KANSAS FARMER DUMPED INTO HOLE IN THE GROUND.

Supposedly Respectable Man, When Death Is Near, Confesses Many Crimes-Innocent Man Killed in Mistake for Burglar at Barberton, Ohio.

Facts have come to light in the case of Isaiah Hiatt which are causing considerable interest in Kingman and Pratt Counties, Kansas. Hiatt lived in Kingman County and Liberty Township, alternating back and forth between the two. He was a man of some means; was married and counted ordinarily respectable in the community in which he lived. A few days ago he fell ill, and his doctor informed him that he would soon die. He became frightened and made a confession of his past misdeeds. Among other things he confessed he was living under an assumed name. He said he had murdered his first wife in Kentucky; had killed a neighbor and hid the evidence of his crime, giving the name of the man and reciting the particulars. He also told of robberies, house breakings and numerous felonies and petty offenses. Soon after making his confession he died and the person narrating the circumstances said his neighbors were so horrorstricken that they refused to allow him a Christian burial, but instead chose a secluded spot on his farm, dug a hole and dumped him in without a single pang or regret.

NATION PLANS MODEL FARM.

Perfectly Appointed Institution Will

Be Maintained in Washington. A few years hence one of the great sights of the national capital will be a perfectly appointed farm of 400 acres, with buildings, orchards, truck gardens and grain fields of every kind. All the fruits and vegetables of the United States or other countries which experiment shall prove to be capable of cultivation in this climate will be seen there. Systems of drainage and, if necessary, irrigation, model fencing, the most perfect methods of gathering and storing grain, fruits and vegetables will be exhibited. In addition there will be a home place of six acres, where beautiful lawns, pretty shrubbery in artistic designs and suitable shade trees will give a lesson in the beautifying of dwellings and their surroundings in the country. To the agriculturists and horticulturists this model farm, which will be made and maintained by the department of agriculture, will offer an opportunity for study in every branch of their science. To the general public the farm will offer a beautiful sight. Preliminary work toward laying out this model farm has already been begun.

A Brother's Love.

Lostant, Ill., July 8.—James Watt, of this place, by one little act, has given a splendid example of that never dying love which exists between brothers, no matter how far apart they may be.

Mr. Watt was a great sufferer from Kidney Trouble and Nervousness. He was very much used up, and although he had tried a great many things, he had found nothing that would in any way relieve him. Some one suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills, and he used six boxes, and was completely cured.

His first thought was for a brother in Belfast, Ireland, whom he knew to be afflicted in the same way that he had been. Mr. Watt immediately sent a supply of Dodd's Kidney Pills to this far away brother, together with his recommendation based on his fortunate experience.

Landor, the poet, says in one of his sweet little sonnets: "We are suns, and winds, and waters make us;"
but unfortunately suns will scorch, winds will roughen, and waters will not remove the injurious effects of the other two upon the lovely complexion of the fairer sex. For ages chemists have tried to distil from herbs and minerals an elixir of beauty, but they have failed, and it was left to modern times to find a cosmetic which should remove every speck and blemish, and leave a soft and pearly loveliness upon the roughest skin. Gouraud's Oriental Cream does this, and while so perfectly harmless that spring water is not more so, it has a magic influence upon the complexion which cannot be over estimated or believed until realized. OKLAHOMA INDIAN LANDS BE OPENED AUGUST 6.

President's Proclamation Names the Day and Prescribes the Manner of Allotment of the Homesteads-Indians Ask an Injunction.

The proclamation of President McKinley opening to settlement the lands ceded by Indians in the territory of Oklahoma has been given to the public. The proclamation covers the cessions made by the Wichita and affiliated bands of Indians in accordance with the act of March 2, 1895, and those made by the Comanche, Kiowa, and Apache tribes in pursuance of the act of June 6, 1900.

The proclamation provides for the opening of the lands in these reservations which are not reserved at 9 o'clock a. m. on Aug. 6 next, the lands to be open to settlement under the homestead and townsite laws of the United States. The proclamation says that those who wish to make entry of land under the homestead law shall be registered. The registration will take place at the land offices at Reno and Lawton. The registration at each office will be for both land districts. To obtain registration the applicant will be required to show himself duly qualified to make homestead entry of these lands under existing laws and to give the registering officer such appropriate matters of description and identity as will protect the applicant and the government against any attempted fluenced solely in this action by what week grain has ripened rapidly and harimpersonation.

Wants to Wear the Senatorial Mantle of William E. Mason. Comptroller of the Currency Dawes HAVE NOT SUFFERED INJURY has entered his resignation to the President to take effect Oct. 1. Dawes resigns his office in order to enter the Illinois Senatorial contest this fall.

In answer to inquiry Mr. Dawes said: "I have resigned because of my intention to be a candidate before the people of Illinois for the United States Senate. LANDS TO BE OPENED AUGUST 6.

It is explicitly stated that "no one will be permitted to make settlement upon any of the lands in advance of the opening provided for," and the statement is added that "Guring the first sixty days following said opening no one but registered applicants will be permitted to make homestead settlement upon any of said lands, and then only in pursuance of a homestead entry duly allowed by the local land officers or of a soldier's declaratory statement duly accepted by such officers."

The opening up of the new country will necessitate the creation of two new land districts, and three new counties, and they have been established by proclamation of the President, and a force of thirty clerks left Washington to conduct the business pertaining to the opening. The land office for the first districts is to be located at El Reno, in Oklahoma County, and the second at the new town of Lawton, named for the late Gen. Lawton, and located on the site of Old Fort Sill.

The new counties created are named, respectively, Caddo, with Anadarko as county seat; Comanche, with Lawton as county seat, and Kiowa, with Hobart as county seat. A portion of the new lands is added to counties already established.

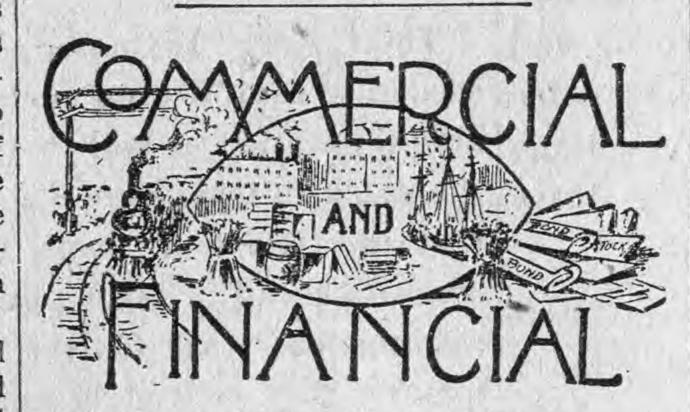

The President has also issued a proclamation designating the Wichita mountains in the heart of the old Kiowa reservation as a forest reserve. The lands thus reserved cover an area of 58,000 acres, and are covered with timber and undergrowth.

FROM HOT WEATHER.

Ohio Valley and Gulf States Are in Need of Rain-Wheat Harvest Nearly Over in Kansas and Missouri-Corn Makes Good Growth.

According to the climate and crop division of the weather bureau, in the districts east of the Rocky Mountains, the week has been intensely hot, with desiccating winds in Texas and the States of the lower Missouri valley and middle Rocky Mountain slope. East of the Mississippi River the excessive heat has so far caused no serious injury, but in portions of the Ohio valley, Tennessee, and the Central and Gulf States rain is much needed. In the central and north plateau districts and on the Pacic coast the week has been abnormally cool, with light frosts in exposed places in Idaho and Utah. Abundant rains fell from Central Montana eastward to the upper lake region, and over portions of the Ohio valley and local areas in the South Atlantic and Gulf States.

Corn has made good growth in the principal corn States, but is suffering for rain in Missouri and Kansas. In the Ohio valley and middle Atlantic States, however, corn is backward and in the upper Ohio valley is suffering from lack of cultivation. In the Gentral and West Gulf States, including Arkansas, the crop has been seriously injured by drought.

FOURTH OF JULY ACCIDENTS.

Explosives and Deadly Firearms Gather a Grim List of Celebrants. Fourth of July casualties, as shown by reports received on the 5th, were nineteen killed and 1,611 injured. Chicago had a greater list of injured than last year. Philadelphia led in the East. Fire loss, $60,790. The number actually killed is less than last year, being 19 against 30 then, but the number of injured is considerably larger, the figures being 1,611, against' 1,325. The real list of fatalities will, however, not be known until the number of deaths resulting from lockjaw caused by toy pistol wounds come in.

Last year in Chicago there were no deaths reported on July 5 from toy pistols, but before the month was out twenty-five children had died from the resulting lockjaw and the remainder of the country sent in equally fatal records. Chicago, in spite of the orders of the Mayor and police as to the manner in which the day was to be celebrated, made a worse showing than last year. Then it had one death and forty two injured. This time no death is reported, but there is a list of 103 injured.

Of other cities Philadelphia makes the largest showing. It reports 175 casualties of every kind and description and Cincinnati comes next with 150. New York was singularly lucky, being behind Chicago in the list of injured, but it had three deaths resulting from an explosion of fireworks, and New London had a premature explosion of a cannon by which two more were killed.

In Quincy, Ill., there was also a fatality from a runaway caused by horses becoming frightened at fireworks, and there were a number of injuries in various cities growing out of the same cause.

In the list of fatalities, explosions of fireworks and the careless handling of firearms caused the majority of the deaths, but over one-third of the injuries were caused by the careless use of fireworks, more especially sky rockets. In several cases severe injuries were caused by these rockets being directed into crowds, instead of the air, and in one case two persons were killed thereby. Next to the fireworks comes the toy pistol in the casualty list. Two hundred and forty-nine children were injured, and the question now is what will the fatality list from this source finally amount to.

The other causes of injuries divided the honors fairly well between them except that the most serious harm was done by the premature explosion of cannon in the hands of people who were not accusmeans. A lamentable case occurred in a small town in South Dakota, where a boy was instantly killed by the explosion of an anvil which was being used in lieu of a cannon.

The loss by fire resulting from the careless use of fireworks or their premature explosion was less than in previous years, the fires as a rule being small ones and the damage light. In the entire country it amounted to but a little over $60,000. The list of those killed and injured is summed up in the following:

THE DEAD. By cannon explosion..... By fireworks By firearms By toy pistol By runaway caused by explosions: Total19 THE INJURED. By fireworks 698 By firearms 206 By toy pistols 249 By gunpowder 19t By runaways..... 23 Fire loss$60,790

EXPRESS CAR LOOTED.

Great Northern Flyer Held Up by Masked Men Who Get $70,000.

The Great Northern flyer was held up three miles east of Wagner, Mont., Wednesday afternoon by three bold robbers and the brakeman and two passengers were wounded by bullets. The robbers wrecked the safe in the express car, secured all the money and valuable papers it contained and escaped on horses. The booty secured is said to have been more than $70,000. Immediately armed posses were organized and started in pursuit of the robbers. A reward of $5,000 was offered for their capture, dead or

The robbery, committed in broad daylight, was one of the boldest that has ever occurred in the West. One of the robbers boarded the "blind baggage" car at Hinsdale, a station about twenty miles east of Wagner. He appeared to be a common "hobo," but when the conductor oats improved; potatoes in fine condition; discovered him at a stop almost immediately afterward, he drew a heavy Colt's revolver and ordered him to return to the rear of the train on penalty of instant death. The "hobo" then climbed over the locomotive tender, and at the badly lodged in some sections by high winds | point of his revolver compelled the engineer and fireman to stop the train at a ravine a few miles east of Wagner, where his confederates, two in number, both masked, lay in wait. The fireman and engineer were compelled to abandon Iowa-Unseasonably warm with high | the engine, and firing began on both sides

To wreck the door of the express car most from effects of hot winds; corn making | with dynamite, with which both the confederates that appeared from the ravine were liberally supplied, was the work of an instant. The express messenger was compelled to leave the car at the point of a rifle and the through safe was immediately dynamited. The first charge did not break it open and four others in quick succession were necessary before it was forced. The robbers hurriedly gathered in its contents; consisting of specie shipments, drafts, coin, and valuable negotiable paper and retreated, keeping the

All three disappeared in the ravine and were seen later mounted on horses, heading southward at a furious gait, the booty being plainly visible in a sack rider on one of the horses.

the number of near-gathering which is attended with more enthusiasm.

After the business sessions of Saturday and the evangelist and other mass meetings of Sunday, the regular programs of the convention of the Christian Endeavor were begun Monday. Several of the largest churches in the central part of the city were used in addition to Odeon Hall, and the three large auditoriums heretofore used for exposition purposes.

No event of the year has greater significance in the religious world than the annual convention of this society. Certainly no religious movement of modern times has so thoroughly enlisted the sympathy of those who, while having no denominational affiliations, recognize the ethical power and uplifting influence of Christianity. There are many reasons for this. Chief among them, no doubt, is the undenominational character of the organization. Its membership now embraces forty denominations of the evangelical church, reaching into all lands where Christianity has an organized following. Some idea of the phenomenal growth of the organization may be gainel from the fact that it now has 61,427 societies with a total membership of nearly four million, while in 1891 at the close of the first decade of Christian Endeavor there were only 16,274 societies with a membership of a million. Nothing comparable to this growth can be found in the history of religious movements.

This great social-religious movement was started in Portland, Me., twenty years ago. The Rev. Francis E. Clark, then a young Congregational paster in that city, was its originator, as Robert Raikes had been of the new Sunday school movement in Gloucester, England, just one hundred years before, and as Mr. George Williams, in London, was of the Young Men's Christian Association just fifty years ago. Each one of these three distinct forms of religious association and organized effort for children and young people came into being not because of any theory, but to meet what were felt to be the necessities of a condition. In neither case did the new organization have any kind of ecclesiastical origin. No form of popular evolution in its inception could have been more spontaneous, simpler, or less ostentations.

It is a remarkable fact that over against the multiplication of sectarian independences and differing denominations in modern times there have sprung into power three great unsectarian and interdenominational forms of Christian association, which are making so irresistibly for a new fellowship of the freest and broadest character.

The better element in the modern phenomenal development of vast commercial and industrial combinations had already been anticipated in these young people's Christian associations and societies. One year ago the international Christian Endeavor convention was held in London. Exeter Hall, Albert Hall, and Alexandra palace were scarcely able to accommodate the large assemblies.

There were officially reported 59,172 different societies, with a total membership of 3,500,000. Of these societies 43,-262 were in the United States; in Enland, 7,000; Australia, 4,000; India, 439; China, 148; Japan, 73; Africa, 69; Germany, 168; Madagascar, 93; Turkey, 60. Besides these nearly four millions of the so-called Christian Endeavorers were in fellowship with the United C. E. Society.

Worthy of note is the spontaneity and freedom which characterize this immense organization. Nothing could be more democratic. The great conventions do not enact a particle of legislation; do not even adopt resolutions. The utterances, the discussions, the demonstrations go for what they are worth. The organizing principles of the society are clearly enough defined, and these are left to make their own headway.

The United Society, of which Dr. Francis E. Clark is still the head, neither assumes nor exercises any authority over the local societies. It gathers statistics, gives information, publishes a newspaper, and in these and other ways keeps alive the sense of universal fellowship. It manages and provides for the great annual conventions, and thus undoubtedly exerts an influence to prepare the younger men and women in all the churches for the larger and yet the closer federation which the new times are demanding. After this the international conventions of the society are to be held only once in two years.

The disadvantage of the arrangement accrued parties have rarely done more than find had risen and gone on nearly another to Bratton. It left Gannon's gun-arm the remains, and have often failed even hundred yards and fallen again, then free, while in case of argument Bratton again struggled on, until at last he was would have to use his left gun. But 'Big Divide Jim' wasn't selfish.

"The population of La Junta was amazed to see 'Big Divide Jim' Bratton and George Gannon, who had always and who had had a quarrel on the night each other like cats. At the end of the street Bratton, still with his right arm linked to Gannon's left, stopped suddenly and said:

"George, I ain't much on the blow about any gun-suddenness that I may possess, but I sure want to give you a chance. You thrung it into me last night in a way that's eat up so much of the atmosphere around here that there's not enough air left in their neighborhood for both of us to breathe at one and the same time. I'm a-goin' to count three, and when I say "three," it's a breakaway and a finish. You've got a loose right arm, but I ain't no hog. One-twothree!

"The event proved 'Big Divide Jim' Bratton the quicker man and the better marksman. He got Gannon through the heart, whereas Gannon's ball lodged in Britton's right wrist. Bratton had to suffer his right hand to be cut off that same night.

"The last time I saw him was about seven years ago in Creede. He was sitting on the edge of a bunk in his own cabin, close to a claim he was workin'. I hadn't seen him since he'd lost his

"'Jim,' said I, 'it's too bad you should have lost that right hand. If the fellow that plugged you had only gotten the left hand, why---'

"'Oh, I don't know,' said Bratton, philosophically. 'If I'd ha' lost my left I wouldn't have been able to play the fiddle any more.'

"He reached under his bunk and brought forth an old violin. Then he rigged up an attachment he had for holding the bow in his right stump, and he played the instrument real sweetly for me for half an hour or so.

"'Y couldn't have done no fingerin' if I'd ha' lost my left hook, you know,' he said, simply, when he put the old fiddle away."-Washington Post.

THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

It Furnishes Many Examples of the Importance of Small Things.

"I have been very much impressed the searching party came, there he still badly in need of it. His tongue soon man, "and the Mississippi river has but with no sign of past struggling, and blood thirst is still far away, he will go ples. I can understand now why Caemust have been the condition of the Had the Breedlove party, from the hour curious amazement, and offered all ground around young Fish showed no meal-times, they would all have reached that wonderful river. But the antics of the Nile look like insignificant nothings to me when compared with the strange conduct of the stream that oozes out of the earth at Itasca and hurries on its murky and devious way toward the Gulf of Mexico. Towns along the Mississippi that once stood right on the brink of the river have been isolated even in my day, and there are, too, all along the course of the stream little empires in view where the river has encroached upon small centers of population, finally eating the earth away and forcing the inhabitants to seek other quarters. There are hundreds of these places that are almost forgotten now even by the men who are constantly on the river.

What brings about these violent changes along the banks of the river: Not floods. It is just the ordinary doings of the stream. In the first place the current of the Mississippi is wonderfully swift, and the sediment deposited at any point where resistance to the flow is offered is very great. Tie a string to the neck of a bottle and sink it with the mouth of the bottle up and open.

"If held in one place where the flow is normal in an extremely short period of time the bottle will fill with sediment. Stretch a net across the river, a net so finely woven that nothing but the pure water of the river can pass | Church at Huntingburg was struck by through, and, on account of the rapidity of the flow and the greatness of the deposit of sediment, almost in a twinkling the river would be dammed at that point. Experts have admitted this. This brings me to the point of my narrative.

"The flow of currents is frequently interfered with by sunken boats, perhaps by a jackstaff sticking up above the surface. The current is diverted by degrees, generally touching the far side of the stream a mile from the point where it again meets resistance, and immediately begins the building of a sandbar. I have seen a thousand examples of this sort during my career on the river, and I have known of instances where the root of a tree or the mere twig of a willow have brought about similar conditions. These things have tended to make a riddle out of the river; yet the stream after a while will be handled so as to undo all that it has accomplished in this way."-New Orleans Times-Democrat.

KITCHENER CAN UNBEND.

The British Commander Not Always the Stern Soldier.

Most stories represent Lord Kitchener in a somewhat stern light. Here is one which shows that even the modern "man of blood and iron" can unbend. RECORD OF THE WEEK

INDIANA INCIDENTS TERSELY TOLD.

Death Terminates a Visit-Someone in Flora Has Queer Idea of Fun-Two Farmers Killed by Limited Train-Lightning Strikes Four Men.

Mrs. James Conn the other day stepped from the train in London, where she contemplated making a visit to her sister, Mrs. John Vernon. The sisters twenty-five years ago were separated and have not seen each other since. Recently Mrs. Conn, who lives in Missouri, learned the whereabouts of her long lost sister and at once started for Indiana to meet her. Mrs. Conn was much excted over the glad tidings, and, filled with the joy of meeting her sister, she rushed into ner home and surprised her. In ten minutes after she reached her sister's home she died.

Explodes Dynamite for a Joke. Unknown miscreants exploded a large amount of dynamite in front of the residence of Augustus Doty, a Flora farmer, at midnight the other night. The residence was badly damaged and Mrs. Doty is dangerously ill as a result of the shock. It is explained that the dynamite was exploded for a joke, but there is great indignation over the affair and a reward has been offered for the perpetrators.

Killed by Lake Shore Train.

Lee Hines and Isaac Tryon were struck by the west-bound train while driving across the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern tracks, four miles west of Waterloo, and instantly killed. The carriage was splintered, but the horse escaped unhurt. Both men were prominent farmers.

Severe Damage by Storm. A severe storm passed over Duboise and Pike Counties. St. Mary's Catholic lightning and destroyed. It was valued at $50,000. At Velpin ten buildings were unroofed and one store. The storm did great damage to crops and fences.

Four Killed by Lightning. Frank Bridgewater, Anderson Webster, John Wiggle and Samuel Stewart, all farmers, were killed by a bolt of lightning while assisting in the work on the farm of J. C. Albert, near Lodi.

Box 16.). Mechanic Falls, Maine. NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

"For two years I suffered from nervous prostration, the result of female weakness. I had leucorrhoea very badly, and at time of menstruation would be obliged to go to bed. Also suffered with headaches, pain across back, and in lower part of abdomen. I was so discouraged. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and concluded to give it a trial. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham, and received a very nice letter in return. I began at once the use of her Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and am now feeling splendid. I have no more pain at monthly periods, can do my own work, and have gained ten pounds. I would not be without your Vegetable Compound. It is a splendid medicine. I wa very thankful for what it has done for me. "- Mrs. J. W. J., 76 Carolina Ave., Jamaica Plain, Mass.

cannot describe. I was treated by one of our most prominent'physicians here for five months, and found myself getting worse instead of better. At the end of the fifth month he told me he had done all he could for me, and that I had better go to the hospital.

"My sister advised me to try your Vegetable Compound, as it cured her of backache. I did so, and took it faithfully, and am now cured of my trouble, and in perfect health, many thanks to your medicine. I cannot praise it enough, and would recommend it to all who suffer from any female weakness." - Mrs. H. S. BALL, 461 Orchard St., New Haven, Conn.

TAFT SWORN IN.

New Executive of the Phillippine Islands Tokes Oath.

Gov. William H. Taft was inaugurated at Manila on July 4, the first civil Governor of the Philippines under the dominion of the United States.

In his inaugural address Gov. Taft said he would create four executive departments, as follows: Interior, under Commissioner Worcester, Commerce and Police, under Commissioner Wright; Justice and Finance, under Commissioner Ide: Public Instruction, under Commissioner Moses.

Gov. Taft also announced that in September he would add to the Philippine commission Senores Prado Tavera, Bonito Legorda, and Jose Lugariaga.

The streets of Manila were covered for miles with flags, and bunting, and pictures of President McKinley, General MacArthur, Civil Governor Taft, Admiral Dewey and General Otis. The demonstration was apparently a spontaneous one on the part of the citizens of all nationalities. The entire week has been devoted to balls, receptions, and other entertainments in connection with the the establishment of a civil government.

Meantime all the departments are working as hard as possible to close up the business of the military administration and to transfer the offices and official residences. The final session of the Philippine commission ended on the night of the Fourth,

Gov. Tatt, in his address, said that the civil administration will begin with a treasury surplus of $4,000,000 in gold.
