Revenge Is Sweet.

Englewood High Comes For Wool and Goes Home Shorn.

Englewood never did anything to Culver, but they live in Chicago and that is the residence also of the West Division team. Culver and Chicago are now one "and."

First. Fagan fanned, so did Gill. Hodson popped up a little fly and McNagney pulled it down. By the way what's the matter with Mac anyway? Richardson hit to short and out at first. Rolling hit a wee one along first and the baseman stepped off and got it. He had a week to get back but he waited for the pitcher to cover the base and then slammed the ball at him at short range and of course he dropped it. Rolling safe. Walcott missed three. Moeller hit for two bases and scored on center's wild throw over third Rolling preceding him. McNagney safe on short's error. Wood hit safe but McNagney was caught at the plate.

Second. Johnson flew out to Wood. White fanned. Moulder walked. Wally tossed the ball over to Moeller and Moulder connecting with the base took a nice little lead and Moeller touched him with the ball. It was a cruel thing to do especially as Moulder covers first base himself. However Culver is a great educational institution and if the boys will come down we will teach them. Smith to short and out at first. Loucks to pitcher and out at first and March popped up a little one to same and out.

Third. Corcoran could not get his grounder past McNagney and was out at first. Stewart fanned. Merrill walked. Fagan got a hit. Gill struck out. Richardson rolled one to short who threw over first and Richardson ambled on to second. Rolling fanned. The center fielder dropped Walcott's high fly and then threw it over third's head scoring Richardson and letting Walcott around to third. Moeller missed three but the catcher dropped the last one and Moeller sprinted. Walcott led away off third and the catcher tried to get him on the line. Walcott played the game and the wild throw came alright scoring Walcott, Moeller in the meantime stealing second. McEagney fanned and Wood dropped one in the box and was out at first.

Fourth. Hodson's grounder was wide enough to land him at first. Johnston hit over center and March failed to connect with White's grounder scoring Hodson. Moulder hit by a pitched ball. The bases were full. Walcott cast his eye around, shifted his gun and Corcoran, Stewart and Merrill were out on eleven pitched balls. Smith sent up a high one and the catcher dropped it. Loucks hit safe. March's hot grounder was not handled in time. Richardson slashed out a grounder that scored Smith but Richardson fell by the wayside. Rolling hit safe scoring March and Loucks. Short harvested Walcott's grounder and Wally came back. Moeller hit safe scoring Rolling but was caught off second.

Fifth. Fagan fanned. Likewise Gill. Hodson dropped his in front of Walcott and it beat him to first. McNagney hit to short and the first baseman dropped it. Wood flew out to Stewart. Smith got a two bagger scoring McNagney. Loucks duplicated it scoring Smith. March had a short but and Richardson flew out to Merrill.

Sixth. Johnson thrown out at first. White walked, Moulder fanned. Corcoran hit through March scoring White. Stewart fanned. Rolling popped one up and the catcher held it. Walcott hit safe but slumbered at second. Moeller's grounder beat him out.

Seventh. Merrill fanned. Fagan flew out to McNagney. Gill got a hit but Hodson fanned. McNagney hit safe. Wood connected scoring the speedy Irishman. Smith sawed. Loucks got another two bagger scoring Wood. March walked. Richardson flew out to Merrill. (That second baseman was the only live member in the bunch.) Rolling hit two bases scoring Loucks and March. Walcott mercifully fanned.

Eighth. Johnston flew out to Rolling. White hit safe. Moulder struck out. White got busy and Culver got to tossing the ball around recklessly and the rascal stole second, third and home. Corcoran fanned. Moeller waited and walked. McNagney flew out to Hodson. Wood's grounder was juggled around long enough to let him reach first and Porter and Gruet, who had gone in to warm up, fanned.

Ninth. Stewart fanned. Merrill fouled out to McNagney and Fagan had a short bat. The crowd adjourned to the track and there Culver finished up the day by cleaning out University High also from Chicago.

C. M. A. NOTES.

Miss McAllen of St. Louis is visiting Miss McKinley.

Messrs McCracken, Daubny and Rockwell, former Culver cadets spent Saturday and Sunday at the Academy.

Quite a fleet of launches will soon be moored in the Academy lagoon. Capt. Noble's launch the Jap, and Dr. Durr's Sentinel D, named in honor of his excellent dentifrice, will soon be reinforced by the arrival of a third launch.

The Academy's physical culture exhibit was shipped from Chicago to St. Louis on Saturday evening. It consists of seven frames of dark Flemish oak, each frame containing four pictures representing some phase of physical activity at the Academy. On the mats of each picture an artist has made appropriate sketches in color which add much to the attractiveness of the exhibit. Two panels flank the top frame, on these are planted Culver pennants and several pieces of athletic apparatus. A brass plate below gives the name of the Academy and a brief explanation of the exhibit. The pictures do not cover all of the military work but only that pertaining directly to physical development, such as rough riding, wall scaling, setting up drill and butts manual. The various teams are shown with records.

A SOCIAL SUCCESS.

At Christmas time the members of the Burr Oak Sabbath School presented Mrs. Eva Martin with a rocking chair in appreciation of her faithful work as Superintendent. Sunday April 24th Mrs. Martin entertained at her home those who helped to buy the chair, a bountiful dinner was served to thirty-seven guests. Music and merry conversation made the time pass rapidly and all were unwilling to part. Evening found most of the party at the preaching service all feeling that the gathering helps to bind them together in the bonds of Christian love and sympathy.

The guests present were the following together with their families: D. B. Paddock, A. Druckemiller, S. Strode, F. Garn, J. Croulery, P. Sickman, F. Behmer, S. S. Smith, L. Neidlinger also Dr. Loring of Plymouth, L. Burkett, Winnie McFarland, Delia Overmyer and Rev. J. Q. Kline.

Some Comment and Criticism

Views and Reviews of Various Topics of the Day.

THE HANGING BUSINESS.

The execution Friday of the three bandits at Chicago was the chief topic of the newspaper press. These bloody and diabolical murderers dangled and whirled with broken necks at the ends of ropes and the law was satisfied. Examination of the cranial development of each of the bandits shows that all were degenerates.

While society is well rid of such unnatural creatures and will feel more secure now that they are dead it still remains a debatable question whether it would not have been better to have confined them in prison for the rest of their worthless lives. From the legal side their execution is justified; but if the history of the world proves anything at all, it is that the death penalty has not prevented murder. Hanging will not act as a deterrent upon the degenerates. Heredity is stronger than the gallows. Until society can discover some method of dealing with degenerates criminally inclined, murder will go on. The death penalty is wrong, and is indefensible in the light of a high civilization. It comes from the barbarism of the Middle Ages. Both the letter and the spirit of the Mosaic code were abolished by the heroic Master. The New Testament gives no warrant for the taking of human life by judicial process. The responsibility for moral degeneracy must be thrown back upon society. It is the product of heredity, bequeathed by epileptics, drunkards and prostitutes. This being the case, society, which embodies the wisdom of the world, ought to be able to restrain crime and correct the criminal, who is the embodiment of carnality and brute force, without meeting him on his own level. Civilization drops to the level of the criminal when it deals with him on his own ground.

Public sentiment, or the public mind is not a safe guide in extreme cases. It is subject to moods and caprices, the result of which it often has occasion to repent. But conscience—public conscience—is a different thing. It stands as the basic rest of a finer civilization. The public mind took the life of Owen Lovejoy, but Illinois redeemed itself when the public conscience of the state erected a monument to his memory. The public conscience is opposed to the taking of human life by law. It views the problem of life and the soul in the light of a supreme destiny, and measures them with a value so great as to place them beyond the power of jurat obligations.

What, then, shall be done? Briefly and crndly, this: Let government or state establish prisons where the criminal will be kept for life, at work, with reformatory surroundings calculated to stimulate better ideals of life. Society is not unreasonable; it has a conscience, and once convince society that the criminal will be incarcerated for life at reasonably hard labor, and it will be satisfied. The trouble is that the pardoning power of the governor has been exercised too frequently and society has a fear of executive clemency, and when the people know that the criminal is put out of sight forever, and that he will hurt no more, they will breathe easier and be satisfied.

WEATHER OR NO.

Almost all kinds of spring business in this place is at a standstill, as a result of continued rains and cold weather. Instead of settled weather, as was hoped for one or two days last week, more rains have come soaking the already wet ground and rendering it unfit for working. Some plowing was done in overcoats and mittens, but that is suspended because of late rains. Wheat is in bad condition and fields will be plowed over for corn, oats or clover. To help matters along Foster, weather-man, predicts a cold wave for the first week in May, and dangerous storms again about the 10th. Frost frequently comes in May, but Foster predicts that these will make their appearance with hirsute appendage this season.

A reward is being talked of headed by J. C. C. for the author of the "Dooley" letters. The last one was shifted to the Independent, which makes the wise guessers more at sea. Col. Metsker himself is under suspicion as fathering these rib-punches to our able and sedate politicians, and now Col. Siders is being strongly hinted at. Jimmy Delony has got the man located that is causing this rumpus.

A GOOD RECORD.

One of the best records for regular attendance at school was that made by Miss Elsie Freese, who was a member of the graduating class of West township. She attended the Twin Lakes school, a mile and a half from home, for nine years, and was not absent not tardy a single time. She would be a good girl for some industrious young man to Freese on to.

In one of the Chicago seminars a lady instructor, speaking to the co-eds, said they should never allow young men to "chuckle them under the chin." But what are their chins for, anyway, if they may not be "chucked?"

END OF VOLUME I.

With this issue we complete Volume I of the CULVER CITIZEN. We have endeavored to give Culver and vicinity a good paper and feel that we have done so. We thank all who have patronized and aided us in the last year and hope to receive their support in the future.

With this issue too, most of the subscriptions expire. We would deem it a favor if all whose subscriptions expire and all who are in arrears would come in and renew their subscriptions. Our rates are $1 per year in advance.

THIRTY-SEVEN GRADUATES.

Largest Class in the History of Union Township.

The following is the completed list of those who were successful in passing their examinations and will graduate from the Culver and Union township common schools this year:

From Culver: Dessie Fieser, Iva E. Smith, Fressie Hawk, Elsie Buswell, Harry Medbourn, Charlie McLane, Chester Easterday, Earl Brown, Harry Hornbeck, Alice E. Wiseman, Della Stahl, Merlie Hawk, James McLane, Clyde Wiseman, Chester Cartwright, Florence Smith, Esther Stahl, Edna Garn and Della Romig.

From the township: Austin Lowery, Walter Garver, Clara Brooke, Arlie Trowbridge, Leo Norris, Earl Lowery, Oscar Voreis, Earl Overmyer, Clara McFarland, Alvin Murray, Hazel Garn, Myrtle Overmyer, Eugene McFarland, Fred Thomas, Perchis Blanchard, Hattie Aley, Laura Hissong and Joseph Burns. Laura Hissong won class honors.

This makes a class of 37, the largest in the history of the township, and it is said to be the largest in the county. On account of the large number of graduates, the unsettled weather conditions and lack of a suitable place to hold the commencement exercises, it is likely that they will be held at the assembly grounds sometime the latter part of May or first of June.

Death of Mrs. Henry Jarrell.

Mrs. Henry Jarrell died at her home near Tyner Sunday morning after a lingering illness with a cancer of the stomach, aged 41 years. She was a daughter of Henry Shirk and wife of Lapaz. She leaves one daughter, Mamie aged seventeen. The funeral was held under the auspices of the L. O. T. M. Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. Interment at the Tyner cemetery.

Quigley Marsh Ditch Completed.

What is known as the Quigley marsh ditch, the largest dredged ditch in Pulaski county, has been completed at a cost of $48,000. Together with the laterals it is 24 miles long, and is expected to drain 25,000 acres of swamp land.

Democratic Convention.

The democratic voters of Union township will meet at Walter's market, Culver, to nominate delegates to the State, Congressional, Judicial and Senatorial conventions, on Saturday, April 30, 1904, at 1:30 p. m.

HANLY IS NOMINATED.

Frank J. Hanly, of La Fayette, was nominated for governor by acclamation, at the Republican State convention held at Indianapolis, Wednesday.

Dr. Norris will open a dental office in the Menser building opposite the M. E. Church next week.

BREADSTUFFS VALUES SHOW A LOWER RANGE

Copious Rains in Grain Belt Coupled With Poor Demand Result in Sharp Fall in Prices.

Chicago, Ill., special: Dun's weekly review of Chicago trade says: "With the favorable change in the agricultural outlook due to copious rains throughout the grain belt and to continued poor demand and low shipments, the sharp fall in values of breadstuffs which occurred was not unexpected, recent quotations having maintained an average too high to stimulate satisfactory consumption. Farm advices assumed an improved tone, and trade conditions acquired added strength from a better general demand in both the producing and jobbing lines. Retail activity showed gain over the previous week in the fashionable departments, and in household replenishings and foods. Wholesale business maintained satisfactory proportions, the selections being good in furniture, notions and textiles. Other goods having a steady sale were footwear, clothing and women's wear. City purchases of staples were fair, and country merchants anticipate increased depletion of their stocks when spring farm work ends. Mercantile collections were less prompt on local bills than for the interior, but fewer defaults were noted. Railroad traffic has disclosed no material change in the movement of freight, but there was much larger passenger carrying and immigrant travel.

"Grain shipments, 1,522,393 bushels, are the lowest recorded this year, and 68 per cent under corresponding week of 1903. Aside from the speculative feature the market was very dull in the absence of the leading buying factors. Little improvement seems probable until renewed demand appears from abroad. Compared with last week's closings values declined in corn 4 1/2 cents, in wheat 4 cents, and in oats 1 1/2 cents. Sales of provisions reflected good domestic needs, but prices were slightly weaker, in pork 20 cents and in both lard and ribs 2 1/2 cents. Receipts of live stock, 286,963 head, compared with 243,611 a year ago. Choice mutton sheep advanced 10 cents per hundredweight and reached the highest quotation this year. Heavy heaves gained 5 cents, but the poor quality caused a decline of 20 cents in hogs.

"Failures reported in Chicago district numbered 21, against 30 the previous week and 16 for the same week of 1903."

CLAIM TITLE TO LAND IN HEART OF CHICAGO

Resident of Shawano, Wis., Means to Start Suit for 160 Acres of Ground, Worth $26,000,000.

Appleton, Wis., dispatch: A suit to recover property consisting of 160 acres in the heart of Chicago, valued at $26,000,000, will soon be started by Reuben Irish of Shawano, Wis., acting in his own interest and that of ten other relatives.

The land in question originally belonged to Gideon Irish, an uncle of the plaintiff, who purchased it from the government in 1838. It includes the site of the Montgomery Ward store, the Sherman house and a large section on Michigan avenue. Gideon Irish died in 1843 and his estate was never probated, the property passing into the hands of strangers, who paid the taxes. It is alleged that not one of the present owners can produce a warranty deed.

Reuben Irish graduated from West Point and was a colonel of the One Hundred and Seventh New York infantry during the civil war.

Utah Sheriff Wants Troops to Enforce Quarantine in Strike.

Salt Lake City, Utah, dispatch: The sheriff of Carbon county has appealed to Gov. Wells to send the militia to restore order in the stronghold of the coal strikers at Helper. A few days ago "Mother" Jones arrived in the camp and visited William Price, an organizer of the United Mineworkers, who was under quarantine for smallpox. The health officers at once placed "Mother" Jones under quarantine. An Italian mob of 100 men, armed with rifles, rescued the woman from quarantine, defying the officers. The governor has ordered Brig. Gen. Cannon, commander of the state militia, to go to Helper and investigate the situation.

ILLINOIS MINERS ADOPT SCALE

Joint Meeting at Springfield Ends Ten Days' Session.

Springfield, Ill., dispatch: The joint meeting of the scale committees of the operators and miners of the Springfield sub-district ended Wednesday after having been in session for ten days. The wage scale adopted is in conformity with the 5 per cent reduction decided on at the Indianapolis convention of miners and operators. In working conditions more stringent rules of firing are adopted, and severe penalties are fixed for the FIGHT ON THE YALU.

Japanese and Russian Forces Said to Be Engaged in Desperate Battle—Authentic News Unobtainable—More Russian Sailors Killed.

Dispatches to the London papers state that severe fighting is in progress on the Yalu. It is reported that the first Japanese army has crossed the river. Heavy fighting has occurred, but for strategic reasons it is impossible to get particulars.

Russian Sailors Killed. In an effort to close the entrance of the harbor at Port Arthur against miles above Wiju. The Russians are strongest at Antung. Tiger hill is, as it was in the Chinese-Japanese war, the key to the situation. Three islands, one above and two below Wiju, will facilitate an attack, as they offer a base for artillery to cover the crossing of the Yalu. A dispatch to the London Standard from Kieff says it is stated in military circles there that 10,000 soldiers lation of an express provision for an immediate declaration of war by England either against Turkey or Russia, or both.

Hundreds of Russians Drown. A correspondent of the London Times, cabling from Newchwang, says that a messenger has arrived there from the Yalu river with the information that the Russians are fleeing north across the river in overcrowded boats and are losing hundreds by drowning.

The Tokio correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph says that Port Arthur undoubtedly is effectually blocked and that events are culminating around the doomed fortress.

The correspondent of the London Standard at Tien-Tsin says that Japanese troops are now embarking from Corea and possibly are being reinforced by the forces on the Yalu river, from which the Russians have practically withdrawn.

Report Landing at Newchwang. The Japanese are reported to have bombarded Newchwang and to have landed troops which will probably endeavor to effect a junction with a force supposed to have landed near the mouth of the Yalu three days ago. Lights of Japanese transports have been seen nightly to the west of Taku-Shan, but it was believed that bad weather had prevented the disembarkation of the troops. It now appears that they landed secretly at some point along the coast and are now marching on Newchwang from the east.

Kuropatkin Orders an Advance. The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Petit Parisien says he has learned that Gen. Kuropatkin has ordered the advance of the Russian forces which are massed in northeastern Corea and that a brigade of infantry, with 5,000 Cossacks, is within 100 versts of the banks of the Tumen river.

Too Versatile. Poor Jack of all trades! So strong is the prejudice against him that he is even denied the right to practice one avocation lest it interfere with his calling. This is an age of narrow specialization. When John Belcher, known now as a daring and original architect, was a young man he gave a good deal of time to music.

He had a fine voice, and was greatly in demand at evening parties. One evening, after he had sung, to loud applause, he overheard two gentlemen talking him over.

"Who was the fellow that sang just now?" asked one. "The professional, I mean."

"Oh, that was Mr. Belcher, an architect?"

"Well, he can't be much of an architect if he can sing like that."

The listener never sang again save at home. He decided that it was better to be a good architect than a pretty good musician and a fairly good architect.—Youth's Companion.

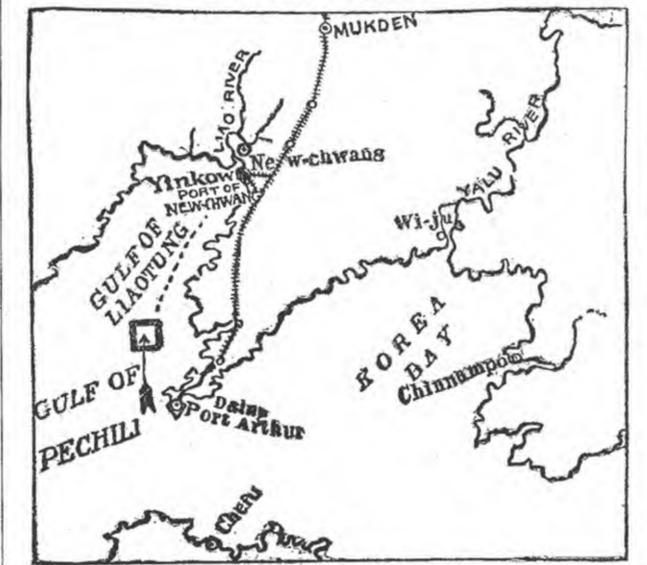

Scared Into Good Behavior.

Possibly, if one can make oneself believe it, the best way to treat a lion is as though he were not a lion. That is what a keeper did when he found one of the species walking about loose one Sunday afternoon. He seized him by the mane, "punched" him in the ribs with his knee, hustled him back into his den, and locked him in without difficulty. When he came to think over what he had done he dropped down in a swoon. On another occasion a man had to strengthen a partition from the respective sides of which a tiger and a bear were rapidly drawing to close quarters. He got the work done unimpeded, but, when it was finished, the bear would not let him pass out. A smashing blow from a

Strikes in United States.

(A fleet of seventy to one hundred transports, escorted by Japanese warships, is said to have been sighted north of Port Arthur by a steamer bound for Newchwang from Chifu, at a point marked on the map by a square pierced by an arrow. Its direction, according to the report, was toward Yinkow, which is just south of Newchwang, at the entrance to that port.)

the Japanese, Lieut. Pell and twenty men of the Russian fleet were killed through a mine exploding under the stern of one of the launches. Viceroy Alexieff has determined to bottle up his own fleet so as to prevent its destruction by Admiral Togo. The commander of the czar's ships sent out several launches with instructions to network the mouth of the harbor with mines. It was while this work was being done that the explosion occurred, killing more than a score of men.

Alexieff has further determined to obstruct the harbor by sinking several old hulks in the channel. He has no intention of letting his ships go to sea again even against an inferior force.

Rumored Destruction of Japanese.

In a dispatch to the London Central News, a Port Arthur correspondent says that news has been received of the complete destruction of a Japanese column on the Yalu river. No details, it is added, were obtainable.

Prepared for Decisive Battle.

Japanese scouts have crossed the river twelve miles above Wiju and have reconnoitered the Russian position. They sustained no loss. The Japanese have established posts on small islands near Wiju. It is believed that they have succeeded in blocking the mouth of the river. The Russians are extending their fortifications. They are strongly reinforcing their troops on Tiger Island, opposite Wiju, where a severe battle was fought in the Chinese-Japanese war.

Plan Dash Across Japan Sea.

Preparations are being made at Hakodate for a sudden dash across the Japan Sea.

A fleet of ten transports is being loaded with troops and a squadron of warships is lying off the port to convoy them.

It is presumed the objective point is Vladivostok, where a thaw is imminent.

Vladivostok was bombarded March 6th.

Cash Lost on Petropavlovsk.

It is reported that an immense sum of money was lost on the Petropavlovsk. The Russian government, foreseeing the probability of Port Arthur being cut off, thought it necessary to have a big fund there, which was in the hands of the naval command. The Petropavlovsk happened to be the treasure ship. The sum is placed as high as $12,000,000.

Chinese to Stop Russian Plundering.

The Chinese government has ordered Gen. Ma to dispatch 2,500 men to the west of the Liao river, to put a stop to Russian plundering. A collision is feared. Gen. Ma's main army is expected to proceed to Kinchow, with a view of maintaining the neutrality of New Chwang in case the Japanese occupy Yinkow. The movement of Japanese troops is hampered by Korean spies, who inform the Russians of them.

Jap Landing Party Destroyed.

A dispatch to the London Standard from St. Petersburg says it is reported that while 500 Japanese were crossing the Yalu river on rafts they were attacked by Russians and nearly all of them were killed. The Russian casualties were heavy.

The Coming Land Fighting.

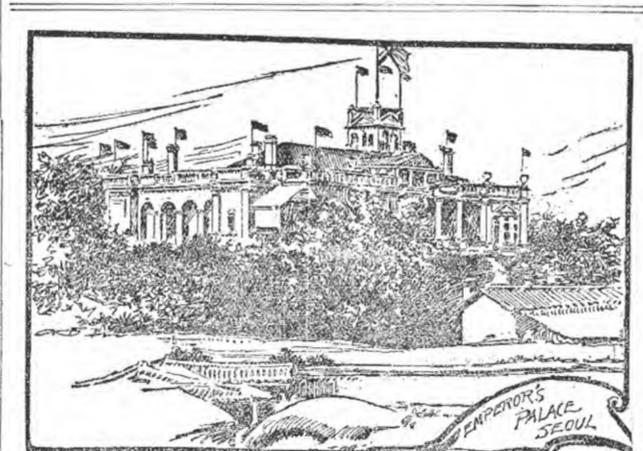

The Paris Herald's military expert says:

"According to advices which appear most likely, the Japanese appear on directly supporting a frontal attack on the Yalu by a demonstration made against the right flank of the Russians, on some point of the coast between Tatungkow and Takushan. It is reasonable to admit, as has been announced from Seoul and later from St. Petersburg, that the Russians have raised earthworks on the whole north bank of the river, and have placed mines and torpedoes at the mouth of the river to keep off the warships of the Japanese.

"It is past question that the demonstrations of the Japanese will take place within a certain distance of Takushan, and preferably on the rear of the Russian forces which line the western bank of the Yalu, but the great draft of the Japanese warships will necessitate their keeping at a great distance from shore, which will render it dangerous for them to carry out any landing under fire from the enemy."

NATIONAL SOLUTIONS AT WASHINGTON

Matters Before the Senate and House Briefly Set Forth.

REVIEW OF LEGISLATIVE WORK

Doings in Both Branches of Congress Put Up in Condensed Form for the Public by Clever and Competent Correspondents.

Thursday, April 21.

In the Senate the pension appropriation bill, carrying an appropriation of more than $37,000,000, and the emergency river and harbor appropriation bill, carrying $3,000,000, were passed, as was the bill increasing to 600 acres the size of the homestead entries in western Nebraska. In the debate on the pension bill Mr. Scott denounced the pension laws, advocating a service pension of $25 per month. In the debate on the emergency river and harbor bill Mr. Gorman criticized the Republicans for not bringing in a general river and harbor bill and Mr. Elkins replied that the state of business was not such as to justify such a measure. Bills were passed establishing a Supreme Court for the Indian Territory and giving the General Federation of Women's Clubs the right to hold biennial meetings outside of Washington. Senator Warren and Mr. Platt of Connecticut clashed over the report in the Court of Claims in connection with the Judge Swayne case.

In the House a substitute for the Kiltz bill for the government of the Panama Canal zone was passed over the protest of Mr. Harrison. A rule was adopted for the consideration at any time of the bill creating a commission to investigate the merchant marine. The House defeated a resolution to pay Mr. Siemp of Virginia $1,500 for expenses incurred by him in defending his title to his estate. The establishment of a life-saving station near Eagle Harbor, Keweenaw Point, Mich., was approved. The House passed a bill amending the act for the protection of persons furnishing materials and labor in public works so as to give the government priority over subcontractors or furnishers of material in suits on the bonds of the United States. A resolution was agreed to requesting the President to renew negotiations with governments which discriminate against Jewish citizens of the United States, with the view to securing equal freedom of travel and sojourn with all other citizens.

Friday, April 22.

The general deficiency appropriation bill occupied the greater part of the senate's time, but before its consideration Mr. Gallinger spoke in defense of the tariff policy of the Republican party. While the deficiency bill was being read Mr. Cullom spoke on the Pitt Chinese exclusion bill attached by the house as a rider. He offered an amendment to strike out several clauses. Mr. Platt of Connecticut offered an amendment excluding Chinese and other aliens whose immigration is encouraged by any transportation company. Mr. La Follette of Wisconsin offered an amendment excluding Chinese and other aliens whose immigration is encouraged by any transportation company. The Panama canal zone was sent to conference.

After devoting considerable time to conference reports on routine and private bills, the house listened to a brush between Mr. La Follette of Minnesota and Curtis of Kansas on the former's substitute for a resolution of inquiry as to the acts of the Dawes commission. Mr. Lind and Mr. La Follette were heard on the Indians of Indian Territory had taken advantage of their official positions for loot and speculation. Mr. Curtis said the Indians had been proved. Mr. Lind's substitute, which asks the secretary of the Interior for information as to what action has been taken in the Dawes commission investigation, prevailed. The sundry civil bill was sent to conference with Messrs. Hemenway, Gillett and Burton on the bill. The bill, which provided for the payment of $100,000,000 in interest on the public debt, was passed in forty-five minutes. Mr. Grosvenor called up the bill creating a commission to investigate the American merchant marine, which was discussed but laid aside without action. Consideration of the Alaskan delegate bill was resumed, but was interrupted by Mr. Kitchin of North Carolina, who assailed President Roosevelt and Mr. Grosvenor, the former for his attitude on the race question and the latter for alleged charges of fraud toward Roosevelt after his nomination for vice president.

Saturday, April 23.

In the senate the Mann bill for the lowering of the tunnels in the Chicago river was passed. The senate passed, after a long debate, the general deficiency bill, after killing the house amendment strengthening the Chinese exclusion law. The amendment was amended by striking out all except the first section, which affirms all the exclusion laws now in effect. One amendment accepted was that excluding Chinese and other aliens from remaining in under agreements with the other countries and steamship companies, having special reference to a contract between the Cunard Line and Hungary to supply 20,000 immigrants annually to the United States. Other provisions carried by the bill as passed were: Appropriating $5,000 for medals in commemoration of the hundredth birthday anniversary of Benjamin Franklin, defeating a proposition to reimburse the Compagnie Francaise des Telegraphes for damages sustained during the war with Spain, granting $1,200 to the widow of General Longstreet and defeating an allowance to the Murdock and Stockbridge Indians of Wisconsin.

In the house the speaker appointed a committee to represent the house at the opening of the world's fair. The house passed the bill amending the pension appropriation bill, and the conference report on the naval appropriation bill was adopted. Bills were passed for the protection of the public forest reserves and national parks and amending the act to extend the coal land laws to Alaska. The bill for a commission to investigate the merchant marine was passed after a long debate, in which Messrs. Hepburn and Cockeran were the central figures. An intimation by Mr. Dalzell that Mr. Cockeran supported Mc-Clure in 1896 because he was paid for brought an impassioned denial from Mr. Cockeran.

Sunday, April 24.

Memorial services occupied the attention of the house and feeling tributes were paid to the memory of the late Senator Marcus A. Hanna, the late Representative C. W. Thompson of Alabama, and the late Representative W. W. Sikes of Ohio. Eulogies to Senator Hanna were delivered by Representatives Grosvenor, Longworth, Goebel, Southard, Steele, Morgan, Van Voorhis, Hildebrand and Snook of Ohio; and Tawney, Minnesota; Brick, Indiana; Lovering, Massachusetts; Smith, Illinois; and Tirrel of Massachusetts. Tributes to the memory of the late Mr. Thompson were paid by Representatives Wiley, Underwood, Clayton, Burnett, and Bowie of Alabama; and Littlefield, Maine; Thomas, North Carolina; Rainey, Illinois; Conroy, Iowa; Padgett, Tennessee; Gaines, Tennessee; and Patterson, North Carolina. The speakers to the memory of Mr. Sikes were Representatives Grosvenor, Kyle, Cassingham, Snook and Hildebrand, Ohio; Currier, New Hampshire; Webb, North Carolina; and Tirrel, Massachusetts. Appropriate resolutions were adopted in reference to the deceased.

Lakes Naval Site.

Washington dispatch: The section in the navy appropriation bill providing for the selection of a site for a naval training station on the great lakes will go over until the next session unless it is taken care of in a special bill. This is hardly probable. The conference committee has decided

GREAT CHAIN OF PIPES FROM GULF TO ATLANTIC

Standard Oil Company Plans to Carry Crude Article to Refineries Through System of Tubes.

Whiting, Ind., dispatch: Whiting, where is located the largest refinery in the world, is to be made the radiating point of a colossal system of pipe lines, including a continuous chain of pipes from the gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic coast, which will make the Standard Oil company entirely independent of the railroads in handling crude oil and will nearly annul the anti-rebate law in so far as it concerns the Rockefeller interests, at which the law was mainly directed.

Streams of oil flowing underground through connecting pipe lines extending all the way from Port Arthur, Tex., through the oil regions of Oklahoma, Kansas, Indian Territory, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York to New York city, a distance of more than 2,500 miles, will be the result when the scheme materializes. From this great "trunk" pipe line branches will extend to all the Standard Oil refineries.

W. P. Cowan, vice president of the Standard Oil Company, has been specially detailed by John D. Rockefeller to supervise the work, which, according to present estimates, will cost more than $200,000,000.

Concurrent with the great underground transportation scheme an immense oil refinery is being built at Kansas City, and the tanks, stills, and pipes requisite for the construction are now at the Whiting plant, ready for shipment. From Kansas City a pipe line will extend to Neodesha, Kan., where a refinery has already been built.

The pipe line from Neodesha to Kansas City will pass through the Chanute oil fields, 128 miles from Kansas City, and will be in all 200 miles long. This is the commencement of the pipe line to the gulf, which will connect the Kansas, Indian Territory, and Texas fields.

The next link in the chain of pipe lines will be the building of a line from Whiting to Neodesha, Kas. This will give a continuous line from Kansas City to Chicago, and thence to Lima, Ohio, to which place a line already extends from Whiting and Chicago.

HEAR FROM HEARST.

Presidential Candidate Speaks Before House Committee on Judiciary.

Washington dispatch: "The Attorney General has been sitting on this evidence for eighteen months, like an old hen on a doorknob, and he is not going to hatch it out himself or let anybody take it away from him," said William Randolph Hearst, making his maiden speech. He appeared before the House committee on judiciary, and argued for a favorable report on his resolution calling on the Attorney General for the evidence against the anthracite coal-carrying railroads. Mr. Hearst said Attorney General Knox had refused to submit the evidence to the House, so he asked that a committee of seven be appointed with power to take the evidence he (Hearst) submitted to the Attorney General eighteen months ago and lay it before Congress. His resolution was referred to a subcommittee for further consideration.

SENATOR PREPARES FOR DEATH

W. A. Clark of Montana Forms Company to Manage His Estate.

Butte, Mont., dispatch: While his relatives and close business associates here will not talk for publication, it is the consensus that Senator W. A. Clark is a very sick man. It is said that the senator is getting his affairs in shape for the end. He recently formed the company that is to manage all of his real estate holdings, exclusive of his mines, and it is expected that a similar company will be formed to take over all his mines.

Besides his heavy investments in mining, sugar plantations and railroads, Senator Clark also owns four daily newspapers—the Butte Miner, the Helena Independent, the Great Falls Tribune and the Salt Lake Herald.

STOCK PERISHES IN BARN FIRE

Lightning Shocks Hired Man and Causes Blaze in Structure.

Sibley, Iowa, dispatch: Lightning struck the farm barn of Andrew and Peter Sherbonda, six miles south of here, and started fire which consumed the barn, ten head of cattle, two horses, forty tons of hay, all the farm harness and some other property. The loss is $2,500; insured for $1,250. A hired man received a heavy shock and Andrew Therbonda came near losing his life while saving property.

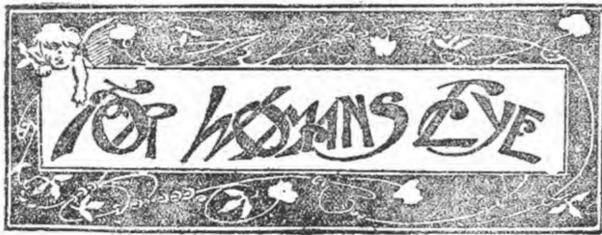

OLD MAN IS GUILTY OF ARSON

Uses Dynamite to Destroy House and Win Young Woman's Favor.

Kokomo, Ind., dispatch: The jury in the case of Samuel Michaels, 79 years old, charged with arson, has returned a verdict of guilty. Last September Michael dynamited and destroyed the $4,000 residence of Aaron Shock to gain the affections of Miss Eula Burns, a pretty 19-year-old domestic at the Shock home.

Bank Burglars Get $6,000.

Misses' Walking Skirt.

The rule of generous flare about the feet with snug fit round the hips for the fashionable walking skirt is as tenaciously held to by young girls as by their elders. This very stylish model is adapted to all the range of seasonable materials, but in the case of the original is made of blue flecked etamine stitched with corticeilli silk and is exceedingly attractive and pretty. The full length gore at the back gives a long line which is always admirable in addition to allowing for greater freedom of movement.

4677 Misses' Walking Skirt, 12 to 16 yrs.

The skirt consists of the circular portion, which is tucked across the hips to give the effect of a yoke, the flounce and the back gores, which are kilt plaited. The lower edge of the circular portion has a deep hem under which the plaited flounce is attached and stitched to position, the effect being a deep tuck overlapping the plaits.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 5 3/4 yards 27 inches wide, 3 3/4 yards 44 inches wide or 3 3/4 yards 52 inches wide. The pattern 4677 is cut in sizes for girls of 12, 14 and 16 years of age.

Flounces and Tucks.

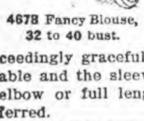

Really, flounces are not imperative. There are always tucks, and there were never more tucks than this season. Many of the charming thin light silks have long flowing skirts finished with inch or two-inch tucks around the bottom. A lovely lavender silk is so made, with a most pleasing distinction. This consists in the alternation of the tucks with bands of white lawn of the sheerest quality. The silk is cut away from under the lawn and both these insertions and the tucks are a little over an inch in width. The effect is quaintly effective and newer than lace insertions, although a soft white silk near at hand, in which the same idea is carried out with lace, is pleasing. In the lavender silk the sleeves are formed of alternate silk tucks and lawn strips and there is a full puff of lawn at the wrist.

Skirts of New Gowns.

All the new gowns have moderately full skirts. One needs only to glance at the beautiful models at the "openings," where the freshest conceits from abroad are shown, to discover in what charming ways this full skirt can be attained without exaggerating the size of the hips. A favorite mode is to hold the fullness flat in clusters of fine pinch tucks for a few inches below the waist, from whence they flow out into the required sweep. Or box plaits stitched flat over the hips are used. The skirt yoke proper is passe, but one sees odd little emplacements of the material fitting tight over the hips, to which is gathered the fullness of the skirt. All of which means that it is a long pull and a hard one to get women's consent to the really full skirt, which begins to eddy out as soon as the waist line is past.

Fancy Blouse.

All cape effects are much in vogue and are to be noted upon the best and handsomest of the season's designs. The very pretty waist illustrated shows one of a novel sort that is adapted to many materials and combinations but is shown in pale blue Habutal trimmed with applique of cream lace and stitched with corticeilli silk. At the waist is a crushed belt of Liberty satin. The drooping shoulder line that is given by the cape is exceedingly graceful as well as fashionable and the sleeves can be either in elbow or full length as may be preferred.

The waist consists of the fitted lining on which the tucked front and backs are arranged, the closing being made invisibly at the center back. Both front and backs are tucked to yoke depth only and form soft folds at the belt. The sleeves are tucked at the shoulders and gathered at their lower edges where they can be finished with frills or with deep cuffs as shown in the small view. The cape collar is in two sections, which are tucked from the shoulders to the neck and allowed to fall in folds over the sleeves. At the neck is a crushed collar which harmonizes with the belt.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 5 1/2 yards 21 inches wide 5 yards 27 inches wide or 2 1/4 yards 44 inches wide, with 5/8 yards of all-over lace, 3/4 yards 21 inches wide for belt and 5 yards of applique. The pattern 4678 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40-inch bust measure.

Sleeves for Evening Gowns. Angel sleeves adorn many of the evening gowns, and very beautiful they are, because the soft drapery is in the silken tissues, liberty silk, chiffon or mousseline de soie, or some such clinging material. A charming toilet has a trained skirt of heliotrope satin, with three scant flounces, each supporting a flounce of valenciennes lace. A lace jacket is worn with this white valenciennes, made up over a heliotrope satin lining. But the lace sleeves barely reach the elbow, and from them descends long angel drapery of violet-tinted liberty silk, the gauziest of fabrics. The drapery is caught up again and held in to the undersleeve at the wrist. A necklace of Swiss crystals, amethyst-colored, run on a purple cord, is worn about the throat.

Fashionable Trimmings.

Gold is present also in embroideries in impressive quantity. Much embroidery is of the raised and filled sort and cloudlike materials now and then seem almost overweighed with such embellishment. Fringes are going to continue their winter vogue to judge by the quantities of them on the shop counters. The narrower sorts seem in the lead. For dressy get-ups rickings are to be a much-favored means of ornamentation. Lace trimmings become of greater value when sheer fabrics are reasonable. Model dresses suggest with some force that there is to be a whimsical fancy for the use of heavy laces on delicate fabrics and of filmy ones on firmer goods, but this notion need not worry those who at first thought do not approve it. Such may follow their own taste in lace and be stylish without trace of freakishness.

Misses' Blouse Eton.

Blouse Etons with shoulder capes are among the newest coats shown and are peculiarly well suited to young girls. This one is made of mixed blue chevrot stitched with corticeilli silk and makes part of a costume. The stole is both smart and becoming, but, when liked, the lower portions can be omitted and the sleeves allow of choice of the plain bell and the shaped model shown in the small cut.

The Eton is made with fronts and back, the back being laid in a box plait at the center with an outward turning plait at each side. The cape is in two portions and is finished with the stole, the lower portions of which are joined to the upper beneath the points. The sleeves are in one piece each and at the waist is a stitched belt.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 3 3/4 yards 21 inches wide, 3 yards 27 inches wide or 1 3/4 yards 44 inches wide. The pattern 4681 is cut in sizes for girls of 12, 14 and 16 years of age.

Sweetbreads With Oranges.

To prepare this choice Southern dish allow several large sweetbreads to blanch in cold water, then dry on a cloth, pull off the tubes and score lightly with a sharp knife. Dip each into melted butter mixed with an equal quantity of orange juice, sprinkle with salt and pepper and place on a flat baking pan. Cook in a very hot oven for thirty minutes, basting three times with the butter and orange juice. Melt and brown one heaping tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan, add a tablespoonful of flour, brown again, then stir in gradually one cupful of good beef stock, and when smoothly thickened add one-quarter of a cupful of strained orange juice and two tablespoonfuls of chopped orange (with the rind) and season to taste. Serve the sweetbreads on individual plates in a bed of cress and sliced orange and pour over each serving a spoonful of the gravy.

Salted Almonds.

This is a chef's way of salting almonds: Blanch and dry the nuts, put them on a baking sheet and roast them in a hot oven to a light brown. Sprinkle them with a solution of a little gum arabic and water, dust with fine table salt, and stir them gently until dry.

PANAMA TITLE IS TRANSFERRED

Representatives of French Company Affix Signatures to Deed.

LEGAL DELIVERY TO BE MADE

Attorneys Will Formally Turn Over All Property on the Isthmus to Agents of the United States in Return for the Cash.

Paris cablegram: The contract by which the ownership of the Panama canal passes to the United States has been signed, sealed and delivered. The title to the canal route is now vested in the government of the United States.

The document by which this transaction was consummated bears the signatures of President Bo and Director Richman of the Panama Canal Company, who signed for the company as its responsible officials.

The transfer of title was accomplished quietly and unexpectedly, as the public had been given to understand that the contract would not be executed until after the meeting of the stockholders of the canal company.

Admit the Transfer.

When W. A. Daly and Charles W. Russell, the United States assistant attorneys general, who came to Paris to assist in the transfer of the property, were seen they reluctantly admitted that the transfer had been consummated. They furnished the following statement in writing:

"The papers transferring the rights and property by the new Panama Canal Company to the United States have already been executed and delivered. They will be ratified by the stockholders' meeting.

"The arrangement includes a general conveyance and provisions for deeds and relinquishment in the republic of Panama and in the canal zone now under the jurisdiction of the United States, in which zone the civil law continues in force by reason of the cession of the zone from a civil law sovereignty. All formalities of the local law on the isthmus have been arranged for and secured to the United States.

Payable After Delivery.

"The property will shortly be delivered on the isthmus and upon that being done the purchase price will be immediately paid.

"The United States get an unincumbered title." The main figures in the transfer have been Messrs. Bo and Richman, for the company; Messrs. Day and Russell for the United States, and Consuls General John K. Gowdy and Roberto Lewis for the United States and Panama respectively, the two consular representatives joining in affixing the seals and attesting the signatures.

GIRLS TOSS PROCTOR OF HALL IN BLANKET

Hazers Take Sick Companion From Bed and Fasten Her to a Beam in the Attic.

Madison, Wis., dispatch: It has just become known that the most severe case of hazing ever perpetrated at Chabourne hall took place Sunday evening, April 17. Miss Isabelle Menzies of Janesville, Wis., was taken from her room while sick in bed and after a severe blanket-tossing was swathed in the blanket and carried to the attic of the building, where she was fastened to a beam and left alone and helpless for two hours.

This is her last year in the university and she is a proctor at the hall. Recently a large number of old tomato and corn cans were collected and fastened together. Then marbles were put in them. One of the most daring scaled the fire escape and fastened the bundle of cans to a fire platform of Miss Menzies' window, so that the wind would catch them, and the rattling was such that Miss Menzies could not sleep.

WIFE GIVES HUSBAND SPANKING

He Is Big and She Is Small, So Court Discharges Her.

New York dispatch: George Kummerlee of Hoboken, who is six feet tall and strong enough to tear his diminutive wife in twain, appealed to Recorder Stanton in Hoboken to punish her for her habit of boxing his ears, spanking him across her knees and scratching his face. He complains that she acquired the habit shortly after they were married and that it has grown in ferocity. The recorder was unable to affect a reconciliation between the two and discharged the woman.

THROW BODIES INTO QUICKLIME

Baby Farmers at Philadelphia Destroy Evidences of Their Traffic.

Philadelphia, Pa., special: Mrs. Ashmead's furnace for baby cremation is rivaled by the beds of quicklime used by baby farmers and members of the baby killing syndicate. This fact was revealed to Coroner Dugan by the sister of a young woman who had died in a lying-in hospital and who saw her baby dropped into the destroying substance. Two arrests are to be made upon this information, and exposures equaling those of the baby crematory are promised.

SNAP SHOTS OF THE WORLD'S FAIR

Some of the Interesting Features Briefly Described

A Visit to the Exposition is Equivalent to a Tour of the Globe

Any effort at exaggeration, in attempting to describe the World's Fair at St. Louis would more than likely result in failure. One's imagination would indeed be abnormally developed if he were to conceive more glories, more beauty, more majestic splendor, and a more comprehensive gathering of men and the works of men, than has been assembled on two square miles comprising the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

More than a thousand native Filipinos are living in the 40-acre Philippine tract at the World's Fair. Their homes have been reproduced in St. Louis and they are counterparts of those left behind in the Pacific archipelago. The Filipino colony embraces representatives from many tribes, and Americans and Europeans will be interested in seeing the subjects that Uncle Sam acquired with the Philippine islands, and in learning of their lives and habits.

Besides the native villages, the Philippine commission, which has expended nearly $1,000,000 on the exhibit, has erected replicas of many of the most famous buildings on the islands. Several bits of old Spanish architecture are sure to delight all visitors.

Patagonian giants are even less known than Filipinos. And there are a number of these strange people domiciled nearby, while a little further on may be found another strange race—pygmies from darkest Africa, whose very existence, until recent years, was doubted. The Ainus, the aborigines of northern Japan, are another strange race that may be seen

Never was the United States government so deeply interested in an exposition as it is in this 1904 World's Fair. Already the government's investment has reached the $11,000,000 mark, and this does not include the Philippine expenditures, which were paid out of the insular treasury. The result is the greatest exhibit ever made by Uncle Sam.

One of the interesting government exhibits is the great map of the United States, worked out in growing crops, each state being represented by crops chiefly grown in that state. This map covers six acres of ground. One who has not seen the map may have an idea of its immense size when he is told that Illinois on this crop map is 75 feet long. The boundary lines between the states are gravel walks and the World's Fair visitors stroll at will through the states, and receive simultaneously a lesson in geography and agriculture.

The largest timepiece in the world is at the World's Fair, and may be seen on a slope on the north side of Agriculture Hill. The dial of this great clock is 112 feet in diameter. The frame work is steel, of course, but it is so covered with flowers that it appears to have been built entirely of flowers, and for that reason it is popularly known as the "floral clock."

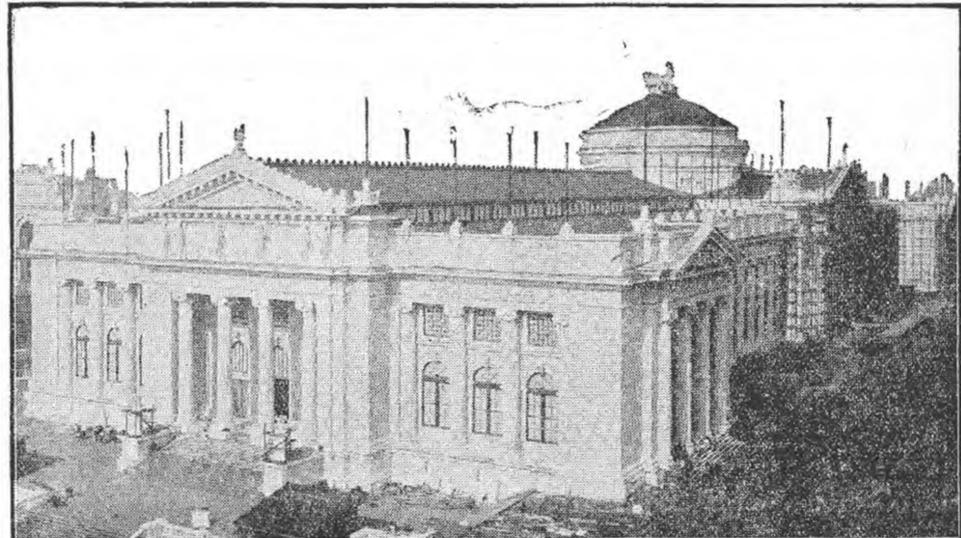

Germany's participation in this World's Fair surpasses anything that that great nation has ever done at any other international exposition. The National pavilion, on a high hill overlooking the Cascades, is a faithful reproduction of the ancient castle Charlottenburg, and the gardens sur-

Hank Monk drove Horace Greeley into Placerville "on time" is seen daily in the Gulch. Mark Twain and Artemus Ward, in the early days, made Hank Monk and the old coach famous by their vivid descriptions of the celebrated ride.

The landscape of the World's Fair is a feature of diversified beauty. It embraces hill and valley, plateau and lowland. In the Cascade region alone more than 4,000,000 brilliantly colored flowering and foliage plants are used in the creation of the Rainbow Gardens. More than 30,000,000 plants are used in beautifying other sections of the grounds. All of the main avenues are delightfully shaded with rows of silver maples, and in several sections there are great groups of forest trees that ever afford a delightful shade.

The largest engine in the world is an exhibit in the Palace of Machinery. This monster with a power equal to that of 5,000 horses, occupies a space in the center of the great structure, and towers 35 feet in the air. It is as large as an ordinary three-story house. Altogether the engines develop a power of 50,000 horses. At the Chicago exposition ten years ago, which more nearly than any other similar enterprise approaches the present in magnitude, the greatest power developed was 12,000 horse power.

The Pike is a most alluring place. It is a broad boulevard more than a mile long, with the shows of all nations arranged on either side in the most captivating array. The architecture of The Pike is that of all at the World's Fair. These queer people are small of stature and their bodies are covered with hair.

They are quite a different race from the modern Japanese. Japan, indeed, is in the front rank of nations at the great World's Fair. The site selected by Japan for her group of buildings is one of the choicest allotted to foreign nations, and the enterprising Japanese have made the most of their advantages. On a high hill overlooking Machinery Palace workmen from the Mikado's realm have built a number of quaint and beautiful pagodas and have embellished the surroundings with just such gardens as have won the Japanese the enviable reputation of developing and perfecting such flowers and plants as they cultivate.

rounding it are gems of the landscape architect's art. Germany's immense pavilion, of white and gold, in the mammoth Palace of Agriculture, is one of the features of that interesting building, while the Palace of Varied Industries contains another German exhibit of unique interest.

Most interest naturally centers in the races of the airships. To win the grand prize of $100,000 the successful aeronaut must cover the 10-mile course at the speed of 18 1/2 miles an hour. Santos Dumont has several of his wonderful machines on the ground and is sanguine of success. Other noted aeronauts are prepared to contest vigorously with the famous little Brazilian.

ages and countries, from the prehistoric ages to the present day, and everything that is new, strange and interesting is shown in this street of all nations. After night The Pike is a blaze of glory and myriads of electric lights accentuate the beauties of the quaint architecture.

In one newspaper article but few of the places of interest may be touched. A large volume would be required were each feature mentioned in a single line. The visitor who can find time but for a week's stay at the Fair will see more glories than he ever dreamed of, and were he to lengthen his stay to the seven months of the fair he could pass every moment in profitable and interesting sightseeing.

An Experience.

One of Allentown's young ladies returned recently from her first trip to New York. On reaching the metropolis she had accepted an invitation to a matinee. It was a brilliant production and left an impression which was dimmed only by a visit some time later to the opera in the evening. She was giving a glowing account of the first experience to some friends the other day, one of whom interpolated enviously: "Yes, I have seen it." "But," continued the other, "did you ever attend a matinee in the evening?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Why Co-operative Colonies Fail.

Co-operative colonies fail because they get out of touch with the great world around them," said a lecturer recently who had been a member of the famous colony of Zoar. "All the property and all the earnings of the Zoar colonists were divided equally," said he. "As a result there was less energy and thrift. Petty jealousies interfered with the colony work and when its leader died it gradually went to pieces."

Canadian Route Is Shorter.

At a recent meeting of the royal transportation commission in Halifax, reports and maps were submitted showing that the Canadian route between Europe and the East was 680 miles shorter than those from United States ports.

Russian Ship Canal.

Surveys, which have just been completed, for a ship canal across Russia to connect the Baltic and Black seas, show that the distance will be 1,468 miles and the cost $180,000,000.

SHE WANTED TO KNOW.

Girl's Question That Paralyzed Gun-nery Lieutenant.

She was a dear little girl, and had spent most of her life in a country rectory. It was not surprising, therefore, that her knowledge of things maritime and warlike was not extensive.

The young gunnery officer of H. M. S. — had been showing her round the battleship. It was the very first warship of any kind she had ever visited, and her mind was full of the wonderful sights presented.

Being an industrious and a thorough young man, the gunnery lieutenant had explained very fully the mechanism and the use of the torpedo in warfare.

She examined the long, deadly, cigar-shaped engine of war critically and fearfully.

Then she tapped it with the point of her parasol and let her glove run over its burnished side, and finally paralyzed the gunnery officer with the question:

"How does the crew get inside?"—London Tit-Bits.

California's Building.

California is erecting a pavilion in the agricultural building at the world's fair that will attract universal attention. Its exterior is entirely covered with dried fruit, four tons of apricots, peaches and prunes being exhibited.

Many Varieties of Mosquitoes.

In Louisiana's world fair exhibit there will be shown ninety-eight varieties of mosquitoes. They are in cases and are guaranteed not to bite or sting.

Center of Lamb-Raising Industry.

Greeley, Colo., is becoming almost as noted for its lamb, as for its potato industry. Shipments of young lambs from Greeley to Eastern and other markets, are now being made, at the rate of from 75 to 100 carloads a week. The experiment of feeding lambs during the winter months on a food composed, in large part of sugar-beet pulp, from the many beet sugar factories in that section of the State, has been proved a success in northern Colorado. Tens of thousands of sheep and lambs are now being fed in that manner at Greeley, Ft. Collins, Loveland and elsewhere, in the region referred to.

Real Case of Broken Heart.

"Died from a broken heart"—an old woman of 74, who married her fourth husband, aged 72, in December last, at West Ham, was deserted by him a fortnight after the wedding. She died suddenly on Sunday, her last words being: "My heart's broken!" and a coroner's jury, on Wednesday, found that the cause of death was valvular disease of the heart.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Noted Scientist.

Dr. Maximilian Nitze, who just a quarter of a century ago, invented a luminous apparatus for looking into the stomach and other internal organs, is still living in Berlin, where he is an instructor at the university.

Telephone Statistics.

In the United States there are upward of 20,000,000 families and at least 5,000,000 places of business, making a total of 25,000,000 opportunities to place telephones. Of these about one-eighth are now equipped.

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c cents, guaranteed, at T. E. Slattery's drug store.

National Baptist Anniversary, Cleveland, Ohio. Tickets on sale via Nickel Plate Road, May 16th 17th and 18th. One fare plus 25 cents for round trip. Good returning until May 26th. Limit extended on application. See nearest agent or address C. A. Asterlin, T. P. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.

BITS OF CURRENT HUMOR.

A Plymouth music dealer, not long since, received the following order: "Please send me the music to 'Strike the Harp in Praise of God and Paddle Your Own Canoe.'"

Among the replies to an advertisement of a music committee for "A candidate as organist, music teacher," etc., was the following: "Gentlemen: I noticed your advertisement for organist and music teacher, either lady or gentleman. Having been both for several years, I offer my services."

A gushing but ungrammatical editor writes: "We have received a basket of fine apples from our friend, Mr. Tompkins, for which he will please accept our compliments, some of which are nearly four inches in diameter."

"Mike! Mike! stop scratchin' yer head, bye."

"I won't, marm; they began on me first."

A German Jew was eating a pork chop in a thunder storm. On hearing an unusually loud clap, he laid down his knife and fork and observed:

"Vell did any pody efer hear such a fuss about a little biece of bork?"

Nathan's teacher believed in reducing poetry to diagram and visible outline. Therefore, she told the class to make a rough sketch of the poem, "The Old Oaken Bucket."

Nathan's illustration consisted of a large circle, three buckets and a bunch of dots.

"Nathan," said the teacher, "I don't understand this, what's the circle?"

"That's the well," replied Nathan.

"And why have you three buckets?"

"One is the old oaken bucket one is the iron-bound bucket and the other is the moss covered bucket which hung in the well."

"And what are those little dots?"

"Those are the loved spots which my infancy knew."

"Buy a trunk, Pat," said a dealer. "And what for should I buy a trunk?" rejoined Pat. "To put your clothes in," was the reply. "And go naked?" exclaimed Pat; "not a bit iv it!"

MRS. CECELIA STOWE,
Orator, Entro Nous Club.

176 Warren Avenue,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 22, 1902.

For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disheartened as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a desolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

Cecelia Stowe

Mrs. Stowe's letter shows every woman how a home is saddened by female weakness and how completely Wine of Cardui cures that sickness and brings health and happiness again. Do not go on suffering. Go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui.

THE GIRL AT THE HALFWAY HOUSE

A STORY OF THE PLAINS
BY E. HOUGH, AUTHOR OF THE STORY OF THE COWBOY
Copyrighted, 1903, by D. Appleton & Company, New York

"There must be some motive shown for the supposition of such an act as murder. What motive can be shown here? Certainly not that of robbery. The horse of the missing man came back alone, its lariar dragging, as we shall prove. It had not been ridden since the lariar was broken. You all know, as we shall prove, that this man Juan was never known to ride a horse. We shall prove that he walked sixty miles, to the very spot where the horse had been tied, and that he scorned to touch a horse on his whole journey. He wanted no horse. He stole no horse. That was no motive.

"To be subject to the law, as you very well know, a man must be morally responsible. He must know right and wrong. I shall show to you that when this man was a child he was struck a severe blow upon the head and that since that time he has never been of sound mind, his brain never recovering from that shock, a blow which actually broke in a portion of his skull. Since that time he has had recurrent times of violent insanity, with alternating spells of what seems a semi-idiotcy. This man's mind never grew. In some ways his animal senses are keen to a remarkable degree, but of reason he has little or none. He can not tell you why he does thus or so. This I shall prove to you.

"I ask you, gentlemen of the jury, you who hold this man's life in your hands, are you going to hang a man for murder when it is not shown a murder has been done? And would you hang a man who is more ignorant than a child of right or wrong? Is that fair play? Gentlemen, we are all here together, and one of us is as good as another. Our ambitions are the same. We stand here together for the best interests of this growing country—this country whose first word has always been fair play.

"I say, first give him his chance."

Now, is it your already formed wish to punish this man? I say, no. I say, first give him his chance.

As Franklin ceased and broken himself the silence was again broken by a rising buzz of conversation. This was proving really a very interesting show, this trial. It must go on yet a little further.

"Call William Haskins," said the prosecuting attorney, standing up, with his hands in his pockets.

"William Haskins, William Haskins, William Haskins! Come into court!" cried the clerk from his corner of the store box. No immediate response was made. Some one nudged Curly, who started up.

"Who—me?" he said.

"Is your name William Haskins?" asked the judge.

"Reckon so," said Curly. "My folks used to call me that. I usually go under the road brand o' 'Curly,' though." He took his seat on a stool near the store box, was sworn, with his hat on, and the prosecuting attorney began the examination.

"What is your name?"

"Why, Curly."

"What is your occupation?"

"What?"

"How do you make your living?"

"Punchin' cows. Not that I 'low it's any o' yore d—d business."

"Where do you reside?"

"Where do I live?"

"Yes."

"Well, now, I don't know. My folks lives on the Brazos, an' I've been drivin' two years. Now I take up a claim on the Smoky, out here. I 'low I'll go North right soon, to Wyoming, maybe."

"How old are you?"

"Oh, I don't know; but I 'low about twenty-four or twenty-five, along in there."

"Where were you last Wednesday?"

"What?"

"Were you one of the posse sent out to search for Cal Greathouse?"

"Yep; me and Cap Franklin, there."

"Who else?"

"Why, Juan, there, him. He was trailin' the boss for us."

"Where did you go?"

"About sixty miles southwest, into the breaks of the Smoky."

"What did you find?"

"We found a old camp. Hoss had been tied there and broke his lariar. Bushes was broke some, but we didn't see no blood, as I know of."

"Never mind what you didn't see."

"Well, now—"

"Answer my question."

"I object, yo' Honoh! I object!" cried the state's attorney, springing to his feet. "This is bringin' the dignity o' the law into ridicule, sah! Into ridicule! I object!"

"Er, ah-h-h!" yawned the judge, suddenly sitting up. "Journ court, Mr. Clerk! We will set to-morrow mornin' at the same place, at nine o'clock. Who is in charge of this prisoner? There ought to be some one to take care of him."

"I reckon I am, Judge," said Curly. "He is sort o' stayin' with me while Bill's under the weather."

"Well, take him in charge, some one, and have him here in the mornin'."

"All right, Judge," said Curly quietly. "I'll take care of him."

It was three o'clock of the afternoon. The thirst of a district judge had adjourned the district court. Franklin's heart sank. He dreaded the night. The real court, as he admitted to himself would continue its session that night at the Cottage bar, and perhaps it might not adjourn until a verdict had been rendered.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Verdict.

There came over the town of Ellenville that night an ominous quiet. But few men appeared on the streets. Nobody talked, or if any one did there was one subject to which no reference was made.

Franklin finished his dinner, went to his room and buckled on his revolver, smiling grimly as he did so at the thought of how intimately all law is related to violence, and how relative to its environment is all law. He went to Battersleigh's room and knocked entering at the loud invitation of that friend.

"Shure, Ned, me boy," said Battersleigh, "ye've yer side arms on this evenin'. Ye give up the profession of arms with reluctance. Tell me, Ned, what's the campaign for the evenin'?"

"Well," said Franklin, "I thought I'd step over and sit awhile with Curly this evening. He may be feeling a little lonesome."

"Quite right ye are, me boy," said Battersleigh cheerfully. "Quite right. An' if ye don't mind I'll just jine ye. It's lonesome I am meself the night."

Battersleigh busied himself about his room, and soon appeared arrayed, as was Franklin himself, with revolver at his belt.

"Shure, Ned, me boy," he said, "an' officer an' a gentleman should niver appear abroad without his side arms. At last, methinks, not on a night like this." He looked at Franklin calmly, and the latter rose and grasped the hand of the fearless old soldier without a word. The two strolled out together down the street in the direction of the shanty where Curly was keeping his "prisoner."

CLEVER TRICK THAT WON.

Ambitious Youth Sold His Verses by a Ruse.

Many years ago, writes Mr. Thomas Bailey Aldrich in "Ponkapog Papers," a noted Boston publisher used to keep a large memorandum book on a table in his private office. The volume always lay open, and was in no manner a private affair, being the receptacle of nothing more important than hastily scrawled reminders to attend to this thing or the other.

It chanced one day that a very young, unfledged author, passing through the city, looked in upon the publisher, who was also the editor of a famous magazine. The unfledged had a copy of verses secreted about his person. The publisher was absent and young Milton sat down and waited.

Presently his eye fell upon the memorandum book, lying there spread out like a morning newspaper, and almost in spite of himself he read, "Don't forget to see the binder," "Don't forget to mail E. his contract," "Don't forget H.'s proofs," and so forth.

An inspiration seized upon the youth. He took a pencil and at the tail of this long list of "don't forgets" he wrote, "Don't forget to accept A.'s poem."

He left his manuscript on the table and disappeared. That afternoon when the publisher glanced over his memoranda he was not a little astonished at the last item; but his sense of humor was so strong that he did accept the poem—it required a strong sense of humor to do that—and sent the lad a check for it, although the verses remain to this day unprinted.—Youth's Companion.

Mechanical Aids to Rapid Reading.

At the meeting of the French Academy of Sciences, held recently, M. Andre Broca and M. Sulzer communicated a paper on the subject of rapid reading. They showed that the different letters of the alphabet are not all apprehended with the same quickness. For instance, the time taken to recognize an E is nearly one-third longer than that taken to recognize a T. They consider that the alphabet is badly designed from a physiological point of view. It should be composed of very simply designed letters as T or L. Rapidity of reading would thus be increased and "brain fog" would be notably diminished. It would also be better to have the letters printed in white on a black ground than the system which obtains at present. The time taken to recognize a letter printed in black on a white ground was nearly ten times longer than white on a black ground.

LIVE ON THE WATER.

Colony of Houseboats Gathered in San Francisco Bay.

The nearest approach, in America, to anything like houseboating on the Tnames is found in "Arktown," a colony of thirty or forty houseboats in San Francisco bay. These boats, or "arks," as they are familiarly spoken of, are built of two or four abandoned street cars, set end to end, two and two, or in a solid square, on a flat-bottom boat, a "broad, square-nosed sloop," or scow.

When the cars are of the old-fashioned kind with long seats on either side, the seats are built out a little and upholstered, making comfortable beds by night, and with plenty of pillows they are ease-inviting lounging places by day. A stationary table in the center and folding ones at the sides are easily managed, and books and closets are found in the most unexpected places. In the four-car boats one car is turned into a kitchen and dining room, each one a marvel of convenience and comfort.—Laura B. Starr, in Four-Track News.

"SOUND AS A DOLLAR."

Monticello, Minn., April 25th.—Mr. J. W. Moore of this place, stands as a living proof of the fact that Bright's Disease, even in the last stages may be perfectly and permanently cured.

Mr. Moore says: "In 1898 three reputable physicians, after a careful examination told me that I would die with Bright's Disease inside of a year. My feet and ankles and legs were badly swollen; I could hardly stand on my feet and had given up all hopes of getting cured, when a traveling salesman told me that he himself had been cured of Bright's Disease two years before.

"He said he had taken to his bed and expected to die with it, but that he had been cured by a remedy called Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I commenced taking them at once and I am thankful to say that they saved my life. After a short treatment, I was completely restored to good health and I am as sound as a dollar."

Windows in Dairy Barns.

More light is needed in most of our dairy barns. Last week the writer visited a dairy stable in which nine cows are kept. It was the smallest stable for that number of cows he ever saw and the wonder was that the cows could have lived through the winter just past, when the cold was so great and continuous that the stable must have been kept shut up for days at a time. It was not more than ten feet in height, so far as available space for air was concerned, and the cows were packed as closely together as it was possible for them to stand, with a feeding floor only six feet wide in front. There was a single window in the west. Yet from this stable went out milk to supply the neighboring villagers. Conditions were almost at that point where a board of health could be justified in stepping in. Yet the owner had tried to be up-to-date and had laid cement floors both in front of and behind the cows. Over the cement were laid planks to make the cows more comfortable. This showed enterprise, yet the great lack was light. In the building of a new stable the addition of the proper windows is not a hard matter, and in the case of stables already in use this should not be neglected. Few of our cow keepers fully appreciate the health-giving powers of light.

Producing Good Milk.

The whole secret of producing good milk can be generalized in a few words: Healthy, clean and well-fed cows having a clean, comfortable stable; healthy, clean and quiet milkers having a disposition to treat the cows at least fairly; sound, clean and sterilized utensils, prompt cooling and protection of the milk. This is the secret that is bringing success to some dairymen while their neighbors fail. These conditions could be introduced easily, cheaply and profitably into thousands of dairies. Too many dairymen make the mistake of thinking that a large outlay of money is necessary before high-grade milk can be produced. They are scared off by a phantom. The fact is, many dairies could be changed to a sanitary from an unsanitary condition without the expenditure of a single dollar in cash. More light, more fresh air, better arrangements for bringing the feed and for removing manure, a little time each day to clean the stable and the cows, a coat of fresh whitewash once or twice a year to cover and kill the bacteria on the walls and partitions—these things are not expensive—and perhaps a new ceiling or floor above the cows to exclude dust from the hay mow.—R. A. Pearson.

Stanchion Should Go.

In spite of all that has been said against the stanchion it still persists on our farms. That it should be discarded is the verdict of about every man that does any thinking along this line. The rigid stanchion may be easy to build, and easy to understand the construction of, by the ordinary farm carpenter that has built no other kind in all his life, but that does not make it a humane arrangement. It does not permit the cow to place her head in sleeping as nature intended she should. It does not permit a cow to lick her haunches, as cows do now and then if they are to be comfortable. The cow in the rigid stanchion is very much of a prisoner, with little chance to move her body for any purpose. There are numerous stanchion arrangements now on the market, and many ideas in addition have been expressed in the public press that are not controlled by patent rights. There are probably few localities where some sort of humane arrangement is not in sight and cannot be inspected by the cow owner that wants to make his animals comfortable.

THE SCHOONER SHOULD GO.

The School Principal Talks About Food.

The Principal of a High School in a flourishing Cal. city says:

"For 23 years I worked in the school with only short summer vacations. I formed the habit of eating rapidly, masticated poorly which coupled with my sedentary work led to indigestion, liver trouble, lame back and rheumatism.

"Upon consulting physicians some doped me with drugs, while others prescribed dieting and sometimes I got temporary relief, other times not. For 12 years I struggled along with this handicap to my work, seldom laid up but often a burden to myself with lameness and rheumatic pains.

"Two years ago I met an old friend, a physician who noticed at once my out-of-health condition and who prescribed for me an exclusive diet of Grape-Nuts, milk and fruit.

"I followed his instructions and in two months I felt like a new man with no more headaches, rheumatism or liver trouble and from that time to this Grape-Nuts has been my main food for morning and evening meals, am stronger and healthier than I have been for years without a trace of the old troubles.

"Judging from my present vigorous physical and mental state I tell my people Methuselah may yet have to take second place among the old men, for I feel like I will live a great many more years.

"To all this remarkable change in health I am indebted to my wise friend and Grape-Nuts and I hope the Postum Co. will continue to manufacture this life and health giving food for several centuries yet, until I move to a world where indigestion is unknown." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Women who work, whether in the house, store, office or factory, very rarely have the ability to stand the strain. The case of Miss Frankie Orser, of Boston, Mass., is interesting to all women, and adds further proof that woman's great friend in need is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered misery for several years. My back ached and I had bearing down pains, and frequent headaches. I would often wake from a restful sleep in such pain and misery that it would be hours before I could close my eyes again. I dreaded the long nights and weary days. I could do no work. I consulted different physicians hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicines did not cure me, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was highly recommended to me. I am glad that I did so, for I soon found that it was the medicine for my case. Very soon I was rid of every ache and pain and restored to perfect health. I feel splendid, have a fine appetite, and have gained in weight a lot."—Miss FRANKIE ORSER, 14 Warren St., Boston, Mass.

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, sick and discouraged, and exhausted with each day's work. Some derangement of the feminine organs is responsible for this exhaustion, following any kind of work or effort. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as it has thousands of other women.

The case of Mrs. Lennox, which follows, proves this.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last winter I broke down suddenly and had to seek the advice of a doctor. I felt sore all over, with a pounding in my head, and a dizziness which I had never experienced before. I had a miserable appetite, nothing tasted good, and gradually my health broke down completely. The doctor said I had female weakness, but, although I took his medicine faithfully, I found no relief.

"After two months I decided to try what a change would do for me, and as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was strongly recommended to me I decided to try it. Within three days I felt better, my appetite returned, and I could sleep. In another week I was able to sit up part of the day, and in ten days more I was well. My strength had returned, I gained fourteen pounds, and felt better and stronger than I had for years. I gratefully acknowledge its merits. Very sincerely yours, MRS. BERT E. LENNOX, 120 East 4th St., Dixon, Ill."

By investing in five shares of our 6,000 acre rubber plantation in Mexico. We are investing our own money in the business, you can join us and share in our profits.

Cultivation of rubber is the safest and most profitable business of the age. If we had the means to develop a large plantation we should not offer to share our profits with others. Shares can be secured on small monthly payments as the development work progresses. A payment of $30.00 secures a contract for five shares, then you pay $20.00 a month for eleven months. $15.00 a month for twelve months, then only $12.50 a month until the total cost $525.00 per share has been paid. After the fourth year you receive dividends that will more than pay the last three years' installments. After the seventh year these five shares will bring to the investor not less than $100.00 a month for more than a life time.

Send at once $20.00 as the first payment on five shares or $4.00 per share for as many shares as you wish to carry, or write for our printed matter which explains our plan fully. TROOPS BEAT LABOR LEADER

Secretary of Western Federation of Miners Is Nearly Killed.

TRIED TO SPEAK WITH MOYER

President Was Brought to Denver on Writ of Habeas Corpus and Fellow Official Sought to Consult With Him When He Got Into Trouble.

Denver, Colo., special: Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who has been in the custody of state troops at Telluride for several weeks, is being guarded by troops at a hotel pending the decision of the supreme court on his plea for release on a writ of habeas corpus. Moyer's arrival at Denver was marked by a series of sensational events.

When Moyer arrived at the depot, escorted by a strong military guard, Secretary Haywood of the Western Federation of Miners, began hostilities by slapping Capt. Wells, commanding the guard.

Two soldiers promptly knocked Haywood under a car seat. Haywood was then arrested and taken with Moyer to the Oxford hotel, where he knocked down two more soldiers.

Soldiers attacked Haywood with clubbed muskets and bayonets, and beat him into insensibility.

Refuse to Give Up Prisoner. A riot call brought a wagon load of police. The demand of the police for the surrender of Haywood was refused.

Surgeons reported that Haywood had been cut with bayonets on both sides of the head, and that one ear had been nearly severed.

When the smoke of battle had cleared away, Moyer entered a hack with Adjt. Gen. Bell and Capt. Bulkeley Welles, the respondents to the writ, and the vehicle was driven to the state house, followed by thirty-two armed soldiers, who guarded the entrances to the courtroom while the habeas corpus proceedings were in progress.

The return of the writ presented by Attorney General Miller set forth that Moyer is lawfully restrained of his liberty, under the express command of the governor and military, and asked that the writ be quashed and Moyer released. Gen. Bell's answer was that Moyer was an active participant in fomenting disorder, and that it was necessary to restrain him.

Court Reverses Decision. The court heard arguments on a motion of the petitioner to be admitted to bail pending a decision on the question of the court's jurisdiction and took the matter under advisement. Mr. Moyer was then removed to the hotel in custody of the military.

The incidents at the depot in the morning might easily have developed into a riot. W. D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the federation, attempted to hold a conversation with Moyer. Ordered to stand back by Capt. Welles, commanding the guard, he struck the officer in the face. In a second he was surrounded by a cordon of troopers, who struck at him with the butts of their carbines and beat him with six shooters. That he was not killed is due to the action of Bert Given, the orderly of Capt. Welles, who struck up the muzzle of a gun aimed at Haywood and rescued him.

Placed under arrest, he was put in the middle of a hollow square of militiamen and marched to the Oxford hotel, near the depot. Here he again showed fight and was beaten into submission.

When a demand was made by Police Capt. Frank Lee for the release of Haywood, Gen. Bell replied that he intended to hold Haywood as a military prisoner and would shoot any one who attempted to take him, but nevertheless, under orders from Gov. Peabody, Haywood was surrendered to Sheriff Armstrong and placed in the county jail.

JOAQUIN MILLER SUES HEARST

Poet Claims $2,400 Is Due Him for Correspondence.

San Francisco, Cal., dispatch: Joaquin Miller, the poet, has filed a suit in the United States circuit court to recover from William Randolph Hearst a balance of $2,420, alleged to be due for correspondence from China during the "boxer" troubles. The complaint recites that the poet was on duty ninety days and paid out $1,145 for expenses, and that a reasonable compensation for his services would be $20 a day, or $1,800. He avers that Hearst paid him only $525, leaving a balance due of $2,420.

in any form or la grippe. A course of Peruna is sure to correct all these conditions. It is an ideal spring medicine. Peruna does not irritate—it invigorates. It does not temporarily stimulate—it strengthens. It equalizes the circulation of the blood, tranquilizes the nervous system and regulates the bodily functions. Peruna, unlike so many spring medicines is not simply a physic or stimulant or nervine. It is a natural tonic and invigorator. If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Queen of the Iron Trade.

J. Pierpont Morgan's great rival in the iron world is Miss Antoinette Bertha Krupp, heiress to the great Krupp gun and iron works in Germany. Miss Krupp is probably the richest young woman in Europe. She is the elder of the two daughters of the late Baron Alfred Krupp. His last will and testament made her heiress to all his millions, including the gun works at Essen, the ship works and wharves at Kiel and all his iron ore and coal mines in Westphalia and in Spain. Conservative estimates make the value of this great property at least $75,000,000. When Miss Krupp becomes of age all this wealth becomes hers absolutely. She is 19 years old.

Roxburghe Duchess Not Popular.

In some way London society concluded that the young duchess of Roxburghe, formerly Miss Goelet of New York, intended rather to give herself airs and to patronize other women in the ultra swell set. As a result she will be called upon to overcome a certain amount of prejudice—even more than other American women have experienced. Already the sobriquet of "the little duchess" has been conferred upon her. This will be especially annoying to the young woman, whose small stature has always been one of her sensitive points.

Childish Comfort.

Father Ducey is laughingly relating a recent experience of his. He was walking along Fourth avenue when he saw a little boy crying bitterly. As he stopped to inquire the cause of the tears he was forestalled by a small girl, who asked sympathetically: "What ails you, boy? Why are you crying so hard?" "Because mother's gone to heaven," sobbed the child. "Oh, don't fret so," replied the girl consolingly, "sure maybe she hasn't." —New York Times.

Facial Characteristics.

The broad, full chin, with the face in harmony, with full, red lips, will respond to a good development of the social faculties and the enjoyment of health. As women possess, as a rule, more of the vital temperament than men, this sign is generally large. Social people have broad chins. Narrow and selfish people will have narrow chins. Weakly people will have retreating chins. Courageous, bold and energetic people will have protruding chins of the pugnacious order.

Tin Ore in Transvaal.

It is reported from Johannesburg that a new and unexpected source of wealth has been discovered in the territory of the late Boer republic. Near the eastern border of the Transvaal, on the ledge of the lofty South African plateau, three valuable lodes of tin ore have been found, and the deposits are apparently so extensive that predictions are heard that the new colony may prove to be as rich in tin and copper as it is already known to be in gold.

Toy for Millionaire's Child.

When George J. Gould, Jr., 6 years old, woke up on Christmas morning he found Santa Claus had brought him the most perfectly appointed miniature railway train ever built. It is an exact reproduction of a first-class Pullman train.

OBITUARY.

HENRY SHAW.

Mr. Henry Shaw was born Sept. 21, 1839, died April 21, 1904, aged 64 years and 7 months. He was a son of Henry and Margaret Shaw, who came as pioneers from Hancock county, Ohio, to Starke county, Indiana, in 1851. Mr. Shaw spent 15 years of his life in the far west, where he experienced much hard usage. When he returned to Marshall county he was married to Miss Mary Patsel. To this union were born five children, one son and four daughters. One daughter preceded the father to the spirit world. There survive him the wife and four children. Mrs. Sisk of Plymouth, Charity, Verona and Harry. The departed had been a great sufferer from rheumatism since 1875.

CALVIN W. REISH.

Calvin W. Reish was born in Center Co. Pennsylvania Jan. 30th 1858, died April 21st 1904, aged 45 years 3 months 11 days. When about 15 years of age he with his parents removed from Pa. to Fulton Co. Ind., where he has ever since resided. He was a son of John and Catherine Reish being one of a family of fourteen children. The father and mother and seven of the family of children having preceded him to the spirit world and those remaining are Adam Reish, Mrs. Chas. Rannels, Mrs. Eli Ball of this vicinity, Mrs. Jacob Crim, of Rochester, Mrs. Amos Reigo of Colorado and Mrs. Frank Birk of Chicago. Mr. Reish was united in marriage with Lizzie E. Hunter May 17, 1880, to them ten children were born, two of whom have preceded the father. Three boys and five girls survive.

Brother Reish united with the Leiters Ford M. E. Church in the year 1888 having continued in the faith up to the time of his death and during his illness showed by action and word that he had abiding faith in the father and was ready to go when the summons came. Mr. Reish was a mechanic his occupation being that of a carpenter. He was a member of the Leiters Ford Ancient Order of Gleaners, holding the office of Chaplain at the time of his death. He was a good citizen, a faithful husband and a beloved father, he had the love and respect of all and the bereft family has the sympathy of the community.

The funeral services were conducted by his pastor Rev. E. G. Pelley who preached a peculiarly fitting discourse from Matt. 14: 16. "They need not depart." Service was held at the M. E. Church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Resolutions of Condolence.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the most high universe to call from our Arbor our beloved companion Mrs. Della Castleman Cox.

Then be it resolved that we, companions of Ober Arbor bow in humble submission to the will of the all wise Supreme Ruler;

RESOLVED, That in the loss of Companion Della, our Arbor has lost a faithful member; one who was ever with kind heart and ready hand to cheer and help her friends and Arbor Companions. A Companion loved by all and one whom our Arbor will ever cherish in its memories.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be placed on the records of our Arbor, one copy sent to her parents, one to her husband and be published in the following papers: "Culver Citizen" and "The Gleaner."

MAUDE OSBOEN,

Arbor Lecturer and Chairman of Committee on Resolutions.

'Kansas To Honor John J. Ingalls. Kansas will place in statutory hall at the capitol at Washington a statue of the late Senator John J. Ingalls. The model represents a figure of heroic size, erect, and the head thrown slightly back. The figure is clad in an overcoat thrown open and a long coat buttoned. Hanging in front are a pair of eyeglasses and in one hand is a manuscript—the other rests on a column. The statue will not be completed for at least a year.
