Amos Coffman, a Dublin farmer aged 67, while working in a cornfield, was thrown from his wagon. His neck was broken.

Joseph Brown, 24, Panhandle switchman, killed at Logansport by being thrown under the wheels of an engine that jumped the track.

Hobart dedicated his new German Lutheran Church with all-day services. Rev. E. H. Scheip of Pern and Prof. H. Dan of Hammond conducted the dedicatory services. The building cost $8,000. Over 2,000 persons were present from surrounding towns.

The Kankakee land owners will combine in sending an agent to South Africa and Holland to encourage the settlement of Boer colonies in the Kankakee valley in La Porte, Lake, Porter and Stark counties. The Kankakee lands are adapted to the raising of cattle and of recent years immense crops of corn have been produced. The Kankakee valley promoters took the initial steps to encourage colonization during the last stages of the Boer war.

A bill is to be introduced in the Legislature this winter creating the office of State fire marshal. Auditor of State Hart is behind the proposition. The duties of the officer would be to investigate the cause of fires and fix the responsibility. It is believed he would be able to discover danger from spontaneous combustion in large manufacturing concerns in season to save heavy losses, thus saving the insurance companies large sums and thereby aid in reducing rates. The experiment has been successful in several States.

Wesley Hummer, a well-known resident of Greene township, was arrested in Elkhart on a charge of passing counterfeit money. He had nine $10 gold pieces, eighteen $5 coins and three $1 silver pieces, all spurious, $13.25 in good money and a die for making the counterfeit. His plan was to make a small purchase, tender one of the gold pieces and receive good money in change. The gold counterfeits were poorly executed, consisting of stamped white metal, bronzed with a powder that rubbed off on the paper in which they were wrapped. Hummer confessed, telling the officers that no one else was directly implicated. He said he bought the spurious money from a man who met him regularly at a point between South Bend and Plymouth.

FINDS YOUTSEY GUILTY.

Jury Assesses His Punishment at Imprisonment for Life.

At Georgetown, Ky., Henry E. Youtsey was found guilty by a jury of murdering William Goebel. His punishment is fixed at imprisonment for life. At the request of Youtsey's lawyers the judgment has been arrested until next February. By that time, if his mental condition has not improved, he will be tried for insanity. In the meantime he is to be confined at Frankfort, and in the meantime, also, his attorneys will prepare an appeal.

Perhaps never before in Kentucky was an unconscious man tried for his life. Doubtless never before was a verdict returned against a man who, at the very moment the decision was being read, lay in a stupor, more dead than alive, and with chances greatly against his recovery.

The court room was crowded, but none of Youtsey's attorneys were present. The prisoner's aged father and a number of other relations were in the sick room just off the court room. The verdict produced a tearful scene, as they had been hoping that the result would be acquittal. Youtsey was somewhat better Saturday, though unable to make himself understood. He will be sentenced by Judge Cantrill at the next term of court. A new trial will be asked for, and failing in this, an appeal will be taken.

CHRISTMAS BOXES TO GO FREE

Gifts for Soldiers Serving Abroad to Be Carried Without Charge.

Christmas packages for American soldiers serving abroad will be transported by the government free of charge from either San Francisco or New York. This was done last year, and proved popular. Those in charge of the army transports, however, say that senders of boxes should understand that perishable articles, such as fruit and plum puddings, and fragile packages, such as preserves, should not be inclosed.

Boxes should not exceed twenty-five or thirty pounds in weight. They should be plainly marked with the name, company and regiment of the soldier, and be sent in care of the superintendent of the United States army transport service, either at San Francisco or New York.

A transport leaves New York for the Philippines on Nov. 5, and will take Christmas packages, but it will require fifty days to make the trip, whereas the voyage across the Pacific is shorter. Express or freight charges should be prepaid to San Francisco or New York. Packages for soldiers in Cuba and Porto Rico should be sent via New York.

The proclamation of peace in South Africa is still to be promulgated. The war is apparently ended as far as regular campaigning is concerned, but small bands of Boers continue to harass the British troops. Railroad communication is frequently interrupted by the destruction of the roadbed by Boer raiders, and telegraph wires are often cut. Of course, this is not war, but it is so near to it that Lord Roberts' army still has plenty to do. Lord Roberts' departure for England is also delayed. A week ago it was expected that Lord Roberts would succeed Lord Wolseley as commander-in-chief of the British army. During the week, however, new complications seem to have arisen. Sir Redvers Buller, who had been slated for the chief command in South Africa, is preparing to go to England, and the London newspapers print, under reservation, the story that he is to be the new commander-in-chief, Lord Roberts, it being stated, having declined because the War Department refused to give him a free hand in instituting army reforms.

The affairs of the Ottoman empire are rapidly going from bad to worse, and it is evident that a crisis cannot long be deferred. During the week the Turkish legation at Madrid was closed, the ambassador discharging his secretaries, attaches and servants and quitting his post because of unpaid salaries. The Turkish flag is coming down from many European consulates. The most prominent and progressive Turks are fugitives in Europe, fearing the wrath of the Sultan, Osman Pasha, a relative of the dead general of that name escaping during the last week. Turkey is making no progress in commerce, industry, agriculture or mining. The land taxes are so heavy that the farmers cannot pay them from the products of the soil. The mines of coal, copper, iron, lead, silver, salt and alum are unworked because of restrictive laws. Europe's day of settlement with the Sultan cannot long be delayed, and when that day comes the Sultan will disappear as a disturbing factor in old world politics.

China has taken the initiative in opening negotiations with the powers for a settlement of the complications arising from the Boxer revolt. Prince Ching and Li-Hung-Chang have addressed to the foreign envoys a circular note suggesting a basis for the beginning of negotiations. They express regret for the anti-foreign outrages and concede in advance China's liability to pay indemnity. They ask a cessation of hostilities and the withdrawal of the allied army. France has already rejected the proposals, and the powers will doubtless follow the example. In his note M. Pinchon, the French ambassador, insists that all negotiations will be held in abeyance as long as the heads of the leaders of the anti-foreign revolt remain unfallen. This is a direct return to the original demands of Germany and

COAL STRIKE IS OVER.

OPERATORS ACCEDE TO THE DEMANDS OF MINERS.

Conference of Operators at Philadelphia Arrives at an Agreement—Will Abolish Sliding Scale of Wages and Give an Increase of Ten Per Cent.

The conference between the individual coal operators and the representatives of the big coal-carrying companies with a view to bringing about the termination of the anthracite coal strike was held in the private office of President Harris of the Reading Railway Company at Philadelphia. The meeting was secret. The conference resulted in an agreement to accede to the demands made by the mine workers' convention.

The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company at once issued the following statement:

"It hereby withdraws the notice posted Oct. 3, 1900, and, to bring about practical uniformity in the advance of wages in the several coal regions, gives notice that it will suspend the operation of the sliding scale, will pay 10 per cent advance on September wages till April 1, 1901, and thereafter until further notice; and will take up with its mine employees any grievances which they may have."

The Lehigh Valley company, in whose region the sliding scale is also in operation, will issue a similar notice, as will also the individual operators who were represented at the meeting. This meets all the demands of the strikers and means the immediate ending of the strike.

KING LEOPOLD.

It is said that Leopold, the gay old King of the Belgians, will soon abdicate in favor of his nephew, Prince Albert of Flanders, who recently married Marie Gabrielle of Bavaria. Prince Albert is the son of the King's only brother, Prince Philippe, Count of Flanders, and he has renounced his right of succession, as he is old and deaf.

EIGHT PERISH IN THE FLAMES.

Terribly Fatal Fire in a New York Tenement House.

Eight persons were either burned or suffocated in a fire in the three-story frame double tenement house, 45 and 45 1/2 Hester street, New York, early Wednesday morning. Of Charles Fass' family of six, only himself and his 4-year-old girl, Pauline, are alive. Fass threw his child out of a second-story window, and Policeman Peter Hunt caught her. Then Fass escaped. Mrs. Anna Horowitz met a horrible fate. Her night robe caught fire and she was burned to death on the fire escape in sight of the helpless crowd. Firemen and policemen made frantic efforts to save her, but the flames drove them back and she had to be left to her fate. Policeman Fitzgerald rescued two persons overcome by smoke.

The house in which the catastrophe occurred was a ramshackle frame building which for many years has been a landmark on the East Side.

KILL AND CAPTURE AMERICANS.

Detachment of the Twenty-fourth Regiment Overpowered 10 by Filipinos.

A detachment of twenty men of the Twenty-fourth regiment, while engaged in repairing telegraph wires Oct. 10 at a point near San Jose, Nuevo Ecija province, Isle de Luzon, were set upon by 200 rebels and were overpowered and scattered. Seven of the Americans reached San Jose, but it is probable that the remainder were captured.

The enemy surprised a party of scouts of the Forty-third infantry at a point three miles from Takloban, Leyt Island, killing three of the Americans at the first volley. Two escaped and gave the alarm, but the enemy succeeded in evading their pursuers. The native police of Takloban had conspired to surprise the Americans. The bodies of the dead soldiers were badly mutilated.

Married After Fifty Years.

The culmination of a romance of fifty years' standing was witnessed in the county recorder's office at Kansas City, Mo., the other day when Sherman L. N. Foote, aged 72, and Mrs. Lizzie D. Baker, aged 68, were united in marriage. Mrs. Baker when a girl of 18 taught school in the East and among her pupils was L. N. Foote, a farmer four years her senior. The two fell in love and became engaged, but a quarrel separated them. Both eventually married other parties and lost track of each other. About three years ago Mrs. Baker's husband died and a year later Mr. Foote lost his wife. Then Mr. Foote learned the address of his sweetheart of long ago and opened up a correspondence with the result that they have been married at

WORK OF WOMAN SCULPTOR.

Fraulein Ries Receives First Medal at the Vienna Exhibit.

The jury of this year's art exposition at Vienna has bestowed the highest honors on Fraulein Theresa Feodorovna Ries, sculptress of extraordinary talent.

What is most remarkable about this artist is the fact that nearly every one of her chefs-d'oeuvre betrays masculine characteristics. For instance, she seems to have no talent whatever in the execution of female busts or figures, but she seeks her peer in the reproduction of the form divine of the military, the stalwart toiler or hardy peasant. A work of Fraulein Ries greatly admired is a bust of Mark Twain, which is pronounced an excellent likeness by one who met the great American humorist during his long sojourn in Vienna. Mark Twain himself remarked to friends that it was a surprise to him that the delicate hands of a woman were able to reproduce so faithfully his "very coarse" facial lineaments.

Theresa Feodorovna Ries.

Fraulein Ries is the daughter of a Russian general, who, after having lost his fortune, took refuge with friends in Vienna. His daughter supports him in his old age by the work of her hands.

SAVED BY POOR GRAMMAR.

Hilarious Students Caught the Professor Before He Caught Them.

Students of a certain Western State university which many Kansas City boys attend are telling a story on a professor of English that will bear repeating. Some time ago several of the students were gathered in a fellow student's room far past the midnight hour. A few bottles of beer, a light luncheon and a game of "draw" were among a few of the forbidden enjoyments that made the hours slip rapidly by. About 2 o'clock in the morning, when the fun was at its height, a knock came at the door. Everything became as quiet as death in an instant.

"Who's there?" said the host. "It's me," came back a voice, at the same time mentioning the name of the professor of English.

A shout went up from the room. "Not on your life," called a voice from the room. "You should brush up on your grammar, old sport, before attempting to play a joke on us. Our professor says 'It is I.' But whoever you are come in and have a drink."

The door was thrown open, and before the astonished characters actually stood the professor of English.

One of the students, quicker to take advantage of a bad situation than the others, said calmly:

"Look here, professor, you've got us dead to rights, but if you 'peach' on us we'll tell about that hideous mistake in grammar. Oh, professor, 'it's me.' Quite reprehensible, sir; extremely careless, sir."

This last was said in a way mimicking the professor's classroom tones. The shot went home. Rather would the professor have had a crime fastened on him than that it should get noised about that he, an authority on English, had actually said "it's me."

The students' transgressions were never reported.—Kansas City Star.

The Sultan of Turkey.

The Sultan of Turkey rises at six o'clock every morning, and devotes his days, in the seclusion of the Yildiz Palace and gardens, to personal attention to affairs of state. He is of slight figure. A pale brown overcoat conceals any decorations he might be wearing, so that the attention of those who see him on the one day in seven when he presents himself to the view of the people is not diverted from his pale, wan, and careworn face, half-covered by a thin, brown beard, tinged with gray, and surmounted by a plain red fez. The Sultan has been the means of establishing fifty thousand schools throughout his empire, not only for boys, but for girls also—a striking departure from the traditional usage of his race.

Remedy for Vitriol Burns.

A Frenchman has discovered a remedy instantaneous in its effects for the horrible burns caused by oil of vitriol. It is a soft paste of calcined magnesia and water, with which the parts burned are covered to the thickness of an inch. The pain is alleviated almost immediately, and when the paste is removed no scar remains.

P. D. Armour of Chicago, "the old man of the markets," has a contract from the Russian Czar to ship 7,000 cattle to that country from San Francisco. It is easy enough to secure the cattle, but the question of transportation is an enormous task. There are not boats enough on the Pacific coast to carry the cattle. Those who know Mr. Armour, however, are confident that he will solve the problem; if not, it will be the first time that the greatest trader in the world ever received an order that was too big for him.

The last great coup of P. D. Armour was made in connection with the Letter wheat corner in 1897. This corner was months in maturing. It sent the price of grain soaring. Joseph Leiter was a foe worthy even of P. D. Armour. It is now a matter of common history how Armour wriggled out of a "squeeze" that would have meant financial death to 999 men out of 1,000. He transported millions of bushels of wheat from Duluth to Chicago by boat in the winter season, when navigation was supposed to be closed, and delivered it to Leiter. It was an expensive affair for Mr. Armour, but in the end it smashed Mr. Leiter.

P. D. ARMOUR.

George Bruce Cortelyou, secretary to the President, has achieved a national prominence and popularity in a very short time. Cortelyou is especially popular with newspaper men because of his unvarying courtesy and thoughfulness, while he is no less esteemed by the public men of the nation with whom he is in constant contact. Cortelyou's versatility is something to wonder at. He is 38 years old and is an accomplished musician, a graduate of the New England conservatory. He is considered the most expert stenographer in the United States, and a marvel on the typewriter, using all eight fingers. He is a lawyer, having graduated from Georgetown University law school, and took a post-graduate law course at Columbia University.

G. B. CORTELYOU.

Police Lieutenant Edward J. Steele of Chicago, who died suddenly the other morning, took a prominent part in suppressing the Haymarket riot, his company being at the head of the column that advanced to disperse the anarchists. His clothing was riddled with bullets and he injured his wrist in clubbing one of the rioters senseless with his empty revolver. Lieut. Steele was out for two days and two nights, and nine of the twenty-four members of his company were seriously wounded.

LIEUT. STEELE.

Mme. Kogora Takahira, wife of the new minister from Japan to the United States, has accompanied her husband to all his diplomatic posts, and is in consequence a much traveled woman. She has discarded the picturesque garb of her native country and is now gowned like a Parisienne. The wife of the new Japanese minister will, it is said in Washington, have some very fine new carriages, and perhaps an automobile.

MME. TAKAHIRA.

Prince George of Greece, who is about to return to Crete, with the expectation that he will be elected regent of the island, has been ill in Athens for some time. His present post in Crete is chief commissioner, and it is said that he will urge the powers to allow the Cretans to elect their own form of government. The prince is the second son of King George. He saved the life of the present Czar when the two were traveling in Japan as youths.

PRINCE GEORGE.

A resurvey of that famous old boundary between Pennsylvania and Maryland, known as Mason and Dixon's line, has been begun. The object of the resurvey is to re-establish the line monuments, and to place monuments on the western end of the line where none have hitherto existed. The State of Pennsylvania and the State of Maryland have each appropriated $1,000 for this purpose. Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, superintendent of the east and west

Next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the Kewanna High School team will play our second team, and if possible, a game with some strong team will be arranged for the first team, to be played in the afternoon.

A golf club with about 70 members has been organized of which Cadet Capt. Jackson is President. Cadets Herkimer, Maclean, and Crawford are the members of the Green Committee. A six hole course has been carefully laid out on the fair grounds, and the links are covered with enthusiastic players every afternoon. In fact, it is said that some of the members of the club are thinking seriously of giving up school because it interferes with golf.

Wednesday evening, Oct. 17, the cadets had the pleasure of listening to the well known play, Quo Vadis, which was presented in the gymnasium by a traveling troupe. The academy stage was rearranged and all arrangements completed necessary to make it possible to put on the play, and although the stage was a little small it was presented in a very satisfactory manner. It was quite a treat to the cadets, and the managers of the affair are to be highly congratulated on having brought the enterprise to so successful a termination.

Cadet Parsons favored the audience with a most excellent vocal solo and responded to a hearty encore.

In the near future the racing sculls will be repaired and several boat races will be held. The West Barracks crew has challenged all comers, and a race will undoubtedly be held Thanksgiving Day to decide the matter.

A quartette will also be formed, and in a short time the club will be prepared to furnish music for all occasions.

Last Saturday C. M. A's third team defeated Plymouth's second team by a score of 27 to 0.

Culver kicked off to Plymouth, and they gained their first five yards but were then held for downs. After bucking the line twice, Dorsett went around the end for a touch down. Ricker kicked goal. Score 6 to 0 in Culver's favor. Hill got the ball on the kick-off and made 10 yards. After a series of line bucks and end runs, Potter went around the end for the second touchdown. Ricker kicked goal. Score, 12 to 0. French got the kick-off and made 10 yards, followed by steady plunges by the backs until Potter went around the end for the third touchdown. No goal. Score 17 to 0. Plymouth kicked-off to Suttle, who made five yards. The ball was rushed to the middle of the field when time was called. In the second half, Stursberg got the kick-off and made eight yards, followed by a gain of 10 yards by Potter, Plymouth then held Culver for two downs and Ricker punted 35 yards, the man being downed in his tracks by Stursberg. Culver got the ball on downs and Potter made the fourth touchdown but a difficult goal was missed. Score 22 to 0. Noel E. got the kick-off and made a small gain. After a series of bucks and end runs Culver was forced to punt but French got the ball on a fumble and Dorsett went around the end for the fifth and last touchdown. No goal. Score 27 to 0. When Plymouth kicked off to Culver the ball was advanced to Plymouth's 15-yard line, where it was lost on a misplay and a fumble. Time was called at this point, the final score being 27 to 0. Culver's line up was as follows: Left end, French, Taylor. Left tackle, Stahl, Knauss. Left guard, Suttle. Center, Noel E. Right guard, Clark, Noel O. Right tackle, Trimler. Right end, Stursberg. The above named gentleman is a member of the firm known as Hoffman Brothers, Argos, Ind. He is a pioneer of the county, and first saw the light of day in a log cabin, and remained on the farm until his majority. He received his early education in the common schools of those days and his opportunities were very limited. But being an energetic, wide-awake young man, he made the few opportunities count. He was a clerk in a store at Walnut for several years, when he and a brother opened up in the mercantile business at Argos. Mr. Hoffman is so well known that he needs no eulogy from the pen of any man, he simply stands forth without a blemish upon his character. He was nominated for county treasurer upon the republican ticket last fall.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain constantly in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts. guaranteed, at T. E. Slattery's drug store.

JOHN SHERMAN DEAD

Born May 10, 1823.—JOHN SHERMAN.—Died Oct. 22, 1900.

VETERAN STATESMAN PASSES AWAY IN WASHINGTON.

Was Seventy-eight Years of Age, and for Forty-two of Those Years He Served the Public in a Great Many High Places.

John Sherman, former Representative in the House, for a long term a member of the Senate and twice holding cabinet positions, died at his residence in Washington Monday morning, in the 78th year of his age. His death had been expected for some days and loving friends gave him their unremitting care and attention to the end. The immediate cause of death was described as brain exhaustion, incident to extreme weakness due to old age and to several attacks of sickness from which he had suffered for the last year and a half.

Mr. Sherman had not been in robust health for considerably over a year. In March, 1899, while on a pleasure trip to the French and Spanish West Indies in company with a relative, Frank Wiborg, he suffered a severe attack of pneumonia which almost proved fatal. The ship on which they were traveling touched at Santiago, from which place reports came to the United States that the well-known statesman had succumbed to the disease. He rallied, however, and the family accepted the offer of the United States government to bring him back to the United States on the cruiser Chicago, then in the vicinity of Santiago, and he was safely landed at Fort Monroe and brought to his home in Washington. Here he gained strength and was strong enough by summer time to visit his home in Ohio.

His remarkable vitality brought him through a relapse, which he suffered during the heated term, and by autumn he had again regained much of his strength and seemed to be in good spirits. He passed last winter at his home in Washington, enjoying fairly good health. The family went early in the summer to the old homestead at Mansfield, Ohio. They were there but a short time when Mrs. Sherman, whose health had been very frail, died. This was a severe blow to the secretary, from which he never fully recovered. He remained at Mansfield until the middle of September, when he returned to Washington. He was much broken in health and spirits, but for a time he was able to move about in the open air and to take short rides around the city. For the last three weeks or more, however, he had been confined to his bed.

AS STATESMAN AND POLITICIAN.

Twice in the Cabinet and Three Times Mentioned for President.

John Sherman was born in Lancaster, Ohio, May 10, 1823. When he was 6 years old his father died, leaving a widow and eleven children, with only the homestead and an income of $400 a year for support. The family was broken up, and most of the children went to live with relatives and friends. John remained with his mother. He went to school for a year or two, and in 1831 his father's cousin, John Sherman, a merchant of Mount Vernon, took him to his home and offered to prepare the boy for Kenyon College. He stayed there for four years, but at the end of that time gave up his school and began work as a rodman in the improvements then being made by the State in the Muskingum river.

In 1840 he went to Mansfield, where he made his home the remainder of his life, and began the study of law. He was admitted to the bar on his twenty-first birthday, and soon made a success. In 1848 he married Margaret Stewart. Mr. Sherman cast his first vote and made his first speech for Clay in 1844.

In 1848 he was a delegate to the Whig convention in Philadelphia which nominated President Taylor. Sherman was nominated and elected one of the secretaries, and took the stump. The fight over slavery had just been made an issue, and on this Sherman was nominated and elected to Congress. In 1855 he presided over the first Republican convention ever held in the State of Ohio.

Mr. Sherman made his first speech in Congress in 1856, and from that time on took a prominent part in the affairs of the House. His first financial speech was made in 1858. In 1858 he was re-elected, and again in 1860, and had every prospect of being elected Speaker, but resigned to go to the Senate in 1861 in place of Salmon P. Chase, who resigned to fill a place in Lincoln's cabinet. When the war came on Mr. Sherman went to Ohio to encourage enlistments, and for a time served as a volunteer without pay on the staff of Gen. Patterson.

The congressional problems of the next four years were banking and currency questions, and in the debates on these Mr. Sherman took a prominent part. During the stormy period of the reconstruction he acted as peacemaker between President Johnson and the Senate, but after the veto of the civil rights bill and other reconstruction measures he acted heartily with the majority of his party.

Senator Sherman's greatest financial achievements were in connection with the resumption of specie payments in 1873. After a long fight he secured the passage of a bill providing for the resumption of specie payments on Jan. 1, 1879. As Secretary of the Treasury in the cabinet of President Hayes, Mr. Sherman was able to see the bill become a fact.

Mr. Sherman returned to the Senate at the end of his service as Secretary of the Treasury, and remained an active member of that body until he was called to fill the position of Secretary of State, the most important position in President McKinley's cabinet. This he resigned in April, 1898, on account of age and ill health, and since that time had taken little part in public affairs.

CABINET SHIES AT WEYLER.

Spanish Officials Resign as a Result of His Promotion.

Owing to the appointment of Gen. Weyler as captain general of Madrid, Senor Dato, minister of the interior, and Senor Gasset, minister of agriculture and public works, resigned, whereupon the entire cabinet tendered their resignations. The Queen Regent summoned Gen. Azarraga, former minister of war, to form a new ministry. The new war minister, Gen. Linares, appointed Gen. Weyler without consulting his colleagues. The captain generalship has hitherto been regarded as a political position. Gen. Linares, however, wished complete independence in military affairs, and selected Gen. Weyler because he deemed it necessary to have a man of energy in Madrid to cope with certain political demonstrations. The members of the cabinet and a majority of the press opposed the appointment as creating a sort of personal government. Prime Minister Silvela's efforts to keep the cabinet together having failed, he submitted their resignations.

GENERAL WEYLER.

CRAZY CRIMINALS IN REVOLT.

Attack Keepers at Matteawan Hospital and Seven Escape.

One of the most daring escapades in the annals of New York State occurred at the Matteawan State hospital for insane criminals Sunday evening, when a large body of insane criminals made a dash for liberty. With crockery, chairs and such other missiles as they could lay hands on, they overpowered the keepers, took from them the keys, and, after unlocking doors, fought their way to the yard, overpowering keepers all along the line. Then they pulled down a heavy iron door, and, scaling a high wall, endeavored to make their way to the outside world.

Seven of the madmen succeeded in making their escape, while the others were finally repulsed, after being beaten with clubs while scaling the walls. In the melee several of the keepers were injured, two very seriously. The men who got away are desperate, but the officials are confident that they will ultimately catch them.

Indemnity for Murdered Italians.

The President will recommend to Congress the payment of an indemnity to the families of the four Italians who were the victims of a mob at Tallulah, La., about two years ago. A report from a special agent of the Department of Justice clearly established the fact that the men were killed by the mob and that none of the perpetrators of the crime was ever punished by the State authorities, notwithstanding the representations of the national government. The Governor of Louisiana caused an investigation to be made, and there were some proceedings before a grand jury, but the result was that the national government found itself bound to make some sort of reparation in answer to the Italian government's representation, and they will take the form of an indemnity for each of the persons killed who were Italian citizens at the time of their death.

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

New York—Although rates for money have shown little change this week, the tone of the market has been somewhat easier and fears of a stringency seem to have died out. The indications are that the height of the demand for currency for crop-moving purposes has been passed, and with gold flowing to New York in large volume from both the Klondike and Europe, the outlook appears favorable for another period of easy money before long. There has been some disturbance of loans on account of the rise in rates, but it has been less than in former years, and the effect on the situation as a whole has been inconsequential. The stock market has shown a more confident feeling. Trading throughout the week has been active and there has been an important change in sentiment. Outsiders appear to be once more coming into the market. There have been no new developments in the trade situation. Reports indicate that a good volume of business is moving, although it appears to be mostly for immediate delivery, and therefore of a hand-to-mouth character.

Chicago—Most of the commodities speculatively dealt in on the Board of Trade show declines since last week. Oats was an exception, Friday's closing price being a trifle higher; flaxseed is not included in the general statement, that article being governed by exceptional circumstances that have no connection with the grain markets. The latter ruled extremely strong, chiefly because of much of this season's production having suffered serious deterioration in quality from the heavy rain that prevailed in the Northwest after the grain was cut, thus diminishing the supply of the speculative grade. Decline in price of wheat was not due to any marked change in the general market surroundings but to the gradual working out of previously existing conditions. Stocks in commercial hands kept increasing, and the rate of farmers' deliveries was not promising for any immediate amelioration of that discouragement to bull speculation.

Weather was favorable to an early movement of new corn, which is already being used largely for feeding in the territory of its growth. Speculation had already been driven out of the deliveries of corn for this and next month by the knowledge of a concentration in few hands of the available contract grade, and the improbability of much of the new crop being in condition to fill contracts for delivery this side of December. Market for hog products has been in even a worse condition than that of corn so far as concerned the manipulative tactics of the leaders in the trade. Daily fluctuations and general trend of the market have been largely independent of the usual governing influences, so that outsiders who made attempts at trading had to guess blindly at the intentions of this or that leader in the speculative market.

SIX KILLED IN A TORNADO.

A Texas Storm Carries Everything Before It.

A tornado struck about half a mile west of Lodi, Texas, Sunday evening. The path of the tornado was 200 yards wide and the wind swept everything before it. One house in the center of its path, occupied by colored people, was destroyed, six persons being killed outright, and three others are missing who are supposed to be dead.

The cyclone traveled from the southwest to the northwest, crossing the Texas and Pacific railroad at Campbellsville Spur, a lumber-loading station two miles north of Lodi. The lumber was carried in all directions. It is feared further loss of life has resulted out in the country.

OTHER UP.

Dr. W. N. Berkeley is conducting some interesting experiments at Bellevue Hospital, New York, his object being to relieve suffering humanity from the mosquito pest. This terror of summer time has come in for a good deal of investigation lately. Several expeditions to insect-ridden sections have been sent out and several scientists are conducting individual inquiries. Dr. Berkeley's experiments give some ground for the hope that it may be possible to breed a new species of the winged pest that will refuse to attack humanity, but will wage a war of extermination upon the Jersey man-eaters. George Lyons, who is in the grip of malaria, avers that, while some of the mosquitoes did not hesitate to gorge themselves with his blood when offered the opportunity, others refused to attach themselves to his arm. These waited until the blood suckers had filled themselves, when they attacked them, and, being larger and stronger than the others, had little difficulty in killing them. Dr. Berkeley refuses to discuss his experiments, saying that his work has not progressed far enough to warrant his talking of results. In the hospital, too, the physicians say that professional ethics compel them to keep silence.

Lyons, whose home is at 351 First Avenue, New York, is shaking in ward No. 19 in Bellevue Hospital with what is known as chills and fever, but which the doctors say is malarial malaria. At Dr. Berkeley's request he bared his arm and permitted a swarm of mosquitoes, which were confined in a glass tube, to eat at his expense. The process was simple. The tube was inverted upon the man's arm, and soon the insects, which had been starved for twenty-four hours, alighted and began operations. That is, some of them did. According to Mr. Lyons, there were others that were more considerate of his feelings. The blood-fed insects were taken to his laboratory by Dr. Berkeley, where they will be closely watched. After a few days they will be permitted to again feed upon the blood of a well man. It is believed that they will introduce into his veins malarial poison. This will be easily counteracted, as the symptoms will be quickly heeded and antidotes administered at the first appearance of malaria.

Delicacies Past and Present.

The identity between seventeenth century and nineteenth century delicacies is curious. Both periods agree, for instance, as to the merits of caviare and anchovies, asparagus points, clarified butter, parmesan grated, soft icing, almond paste, and froids d'artichauts, while, like ourselves—when fortunate—and the Caveman, the seventeenth "ce turion" began dinner with oysters. Robert May, having studied in Paris, offers without prejudice ways of dressing tortoise, frogs, and snails.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Libby's Food Products at the Paris Exposition.

The Grand Prix d'Honneur and two gold medals have been awarded by the International Jury of Awards at the Paris Exposition, to Libby, McNeill & Libby of Chicago for the purity, excellence and superiority of their canned foods. Here in America the "Libby" Brand has always been recognized as typical of the highest standard of excellence attained in the preservation of meats, and it is a noticeable fact that the products of Libby, McNeill & Libby have received highest awards at every exposition held in the United States during the past two decades.

ABOUT THE ELECTION

PRESIDENCY NOT THE ONLY IMPORTANT ISSUE.

Nearly Half the States Elect Governors This Year—Some Notable Contests. Particularly in the West—Interest in the Congressional Elections.

Interest in the presidential election which takes place Nov. 6 is so great that the public loses sight of the other offices which are to be filled that day. Not so with the political managers. They are in constant and close communication with the party leaders in all the States and both sides claim that some big surprises are in store.

Next in importance to the presidential issue is the House of Representatives. The Republican claim that they will have a majority of 15 or thereabouts. The Democrats claim that there is great hope for them in the narrow margin which the Republicans claim. Both sides are making an aggressive congressional campaign, particularly in the West, where the principal orators of both sides are bending all their energies in behalf of the congressional nominees.

Nearly half the States in the Union will elect Governors in November. Several, notably Maine, Vermont and Oregon, had their gubernatorial elections in September and the Republicans triumphed.

The most important State election, after that of New York, where Benjamin E. Odell opposes John B. Stanchfield, is that in Illinois. Here Richard Yates, son of the war Governor of Illinois, is the Republican nominee and is opposed by Samuel Alschuler, a well-to-do Aurora merchant. As in New York State, the voters have appeared somewhat apathetic in the governorship contest. Indiana elects a successor to Gov. James A. Mount. One of the most spirited governorship contests in the West is in progress in Missouri, where the veteran Congressman, A. M. Dockery, is the Democratic nominee, and Joe Flory is on the Republican ticket. Other Western States which elect Governors are Colorado, Kansas, Michigan, Montana, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Utah and Washington. Streams of oratory are flooding these States and hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent in red fire, bands and other campaign material.

Massachusetts elects a Governor every year. W. Murray Crane, the Pittsfield man who has served as Governor one term, is again the Republican nominee and expects to repeat upon Robert Treat Paine, Jr., Boston's aristocratic but popular young Democrat, the thrashing he gave him a year ago. In Connecticut George P. McLean is the Republican nominee for Governor and in New Hampshire the Republican nominee is Chester R. Jordan. The Democrats are making little effort to elect their candidates in these States.

Other States electing Governors are Delaware, North and South Carolina, West Virginia and Tennessee.

In some of the States the legislative contests are made interesting because they have a bearing on the election of United States Senators. The Senators whose successors will be chosen by the Legislatures to be elected this fall are Berry of Arkansas, Wolcott of Colorado, Kenney of Delaware, Bacon of Georgia, Culom of Illinois, Dolliver of Iowa, Lindsay of Kentucky, Baker of Kansas, Caffery of Louisiana, Hoar of Massachusetts, McMillan of Michigan, Nelson of Minnesota, Walthall of Mississippi, Carter of Montana, Thurston of Nebraska, Chandler of New Hampshire, Sewell of New Jersey, Butler of North Carolina, Tillman of South Carolina, Pettigrew of South Dakota, Turley of Tennessee, Martin of Virginia, Elkins of West Virginia and Warren of Wyoming.

Ten candidates for President and Vice-President will be voted for Nov. 6. Ballots will not be cast for all of them in all the States, but the ten parties will be represented at the polls in most of them. State tickets will be numerous. Illinois and Indiana leading with seven each. The following are the various candidates for President and Vice-President:

Predict a Cold Winter

WEATHER prophets all agree that the coming winter will be of unusual severity, though few of them will say just how cold it is going to be. Andrew Jackson Devoe, the New Jersey expert who foretold the Galveston storm a year ago, however, pins himself down to dates and figures. Mr. Devoe is famous not only for his remarkably successful predictions, but also because of his methods, which are peculiar to himself. His deductions are made entirely from astronomical data, and he claims that he can anticipate the formation of a storm or any condition of the atmosphere, while by the method which the government employs one has to wait until such a condition has already formed before making any prediction about it. Mr. Devoe, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, predicted a very cold fall and a severe and early winter. The coldest weather might be expected, he said, in December, which would also be very stormy. By cold weather, Mr. Devoe said, he meant what is popularly known as zero weather, and he promised it with good sleighing. Winter, according to Mr. Devoe, will start in to do business about Nov. 8, when we will have a cold wave which will make last winter's weather seem very tame. From that time till the end of the month there will be a succession of storms and freezing weather. In December there will be heavy storms the 5th and 8th, and sleigh riding during the middle of the month, when zero weather will prevail. Christmas will see a slight change, but zero weather will begin in January with snowstorms and a taste of the weather of years ago.

Reports from a certain class of weather observers are not obtainable yet. These are the squirrels, which are said to lay in an unusual store of nuts when a heavy winter is coming on. As these reports come in from country districts pretty nearly every autumn, there has been a loss of confidence in the squirrel as a weather observer. His forecast, however, is the only one needed now, and it will be interesting to see if it bears out the predictions of the weather prophets.

WAS ONCE A BAREFOOT GIRL.

Grace Carr, of Louisville, to Wed a British Baronet.
Miss Grace Carr, the one-time Hoosier girl who is to marry Lord Newborough, of Wales, in London, in November, was, eight years ago, a barefoot girl, living in a cabin in Southern Indiana. The story illustrates anew that there is no social glory to which the American girl may not aspire.

The Carr family formerly lived in Richmond, Ind. The father had been a soldier in the Civil War. The pension allowed his widow was the only income the family had. One member was an invalid boy, who required so much of his sisters' time that they could not go regularly to school. They removed to Louisville and lived in a house little better than the one they had occupied in the Indiana town.

A fashionable physician was struck by the unusual beauty of Alice Carr, and she shared the educational advantages of his own daughters. They took her to New York, where her beauty attracted much attention. She became Mrs. Samuel

MISS GRACE CARR.

Chauncey, wife of the Brooklyn millionaire. Grace stayed at home and took care of the invalid brother until he died. She grew more retiring. Society did not interest her. Last year she went abroad with her mother and sister. It was while "doing" the monumental wonders of the desert that they met Lord Newborough. The Englishman laid his title, his possessions, his "prospects," together with his heart, at the feet of American beauty. And American beauty was gracious, and accepted them all.

"I could 'nt Sew another Stitch to Save my Life."

A gorgeous costume flashed beneath the brilliant lights of a ball room. The queen of society is radiant to-night.

The nervous hands of a weak woman have toiled day and night, the weary form and aching head have known no rest, for the dress must be finished in time.

To that queen of society and her dressmaker we would say a word. One through hothouse culture, luxury and social excitement, and the other through the toil of necessity, may some day find their ailments a common cause.

Nervous prostration, excitability, fainting spells, dizziness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and strength, all indicate serious trouble, which has been promoted by an over-taxed system.

For the society queen and the dressmaker alike, there is nothing so reliable as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore strength, vigor, and happiness.

Mrs. Lizzie Anderson, 49 Union St., Salem, N. J., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it is my duty to write and tell you how grateful I am to you for what your medicine has done for me. At one time I suffered everything a woman could. I had inflammation of the ovaries, falling of the womb, and leucorrhoea. At times could not hold a needle to sew. The first dose of your Vegetable Compound helped me so much that I kept on using it. I have now taken six bottles and am well and able to do my work. I also ride a wheel and feel no bad effects from it. I am thankful to the Giver of all good for giving you the wisdom of curing suffering women. I recommend your medicine to every woman troubled with any of these diseases."

Mrs. Sarah Swoder, 103 West St., La Porte, Ind., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It gives me great pleasure to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. "I had been a sufferer for years with female trouble. I could not sew but a few minutes at a time without suffering terribly with my head. My back and kidneys also troubled me all the time. I was advised by a friend to take your medicine. I had no faith in it, but decided to try it. After taking one bottle I felt so much better that I continued its use, and by the time I had taken six bottles I was cured. There is no other medicine for me. I recommend it to all my friends."

THE BOSS DREW THE LINE.

Trading With a Corpse Was Not Allowed in His Camp.

The boss of the lumber camp refilled his pipe and figured it.

"Yes," said he, "I drew the line on that."

"We had a man die in camp this winter. He lived just over the boundary. Nice feller he was, too—thrifty and all that. Every one liked him. Sorry to have him go. But after he was gone we did the best we knew how. Fixed the body up and sent two of the men out with it."

"He had bought a new pair of boots at the wongan camp two weeks before he died, and we thought it would be only right to put those boots on. So we did. The men started away and came back in three days. One of the men was wearing them new boots. The other feller gave it away. Said that just before they got to the house with the deceased the critter pulled them boots off the corpse and swapped. Other feller didn't like it, and said so. But the critter allowed that he had had some talk with the corpse about swapping a few days before he died. Corpse had allowed that the new boots hurt his corns and said that a pair that had been broken in would do better. Critter said that he couldn't bear to think of deceased being buried in a pair of boots that hurt his feet. He said that he should wake up in the night, squint, and think about the thing."

"Waal, course there was somethin in what he said, but as there warn't no way of gettin at the deceased's side of the matter, I concluded that I wouldn't let that trade stand. There's a good many things that go in this camp all right, but dickerin with dead men ain't one of 'em. I draw the line right there, and draw it sharp. I made that feller send them boots back. The deceased has still got the critter's old ones. The feller had to go to the wongan and get some new ones. And that's so much more for the company and a commission for me. 'Twarn't bad all round. When the feller got to jawin about the thing I told him he could still have the comfort of knowin that deceased wasn't wearin tight boots."—Lewiston Journal.

Fat the Foe of Consumption.

Consumption is most prevalent among those who are stinted or who stint themselves in the use of fat foods. Everybody has learned and employed the knowledge, usually when it is too late, that cod liver oil is good for consumption. Few seem to have learned that food of the same character suitable for the table is preventive of consumption. In the whole course of my professional observation, covering a period of nearly 60 years, I have known but rarely a family or an individual that was brought up on a liberal supply of butter and bacon who became tuberculous. Moreover, such food fortifies the system against other diseases as well as consumption. It establishes stamina.—Dr. Bell in the Sanitarium.

Remembered Too Late.

Speaking of the queer doings of absentminded people, the following anecdote is related by the London Globe: "A very irritable man left his house one morning to attend a race meeting some distance off. In order that he might have enough money to pay his hotel bill he tied a sovereign in the corner of his handkerchief. In the train he drew his handkerchief from his pocket, and noticed the knot in the corner. 'Now,' he said to himself, 'what was it I wished to remember?' Much thought failed to enlighten him upon the point, and at last, in a fit of passion he hurled the handkerchief out of the window. Then he remembered."

Why It Is Called Dutch Gap.

When Ben Butler was endeavoring to get the Union gunboats up the James, he found the water in the bend at Dutch Gap too shallow to let them pass, to say nothing of the fact that the Confederates had erected two or three batteries along the bend in order to give him a warm reception. So he went ahead and cut a canal across the neck and suddenly, instead of being 13 miles from Richmond, he was only six. Ever since that time the canal has been used, and the government now considers it the channel of the river and keeps it in shape. The plantations along the land were thus suddenly drained of their very lifeblood and have naturally fallen into decay.

The place is called Dutch Gap because at this spot, in early colonial days, a Dutchman worked a very smooth game upon the unsuspecting Indian. The Dutchman wagered the Indian that he could beat him paddling a canoe around the bend. The Indian took him up on the instant and gave him a mile the start. They started just above the bend, the Indian a mile behind, and when the Dutchman reached the neck he jumped on shore, grabbed his canoe out of the water, ran across to the other side with it, dropped it into the water again and calmly awaited the arrival of the astonished Indian, who had paddled frantically around the bend in the endeavor to catch up with him. What the wager was is not recorded, but the Dutchman doubtless got possession of 200,000 or 200,000 acres of land as a result of the trick.—Cot. Chicago Record.

In reply to numerous inquiries relative to the marking of a ballot Attorney General Taylor yesterday gave out the following opinion.

If a ballot obviously intended to be marked as a straight ticket have the point at which the lines cross inside the circle, the ticket must be counted, whether any or all the arms of the cross extend beyond the line of the circle. If the point where the lines cross is on the circle, or inside, it must be counted. If they cross each other outside the ticket is to be thrown out.

If a voter cannot mark his ballot, and so states to the board, it is for the board to decide whether he is telling the truth or not. In all ordinary cases an affidavit is unnecessary. If, however, the board believes the voter is telling an untruth, they have an undoubted right to ask for his affidavit, so that if he has told a falsehood he may be prosecuted for perjury."

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer of 1125 Howard street, Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this royal cure: "It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praise throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c and $1.00.
