Girl Found Dead

With Hands at her Throat

Fate of Eartford City, Indiana, Young an Orchard.

With her hands clasped at her throat, as if to protect it, Bessie Decker was found lying dead early Sunday morning in an orchard near her home at Hartford City, Ind. When her mother and the rest of the family retired Saturday night the girl was playing the organ and singing hymns softly to herself. Earlier in the evening farmer, was hung by the neck until she had been reading her bible. In the nighing her brother left the house early to do some work he was compelled to do on Sunday. As he crossed the orchard back of the house he stumbled in the half light girl with whom he had formed a liaof the morning. He stopped and looked son, the deed being committed acdown to see what unusual object was lying there that he did not know of, as he had been familiar since childhood with every foot of the ground. He saw a body. Kneeling he peered into the face. It was him by appointment on the fatal his sister. He looked the second time to night, he took her body and cast it subscription for our Thanksgiving make sure. There was no mistake.

Running back to the house, he called to his mother, but unmanned by the shock of his discovery, could scarcely make himself understood. Mother and son picked up the body and carried it into the house.

There was no trace of violence, but on the girl's face was a look as if she had seen something that froze her heart with fear. The updrawn arms and hands clutched at her throat could not be explained. She may have gone out in the clear, cold night before retiring, and there been attacked by some one and frighteened to death.

Safe blowers raided Milan, Kan., and afer entering every store of importance, among them the one in which the postoffice is located, wrecked the safe and fixtures of the Milan State Bank with dynamite. Two doors were blown off the safe, but the third, on which was the time lock, resisted the force of the explosives and a score of men, who had been aroused by the noise, rushed into the streets with shotguns and drove the robbers away before they had secured any plunder. Believing the robbers were concealed in the bank, a posse kept watch until daylight, when it was discovered they had escaped. Secreted in a vault in the bank was $4,000, for which no search was made. The robbers secured but a few dollars. Bloodhounds from Wichita were taken to Milan, but they refused to take the scent and the pursuit was abandoned.

SOLDIER MURDERS TWO MEN.

Private from Fort Riley, Kas., Shoots Recklessly Through Town.

A soldier from Fort Riley shot and killed two men on the street at Junction City. About 9:45 o'clock the soldier, who is supposed to be a saddler at the fort, approached R. E. L. Cooper in the middle of the street and with an oath, fired a pistol at him. The ball entered the right temple and Cooper died an hour later. City Marshal James White, who was near by, started for the scene, but was shot by the soldier before he got off the sidewalk. The murderer is known to the authorities.

Big Bridge Injured Again.

Braces supporting the heavy iron girders of the Brooklyn bridge have buckled near the center of the river span so that they now extend outward and upward to a height of several inches. There are four other instances of buckled transverse braces on the river span of the big structure. The buckling of these braces is said to have occurred when the usual tide of travel on the bridge roads was at its height.

"Now that platter, you see, children, was brought over from England by your great, great grandfather, who was one of the passengers on the Mayflower. He settled down there at Massachusetts Bay and became one of the elders of the church. The Indians were thick all about the settlement and the men carried their guns with them even to church. One Thanksgiving day while the family were at church the Indians broke into your great, great, great grandfather's log cabin and carried off everything they could lay their hands on. Among the things they stole was this pewter platter. The old chief, Sonnawish, had the platter and he made up his mind that it was intended to be used as a shield. So when he saw the people coming through the woods from the Thanksgiving service he held train between Jefferson and Carroll, the platter up in front of him and ran out into the open, yelling and making insulting gestures at your great, great great grandfather. And your great, great, great grandfather drew bead on the Indian chief and killed him with a single shot. That is the hole through which the bullet passed."

GET A JAIL SENTENCE.

Chicago American Employes Punished for Contempt of Court.

Judge Hanecy, of Chicago, sentenced Managing Editor Lawrence of the Chicago American, to forty days in jail for contempt of court. Reporter H. S. Canfield was given thirty days for the same offense. General Manager Caravalho and Assistant City Editor Hammond, also charged with contempt, were dismissed.

After they had spent an hour in jail Judge Dunne released the prisoners on bonds of $3,000 each under a writ of habeas corpus.

The American criticised Judge Hanecy's decision of the gas trust case while it was still open. The offense of Lawrence and Canfield against the court, the judge ruled, was the writing and publication of an article implying that the judge was influenced in his decision in favor of the gas trust, by his political aspirations and the power of trusts.

In his opinion, Judge Hanecy contends that if the court loses the power to commit persons guilty of contempt, the whole judicial structure would fall, and when the judicial structure is gone, the structure of civil government will fall and there will be no longer any guarantee of our liberty.

KILL IN A MINERS' RIOT.

Strikers and Nonunionists Engage in a Fierce Fight.

In a pitched battle between strikers and non-union miners at the Providence Coal Company's mines near Madisonville, Ky., two men were killed and four wounded. The attack which was made war of a belligerent shall not remain in by the strikers, armed with rifles, lasted two hours, and over 2,000 shots were exchanged. The adjutant general of the State ordered two companies of militia to the scene.

The trouble began at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, when seventy-five armed men appeared on a hill about 400 yards from the slope mine of the Providence Coal Company and began firing on the tipple. At the first fire the guards were aroused and all prepared to resist the attack. They were soon joined by many of the non-union miners. The attacking party continued to fire on the tipple and the defenders were forced to seek shelter elsewhere, as the bullets were falling all around them. Many of the guards sought refuge in the houses of the non-union miners. Others hid behind box cars and coal cars and again began to fire at the men on the hill.

Finding that their fire had little effect on the union miners, the guards and nonunion miners began to advance. The attacking party poured another heavy fire into them and they were again forced to seek shelter, this time behnd a pile of coal slack, where they kept up the fire on the strikers.

Soon re-enforcements came and the guards and non-union miners concentrated their fire on the men in the ditch, causing them to scatter. Two held their ground and volley after volley was sent in their direction. For a few minutes in the fire was returned, but presently one man was heard to scream. His rifle dropped to the ground and he fell with a bullet in his head. His companion fired a dozen or more shots and then he, too, fell, wounded. A few minutes after the leader dropped the firing ceased and the assailants fled.

Boy Kills Himself Thinking He Had Injure! His Chum-Sick Man Killed by Midnight Intruders-Campbellsburg Citizens Drive Robbers Away.

Peter Matyaczko, a Hungarian boy 17 years old, whose home was in Cleveland, and who had been a member of Notre Dame Manual Training School for the last three months, committed suicide at school. As the boys were going from the refectory to the recreation field young Matyaczko, who was quite an athlete, engaged in a friendly wrestling bout with Tom Canty, a chum. In the contest young Canty's foot caught on some obstacle and his leg was broken at the ankle. It is thought that Matyaczko believed he had seriously injured his friend and that the thought temporarily unbalanced his mind. He left his playfellows and ran to the garret of St. Josephs Hall, secured a 32-caliber revolver and shot himself through the head.

St. Jacobs Oil for Chest-Colds, Brone

chitis, Croup, and Pleurisy. An outward application for bronchial difficulties is many times far more effective than syrups, cough mixture, cod liver oil, etc., simply because it penetrates through to the direct cause, which is, as a rule, an accumulation of matter or growth tightly adhered to the bronchial tubes. St. Jacob's Oil, possessing as it does those wonderful penetrating powers, enables it to loosen these adhesions and to induce free expectoration. Cases have been known where expectorations have been examined after St. Jacob's Oil has been applied, and the exact formation was clearly shown, where the adhesions had been removed or pulled off the bronchial tubes. All irritation of the delicate mucous membrane of the bronchae is quickly removed by the healing and soothing properties of St. Jacob's Oil. In cases of croup and whooping cough in children St. Jacob's Oil will be found superior to any other remedy.

St. Jacob's Oil is for sale throughout the world. It is clean to use-not at all greasy or oily, as its name might imply. For rheumatism, gout, sciatica, neuralgia, cramp, pleurisy, lumbago, sore throat, bronchitis, soreness, stiffness, bruises, toothache, headache, backache, feetache, pains in the chest, pains in the back, pains in the shoulders, pains in the limbs, and all bodily aches and pains it has no equal. It acts like magic. Safe, sure, and never failing.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 18.-Mr. R. A. be cured by Dodd's Ridney Pills. any of his medical friends, for both statements have a living and indisputable proof in the person of the great lawyer himself, who as a result of Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble, from which he suffered for years, became totally blind.

Physicians, the best in the country, pronounced his case incurable and hopeless, but Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him, restored his sight, drove away the Kidney Trouble, and with it the Rheumatism, and made an all-round well man of him.

Honey in the Statue.

The heroic equestrian statue of Robert E. Lee in Richmond, Va., is believed to have hundreds of pounds of honey concealed inside of it. For months bees have been going in and out of the parted lips of both the human and the animal figure. She insects were first seen there last summer, and doubtless have been making honey ever since. There is no way to get inside either figure without doing irreparable damage, but fear is entertained that vandal hands may make the attempt.

Congressmen who have experienced great difficulty on account of the small number of seeds allotted to them will probably be glad to know their allowance this year will be practically double that received previously. In addition to doubling the allotment of seeds, each Congressman will have fifty trees at his disposal. They will be of different varieties, selected particularly with a view to suiting the climate in which they will be grown. Many of these will be nut trees, such as pecans and other varieties which will grow in this country. Secretary Wilson determined to distribute trees with a hope of implanting a love of trees in the breasts of the people and inciting them to follow the example set by the department as well as to have a permanent showing for the money expended. In addition to the trees distributed, 38,300,384 packets of seeds will be distributed. Each Congressman will have at his disposal 14,000 packages of vegetable seeds, 400 of flowers, 110 of tobacco, 40 of cotton, 30 of lawn grass, 25 of sugar beets, 50 of forage crops, 220 bulbs, 150 strawberries and 40 of grapes. The strawberries will be of new and rare varieties and the grapes are yet to be selected.

On ordinary conditions a full-fledged drawing room, and Tommy opened fire fight for the speakership of the next House would be now in progress, but, as matters stand, the House will organize without a flurry. A caucus of Republican members will be held before the opening session, and Mr. Henderson will be agreed upon for Speaker by unanimous vote. His re-election means that Sereno E. Payne of New York will continue to be the leader of the Republicans on the floor, and that there will be few changes Henderson appointed the committees of the last Congress, and, as he will go into office unhampered by pledges, he will retain to a very large degree the old organization. The only changes of importance will be promotions due to the retirement of men who were committee leaders last year, but will not figure in the next Congress. Among the Democrats there is talk of a contest for the leadership, but it does not seem to have taken organized form. Congressman J. D. Richardson of Tennessee, who was the leader in the last Congress, seems to have the inside track for re-election. Dearmond of Missouri, however, would have a strong following if he should choose to make a contest for the honor.

Quite a number of amendments to the civil service rules are under discussion, He has no fear of being set right by | but just how many amendments, if any, will be made is problematical. The matter has been discussed by the President, the Civil Service Commissioner, the Postmaster General, a number of other cabinet officers, and some of the Senators and Representatives. These amendments will affect Indian agents, the rural free delivery service, a number of messengers, and laborers. In addition to this there is talk of legislation which will permit the transference of the clerks of the census office to the other departments without undergoing a civil service examination. There is also some discussion about amending rules relating to the age limit at which applicants may be appointed. The new Commissioner, Foulke, is extremely desirous of covering nearly every government department with the civil service blanket, but in this plan he is meeting some opposition.

Chaffee are not wholly in accord and that, even in the event of the former's speedy recovery, it is not at all certain that he will resume his former position. For the present, at least, Luke Wright is an interesting figure in public affairs and he may be for some time to come.

In his annual report Postmaster General Smith asks for an increase of the appropriation for the rural free delivery service from the present sum of $3,500,000 to $6,000,000, and advocates the extension of the service as far as practicable. He expresses the opinion that this branch of the work of the department is of the greatest utility and pleads for most liberal consideration on the part of Congress. He explains in some detail the recent action of the department in the matter of second-class mail matter, taking the position that the law granting a rate of 1 cent a pound contemplated benefit only to absolutely legitimate newspapers with legitimate subscription lists.

A few months ago injury to the corn crop aroused fears that the railroads would be seriously handicapped by the loss of tonnage, yet the season of grain traffic has not only failed to produce decreased earnings, but there is such a scarcity of rolling stock and motive power that numerous industries are badly demoralized. In so far as these interests are concerned, the reduction in corn freight proves a blessing. Railway earnings in October were 11.3 per cent greater than last year and 21.2 per cent over while those roads reporting for the first week of November show an average gain of 9.8 per cent. A healthy demand is reported throughout the country in. all leading lines of merchandise, while sales of winter goods have attained normal proportions, and holiday business promises to surpass all records, according to A. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade.

Bradstreet's says: Favorable features - are still largely in the ascendant, and the current of business is running full the country over. In some directions, indeed, notably in the matter of forwarding of general merchandise, grain, ore, coal, Mon and lumber, complaints of insufficient transportation facilities have become more marked. Seasonable weather conditions East, North and West have expanded retail trade and enlarged reassorting orders from jobbers. Weather conditions at the South have, however, not been entirely favorable, and complaints of slowness of collections, due to the backward cotton crop or the lower prices paid therefor, have been more numerous. Aside from the strength in raw cotton, the features have been the increased strength in such cereals as corn and oats, due to the springing up of a better demand, some slight firmness in lard, a seasonable advance in butter and eggs and other dairy products and the stimulation to tin prices caused by close control of spot supplies.

IRON RECORD BROKEN.

The Total Output of Pig in October

keached 1,400,000 Tons. Reports from pig iron manufacturers, covering production in October, show that the month was a record-breaker. The output reached the great total of 1,400,000 tons, or at the rate of 16,800,-000 tons a year. The furnaces in blast Nov. 1 had a weekly capacity of 320,824 tons, based on their actual yield in October. This is in excess of any previous record.

In its weekly review of the trade the Iron Age calls attention to the facts given above, and also shows that so great is the still-growing demand for steel that railways which have not already ordered will not be able to get supplies for delivery next summer. The entire output of the rail mills of the United States Steel Corporation for next year is under contract at this date.

The pig iron situation is strengthened by the great difficulty still experienced in securing coke by reason of the shortage of cars. More furnaces have been banked in the central West during the week and the production this month will be curtailed to a considerable extent. This will affect particularly the output of steel, the supply of which was not equal to the demand when everything was running smoothly in October.
