The State Geologist's annual report for the year 1900 will not appear for some weeks. He is now busy reading proof. Lake Maxinkuckee has forty-three varieties—more than any other lake reported.

Evert Jones, the 17 year old son of Elias Jones, preached at the Evangelical church Sunday morning to a crowded house, and although but a boy in years, he delivered a most excellent sermon, one that would hustle some of the rev. gentlemen who have preached for years. The young man had his subject well in hand and his delivery was par-excellent. There is no question but what this young man, no preventing providence, will be a wonderful pulpit orator, and from a theological standpoint, rank with the best.

The monthly crop bulletin of the weather bureau, issued the first of this month, says: "The general condition of winter wheat is better than at the close of February, but unfavorable reports continue from portions of the Ohio valley. In the Missouri valley wheat has wintered well and the outlook is very promising. On the Pacific coast the prospects for wheat are excellent. In portions of Texas wheat is suffering from the drought and in the northern counties has been seriously damaged by insects."

After a prolonged and bitter legal battle between John Osborn and the insurance companies represented in Culver, Osborn received his money. The company refused to settle the claim on the ground that there was too much insurance on the goods, which went up in smoke about three years ago. The company was sued and after two costly trials had to pay the claim, the money being received by the plaintiff last week. At one time in the controversy the claim could have been settled for $1,850, and it is said that it cost the companies interested over $4,000.

A certain minister of the gospel, in his sermon Sunday evening scored those churches that held as a means of raising money, socials, oyster suppers, and other entertainments. Now, in our opinion, there is not a particle of harm in churches giving good moral entertainments, or furnishing a man a dish of oysters at a stipulated price (so long as he gets value received for his money) or by using any other legitimate means to secure money for church work, so long as it does not conflict with true christianity. Human nature is about the same the world over, hence if a man sees some return for the money invested, he is apt to invest, but if you approach the average citizen and importune him for help to defray the expense of church work, generally he has a dozen excuses, and the entire burden will fall upon the shoulders of the church members themselves. There are but few men but what will admit that a community without churches would be a sadly demoralized one, consequently every dollar you get from the world outside of the church, helps the giver and increases the church's power to do good. Olden times is no criterion to go by, as they were compelled to pay tribute to the church, but in this day and age we act our own pleasure.

THE DUTY OF MOTHERS.

What suffering frequently results from a mother's ignorance; or more frequently from a mother's neglect to properly instruct her daughter!

Tradition says "woman must suffer," and young women are so taught. There is a little truth and a great deal of exaggeration in this. If a young woman suffers severely she needs treatment, and her mother should see that she gets it.

Many mothers hesitate to take their daughters to a physician for examination; but no mother need hesitate to write freely about her daughter or herself to Mrs. Pinkham and secure the most efficient advice without charge. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. August Pfalzgraf, of South Byron, Wis., mother of the young lady whose portrait we here publish, wrote Mrs. Pinkham in January, 1899, saying her daughter had suffered for two years with irregular menstruation—had headache all the time, and pain in her side, feet swell, and was generally miserable. Mrs. Pinkham promptly replied with advice, and under date of March, 1899, the mother writes again that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her daughter of all pains and irregularity.

Nothing in the world equals Mrs. Pinkham's great medicine for regulating woman's peculiar monthly troubles.

Glasgow Officials Are Thrifty.

Electric motor dust carts are projected by the Glasgow municipal authorities, and until they are ready oil motors will be used. Economy is the object in view. For the collection of waste paper the city fathers organized a uniformed boys' brigade, which collects eighteen tons per week and reports a profit of $1,000 per annum. The wastefulness of the housewife and the economy of the corporation are well illustrated by the fact that the boilers at the three largest stations of the cleansing department are fired and the machinery driven solely by the use of cinders, which are thrown out from dwelling houses and saved by scavengers from the accumulated waste.

INDIAN MISSIONARY'S STORY.

Years of Toilsome Ministry Among the Choctaws.

Little York, Ind., April 2.—(Special.)—Twenty-five years ago, the Rev. C. H. Thompson left Indiana. For a time he preached in Arkansas, afterwards entering on the regular missionary work among the Choctaw Indians.

For five years he lived and labored among the full bloods of the western prairies, until on April 4, 1885, having lost his wife, he left the circuit on which he had preached so long, and commenced traveling missionary work among the Indians of the various tribes scattered in the West.

The irregular work involved a great deal of travel over the prairies. The drinking of so much alkali water, brought on Kidney Troubles, which terminated in Diabetes.

Finally, while laboring among the Creek Indians at Wagoner, Indian Territory, this noble man was stricken down completely. A Chicago specialist was summoned, and after a careful examination, declared that there was not the slightest chance of his recovery. Besides the prescriptions of the doctors, he tried many other medicines, but all to no avail. He says:

"I had concluded that my days were drawing to a close, when I picked up an Almanac telling of the cures of Diabetes by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I sent for two boxes. I gained strength and spirits from the time I commenced to use them, and so I sent for more. I am now completely cured, and have not the slightest symptom of my old trouble.

"I am 68 years of age. I tell everybody of the wonders Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me. I can certainly indorse them heartily, and vouch that they are all that is claimed for them. They have certainly been a God-send to me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only Remedy that has ever cured Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Dropsy and they never fail.

Artificial Loins Chops.

That our food will some day be built up chemically from nitrogen, carbon and other necessary elements is a fascinating theory upon which most scientific men look skeptically. M. Berthelot, however, is cited as an eminent believer, and he is stated to foresee both artificial meat and artificial bread.—Invention.

LEAP FROM WINDOW.

PRISONERS TAKE DESPERATE CHANCES TO ESCAPE.

Jump Headforemost from Train Running at High Rate of Speed—Escape Into Woods—Diamond Match Company Makes Big Investment.

Two prisoners of a gang of twenty-four who were being taken to Jefferson City to serve out sentences in the penitentiary escaped from Sheriff Kichham of St. Louis and his deputies by leaping from a rapidly moving passenger train at Valley Park. The two convicts were Louis McDowell and Charlie Meyers, alias "Milwaukee Dutch." McDowell is one of the shrewdest and most noted criminals who have fallen into the hands of St. Louis police for many years. He was arrested in Cincinnati in the act of trying to get more jewelry by representing himself to be Eugene Zimmerman, brother-in-law of the Duke of Manchester. "Milwaukee Dutch" was convicted of robbery in the first degree. He has a lengthy police record. The escape from the Missouri Pacific train was most desperate. The two convicts were in the smoking car, handcuffed together. McDowell and Meyer managed to slip the handcuffs off their wrists, and when the officers' attention was attracted by the screams of a negro woman in the car ahead they quickly raised a window and leaped out headforemost. The train was running thirty-five miles an hour. By the time it was brought to a standstill the two fugitives had disappeared in the woods.

DIAMOND MATCH BUYS TIMBER.

Large Tract Near Duluth Secured for a Prospective Plant.

The Diamond Match Company has been mining for some months a large tract of timber near Duluth belonging to the Split Rock Lumber Company, Merrill & Ring and other firms, and will probably buy the tract as well as the mill of the Merrill & Ring Lumber Company and the Split Rock Railroad for a total price of about $1,500,000. The Merrill & Ring mill is one of the largest there, with a capacity in the season for about 50,000,000 feet of lumber, and there are in the timber tracts about 350,000,000 feet. The railroad is fifteen miles long, and is used exclusively for logging purposes. The Diamond Match Company will manufacture lumber and lath blocks, and is expected later to establish a large match plant there. An independent match factory, with a capacity of 28,000,000 matches daily, is now being put in there.

SUICIDE BARS NO INSURANCE.

Missouri Court Rules that Beneficial Orders Must Pay Policies.

The Modern Woodmen of America must pay $2,000 to Mrs. Fannie Brasfield, widow of Percy Brasfield of Unionville, Mo., who committed suicide a little over two years ago. Payment of the policy was refused on the ground that the charter of the Woodmen specifies that suicide within three years frees the order from liability. Suit was brought by the widow in Putnam County, where she secured a judgment. The Woodmen appealed to the western Missouri court of appeals, which held that insurance policies must be paid to the beneficiaries of those taking their own lives unless it be shown that the member committing suicide intended to do so when he took out his policy.

Wall Falls on Firemen.

A fire in which $200,000 worth of property was destroyed and five firemen, including Chief Hale, were injured occurred at the Jacob Dold Packing Company's plant on Eighth street, Kansas City, near the Kansas line. The cause of the fire is not known.

Fighting in Arkansas House.

In the Arkansas House of Representatives a personal encounter occurred between Representatives J. A. Leary of Lee County and S. M. Balock of St. Francis County over a local bill affecting Lee County.

THOUSANDS OF FAIR WOMEN HERALD PRAISES FOR PERUNA

Catarrhal Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration Make Invalids of More Women Than All Other Diseases Combined.

Peruna is the woman's friend everywhere. It is safe to say that no woman ever used Peruna for any catarrhal derangement but what it became indispensable in her household.

Letters From Women.

Every day we receive letters from women like the following. Women who have tried doctors and failed; women who have tried Peruna and were cured.

Miss Katie Klein, 6125 Bartmer avenue, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Peruna has done me more good for catarrh than the best doctors could. I had catarrh so bad, but after taking Peruna it is entirely gone, and I feel like a different person."

Miss Anna Prescott's Letter.

Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 218 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I am sincerely grateful for the relief I have found from the use of Peruna. I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. My druggist advised me to try Peruna, and the relief I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful."

"I continued its use for five weeks, and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to myself as well as to my friends."—Anna Prescott.

A constant drain of nervous vitality depleting the whole nervous system causes the mucous membrane surfaces to suffer accordingly. This is the condition called systemic catarrh.

The Ancestral Relic (h s).

"Haven't you any of your grand-ancestor's old things, Mrs. Newdash?" "No; but I've got a lot of candlesticks, old tables and chairs that belonged to a woman who lived next door."

If Coffee Poisons You.

ruins your digestion, makes you nervous and sallow complexioned, keeps you awake nights and acts against your system generally, try Grain-O, the new food drink. It is made of pure selected grain and is healthful, nourishing and appetizing. It has none of the bad effects of coffee, yet it is just as pleasant to the taste, and when properly prepared can't be told from the finest coffees. Costs about 1/4 as much. It is a healthful table drink for the children and adults. Ask your grocer for Grain-O. 15 and 25c.

On the Train.

When a traveler in the Grand Duchy of Baden, Germany, wants to send a telegram while he is in the train, he writes the message on a postcard with the request that it be wired, puts on a stamp, and drops it into the train letter-box. At the next station the box is cleared and the message sent out.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about 1/4 as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

Income Tax in Prussia.

In Prussia an income tax is levied on all whose income exceeds $225 a year.

I am sure Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. Thos. Robbins, Maple street, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

temic catarrh. It very nearly resembles, and there is really no practical difference, between this condition and the condition known as neurasthenia, or nervous prostration.

Peruna will be found to effect an immediate and lasting cure in all cases of systemic catarrh. It acts quickly and beneficially on the diseased mucous membranes, and with healthy mucous membranes the catarrh can no longer exist.

Peruna a True Friend to Women.

Mrs. F. J. Lynch, writes the following from 324 S. Division street, Grand Rapids, Mich.:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.: Gentlemen—"I earnestly recommend Peruna to any suffering woman, as it cures quickly. Last year I had a most persistent cough which nothing seemed to cure. Two bottles of Peruna did more for me than all the doctors seemed to do. In a couple of weeks I found myself in excellent health, and have been enjoying it ever since. Hence I look on Peruna as a true friend to women."—Mrs. F. J. Lynch.

Peruna is equally efficacious in curing catarrh of the throat as in curing systemic catarrh or catarrh of the stomach. Catarrh is essentially the same wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh.

Peruna Makes You Feel Like a New Person.

Miss Marie Coats, a popular young woman of Appleton, Wis., and president of the Appleton Young Ladies' Club, also speaks in glowing terms of Peruna. A letter recently received from her by The Peruna Medicine Company, of Columbus, Ohio, reads as follows:

More than His Share.

One of the judges at the horse show in New York last fall made a shrewd criticism, which has a broader application than he gave it.

Four high-bred carriage horses were on view.

"I see no difference between them," said an unskilled looker on. "They seem to me to be equal in blood, beauty and training."

"No," said the judge. "This horse," touching one of them, "is incomparably the finest. He is of a better breed than the others, his temper is good, and he is stronger than any of them. But I would not buy him. He will be short-lived. The others will outlive him by years."

"Why? What is wrong?"

"He is too willing a horse. Look! He pulls for both himself and his mate. He shoulders the whole weight, and the other simply trots alongside. There are many such horses. They use up their vitality before middle age."

It occurred to one of the bystanders that there were also many such men and women.

In almost every family there is some unselfish, energetic draft-horse who draws the load of the others. It may be the old father, plodding at his desk the year round, while his wife and daughters are idling in Europe; or it may be the lean, fast-aging farmer's wife who keeps house and cooks and irons and sews while the girls are busy in their clubs or entertaining their friends.

Professional Animus.

Mr. Horse—Why do you always shy at that automobile?

Mrs. Horse—I want him to know he's hideous.

"I am glad to call the attention of my friends to Peruna. When that languid, tired feeling comes over you, and your food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruna will make you feel like another person inside of a week.

"I have now used it for three seasons, and find it very valuable and efficacious."—Miss Marie Coats.

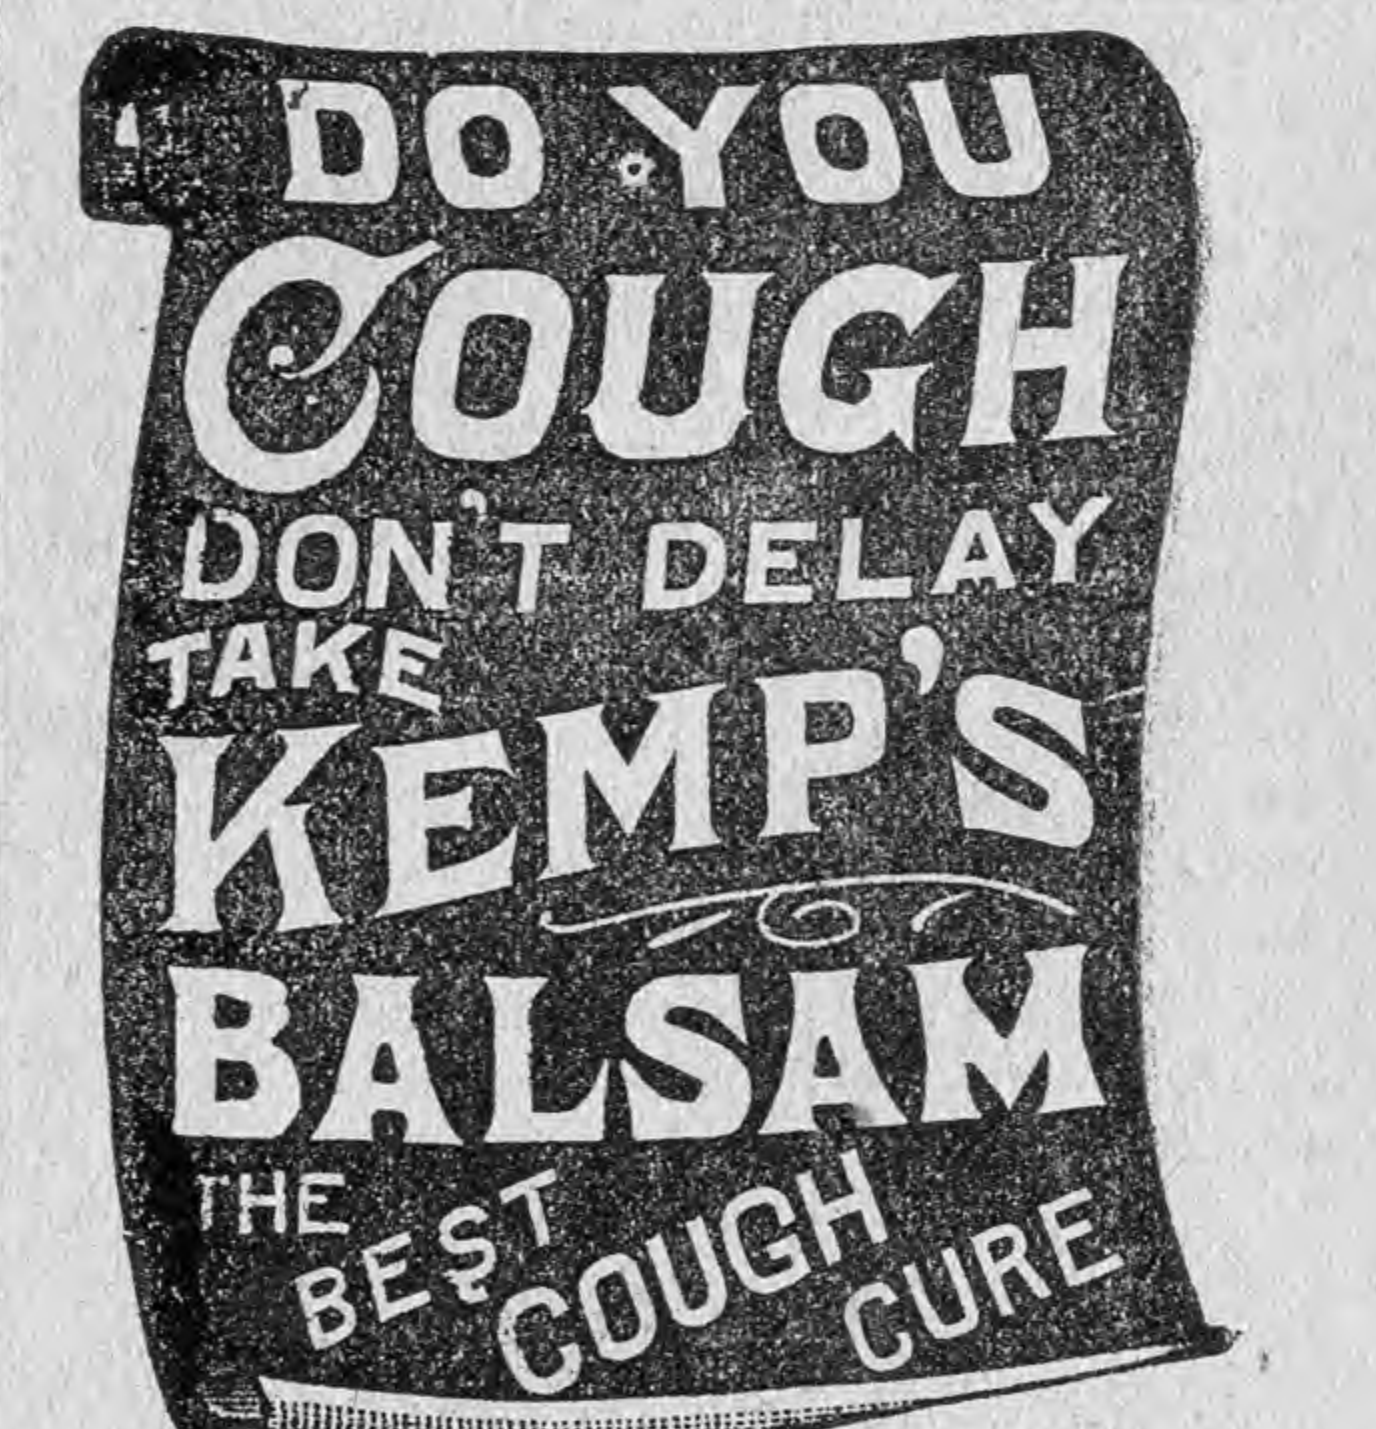

Diseased nerves are traceable directly to poor digestion, and poor digestion is directly traceable to catarrh. With the slightest catarrh of the stomach no one can have good digestion.

Very few of the many women who have catarrh of the stomach suspect what their real trouble is. They know they belch after meals, have sour stomach, a sensation of weight or heaviness, a fullness, irregular appetite, drowsiness, gnawing, empty sensations, occasional pain—they all know this; but they do not know that their trouble is catarrh of the stomach. If they did they would take Peruna.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. As soon as Peruna removes catarrh from the stomach the digestion becomes good, appetite regular, nerves strong, and trouble vanishes. Peruna strengthens weak nerves, not by temporarily stimulating them, but by removing the cause of weak nerves—poor digestion. This is the only cure that lasts. Remove the cause: Nature will do the rest. Peruna removes the cause.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. It is not so much what the newspapers say, as what neighbor says to neighbor, or friend to friend, that has brought Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy into such general use. It is as natural for people to express their gratitude after using this remedy as it is for water to flow down hill. It is the one remedy that can always be depended upon, whether a baby be sick with cholera infantum or a man with cholera morbus. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. That the President be, and he is hereby, authorized upon the application of the governor of any State having seacoast line or bordering on one or more of the Great Lakes, to direct the Secretary of the Navy to furnish to one well-established military school in that State, desiring to afford its cadets instruction in elementary seamanship, one fully equipped man-of-war's cutter for every fifty cadets in actual attendance, and such other equipment as may be spared and deemed adequate for instruction in elementary seamanship: Provided, that the said school shall have adequate facilities for cutter drill, and shall have in actual attendance at least one hundred and forty cadets in uniform receiving military instruction and quartered in barracks under military regulation, and shall have the capacity to quarter and educate at the same time one hundred and fifty cadets: And provided further, that the Secretary of the Navy shall require a bond in each case in double the value of the property, for the care and safe keeping thereof, and for the return of the same when required.

AGUINALDO IS OURS.

Filipino Chief Is Captured by Americans in Luzon.

PRISONER AT MANILA.

Long Chase Results in the Trapping of Leader of the Insurrection.

Gen. Funston's Adroit Ruse to Secure the Wily Native Proves to Be a Success—His Staff Is Taken with Him—Rebel Officers Found in Camp Near Casiguran, Nine Miles from Baler—More Fame for Brave Kansan.

Emilio Aguinaldo, leader of the Filipino army and head and shoulders of the islanders' insurrection, is a prisoner in the hands of the Americans. He was brought to Manila by Gen. Funston, by whom he was captured in Isabella province, about six days' march inland from the east coast of Luzon, north of Baler.

Aguinaldo was captured on March 23, in the country near Casiguran, nine miles from Baler. All members of his staff were taken prisoners at the same time and were brought with him to Manila on the gunboat Vicksburg.

Funston, when he started on the expedition which resulted in the capture of Aguinaldo, had with him a company of natives, and was assisted by Capt. John Newton of the Thirty-fourth volunteer infantry, Lieut. Admire of the Twenty-second infantry, Lieut. Mitchell of the Fortieth volunteers and Surgeon Major Harris. The expedition was conveyed by the gunboat Vicksburg and the cruiser Albany to a landing place on the east coast of Luzon, north of Baler.

The rebel chieftain's hiding place was revealed by a Filipino officer, who turned over to Gov. Gen. MacArthur a letter from Aguinaldo. The latter ordered the Filipino officer and other leaders of the insurgent forces in southern Luzon to meet him at a designated rendezvous in Isabella province.

Gen. Funston at once proposed to head an expedition to Isabella province in an effort to capture Aguinaldo. After much discussion Gov. Gen. MacArthur consented and preparations were begun.

Funston's plan of operations was unique. After being landed on the east coast Funston and his four American companions were to play the role of prisoners in the hands of the natives, who were to represent themselves to Aguinaldo as loyal Filipinos. When brought before Aguinaldo the latter was to be seized by Funston's native troops and made a prisoner.

The adventure was a desperate one, as its success or failure depended on the faithfulness of Funston's native soldiers. They were Macabebes, who have been loyal to the United States almost from the day the American troops landed. They were worthy of the trust imposed on them, as proven by the success of the enterprise.

Funston's plans went through as well as they had been planned. Aguinaldo fell into the trap, was made a prisoner, and was brought to Manila in the gunboat Vicksburg, which remained cruising off the east coast of Luzon for that purpose. His capture may mean the end of the war.

Body of a man frozen in ice was found in the Hackensack River, Jersey City, N. J.

Half the residence section of Macon, Miss., was destroyed by fire. Loss, $55,000.

Mexican troops killed a number of Yaqui Indians and took 200 prisoners, near San Marcial.

Now said that King Leopold, of Belgium, owns an interest in a big gambling house at Brussels.

There are 225 cannon, 310 monumental tablets and 500 monuments in Gettysburg national military park.

Albert Dolly, New York cripple, advertises for a lame wife. Wants a consort that can keep step with him.

King Edward has presented Sir Spencer Ponsonby-Fane, a lifelong officer of Queen Victoria's household, with the cane which the Queen used for thirty years.

FUNSTON IS REWARDED.

Kansas Soldier Made Brigadier in the Regular Army.

Gen. Fred Funston has been appointed by the President as a brigadier general in the regular army as a reward for his bravery in the capture of Aguinaldo. Gen. Lloyd Wheaton was made a major general and Col. Jacob H. Smith was promoted to a brigadier general. Gen. Funston is the youngest of the general officers of the army, being only 35 years old. He will not reach the voluntary retirement age until 1928, or four years after Gen. Leonard Wood retires. It is among the possibilities that Funston will become the lieutenant general commanding the army.

The promotion of Gen. Funston, announced forty-eight hours after the news of his bold exploit in capturing Aguinaldo reached the United States, is, says a Washington correspondent, a body blow to the desk soldiers of the War Department. No warrior in recent times, not even excepting Gen. Miles, has aroused such bitter resentment and enmity as the little soldier from Kansas by his daring conception and bold execution. Every man of influence in the department from Secretary Root down was arrayed against Funston, and the President was urged to hold up the plan of making him a brigadier general in the regular service until a complete investigation of his recent achievement should be made.

The President, however, was not willing to shoulder the responsibility of turning Funston down or of withholding from him the star of brigadier general in the reorganized army. He made this clear when he personally sent a congratulatory message to Gen. MacArthur instructing the commander of the army in the Philippines to convey his high appreciation of the gallant conduct of Gen. Funston and the officers and men of the army and navy engaged with him in the Palanan expedition.

Gen. Funston was notified by cable of the President's action. He will undoubtedly be retained in the Philippines for a long time to come and given further opportunities to display the valor and daring which has characterized his conduct since he first landed at Manila as the colonel of the Twentieth Kansas volunteers in the summer of 1898.

The situation in the far East has continued to cause uneasiness. China's sudden show of independence has not, unfortunately, cleared up the situation. Russia is in possession of Manchuria, and seems content to wait on the natural course of diplomatic events, for Russia is never in a hurry. As to the Manchurian treaty itself Great Britain has protested to Russia over its signature. Russia has responded that the treaty, so-called, is not really a treaty, but a paper more in the nature of a modus vivendi. Great Britain has replied that she has no objection to a temporary agreement implied in a modus vivendi, but has called Russia's attention to the secrecy involved in the Manchurian agreement, and announced that until that mystery is cleared away British objection to its signature will stand. Japan, who has more at stake than any of the powers, has assumed an attitude diplomatically correct.

Some keen observers of events in the far East do not hesitate to declare that war between Russia and Japan is inevitable. War is, it must be admitted, always a possibility between Russia and Japan; but the danger in the present situation lies deeper than a conflict, probable or possible, between the two powers most directly interested in the far East. This danger is the dismemberment of the Chinese Empire, that is likely to begin the moment Russia seizes Manchuria. Germany, France, England, Italy and Japan are likely to claim Chinese territory to compensate themselves for what they may consider a disturbance in the balance of power in the far East, and, with China parceled out among the powers, American commercial interests may suffer. Russia, more than any nation of Europe, is menaced by internal and external dangers. Until a satisfactory solution of the far Eastern situation is reached there is a constant menace of war with Japan. And at home there is the ever present danger of revolution.

The Czar is undoubtedly in a state bordering on panic, if all reports from St. Petersburg are to be believed. The recent demonstrations of the people compelled him to leave St. Petersburg and take up a temporary residence in Tzarskoe Park, seventeen miles south of his capital. And early in the week it was announced that a mine had been discovered beneath the palace in Tzarskoe Park. The Czar's plight is probably unhappier than that of any other monarch in Europe.

In ordinary times the Salisbury ministry in England would be considered on the verge of dissolution. Its majority in the House of Commons is restive and insolent. The Unionist members make no secret of their impatience with the leadership of the Conservatives. The ministry is confronted with the necessity of imposing new burdens of taxation to meet the enormous and constantly increasing expense of the war in South Africa. Lord Salisbury seems to be playing with what have long been regarded as British interests in the far East. Balfour has exhibited a lamentable lack of knowledge of the diplomatic negotiations with other powers, and unable to answer simple questions in the House of Commons, even at a moment when his colleague is discussing them frankly in the House of Lords.

THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION AT BUFFALO.

Copyright 1900 by Gen. E. Matthews & Co.

HEART OF THE EXPOSITION.

THE Pan-American Exposition is the first great public event of the Twentieth Century. Its dominant purpose is to illustrate progress during the century just closed and lay a strong and enduring foundation for international, commercial and social unity in the New World. In several respects the Exposition outrivals all former enterprises of its character. The most important of these are the artistic color decorations of the buildings, the electrical effects, the original sculpture, the hydraulic and fountain effects, the horticultural and floral effects, and the court settings.

The electrical display will be the most complete ever made, the nearness to the Exposition grounds of the great plants which have harnessed Niagara and put its tremendous power to commercial use, making this possible. A Steel Electric Tower, an Electric Fountain and the Court of Fountains furnish opportunities for extraordinary outdoor displays of electrical wonders. About half a million incandescent lamps and one hundred searchlights are used in the illumination.

The decorative lighting of the buildings takes advantage of the many handsome designs in staff and brings them out with translucent effects or outlined with points of light. Advantage is also taken of the numerous towers, turrets and domes to produce a starry effect.

Sculpture is used in the adornment of the Court of Fountains, the Triumphal Bridge, the Esplanade, the Plaza, the Electric Tower, the Bridge of the Three Americas, entrances to buildings, and in many other ways, there being upward of 125 original groups of statuary, by Karl Bitter and other sculptors of world repute. Over 500 pieces are used. The plastic ornamentation of the buildings is very intricate and beautiful. All the buildings are covered with staff, which is moulded into thousands of beautiful and fanciful shapes. The display of original sculpture is the most magnificent ever used for decorative purposes at any exposition. Never before at any exposition has an effort succeeded to produce a harmonious color scheme. All of the great buildings are decorated in harmonious tints, and the effect is very beautiful.

The centerpiece of the Exposition is an Electric Tower 409 feet high, upon and about which will be an electrical display surpassing any ever yet attempted. More than 40,000 lamps and a searchlight with a 30-inch projector, capable of casting rays for a distance of fifty miles, will be used in the illumination of this tower.

There are more than thirty-three acres of beautiful courts. There are in all the courts large pools of water into which hundreds of fountains will throw their sparkling streams. Never before has such a work been undertaken upon so grand a scale.

The united efforts of the builders of the Exposition have produced a harmonious, artistic and brilliant ensemble, and the Exposition presents a most beautiful spectacle.

In all the exhibit divisions the Pan-American Exposition will be very complete. It is the aim of the Exposition to show the progress of the Nineteenth Century in the Western World. The exhibits will be gathered from all the principal States and countries of the Western Hemisphere and the new island possessions of the United States government. Special efforts are being made to bring together exhibits of exceptional novelty and of the highest educational value.

The Exposition grounds are in the northern part of Buffalo, adjacent to the large and beautiful Delaware Park. They are about one mile in length from north to south, and half a mile wide. There are 350 acres, including 133 acres of improved park lands and lakes. A pleasing first impression is sure to be obtained by the visitor, no matter by which way he enters the Exposition grounds. The situation of the grounds and the manner in which they have been laid out, render possible the attainment of this end.

The gates open on May 1st, and the Exposition will continue six months. It is estimated that the total cost of the Exposition, exclusive of exhibits, but including the Midway, will be about $10,000,000.

PAID TO KEEP A SECRET.

Louisville Artisan Receives $2,000 a Year on a Five-Year Contract.

Aloysius Massman, a Louisville artisan, formerly a resident of Cincinnati, is a party to one of the most novel contracts on record. Without a stroke of work he receives $2,000 annually from six of the largest enameling firms in the country. The only condition of his agreement, which has been in effect since 1898 and runs five years, is that he keep secret the formula of the bathtub enamel his father, Lewis Massman, discovered thirty-five years ago. Massman worked for one of the Louisville firms which is now paying him to do nothing, but a quarrel, resulting from an attempt to steal the jealously guarded secret, resulted in his resigning his place, and, to prevent competition, the arrangement was made with him.

RUSSIA MAY FIGHT.

SEEMS ONLY WAY SHE CAN GET CONCESSION.

China Rejects Terms of Manchurian Convention—Japan Had Determined on War, but Conditions Switch Around, and Now It Is Russia's Turn.

Russia has been checkmated in its own favorite game of diplomacy. China has toyed with the Czar's representatives about the Manchurian convention so long that diplomats had made their minds up that a bluff was being worked and Russia had the situation well in hand. So firmly had this idea found root that England had practically retired from the field disgruntled and resentful, fully satisfied that Russia would have a clear sweep in its demand on China.

The news that the Manchurian convention has not been signed upsets all that. It now seems plain China has played a waiting game and had Russia's moral support when the other powers were menacing her fiercely on the indemnity question. Now that the indemnity situation is to all intents and purposes disposed of, China boldly announces that Russia can have no concessions.

A London correspondent asserts that there can be only one result to this pronouncement. Russia cannot back down. China dare not recede. Japan is determined to fight for its own rights, which the Manchurian convention seriously menaced. Therefore Russia will have to force China to yield and that will mean Japanese intervention and war.

History of the Trouble.

It was early in November that unconfirmed stories were afloat concerning the conclusion of a secret treaty between Russia and China. The first reports emanated from Paris, and later the same statements regarding the occupation of Manchuria by the Russians came from Odessa. Immediately on the Manchurian convention becoming known, the Japanese government regarded the act of Russia with suspicion and orders were given for the Japanese navy to hasten eastward. Still this government felt that it was powerless beyond making an emphatic protest against the secret agreement.

Then as the different powers realized that China and Russia were acting together vigorous protests were made against the accession of the Manchurian province without consultation of all the powers. To this Russia made answer that it claimed the right to negotiate with any other power it chose without consultation or notification to any other government. This reply was supposed to have been directed against England in particular, as that country claimed to have possessions along the line of the railway.

The terms of the proposed Russian-Chinese convention still remain secret, though it is known that a number of modifications have been made to the original treaty. The first of these declares that Kinchow and Port Arthur shall not be annexed, but, as at present, leased from the Chinese government. The second modification is that Russia will not insist upon a Russian resident at Houliden. In the third clause it is stated that the Chinese army will be permitted to maintain order in Manchuria prior to the completion of the railway, which it is declared will not require Russian protection during construction. The final modification declares that Russia will forego her demand that mining and railway concessions in Mongolia, Turkestan and Kashgaria shall be granted to none but Russian subjects.

EASTER AT GUGGINS' GULCH.

FROM Fort X. to Willow Creek was fifteen miles; so said the map at the adjutant's. From Willow Creek to Guggins' Gulch was twenty miles, as the crow flies. At one end of the line were gay women and gallant men, soft speech and gentle courtesies of well-bred people. Brightness and beauty moved to the strains of military music and the jingle of accoutrements. Easter was near at hand and great preparations were being made for the post-Lenten hop. At the other end of the trail, the further end, up in the mountains, an outcast was lying.

Alone? She might better have been, her sister at the fort would have said. She was no Trilby, but simply Meg, whom some one had called, in derision, "The Angel." Poor Meg, who had known no companionship better than that of the rough men who had given her shelter and such care as they could when she needed it.

The cabin at Guggins' had two rooms. There was the common quarters of the men and near at hand a poor makeshift of a chamber for the sick girl. It had a chimney of its own and a fire in it, though the weather was getting warmer.

Though the boys worked hard all day at the claim, Mike found a chance to run over now and then just to see that Meg was all right. Dummy had no gift of language. Sometimes he stirred the fire, added a fresh log and brought the broken-nosed pitcher with water to the bedside without a word, then hurried back to the diggings. But somehow he did those things in a way that expressed devotion.

Dummy Mike idolized Meg. Strange, was it not? That sick girl, who had no other virtue than that she was thankful for kindness shown her and patient under the pain that racked her, was a heroine to Mike. He was hungry for some one to worship and so he worshipped Meg.

To make it more cheerful and home-like, when evening came the boys gathered in the "boodere," as Diggs called her room. They dried their wet boots at her fire and filled the air with unutterable fumes of tobacco and told her every night, with cheerful mendacity, that she was "pickin' up." Dummy could not pay her compliments, as his companions did, to keep her spirits up, but he shifted her pillows when she was feverish and saved the choicest of their coarse fare as tidbits for her and remembered little things that the others forgot—things that a woman recollects.

"Easter will be here in two days, boys." The "boys" turned around in amazement. Was Meg's mind wandering?

Master. Why, they hardly knew when Sunday came and never observed it, except, perhaps, by lying abed a little longer in the morning and giving the trying pan an extra load of responsibility.

"I wish I could hear some music just once more and see some flowers."

Very common clay was Meg. A woman from whom other women had been wont to draw aside their skirts; yet by one of those strange contradictions that make even our own selves enigmas to us she loved music, loved flowers, and pined for them in that rude camp.

"What's up, Meg?" asked Jimmy. "What put Easter into your head?"

She held up an almanac, sole literary treasure of the cabin. It had been packed over with supplies from the station.

"I see it's the day after to-morrow, and I thought—I thought I'd like to hear some music and see some flowers once more before—before—" She turned her face to the wall and the "boys" pulled viciously at their pipes. Jimmy presently got up, not looking at the others nor at Meg, who was shaking a little under the old blue blanket that covered her, and stumped out of the room, with his face twitching. Mike crossed over and sat down on the edge of the bunk, smoothing the girl's hair and not saying a word.

After a little while she controlled herself and made a pitiful attempt to smile. "I guess I'm jest a fool," she said. "I been dreamin' about them lilies. You wouldn't believe it, Mike, but I used to help fix 'em in the church when I was a kid." Then after a moment she added, "I don't suppose I will ever see one again. That's what kinder broke me up."

When the boys turned in Mike made Meg comfortable for the night, but in the morning it was Diggs who built the fire and brought her breakfast. He explained that Dummy had gone down the gulch prospecting for bear.

The bears were safe enough, however, from the "silent partner," for when morning dawned he had reached Willow Creek, where he exchanged his wornout burro for a claybank horse of Royston's and pushed on, after a snatch of breakfast, for the fort.

Royston called out after him to keep his eye open for Indians. It was laughingly said, and Dummy waved his hand in reply.

Claybank, tough and tireless, struck the old trail to the fort at a jog which promised to be perpetual. His rider was preoccupied, thinking rather about the end of the journey than the incidents of the way, or he might have noticed a spy on his movements; one who lay on the ground when he passed, daubed over with clay and so covered with the sage brush that there was hardly anything but his wild black eyes to tell that he was human.

As Mike disappeared on one side the redskin rose, shook off his disguise and gave a grunt of satisfaction, as he moved swiftly in an opposite direction.

There was one man less at the gulch; one horse less at Royston's.

Four hours later Mike dismounted at the post. The post-rider knew him well, having sold him many a pound of tobacco with more prosaic stores of bacon and corn. But he grinned and looked at Mike as though he had heard a great joke when the latter stammered his commission.

"'Fraid them ain't in my line, Dummy."

"What's the matter with gettin' them at the fort. I'd do it myself if I had your pull."

Mike pulled out a bag of "dust" and held it before the other.

"I reckon my pile is big enough to make it worth your while."

Simpson said "All right," and went out. In half an hour he had returned with a package that he transferred to Mike for the dust. Ten minutes later Mike had turned Claybank up the trail toward Willow Creek. The trail ran through the valley. From Royston's to the fort there was a clear view with a glass.

The sun was well down the west when Claybank jogged into Royston's. Mike shouted, but, hearing no answer, dismounted and turned toward the hut. There was blood on the ground and a man's hat lay near a place where moccasined feet had trampled the ground. Dashing to the door he found Royston in his own room, dead, and mutilated in a manner too horrible to describe.

In a moment he saw the whole truth. The savages had refrained from firing the cabin because it was in view from the fort. Smoke would draw a troop down on them. He knew, too, that he must have been noticed and that the trail to the camp was well guarded. Had they attacked the camp? His heart stood still as he asked the question.

Great heaven! how could he warn them and signal the fort for aid? Mike could think faster than he could talk. In five minutes he had a fire blazing under the hut—a fire that sent up a black cloud of smoke. He knew that he had not done this thing unseen, and must not linger. He threw himself on Claybank and lashed the tired and frightened beast up the trail for twenty rods. He then suddenly dismounted at the crest behind the willows, and, giving the horse a parting thwack, plunged on foot into the undergrowth.

Sounds carry far in that air. Diggs said that he heard shots in the distance, but night closed in and no one came. At 10 o'clock, however, Jimmy, who was watching, heard some one approach, breathing heavily. He cocked his rifle, but the sound brought a quick response: "Don't shoot; it's me—Mike!"

They unbarred the door with all the speed they could and Mike staggered across the door sill. Quickly he was drawn inside the cabin and the door barred.

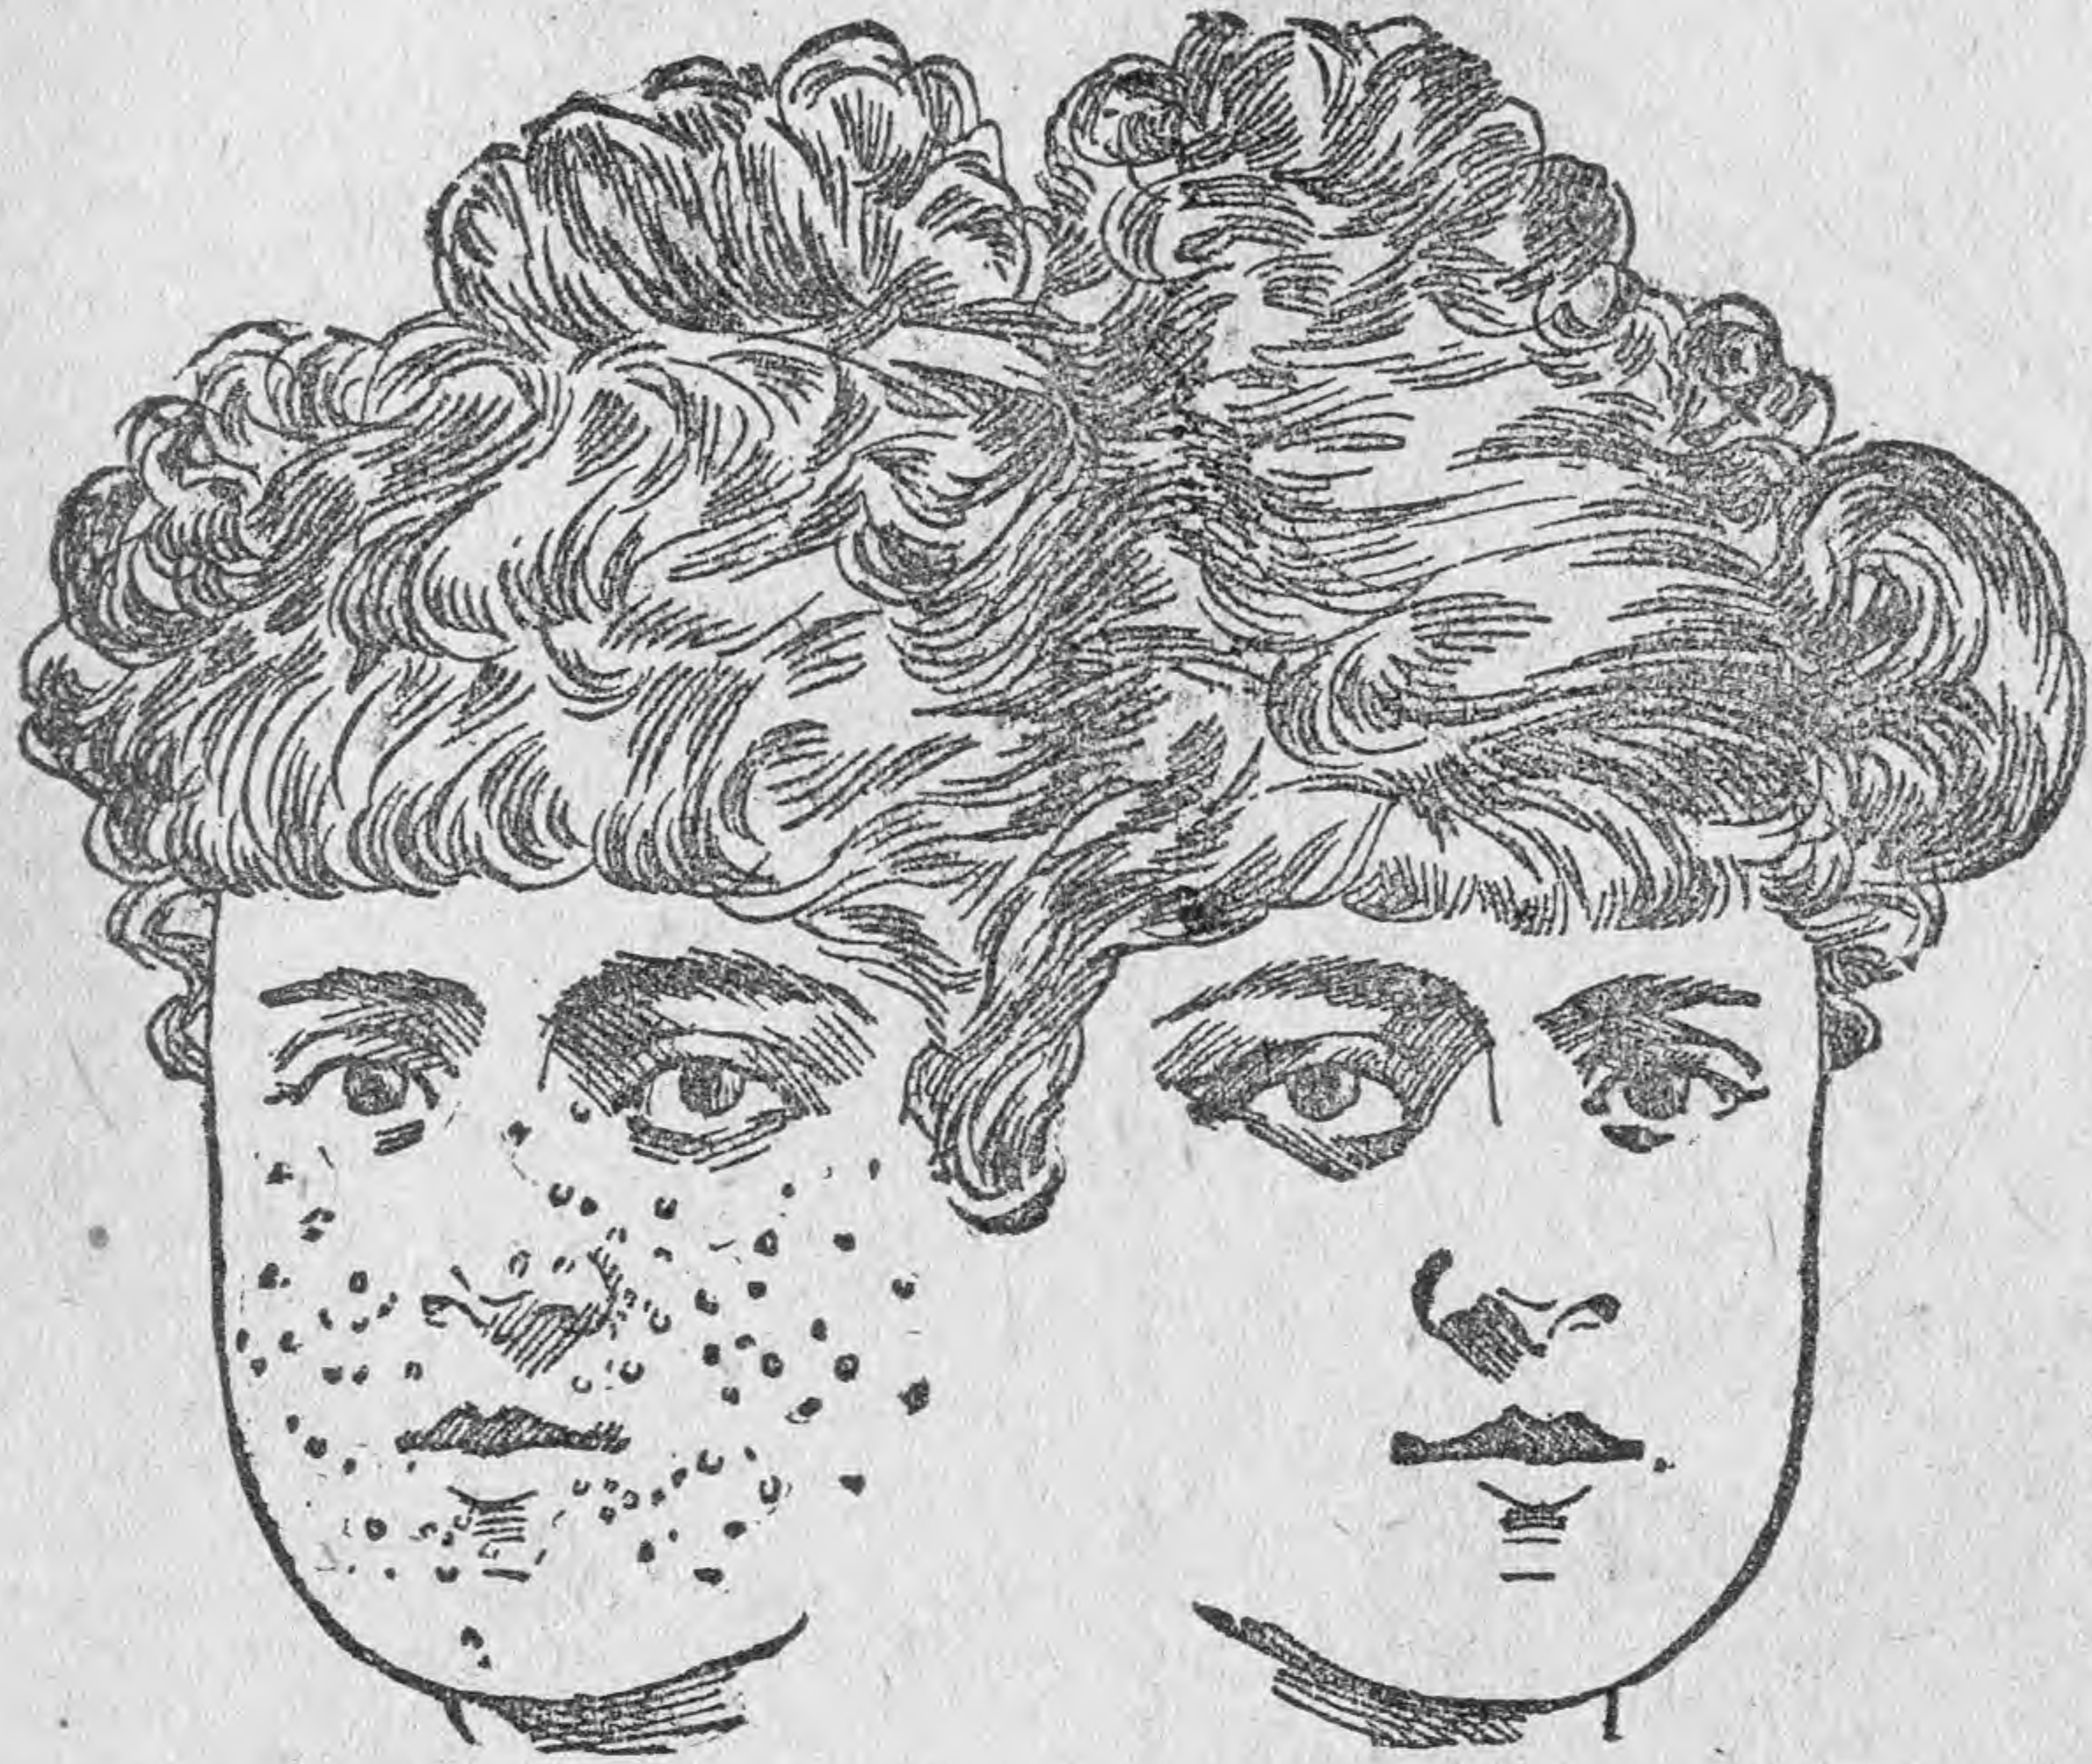

"Indians?"

He nodded, too weak to make an effort to speak at first, then rallying all his strength, he said: "Don't tell Meg," and fainted. After caring for him and putting him in his bunk Diggs picked up a package which lay where he had fallen and an oath that was not profane burst from his lips.

The wrapper was sprinkled with blood, but inside, pure and white and fragrant, lay a bunch of Easter lilies—lilies that Mike had risked his life to get for the girl who was only an outcast.

Waste in Cities.

Not long ago a young man was arrested in a Southern city while trying to dispose of a miscellaneous lot of silver tablespoons, teaspoons, forks, oyster forks and knives. His story that he had found the silverware at different times on a dump was not believed, and he was locked up for about two weeks while the police endeavored to find an owner for the property, which they conjectured the young man had stolen. It was afterward ascertained that his account was perfectly correct.

The central authority can reject an egg several days old. The eggs are tested and sorted according to their size by an automatic machine.—London Globe.

AMONG THE RAILWAYS.

Rock Island Will Run Cheap Excursions to Colorado.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway, which made a phenomenal success of cheap excursion rates to Colorado last season, has again asked its competitors in the Western and Southwestern Passenger associations to agree upon a series of cheap excursions to and from Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo for the approaching season, on the following basis: Tickets to be sold from Chicago and all territory up to Missouri river, June 18, 25, July 16, 23 and 30, Aug. 6, 13, 20 and 27, at rate of one fare plus $2, or $31.50 for the round trip.

On July 2 and 9 and Sept. 3 and 10 a rate of $25 is to be made from Chicago, and $15 from Missouri river points for the round trip. Intermediate territory will have proportionate rates. Tickets are to be sold from Missouri river points one day later than the dates given above in each case. Proportionate rates will be made to and from Glenwood Springs, Salt Lake City and Ogden.

A series of east-bound excursions is also proposed, tickets to be sold from Colorado common points every Thursday, commencing with June 20 up to and including Sept. 12, at a rate of one fare plus $2 for the round trip. All tickets will be limited for return passage to Oct. 31. These rates will be tendered connecting lines for basing purposes, which will probably insure a very low basis of rates throughout the United States for these excursions.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific will unquestionably make these rates and arrangements effective, regardless of the action of its competitors, and will run special trains, only one night out to and from Colorado, on the dates named.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Pale Women!

A bloodless face indicates trouble. Watery blood a menace to health. We know how pale people can get rich blood. Come let us tell you about VINOL.

When blood is watery and thin, or, as doctors would say, lacks red blood corpuscles, it is a sign that much is radically wrong. We would advise everyone who has such symptoms to start at once to take a proper remedy to overcome this trouble. That remedy is VINOL, the greatest and most modern tonic and restorer. VINOL owes its virtues to the fact that it contains in a highly concentrated form the active principles extracted from Cod-Liver-Oil, the same elements that have made Cod Liver Oil famous for wasting diseases. Because we know so well and because we know so surely what it will do, and how it will accomplish the good it does in a scientific way, we unreservedly endorse and recommend it, and in every instance guarantee to refund to anyone what they pay us for VINOL if they do not find it entirely satisfactory.

Headache often results from a disordered condition of the stomach and constipation of the bowels. A dose or two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct these disorders and cure the headache. Sold by T. E. Slattery.

Rev. Newman preached his last sermon in this conference year to a packed house at the Evangelical church Sunday evening. The rev. gentleman preached a most eloquent and powerful sermon on the evil tendencies of the hour, and in the course of his remarks flayed without fear or favor those churches that gave entertainments for the purpose of securing money for carrying on church work, such as lotteries, suppers, concerts, etc., and read many passages of scriptures to back up his assertions. There is a probability that he will not return to Culver, which will be a calamity to the church unless his substitute is a man of equal activity in ministerial work.

How our heart goes out in sympathy for Hon. Daniel McDonald, who still persists in fighting the battles for a man who has twice been defeated for the presidency and who is considered by the great rank and file of democracy to be entirely out of the question as a presidential possibility, and who has as a last resort gone into the newspaper business in order to vilify his betters. We predict that the democratic readers of the HERALD do not cling to an idol which has proved its incompetency to lead them to victory, but will in the event of another campaign nominate a man with less fanatical ideas, one who can be accepted by the people, knowing that if elected to the highest office in the land, he will not jeopardize the whole interests of the country. As we have said before, Bryan is an intellectual man, but not more so than many others, hence we see no reason for my friends in the democratic ranks having any further use for him so long as they know by able demonstration that he is not "in it" when it comes to leading them to victory. Then when the able editor of the Democrat says that we promised to conduct a strictly neutral paper, he knows not whereof he speaks, as we made no such promises, but we did say we would make it non-political so far as national politics are concerned. In local elections we have, without receiving a dollar for our services, written of the good qualities of Democratic candidates as well as Republicans. But we never posed as a democrat, and everybody knows it. We recognize that every man has the same privilege that is accorded to us, viz., to vote as they please. We do not consider that we have insulted anyone, and do not intend to, but shall as in the past avoid dragging the HERALD into politics, the accusations of the Democrat to the contrary notwithstanding.

Made an Engine.

We saw a most phenomenal piece of mechanism Saturday evening at the Novelty Works, in the shape of a miniature engine, which was running with the regular precision of a locomotive. The work of making the engine was performed by Grover Filor, a boy 15 years of age, of this city, who has the distinction of being the first boy in the state who has accomplished such a wonderful feat. The engine is of the horizontal pattern and contains everything in its mechanical designs that can be found in any engine, with marked features of improvements. There is talk of sending it to the Pan-American exposition.

Twice Proven

From the Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C.

The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days which was relieved by two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. For sale by T. E. Slattery.

A Good Cough Medicine for Children.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says P. P. Moran, a well-known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by T. E. Slattery.
