Wednesday the wind blew a perfect gale nearly all day, and the result is that thousands of bushels of appels and other fruit was blown off the trees all over Indiana, intailing a great loss to the farmers as the report comes that the winter apples are practically a total loss. In Michigan fruit belts the loss will reach hundreds of thousands of dollars as the late peaches and other fruits are nearly a totrl loss. Aside from the great loss of fruit, great damage has been done to other property throughout the country.

Indianapolis, Sept. 10. - Interest in the prohibition special train, which will make a tour of the country with the presidental candidates and other speakers on board, has been igcreased by the announcement that Sam Jones, the noted Georgia evangelist, has offered his services free to the national committee to travel on the train and make addresses. This announcement recieved with great enthusaism by the prohibitionists, as they believe it will add greatly to the drawing power of the train. The places announced for stops by the special train in Indiana are as follows: Oct. 1, Goshen and Auburn; Oct. 6, Evansyille, with a mass meeting at Louisville the same night; Oct, 8, state rally at Indianepolis, at night in Tomlinson Hall; Oct 9, Logansport. It is expected the train will stop at six or seven points each day.

About 20,000 people surrounding South Bend and from adjoining counties were in said city Saturday to see and hear Governor Rossevelt, of New York discuss politics. W. T. Durbin, candidate for govenor of Indiana was present, also a score or more of other political lights, who in the afternoon and evening told why McKinley should be re-elected. There were about 400 rough riders in the parade, dressed in splendid rough-rider uniforms. Aside from these mounted men, there were about 500 other horsemen in line Tuen came several bands followed by marching clubs, and we will wager that the parade was nearly a mile and one half long. In the eyeaing, it seemed that everybody had a horn, and the noise they made caused one to imagine that South Bend had formed a trust ou horns and had unloaded their supply. It was a great crowd and if they were all republicans it would lead one to beleive that Bryan . stands but a poor show of being lected to the highest office in the and But all were not republicans, as occasionally a man was brave enough to yell for Bryan.

FACE DISMAL FUTURE

HUNDREDS OF PROSPECTORS STRANDED AT NOME.

Starvation and Possible Death Are All that Many of Them Can See Ahead-Stampede to Blue Stone Creek -Russia Signs Protocol.

The steamship Elihu Thompson, from Cape Nome, brought 200 passengers, many of whom are without means. The Thompson's officers report conditions but little changed. There are about 15,000 people in Nome City, many of them in destitute circumstances, and as winter approaches much uneasiness prevails among the unfortunates, as they can see no prospect of getting away and nothing ahead but suffering and perhaps death. Before the Thompson sailed from Nome a report reached there that rich diggings had been struck on Blue Stone creek, this side of Cape York, and parties who came down from Blue Stone reported they had found plenty of dust. This caused a stampede and all small steamers and schooners at Nome headed for the scene of the new strike loaded with passengers, while many started out in small boats. It is said by the time the stampede is over and the last steamer of the season sails south, Nome will be almost depopulated. The captain of the Thompson says the first claims located at Nome are showing up well, it having taken the entire season to place them in working order. Nome is practically free from sickness, smallpox and other diseases having disappeared except among the Indians at the village south of Nome, where a number of natives are down with smallpox.

DOG CAUSES FATAL AFFRAY.

Henry Cooksey Wounded Mortally at Andersonville, Ind.

A dog was responsible for a shooting affray at Andersonville, Ind., in which Henry Cooksey was mortally wounded Mollenbauers, the sugar refiners. by Orin E. Walker, a young attorney. Cooksey and John Ross quarreled because a dog belonging to Ross had invaded Cooksey's poultry yard, causing Cooksey to shoot the animal. Cooksey charged Walker with interfering in behalf of Ross and Walker replied with an epithet. Cooksey retaliated by charging on the lawyer with a club. Walker warned Cooksey that he would shoot him if he advanced. Cooksey disregarded the threat and made a rush for Walker, who then fired six shots from a revolver into Cooksey's body, causing fatal wounds. Walker was placed under bonds.

TO SETTLE AMERICAN CLAIMS.

Protocol Signed by Russia to Arbitrate Pacific Shipping Damages.

A special from Washington says: Acting Secretary of State Hill has received this dispatch from Mr. Pierce, the American charge d'affaires in St. Petersburg: "The protocol for the arbitration of the claims of the United States citizens for the seizure of vessels in the North Pacific by Russia has been signed." The signing of this protocol terminates negotiations which have lasted five or six years. The amount of the claims to be arbitrated is nearly $400,000.

REBEL FLAGS RETURNED.

Dhie Gives Back Colors of the Thirtieth Louisiana Regiment.

An incident out of the ordinary occurred at the reunion of the Forty-sixth Ohio volunteer infantry, at Worthington, a suburb of Columbus, Ohio. The colors of the Thirtieth Louisiana regiment were returned to a committee of the survivors of that organization. The flags were captured at Ezre courthouse, just outside of Atlanta, Ga., during the war of the rebellion, and have been in the relic room of the State capitol in Columbus for many years. During the reunion Judge David Pugh made an address and turned the flags over to a committee composed of Messrs. Shepard D. Harris, John A. Landry and James H. Brown of New Orleans. Gov. Nash was present and participated in the exercises.

GETS SLICE OF VENEZUELA.

Colombia Has Been Awarded Big

Piece of Barren Country. Francis B. Loomis, United States minister to Venezuela, who has recently returned from Caracas, said in an interview: "Just before I sailed for New York I learned that the joint commission of Colombians and Venezuelans appointed by the Queen of Spain to decide the boundary line between Colombia and Venezuela, had completed its task and had advanced the boundary line to the Negro river. This gives to Colombia a slice of Venezuela, which reduces the size of the latter nearly one-eighth. The land in question is barren country. The decision of the commission was received acceptably by the Venezuelans." Mr. Loomis said the talk of a war between Colombia and Venezuela is utterly groundless.

ROB RICH WOMAN OF GEMS.

Thieves Take Diamonds from a New York Society Matron. While returning from a dancing party at 3 o'clock the other morning Mrs. Julia Mollenhauer, wife of J. W. Mollenhauer, from whom she separated a few years ago, was assaulted and robbed of her diamonds by four men. Her colored maid was also beaten brutally. The assault and robbery took place in a livery stable in North Tenth street, Williamsburg, N. Y. The men were arrested, Mrs. Mollenhauer is 27 years old and pretty. She lives in one of the most fashionable residence sections in Brooklyn. Her husband is wealthy and a relative of the

ALASKA INDIANS IN NEED.

Natives Along the Coast Dying of Starvation and Sickness.

Capt. Tuttle of the revenue cutter service, in command of the steamer Bear, reports to the Treasury Department from Nome on the operations of his vessel since July 6. The report relates principally to the condition of the natives along the Alaskan coast and adjacent islands. Everywhere the vessel touched officers were sent ashore to investigate the conditions, and reported that the natives never have been in worse condition. Capt. Tuttle says he believes that if it were not for the little relief he is taking to them on his present trip there would not be 10 per cent of them alive next June.

Turkey Making a Navy.

Turkey evidently intends to be prepared to resist any attempt which may be made by foreign governments to collect indemnities by force. Consul General C. M. SAIL WITH A MANIAC.

CINCINNATI INSURANCE MAN ESCAPES DEATH.

Invited Out Upon Lake Huron by a Friend, Who Suddenly Becomes Insane and Threatens His Life-Slays Jap and Blows Up Powder House.

Robert Weiskittel of Cincinnati, general agent of the New York Life Insurance Company, who has been staying on Les Cheneaux Islands, in Lake Huron, had a thrilling experience, which nearly cost him his life. Mr. Weiskittel made many friends at the hotel where he was stopping, among them being a physician from Flint. One day the doctor extended an invitation to the insurance man to accompany him in a sail on the lake. The only occupants of the vessel were Weiskittel, his host and the sailor who managed it. When the boat was out in the lake the doctor suddenly jumped from his | seat. In each hand he held a revolver and in his eye there was the unmistakable glare of the maniac. He declared he was going to kill the other two men. The sailor, unnoticed by the maniac, turned the boat toward land and the prow touched the sand while the doctor was still talking and flourishing his weapons. Then Weiskittel and the sailor jumped out and ran for life.

INSANE MAN'S AWFUL DEED.

Slays Japanese and Blows Up Powderhouse, Killing Himself.

A double tragedy took place on a ranch sixteen miles from Fresno, Cal., near the village of Centerville. Frank W. Browning, foreman for W. G. Uridge, became insane and imagined that the Japanese laborers were conspiring against him. He emptied both barrels of his gun into a Japanese, the first shot taking effect in the small of his back and the second carrying away his right arm. He then walked half a mile to Uridge's powder house and blew it up, the explosion startling the country for miles around. Browning's head and limbs were torn from the trunk. The Japanese died.

ALLEGED BURGLARS ARE SHOT.

Two Men Captured at Canaanville, O., After Fight with Officers.

Athens, Ohio, officers, accompanied by Pomeroy police, went to Canaanville, and after a running battle captured James Watkins and Henry Williams, who were taken to Pomeroy to answer a charge of safe-blowing. A full set of burglars' tools was secured on the men. They were surprised, but showed fight, and twenty-five shots were exchanged. Watkins was shot in the leg. John Claire, alias George Woods, was arrested on the same charge the previous day.

Refuses to Flee from Jail.

Moses Zambriz, colored, is a prisoner in the jail at Kirkwood, Mo. The city officials wish he would escape. They have given him several opportunities, but Zambriz refuses to flee. He was sent to jail for six months and ordered to pay a $200 fine or work out the amount in jail for carrying a razor. Now the officials have no work for the prisoner and they are tired of feeding him.

Killed by Masked Men.

H. H. Mowrey, night operator of the Chicago and Alton Railway at Marshall, Mo., was held up by three masked robbers, who entered the station and cleared out the money drawer at the ticket window, securing a few dollars. S. C. Aulgur, night watchman, on his rounds discovered the intruders and was shot dead. The robbers escaped.

Sad Blow to Mill Workers.

The Fifth Avenue Savings and Loan Association of McKeesport, Pa., is insolvent, and the Mercantile Trust Company of Pittsburg has been appointed temporary receiver. Nearly 1,700 mill workers had deposited all their savings in the concern, expecting to buy homes.

Farmer Digs Up an Aerolite.

Isaac Ward, a farmer living several miles northeast of Bowling Green, Ohio, has in his possession a large bowlder which fell a few days ago in one of his fields. It was found by some of his men cutting corn in a back field, and was dug up and drawn to Mr. Ward's yard.

CALLS LABOR UNION A TRUST.

Iowa Justice Rules that It Violates State Law.

Justice Halloran at Des Moines, Iowa. rendered a decision in a instice court in the case of Ryan vs. Charles Weitz & Son, in which he held that a labor union is a pool or trust, the operation of which is in direct violation of section 5000 of the code of Iowa, which says: "Any corporation or organization having for its object the maintenance or regulation of any commodity is a trust or pool." The American and English Encyclopedia of Law specifically defines labor to be a commodity, and it is on these two authorities that Justice Halloran formed his opinion. In all probability the Supreme Court will ultimately be called upon to settle the question.

SICK A WEEK IN A SMALL BOAT.

Young Ohio Woman Tosses Helplessly

Alone, but Is Rescued. For a week a young woman named Mamie Porter lay in an open boat in the lake at the foot of Erie street, Cleveland. Finally she was taken to the Lakeside hospital, suffering from typhoid fever. She came by excursion from Youngstown and became suddenly ill. The young man with whom she came placed her in a rowboat tied beside a pier and brought her a little food, but told no one she was there. Finally the young man telephoned for an ambulance, telling where the girl was, and disappeared.

BALLOONIST HAS ACCIDENT.

Torn Parachute Causes Him to Fall 200 Feet and Strike a Building.

Prof. Fotergill, who has been giving balloon ascensions and parachute jumps at the Michigan City, Ind., street fair, met with an accident the other day. While making an ascension he caught on one of the guy ropes, which tore the parachute, to which he was hanging, away from the balloon. He dropped 200 feet and struck a small brick building near the center of the city. He was picked up unconscious.

Lost in the Catacombs.

Two young Americans, students at the University at Eichstadt, who were in Rome attending a congress of university men, visited the Catacombs with their friends and strayed away and disappeared. Their absence was remarked only upon the return of the party to the hotel.

Fight Duel with Swords.

Two young members of the Liberty Park Cadets fought a duel with swords at Camden, N. J., for the hand of a belle of Gloucester. One of the duellists was pinked twice and fled in dismay, leaving the field and the heart and hand of the young woman to his antagonist.

COUNT OF 73 CITIES.

THESE SHOW TOTAL POPULA-TION OF OVER 15,000,000.

They Comprise Those of About 25,-000-Four Show a Decrease and Two an Unusual Growth - Majority of Them Show Respectable Growth.

Day after day the punching machines of the census office knock out the population of the United States, and the work of tabulating the returns is now far advanced so far as the cities are concerned. With the figures given Saturday seventythree cities having a population of 25,000 have been completed. They are scattered over the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the lakes to the gulf, so that it is possible to get a good view of the relative prosperity of different cities and sections. The seventy-three cities enumerated foot up a total population of 15,214,566, or nearly one-lifth of the total for the whole country.

The percentage of movement in population as compared with 1890 runs from a decrease of 27.17 for Lincoln, Neb., to a gain of 113.24 for Atlantic City, N. J. Of the seventy-three cities completed all are of the usual commercial type except Atlantic City, with a gain of 113.24 per cent, and Bayonne, N. J., another small place with a big boom, which sent it up to a percentage of 71.92.

The other cities readily group themselves in classes, and the figures show that there is one with a percentage between 90 and 100 and three with a percentage of gain of between 60 and 70 per cent, and the same number between 50 and 60, while there are seven between 40 and 50.

No less than 19 cities have a percentage of gain between 30 and 40, and 21 between 20 and 30, so that 40 cities have a ratio between 20 and 40, and places with these figures belong to the respectable middle class of American urban life.

There were nine cities with a percentage of gain between 10 and 20, and four were below 10 per cent, but nevertheless showed some gain. Finally, there were four cities with a positive loss in the decade covered by the comparison.

The twenty-one cities with a percentage between 20 and 30 are Washington, 20.98; Rochester, 21.31; St. Paul, 22.89; Syracuse, 22.95; Minneapolis, 23.09; Allegheny, 23.37; Kansas City, Mo., 23.39; Philadelphia, 23.57; Mobile, 23.79; Wilmington, Del., 24.54; Boston, 25.07; Denver, 25.44; Jersey City, 26.64; Louisville, 27.06; St. Louis, 27.33; Fort Wayne, 27.47; Trenton, 27.58; Altoona, 28.47; Manchester, N. H., 29.15: Lancaster, Pa., 29.51; Galveston, 29.93. In this list of twenty-one cities there are two from the South, and both of these, Mobile and Galveston, are on the gulf.

In the list of nineteen cities with percentages between 30 and 40 are Davenport, 31.19; Providence, 32.88; Kansas City, Kan., 34.19; Paterson, 34.24; Pittsburg, 34.78; Newark, N. J., 35.33; Scranton, 35.65; Buffalo, 35.77; Hoboken, 36.01; Peoria, 36.75; New York, 37.9; Wilkesbarre, 37.13; Atlanta, 37.14; Oakland, Cal., 37.55; Portland, Me., 37.67; Racine, 38.48; Detroit, 38.77; Dayton, 36.39; Milwankee, 39.54.

The four cities which narrowly escaped a black mark with their percentages of increase are Charleston, S. C., 1.55; Richmond, Va., 4.5; Nashville, 6.17; Cincinnati, 9.77. It will be noted at once that three of these four are distinctively Southern cities.

With a percentage of gain between 10 and 20, which is still largely below the average, are nine cities; San Francisco, Col., 14.64; Covington, Ky., 14.9; Quincy, Ill., 15.11; Elmira, N. Y., 15.47; Evansville, 16.26; Canton, Ohio, 17.1; Baltimore, 17.15; New Orleans, 18.16; Salt Lake City, 19.37. The people of all these cities will have to do a little explaining, as a ratio below 20 per cent is considered distinctly disappointing.

Comparing the total gain of the seventy-three cities with the total population at the last census year, the average rate of gain is 33.5 per cent. The enormous increases of New York, Chicago and other large cities bring up the general average. The population total of the seventy-three cities reported is 15,214,566, with a gain of 3,818,509 over 1890.

By Laura E. Richards.

"Yes," said the ironmaster, "first honesty, and then pluck-those are the things needful, Speaking of pluck-" He stopped to answer the summons of the telephone, said "Yes," and "No," by turns for five minutes, and then resumed:

"Speaking of pluck, as you were doing just now, reminds me of a story. the beginning and end of which is that one word."

We settled ourselves in our chairs. We were sitting in the office of the iron-works, and the air was full of the sound of great hammers, crashing and pounding; of the sharp hiss of molten metal, and the clear ring of smitten steel.

"I was sitting here in this very chair," the ironmaster began, "one day about seven years ago, or maybe eight. Time goes so fast, I hardly try to keep count of it in these days at reading the newspaper, I was sitting, came a knock at the door.

"'Come in!' I said; and in walked a stranger. He was a young man, about twenty-five years old, dressed like a gentleman, though his clothes had seen a good deal of service. Tall, with his head held up, and gray eyes that met mine fair and square.

"Always look first at a man's eyes, my boy! If he looks you in the eye, he is worth trying. If his eyes shift about here and there, as if they did not know where to look, or were afraid of seeing something they didn't like -have nothing to do with him! That's my experience!

"Well, this young man came up to my desk, and spoke without waiting for me; yet it was no want of manners, for his manners were good.

" 'Good morning, sir!' he said; and his voice had a clear ring to it that I liked. 'I want work. Can you give me any?"

"I shook my head. We never took strangers in that way, and I don't recommend the practice at any time.

"'No, sir!' I said, 'We have no work here. Sorry I can't accommodate you.' I took up my paper again, and looked to see him go out without more words; but he stood still. 'I must have work!' he said. 'I would try to give you satisfaction, sir, and I tell you I must have it!"

"He spoke as if I had the work in my coat pocket, and as if he was determined to get it from me at any cost; yet perfectly respectful, you understand, with nothing I could take hold of and get angry about.

"'My good sir,' I said, putting the paper down, 'there is no vacancy in the place. If you will give me your name and your references, I will make a note of them, and some day when we do have a job to dispose of, I will remember you. That is the best I can do for you to-day.'

"The young man shook his head, 'That won't do!' he said. 'Think again, sir. Surely in this great place, there must be something a strong, willing man can do. It is useless to talk of waiting till a vacancy occurs. I must have work now, to-day! It is absolutely necessary!'

"It was on the tip of my tongue to tell him that it was absolutely necessary for him to leave that office and shut the door after him; but I looked at him again, and didn't say it.

"I saw that he was telling the truth. and that he must have work. It wasn't was any suspicion of whining or snivelling about him. If there had been, out he would have gone in pretty quick time. But there was a look in his eyes -well. I hardly know how to describe it, but the man was desperate, and had some reason for being so.

"What kind of work do you want?" I said, putting down the paper again. " 'Any kind.'

"'You mean that?'

"I do. Anything that will put bread in the mouths of -' he choked a little, and stopped. Then, 'I came from Canada two days ago, with my wife and three children, and was robbed in the train of my wallet. I have not a penny!" "'Come with me." I said. And he followed me out of the works. His story might be true, or it might not, but I had thought of a way to test the metal of which he was made. "The Stark Mill, in which I had some interest, had been partly burned a few days before, and I had a gang at work clearing away the rubbish. A dirty job it was; the men were up to their waists half the time in mud and water, and the whole place was a muddle of rusty iron and burnt timbers and what not-looked like the end of the world, and the wrong end at that.

"The gang I had on were mostly Italians-it was too dirty work for a Yankee to touch, and even the Irish were shy of it. They were little, dark, monkey-looking fellows. working away, and chattering in their unearthly gibberish. I glanced from them to my gentleman, with his clear white harbor. So it went on till the fourth skin, and hands which showed that, whatever trade he had worked at, clearing away wreckage hadn't been and it's my belief he would have part of it-though he looked like one who might have taken a good deal of exercise in athletic sports.

"'Here is a job!' I said, 'The only one I know of. How do you like it? "'Well enough,' he said, as cool as possible.

"'You'll get a dollar and a half a day,' I told him. 'You'll get your death, too, probably. When will you go to work?

"'to an hour,' he said. Well, off he long "pig-tails" of the Celestials are went, and I hardly expected to see him again. But before the hour was out he was back again, in a flannel undershirt and a pair of old trousers. He took his pickaxe, and down he went into that hole as if it was an evening party, sir.

"Well, I went back to the office. I couldn't be hanging round watching the men, or the boss would have been making trouble; but my new hand stayed on my mind, somehow, and I strolled round by the wreck two or three times in the afternoou, making some errand, you understand, in that direction. That man was working, sir, like alike a house afire. The Italians are good workers, none better, as a rulebut his pick went in and out three times for their twice, and there was no chattering in his corner of the hole. He had little breath to talk, if he had wanted to, for though he was a muscular fellow, you could see with half an eye that he had never done such work in his life before.

"The sweat poured down his face like rain, but he never stopped, never looked up, or knew that I or any one else was near-just plodded away, swinging that pick as if there were nothing else in the world.

" 'That's pluck!' said I to myself. 'If he doesn't die he'll do!"

"For all that, I thought he would give out after the first day-didn't think his strength would last. When he came in for his pay at night, he was shaky and pretty tired-looking; but he said never a word; just took his pay with the rest, and thanked me. and went off.

"The next morning I was very busy, and although I thought of my gentleman once or twice, I didn't manage to get down to the wreck till noon, soon after the whistle had blown for knocking off work.

"When I got there, I saw the Italians lying round on the ground or squatting on the fences, eating their black bread and sausage, and chattering away as usual; but no sight of my gentleman in the flannel shirt.

"'Oho!' said I to myself. 'One day was enough for him, was it?' And I thought it would have been enough for me, too. When you are not used to the swing of a pick, the way it takes you in the back is something beyond belief. I turned to come away. and lo! there he was, sitting off in a corner by himself, all crouched up. with a great bunch of bread in one hand and a book in the other. "I strolled up behind him and looked over his shoulder at the book. It was an Italian grammar, sir!

"My shadow falling on the book startled him, and he looked up. I suppose I must have looked as astonished as I felt, for he smiled, and said, 'I couldn't afford to lose such an opportunity! The boss is very friendly, and I have learned several phrases. Buon giorno, signore!'

"'Are you a schoolmaster,' I asked, 'and working down in that hole?"

"'No,' he said, quietly. 'I am a that he looked shabby, or that there | bookkeeper. It is a great advantage for a bookkeeper to be able to read and answer foreign letters, and although I have some knowledge of French, it has never come in my way to hear Italian spoken. So now is my chance. I got this grammar for fifteen cents,' he added, turning it over, with a smile, the book was pretty ragged and one cover was gone,-'and I am getting on pretty well.'

"'Why in the name of everything foolish didn't you apply for a position as bookkeeper,' I asked, 'instead of this kind of thing?

"Nobody will take a bookkeeper without references. I shouldn't think much of a firm that did, I suppose.' he said, flushing a little. 'My references were in my wallet that was stolen, and it will be a week and more before I get new ones, as my native town is off the main lines, and letters take a good while to get there. I've always been fond of open air and exercise,' he added, with a quizzical look at the hole where he had been digging, and now I am getting lots " 'Back stiff?' I suggested.

"'So, so! I'll manage, though-often been worse after a day's rowing-and this is just as good bread as any other,' and he took a bite out of his hunch, and looked at his book, as much as to say he had talked enough, and wanted to be back at his grammar.

"I walked off, and didn't see him again till he came for his pay in the evening, shaky again, but smiling as if he had had an excursion down the day. Every day I looked to see him give out; but his pluck kept him up, worked in that hole and got stronger and stronger-if something hadn't turned up.

"The fourth day I was sitting in the office, when the door opened, and in came Green, from the boiler-works over the way, 'Morning,' he said. 'Do you know of a bookkeeper? Our poor fellow, who's been sick for so long, died yesterday. I have to think about getting another.'

"I shook my head, but an idea came

".'Will you take a man on trial?' "'What kind of a man?' asked Green.

"'Well, I hardly know,' said I, 'I think he's a pretty good kind, but I've only known him four days. I can answer for his power of work,' and I told the man's story.

"Green went out with me, saw the young fellow, liked his looks, and engaged him on the spot. He finished his day's work, came out of his hole in the mud, shook hands with me, and the next day found a home for the rest of his life.

"That is seven or eight years ago, and he has been at the boiler-works ever since. If he's not to be made a partner soon, I've been misinformed to-day-and that is what put him into my head when you were talking about pluck just now. That man, sir, had the real article; and when a man has the real article, and is honest to boot, don't talk to me about his not succeeding in life. Going? Well, good morning! Good luck to you in your new venture, and let your watchword be -Pluck!"-Youth's Companion.

The Nile Fish Killed.

A curious and unexpected development has arisen in connection with the cutting off suddenly, of Assouau, on the Upper Nile. The large volumes of water which were liberated had been stagnant for many months, and, therefore, possessed no free oxygen; consequently the fish in the river at Assouan have been destroyed by the hundreds of thousands. The chief of the engineering staff reports that there are over 1,000,000 dead fish ranging from two or three inches to six or seven feet in length, lying exposed to the sun within 100 yards of his office. The odor exhaled by the decomposition of these fish by the torrid sun is nauseating in the highest degree. To accelerate the gravity of this situation there is no other drinking water available. Fortunately, however, no virulent epidemic has broken out among the inhabitants as a result of drinking such polluted

EMPRESS IS DEFIANT.

IMPERIAL EDICT URGES REVENGE ON FOREIGNERS.

Chinese Viceroys Ordered to Avenge the Wrongs Done to Their Country-Royal Court Fled for Fear Christians Would Kill the Emperor.

The Dowager Empress of China defies the allied army of Europe. She will have no peace. She is for war and a war of vengeance. An edict of defiance signed by the Empress at Tai-Yuan-Fu has appeared at Shanghai. In it the viceroys are exhorted to unite to avenge the wrongs of China. They are ordered to enroll troops in order to prosecute war upon the allies. The whole edict breathes defiance and undying hatred of the foreigners. It explains to the viceroys that the court fled from Pekin because it was feared that the Christians would kill the Emperor.

It is believed, the correspondents say, that the defiance of the Empress is inspired by Viceroy Yuat Tui Tuan Fu, in whose palace the court is established. He is the man who invited fifty foreigners to put themselves under his protection, and when they had done so slew them.

OUTRAGES BY CIVILIZATION. Horrible Orgies of Plunder and Slaugh ter by Soldiers in China.

The story told by the Associated Press of the scenes enacted by some of the foreign troops on the road between Tien-tsin and Pekin is not only shocking in its details but a disgrace to Western civilization. The worst outrages charged against the Boxers are mild in comparison with the enormities practiced by the Russian and French soldiers, who were left unrestrained to loot and slaughter unoffending natives at will. It is to the credit of the Germans, English, Japanese and Americans that they behaved themselves with some regard to discipline and humanity and that the officers of the last two exerted themselves successfully to protect property and life.

It was not so, however, with the Russians and French, according to the Associated Press correspondent. They engaged in an orgy of plunder and slaughter and left behind them a wake of devastation in the Pei-Ho valley. homes of the people and their food products were ruthlessly destroyed. The shops were looted, and what could not be carried away was trampled under foot and smashet. Villages were burned. The inhuman Cossacks butchered inoffensive men, women and children for sport. Natives trying to get back to their homes and farmers working in their fields were used as targets by these wretches. The dispatch says: "The Cossacks would pick up children barely old enough to walk, hold them by the ankles, and beat their brains out on the sidewalks. The American officers at Taku, days after the fighting was finished, saw Russians bayonet children and throw old men into the river, clubbing them to death when they tried to swim. The Russians killed women who knelt before them and begged for mercy. Coolies were killed while trotting along the roads with their loads and farmers when trying to gather in their grain." And the Russian officers looked on without protest or making any efforts to restrain their soldiers!

Throughout the campaign the Japanese were kept under the best control of all the invading forces, but even so, a correspondent who returned from Pekin to Tung-Chow to find the latter city stripped "like a cornfield after a plague of grasshoppers," reports: "Parties of soldiers of every nationality were roaming about unrestricted and, presumably, were doing much wanton destruction in the spirit of deviltry." There was, in fact, a contagion and ecstasy of brutality among those martial spirits, a degrading license, such as are too often an incident of war.

We read again: "Robbery and murder are so common that every respectable person one meets contributes stories from personal observation. Burning and pilpamphlets are being circulated in Canton and the provinces intimating that the allies are thoroughly routed. The feeling against foreigners is bursting the bounds of official control. The majority of the mission stations in Kwang-Tung have been either destroyed or looted. Native Christians are terribly abused. Natives in foreign employ in Canton have been threatened, and a systematic looting has taken place of the houses of Englishspeaking Chinamen.

Several reform parties, with their headquarters in Hougkong, who have been supported by funds from rich Chinese in the interior and in America, have hitherto refrained from aggressive action, believing that the powers would effect the regeneration of the government. One powerful organization is distributing thousands of copies of a reform appeal in the British colonies. The memorandum has been signed by 200 names for presentation to the British minister, imploring the assistance of a reform government. It recommends establishing Nankin as the capital and the selection of en lightened Chinese officials to administer the government, with foreign advisers.

The people are disheartened at the reported intention of the powers to withdraw from China. Different societies are combining to raise the standard of revolt and overthrow the corrupt government.

ARTHUR SEWALL DEAD.

Famous Shipbuilder and Democratic Leader Expires.

Arthur Sewall died at his summer home, Small Point, about twelve miles from Bath, Me., Wednesday morning. Death was due to apoplexy, the stroke having been sustained Sunday. He was 64 years of age.

Mr. Sewall had not been in good health for some time, although he was not considered to be seriously ill. He had been advsed by his physician as early as last June to rest, and he attended the Democratic national convention in July against the advice of his doctor. He appeared to have suffered no ill effects from the journey, however, and was passing the summer quietly at Small Point when the fatal stroke seized him. The unconsciousness which followed the attack continued until death came.

Arthur Sewall, shipbuilder and shipowner, Democratic candidate of 1896 for the vice-presidency, was born in Bath, Me., Nov. 25, 1835. He was the son of William D. Sewall, who in 1823, began in Bath the business of shipbuilding. The family was noted in New England for several generations. Of this family was Judge Samuel Sewall, conspicuous in the early annals of Boston. Through a large part of this century the firm at Bath were the chief constructors of the "merchant marine" in this country.

STORM HITS TEXAS.

Galveston Wiped Out and Death List Is Put at 2,500.

ELEMENTS IN STRIFE.

Whole Southern Section of the State Devastated by Fierce Gale.

Entire Towns Blotted Out of Existence -Trail of West Indian Hurricane Is Marked by Hundreds of Human Victims and Widespread Devastation-Tale Told by One of the Galveston Survivors Who Was Fortunate Enough to Escape.

Over two thousand lives are believed to have been lost in the West Indian hurricane that left a trail of death and destruction over half the great State of Texas. Many towns were destroyed and telegraphic communication with the imperiled region was cut off.

Upon the city of Galveston the hurricane that swept in from over the Gulf of Mexico fell with deadliest force. It wrecked houses by the score first and then, as its prodigious force increased, It blew the waters of Galveston Bay upon the town, submerging half of its buildings and drowning at least 2,500. That is the most conservative estimate of the dead in Galveston alone.

James C. Timmins, general superintendent of the National Compress Company, was one of the first to bring tidings of the great disaster to that city. After remaining through the hurricane on Satarday Mr. Timmins departed from Galveston on a schooner and went across the bay to Morganspoint, where he caught a train for Houston. The hurricane, Mr.

-Chicago Record.

The number of injured in Galveston is probably 2,500, but at the time this is written there is no means of arriving at a definite conclusion as to this. It is the belief of many persons-those best situated to know-that the death list may be swelled to 2,000-and even more-for the storm, in its violence, carried the bodies of scores of the drowned far into the interior.

There is not a building in Galveston which is not either entirely destroyed or damaged, and the people of the city are living in the valley of the shadow of death, helpless and hopeless, deprived of Timmins said, was the worst ever known. all hope and ambition-merely waiting Citizens of Galveston then estimated for the appearance of the official death

BIG LOSS TO RAILROADS.

Storm in Texas Causes Damage to

Transportation Interests. The Texas horror will result in an immense loss to all the railroad systems entering Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, Velasco and other cities and to the several steamship companies entering the ports of Galveston, Velasco harbor and Port Arthur. The damage to rolling stock and trackage of the railroads probably will form a small percentage of the loss. It is estimated the railroads will suffer to the extent of many millions of dollars from damage to terminals, elevators, warehouses, docks and other property. The big steamship lines will also lose heavily.

By far the biggest loss will fall on the lines entering Galveston. Six railroads and several steamship lines have immense interests there and probably suffer almost a total loss.

HOUSTON GALE-SWEPT.

Hurricane Levels Many Buildings and and the Loss Is $500,000.

A tropical hurricane swept Houston, Texas, Saturday night and part of Sunday. It is estimated that the damage amounts to $500,000. One life was lost, a colored man being killed by a falling timber. The streets are strewn with wreckage. The Masonic Temple, four stories high, is a wreck. The roof caved in, taking with it the rear wall. The Methodist Episcopal Church was damaged by the falling of its tower. All school buildings were partially unroofed and otherwise damaged, the loss to them amounting to $50,000. St. Mark's Episcopal Church was damaged by a partial falling in of the walls.

TORTUKED AND SLAIN.

Women Missionaries in China Subjected to Revolting Atrocities. Newspaper correspondents at Shaughal have learned from official sources the facts of the killing by Chinese of several American women missionaries. At the request of the mission board the details were withheld out of regard for the feelings of the relatives of the murdered women; but other prominent Americans, who have long antagonized the policy of sending women to isolated inland posts, think it important that the facts should be known. The names of the victims are withheld by request.

Two young American women caught leaving their posts to make their escape to the coast were stripped and led about the country, subject to insult from pass ing bands of soldiers. After being inhumanely mistreated they were killed in a manner too revolting to be described. Two other women making their way to the coast with a party which was pursued by the natives fell exhausted by the wayside. They were picked up and taken before a local magistrate, who ordered their execution. They were prostrated on the block and a feint made at beheading them. One of the women, bysterical with fear, burst into laughter. She was thought insane and, as the Chinese have a superstition regarding the insane, the execution was stopped. The woman was escorted to the coast, but horribly abused on the way there. Her companion, after being led about the country in a shameful way, was killed in the revolting manner employed in the previous case,

A Spanish priest who escaped from Chuchua, province of Che-kiang, tells of the massacre of four English missionaries, including six women and four children. The magistrate's bodyguard impaled them on forks and spears and left them hanging naked from the trees.

LOSE LIVES AT PATROL BOX.

Two St. Louis Policemen Killed by an Electric Shock.

In St. Louis two policemen were killed and thirteen other officers badly shocked or burned by electricity while attempting to telephone their central station the other night. It is the duty of the patrolmen to call up their central station for orders from the patrol boxes stationed along the streets. These boxes are connected with the headquarters of the various police districts by private city wires. Recently wires were strung by a new electrie lighting company and 8,000 volts were loaded on them. One of these wires came in contact with the telephone service at some point, and when the patrolmen placed their hands on the transmitter to lift it from the hook the terrific force either passed through their bodies or gave them a violent wrench before they could loosen their hold.

Nicholas Beckman was the first victim. He died on the way to the hospital, His right hand and arm were burned and blistered. John P. Loving was the other man killed by the shock as he placed his hand on the receiver. He died almost instantly. The thirteen others fared more or less seriously. In each case the right hand was badly burned. The finger tips were split open and in some instances the flesh was cooked to the bone. The finger nails turned purple,

RECORD OF EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK.

Trouble in a County Institution at Terre Haute-Mammoth Woman to Marry-Reunion of Benbow Family at Muncie-Tragely in a Cemetery.

In Terre Hante the twenty orphan children the county was boarding with a Mrs. McKenzie have been taken from her and placed in homes. Charges are now made of extreme cruelty of the children by Matron McKenzie. One of the charges is that Mrs. McKenzie lowered a child into a well as punishment; another that she made the children sleep on the floor to save washing the bed clothing. Mrs. McKenzie says that she threatened to lower children into the well as a means of preventing them playing around the opening of the well. She also says the children slept on comforts on the floor, but they did this of their own wish in the warm weather.

Pride-to-Be Weighs 350.

Miss Lucy Havens, an inmate of the county asylum at LaPorte, owes her success in winning a husband to her great weight. Miss Havens tips the scales at 350 pounds and is steadily growing beavier. Dr. O. J. Detter of Union City wishes to place ber on exhibition as the heaviest woman in the State, if not in the world, and he has placed a proposition of marriage in the hands of the county board. He offers to execute a bond that the woman shall not again become a county charge.

ADVICE BY WILSON.

SAYS FARMING HAS NOW BE-COME A SCIENCE.

Declares that There Is a Profitable and Limitless Field in the Industry-Experts Are in Demand at High Salaries.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, in his speech before the Stark County Agricultural Society at Canton. Ohio, advised the young men of the nation to make a study of agriculture. He said that half the boys of today would be the farmers of the coming generation and that farming had developed into a science, of which its experts should be proud. He advocated the scientific teachings of the daily discover-

SECRETARY WILSON. ies that are being made and said that no college is complete which has not a branch devoted to this most worthy profession.

"An American educated along agricultural lines," said the Secretary, "has just gone to Queensland for five years to organize work along producing lines at a salary of $15,000 a year and I know where such a farmer is wanted at $3,000 salary in one of our new islands. I know where one is wanted in Africa at a high salary and there is a demand in our own country for such educated men."

There was a limitless field here for the scientist, he said, and the successful discoverer of the secret would be an immeasurable hero to the great army of farmers. In 1899 the United States sold $792,811,733 worth of domestic products, and bought $355,514,881 worth of agricultural products. Much of the latter could have been raised in the United States, the Secretary held, and it was but a question of time when they would be. Wool production has so developed in this country that we have cut the importation of that commodity in half from 1898 to 1899. Farm animals have risen in price, notwithstanding the introduction of steam and electricity, and American bred horses and mules are in demand in foreign countries. In the year ended June, 1900, the United States exported to the orient a total of $107,300,000, of which $30,200,000 were farm products.

New Trial Expected for Mrs. Botkin, the California Borgia.

In view of the recent decision of the California Supreme Court granting a new trial to Albert Hoff, convicted of murder in San Francisco, the friends of Mrs. Cordelia Botkin, now serving a life sentence for poisoning Mrs. John T. Dunning, are hopeful of securing for her another chance of proving her innocence. George A. Knight, attorney for Mrs.

MRS. CORDELIA BOTKIN.

Botkin, is of the opinion that in her case a new trial must now be granted. Reconviction in Mrs. Botkin's case will be difficult, as the chief witnesses on the first trial had to be brought from Delaware, and it is said cannot be induced to come west again. Mrs. Botkin is elated at the new turn of affairs, and is quite confident of a favorable decision by the Supreme Court.

PRESIDENT TYLER'S DAUGHTE

A Venerable Lady of Noble Lineal Speaks a Timely Word.

WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

"One of the most aristocratic faces seen in Washington is that of Mrs. Semple, daughter of President Tyler. She has passed her 80th year and yet retains an exceedingly youthful complexion. Personally she is charming, and impresses one as stepping out of the European courts," so says The National Magazine, under the heading "Social Sidelights at the Capital."

The following is a letter from this interesting lady, written from the Louise Home, Washington, D. C., to The Peruna Medicine Co.. of Columbus, Ohio, concerning their great catarrh tonic, Peruna. Mrs. Semple writes:
The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen --- "Your Peruna is a most valuable remedy. Many of my friends have used it with the most fiastering results and I can commend it to all who need a strengthening tonic. It is indeed a remarkable Letitia Tyler Semple. medicine." Sincerely,

I have used Dr. C. D. Warner's Compound of beyon t'ores with such good results that I recommended it to Geo. Chipp. who was ta ben with typhoid fever about two years ago. The disease settled in one of his legs, causing colargement of the entire limb, which posuited in a fever running sore, rendering the leg entirely useless. The doctors tried to core it, but had no success, and they advised him that his leg would have to be amputated. Then I urged him to give the Seven cores a fair trial and accordingly he commenced taking it and continued to use it for Remember float Barne's the Maxinkuerce siz months. Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years o Suitering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured, says John S. Holloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoen that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colie, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles 1 am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." or sale by T. E. Slaftery, druggist
