remorseful mood complete Of those who feel they cannot be. Strive though they may, as good he?

He knows all things in human life, Save to forgive the struggling men Who grope and stumble now and then. I'd rather be a dull machine And clink and clank in a routine Of duty until something breaks Than he who never makes mistakes. -Washington Star.

An Episode of Invasion. BY FRANKLIN W. CALKINS.

The new El Dorado was in sight. Gordon's party of twelve tired frontiersmen had mounted the high divide which separates the sources of the Running Water from those of the Cheyenne. For five weeks the men had shovelled drifts, buffeted blizards and kept a constant vigil among the interminable sand-hills. By means, too, of stable canvas, shovels, axes, iron picket-pins and a modicum of dry feed. they had kept in good condition the splendid eight-mule team which drew their big freighter.

In fact "Gordon's outfit" was a model one in every respect, and probably no similar body of men ever faced our snow-bound, trackless plains, better equipped for the adventure. And now the muffled marchers cheered as "Cap" Gordon halted them, and pointed to a blurred and inky upheaval upon the far rim of a limitless waste of white. The famous Black Hills, a veritable wonderland, unseen hitherto by any party of whites save the men of Custer's expedition, lay before them.

Two more days and the gold-seekers would gain the shelter of those pinecovered hills, where their merry axes would "eat chips" until shelter, comfort and safety from attack were secured. Out of the bitter cold, after weeks of toil and danger, into warmth and safety-no wonder they were glad!

As yet they had seen no sign of the hostile Sioux, but their frosty cheers, thin and piping, had hardly been borne away by the cutting wind when a moving black speck appeared on the western horizon.

The speck drew nearer, and resolved itself into a solitary horseman. Could it be that a single Sioux would approach a party of their strength? They watched the rider without anxiety. They were so near the goal now that no war party of sufficient strength to become a menace was likely to become a menace was likely to be gathered. They were equipped with an arsenal of modern guns, with fifty thousand rounds of ammunition, and had boasted they were "good to stand off three hundred Sioux."

Nearer and nearer drew the horseman, his pony coming on in rabbit-like jumps to clear the drifts. Speculation ceased. It was an Indian-probably a hunter strayed far from his village, half-starved and coming to beg for food. Well, the poor wretch should have frozen bread and meat, as much as he could eat-they could not stop to give him better fare.

It was as cold as Greenland. The bundled driver upon the great wagon slapped his single line, and yelled at the plodding mules. Eleven buffalocoated, fur-encased men with feet clad in snow-packs marched at the tail of the freighter. In such weather their cold "shooting-irons" were left in the wagon, nor did they deem it necessary now to get them out.

They were prepared for a begging Indian, but the apparition which finally rode in upon the monotony of their long march seemed to them a figure as farcial as savage. As the Sioux horseman confronted them he lovered his blanket, uncovering his solemn, barbarian face, and stretching out one long arm, pointed them back upon their trail.

"Go." he said, and he repeated the command with fierce insistence.

The big freight wagon rattled on, but the footmen halted for a moment to laugh.

The Indian stretched his lean arm and shouted, "Go!" still more savagely. It was immensely funny. Gordon's men jeered the solitary autocrat, and laughed until their icicled beards proaching the runner. The mule-killpulled. They bade him get into a drift | er's camp or town was close at hand. and cool off; asked him if his mother could chin-chin washtado?

he rode alongside, was "Go! go! go!" repeated with savage emphasis and a flourish of his arm to the southward.

The footmen were plodding a dozen yards in the rear of the freight wagons and still laughing frostily at this queer specimen of "Injun" when the savage spurred his pony forward. A few quick leaps carried him up to the toiling eight-mule team. His blanket dropped around his hips, and a repeating carbine rose to his face. Both wheelers dropped at the first shot, killed by a single ounce slug. A rapid fusillade of shots was distributed among the struggling mules, and then the Sioux was off, shaking his gun and yelling defiance, his pony going in zig-zag leaps and like the wind.

Men ran tumbling over each other to get into the wagon and at their guns. The teamster and two or three others who, despite the cold, carried revolvers under their great-coats, jerked off their mittens and fumbled with stiff fingers for their weapons. They had not been nerved up with excitement, like the Sioux, and before they could bring their guns to bear the savage was well out upon the prairie.

And when these men tried, with rifle or revolver, to shoot at the swiftly moving, erratic mark presented by the cunning Sioux and his rabbit-like pony the cutting wind numbed their fingers and filled their eyes with water, the glistening snow obscured their front sights, and they pelted a white waste furiously with bullets.

The anger which raged in them as they saw that the Sioux had escaped scot free was something frightful. Six mules of the splendid eight lay weltering in blood; another was disabled, and only one had come off without hurt. Half the counties of northern Iowa had been scoured to get together "Gordon's pride," as this fine frieght team had been named, before the party left Sioux City.

The blight of their hopeful expedition, the frightful peril of their situation, were lost sight of in their desire for revenge, which burned in the heart of every man of them as they gazed upon the stricken, stiffening heap of animals. All were for giving chase immediately. They believed they could easily overtake the Sioux among the drifts of the lower lands, where creeks and snow filled ravines must cause him to shift his course continually.

"Boys," said Gordon, when some of them had hastily begun to strip for the chase, "boys, this is my particular affair. You make camp and fit it for fightin'. I'll either get that Sioux, or he'll fetch his tribe back and get us."

Cy Gordon was their captain, He had been a hay and wood contractor for many years in the Sloux country, and his word was law to this little band. man could even have guessed at the daring and disaster they had looked upon. The performance had been too appallingly simple and easy. It had come as unexpectedly as the flood of a cloudburst or the bursting of a gun.

While his men stood vengefully and fiercely watching the flying Sloux Gordon stripped himself of his superlative wrappings, stocked his pockets with frozen bread and cartridges, slipped on a pair of snowshoes kept for an emergency, tightened his belt and then launched himself in pursuit.

Horse and rider were again no more than a speck upon the vast snow field. Gordon, with an "express" rifle under his arm, took the long, swinging stride of the accomplished snow-shoer. In an hour the speck upon the snow had not grown smaller,

At noon, by the sun, upon a broad flat where tall grass held the snow, Gordon came almost within bullet range of the Sioux. An hour later, among a tangle of driftwood vines, there was an exchange of shots, and the Sioux's pony dropped in its tracks. The Indian dodged out of sight, and Gordon pushed warily on with a grin of hate under his icicles.

noted with satisfaction that the Indian's moccasined feet punched clear through the light crust at every other step. In just a little while!

But he followed for an hour or more among a seemingly interminable tangle of gullies without catching a glimpse of the wary dodger. Then he emerged into a wider valley, to find that the artful rascal had escaped out of his range and out of sight upon a windswept stretch of river ice.

Gordon ground his teeth and swept over the smooth surface, sweating, despite the sharp cold, from fierce exertion. At a turn of the river he saw the Sioux; but there were others, more than a score of them, mounted and ap-

He hastily sought the cover talk, and if he hadn't a brother who of river drifts, and scooped himself a kind of rifle pit. Then, with a pile His sole answer to their jeering, as of cartridges between his knees, and slapping his hands to keep his fingers ready for action, he waited, meaning to do what execution he could before the end.

> There was considerable parley between the Sioux, and then only a single Indian advanced towards the white man. This one came on afoot, within gunshot, then stopped and shook his blanket in token that he wanted to approach and talk.

Gordon laughed. The situation appeared to him grimly humorous. He motioned to the Indian to come on, and kept him well covered with his rifle. A moment later, however, he lowered Whatever fate awaited Gordon he knew that he stood in no danger of a treacherous stroke from the approaching Sioux. It was the chief, Red Cloud.

Gordon arose, and the chief came forward with a hand outstretched. "My young man has killed your mules," was Red Cloud's greeting in the Sioux tongue.

Gordon understood, "Yes," he said. "and I will not take your hand un til you have done right,"

The grave old chief drew his blanket about his shoulders with a shrug. "Now listen," he said. "If one of your soldiers had approached a party of my soldiers and had killed all their horses, and so crippled them and escaped you would have made him a big captain. It is so. My young man is very brave. He did as he was told. You cannot come here and take my country-not yet. I have watched your advance and complained to your soldiers at White River. When I saw they did not go out and catch you as our Great Father has said they should do. I sent my young man to stop you. You will find your soldiers at the three forks of White River. Now go!"

And without another word, Red Cloud turned upon his heel and stalked away.

This time Gordon was glad enough to obey the injunction to "go." Three days later his little party filed in at the military camp on White River, and when, some time afterward, their boxes of freight had been recovered, not so much as a blanket or a pound of sugar had been taken by Red Cloud's Sioux. -Youth's Companion.

WITCHCRAFT SCHOOL IN PARIS.

A school of a very curious order is to be opened in Paris to-day. Its founders offer to initiate whoever is possessed of the necessary dose of patience, and perhaps of credulity, into the mysteries of occultism, into the arcana of black magie. There are persons, they opine, even in these latter and skeptical days, who would like to follow in the footsteps of a Paracelsus or a Trismegistus, and for the benefit of these inquiring souls they have There was no need to argue that no started a complete course of sorcery and witcheraft, of astrology and the other hermetic "sciences." It must be admitted that the advantages held out as the reward of those who attain to complete imitation are considerable. An inscription on the wall of the occultist school says that "the initiated, in virtue of the powers transmitted them by the masters, reign in heaven, command on earth and are feared in hades." A magician of this calibre would certainly occupy an enviable position, and be entitled to have no mean opinion of himself, so that i would not be just to scoff at the occultist professors unless by any chance they should fail to keep their promises. Nobody will be surprised to learn that a magician is not made in a moment. Still, though the process of initiation extends over three years. the time expended will be allowed to be short, when the results arrived at are considered. The program of studies at the occultist school, which has thoughtfully been forwarded to me, gives full details of the three years' course. During the first year the student is made to acquire as much Hebrew as "will enable him to understand the books of the old alchemists." This is not all, but I am compelled to abridge. In his second year he dips He took up the Sioux's tracks, and into Sanscrit, exercises himself in hypnotism and somnambulism, takes a close look at spirit phenomena, and learns, doubtless, with growing interest and profit, "the practical adaptations of the various arts of divination." Finally, in his third year, he studies "the action of human thought on the invisible," and many other obscure matters, his comprehension of which is aided, it may be presumed, by his previous training. These successive stages accomplished, it is his own fault if he is not a full-fledged wizard. As the world might otherwise be ignorant of its greatest magleians, it might be mentioned that the founders of the occultist school are MM. Barlet, Papus and Sedir.-Paris

Martial Law Declared in New Eldorado by General Randall,

Reports have reached San Francisco that Cape Nome, the new Arctic Eldorado, is in a condition of the most desperate lawlessness, and that Gen. Randall, in charge of the Government troops there, has been compelled to declare martial law. This is the story brought by the steamer St. Paul, which arrived direct from Nome with forty passengers and $1,500,000 of treasure. It is now apparent that the powers have to deal not with a Chinese mob, but the Chinese nation, Government and army. China, after all, is not a nation, but an ancient mosaic. They have not only to restore order, but to maintain it in the future. They must give the Celestial Empire stable government. This they can do by harmonious co-operation, upon which they have already so happily entered, and by such plan as may be mutually agreed upon. The result will be to secure in every district that order and civilized government which are essential to the protection of life and property. This will clear the way to progress and prosperity. # MASSACRE IN PEKIN

Butchery of Foreigners Is Officially Confirmed.

KILLED LIKE DOGS.

Tuan and Tung Turn Their Murderous Guns on Homes of Envoys.

Representatives of All Nations Tortured, Shot, Burned and Slaughtered by Barbarians-To Save Loved Ones from Torture, Some Women and Children Were Shot by Their Dearest Friends-Allies at Tientsin Repulsed by Chinese-Many Americans Killed.

There is not a foreigner alive within the walls of Pekin. That is the official news from Shanghai. On the night of July 6-7 the Boxers stormed the British legation, and, though at first repulsed by the gallant defense of the Christians, finally forced an entrance and massacred the whole band-men, women and children. One correspondent says that when the foreigners saw their doom was inev-Itable they killed with their own hands their women and children to prevent their falling into the hands of the Boxers.

The European governments have received from their representatives at Shanghai a dispatch from the governor of Shan-Tung, reporting that the European troops made a sortie from Pekin and killed 200 of Gen. Tung Fuh Siang's forces and that the Boxers were mounting guns to make a breach in the defense.

The governor of Shan-Tung wires as follows: "Native soldiers and Boxers have been attacking the legations for some hours, but have not yet effected an entrance. They are now all bombarding with large cannon to make a breach for a heavy onslaught. I fear that all the ministers and the Government as well are in great danger. The Government is intensely anxious." Finally came the news from Shanghai that a breach had been made and the foreigners killed.

The Shanghai correspondent of the London Daily Express on the alleged authority of couriers who brought the story gives a sensational account. He 6ays:

"Maddened with hunger, after having been without food for many days, the members of the legation and the guards made a sortie the night of June 30 and killed 200 Chinese in an unexr ed attack. Gen. Tung Fuh Siat. chraged over the loss of so many men, brought up heavy guns and Prince Tuan gave the order that every foreigner must be destroyed. His words were: 'Destroy every foreign vestige and make China a sealed book to all western powers.'

"Prince Tuan had discovered previously that Prince Ching was supplying the foreigners with ammunition. He therefore ordered Gen. Tung Fuh Siang to fire on Prince Ching's troops, and it is reported that Ching was killed or seriously wounded.

"In the final attempt to cut their way through, the legationers former a square, with the women and children in the center. When the Boxers realized that they were being attacked they became like wild beasts and shot each other with revolvers. Heavy guns bombarded all night until the buildings were demolished and in flames.

"Many foreigners were roasted in the ruins. The Boxers rushed upon them and hacked and stabbed both dead and wounded, cutting off their heads and carrying these through the streets on their rifles, shouting fiercely. They then attacked the native Christian quarters, massacred all who refused to join them, insulted the women and brained the children. Hundreds of mission buildings were burned."

A dispatch from Tien-Tsin says: "A force of 2,000 foreigners-Japanese, supported by British and Russians-captured the Chinese fortified arsenal, two miles west of the city, making a night attack. They charged under a heavy arsenal fire, following the Chinamen and killing 400. The foreign loss was slight."

SHOOTS HIS OWN MEN.

Seymour's Wounded Soldiers Prefer Death to Torture by Chinese.

The most horrible feature of the lighting at Tien-Tsin was that Admiral Seymour was obliged to kill his wounded in order to prevent them from falling into the hands of the Chinese. Bodies of some of the men who had been captured by the Boxers while still alive show that they had been subjected to the most horrible tortures. Admiral Seymour in retreat found that he was unable absolutely to Monger care for his wounded. He gave a hearing to all who had any suggestions to make, but it was impossible for the force to get away and carry the wounded men with them.

Seymour, it is reported, went to the men, and with streaming eyes, asked them whether they would prefer to be shot by their own commander or left to the mercies of the Chinese. He informed them that it would be impossible for him to do anything for them and the wounded pleaded at once for death at the hands of their own men. A firing squad was made up and while the little allied force under Seymour held off the Chinese that swarmed around, a few volleys relieved the army of its burden of wounded and cheated the fanatics of their prosspective victims.

LISCUM AND DAVIS KILLED.

Colonel of Ninth Infantry and Captain of Marines Fall at Tien-tsin.

The Navy Department Monday morning received official confirmation from Admiral Remey of the reverse of the allied forces at Tien-Tsin on the morning of the 13th. The dispatch is dated Chefoo, and says:

"Reported that allied forces attacked native city the morning of the 13th. Russians were on the right, with Ninth infantry and marines on the left. Losses allied forces large. Russian 100, including artillery colonel, Americans over thirty, British over forty, Japanese fiftyeight, including colonel, French twentyfive. Col. Liscom, Ninth infantry, killed, also Capt. Davis, marine corps; Capt. Lemley, Lieuts. Butler and Leonard wounded. At 7 evening allied attack on native city was repulsed, with great loss. Returns yet incomplete. Details not yet REMEY." confirmed.

At 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the 13th 7,000 of the allied troops attempted to storm the wall of the city. The Chinese on the walls were estimated conservatively at 20,000. They poured a terrific hail of artillery, rifle and machine gun fire upon the attackers.

The Americans suffered terribly. The chief surgeon of the Ninth infantry said a conservative estimate was that 25 per cent of the Americans were hit. Col. Wilson H. Liscum was mortally wound ed, as he was walking in front of the troops. Maj. Regan and Capt. Buckmiller, Wilcox and Noyes are among the wounded. The marine losses include Capt. Davis, killed, and Butler, Leonard and several others wounded.

Officers declared that it was hotter than Santiago. When the correspondent left the field the Americans were lying in the plain between the wall and the river under an enfilading and a direct fire. It was equally difficult for them to advance or retire.

RUSSIA IS FURIOUS.

Czar's People Anxious for a Fight with the Chinese.

News of the horrible death of M. de Giers, the Russian minister at Pekin, his wife and the other Russians in Pekin, rapidly spread throughout Russia. The Russian army is crazed by desire for revenge. Eager thousands are begging for orders to go to the front. Moscow reserve officers are leaving daily. The Czar has ordered that all Chinese dispatches be submitted to him for his personal censorship. Among those who were butchered in Pekin were the heads of the Russian orthodox mission at Korsakoff, province of Amur; the legation doctor, his wife and two sons, and M. de Giers' bodyguard of twenty-five Siberian cossacks. The seventy-five marines whom M. de Giers requested last May were slaughtered to a man, but these heroes died fighting, and in the four days of action that preceded their overwhelming they slew 2,000 of the Chinese. The directors and employes of the Russo-Chinese bank-nine in all-were murdered, and M. Barbier, secretary of the bank, was beheaded when he had fallen.

FEAR ANTI-CHINESE RIOTS.

Federal Officials Take Precautions Against Mob Reprisals.

The Government at Washington has taken note of the efforts made in some quarters to stir up an agitation against the peaceable Chinese in the United States. It feels it is imperatively necessary to use the entire resources of the Government to suppress any movement that would jeopardize their safety. Anything like a massacre of Chinese in the United States, a correspondent says, would wreck the whole case of the United States Government in the settlement which must come of this Chinese trouble. Our Government could not demand reparation for indemnity from China for whatever happens at Pekin or elsewhere in China if the Chinese Government, through the violence of our people, were put in position to claim a set-off growing out of violence shown its people in the United States. Therefore steps have been taken already to have the authorities in localities where there may be danger of anti-Chinese outbreaks prepare for the promptest and most stern repressive measures at the first symptom of trouble.

CHINESE WARN VICEROYS.

Reformers at San Francisco Urge

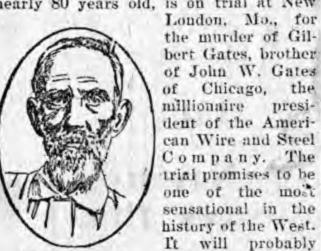

Them to Protect Foreigners. The members of the Chinese Empire Reform Association of San Francisco are very much perturbed over the serious condition of affairs in the Orient and are exerting every possible endeavor to prevent the persecution of foreigners residing in China. Cablegrams are being sent daily to the viceroys of the different provinces praying them to use all their influence to prevent further slaughter of innocent persons of other nations who have not had an opportunity to leave the country for some place of safety.

history of the West. It will probably ALEX JESTER. last two months and one sensational feature about it is that the chief witness against the prisoner is his sister. But the whole story reveals as weird a tale as was ever un-

Prior to the time when Jester's alleged both parties lived in DeKalb County, Ill. In those days Kansas was the Mecca for thousands of homeseekers. Homesteads were guaranteed, the Indians were quiet. Custer had cleared the country to the Arkansas Run and the old Santa Fe trail was as safe as a city. With a boomer wagon, a dog and rifle, Gilbert Gates left Illinois, crossed the Mississippi river and started for the land of the Benders. In the days at home he had met the Jesters. Alex. Jester had gone west before him, and the pair met by accident in Fort Scott. Gates, on his return trip, was traveling in a wagon to Decatur, Ill., and Jester in a wagon to some point in Indiana. Jester owned a trick buffalo calf, which he exhibited in the settlements on the route. In a letter dated at Middle Grove, Mo., Gates described Jester, told the story of their meeting and of the antics of the buffalo calf. Here the first chapter in the story ends.

They learned nothing. Then the father like a top. The boat was submerged

BRITISH LOSS IS OVER 200.

Fight at Nitral's Nek a Stubborn Affair-Many Officers Hit. Except for the scartty and unimportant details of the British disaster at Nitral's Nek there is little news from South Africa. It now seems beyond doubt that the British were absolutely surprised in an impossible position.

Pretoria dispatches state that the Lincolnshires lost half of their officers, including Col. Roberts, who was wounded and taken prisoner. The British fought stubbornly till nightfall, when the cavalry turned their horses loose. The Boer report of the engagement places the British casualties at over 200.

Commandant Grobler, who commanded bert Gates, brother the Federals at Nitral's Nek, had four of John W. Gates guns. In the Derdepoort affair, mentioned in Lord Roberts' dispatch, the men in the front rank of the Boers wore khaki uniforms and helmets, and the dragoons passed them unsuspectingly, under the impression that they were hussars. The mistake was not discovered until the Boers opened a heavy fire, when the dragoons were within 400 yards.

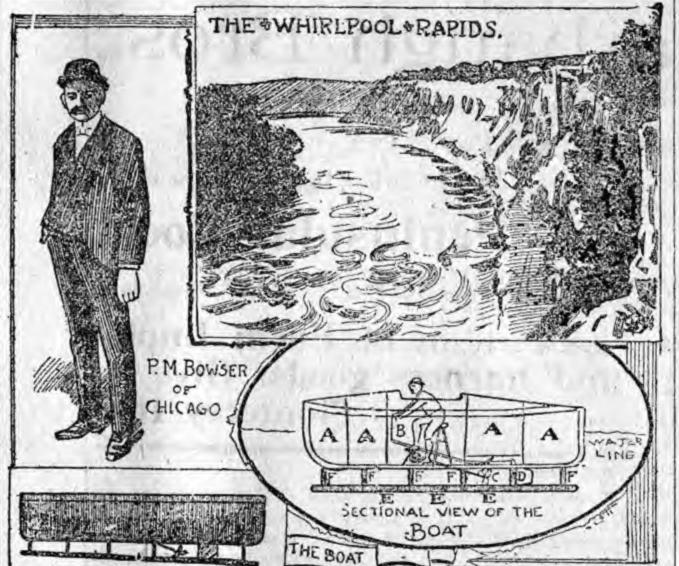

British prisoners who escaped to Kroonstadt report that Gen. De Wet's force of 10,000 men, with ten guns, expelled from Bethlehem by Gen. Clements and Gen. Paget, have taken up a strong position fifteen miles to the southward in the hills around Reteif Nek. President Steyn is reported to be with them. Auother case of the Boers wearing khaki killing of Gates occurred the families of is reported to have happened at Lindley on June 26, when they surprised a picket of twenty-five men of the Yorkshire light infantry, eighteen of whom were killed or wounded.

Survives Niagara's Whirlpool After a Thrilling Ride.

One man has passed through the turbid waters of Niagara's famous whirlpool and come out alive, but he is not anxious to make the trip again. He is Peter Nissen, a former bookkeeper of Chicago, who has been going under the name of Mr. Bowser. He made the trip in the presence of 10,000 persons. He called his boat the "Fool Killer." It was built according to his orders. It is twenty feet long and four feet deep and is made of two-inch pine with four airtight compartments. The keel weighs 1,250 pounds,

The start was made at 3:57 from a point about a mile above the rapids, but the boat drifted about until 4:50, when No other letters came from Gates. Convinced that his son had been murdered, the father began pursuit of the murderer. Jester was traced to Indiana, and back to Kansas, and was captured near Wichita. In his possession were found a watch, cap, ring, bowie knife, and an antelope skin waistcoat of peculiar appearance-all the property of the missing boy. She said that the murderer was her half brother, living in Shawnee, Ok., under the name of W. A. Hill. John W. Gates of Chicago, brother of the murdered man, took up the case. Hill, or Jester, then a regularly ordained minister of the Christian Church, was arrested. # BIG JAPANESE ARMY.

MIKADO WILL SEND 50,000 MEN TO CHINA.

Gen. Nich Reported to Have Defeated Prince Tuau-Suffered a Loss of 250 -Rescued Prince Ching, Who Was Sorely Beset by Boxers.

Yokohama advices say it is certain that Japan will send nearly 50,000 troops to China. The press agrees that the dispatch of so large a force is a duty in the interests of humanity, but asserts that a large measure of responsibility for the troubles rests upon Russia and Germany because of their arbitrary action in China. It was reported from Shanghai Thursday that Gen. Nieh had made a detour and entered Pekin with 9,000 men. In order to force his way into the city he had to fight Prince Tuan's army. In the course of the fighting he is said to have lost 250 men. He is reported to have rescued Prince Ching, who was sorely beset by Prince Tuan's army and the Boxers.

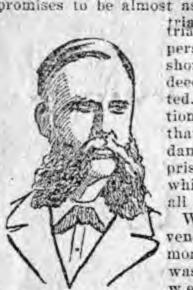

Despite the assurances of the Chinese officials that all is well with the foreigners at Pekin, intense uneasiness prevails throughout Great Britain. Grave rumors come from Chefoo respecting the case of affairs in Tien-Tsin. It is said that the allies are holding their own with extreme difficulty and that it is becoming more and more difficult to resist the attacks of the enemy and maintain communication with Taku. In consequence of the movements of the rebels toward Tsin-Tau the Germans have withdrawn some of their troops from Taku to protect Tsin-Tau.

The Russian legation at Pekin, which is now believed to have been massacred, consisted of fourteen members. mob pillaged the legation and burned the official archives. They also destroyed the Greek church attached to the legation and stole a large sum of money they found in the legation building. 'The Cossack Guards were all slaughtered. The Chinese legation in St. Petersburg is protected day and night by the police. It is understood that the Russians have sent a large force to New Chwang, where the Boxers are destroying property and committing all sorts of excesses. It is reported that the insurgents have carried their campaign of arson and plunder to the very gutes of Port Arthur.

GOEBEL TRIAL BEGINS.

Famous Kentucky Case Is Now On at Georgetown.

A Georgetown, Ky., dispatch says that interest in Kentucky's greatest crime promises to be almost as intense as the frial of the accused persons as it was shortly after the deed was cominitted. The prosecution still claims that it will spring damaging and surprising testimony which will convict all of the accused. When court convened Tuesday morning everybody was searched for weapons. The whole town turned out to watch Col. Chinn's encounter with the deputy sheriffs, who searched everybody who entered court. There was grave debate on the point of the person that made Kentucky famous. They expected him to resist, but he did not. The list of witnesses for the defense was called, and at the conclusion ex-Gov. John Young Brown stated that but twenty-nine

NOTIFIED AT CANTON.

President McKinley Formally Told of His Renomination.

At Canton, Ohio, Thursday, William McKinley was notified formally of his nomination by the Republican convention to succeed himself as President of the United States. The address of notification was made by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman of the committee, and the President made a careful response. Both addresses were intended to be more than formal; to a certain extent they defined the basis upon which the campaign is to be carried on, and for this reason especial attention was paid the speakers by the prominent Republicans who were

The second notification of McKinley that he had been selected as the nominee of the Republican party for President was made at the same place as the first and all the accessories were similar to the occasion four years ago. Then the chairman of the committee was Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska, who had been permanent chairman of the convention. Thursday Senator Lodge of Massachusetts stood upon the same porch and announced to President McKinley that he was the unanimous choice of the Republican national convention for Presi-
