PARKER AND DAVIS.

New York Jurist and Ex-United States Senator from West Virginia Named by Democratic National Convention.

For President-Alton Brooks Parker of New York. For Vice President-Henry G. Davis of West Virginia.

Judge Alton Brooks Parker of New York was nominated for President of the United States by the Democratic national convention at St. Louis July 9. Only one ballot was taken

On the completion of the ballot Judge Parker had received a total of 658 votes. Before the vote was announced, though, Idaho changed her six votes to him from Hearst, giving him 664 votes, and West Virginia added three from Hearst, thus giving the New Yorker 667, or exactly the two- deed, the all pervading figure-was thirds necessary.

Following is the result of the roll call by states: Parker-Alabama, 22; Arkansas, 18; total. 3. Williams-North Dakota, 8. Coler-Oregon, 1.

Gorman-West Virginia, 2.

After Idaho and West Virginia had nominated Parker the nomination was made unanimous on motion of Champ Clark, the permanent chairman, and then the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the nomination for vice president was made. The most dramatic scene in the convention came just before the balloting began. The central figure in it-inthe Nebraskan, who has twice led his party to defeat in presidential elections. For forty-seven minutes Mr. Bryan pleaded for party harmony, praised the platform as the best compromise available, and seconded the

, While the Democratic national convention was in session July 9 Judge Alton Brooks Parker, the nominee for president, telegraphed the convention that he believed in the gold standard and that unless the convention knew his belief and still favored his candidacy he must decline to be the standard bearer of the party. A conference of party leaders hurriedly assembled. In a stormy session Senator Tillman denounced Parker's action, and Senator Hill strove to find a solution. At 5:30 o'clock, with all uncertainty, the convention was adjourned until 9 o'clock.

When the convention reassembled Senator Hill and other Parker adherents offered as a solution a telegram to Parker stating that the monetary standard had been ignored in the platform because it was not considered an issue in the campaign.

The resolution sending the message to Judge Parker passed the conven-

ENGINEMAN WATCHES STORM

Man at Throttle Endeavors to Escape Cyclone by Stopping, but Is Forced to Race With Clouds, Which Overtake Him.

Petersburg, Ill., special: An accommodation passenger train on the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis railroad, was blown from the track at Oakford. Ill., twelve miles north of Petersburg, early Tuesday evening, and one man killed and a number injured.

Thomas Wiley, aged 52, Springfield, Ill., is dead.

The seriously injured include George Coleman, conductor, Springfield; back hurt; Henry R. Chaneur, Springfield, head cut; Henry Eicheneuer, Petersburg, Ill., shoulder and back hurt; W. H. Gridley, general manager, Chicago, cut in head; Thomas Hogan, Springfield; Mrs. Thomas Hogan, Springfield; Ernest Lieb, Springfield, injured internally; Frank Lynn, Chandierville, Ill., head cut; Louis Mendonsa, brakeman, shoulder and arm injured; Ben Swazee, aged 70, Springfield, Ill., back broken; Fred Toennings, Springfield, head cut, back burt.

Goes Down Embankment.

The train consisted of two coaches, a baggage car, and the engine and all but the engine were hurled from the track down a seven foot embankment, turning over twice in the descent, and landing in a splintered mass of debris. .

The accident happened just a few rods from the bridge over the Sangamon river. The work of relief began immediately, as owing to the remarkable escape of nearly all the few passengers aboard, those who were injured and pinioned in the detris were speedily rescued and at once given attention.

NEW USE FOR ALUMINUM.

It Replaces Wood in the Making of Bobbins for Factories.

According to La Metallurgie, at a recent meeting of the "Societe d'Encouragement pour l'Industre National," an interesting paper was read on the substitution of aluminum for wood in the machinery of spinning mills, reports Consul Guenther. In the textile industries-spinning, dycing, and silk weaving, among others-a wooden bobbin is generally used. This is cheap and easily worked, but it has many drawbacks. Being very hygrometric, it suffers from variations of temperature; this accounts for the fact that in spinning factories where the atmosphere is full of humidity the bobbins revolve irregularly, causing jerks which slacken the speed and occasion the threads to break. The result is waste of stuff and loss of time in joining the threads again. It has been proposed to substitute aluminum for wood. Bobbins made of this metal revolve in any temperature and any degree of humidity; their relative lightness (five aluminum bobbins weigh no more than two wooden ones) allows the machines carrying them to move more quickly, or an equal speed may be obtained at less expense of motive power; finally, the smaller volume of the bobbin diminishes the cost of transport. It was stated that several firms had adopted the use of aluminum bobbins and had found that they possessed many advantages.

Quite a Loss to Actresses.

Popular actresses made in the past from $300 to $1,500 a year on the sale of their photographs, but now this source of revenue is altogether lost to them.

"I," said a popular actress, "drew from my photographer, up to ten years ago, a regular annual income of $800. I was under contract to pose only for him; he had the exclusive sale of my pictures, and on each picture that he sold he paid me a royalty.

"That is the way it used to be with all popular actresses. They signed papers to the effect that they would pose only for one photographer, and he signed papers to the effect that he would pay them a royalty on each of their pictures that he sold. Thus they made easily from $5 to $25 a week. "No such pleasant condition exists to-day. The change is due to that perfecting in the half tone process whereby the magazines, the weeklies and the newspapers can reproduce photographs beautifully."-New York Telegram.

Watches Storm Gather.

The engineer, who escaped injury, said he watched the gathering storm closely as his train sped along, as he feared from the appearance of the clouds that a tornado might result. As the train approached Oakford the clouds suddenly seemed to concentrate and drop, apparently coming directly towards the train.

Realizing that the train would encounter the tornado if it proceeded the engineer came to a halt. The approaching tornado, when about a mile away, suddenly swerved and the train was directly in its path.

Train Attracts Tornado. Then the engineer endeavored to run beyond the zone of danger and again the tornado swerved and headed directly for the flying train. The roar was heard plainly above the rattle of the cars. Steam was crowded on and like a rocket the light accommodation, jumping and pounding on the rails, rushed ahead in an endeavor to cross before the storm.

Suddenly with a crash that was heard above the rumble and roar of the tornado, the train was struck broadside, the coaches torn from the engine and lifted into the air and hurled from the embankment into the ditch. The engine alone remained upon the rails.

The storm was described by Brakeman Mendonsa as a funnel shaped cloud, accompanied by darkness and a tremendous rain.

"As soon as the train stopped." he said, "I felt the car going over, and I grabbed a seat and held to it. Men, women, and a number of babies were being tossed about in the car as it rolled down the emhankment."

Cars Take Fire.

The engine was hurried on to Petersburg, where a relief train was speedily made up, and, bearing physicians, hurried back to the scene. The wrecked cars took fire, but the flames were extinguished before any headway had been made. As soon as possible the injured were placed aboard the relief train and taken to Springfield and Havana.

Sir James Clerk of Penicuik bet with a friend that he would between sunrise and sunset prepare the line of road, extending nearly a mile in length by twenty paces in breadth. It happened to be in the winter season, when many men were unemployed. He had no difficulty in collecting several hundreds of these on the ground at the appointed time, when he gave them all a plentiful breakfast of porter, whisky and bread and cheese, after which, just as the sun rose, he ordered them to set to work, some to tear down inclosures, others to unroof and demolish cottages and a considerable portion to bring earth to fill up a great hollow to the required height. The inhabitants, dismayed at so vast a force and so summary a mode of procedure, made no resistance. So active were the workmen that before sunset the road was sufficiently formed to allow Sir James to drive his carriage over it.

convention at St. Louis July 6 Temporary Chairman John Sharp Williams said:

"There have always been two great parties which, since the first national political conventions, have elected delegates to conventions for the purpose of selecting a candidate and promulgating a platform. One of these parties has gone through its party election of delegates, has selected a candidate and announced a platform. It was one of the quietest and 'most unanimous' occasions that the muses of history have recorded. Everything seemed to have been fixed beforehand. There are some conveniences about a convention of that sort. One of them is that the temporary chairman knows six or nine months beforehand that he is going to be temporary chairman. He also knows what he is wanted to say, compared with what he wants to say. The platform comes ready written-no discussion about it-and is perhaps revised by the candidate himself, who has also been agreed upon.

"The address of the temporary chairman of the Republican national convention was, in one sense, historical. Mr. Root knew how to pay a debt. The country has not yet forgotten when Mr. Roosevelt paid a glowing tribute to his cabinet, which wound up with the sentiment, 'And the greatest of these is Root.'" Here the speaker quoted the president as saying: "Elihu Root is the ablest man I have known in our governmental service. I will go further. He is the greatest man that has appeared in the public life of any country, in

"But enough about the other party. Some things about ourselves-one thing the country can rely upon; the democracy will nominate for president a man trained in the ways of the constitution, who will not usurp legislative or judicial functions; who will not recklessly violate international usages, even with the weakest nation, no matter how tempting the profit to be reaped by it; who will not keep people guessing about what he is going to do or say next.

"It will nominate him upon a platform ignoring dead issues and dealing with every present live issue in tones certain and unmistakable; favoring economy of administration, enforcement of honesty in the public service, a wise and businesslike revision and reduction of the tariff by the friends of the masses and of the commonweal, and not by tariff beneficiaries and their representatives alone; a reduction which shall aim at equality of burdens and equality of opportunities and whose ultimate object shall be to raise a revenue by taxation, to support the federal government in virility, but in simplicity-an object to be reached in a business-like, conservative and commonsense way, with due regard to existing conditions, and by steps constituting in themselves an object lesson for their own justification and for the justication of further reforms. Will Act on Tariff. "It will not falter when it comes to declaring for a reduction of tariff taxation on trust-produced articles to the point where foreign competition may enter the American market when combines seeking monopoly, raise their prices to the American consumer to the point of extortion, nor will it falter in declaring for reduction where American concerns habitually charge American consumers higher prices than those charged foreigners for identical articles.

> of guns of the besiegers are secrets which probably will not be revealed until the final and decisive action. Fragmentary information from various sources, especially Chinese, reaches Japan, but its publication or the sending of it abroad is forbidden under a severe penalty.

Much concerning the siege of Port Arthur could be published without injury to the Japanese cause, but the general staff, resolved to avoid aiding St. Petersburg or Gen. Kouropatkin with a single shred of information, has placed an absolute embargo on the transmission of all news.

No foreigner accompanies either the Japanese forces which are besieging Port Arthur, the army under Gen. Oku, or the army which was landed at Takushan, and the newspaper correspondents and foreign attaches with Gen. Kuroki are made to remain within a circle having a radius of a little over half a mile.

Many false reports concerning the war operations are being sent abroad. These the Japanese welcome as being just so much more chaff and sand thrown in the eyes of the enemy.

Push Fighting at Port Arthur.

The Tokio Jiji Shimpo publishes a special dispatch from Chefoo which states that reliable information has been received there that a naval action was fought off Port Arthur July 9, the engagement lasting from 9 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The Japanese now confronting Port Arthur advanced on July 2 and after severe fighting on July 4 at 3 o'clock in the morning captured the Miaotude fortress with eight guns. This is the first strong, inclosed fort south of Dalny. By this capture Port Arthur can now also be bombarded direct from that side. The fleet gave splendid assistance to the land attack, silencing the Russian guns, and the enemy fled. A war balloon was employed by the Japanese for reconnoitering. A special dispatch to the Kokumin says the Liaotung army attacked 2,-000 Russians and occupied Kaiping (Kaichow).

"In this wonderful mutual-admira-Son society of 'me, too, Teddy, and me, too, 'Lihu,' is the return-rhapsody of Mr. Root's peroration at all extravagant-considered from the standpoint of repayment, of course," the cnairman continued.

"Is it any wonder that he was the man selected by the candidate to 'lay it on strong?" A man of ability, too, Mr. Root, He had defended Tweed. Why not defend the Republican party in its hour of non-action, passivity, negation and mere obstruction? Indeed, he and the president have had minds so much alike that they have been suspected of 'unconscious iden-

Claims Antitrust Credit.

"The temporary chairman then told the country that the act to expedite hearings of the trust cases-namely, the act of Feb. 11, 1903, was 'republican legislation.' He forgot to say yet that is my recollection. I have than that of ex-Secretary Root. His ingenuity is never so marvelous as when its power is illustrated by the things which he forgets to mention. Verily he is the 'Rcot of all evil' when it comes to making the worst appear the better side of reason.

"The Republican platform, like the temporary chairman's speech, deals chiefly in the boast that the Republican party is responsible for everything good which has happened. It also deals much in ancient history.

"The platform in speaking of the accession of the Republican party to power after Mr. Cleveland's second administration had expired, uses this language: 'We then found the country, class, in this case the class of ship after four years of Democratic rule in evil plight oppressed with misfortune and doubtful of the future. Again on the subject of anti-trust action, he declared that the first attack begun on combinations of capital was made by President Cleveland. On the subject of business depression he said:

"Of course this platform had to contain the usual historical untruth, to wit, that 'a Democratic tariff has always been followed by business adversity-a Republican tariff by business prosperity.' Designing and ignorant men have repeated that so often that I am afraid there really are a good many people who believe it, and yet it is bad history again."

Thereupon, beginning with 1873, the temporary chairman gave his that every Democrat voted for it, and analysis of the causes of all the panics that have attacked this counnever known a more ingenious mind | try, denying that Democratic rule had anything to do with them.

"Facts" of Foreign Trade.

Mr. Williams, discussing the "foreign market" plank, said: "Plainly, our foreign commerce has grown, not because of, but in spite of, the obstructions which have been placed in the current of trade."

Mr. Williams then attacked the Republican plank on subsidies. He said:

"Then there is cunningly concealed in the Republican platform the hydra head of a yet worse form of special legislation, namely, by direct subsidy, taking money out of the treasury and handing it over bodily to a special builders and ship owners. This ship subsidy plank is bolstered by the usual false statement-this time in innuendo-that the English merchant marine-the most prosperous of all-Spain was feeble and mortifying, its dollar paid by the English government

"It will announce in no unmistakable way that we have no duty of any sort to 'intervene in' the internal affairs of other countries because they 'do not conduct themselves well' or because they 'do not know how to act with decency in industrial and political matters,' or because they 'do not keep order' or because they 'do not pay their obligations.' We will announce unmistakably to the world and to the nations of Europe that we will not make of the army and navy of the United States a constabulary for the collection of their debts from the governments or peoples of South and Central America. Where there is 'brutal wrongdoing or impotency which results in a general loosening of the ties of civilized society,' the American people will regret it and will extend every aid in the way of enlightenment and example to the people thus 'flying in darkness,' but they decline to administerthe affairs of such peoples or to take upon the United States treasury the burden of their internal refor-

Rout Foe at Kaichow.

The Japanese swarmed over the mountain crests at Tachekiao July 6 and advanced on Kaichow, compelling Gen. Chirikoff with the center of the Russian vanguard to fall back. A whole brigade of Japanese with masses of cavalry followed and occupled the village of Nantay, driving out two companies of Russian infantry and two companies of Cossacks which were intrenched there. The Japanese arrived within five miles of Kaichow. It was then nightfall.

Gen. Samsonoff made a heroic attempt to check the Japanese, galloping out with guns to shell the Japanese left and inflicting great loss on them, but fearing his retreat would be cut off he fell back and is now holding Kaichow. Gen. Chirikoff's force is stationed southeast of Kaichow. The plans of the Japanese remain a mystery to the Russian commanders.

That is the plank in which this lan- guage is used: 'We favor such con- gressional action as shall determine whether by special discrimination the elective franchise in any state has been unconstitutionally limited,' fol- lowed by the promise made, in that event, to reduce southern representa- tion in the two houses of congress and in the electoral college. "The Democracy, in my opinion, be- lieves that the white man will have trouble enough to maintain in its full integrity the white man's civilization in all parts of his own country, and it is neither his duty nor his right to superimpose his civilization by forces upon the brown man in the brown man's country. Since the occupation of Dalny the government officials have been silent concerning conditions at Port Arthur. CHAPTER IV.

Before the King.

When the curtain had fallen behind his advisers, the young king threw himself back upon his rude high seat and rested motionless among his cushions, his head hanging heavily upon his breast.

Crouching on her bench near the door, Randalin watched him as a fly caught in a web watches the approaching spider. Her eyes followed his roving glance from spear to banner, from floor to ceiling, in terrible anticipation. It approached her; it turned aside; it passed above her, hesitated, sank, touched her! Ashen white, she staggered to her feet and faced him.

"In the Troll's name, who are you?" he ejaculated. "How came you here?" The pale lips moved, but no sound came from them.

He made a petulant gesture toward while I question you." the half-filled goblet. "Why do you stand there making mouths? Drink that and get a man's voice into your throat, if you have anything to say to me."

"A man's voice!" The girl stared at him. "A man's voice?" Then, like lungfuls of fresh air, it entered into her that she was not really the naked fledgeling she felt herself. She was in the toils, surely, but there was a shell around her. Glad to hide her face for a moment, she seized the goblet and drained it slowly to the her throat; the tears back from her last drop.

"It gives me some hope, to hear what you say about suspecting Edric Jarl," she said timidly; "for that makes it appear more likely that you will be willing to give me justice on his man."

"Justice?" The King's mind came back to her slowly, as from an immense distance. "By Thor, I had forgotten! Yes, certainly; I will be kinglike once. Stand here before me,

She caught her breath rather sharply as she stepped forward. Would she be able to tell a straight story? "Tell me first how you are called?" "I am called Fridtjof Frodesson." "Frede of Avalcomb! Now I know where I have heard that name; my father spoke it often, and always with great respect. It will go hard with me if I must return an unfavorable answer to his son. Tell me how his death was brought about."

Randalin thrust the sobs back from eyes. She began slowly: "Leofwin-Leaning back in his seat, the king essen set upon him last night, at the the castle." She stopped uncertainly

In your place I should be equally unruly. I will grant vou boon in time to come: so sure as I live, I will. And until then, since all your stock has been cut off. I will be your guardian and you shall be my ward, as though you were my own brother. Come, sit here, and I will tell you."

She repulsed him sharply. "No. no, you shall do nothing for me! I am going back. I ask you to let me go."

Leaning at his ease in the great chair, the young King regarded his ward thoughtfully.

"It is not possible that the son of Frode the Fearless should be a coward." he said at last: "but you are over-peevish, boy. Listen now to the truth of the matter. If you were a maiden, it would be easy for me to-Are you listening?" He paused, for the slim figure had suddenly become so statue-like that he suspected it of plotting another attack on the door. The boy answered very low, "Yes, Lord King, I am listening."

Canute went on again: "I say that if you were a maiden-if you were your sister, to tell it shortly-I could easily dispose of you in marriage. I would wed you to my foster-brother, Rothgar Lodbroksson, and thus bring good to both of-Are you finding fault with that also?"

But the lad stood before him like a stone. If a faint cry had come from him, it was not repeated; and there was nothing offensive about a hidden face and shaking limbs.

The King continued more gently: "But since you were so simple as to be born a boy, such good luck is not to be expected. It is the best that I can do to offer you to become my ward and follow me as my page, until the sword's game has decided between me and Edmund of England. What say you, Fridtjof the Bold?"

For a time it looked as if "Fridt-

national platform, adopted by the convention to-day, is as follows:

We, the delegates of the Democratic party of the United States, in national convention assembled, declare our devotion to the essential principles of the Democratic faith which brings up together in party communion. Under them local self-government and national unity and prosperity were alike established. independence, the They underlaid our structure of our free republic, and every Democratic extension from Louisiana to California and Texas, to Oregon, which preserves faithfully in all the states the tie between taxation and representation. They inspirit the masses of our people, guarding jealously their rights and libertics, and cherishing their fraternity, peace and orderly development. They remlud us of our duties and responsibilities as citizens and impress upon us, particularly at this time, the necessity of reform and the rescue of the administration of government from the headstrong, arbitrary and spasmodic methods which distract business by uncertainty, and pervade the public mind with dread. distrust and perturbation.

First Step Toward Safety of Nation.

The application of these fundamental principles to the living issues of the day constitutes the first step toward the assured peace, safety and progress of our nation. Freedom of the press, of conscience and of speech; equality before the law of all citizens; the right of trial by jury; freedom of the person defended by the write of habeas corpus; liberty of personal contract, untrammeled by sumptuary laws; the supremacy of the civil over military authority; a welldisciplined militia; the separation of church and state; economy in expenditures; low taxes, that labor may be lightly burdened; the prompt and sacred fulfillment of public and private obligations; fidelity to treaties; peace and friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none; absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority, the vital principle of republics-these are doctrines which Democracy has established as proverbs of the nation, and they should be constantly invoked, preached, resorted to and enforced.

Large reductions can readily be made in the annual expenditures of the government without impairing the efficiency of any branch of the public service, and we shall insist upon the strictest economy and frugality compatible with vigorous and efficient civil, military and naval administration as a right of the people, too clear to be denied or withheld.

The enforcement of honesty in the public service, and to that end a thorough legislative investigation of those executive departments of the government already known to teem with corruption as well as other departments suspected of harboring corruption, and the punishment of ascertained corruptionists without fear or favor or regard to person. The Federal government should not permit itself to be robbed by entering into contracts with

St. Louis, July 9.-The Democratic | lated, controlled or prohibited by law as to amply protect the public interests. We domand that the restraint of such illegal combinations be entrusted to the Democratic party, which is not responsible for their existence, and which has ever protested against their continuance. We favor the upbuilding of a merchant marine without new or additional burdens upon the people and without bountics from the public treasury.

We condemn the Republican system of legislation under which trust monopolies are enabled to exact higher prices for their manufactured products from our own people than they sell them for abroad

We demand an enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission, to the end that the traveling public and shippers of the country may have prompt and adequate relicf for the abuses they are subjected to in the matter of transportation. We favor the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in its full integrity. We favor a liberal trade treaty with Canada.

We favor the maintenance and liberal annual increase of the navy as our best defense, in our isolated continental condition, against a foreign foe, and a source of no possible danger to our liberties as a people

We favor the upbuilding of a merchant marine without new or additional taxation upon the people, and without bounties from the public treasury. We favor the enactment and administration of laws giving labor and capital impartially their just rights. Capital and labor ought not to be enemies. Each is necessary to the other. Each has its rights, but the rights of labor are cer-tainly no less "vested." no less "sacred," and no less "inalienable" than the rights of capital

We pleage ourselves to insist upon the just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad, and to use all proper measures to secure for them, whether native-born or naturalized, and without distinction of race or creed, the equal protection of laws and the enjoyment of all rights and privileges open to them under the covenants of our treaties of friendship and commerce; and if under existing treatles the right of travel and sojourn is denied to American citizens, or recognition is withheid from American passports by any countries on the ground of race or creed, we favor the beginning of negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure by new treaties the removal of these unjust discriminations.

Liberal Pensions for War Veterans.

The Democracy would secure to the surviving soldiers and sailors and their dependents generous pensions, not by an arbitrary executive order, but by legislation which a grateful people stand ready to enact. Our soldiers and sailors who defend with their lives the constitution and the laws have a secred interest in their just administration. They must therefore share with us the humiliation with which we have witnessed the exaltation of court favorites without distinguished service over the scarred heroes of many battles, or aggrandized by executive appropriations out of the treasuries of a prostrate people, in vio-lation of the act of congress which fixes the compensation and allowances of the military officers. We denounce the ship subsidy bill recently passed by the United States Senate as an iniquitous appropriation of publie funds for private purposes and a wasteful, illogical and useless attempt to overcome by subsidy the obstructions lowest of them, return as nearly as raised by Republican legislation to the growth and development of American commerce on the sea. The Democratic party stands committed to the principles of civil service reform, and we demand their honest, just and impartial enforcement. We nounce the Republican party for its conlinuous and sinister encroachments upon the spirit and operation of civil service rules, whereby it has arbitrarily dispensed with examinations for office in the interests of favorites and employed manner of devices to overreach and set aside the principles upon which the civil service was established. We demand the extermination of polyg-amy within the jurisdiction of the United States, and the complete separation of church and state in political affairs.

Woman's Flattery Not Appreciated by Gifted Professor.

Barrett Wendell, professor of English at Harvard, cannot endure fulsome praise of any sort or in any dis- ... guise. This is well known to Cambridge undergraduates, and seldom do any of them offend. At summer schools, where he is in great demand as a lecturer, he does not escape so easily.

A year or so ago he gave a course in English literature at the University of California. At the first meeting of the class he asked the members to state in writing the benefits they expected to gain from the course. Many filled their papers with laudatory reference to Prof. Wendell, but one young woman far surpassed all others. "I have long worshiped you from afar off," she began, "and now come to sit at your feet and sip inspiration from your gifted lips."

Prof. Wendell read the paper at the next meeting of the class with this caustic comment:

"I have never known of a woman making such a fool of herself on a single page before."

SAVED CHILD'S LIFE.

Remarkable Cure of Dropsy by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sedgwick, Ark., July 11 .- The case of W. S. Taylor's little son is looked upon by those interested in medical matters as one of the most wonderful on record. In this connection his father makes the following statement: "Last September, my little boy had Dropsy; his feet and limbs were swollen to such an extent that he could not walk nor put his shoes on. The treatment that the doctors were giving him seemed to do him no good and two or three people said his days were short, even the doctors, two of the best in the country told me he would not get better. I stopped their medicine and at once sent for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I gave him three Pills a day, one morning, noon and night for eight days; at the end of the eighth day the swelling was all gone, but to give the medicine justice. I gave him eleven more Pills. I used thirty-five Pills in all and he was en-

An exclamation broke from the King's lips, and he leaped up. At that moment, "Fridtjof the Bold" fell at his feet with clasped hands and supplicating eyes.

"Let me go, Lord King," he besought passionately. "Let me go, and I will ask nothing further of you. will never trouble you again. Let me go!-only let me go!"

Canute of Denmark is not to be blamed that he stamped with exhausted patience.

"By the head of Odin, it would serve you well did I take you at your word! It would serve you right did I turn you cut to starve. Were it not for your father's sake, and for the sake of my own honor, I vow I would! Now hearken to this," Bending, he picked the boy up by his collar and shook him. I shall not let you go, and you shall be my ward, whether you will or no. And if you answer me now or anger me further-but I will not say that, for it is your misfortune that makes you unruly, and you are weak-spirited from hunger. Do you heed my orders?"

Only one answer was possible. After a moment the page gave it in a low voice.

"Yes, Lord King," he whispered, and crept away to his corner.

HAS SIMPLE FIRE ESCAPE.

Englishman's Invention Seems to Fill Long-felt Want.

An Englishman has devised an ingenious traveling-bag fire escape. It can be made at any trunkmaker's for little more than an ordinary portmanteau of the same kind would cost. Moreover, the fire-escape part of it does not interfere to any extent with its capacity for holding your dress suit, boots, shirts or other things requisite for the traveler. In cue small compartment will be found hundreds of feet of fine, light rope used by moun-trusts or unlawful combinations in restraint of interstate trade, existing in violation of law. We believe that one of the best methods of procuring economy and honesty in public service is to have public officials, from the occupant of the White House down to the living. We favor the nomination and election of a President trained in the ways of the constitution, who shall set his face sternly against executive usurpation of legislative and judicial functions, whether that usurpation be veiled under the guise of executive construction of existing laws, or whether it take refuge in the tyrant's plan of necessity or superior wisdom. The Democratic party has been, and will continue to be, the consistent opponent of that class of tariff legislation by which certain interests have been permitted, through congressional favor. to draw a heavy tribute from the Amer ican people. This monstrous perversion of those equal opportunities, which our political institutions were established to secure, has caused what may once have been infant industries to become the greatest combinations of capital that the world has ever known. These publicly favored enterprises have, through trust methods, been converted into monopolies, thus bringing to an end domestic competition, which was the only check upon the extravagant profits made possible by the protective system.

Declare for Wise Revision of Tariff.

We favor a wise, conservative and businesslike revision and a gradual reduction of the tariff by the freinds of the masses and for the common weal, and not by the friends of its abuses, its extortions and its discriminations, keeping in view the ultimate end of "equality of burdens and equality of opportunities," and the constitutional purpose of raising a revenue by taxation. to-wit: the support of the federal governin simplicity, and keeping also in view. as men of common sense should, existconditions, however wrongfully, ing mistakenly or unjustly brought about and the danger to the cause of tariff reform itself of abrupt and revolutionary reversal of policy. We should bear in mind, in short these two things: First, the general principle that the sole derivation of the power of taxation is the support of the federal government, economically, effectively and constitutionally administered: and, second, the equal truth that in the assertion of any general principle and in reaching any ultimate end, however sacred and logically unavoidable, due re-gard, but only due regard, must and should be paid to actually existing conditions

We favor the reduction of tariff taxation upon trust produced articles to the point where foreign competition may enter the American market whenever trusts and combines, seeking monopoly, raise their prices to the American consumer above a reasonable and just profit, by such reduction depriving trusts and monopolies of the power to extort from the American people, under shelter of American law, prices higher than those charged foreigners for identical articles.

Our party having long, earnestly advocated the construction of an inter- tells the story of American courage, canal for the purpo Arid Land Law Said to Be a Triumph.

We congratulate our western citizens upon the passage of the measure known as the Newlands irrigation act for the irrigation and reclamation of the arid lands of the west-a measure framed by a Democrat, passed in the senate by a non-partisan vote and passed in the house against the opposition of almost all the Republican leaders by a vote the majority of which was Democratic. We call attention to this great Democratic measure, broad and comprehensive as it is, working automatically throughout all time without further action of Congress, until the reclamation of all the lands in the arid west capable of reclamation is accomplished, reserving the lands reclaimed for homeseekers in small tracts, and rigidly guarding against land monopoly, as an evidence of the policy of domestic development contemplated by the Democratic party should it be placed in power.

We favor the preservation so far as we can of an open door for the world's commerce in the Orient without necessary entanglement in Oriental and European affairs, and without arbitrary, unlimited, irresponsible and absolute government anywhere under the Stars and Stripes, or within the jurisdiction of the Union.

We oppose as fervently as did George Washington himself an indefinite, irresponsible, discretionary and vague absofutism and a policy of colonial exploitation, no matter where or by whom invoked or exercised; we believe with Thomas Jefferson and John Adams that no government has a right to make one set of laws for those "a, home" and another and a different set of laws, absolute in their character, for those "in the colonies." All men under the American flag are entitled to the protection of the institutions whose emblem the flag is; if they are inherently unfit for those institutions, then they are inherently unfit to be members of the American body politfe.

Wherever there may exist a people incapable of being governed under American laws, in consonance with the American constitution, the territory of that people ought not to be part of the American domain. Believing this, we believe that we ought to do ultimately for the Filipinos what we have already done for the Cubans. The example is there: it is a worthy one; it constitutes a bright page in the history of our country; it tirely cured. I consider your medicine saved my child's life. When the thirty-five Pills were given him, he could run, dance and sing, whereas before he was an invalid in his mother's arms from morning until night."

Curious Parochial Custom.

Before entering on the parochial duties of their annual meeting the assembled vestrymen of St. John's, Exeter, England, take each a pinch of snuff from a box which is handed round to them with much solemnity. This act of good fellowship is carried out in accordance with the wishes of the Rev. J. Hill, rector of the parishin 1810, who gave the snuff box for the purpose.

Dusky Admirer of Chamberlain.

E. B. Sweet-Escott, C. M. G., governor of the Seychelles, tells a story which should have interest for Mr. Chamberlain. One of the latter's greatest admirers was, it seems, ex-King Prempeh of Ashantee, who carried his admiration far enough to order a complete suit of clothes like those worn by the ex-colonial secretary, plus an eyeglass.

FREE TO TWENTY-FIV _ LADIES.

The Defiance Starch Co. will give 25 ladies a round trip ticket to the St. Louis Exposition, to five ladies in each of the following states: Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri who will send in the largest number of trade marks cut from a ten-cent, 16-ounce package of Defiance cold water laundry starch. This means from your own home, anywhere in the above named states. These trade marks must be mailed to and received by the Defiance Starch Co., Omaha, Nebr., before September 1st, 1904. October and November will be the best months to visit the Exposition. Remember that Defiance is the only starch put up 16 oz. (a full pound) to the package. You get one-third more starch for the same money than of any other kind, and Defiance never sticks to the iron. The tickets to the Exposition will be sent by registered mail September 5th. Starch for sale by all dealers.

Reminiscences.

"Ah!" exclaimed the new benedict. "I never began to realize how much happiness there was in the world until I got married."

"Yes," replied the cynical bachelor. "I suppose the poet was right when he said: 'A sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier things."

Don't you know that Defiance Starch besides being absolutely superior to any other, is put up 16 ounces in package and sells at same price as 12ounce packages of other kinds?

An artist, summoned for debt at an English court, said he got his living by painting pictures and then pawning them.

Storekeepers report that the extra quantity, together with the superior quality of Defiance Starch makes it next to impossible to sell any other brand.

CLARK SPEAKS TO DEMOCRATS

permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention July 7. Temporary Chairman Williams presented Mr. Clark as permanent chairman, and as Mr. Clark bowed in acknowledgment he was heartily welcomed. His speech follows:

"In his haste, King David said that all men are liars. Had he been in Chicago while Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was reading the Republican platform he would, no doubt, have pronounced the same opinion more leisurely, for surely there never was more mendacity packed into the same space in any document purporting to be a grave state paper.

"Shakespeare says:

"Thrice is he armed that hath his quarrel just. And he but naked, though locked up in steel, Whose conscience with injustice is cor-rupted."

"In the impending conflict our quarrel is just and we are in the right beyond all cavil.

"To state it in a general way, our contention is that the government shall be restored to the Democratic-Republican basis on which the fathers of the republic intended it to rest and shall be made once more a government of the people, by the people, and for the people, instead of a government of the classes, by the classes, and for the classes.

"To state it with more particularity, we insist that exorbitant taxation shall be reduced to just and reasonable rates; that extravagance in appropriations shall cease; that economy shall prevail in all the transactions of the government; that all the departments shall be thoroughly investigated from top to bottom by congressional committees; that all evildoers, of whatever degree, shall be driven from the public service and properly punished; that the trusts

Champ Clark of Missouri was made | amount of misrepresentation will cause them to budge from that position."

> Greed and the Merchant Marine. Chairman Clark next took up the subject of the American merchant marine, declaring that "insatiable greed and criminal maladministration" had driven the "starry banner of the republic from the high seas." He continued:

"In 1860 we had the second largest merchant marine in the world-our sails whitened every harbor and our flag floated in every breeze under the heavens.

"How sadly all this has changed after thirty-five years of Republican misrule. Last year of all the merchantmen that went through the Suez canal not a single vessel, great or small, except battleships, bore the American flag at its masthead, and our flag is seen in foreign waters only when flying over a man of war.

"Why have things come to this shameful, this pitiful complexion in a country that has the finest material for ships and sailors in the world? Because our exorbitant tariff system has made it impossible for an American to build a ship in competition with the British shipbuilders on the River Clyde.

"Yet the Republican gang has the infinite gall to prate about its patriotism,"

Attacks Philander C. Knox, The chairman then devoted his attention to former Attorney-General Philander C. Knox. He declared that Mr. Knox had been made attorneygeneral through the influence of the trusts and was afterward transferred to the United States senate as a reward for his protection of the trusts. On this subject he said, in part:

"People will open their eyes in astonishment and begin to inquire as to the why and wherefore of his appointment when they learn that the and the Northwest are offered by this transfer of Mr. Knox from the Attor- line. For information address Mr. C. ney Generalship to the Senate was procured by the earnest and successful efforts of Mr. Frick, Mr. Cassatt, and Mr. Donald Cameron to induce United States Senator Boise Penrose, the new Republican boss of Pennsylvania, to permit Mr. Knox to be Senator-for Gov. Pennypacker, who nominally made the appointment, does not appear to have been considered at all in the premises.

Secrets of Old Roman Bath. Women used to lose their hairpins a thousand years ago much in the same way as they do to-day. That, at least, is the impression one gets from the antiquities found during last year at the Silchester excavations. The most interesting discovery was the building which formed apparently the principal baths of the Roman town. The exploration of the baths yielded a number of architectural fragments, including a small altar, portions of capitals and bases, part of a large basin of purbeck marble, and some singular pieces of metal. In a filled-up hypocaust were found at least 100 bone pins, which had evidently been used to adjust the back hair of Roman women who used the baths. Probably they had been dropped in the way woman throughout the ages has shed pins, and were collected by the keeper of the baths. Some of them are quite three inches long and would make passable hatpins for the present fashion.

London's Champion Bootblack. Among the little known but keenly contested honors is that of being the champion bootblack of London. Since the title was created two years ago it has been held by W. Couts, but recently at the annual competition at the headquarters of the Central (Reds) Shoeblack society in Great Saffron hall, the honor was won by C. Smith, who for a year will have the right to wear a gold medal and bar. At a given signal the six competitors attacked the boots of six members of the committee, and the rapidity with which the transformation from dirty to clean was effected was marvelous. Lord Kinnaird, who was present, distributed the prizes won.

"Tale Told by an Idiot." "The proposition that we must support President Roosevelt's Philippine policy-if he has any-right or wrong. is the veriest rot-a tale told by an idiot. I am willing to go as far as any one in patriotism; I will support my country in any emergency; but President Roosevelt is not the country. The time has not yet arrived-I pray almighty God that it will never arrive-when the American people will accept the arrogant dictum of Louis XIV. if repeated by an American President, 'I am the state.'

"If President Roosevelt is at all worthy of his high position he must entertain a supreme contempt for those political supplejacks, particularly for those claiming to be Democrats. who go about with sanctimonious moan, saying: 'The President is wrong in his Philippine policy, but we must support the President.' Out upon all such cringing idiocy.

"Support the President's policy, eh? Will some gentleman please tell us what that policy is? Has he any? If so, why doesn't he say so?

"The truth is he has none. He is an opportunist waiting for something to turn up. He is letting things drift and they are drifting to the deuce. Meantime our soldiers are being killed and are dying of disease in shoals. For what purpose?

Defiance to the Jingoes.

"Will anybody undertake to say? I defy any jingo to stand up and declare with a straight face what the President's policy or the Republican policy is No one will say; no one can say; but some say-more's the pity and shame-'the President is wrong, but we must support the President."

"To this complexion has it come at last by reason of the newfangled jingoism, that we must shut up our thinkers, close our mouths, and chloroform our creations in order to be consid-ered patriots. worse political company than does President Roosevelt in this year of grace. He is in the hands of the Regrow like Jonah's gourd vine when they learn that Mr. Frick is the heaviest stockholder in the steel trust; that Mr. Cassatt is president of the Pennsylvania railroad company, which is one of the defendants in the coal trust suit now pending, and that Mr. Cameron represented the Standard Oil trust and Wall street interests in persuading Boss Penrose to let Mr. Knox go to the Senate.

"Folks who still dare to think will he forced to one of two conclusions: First, either that Mr. Knox is the only lawyer in America capable of conducting a suit against a trust-which is absolutely preposterous-or that the Knox anti-trust crusade has been a bunko game from the beginning."

Chairman Clark then paid his respects to President Roosevelt and Wall street, saying:

"Here is another straw: It has been told in Gath and proclaimed on the streets of Askalon by the Roosevelt shouters for, lo! these many months that the trust magnates, especially those whose habitat lair is Wall street, are bitterly opposed to the President.

"A change appears to have come o'er the spirit of their dream, if Francis B. Loomis, assistant secretary of state, can be believed. That illustrious public functionary recently 'swung around the circle' in New York and elsewhere to 'survey the situation.' Upon his return to Washington he delivered himself of an interview, in which inter alia he says:

"While in New York I Spent two days in Wall street, chatting with | is all right, but we haven't named many representatives of the financial interests, and I find that there is no longer any disposition to make a fight.
