For several years, towns all around Culver have been celebrating 4th of July. Now it may be a little early, but it is the "early bird that catches the worm," hence, as it is Culver's turn to celebrate, we would suggest that proper steps be taken in order to make it a memorable occasion. There is not a town in the county with better facilities or location for such an event.

Dr. Rea's splendid new building is now completed. As it now stands the doctor has as fine an office as can be found in the county. His long service as a practicing physician in this township, and his wonderful success in battling against disease of every nature, has placed him in the front ranks of up to date medical men. At any rate, the citizens of this neck of the universe, are especially proud of the fact that we do not have to send abroad for physicians to take charge of patients afflicted with a complication of diseases. We are sure that all wish the doctor many more years of prosperity and success in his line of business. Dr. U. B. Shantz, the famous dentist, occupies rooms on the second floor of the Rea building.

ENTERPRISING BUSINESS MEN.
Although not living right in the corporation, trustee Bogardus is considered a Culverite in every sense of the word. He also is a contractor and builder and has a wide reputation as being a careful and skillful workman.
In the summer season the steam-boat business cuts a great figure at this place. Mrs. R. K. Lord owns three magnificent boats and A. J. Knapp, proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, one. Quite a force of men are employed during the season.
Culver has a bank, which is first-class in every particular, so far as burglar proof safes are concerned. The manager has had long years of experience.
J. H. Zechiel stands in the front rank as a carpenter and builder, and has to his credit the erection of scores of fine houses and a great many magnificent barns.
In the contracting line we have D. H. Smith & Co., brick and stone masons, who have erected some of the most substantial buildings in the county.
Although not known in the commercial world to any great extent as a great financier, Henry Oyler has a business which requires his constant attention. He is what is termed a "boot and shoe cobbler," and long years at the business has enabled him to be classed as an expert. No man ever went away from his shop dissatisfied, as his work is first-class and his sole leather the best the market affords.
In our write-up of business men in last week's HERALD, we neglected to mention one of the greatest industries in Culver, viz., the ice business. The Maxinkuckee Ice Association which is under the direct supervision of Samuel Medbourn, employs a large number of men nearly all the year round, and a few men all the year. During the time that the company puts up ice, from 100 to 200 men find employment at good wages for several weeks. The company ships ice to all the principal cities in the state, and virtually has no competition, as the Maxinkuckee ice is noted far and near for its purity. The lake is fed by pure living springs, and as the lake is free from all impurities, the ice appears like crystalized diamonds. If the company is fortunate enough to secure any ice this winter, it will fill six tremendous houses, which are completely empty.

In the Grip Monster's Grasp

GRIP BACILLI.

The whole world has the grip. Reports from all over the civilized globe tell of the unusual prevalence of influenza and kindred diseases. St. Petersburg, London, Berlin, Paris, Rome and hundreds of other old world cities are suffering with an epidemic of the disease. In the United States all the centers of population have been stricken and the death rate is assuming alarming proportions. It is estimated by experts of the Chicago health department that there are over 2,000,000 cases in the United States. It is believed by the Health Department that there are 100,000 cases in Chicago, and hundreds of persons are stricken daily. Never before in the history of Chicago has there been such an epidemic of sick grip belt extends across the United States from New York to the Rocky Mountains. The epidemic is greatest in the East, with a wide bulge in the belt in Pennsylvania. Illinois is also extensively afflicted. The Western coast is comparatively free, and some of the Northern cities, where it is dry and clear, are practically exempt. In proportion to their size, Pittsburg, Reading and Allegheny City, Pa., are the most seriously visited. In those cities the mills and factories are short-handed and are falling behind with their orders. In Chicago the changeable weather has caused the grip to spread at an alarming rate, and, although few cases are reported as fatal, the number of them is enormous. Wichita, Kan., has introduced a novelty in the way of an after result, nearly all those having the grip being attacked with mumps immediately upon getting over the former disease. The big colleges are suffering considerably from the epidemic. Ann Arbor, Madison and some of the others are seriously distressed. In Indianapolis many of the State Representatives have been incapacitated for active work. In New York the epidemic shows no signs of abatement. On the contrary, hundreds of new cases are appearing daily, there being at least 250,000 persons in Greater New York afflicted. The alarming feature of the epidemic is the large ratio of deaths, fully 1 per cent of those afflicted with grip or kindred diseases dying. Competent authorities give the following estimate of the number of cases in the larger cities: Cincinnati, 75,000; Cleveland, 70,000; Philadelphia, 60,000; Baltimore, 50,000; Newark, 50,000; Pittsburg, 50,000; Indianapolis, 20,000, and Detroit, 15,000. In St. Louis the epidemic is spreading, and it is estimated that they number fully 30,000 cases.

Hard Coughs

No matter how hard your cough is or how long you have had it, you want to get rid of it, of course. It is too risky to wait until you have consumption, for sometimes it's impossible to cure this disease, even with

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

Is the most important period in a woman's existence. Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are symptoms of a dangerous, nervous trouble. Those hot flashes are just so many calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life.

It builds up the weakened nervous system, and enables a woman to pass that grand change triumphantly.

"I was a very sick woman, caused by Change of Life. I suffered with hot flushes, and fainting spells. I was afraid to go on the street, my head and back troubled me so. I was entirely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. JENNIE NOBLE, 5010 Keyser St., Germantown, Pa.

An Innovation.

The Louisville and Nashville R. R., together with its connecting lines, has inaugurated the Chicago and Florida Limited, which is a daily, solid train, wide vestibuled, steam heated, gas lighted, with dining car service for all meals en route from Chicago to Thomasville, Ga., Jacksonville and St. Augustine, Fla. The train leaves Chicago over the Chicago and Eastern Illinois tracks at 11:05 a. m., running via Evansville, Nashville, Birmingham and Montgomery, Plant System to Jacksonville, Florida East Coast to St. Augustine, arriving at the latter city at 7:30 the next evening, making the fastest time ever made between these points. This train has annex sleeper leaving St. Louis at 2:15 p. m., which also runs through. Mr. C. L. Stone, General Passenger Agent, Louisville and Nashville R. R., Louisville, Ky., will answer all inquiries concerning this train and furnish printed matter concerning it.

FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair with Shampoos of

Cuticura SOAP

And light dressings of CUTICURA, purest of emollient skin cures. This treatment at once stops falling hair, removes crusts, scales, and dandruff, soothes irritated, itching surfaces, stimulates the hair follicles, supplies the roots with energy and nourishment, and makes the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp when all else fails.

MILLIONS USE CUTICURA SOAP

Assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and healing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings, and chafings, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Millions of Women use CUTICURA SOAP in the form of baths for annoying irritations, inflammations, and excoriations, for too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women and mothers. No amount of persuasion can induce those who have once used these great skin purifiers and beautifiers, to use any others. CUTICURA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from CUTICURA, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients, and the most refreshing of flower odors. No other medicated soap is to be compared with it for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands. No other foreign or domestic toilet soap, however expensive, is to be compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Thus it combines, in ONE SOAP at ONE PRICE, viz.: TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, the BEST skin and complexion soap, the BEST toilet, BEST baby soap in the world.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor.

Consisting of CUTICURA SOAP (25c.), to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle; CUTICURA OINTMENT (50c.), to instantly allay itching, inflammation, and irritation, and soothe and heal; and CUTICURA RESOLVENT (50c.), to cool and cleanse the blood. A SINGLE SET is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, and scaly skin, scalp, and blood humors, with loss of hair when all else fails.

ANARCHY'S QUEEN FOR PEACE.

Declares that the Killing of Monarchs Will Cease, as It Hurts the Cause.

Kings and queens may get out of their bomb-proof jackets, for Emma Goldman has granted them immunity from further attack. America's leading female anarchist has returned from the Paris convention of "Reds" from all over the world, where it was decreed that there should be no more killing of crowned heads. Miss Goldman breathes of sweet peace. Says she:

"Under anarchy there would be no crime. There would be no need for any one to steal, because all would have enough to live on. Anarchists as a rule are unselfish. No one would demand more than another. Everything would be equalized. There would be no accumulation of wealth. The desire for wealth, after all, is childish. It is like little children who want more toys. It means a lack of intelligence. Wealth does not bring happiness."

Congress.

Some progress was made by the Senate on Tuesday in the consideration of the army reorganization bill. One amendment that has created much debate was disposed of and a tacit agreement has been reached for a "vote very soon."

Mr. Cockrell (Missouri) emphasized his opposition to the increase in the army proposed by the bill and his intention to vote against it, but expressed his opinion that the bill ought to be disposed of speedily. Mr. Sewell (New Jersey) also urged speedy action on the measure on account of the serious embarrassment the government was laboring under in preparing for the return of the volunteers from the Philippines. The principal speeches against the bill were made by Mr. Berry (Arkansas), Mr. Bacon (Georgia) and Mr. Teller (Colorado). Mr. Warren (Wyoming) delivered an extended argument in support of the bill. Bill granting pension of $50 a month to Horatio N. Davis, father of the late Senator Davis of Minnesota, was passed. Mr. Davis was captain in commissary department. In the House the day was devoted to consideration of river and harbor bill.

The Senate on Wednesday decided to take final vote on reorganization bill at 4 o'clock Friday. Speeches in opposition to the bill were delivered by Messrs. Allen, Teller and Butler, while Mr. McCumber made argument in support of the measure. Feature of debate was denunciation of practice of hazing at West Point Military Academy. The House passed river and harbor appropriation bill substantially as it came from committee. It carries slightly less than $60,000,000, of which $23,000,000 is in direct appropriations. Section empowering the President to negotiate with Great Britain for maintenance of suitable levels on great lakes was broadened so as to provide for joint commission to conduct negotiations. De Armond resolution calling upon War Department for all information relative to alleged action of Gen. Chaffee in protesting against looting in China was laid upon the table.

During Thursday's session the army reorganization bill was discussed in the Senate at length by Mr. Money (Dem.) of Mississippi, Mr. McComas (Rep.) of Maryland and Mr. Bate (Dem.) of Tennessee. The Mississippi Senator devoted some attention to the practice of hazing at West Point, which he bitterly denounced. A bill fixing the compensation of district superintendents of the life-saving service at $2,500 per annum, except in the case of the superintendent of the eighth district, whose salary is fixed at $1,500, was passed. A bill to extend the privileges of an act in relation to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods to the city of Milwaukee was passed. It was an exceedingly dull day in the House. The entire day was spent upon the bill to revise and codify the postal laws, which is to be the continuing order, not, however, to interfere with appropriation bills or conference reports until disposed of. It is a bill of 221 pages and is simply a revision of existing laws. Some disposition was manifested to inject into the measure some amendments to the present law in the interest of certain classes of mail employes, but such attempts were successfully resisted.

The Senate on Friday passed army reorganization bill by vote of 43 to 23, after adopting amendment providing for payment of $200 to each soldier in Philippines whose term expires before July 1, 1901, and who will re-enlist for three years. By vote of 43 to 23 rejected amendment by Mr. Gallinger ordering revocation of all liquor licenses in Philippines, forbidding issuing of licenses in future and prohibiting importation into islands of beer, wine and distilled spirits. Bill then went to conference, with Messrs. Hawley, Proctor and Cockrell as Senate conferees. The House spent entire day on bill to refer to court of claims the claims of William Cramp & Sons for alleged damages due to delay of government in furnishing armor plate and material for battleships Massachusetts and Indiana and cruisers New York and Columbia. Claims aggregate $1,367,244. Bill has been conspicuous at every session of Congress for several years. Filibuster was begun, but advocates of bill succeeded in having previous question ordered. This gives bill tactical advantage in parliamentary way, which practically insures vote upon it whenever it is called up again.

Saturday in the Senate was given up to eulogies on the late Senator Gear. In the House the session was devoted chiefly to postal codification bill, which was about half completed. Proposition to compel star route contracts to be let to persons living contiguous to route was defeated. Bill was passed granting fifteen days' annual leave to employes of navy yards, arsenals, etc.

On Monday the Senate confirmed appointment of James S. Harlan of Chicago as attorney general of Porto Rico by vote of 43 to 21. Devoted rest of day to legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, adopting amendment appropriating $10,000 to keep library of Congress open from 2 o'clock to 10 o'clock Sundays. The House appointed Messrs. Hull (Iowa), Brownlow (Tennessee) and Hay (Virginia) as House conferees on army reorganization bill. By vote of 135 to 57 passed bill appropriating $230,000 for construction in District of Columbia of home for aged and infirm colored people. By vote of 37 yeas to 82 nays killed bill allowing subjects of foreign countries claiming indemnity for injuries received in this country to bring suit in the court of claims. Passed Senate bill to establish branch soldiers' home at Johnson City, Tenn. Passed bill increasing salary of commissioner of education in Porto Rico from $3,000 to $4,000.

Wanted to Know How It Felt.

The girl was very rich and the young man was poor but honest. She liked him, but that was all, and he knew it. One night he had been a little more tender than usual.

"You are very rich," he ventured. "Yes," she replied frankly. "I am worth one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars."

"And I am poor." "Yes." "Will you marry me?" "No." "I thought you wouldn't." "Then why did you ask me?" "Oh, just to see how a man feels when he loses one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars."—Stray Stories.

POLICE OFFICER RESCUED.

Officer A. C. Swanson of the Council Bluffs Force Tells an Interesting Story.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Jan. 21, 1901.—(Special.)—Kind-hearted Officer Swanson of the local police force is very popular in this city. He has lived here for seventeen years, and has enjoyed many high offices in social and society work. He is now Vice-President of the "Dannebrog" Brotherhood, the largest Danish secret society in America, which combines benevolence with the social features. Owing to the constant exposure and many hours on his feet, which his duty as a Police Officer makes unavoidable, Mr. Swanson became the victim of serious kidney and liver trouble. He was very bad, but has entirely recovered. He gives the story in his own words as follows:

"I have been a sufferer for many years with kidney and liver trouble, and have tried many remedies, some of which gave me temporarily relief, and others which were absolutely worthless. I began to think that there was no help for me, when my nephew gave me a part of a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills which he had left, saying that it would do no harm to try them, as they had certainly fixed him all right. What he gave me helped me so much that I felt justified in purchasing more, and I grew slowly better. It took almost two months to effect a complete cure, as mine was a very bad case, but I am cheerful and truthfully say that I am a well man to-day, and I am very grateful that Dodd's Kidney Pills were thus brought to my notice."

The wonderful cures effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills in Iowa have created quite a sensation in some parts of the State. There does not seem to be any case of Lame Back, Rheumatism, Kidney or Bladder Trouble which these wonderful Pills cannot cure. They are certainly popular here, and the sale through the local druggists is very large.

It will regulate the bowels, stir up the liver, invigorate the kidneys, and absolutely cure indigestion, constipation, malaria, chills and fever. It's a good medicine to keep on hand.

Learned from a Woman.

If there is anything in which a woman is supposed to be especially deficient, it is in sharpening a lead pencil in a neat and workmanlike manner; but a certain woman reporter on a daily paper was observed always to have her pencils most beautifully pointed.

The masculine reporters watched her, but never succeeded in learning how she did it, and one day they sent a delegation to ask her about it.

"We have come," said one of the delegates, humbly, "to ask the secret of your gift as a pencil sharpener. Your proficiency humiliates us."

"It is no secret," she said with a smile.

Thereupon she took a pencil from the hand of the speaker, raised the lid of her desk, drew forth a carpenter's chisel, rested the end of the pencil on the edge of the desk, and deftly shaped it into a true cone with a few "shaves" of the sharp instrument.

"There," she said, handing it back, "have you learned something from a woman?"

"We have," they said.

And possibly the reader has also.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro, Ga., and Its Pastor and Elder.

The day was when men of prominence hesitated to give their testimonials to proprietary medicines for publication. This remains true to-day of most proprietary medicines. But Peruna has become so justly famous, its merits are known to so many people of high and low stations, that no one hesitates to see his name in print recommending Peruna.

The highest men in our nation have given Peruna a strong endorsement. Men representing all classes and stations are equally represented.

A dignified representative of the Presbyterian Church in the person of Rev. E. G. Smith does not hesitate to state publicly that he has used Peruna in his family and found it cured when other remedies failed. In this statement the Rev. Smith is supported by an elder in his church.

Rev. E. G. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Greensboro, Ga., writes:

"Having used Peruna in my family for some time it gives me pleasure to testify to its true worth. My little boy seven years of age had been suffering for some time with catarrh of the lower bowels. Other remedies had failed, but after taking two bottles of Peruna the trouble almost entirely disappeared. For this special malady I consider it well nigh a specific. As a tonic for weak and worn-out people it has few or no equals."—Rev. E. G. Smith.

Mr. M. J. Rossman, a prominent merchant of Greensboro, Ga., and an elder in the Presbyterian Church of that place, has used Peruna, and in a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, writes as follows:

"For a long time I was troubled with catarrh of the kidneys and tried many remedies, all of which gave me no relief. Peruna was recommended to me by several friends, and after using a few bottles I am pleased to say that the long looked for relief was found and I am now enjoying better health than I have for years, and can heartily recommend Peruna to all similarly afflicted. It is certainly a grand medicine."—M. J. Rossman.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Bilious--Got a Cold?

You're bilious, got a cold, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow with dark rings under your eyes, your lips are parched and you feel ugly and mean, as if you wanted to kick a lame infant or kill a canary bird. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, but send out at once for a box of CASCARETS and work off the cold while you sleep.

Be sure you get CASCARETS! Don't let them sell you a fake substitute.

Next Monday afternoon, the cadets and officers of C. M. A. will leave by special train over the Nickel Plate R. R. for Chicago where they will witness Richard Mansfield in Henry V., and will return the same night to their quarters at the academy.

A large audience gathered at the Academy gymnasium Monday evening, to witness the great farce comedy entitled, "The Wooing of Mrs Van Cott. Although the wooing part of the program was too sentimental to be highly appreciated, the specialties sandwiched between acts were received with uproarious applause, each performer being repeatedly encouraged.

Speaking of shows, reminds us that it would be about the right thing to do if the academy management would erect an opera house, or place in the present gymnasium a suitable stage and dressing rooms whereby rapid changes could be made by the very best troupes in the country.

Last Saturday afternoon, Logansport Commercial College succeeded in defeating C.M.A. in our first game of basketball this year by a score of 16 to 22. The game was rather one-sided in the start, the first half ending with the score standing 12 to 4, but in the second half our boys did better playing as final score shows.

A letter from R. H. Bolt, cashier of the State Bank at Otterbein, Ind., who led the party that captured Marvin Kuhns, to a friend in Culver, says: "Our fight was a most desperate and exciting one, and when we examine the rooms and see the perforated walls it seems wonderful that no one was killed. I have not given up to the belief that our man was Kuhns. From the history of the man one naturally concludes that he would carry up-to-date arms. We found that he carried about third rate pistols, and I do not think his unprepared position in which we cornered him, shows him to be quite the man he is claimed to be. Anyway if taken he does not appear to me to be the great man in that class of criminals the papers have made him out. Your kind letter is highly appreciated and am glad to assure you that I am not seriously hurt."

According to the above, we fail to see where ex-Sheriff Marshall is entitled to any particular honor in capturing the notorious convict and murderer, Marvin Kuhns, or where he or any Marshall county officials can possibly lay any claims to the reward offered by the Ohio authorities. Sure, after he and his brother were captured, shackled and handcuffed, Gene and his assistant brought them to Plymouth and lodged them in jail, a feat that any ordinary man could perform here all danger was removed. The men that captured Marvin Kuhns, were not officers of the law; but had simply banded themselves together in order to protect the community against horse thieves and law breakers in general. We understand that a certain ex-sheriff desires to become a United States Marshal, but predict that he will fail if he attempts to land there at the expense of another man's achievements.

Newman pronounced them man and wife and introduced them to the guests as Mr. and Mrs. Castleman. After congratulations Miss Edith Scheuerman announced that the guests were wanted in the dining-room, to which call they readily responded and found that a bountiful feast had been prepared, which was highly enjoyed by all present. The happy couple will go to housekeeping in a short time near Rutland, Ind., where they will be at home to their many friends.

WILL CEASE HAZING.

THE PRACTICE RECEIVES DEATH BLOW AT WEST POINT.

Public Condemnation Compels Student Body to Take Action for Its Abolishment—Unfortunate Duck Hunter Is Carried Over Falls of Niagara.

At a meeting of the four classes of the West Point military academy it was unanimously agreed to abolish the practice of hazing. A resolution to this effect was drawn up and presented to the congressional investigating committee. It is as follows: "To Superintendent of the United States Military Academy: Sir—Having become cognizant of the manner in which the system of hazing as practiced at the military academy is regarded by the people of the United States, we, the cadets of the United States military academy, while maintaining that we have pursued our system from the best motives, yet realizing that the deliberate judgment of the people should, in a country like ours, be above all other considerations, do reaffirm our former action abolishing the exercising of fourth-class men, and do further agree to discontinue hazing, the requiring of fourth-class men to eat anything against their desire and the practice of 'calling out' fourth-class men by class action, and that we will not devise other similar practices to replace those abandoned. Respectfully submitted for the first class, W. R. Betton, president class 1901; B. O. Mahaffey, president class 1902; Quinn Gray, president class 1903; Joseph A. Atkins, class 1904." After reading the communication Gen. Dick said: "This voluntary act of the corps has so impressed the committee that they have reason to believe that in spirit and in letter it will be carried out by those cadets who are now at the military academy. This action of the men is greatly commended by the committee."

CARRIED OVER NIAGARA FALLS.

Hunter Loses His Life and Companion Has a Narrow Escape.

John Wiesen was carried over the American falls at Niagara and Joseph E. Marsh, who was his companion in a row-boat, in which they were returning from a duck hunt, had a narrow escape from death. The men were in midstream and in trying to pick up a duck lost one of their oars. They tried to regain the American shore, but the current was too swift. When below Port Day Marsh left the boat and tried to make shore over the ice. Coming to an open spot, he leaped into the water and when very close to the rapids caught a pole and was pulled ashore nearly dead. Wiesen, still in the boat, saw Marsh rescued. He jumped into the ice and water, but being unable to swim, soon disappeared and was lost.

DISCIPLINE A COLLEGE RIGHT.

Principle Settled in Decision Against an Ohio Law Student.

Student Harry Koblitz, last year a sophomore in the law school of the Western Reserve University, was refused admission to the institution by the faculty at the beginning of the present school year, the ground being misconduct. The law student brought suit against his reluctant alma mater to compel her to allow him to complete his education, basing his argument on the ground that when he matriculated he made a contract that the school could not repudiate. In the Circuit Court in Cleveland the student was defeated.

Five Chinese Girls Sold.

Five Chinese slave girls were sold at public auction in San Francisco, as publicly as though they had been in Canton. These girls were the property of Gong Gow, an old Chinese who has kept for years one of the dens in Chinatown. He wanted to go back to China, so he advertised the furniture and chattels of his establishment at auction. The girls sold at from $1,700 to $2,500 each.

Trains Goes Through Bridge.

A Wisconsin Central repair train went through a bridge which had burned at Forest Junction, two miles from Fond du Lac, Wis. Five persons were injured. The property loss will be quite large. It is thought the fire started from burning coals which dropped from an engine on the wooden support of the bridge.

Pension Claims Burned.

systems or are in position to dictate their policy.

The extent of the movement cannot be calculated in miles or dollars, as the field is practically limited only by the desires of the allied money interests. "Community of ownership" is the title of the scheme and John G. Carlisle, who since his retirement from the Cleveland cabinet has been consulting counsel for Morgan interests, is accredited with the idea's parentage.

The heavy expense entailed by the Boer war has had the effect to curtail England's expenditures on new warships. It is noted in London as an extraordinary fact that not a single battleship was launched during the year 1900, although the English yards were engaged on two first-class armored cruisers, one third-class cruiser, four sloops and eighty destroyers. It is also interesting to note that if English navy building has slackened speed France, too, has made little progress. On the other hand, Russia made rapid progress last year, completing two first-class battleships, one first-class armored cruiser, and eight destroyers. In addition to these, Russia launched three first-class battleships, one first-class armored cruiser, one second-class cruiser, two third-class cruisers, and three destroyers. Germany was a close second to Russia in the matter of naval construction, Japan coming next. Incidentally it may be remarked that the United States launched no formidable warships during the year; but three first-class battleships—the Alabama, Kentucky and Kearsarge—were completed and placed in commission, while the battleship Wisconsin has been accepted by the government. During the present year the United States will complete the first-class battleship Illinois and launch the Maine, Ohio and Missouri, while six protected cruisers of the Olympia type are to be launched and four coast defense monitors completed. In addition contracts have practically been let for five first-class battleships, six first-class armored cruisers, and three protected cruisers. It is thus seen that the naval program of the United States is more extensive than any nation in Europe.

Hunter Loses His Life and Companion Has a Narrow Escape.

John Wiesen was carried over the American falls at Niagara and Joseph E. Marsh, who was his companion in a row-boat, in which they were returning from a duck hunt, had a narrow escape from death. The men were in midstream and in trying to pick up a duck lost one of their oars. They tried to regain the American shore, but the current was too swift. When below Port Day Marsh left the boat and tried to make shore over the ice. Coming to an open spot, he leaped into the water and when very close to the rapids caught a pole and was pulled ashore nearly dead. Wiesen, still in the boat, saw Marsh rescued. He jumped into the ice and water, but being unable to swim, soon disappeared and was lost.

DISCIPLINE A COLLEGE RIGHT.

Principle Settled in Decision Against an Ohio Law Student.

Student Harry Koblitz, last year a sophomore in the law school of the Western Reserve University, was refused admission to the institution by the faculty at the beginning of the present school year, the ground being misconduct. The law student brought suit against his reluctant alma mater to compel her to allow him to complete his education, basing his argument on the ground that when he matriculated he made a contract that the school could not repudiate. In the Circuit Court in Cleveland the student was defeated.

Five Chinese Girls Sold.

Five Chinese slave girls were sold at public auction in San Francisco, as publicly as though they had been in Canton. These girls were the property of Gong Gow, an old Chinese who has kept for years one of the dens in Chinatown. He wanted to go back to China, so he advertised the furniture and chattels of his establishment at auction. The girls sold at from $1,700 to $2,500 each.

Trains Goes Through Bridge.

A Wisconsin Central repair train went through a bridge which had burned at Forest Junction, two miles from Fond du Lac, Wis. Five persons were injured. The property loss will be quite large. It is thought the fire started from burning coals which dropped from an engine on the wooden support of the bridge.

Pension Claims Burned.

More than 80,000 pension claims in the office of Milo B. Stevens & Co., Washington, D. C., were destroyed in the fire. Many of the papers were to be used as evidence in attempting to secure favorable action by the pension office on claims, and cannot be replaced.

VICTORIA IS DEAD.

Britain's Beloved Queen Passes Peacefully Away.

EMPIRE IN MOURNING

Prince of Wales Now Ascends the Throne as Edward VII.

Members of the Royal Family Were at the Bedside When the Final Summons Came—Career of the Noble Woman Who Governed the Destinies of More than Three Hundred Million Subjects—Her Reign Was the Longest in the History of the English People.

Queen Victoria is dead. She passed away Tuesday, surrounded by her physicians and the members of her family. The Prince of Wales is now King of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India. The Queen's death places him on the throne as her legal successor. He will reign as Edward VII.

The long and beneficent reign of Queen Victoria is at an end. After occupying the throne of England for more than sixty-three years the venerable woman whose name is so closely identified with England's greatest era is no more, and her subjects have awakened with profound sorrow to the consciousness that her rule is over. Not only in Great Britain and its dependencies, but throughout the civilized world, the news has been received with a keen sense of the greatness with which she has played her part both as woman and as queen. It has been the especial merit of the Queen so to fill the functions of rulership as to exercise a positive influence. By precept and example, by her eminent qualities of good sense and kindness, by her strength of character and her love of peace, she has done much to make the nation great and to secure the advancement of the world at large.

It is a noteworthy fact that while the changing conditions since she was crowned in 1837 have tended to reduce greatly the specific powers of sovereignty she has accepted the natural trend of events with equanimity, steadily gaining in esteem and affection as the years passed. Never has she been more sincerely revered and loved than during the decade just closed; never has the quiet force of her influence been more generally recognized. The whole period embraced in the Victorian era has been the period of Great Britain's greatest imperial development. The statesmen who were her advisers when she came to the throne, a girl of 18, seem now to have belonged to an entirely different epoch, so great has been the change in the political world and in the currents and tendencies of intellectual life. In all this process of growth Victoria has exercised a wholesome, if passive, influence. She has met new burdens and honors with dignity; she has kept before the British public high ideals of principle and conduct; and if the political growth and material prosperity of England are not directly traceable to her, her essential goodness and her well-poised character have at least done much to maintain the sentiments of confidence and patriotism which tend most to make for a nation's happiness.

The change of rulers necessitated by the death of the Queen comes at a time when the empire is beset with dangers and difficulties. After an era which is destined to be as distinctive in British history as the era of Elizabeth, it was Victoria's fate to see the British empire embarrassed by war and apparently losing its primacy among the nations of the earth. Whether it has not actually passed the climax of its greatness and is now on the point of a retrograde movement is a question yet to be determined. The circumstances under which Albert Edward assumes the sovereign power as King Edward VII. are therefore peculiarly trying, but thoughtful observers will be slow to conclude that as king he will fail to satisfy the needs and expectations of the British people. However England may have looked upon its heir apparent twenty years ago, in the recent years during which he has been called upon to perform most of the public and ceremonial functions of the monarch, acting as Victoria's representative, he has shown dignity and discretion. His reign in all probability will be comparatively brief, but there is good reason to believe that he will be guided by safe and sober conservatism and will be a popular monarch.

INSOMNIA is a forerunner of nervous prostration; what organism is strong enough to stand up under the strain of sleepless nights? It is plain that nothing in the world can possibly take the place of restful sleep, yet many try to eke out an existence without this sustaining power. Their nerves are in such a state of tension that sleep is an impossibility, or at best is a series of hideous dreams. It is not strange that physical and mental weakness, amounting soon to complete prostration, follows inability to sleep. There is no let-up to the strain. Vital forces are drawn upon, confirmed invalidism results.

The recuperative power of natural sleep is wonderful. Complete physical and mental exhaustion gives place, after a few hours of quiet slumber, to a full renewal of energy.

Dr. Greene's NERVURA FOR THE BLOOD AND NERVES.

Insomnia Wrecks the Nerves.

The fatigue of body and mind disappears entirely while all the muscles are strong and the nerves absolutely calm.

Sleep is the indication given by Nature as a guide to human plans to restore health. It shows that there are inherent in the wonderful human organism powers of recuperation which must have opportunity to assert themselves. Based on this clear demonstration, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy was constructed by Dr. Greene to help Nature combat the ills that attack men and women. What no amount of powerful drugs could possibly accomplish, can be successfully and promptly effected by healthy blood and nerves, the kind of blood which flows in strengthening flood to every portion of the body, the condition of nerves which permits awakened Nature to seize its opportunity to restore to perfect health.

Mrs. FLORENCE TAYLOR, of 4 Courtland Place, Bridgeport, Conn., writes:

"For four years I was troubled with nervous debility and hysteria in a most aggravated form. It caused sleeplessness and mental depression, and for months I was confined to my bed. My constitution wasted and I totally lost my appetite. I had many doctors, but they failed to give me any relief. I was advised to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I was in a terrible condition when I began its use, and almost immediately there was a wonderful change came over me. I regained my appetite, the dizziness in my head departed; it renewed my interest in life and made me feel, in fact, like another person. After taking six bottles I thankfully proclaimed myself strong and well. Those six bottles did for me what hundreds of dollars and numerous physicians failed to do."

Dr. Greene's Nervura is the Remedy that Cures.

Full explanation of these matters given by Dr. Greene on request, without charge. Dr. Greene's address is 35 West 14th Street, New York City. Consultation with him either by call or letter is absolutely free.

A Remedy for the Grippe.
Physicians recommend KEMP'S BALSAM as a remedy for patients afflicted with the grip, as it is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Do not wait for the first symptoms of the disease, but get a bottle to-day and keep it on hand for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grip has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose and the lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c and 50c.

A SNOW FANTASY.

Honey-palace summer-long—
Hive of sweetness and of song—
Court of golden-girdled bee,
Home of all felicity,
Whither fled your guests, and how
Came these ghosts to haunt you now?

Yet I guess the secret quite,
Following your pathways white,
Watching ghostly bees who swarm
In the wildness of the storm;
Born of snow, they gather where
Now the garden stretches bare.

Silently they come in hosts—
Snowflake-bees and honey-ghosts—
To this barren garden-hive,
Where they gladden, labor, thrive;
And when Spring hides them depart,
They shall leave a honey-heart.

Bud and blossom, leaf and vine,
In the sun their sweets shall shine;
And the summer bees shall know
Of their brothers of the snow—
Specter bees, whose frosty wings
Fluttered over fragrant things.

"Terrible Follower."

BY CHARLES C. D. ROBERTS.

In the years between 1840 and 1850, settlers were few and scattered in what is now the fertile and prosperous Aroostook region of northeastern Maine. The red deer had not yet retreated before the rifle and the axe of the pioneer; and where the deer lingered, there lingered, too, their hereditary foes, the wolves. Seldom gathering to the hunt in packs, these wolves were little accounted of by the settlers; but to their stealthy depredations might be charged the vanishing of certain strayed children, or solitary women, or tired travellers.

The following adventure was told me by an old lady, Mrs. Hetty Turner, part of whose childhood was passed in a pioneer's cabin on the head waters of the Aroostook River. Her father, James Atkinson, a widower, devoted his winters to lumbering and his summers to hewing himself a farm out of the wilderness; and Hetty took charge of the cabin, the chickens and the pig. Schooling she had had at her former home, and her father's small library accompanied her into the backwoods.

"Our nearest neighbors," said Mrs. Turner, "were Cyrus Turner's family, about three miles away. They were on the main Caribou road, while we had settled on Hardwood Ridge, where the land was better. A rough wood-road ran from our place about two miles, till it struck the Caribou road about a mile this side of Turner's."

"Mr. Turner had had a large family before he moved up the Aroostook, but he had lost all but the two eldest boys in an epidemic of diphtheria. Then, in the backwoods, two more children came to them, a boy and a girl. At the time I am telling of, the little boy was between four and five years old, and the little girl perhaps six."

"They took a great fancy to me, and father liked to see them around, so one of their big brothers used to bring them over to our place pretty often to spend the day."

"One sunny September afternoon, when father was off in the woods, I heard the pattering of little feet outside the door, and small fists knocking for admittance. It was the two little Turners."

"I asked them where Tom was—Tom was my favorite of their big brothers—and what had made him hurry away so. They told they had come all the way alone. They said their father and Tom and Bill were away somewhere, and their mother had gone to sleep, after washing the dinner dishes; and they had wanted to see me 'just awfully,' so they walked."

"Of course, I was pleased at such devotion. I kissed the hot and dusty little faces, and brought out a liberal supply of milk and molasses-cake, which soon disappeared. But presently I thought of the anxiety Mrs. Turner would feel when she found the children were missing. So I decided to walk right back with them, and to depend on getting Mr. Turner or one of the boys to drive me home."

"First, however, I had to do the milking, and then get father's supper ready. I left a note on his plate telling him where I had gone, and then started off with my little visitors. They were very loath to go at first; but I explained to them that soon it would be getting dark in the woods and we should all be frightened."

"Even as I spoke, I noticed with some uneasiness that the shadows were growing long. I hurried off at as quick a pace as I thought the little ones could stand, and the first half-mile of our journey was soon left behind."

"Then, however, I had to slacken our speed. Eddie's fat little legs were getting very tired. He had to sit down on a log and rest. Meanwhile, Mamie and I picked blackberries, both for ourselves and Eddie; and when we started on again, I was careful not to go so fast. But it made me uncomfortable to see there was no chance of our reaching the Turners' till after sundown."

"In a little while Eddie began to complain of his foot hurting. I took off his shoe and found a severe stone-bruise; so I wet a couple of leaves in a spring by the roadside, and put them inside his sock. This gave him some relief, but he had to cling to my hand and walk slowly."

"I think we must have been a good mile from the crossroads, when all at once Mamie, who was flitting about, untiring as a bird, stopped short and exclaimed in a frightened voice:

"'Look, Hetty; look at the big dog!'"

"'Big g'ay dog!' remarked Eddie, looking over his shoulders with much interest."

"When I glanced along the road, I couldn't help giving a little scream of fright. There was a huge wolf following us! He was keeping along the shady side of the road, and when we stopped he stopped, too, skulking behind a tree."

"When I saw that he was not going to rush right upon us I took courage again. But the children had been frightened by my fear."

"'Isn't it a dog, Hetty?' asked Mamie, her eyes getting very big."

"'No,' said I, 'I don't think it is! Come and take hold of my other hand.' And I began to drag Eddie forward at a rate that must have hurt his sore foot a good deal."

"But Mamie was not satisfied."

"'Is it a wolf?' she asked, with trembling lips. When I was silent, she suddenly burst out crying, and began to run."

"For us to separate would be fatal. The wolf would leave us, and attack her alone."

"I dropped Eddie's hand and sprang after Mamie like a flash; and the poor little fellow, thinking we had both deserted him, cried out in bitterest grief, and ran after us as fast as his short legs could carry him. As I caught Mamie, and turned to drag her back toward Eddie, the look of despair and desolation on the little one's face was such as I can never forget."

"Heavy as he was, I had to pick him up and carry him a little way. I kept tight hold of Mamie with one hand till I explained that if she ran away from Eddie and me the wolf would go right after her and eat her up. After that she kept tight hold of my petticoat."

"Meanwhile the animal had skulked a little nearer. He was waiting for the dark to come. As there were three of us, and I was pretty tall, he didn't like to spring on us in the daylight. I looked through the tree-tops at the western sky, and my heart sank as I saw that it would be dark before we could get to our journey's end."

"We made desperate haste now, and whenever Eddie began to give out I would pick him up in my arms and struggle on till my own breath quite failed me. The shadows kept deepening, and as they deepened that dreadful form behind us kept drawing nearer."

"At last, as I set Eddie down for the third or fourth time, the wolf made a short run forward, as if to spring upon us."

"Eddie, catching a near glimpse of his cruel eyes and long, uncovered teeth, began to cry at the very top of his voice, while Mamie and I both screamed. The noise appeared to daunt the sneaking brute somewhat, and he drew back."

"But as we hurried onward Eddie continued his shrill wailing, and stumbled along so blindly, amid his tears, that I was in despair. Nothing I could say made any difference, and it was oh, so slow, dragging the poor little fellow along; and at last I just burst out crying myself."

"Of course that started Mamie, and I began to feel as if we should just have to give up. You see, the strain was beginning to tell on my nerves so that I wasn't quite myself."

"However, it was just that crying of Eddie's that saved us, under God's providence. I am sure the noise we all made bothered the wolf so that he kept waiting for it to get a little darker. And then, which was more important, the sound was carried on the still evening air till it could be distinctly heard on the main Caribou road."

"Tom Turner was tramping wearily homeward along that main road, having been into Caribou on business for his father. As he neared the cross-road a queer sound reached his ears. At first he thought it was an Indian devil screeching, and quickened his steps. Then it came clearer, on a little puff of breeze. It was a child crying terribly."

"Tom Turner forgot his fatigue, and started up the cross-road on a run, swinging his heavy stick. He was not a hundred yards away from us, but hidden from view around a turn of the road, when the wolf, growing bolder, crept quite close to our heels, with a terrible low snarl."

"At that sound my knees fairly gave way beneath me. As I sank in the dust and stones I hardly noticed the shrill screams of the children, but I remember giving them a shove ahead and telling them to run! Then I shut my eyes, and expected the next instant to feel the wolf's teeth in my throat."

"After lying in this stupor of fear for perhaps half a minute, which seemed to me an age, I felt a dim surprise. Then the horrible thought occurred to me that the wolf had sprung upon the children. I leaped to my feet and started wildly around."

"There was no wolf in sight. But—could I trust my eyes? There was Tom stepping up to my side, with both children sobbing in his arms!"

"I caught tight hold of him with both hands, and clung to him, crying harder than I had ever cried before, till presently I heard him say: 'Well, Hetty, brace up and come along home, and then I'll hitch up old Bess and drive you back to your place after tea.'"

"When I had wiped my eyes and brushed the dust off my petticoat, we continued our journey without hurrying, although now, as Tom carried Eddie, it was easy to keep up a good pace. Presently I inquired:

"'What did you do to the wolf, Tom?'"

"'Oh, said Tom, I didn't get a chance to do anything to the cowardly blackguard. He was fairly on you, Hetty, and my blood ran cold as I thought he was going to tear you before I could get up. But at the first sound of my yell he turned tail and was off among the trees like a streak. I let fly my stick, but missed him—and came mighty near hitting you, Hetty!'"

"When we reached Mr. Turner's Eddie was asleep in Tom's arms, and Mamie, although dreadfully exhausted, was none the worse for her adventure. But as for me, I just went all to pieces, and acted like a fool."

"I fainted on the kitchen floor, and had to be put to bed; and instead of driving home with Tom after supper, I was sick in that bed for three days. Even now, although I've never seen a wolf since, except in a circus, I think I'm more afraid of wolves than of any other animal on earth."—Youth's Companion.

A BIT OF LACE.

Napoleon Slapped Josephine's Face Because She Cut It.

For $2,000 has been sold in Paris a piece of lace which was the cause of a quarrel between Napoleon and Josephine in which the cheeks of the empress were slapped. It had been the property of Mlle. Perusset, daughter of a favorite maid of the flighty empress. Napoleon had brought the lace from Italy. He often brought her beautiful things on his return from a successful campaign, and Josephine never asked him how he had got them, for she thought that perhaps he would not care to tell.

It was a large square of the finest old point de venise, and Josephine as soon as she had it in her possession sent for M. Duplan, her man milliner, and asked him to make with it a certain chapeau and a peplum.

"Impossible, your majesty," answered Duplan. "The piece is too large, and we could not arrange it gracefully."

"Well, cut it then!"

"Cut a treasure such as that! Oh, madam, I could not do such a thing."

"Nonsense!" cried Josephine. The lace was draped on her shoulders. She knew how she wanted it. So she calmly took a pair of scissors and in a second had it set right, while long, narrow pieces of the priceless stuff fell round her.

At this moment the emperor entered the room. "Cannibal!" he cried. And he gave her a sounding slap on her violently rouged cheeks, which were soon covered with tears. Duplan discreetly withdrew, and the lace was thrown into a chest of drawers. Josephine could not bear the sight of it after that and at last gave it to Mme. Perusset, her favorite maid. The odd bits of it have now been sold for $2,000. Another bunch fetched $1,000.

The passion of Josephine for lace caused frequent scenes between her and Napoleon. She would have lace, and she seldom let anything stand in the way of acquiring it. It is even said that this frivolous fancy helped to bring about her downfall, for Napoleon, who at first would not hear of forsaking her, one day said to the Prince de Wagram: "The cup is full now, prince. What do you think Josephine did lately? 'Nobbled' one of my young generals and made him pass lace for her in his top boots through my own frontier! Her soul is made of lace, prince, and that is too fragile a stuff for an empress's soul!"—New York Press.

INDIANA LAWMAKERS

Speaker Artman announced his committees Tuesday morning. The following are the chairmen: Elections, Minturn; ways and means, King; judiciary, Bonham; organization of courts, Sparks; banks, Scott; education, Clem; building and loans, Bishop; reformatory, Stout; prison, Erdlitz; swamp lands, Beckman; military affairs, Dudley; claims, Neal; trust lands, Stookey; fees and salaries, Manifold; sinking fund, Whitcomb; rights and privileges, Miller of Kosciusko; railroads, Kirkman; manufactures and commerce, Vestal; county and township business, Owen; agriculture, Matthews; benevolent and scientific institutions, Clem; temperance, Wesling; mileage and accounts, Davis of Wayne; corporations, Roberts of Jefferson; rivers and waters, Mueller; public expenditures, Miller of Ohio; Federal relations, Perrett; city of Indianapolis, Ostermeyer; cities and towns, Bell; engrossed bills, Adamson; roads, Thomas; statistics, Jack; insurance, Morgan; printing, Rogers; reformatory institutions, Gillett; drains and dykes, Kelley; mines, Johnson; labor, Clarke; medicine, health and statistics, Van Fleet; inspection of the journal, Speaker; natural resources, Stutesman; phraseology of bills, Harris; congressional apportionment, Reagan; legislative apportionment, Jackways; telegraph and telephones, Pritchard; soldiers' monument, Marshall of Fountain; State soldiers' homes, Carmichael; joint committees, public buildings, Burried; enrolled bills, Morton; State library, Mummer.

The Legislature received a number of new bills on Wednesday and took action on several committee reports. Four bills passed the House and were sent to the Senate. One of these, by Mr. Bonham, provided for the appointment of two stenographers, one for the minority and the other for the majority side of the chamber, one additional page and an assistant postmaster at $5 a day. The other bills that passed the House legalize the incorporation of English and Gentryville and the acts of the Town Board of Etua Green, Kosciusko County. They were passed under suspension of the rules. Thirty-one new bills were introduced in the House. After a session lasting a little over an hour in the morning the Senate adjourned, to meet again in the afternoon. Twenty-five new bills were introduced, making a total of eighty-four bills thus far. Among the important measures was one by Senator Colongue creating a commission to pass on voting machines before they can be bought for use at Indiana elections. Senator Gard sent up a bill to do away with the camp nuisance, and Senator Inman (minority leader) offered a measure to make it a felony to buy a vote. Charles E. Wilson appeared and read a notice from Gov. Durbin to the Senate that he has appointed Mr. Wilson his private secretary.

In the House on Thursday Speaker Artman knocked out the time-honored mileage graft by ordering a roll-call, each member responding to his name with a statement of the amount of mileage to which he is entitled. The Senate sent over the bill appropriating $105,000 to pay the expenses of the Legislature, with the clause stricken out allowing extra allowances. On motion of Mr. Kink, seconded by Mr. Neal, the amendment was promptly rejected, and Messrs. King, Neal and James were appointed a conference committee. Col. C. E. Wilson, the Governor's private secretary, read a message notifying the House of Gov. Mount's death. Messrs. Scott, Stutesman, King, Gauntt, Reser, James, Murphy, Waugh and the Speaker were appointed a committee to draft appropriate resolutions. At 11:30 o'clock the House adjourned out of respect for ex-Gov. Mount. In the Senate many bills were introduced. The Senate took action similar to that of the House on the death of ex-Gov. Mount.

In the Senate on Friday the bill to provide for the punishment at the Michigan City prison of criminals adjudged to suffer the death penalty was passed under a suspension of the rules. This bill corrects the omission in the law that changed the southern prison to a reformatory and failed to provide for the execution of criminals convicted south of the national road. The primary election bill, requiring the holding of party primary conventions in certain large counties, was favorably reported by the elections committee. Despite reports to the contrary, no steps have been taken in the direction of preparing a bill to punish wife beaters by whipping. Many members of the Legislature were practically stranded at Indianapolis because they came to the capital with only a few dollars and have not been able yet to appropriate money to pay themselves. Friday afternoon solons were going about borrowing money from their friends or wiring home for remittances to settle their personal expenses.

It took a strict party vote in the House of Representatives on Monday to kill an amendment providing that murderers condemned to death in Indiana shall be killed with morphine, instead of by hanging. Dr. Passage of Peru, a physician, offered the amendment and the Democrats promptly made his motion a party measure. The motion was tabled. The proposed change came up in consideration of a bill fixing the Michigan City prison as the legal place for the execution of criminals. The bill has been passed by both branches and is now in the hands of the Governor. The bill has direct bearing in the case of Joseph Keith, the murderer of Nora Kefer, who was recently convicted at Princeton. Without such a law there was no place where Keith could be legally hanged.

RECORD OF THE WEEK

INDIANA INCIDENTS TERSELY TOLD.

Farmers War on a Railroad—Sister's Labors Finally Rewarded—Oil Money for Indiana Landowners—Clay County Woman Barely Escapes Burial Alive.

Judge West in the Circuit Court at Crawfordsville refused to grant a temporary restraining order in the case of the Chicago and Southeastern Railroad Company, which was barred from crossing the land of Wesley Grantham. He declared Grantham had already been kept out of his property seven years and that the constitution guaranteed him certain rights with which the court did not propose to interfere. The road's attorney asked that an order be made giving the road possession until the land could be condemned, but the court refused this, saying the company had had seven years to do this and had failed. Farmers rallied to the assistance of Grantham, and wrecked a mile of track. The court issued an order forbidding any further destruction of the road's property.

Sister Freed from Ponds.

Gov. Mount pardoned William W. Kennedy, who was sentenced to prison for life in 1885 for the murder of David Baker at Greensburg. Kennedy was paroled in 1897 and has for several months been attached to the sanitary service in Havana. The case attracted national attention because of the efforts of Kate Kennedy, the convicted man's sister, to secure his pardon. The sister has appealed to every Governor since her brother's conviction, but without success until now. For several years, in man's garb, she traveled over the country in an endeavor to locate the real murderer, and, tramping her way, never missed an opportunity to interview tramps and criminals with the view to ascertaining the whereabouts of the man for whose crime she claimed her brother was suffering.

Farmers Made Rich by Oil.

During 1900 almost $1,000,000 was paid in royalties to Indiana farmers for oil territory. Indiana oil for the year averaged a fraction less than 94 cents per barrel for the crude product at the well. The pipe line companies charge a rate of 20 cents for running the product. During the year the output of the wells in the State of Indiana amounted to 5,650,950 barrels, representing a value of $5,284,624.94. Farmers say that some of the land which has proven the best oil territory would never be worth one cent per acre for cultivation.

Returns to Life in Time.

Mrs. Cyrus Clark, wife of a farmer of Clay County, came to life after having been pronounced dead by physicians. Her body was attired for burial and preparation was made for the funeral when she spoke. Intense excitement was caused among the mourners who crowded around her. Finally she opened her eyes and is now growing stronger. She was conscious some time before she spoke and realized that she was being prepared for burial.

Grief Drives Him to Suicide.

Grief caused by the death of his young wife a few months after her wedding impelled Robert E. Lee Pryor of Eastbank, W. Va., to send a bullet crashing into his brain in George's Hotel in Indianapolis. He died later. On a table was found the photograph of the wife, placed in such a position that as he stood before the mirror her image was reflected in his face when he shot himself.

State News in Brief.

Brazil will have a new brewer.
Jasper N. Frist will be the next postmaster of Clinton.
Work on the Muncie-Hartford City electric line will not begin until the ground thaws.
Anderson postoffice has passed the $40,000 mark, and Postmaster Small gets a raise in salary.
Jacob F. Sours, 88, Huntington, called his five children together and distributed $13,000 among them.
"Uncle" Charley Price, 85, died near Elwood. He was once a cook in the navy. He married at 83.
Robert Burke, Madison, and Sarah S. Schrodt met in Louisville, and after five minutes' acquaintance, decided to get married. They were refused a license in Jeffersonville because they were too young.

Mrs. Mida Dewey, Elwood, 13 years old, has brought suit to have her marriage with Charles G. Dewey set aside. He says he was an engineer on the warship Brooklyn. He is in jail at Anderson, charged with beating a board bill.

For the first time in the history of Clay County criminals expiated their crimes by receiving a severe whipping at Brazil. Three colored boys, Davey Jones, David Bowman and Harvey Bass, were brought up in police court on a charge of petit larceny. The judge decided that the boys should go free if their mothers, who were present, would give them a public thrashing. The mothers consented and with rawhides punished their recreant sons for three minutes.

Grover Allen, the heaviest boy for his age in the country, died in Anderson of fatty degeneration of the heart. He was apparently as well as usual when going to the lounge to lay down, but died within a few minutes. He was 8 years old, 4 feet 10 inches tall and the last time he was on the scales weighed 251 pounds. The past year he had been gaining in weight at the rate of ten pounds a month. The parents have declined offers from most all the circuses on the road. His health would not permit it. His weight was such he could get around with the greatest difficulty and when he stepped to a curb he had to be helped.

More Difficult to Marry in Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin legislature has started the ball rolling, providing for an amendment to the True law passed two years ago which will, if passed, make it as difficult to wed as it was easy before any license law was in existence in Wisconsin. The bill provides that within thirty days after his passage the probate judge in each county shall appoint three reputable practicing physicians, residents of the county, no two belonging to the same school of medicine, and one, where possible, a lady, whose duty it shall be to consider and pass upon all applications for license to marry, and no license to marry shall be given unless the applicant shall receive from this board a certificate setting forth that such applicants are free from any of the following ailments, any of which shall be deemed sufficient cause for refusing a license: Dipsomania, true insanity, hereditary insanity, or insanity resulting from vice or the use of drugs, any loathsome disease, hereditary tuberculosis or consumption. The state board of health is empowered to remove any member of the board for inefficiency or neglect of duty, and an appeal from the decision of the local board may be made to the state board of health. Each applicant to marry is required to pay an examination fee of $2.50, the fees to be divided among the board of examiners, and in case the fees amount to more than $1,000 each the balance is to be turned into the county treasurer. The county clerk is made the clerk of the examining board with extra compensation. Any person who shall marry a couple without the necessary license is made liable to a fine of not more than $500, or imprisonment for not more than one year.

The Indiana legislature would do about the right thing if it would pass such a law to govern the matrimonial market in this state.

Safety, Speed and Comfort in railway travel means a great deal to the public. These are synonyms of the Nickel Plate Road which through superior management has forced to the front as one of the great trunk lines from Buffalo to Chicago. A great convenience recently inaugurated on dining cars of this popular line is the American Club meal plan, which presents to the passenger a varied menu, ranging in price from 35 cents to $1.00. It is already well known to the traveling public that no excess fares are charged on this Road. Write, wire, phone or call on nearest agent, C. A. Asterlin, T. P. A., Ft. Wayne, Ind., or E. J. Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. T. E. Slattery.

A Letter From a Culverite.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 18, '01.
MR. EDITOR:—Enclosed find $1.00 for which send me the HERALD for one year. I arrived here Nov. 30th by way of St. Louis and have been working ever since. Am working with my brother who is superintendent of the Cole Mfg. Co. They employ about 200 men. Memphis is a progressive town; it is on the boom now and has been for a year or so; there is lots of building under way here now. They are rebuilding the old Gayosa Hotel which burned about a year ago. It will cost nearly a million dollars. It had a history, as Gen. Forrest and his staff rode into the lobby during the civil war. The old Mississippi is quite a river here; it is nearly a mile wide. There is a great steel bridge crossing it here 2 miles long and 60 feet above the water so steam boats can pass under it. This is a great place for colored people, mules and cotton. They all go in hand here. The weather has been very nice here, only a few cold days so far. I suppose you are having cold weather up around Maxinkuckee Lake. Your friend,
NICHOLAS BUSART.

Farmers' Institute.
The Farmers' Institute which was held at North Judson Jan. 16th and 17th, was the largest attended meeting ever held in Starke county. Jacob Myers, of Rutland, addressed the meeting upon the subject of "Breeding and Feeding Cattle," and being thoroughly conversant with his subject, his speech was enthusiastically received. From start to finish the institute was enlivened by able addresses upon the subject of stock and farming in general. While there Mr. Myers sold a male calf at a very handsome price and several choice Poland-China hogs.

In a recent letter from Washington, D. C., to an old friend, Major G. A. Studer, for twenty years United States Consul at Singapore, says: "While at Des Moines I became acquainted with a liniment known as Chamberlain's Pain Baln, which I found excellent against rheumatism as well as against soreness of the throat and chest [giving me much easier breathing]. I had a touch of pneumonia early this week, and two applications freely applied to the throat and chest relieved me of it at once. I would not be without it for anything. For sale by T. E. Slattery.

Frank Sherwood was down town to-day, the first time since he had his tussle with cholera morbus. He says he drove thirty miles after he was taken, and never came so near dying in his life. After this when he goes out in the country he will take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him.—Missouri Valley (Iowa) Times. For sale by T. E. Slattery, Druggist.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Always Proves Effectual.

There are no better medicines on the market than Chamberlain's. We have used the Cough Remedy when all others failed, and in every instance proved effectual. Almost daily we hear the virtues of Chamberlain's remedies extolled by those who have used them. This is not an empty puff, paid for at so much a line, but is voluntarily given in good faith in the hope that suffering humanity may try these remedies and, like the writer, be benefited.—From the Glenville [W. Va.] Pathfinder. For sale by T. E. Slattery, Druggist.

Story of a Slave.
To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by T. E. Slattery, Druggist.
