SATURDAY'S GAME

With West Division High School a Diverting Exhibition.

VISITORS MEET DEFEAT; 57--0
Good Playing Characterizes the Work of the Culver Team.

Last Saturday some young men from the frontier of Chicago came down to instruct and devour Culver. Culver is undevoiced.

A summary of the entertainment is as follows. West Division won the toss and chose to kick. Culver to defend the west goal. The ball was kicked to the twenty-five yard line and there was ten return. First down Saalfield went through left tackle for twenty-five yards, Saalfield and Humphreys same place each for nine each. Heaton got around left end and duplicated Saalfield's sprint. A few short gains followed and Saalfield got away and touched down but the ball came back and Culver was penalized for offside. Culver soon lost the ball on a fumble and got another penalty. West Division same and they punted. Culver hammered the visitors line to little bits for awhile and then Saalfield touched down. Goal kicked.

Culver kicked to the five yard line and the ball was downed over West Division's goal line. Heaton making the tackle. West Division punted out from the twenty-five yard line. Saalfield gained around right end. Jaquith tried left for fifteen. Barrett right tackle ten. Culver hit the line for steady gains and finally fumbled. Hastings recovered the ball for a gain but on next down the ball went over. First down was held and on the second Barrett, Caynah and Hastings all hit the runner together and downed him back of the line but the score did not count and Culver got a penalty. West Division punted and Saalfield made a pretty dodging run of fifty yards to a touch down but Culver got a penalty. The ball went to the visitors and they tried it over. They had to punt and Culver drew another penalty. There is nothing like a good official when it comes to gaining ground. Culver held for down and on the next punt not a man moved an inch except Jaquith who ran the ball back twenty yards and when the official got his breath he permitted Culver to retain the ball. This was an error as Walter Hand had his hat off. However the twelfth man did not see it. The ball went steadily down the field and Saalfield touched down. Goal missed.

Culver kicked to the ten yard line and there was a short return. West Division lost ground on two downs and played for an offside on the punt, drew Culver alright but as they recovered the ball on a fumble they took the gain and let it go at that. They soon had to punt again and Saalfield made a neat twenty yard return. Culver had the visitors going when time was up.

SECOND HALF.

Culver's kick got a sharp return but the visitors could not advance and punted. Barrett caught and with the prettiest kind of heady interference from Saalfield, touched down. Goal missed.

Culver kicked and Humphreys recovered the ball. First down Saalfield touched down from the thirty-five yard line. Goal kicked.

Culver kicked and then held for downs and West Division tactics drew an offside penalty for Culver. Culver was looking the next time and when the inevitable punt came received no penalty. First down Saalfield touched down. No goal.

on Culver's offside but lost the ball on downs. Culver worked the ball up to the ten yard line and Sohl carried it over in a stand up and push brother push mele that was enlivening. Goal kicked. Hunter sailed the ball to the fifteen yard line and it came back ten. First down the visitors fumbled and Proudfit recovered the ball and somersaulting lit running, touching down between the posts. It was Glenn Wood over again and pretty to look at. Goal kicked.

The Chicago lads had a punt blocked and the ball was Culver's on the fifteen yard line. Over it went with Saalfield cuddling it. Goal kicked.

But why prolong the tale. Hastings touched down from the twenty-two yard line and we got a goal. Scrimmages occurred at from four to twenty yard intervals and Hastings and McKinsey lit on the ball over the visitors' line after a scramble for a fumbled ball. Goal kicked.

The timers announced that there was seven seconds yet to play but Culver waived the right to another touch down and it was all over with the score 57--0.

NOTES.

How the new men did root. "We are from Chicago! We are not from Indiana!" Oh fiddlesticks.

Jaquith had the misfortune to sprain an ankle and it puts Culver in rather a tight place for next Saturday's game.

One thing Culver must do on defense. Play the ball boys play the ball. An offside is a five yard gain for the other fellow.

From the fervor with which the company teams are at practice we should have a very interesting series for that championship.

OBITUARY.

Susan Bechtol was born Aug. 18 1819 in Huntington county Pa. and died Oct. 4, 1904, aged 85 years 1 month and 16 days. She was married to Abraham Bechtol, Aug. 21, 1840 in Marion county O. #### Death of Miss Rosella Geiselman.

The funeral services of Miss Rosella Geiselman were held from the North Union United Brethren Church on Sunday morning, conducted by Rev. Chas. McConnehey. Rev. McConnehey read the following brief story of Miss Rosella's short life: "Rosella gone? No! 'tis only transition! The lily bud, with all its beauty spent in its mission here, has opened in full majesty and fragrance in the garden of the redeemed. Miss Rosella Geiselman was born October 25, 1889, and lived happily through 14 years, 11 months and 12 days, when she left the body for the spirit life with God. She was the daughter of Silas M. and Sarah Geiselman, and beside her mother, leaves three brothers and two sisters to mourn their loss. Father, two sisters and one brother have preceded her to her heavenly home. For some time previous to her last illness she had not in robust health but not until last May, when she was seized with that dread lingering disease, consumption, did she surrender her line of duties. Days and weeks passed with few visible signs of returning health, yet loved ones did not lose hope. But there comes a time in the affairs of humanity when even the arms of the nearest and dearest ones seem shortened, wisdom seems weak and that heart must fondle in the breast of the infinite for rescue and support. God has again spoken. This time to claim for his realm one fair and lovely and while heart strings are torn and bleeding. Yet to him who is too just to be unkind we bow in humble submission and answer. It is well. 'Tis but for a moment this separation we suffer, and not that we would recall her sweet spirit from the world beyond. Rosella was greatly admired among her school friends and teachers, beloved in the Sunday-school and a delight in the home, but no place will she be missed as in the home circle.

FIFTEEN-YEAR GIRL IS SLAIN

Atrocious Crime Is Committed in Barn Three Miles North of Palatine.

CHILD IS CHOKED TO DEATH

Clothes Are Torn From Body of Victim, Assaulted by Some Person Unknown, Who Manages to Elude the Posse.

Chicago, Ill., special: Minnie Harmoning, the pretty 15-year-old daughter of Fred Harmoning, a prominent farmer who lives three miles north of Palatine, just outside the northwestern limits of Chicago, was assaulted and choked to death Wednesday afternoon in a barn owned by her father.

The crime is one of the most atrocious ever committed in Cook county. The child's clothes were torn from her body. The barn floor revealed the fact that a struggle had taken place, for, usually kept in order, it was in confusion.

The mother of the unfortunate child is crazed with grief, while the father, shouting and crying, is inconsolable. The neighbors of the Harmonings are terribly wrought up over the crime. Nothing like it ever happened among them before.

No Clew to Murderer. In most crimes of this nature the murderer is seen by some person, but in this instance not even a description is obtainable, for the identity of the murderer is absolutely unknown.

The Harmoning farm is on a much traveled road that leads from Palatine to Barrington Center. At all hours of the day teams are passing, but, being off the railroad, very few tramps ever disturb the community. Inquiry was made at all the farms near the Harmoning place to learn whether any new hands had been employed, or whether any stranger was seen in the vicinity. None had been seen. All the regular farm hands were accounted for.

The crime was committed about the middle of the afternoon, while Mrs. Harmoning was in Palatine making purchases. The only persons in the house were the girl, Minnie Harmoning, and her brother John, one year her junior, and two smaller children. The father, Fred Harmoning, was in Chicago on business.

Little Brother Finds Body. It was nearly 4 o'clock, John Harmoning said, when his sister went to the barn on some errand. He had seen nobody about the house. Fifteen minutes after Minnie left the house her brother and the other children went out to the barn. On the floor they found their sister's body.

At first the boy thought that his sister was unconscious, and, leaving his two little charges at the barn, he ran to the home of Louis Luerssen. There he found Mrs. Luerssen and told her that he feared something had happened to Minnie, for she was lying on the barn floor. Mrs. Luerssen at once notified others, and shortly afterward a number of persons went to the barn. Dr. C. A. Starck of Palatine was sent for, and when he arrived he found, after an examination, that the girl had been strangled to death.

There were finger marks on her neck and chin, showing how her slayer had choked her till her life was gone. The women who accompanied Mrs. Luerssen to the barn thought at first that the child had died of heart disease, but the physician who made the examination revealed the cause of the crime and also the motive.

It was while the neighbors were gathered at the house Mrs. Harmoning came home. When she was told of her daughter's death she fell into the arms of one of the women and was unconscious for an hour or more.

LOAD OF LIQUID IRON HITS CAR

Pursues Flying Trolley Down Grade and Jumps Track.

Newark, N. J., special: Loaded with panic-stricken women, a trolley car dashed down a steep grade here, pursued by a ten-ton blast furnace filled with molten iron used in welding tracks. Control of the furnace had been lost. Seeing the furnace gaining on the car, which was put at top speed to escape, the passengers decided to jump, but as they were about to do so the furnace jumped the track and struck a car going in the opposite direction. Only the rear of the car was struck, and no one was injured.

OIL MAKES GREAT LAKE OF FIRE

Findlay, Ohio, Refining Plant Is Destroyed by Lightning Flash.

Findlay, O., special: The plant of the National Refining company was destroyed by fire Wednesday, causing a loss of over $200,000. The fire was started by lightning striking a 30,000-barrel tank, which was about two-thirds full. When the tank exploded thousands of barrels of burning oil were spread over the surrounding territory. Spectators who had gathered turned and fled wildly from the oncoming sea of fire. A number of persons were burned.

Michigan Men in New York. New York dispatch: Former residents of Michigan have organized a state society here. Josiah T. Newcomb was elected temporary chairman and arrangements were made for a dinner to be given Jan. 26, when the society will be permanently formed.

WOMAN SAYS SHE MADE MONEY BY SCALPING

Bought Mining Company Stock on Inside Information, but is in No Way to Blame for $40,000 Shortage.

Iowa Falls, Iowa, dispatch: Mrs. Maude Hamilton, who is blamed for the Iowa Lillooet Gold Dredging company's $40,000 shortage, declared that she knew of the shortage long ago, but she is innocent of any wrongdoing.

She admits that she has spent a great deal of money, but says she has made it legitimately by scalping the stock of the company on account of the inside information which she has been able to secure by reading the mail which passed through her hands.

It was stated by one of Mrs. Hamilton's friends that she had taken note of letters announcing the finding of big deposits, and had purchased all the Lillooet stock she could get at a small figure and then sold after the public was let in on the good news and the stocks went up.

Mrs. Hamilton is the talk of the town. She has given two public balls at the opera house, rents a box at the opera by the year, wears imported gowns, bedecks herself in rare diamonds, and drives a fancy turnout, all on $60 a month salary.

B. B. Bliss, the secretary-manager, who lost his mind brooding over the shortage, is now represented by a guardian.

The stockholders met and appointed a committee to demand of the directors a complete investigation of the company's books in Iowa Falls and at Vancouver, B. C., and punishment of persons guilty of robbery if there is found to be robbery.

The stock, which was worth 80 cents a share some time ago, is now quoted at 1 cent.

HARVARD PRESIDENT DEFINES GENTLEMAN

Incidentally Raps the Noisy Student Who Goes Bawling About the College Yard When Excited.

Cambridge, Mass., special: In defining his idea of democratic gentlemen to the freshman class at Harvard President Eliot gave by no means a gentle rap at the college "sport."

"I heard it stated," he said, "that the gentleman's mark at Harvard is 'C,' the different grades of scholarship being respectively A, B, C, D, and E. A is excellence, B is failure. You can easily see where C belongs.

"A gentleman, therefore, must not be an effective strong worker, not a strenuous seeker after knowledge. Can you imagine a more indifferent, shiftless, lazy person loafing through four years of soldier life? Or can there be a stupider idea than that that gentleman especially is a gentleman in 'democracy'?"

President Eliot's design was to sum up what all the others had said, the gist of his remarks being that a freshman, to be and to do everything a true Harvard man ought to be and do, must be a democratic gentleman.

"A gentleman when found," he said, "would also be quiet. If a man is heard bawling about the college yard one can feel perfectly sure that he is either an outsider or a newcomer. He must never do anything that will hurt a woman, or a child, or an inferior. He must be generous and efficient, and deferential to age, beauty, excellence, skill and all worthy things."

SECURES OLD ELKHART BANK

Colonel Thomas Snell Will Merge St. Joseph and Farmers Institutions.

Elkhart, Ind., dispatch: The largest financial transaction in Elkhart's history was consummated Tuesday, when Colonel Thomas Snell, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank, which was organized in May, bought the controlling stock in the St. Joseph Valley bank. Both are state banks capitalized at $100,000. The St. Joseph bank has $45,000 surplus. The two banks will soon be consolidated. The St. Joseph bank was established in 1872. Colonel Snell is a banker of Clinton, Ill. His Elkhart investments are for his grandson, T. T. Snell, formerly of Clinton.

EXPECTS CHINA TO ADOPT GOLD

Prof. Jenks Makes Prediction as to Oriental Money Standard.

San Francisco, Cal., dispatch: Prof. J. W. Jenks, commissioner on international exchange, who was sent by the president to China to study the monetary system of the orient and suggest needed reforms, returned on the steamer Mongolia. Although disinclined to talk on the subject of his investigations until he had submitted his report to the president, the professor declared his belief that in a short time China would formally adopt the gold standard and thus place herself upon a level with the leading nations of the world.

THREE ARE NAMED FOR BISHOP

Vicar Generals Suggested to Rome for New See at Superior.

Milwaukee, Wis., dispatch: From an authoritative source it is learned that the three names proposed to Rome by the bishops of the Milwaukee archdiocese for the bishop of the new see to be erected at Superior, Wis., are Very Rev. A. P. Kremer, vicar general of the La Crosse diocese; Very Rev. Joseph Schrems, vicar general of the Grand Rapids, Mich., diocese, and Very Rev. A. F. Schinner, vicar general at Milwaukee.

OUTPOSTS IN SMALL FIGHTS

Recent Military Movements in the East Have Been of Little Consequence—Russian Warships Said to Have Been Damaged.

The Japanese imperial headquarters issued a report of the recent Russian military movements and skirmishes with the Japanese south of Mukden as follows:

"On Oct. 4, a few of the enemy's cavalry approached the vicinity of Aiyangpienmen, but our force drove them off.

"The enemy, with a battalion of infantry, eleven squadrons of cavalry and five guns, advanced toward Shalinhotzu on Oct. 4, and retreated toward Huangshan Oct. 5. In this direction there were only two or three of our squadrons of cavalry, whose outpost lines extended between Niakoushan and Wangchafien. The Russian infantry heading, the column wore Chinese costumes.

"On Oct. 4 a small body of the enemy attacked our pickets at Pintaitzu and on the Mukden road and were repulsed. The enemy left his dead and rifles behind. All the enemy wore Chinese clothing.

"Four squadrons of Russian cavalry came to Sunshutsu, on the Fushan road, Oct. 3, and remained there until the morning of Oct. 5.

"The enemy's cavalry patrols have with machine guns. It was the first time the Japanese had been able to entice the Russians from their shelters and they worked terrible havoc among them.

"The scene next morning was appalling. The hillside was strewn with mingled Russian and Japanese bodies. Bowlders were trickling with blood.

"A brief message was received today. It was on torn paper in Chinese, and signed by General Stoessel. It states that the Japanese again had asked for and were refused a truce to bury their dead.

"An official Japanese statement admits the repulse, and confesses the necessity of a resort to a passive siege. "Enteric fever has broken out in the garrison at Port Arthur."

Maneuvering for Positions.

A tactical duel of the highest interest is now proceeding in Manchuria. The Russians are trying to draw the Japanese into battle on the Lun-Lo, on which river Gen. Kouropatkin's forces have a convenient natural line of defense. The Japanese are straining to get a sufficient number of troops round through the mountains to force the Russians back to Tieling, which place is on level ground, more suitable to the islanders.

Another source of Russian supplies has been cut off, the Simming road being no longer passable, owing to the large number of Chunchuses thereabouts.

Rushing Supplies North.

The Japanese are bringing up enormous quantities of supplies and ammunition for the winter campaign, using the reconstructed railway, carts and junks on the Liao and Taitse rivers.

The railroad traffic is uninterrupted and additional soldiers continue to arrive at the front. Outpost skirmishes are confined to the first and fourth armies. The troops are standing the climate splendidly, few being reported sick. Cold weather is just beginning.

Foresees a Long Struggle.

In addressing the members of the United Clearing-Houses of Tokio, Count Okuma, leader of the progressive party, warned the people to prepare for a long war, the date of the termination of which it was now impossible to foretell. He predicted that the cost to Japan for a two-years' war, including the loans which already had been placed, would total $1,000,000,000, been placed, would total $1,000,000,000, share $20.

Health of Troops Good.

Prof. Golowin of the Red Cross society, who has just returned to Moscow from the front, reports the health and general condition of the troops as remarkably good. There are no epidemics and no very serious disease.

Stoessel Describes Carnage.

In an official report which has at last been received at St. Petersburg from Lieut. Gen. Stoessel the appalling nature of the fighting which marked the last furious attempt of the Japanese to force a breach in Port Arthur's defenses is vividly described. In the four days' incessant struggle commenced at dawn on Sept. 23 the Japanese, Gen. Stoessel says, lost 10,000 men, and their only successes was the capture of two redoubts commanding the water works.

How to Open a New Book.

If books were rightly treated when they are newly bound there would be less likelihood of their backs being broken afterward by rough handling. The covers should be opened one at a time and laid as far back as the table upon which the book is resting; then gradually all the leaves, a few at the back and a few at the front of the book, should be laid upon the covers. The book will then be in condition for ordinary wear and the covers will not break away if not abused. When called suddenly away from a book which you are reading do not lay it face downward on a table nor throw a handkerchief between its leaves, but have a book marker handy and place it between the leaves, closing the book.

A wonderful powder of rare merit and unrivaled strength.

THE UNITED STATES WILL SOON KNOCK AT THE DOORS OF CANADA FOR WHEAT.

A Crop of 60,000,000 Bushels of Wheat Will Be the Record of 1904.

The results of the threshing in Western Canada are not yet completed, but from information at hand, it is safe to say that the average per acre will be reasonably high, and a fair estimate will place the total yield of wheat at 60,000,000 bushels. At present prices this will add to the wealth of the farmers nearly $60,000,000. Then think of the immense yield of oats and barley, and the large herds of cattle, for all of which good prices will be paid.

The following official telegram was sent by Honorable Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, to Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner for Canada:

"Am now able to state definitely that under conditions of unusual difficulty in Northwest a fair average crop of wheat of good quality has been reaped and is now secure from substantial damage. The reports of injury by frost and rust were grossly exaggerated. The wheat of Manitoba and Northwest Territories will aggregate from fifty-five to sixty million bushels. The quality is good and the price is ranging around one dollar per bushel."

Frank H. Spearman, in the Saturday Evening Post, says:

"When our first transcontinental railroad was built, learned men attempted by isotherman demonstration to prove that wheat could not profitably be grown north of where the line was projected; but the real granary of the world lies up to 300 miles north of the Canadian Pacific railroad, and the day is not definitely distant when the United States will knock at the doors of Canada for its bread. Railroad men see such a day; it may be hoped that statesmen also will see it, and arrange their reciprocities while they may do so gracefully. Americans already have swarmed into that far country and to a degree have taken the American wheat field with them. Despite the fact that for years a little Dakota station on the St. Paul road—Eureka—held the distinction of being the largest primary grain market in the world, the Dakotas and Minnesota will one day yield their palm to Saskatchewan."

Oil Fuel in Steel Rolling.

Sacramento rolling mills find oil fuel an economy and advantage in forging. They affirm that they get a much softer heat through the body of the metal, making it much easier to manipulate, or, in other words, the metal absorbs the heat produced from oil better than that of coal. Coal used for furnace purposes often contains much sulphur and other elements that are injurious to the iron, and when heated scrap piles become too near a molten state to absorb these impurities of the coal, resulting in red short or coal short iron. When the metal is heated by oil the mills have far better car axles, 50 per cent more free from seams. This not only occurs with axles, but all other forgings. Similar conditions obtain in rolling complicated sections from scrap material, such as angle iron, channels, beams, etc. The defective bars have been reduced one-half since the introduction of oil for heating. The saving to the company on fuel alone is 70 per cent; yet even if the two fuels cost the same to produce the same tonnage, the improvement in the production would be immense.

Cure to Stay Cured.

Wapello, Ia., Oct. 10 (Special)—One of the most remarkable cures ever recorded in Louisa County is that of Mrs. Minnie Hart of this place. Mrs. Hart was in bed for eight months and when she was able to sit up she was all drawn up on one side and could not walk across the room. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Speaking of her cure Mrs. Hart says:

"Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me after I was in bed for eight months and I know the cure was complete for that was three years ago and I have not been down since. In four weeks from the time I started taking them I was able to make my garden. Nobody can know how thankful I am to be cured or how much I owe to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

This case again points out how much the general health depends on the kidneys. Cure the kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and nine-tenths of the suffering the human family is heir to will disappear.

Raising a Window.

He weighed about 200 pounds and looked to be a giant in strength. As he sat down in the seat of a Delaware and Hudson car a delicate looking woman leaned over and asked if he would be kind enough to raise the window at her side. He answered in the affirmative and then began to tug. The window never moved and the important man got red in the face. He said something about the car builders, and then informed the young woman that the window couldn't be raised. He sat down and the crowd laughed. A few minutes later the trainman, who weighed about as much as a jockey, entered the car, and the woman appealed to him to raise the window. He reached in with one hand and without apparent exertion sent the stubborn window up with a bang. The crowd then looked at the fat man and laughed again.—Albany Journal.

The Dentist Monk and the Pope.
 "I have drawn 2,000,644 teeth," said the dentist monk of Rome recently before his death.

No charge was made, and the priest worked in the open air in the garden of his monastery, and used no instruments but his thumb and forefinger. Leo XIII. was one of his clients, and Pope Pius IX. said to him once:

"Dear brother, I should like very much to have a tooth pulled by you."

"Oh, holy father!"

"But it is impossible."

"Oh! Why?" said the monk.

"Because," returned the pope quietly, "I have none left to pull."

Some Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before the winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by T. E. Slattery.

Special World's Fair rates via the Nickel Plate road every day until Nov. 30th inclusive. Season. 60 day and 15 day tickets. Coach tickets good 7 days on sale Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week until Nov. 24th inclusive. Stop-over at Chicago. Call on local Agent or address C. A. Asterlin, T. P. A., Fort Wayne, Ind. 10-14

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by T. E. Slattery. Trial bottles free.

A nice line of cardboard in both white and colors, at the CITIZEN office.

Insomnia and Indigestion Cured.

"Last year I had a very severe attack of indigestion. I could not sleep at night and suffered most excruciating pains for three hours after each meal. I was troubled this way for about three months when I used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and received immediate relief," says John Dixon, of Tallamore, Ontario Canada. For sale by T. E. Slattery.

A CLEW BY TELEPHONE

(Original.)

A ring at the telephone. Only a metal bell rung by electricity, but the current has been turned on by a living human being, and that being wishes to speak to me. All day I have been alone in the old farmhouse. The rooms have seemed more than empty—rather, they have seemed full of nothingness. Without the wind has been playing a mournful tune on the telegraph wires lining the road, and now that evening has come the air and the wires are still, but the sounds are replaced by the whippoorwill.

Is it strange that I should long for the sound of a human voice? I start up, hurry to the telephone, take down the receiver and listen.

"Help! Help!"

It is a woman's voice. A footstep, then a growl—a human growl, that of a man who, though the process of development has been going on about and within him for ages, still expresses his dissatisfaction like a tiger in the jungle—then a jerk on something connected with the telephone.

"Mercy! Mercy! Don't kill me! Spare me!"

The words are faint, but distinct. They are doubtless spoken at a distance from the telephone.

If horror could be gathered like electricity, what I feel would be equal to a thousand volts. Some one is being murdered—a woman. She has tried to call me, and the brute has dragged her from the telephone. And I stand here paralyzed, no hope of saving her, not even a chance of learning who is her murderer.

I can faintly distinguish the words, "Where is the money?" and the reply: "In a stocking in the closet. Take it all."

A footstep and the opening of a door. The woman must have taken advantage of the turning of the robber's back, for suddenly I hear a click and the words:

"I am being robbed and shall be murdered. Mrs. Pogram. The man is—"

He has dragged her away again. Great heavens! What can I do? The Pograms live five miles from any other farmer. I might call the telephone office and report the horror to them, but what good would it do? It would not be possible for any one to reach the Pograms in less than half an hour.

"Let go my throat!"

It is the brute's coarse voice. A groan—the last sound sent over the wire by a dying woman.

One more sound, but it is only the closing of a door. After that all is still. No, there is the ticking of a clock.

"Central!" I call. "Central!" I ring and call till I get an answer.

"Mrs. Pogram, on the Alpina road, has been murdered. Get up a posse at once to go there. Look out for a man with gold on him and possibly a mark of fingers on his throat. I will be with you as soon as I can saddle a horse."

Ten minutes later I ride up to a hamlet to find three men standing by their horses and two others leading theirs from the stables. We mount and ride to the Pograms, dash into the house, and there in the broad hall a woman lies pierced to the heart.

Up to this moment there has been a hope of finding her alive. Now that is gone. With one accord we bend our wits and our energies to the task of finding her murderer. Leaving one of the posse at the house, we remount and dash away in different directions. We are well armed and proceed singly so as to cover more ground.

Ahead of me is a tramp. Hearing my horse's hoofs, he looks back. When I reach him I turn his pockets inside out and look for marks on his throat. His pockets contain only a few coppers and his throat is clear.

A shot, the signal on which we have agreed, on the road to my left. I let down some rails and ride over there. Two of our posse are riding up at the same time. Amos Baker is holding his horse with one hand while he covers an ugly looking man with the other. We empty his pockets, but find nothing of value. I knock him under the chin to make him hold his head up, and there on the throat is—not finger marks, but a scratch.

Somehow I am confident that we have the right man, and we take him to the Pograms. On a finger of the dead woman is a ring, the stone of which is turned in toward the palm of the hand. There are five little prongs which hold the stone, one of which has been broken and presents a sharp point. There is a reading glass on the table in the living room which reveals something, one can't see what, on the broken prong. We telephone for a doctor to come with his microscope. He comes and discovers particles of skin and an infinitesimal quantity of blood.

Shall we finish the job or turn the man over to the authorities? We retire for consultation and hit upon a device to gain more proof. Being sure he had hidden the gold he had taken, we decide to give him his choice between two alternatives. If he will tell us where to find the gold we will turn him in to be tried by law. If not, we will swing him to a tree then and there. He pleads that he knows nothing of the gold. We arrange the rope with its noose about his head. He breaks down and tells us he dropped the plunder in the creek while crossing the bridge. There we find it in its stocking.

In ten weeks he is swung off by the sheriff.

FEMALE WEAKNESS

542 1-2 Congress St. PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902. I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Wilhelmina Swann
 Treasurer, Portland Economic League

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, that is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Never throw water on a gasoline fire. Flour or sand is the best means of quenching a fire by this inflammable oil. If the fire is confined to a small space, ammonia will be found to be the most efficacious. Many users of gasoline keep a gallon bottle of ammonia suspended above the tank by a twine string or fusible link. When a fire starts the heat and flame burns the string or melts the link as the case may be, and the bottle drops, breaking and quenching the fire.

My Breath.

Shortness of Breath Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physicians say, heart disease can be cured. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases. Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerve.

"I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells, and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly smother. A friend advised using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good results. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now entirely well. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past."—F. P. DRAKE, Middletown, O.

A Judicious Inquiry.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug store trade says he has heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for good medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they most invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. #### Writes Without Hands.

One of the most remarkable personages in Pennsylvania is Abraham B. Myers. With only stumps of arms he writes a very legible hand, holding the pen between the stumps of his arms, without artificial assistance. He is a marksman of no mean ability and pulls the trigger by means of a twine, the end of which he grips in his teeth. He plays pool and billiards and even rides horseback.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Simple Homemade Ointment That Will Cure Eczema.

The poisonous weed commonly called "Jimson" that grows in lots when manure has been spread is the principal ingredient of an ointment that will cure eczema. The other ingredients are a pound of beeswax, two pounds of mutton tallow and a piece of rosin the size of a hickory nut. Into a boiler clip the leaves from a dozen stalks of the weed. Pour over the leaves a quart and a half (no more) of cold water and cover and let it all boil for thirty minutes. Strain through a colander into a large stew pan. Strain the liquid, of which there should be about a quart, through a cheese-cloth to take out all sand, etc. Put back into the stew pan with the tallow and beeswax cut into small pieces and the little piece of rosin. Let all boil for twenty minutes, then pour into a shallow bowl and cool. The ointment will be on top and will look like yellow soap. Lift it out of the dish and throw away the liquid remaining. Cut into pieces and put away. The relief will be immediate and a cure in two or three weeks.

Elderberry Wine With Raisins.

Take thirty pounds of Malaga raisins, add eight gallons of water to them and allow them to steep for twelve days. Draw off the liquor and put it into a copper with two gallons of elderberry juice. Boil for ten minutes, removing all the scum as it rises. Then add seven pounds of moist sugar, one-half ounce of allspice, one-half ounce of cloves and two ounces of Jamaica ginger, all well bruised. Boil again for an hour, skimming thoroughly. Draw it off and float some toast covered with yeast in it. Leave it to work for two or three days. Then pour into a clean cask, and when all fermentation is over bung tightly down. If made in September, it will be ready to tap by Christmas and should be bottled in January or March.

Another Union.

Father—Come, Tommy, it's time for bed.
Tommy—Not much it ain't.
Father—What's that? Come in here this instant!
Tommy—Not on your life! I boys have organized, an' we're strikin' fur twelve hours' play an' more candy.—Philadelphia Press.
