ARMOUR ACADEMY

Lugs a Goose Egg Back to the Windy City After the Game.

SOLDIERS ROLL UP 45 POINTS

Chicago Lads Make Gallant Fight Against Overwhelming Odds.

The soldiers ran and ran and ran. Culver's game Saturday with the Armour Academy eleven was a very easy proposition but the lads from the windy city were, game and fought against overwhelming odds with a vigor that won the admiration of the spectators.

Armour won toss and chose to defend the west goal, Culver kicking off. The ball went into play on the twenty yard line and in the first three minutes of play Culver drew three penalties for off side. They pulled up however and the third real down the visitors punted to Campbell who ran the ball back twenty yards. Jaquith ran everybody, backs, tackles and ends and it was third down only once, the visitors stiffening up inside their eight yard line. Campbell was sent this down and went around right end touching down. Goal kicked.

Culver kicked to the twenty yard line and there was ten return. Armour put up a rattling offense and worked the ball down the field by short gains until they were in the center of the field when they fumbled. Miller got the ball and sprinted, Madero furnishing splendid interference. Miller was tackled hard just as he was crossing the line however and lost the ball, an Armour lad recovering it back of the goal line. The ball was punted out from the twenty-five yard line and Hunter ran it back fifteen. Culver soon fumbled and an Armour lad got the ball and burned the air to get clear of left end. Campbell limbered up those long legs and dove at him. There was a confused blur of mixed players and when the revolution ended the ball was fifteen yards nearer the visitors' goal but the Armour lad still had the ball. They made scarcely any perceptible gain and on the third down Madero got through and downed the runner for loss. Humphreys, Campbell and Heaton put the ball inside the ten yard line and Campbell went through the line for a touch down. Goal missed.

Culver kicked and the visitors punted. Armour stiffened and Culver lost the ball on downs. They made it third down but on the next got a fifteen yard penalty and punted. Barrett went in and soon played from his position through the opposite tackle for fifteen yards. Everybody carried the ball and it was hurry hurry all the time until Cavnah touched down. Goal missed. Culver kicked and on the first down Armour fumbled. Hastings as usual got the ball and time was up.

SECOND HALF.

Armour kicked off and the ball started toward the visitors' goal at a merry clip. The procession was interrupted by a fumble and the visitors got the ball. They punted soon and Hastings blocked the punt recovering the ball. Another fumble lost Culver the ball. Armour was forced to punt however and the ball was run back nearly to its starting point. Ten, eight and six yard gains put the ball within the "danger zone" and Barrett touched down. Goal missed.

Culver kicked off and the visitors, after a futile effort to advance, punted. Culver brought the ball down the field like a whirl wind on the first and second down and Barrett touched down. Goal kicked. Armour received the ball and on second down fumbled, Hastings recovering. Culver went down the line fumbling and recovering and doing all sorts of peculiar things until the seven yard line was reached and Philips was sent for a touch down. He got it. Goal kicked.

Another rather uneventful bunch of scrimmages and Campbell touched down. Goal kicked.

Culver received the ball and it was first down always Hunter touching down from the fifteen yard line. The ball was punted out Barrett heeling the catch and goal was missed. The ball went into play and on second down time was up.

NOTES.

Jaquith did the best work he has done this season in Saturday's game.

Taylor, who went in in the last half, developed a surprising amount of speed and quick appreciation of opportunity. He reminded spectators of Bemis of the '03 team.

The plays called were varied enough to try every point of the visitors' defense and resulted in consistent ground gaining by every man who carried the ball. Good generalship had much to do with that score.

One thing Culver should learn and that is not to be drawn off side. A really good line man plays his opponent regardless of signals, charges when he charges and is careful about the use of hands. Even a very short gain is better than a penalty.

While we are in the mood the backs need a dressing. At least a dozen times in the game the backs gave the play away when the signal was called by looking toward the point of attack and shifting feet or hands. Against a light team this does not count so much but when the game is reviewed carefully and the short gains noted it would seem that a few twenty-five yard runs were due and had been discounted.

Plymouth Girls Held Up.

Monday night at South Bend, Misses Therese Kruyer and Louise Carabin of this city were held up and robbed. The girls are attending the Commercial college at South Bend and were returning to their boarding place from the Vandalia depot, where they accompanied A. Carabin, who returned to Plymouth on the night train. After securing the pocketbooks from the young ladies the unknown man made his escape.—Plymouth Independent.

Hendricks Sells Half Interest.

A half interest in the Plymouth Tribune has been sold to Mr. Gillespie formerly of Casey, Ill.

Mr. Gillespie will at once assume entire charge of the editorial and business management of the Tribune. Mr. Hendricks will have charge of the mechanical department. The paper will be published in the future under the name of Hendricks and Gillespie.

Bites off Conductor's Ear.

Sam Risinger, a conductor on a street car, had his ear bitten off by a bricklayer. Risinger protested when two boys in his car expectorated upon the floor, and Charles South, without provocation, assaulted him like a mad man, biting off Risinger's ear in the melee. South was arrested for mayhem.

Miss Hazel Porter was given a surprise party Monday evening. Fourteen of her associates gathered during her absence and took full possession of the house. Fun and then more fun was had after which refreshments were served and all returned to their homes happy as could be.

THEY DID NOT VOTE

Daniel McDonald Show Why the Democrats Were Defeated.

BIG FALLING OFF IN TOTALS

Says Late Reverses Will Tend to Strengthen the Party.

EDITOR CULVER CITIZEN:

I am not vain enough to think that my opinion as to the present political situation, especially as to the Democratic party, which you request me to give for the benefit of your readers, is of sufficient importance to carry much weight with it. The debris of the great republican cyclone, which seems to have been general in every nook and corner of the United States, has not sufficiently cleared away to look over the field and determine definitely what caused the great political upheaval. One thing is certain, and that is, that the disaster to the democratic party was complete and perfect with scarcely a candidate or leader left to tell the tale. At twelve o'clock on the night of the election, twenty-two precincts had been heard from, and at the same ratio of decrease shown by the precincts heard from, I made up my mind that for the office I was a candidate for, I could not be elected, gave up the battle as lost and went home. I arose early in the morning, and a hasty glance over the Chicago papers revealed the fact that everything was lost to the democracy. The little heartburnings had the night before on my defeat turned to hilarity and I began to look upon the whole thing as a huge joke. After nine o'clock I concluded to go down town and find out how badly I had been beaten anyway. I met several friends apparently in high glee, and they wanted to know what in the world I was laughing about. Then I told them the little story about the southern planter who went into the Confederate army and at the end of three years went back home and was found seated on a stump in the middle of where the road was when he went away. The federal army had passed through there. His palatial residence had been burned down, all the barns, out-houses, and other buildings had been destroyed; all his negroes, and animals of every kind had been captured and taken away; his wife and family had all died and gone, he knew not where, and there was not a thing left to tell the story, and he sat there laughing as though he had the hysteria. An old friend coming along asked him what he was laughing at. "Laughing at," he said, "I was laughing at the d-d completeness of the whole thing." That was what I was laughing at—the completeness with which the democratic party was wiped off the political earth for the time being.

As to what caused this great disturbance in the political horizon I do not think it is a matter hard to determine. In 1896 a sufficient number of democrats bolted the democratic national ticket to defeat it and elect McKinley. They did the same thing in 1900 and gloried in the fact that they had been instrumental in defeating Bryan and his silver lunatic following. Then they began the task of reorganizing the democratic party. They managed to get control of most of the state committees and so controlled most of the delegates to the state and national convention that they had no difficulty in naming a candidate for president and making a platform so little different from the republican platform on most vital questions that it was a general remark that they were so near alike you could not tell 'tother from which. Reference to the financial question having been eliminated from the national democratic platform Judge Parker after his nomination felt it necessary, or was compelled, to send to the convention his now famous gold telegram in which he aligned himself with the republican party on the gold standard question. This was to the loyal democrats of 1896 and 1900 like flaunting a red flag in the face of an infuriated bull. The reorganizers took entire charge of the campaign and the battle was fought on the lines marked out by them, with what result everybody knows. Many democrats refused to vote for Parker, many refused to go to the polls, and others voted for the prohibition ticket or for Watson. The vote shows that Bryan in this county in 1900 received 571 votes more than Parker did this year, and that Roosevelt received this year but 54 votes more than McKinley did in 1900. The total republican and democratic vote in this county this year is 5879, in 1900 it was 6396, or 517 more for these two parties than it is this year. It simply shows that the republican party got out their full vote and received about 50 democratic votes, while over 500 democrats refused to go to the polls. The democrats of this county had a splendid organization this year and could they have got their vote out every man on the county ticket would have been elected by the usual majorities.

I believe the great defeat of the democratic party this year is the best that could have happened. It clarifies the political atmosphere and will line up the loyal democrats again under the banner of William Jennings Bryan, while those radical gold standard democrats who bolted him in two presidential campaigns will go over permanently to the republican party where they belong, and in 1908 there is liable to be as marvelous a change in public sentiment as there has been this year. As to Marshall county it will give its normal democratic majority two years hence, and at the next presidential election will be found in the democratic column "by a large majority."

Give Them Hearty Support.

It is the duty of every loyal citizen, regardless of his political affiliation, to give the newly elected officials, from President of the U. S. down to township trustee, his unqualified support. What is good for the masses of the party in power is also good for the minority. If the laws enacted work a hardship upon our people, the people themselves will correct the evil. We have implicit confidence in the wisdom and good judgement of the masses, and sincerely believe that their final verdict will be absolutely just and will be to the best interests of all the people. We may be in error now, and some of the more timid may lose all hopes for a betterment of conditions but the final verdict of the American people will set all things right. In this our overwhelming defeat we are still proud of the fact that we are humble citizens of this United States, the greatest and most glorious country on the face of the earth.

The following members of Kaley School, District No. 8, were neither absent nor tardy for the first two months of school: Lawrence, Miller, Ethel Alden, Gail Newman, Dick Newman, Alvan Mathias, Raymond Alden, Elva Zechiel, John Alden, Raymond Miller and Vera Zechiel.—Claude Newman, teacher.

FLORA IN NAME ONLY

Was the Aggregation of Football Players That Came Saturday.

HIRED MEN OF OTHER TOWNS

But are Held Down to a Tie by the Culver Town Team.

What was supposed to be the Flora football eleven came up last Saturday on the avowed mission of wiping up the earth with the Culver town team. It developed that but four of the players hailed from Flora, the balance being gathered up from various places for the occasion. Notwithstanding this, the visitors were held down to a tie by the local team, neither side scoring. Here is the story:

Flora won toss and chose to kick. Culver to defend the west goal. Moss kicked to Hutchison, who returned fifteen yards. On the first down Culver was thrown back for a loss of two yards. Zechiel and Heminger failed to make the distance and the ball went to Flora on the twenty-eight yard line. Flora carried the ball to Culver's fifteen yard line when they lost it on a fumble. Zechiel punted out of danger and Hutchison got the ball on a fumble. Heminger and Bush made eight yards. Zechiel made five through center. Heminger made six yards through left tackle. An end run was cleverly blocked. Flora held and Culver attempted to punt but it was blocked and Bush fell on ball and made four through tackle. Zechiel two through end and Heminger made two through tackle. Flora was off side and was penalized five yards Flora's official showed his entire ignorance of foot ball and his incapability of officiating on the gridiron. During the dispute which resulted Flora's manager took time to tell his salaried players from Delphi that unless they did better work that their salaries would be held back. Culver took the penalty and allowed themselves to be buncoed on the ruling of Flora's official, who by the way was not game to take the ten dollars offered by Parker.

Flora held and the ball went over. Simms punted to Culver's forty-five yard line and Zechiel returned the punt to Flora's thirty yard line and Jones got the ball on a fumble. Heminger, Zechiel and Bush carried the ball to Flora's three yard line when time was up and we were cheated out of a touch down by the miserable slowness of Flora who was continually playing for time when they saw their goal in danger of being crossed.

SECOND HALF.

Zechiel kicked to Flora's twenty yard line who returned it ten yards. Culver held and Flora punted to the center of the field and regained the ball on a fumble. Osborn got through tackle and threw Hornecker back for a loss of three yards. Simms and Harris failed to make the distance and the ball went over. Zechiel got around left end for twenty yards. Heminger five yards through end and time was up with the ball on Flora's twenty yard line.

The following is the line up:

Culver (0)	Flora (0)
Zechiel..... F. B.	Harris
Heminger..... R. H. B.	O'Connor
Bush..... L. H. B.	Simms
Hutchison(c) R. E.	Wagoner H.
Osborn..... R. T.	Harris
Green..... R. G.	Pierson
Ferrier..... C.	Myer
Jones..... L. G.	Wagoner C.
Easterday..... L. T.	McHail
Washburn..... L. E.	Moss
McLane..... Q. B.	Hornecker

NOTES.

It will be remembered that Culver defeated the real Flora team on their own grounds four weeks ago by a score of 6 to 0, and held them to a tie in Saturday's game.

It must have been agonizing to Manager Clark to shove out the hard cash to the Wheeling and Delphi players who failed to bring honor to Flora.

The Turbaned Knights of Delphi failed to make good.

Culver was outweighed ten pounds to the man.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Nell Garn was a Plymouth visitor Monday.

Frank Parker, the newly elected trustee, spent Monday in Plymouth.

Henry Zechiel and Arthur Morris transacted business in Plymouth Monday.

Mrs. S. S. Smith entertained the Ladies Aid Society of Burr Oak last Thursday.

PRESIDENT ORDERS POSTOFFICE PROBE

Railway Mail Contracts Have Been Under Investigation by the Department of Justice.

Washington special: A new investigation of the postoffice department is now under way. It involves the railway mail service, which calls for the largest single item of expenditure in the service. Half a dozen railway mail contracts are now before the department of justice for examination as to their legality, and an investigation of charges of collusion by the government officials, some of whom are supposed to be in congress, is being made.

President Roosevelt ordered this investigation before the death of Postmaster General Payne, but the fact that the inquiry has been going on for nearly two months has been kept quiet. The report of the department of justice will be made to the president, who will take up the matter with Postmaster General Wynne for whatever action developments may show to be necessary.

In ordering the railway mail contracts to be examined secretly the president has stolen a march on members of congress, who have always protested against such an investigation on behalf of the railroads. These protests have not been confined to the majority party, for Democrats have come forward whenever the railroads in their part of the country have been suspected of charging more than a just price for mail transportation.

One reform likely to follow in this department applies to the method of weighing mails on which to base a price to be paid to the railroads. This weighing is done once in four years for a short time and on this basis a four years' contract is based. It has been charged that mails were increased during these periods by collusion between postoffice officials and the railroad companies.

At the time of the postmaster general's last annual report there were 2,935 railroad routes, with a total length of 192,852 miles and an annual travel of 333,491,684 miles, costing $36,607,524.80 a year. The amount paid for railroad transportation is rapidly growing each year. The appropriation for the year ended last June was $38,242,000, while the estimate for the next fiscal year is $39,608,000.

Congressman Is Made Defendant in a Suit for $91,000.

St. Paul, Minn., dispatch: C. B. Buckman of Little Falls, Minn., who was re-elected Tuesday from the Sixth congressional district by a greatly reduced majority, has been made defendant in a suit brought on behalf of the state for $91,000. The complaint was filed in Ramsey county district court by Attorney General Donahower. In it the allegation is made that Buckman trespassed on state pine lands by removing timber of sufficient value, with the penalties provided by statute, to bring the amount of damages to the figure alleged. The offense is alleged to have been committed prior to 1898.

Detectives Are at Work on Effertz Murder and Robbery.

La Porte, Ind., special: There will be no grand jury action now on the murder of Jacob Harmon Effertz, the Chicago man who was found in a ditch at Wilders, this county, with a bullet in his head. There seems to be no doubt that Effertz was killed by an assassin and that robbery was the motive, but the evidence, which is wholly circumstantial, does not warrant the making of an arrest, though the investigation of the officers of this county and Chicago detectives will continue. A special grand jury was called to probe the mystery.

REPUBLICANS HAVE BIG MAJORITY IN CONGRESS

Practically Complete Figures Give That Party 245 Against 141 Democrats—Gains Made in New York and Pennsylvania—Situation in the Senate

The Republican majority in the house of representatives in the next congress will pass the 100 mark. On the face of the figures the majority reaches 104, and as there is doubt with regard to some half-dozen districts among the 386 in the country, changes are likely to occur that will increase this lead.

Republicans, 245; Democrats, 141, is the way the house shows up at this time. There may be a change in one of the Maryland districts. Senator Dick of Ohio claimed a solid Republican delegation from the Buckeye state, but on the face of the returns two Democrats have escaped the catastrophe that overtook the party. It is very close, however, in the Fifth district.

On the day after it was the middle West and the Mississippi Valley that furnished the surprises. It is certain that only two Democrats will be in the Illinois delegation, Rainey of the Twentieth and Martin D. Foster of the Twenty-third.

Wade, the Democratic congressman from the Twenty-second Iowa, is defeated by Dawson, Republican, by a plurality of 213, insuring a solid Republican delegation from that state. Michigan is solidly Republican. In Indiana the Democratic strength has Late returns indicate that the republicans have gained a seat in the United States senate. They already had lost one in Maryland, where Isadore Rayner, democrat, has been elected to succeed Senator McComas. It was supposed there would be another loss in Nevada. The term of Senator Stewart expires with this congress. It had been assumed he would be succeeded by a democrat. Instead of that the state legislature is reliably republican and the senator to succeed Stewart will be of the same faith.

In Montana the republicans have carried the legislature, which will permit them to elect a successor to Paris Gibson, democrat, the colleague of Senator Clark, the multi-millionaire.

Of course the most sensational change in the United States senate comes from the Missouri landslide. Senator Francis M. Cockrell, the ranking democrat on the appropriations committee, who has been in the senate since 1875, will have to go. He succeeded Carl Schurz, and last July was a candidate for the presidency at the St. Louis convention against Parker. Besides being one of the best financiers on the democratic side, Senator Cockrell has a reputation peculiar to himself because he makes his lunch exclusively on apples, which been cut from four to two. Nebraska sends a solid delegation, Hitchcock, Bryan's friend and former manager, having been defeated for re-election in the Omaha district. Wisconsin retains its complexion of ten Republicans and one Democrat.

But it was in Missouri that the havoc was greatest. The Republicans have one member in the present delegation; in the Fifty-ninth congress they will have eight, Chairman Cowherd of the Democratic congressional committee being among the ballot victims. The Republicans will contest the election of John T. Hunt in the eleventh district on the ground of fraud. If the contest succeeds, the Republicans will have nine of the sixteen congressmen from the state.

In the East the heaviest Republican gains were in New York and Pennsylvania. In New York the Democratic representation has been reduced from 17 to 11. Only one Democrat has been elected in Pennsylvania, as against four Democratic members on the present delegation. New Jersey also will send a single Democrat, although there are three Democrats from there in the present house.

Republicans are claiming the election of their candidate in the eighth North Carolina district.

Congressman Babcock of Wisconsin, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, had a narrow escape. In a district normally Republican by from 10,000 to 12,000, his plurality is 223.

The Missouri legislature will be Republican on joint ballot, which means the retirement of United States Senator Cockrell and the election of a Republican to succeed him.

Democratic congressmen from the South will be quite a family to themselves in the next House, as they number 108 out of the total of 146 democrats elected.

All of the southern states elected solid delegations except Maryland, Kentucky, Missouri, West Virginia and Tennessee.

Tennessee will send two republicans and eight democrats; West Virginia four republicans and probably one democrat; Kentucky ten democrats and one republican; Maryland seems to have divided its quota by electing three democrats and three republicans. From Missouri there will be four republicans and twelve democrats, or possibly 13 democrats and three republicans.

Socialists throughout the country were at first elated with the promising outlook for the election of Victor Berger, a Milwaukee socialist, but later returns showed that he was defeated. Had Mr. Berger been elected he would have been the first socialist of this country distinguished with a congressional seat, and he came so near the coveted position Milwaukee socialists are determined that he shall try again at the next congressional election. Meantime they are exulting over the surprisingly large vote cast for the socialist ticket there.

Empire State Margin 174,691.

Corrected returns from the sixty-one counties in New York state give President Roosevelt a total plurality of 174,691 in the state, against 143,551 for President McKinley four years ago. President Roosevelt came to the Bronx with a plurality of 212,836. President McKinley in 1900 had only 175,934 to the Bronx. Lieut. Gov. Higgins carried New York state for governor by a plurality of 76,892. He ran 42,366 behind the president in New York city.

NEW GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA

Offspring of Poor Parents, He Forces His Way to the Executive Chair.

WINS IN VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

Is Elected in Face of Slurs on His Origin by 13,000 Plurality on Democratic Ticket, as Against 125,000 for Roosevelt.

St. Paul special: John A. Johnson, whose father died in poverty, and whose mother did washing to support a large and helpless family, and who was taunted with these facts during the campaign, has been elected governor of this state by a plurality that will exceed 13,000. He was the Democratic candidate, and President Roosevelt carried the state by a plurality of not less than 125,000. The campaign against Johnson's lowly origin had a reactionary effect, and the people are proud of their governor-elect, who has worked his way to the highest office in the state against odds and obstacles that have tried his mettle and found it always true. Now he is projected on the political screen as a candidate for the highest office in the nation.

Hustling Ability Wins.

Robert C. Dunn, the Republican candidate, had for several years been looked upon as the logical candidate for the Republican nomination, but he won the honor only after a bitter factional fight which split the party. Johnson was nominated by the Democrats when there was but the faintest hope of electing him. The nomination was given him in the nature of an empty honor.

But Johnson, always vigorous, always earnest and sincere, took his nomination seriously. No sooner had the campaign entered upon its first stage than he and a handful of friends began a most vigorous agitation. The faction of the Republican party which had practically forced the nomination of Dunn drafted into service Senators Nelson and Clapp and made strenuous efforts to counteract the tide setting in toward Johnson.

House-to-House Canvass.

Meanwhile Johnson, who is of Swedish parentage, was making a house-to-house canvass of the state. The fact that he is a Swede and a native of Minnesota appealed to the large Swedish population, and his progress alarmed the Republican managers. The newspapers of the Twin Cities took up his cause, tentatively. With one exception they did not support Dunn with anything approaching vigor or effectiveness.

At this stage of the campaign a series of slurring attacks upon the lowly parentage of Johnson began to circulate. Circulars, widely distributed, but the authorship of which could not be traced, announced that his father died a pauper. This statement was backed by an affidavit. Stress was laid upon the fact that his mother had taken in washing. The intent was clearly to prove that Johnson had suffered his father to die a pauper when he could have supported him.

Wakes Up Opponents.

Then Minnesota experienced the sensation of the campaign. A Republican political writer investigated the entire story and told the true history of John A. Johnson's life, with all its pathos, its heartaches, its struggles and achievements. Born in St. Peter, Minn., of Swedish parents, he was forced when yet a child to take up hard labor or starve. His father had become addicted to drink. John was handicapped because his mother was not in robust health. The family was large and must be fed and clothed, but the boy was brave of heart, and he won. The father, after many lapses, drifted away from home and became an inmate of the county poorhouse.

Studies at Night.

From the time he was 14 years of age the boy, with what help his mother could give, was practically the sole support of the family. He did whatever work he could obtain. At night he studied. His schooling had been irregular, but he gradually educated himself to the point where he was eligible to a position in a newspaper office. He had won the respect and confidence of the entire community, which was his chief capital. But he saved his money, invested his dollars, became a man of property and eventually was elected to the state senate.

He is the only Democrat elected in the state. He is married and has two children. He lives at St. Peter, where he publishes and edits a daily paper. Nominated by the Democrats, he was elected by the people, and today they are predicting that the man whose mother took in washing may yet be a candidate for President of the United States.

HIGH CLIMBER SUSTAINS A FALL

"Steeple Jack" Loses Grip and is Fatally Injured.

Johnstown, N. Y., special: "Steeple Jack" McClure of this city took a fatal fall from a high factory chimney at Fultonville, N. Y. He lost his grip on a cable on which he attempted to descend from the top of the chimney and fell to the ground, landing on his feet. Most of the bones in his body were broken. He was widely known in this section as a steeple climber. McClure was 55 years of age.

The Words We Use.

Volume VI of the new Oxford Dictionary records 3,175 words between M and Mandragon, with 12,855 illustrative quotations. The verb make, with its unparalleled variety of shades of meaning, and multitude of idiomatic uses, has naturally required to be treated at unusual length; the article occupies upward of eleven pages, each consisting three long columns, or slightly more than the space given to the verb go, which has till now been by far the longest in the dictionary.—Strand.

NORTHWEST KANSAS!

Phillips County is located between the Solomon and Republican, two of the best rivers in the State. Its network of hills, smooth open prairies, wide meadow valleys, numerous streams, timbered cross streams and rivers combined together make it a surprisingly beautiful country and naturally promote and precipitate seasonable local rains protecting it from drought. It has a deep loam soil and it is one of the best ranch and surest crop sections west of the Mississippi river for orchards, small grain, corn, alfalfa, hogs, cattle and horses. Three railroads through county. It will pay you to investigate my $10 to $30 bargains in desirable ranches and farms. J. F. MORSE, Phillipsburg, Kan.

United States' Foe Defeated.

A feature of special interest to this country in connection with the Canadian elections was the defeat in Colchester county, Nova Scotia, of Seymour G. Gourley, a conservative who during his two terms in parliament earned considerable notoriety by violent attacks on the United States. Robert L. Borden of Halifax, conservative leader, also went down to defeat with the other candidates of his party.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Hundreds upon hundreds of big bargains in each department will be awaiting our patrons

LOCAL ITEMS

Where, oh where, is Tom Taggart?

It is said upon good authority that Parker and Davis will not contest the election.

Mr. Philip Sickman brought in a few ears of fine corn which were added to our display.

A severe winter is predicted, which, if true, will receive a hearty welcome by the coal trust.

The voting machines used at Indianapolis during the last election proved to be a success.

J. O. Ferrier has received a car load of anthracite coal which he is delivering to his customers.

The democrats of Fulton county elected trustees in two out of eight townships, Richard and Newcastle.

Arthur Morris and Ed. Bradley killed 57 ducks in 5 days—good record and lots of sport for the boys.

There were 36 prohibition votes cast in Union township at the last election, a gain of more than 100 per cent.

D. G. Walter has completed an addition to his house which adds to its appearance and supplies much additional comfort.

Col. Sellers and Dick McFarland make a strong combination as auctioneers and are worthy of the confidence and patronage of the people. Give them a trial.

The quail season opened the 10th but it is said that there are no quail. The severe winters have killed most of them leaving nothing for our sportsmen.

William Stackhouse a young man of Bourbon committed suicide last week. Financial reverses is given as the cause. The deceased leaves a wife and one child.

Governor Peabody, of Colorado, was defeated by about 10,000. This is one little ray of sunshine to soften the Egyptian darkness of democratic reverses.

William Osborn is working insurance and is representing one of the best companies, "The Prudential". He devotes much energy to the business and is sure to succeed.

A train of forty cars loaded with plows from the Oliver plow works in South Bend passed through Goshen Saturday night enroute to New York for shipment to South America.

Attorney S. N. Stevens resigned his position as county attorney. The commissioners will appoint his successor. Mr. Stevens served the county faithfully and no reason is given for his resignation.

Tom Taggart said that he would no longer live in Indiana if it went republican. The democrats of the state should assist Tom in finding some place of refuge. We would suggest the island of Guam.

Gompers the labor leader is being groomed for the position of secretary of commerce and labor. Such a course would be detrimental to the cause of labor. It would be considered by many to be in the nature of a bribe.

The dates for the Marshall county Farmers' institute have been set for January 13 and 14 at Plymouth and S. P. Bryan, as one of the committee, announced the corn show will be held in connection and urges that farmers select their corn in good time.

Port Arthur still stands but the citadel of Parker and Davis has fallen and their generals completely routed. The future rank and file of the democratic party will point the finger of scorn at such leaders as Taggart, McCarren, Hill, Belmont and others.

Thomas Wilkinson, secret service officer of the Nickel Plate railroad, after making an investigation has secured indictments against nine Argos youngsters he has charged with molesting company property and unlawfully jumping on trains etc. It is understood the prosecution of these cases will be deferred pending the good behavior of the boys who should take due warning—Argos Reflector.

Col. Sellers, the silver-tongued auctioneer of the Kankakee Valley, and Dick McFarland, of Culver, have combined forces and kindly ask your patronage. If you are thinking of making a sale see them in regard to terms and dates. They use the short method.

Rolla Hawk has exchanged his gasoline engine for a large six horse power, Jack of all Trades engine, made by the Fairbanks Morse Co. of Chicago. D. B. Young negotiated the exchange. Mr. Hawk has now sufficient power to do all kinds of farm work with ease.

Miss Tressie Rogers, who is employed at the Times at Logansport was the guest of her parents, Dr. L. Rogers and wife, from Saturday to Wednesday. Miss Mand Koontz of Culver, daughter of the publisher of the Culver Citizen, was a guest of Miss Rogers Monday evening.—Kewanna Herald.

We should neither seek nor shun death. That we should be prepared to die, we should live every day as though it were the last. That we should be prepared to live, we should live every day as though we were never to die.—From the writings of the late Judge Horace P. Biddle.

George M. Osborn has purchased a two horse power Jack of all Trades gasoline engine of D. B. Young. This is one of the best gasoline engines on the market and is giving excellent satisfaction where ever used. We have used one in our office the past eighteen months and know whereof we speak.

We have just got in two car loads of woven wire fencing, all sizes and the price very low. Do not delay buying your fencing as it will advance. We have a large stock of heating stoves, harness, buggies, sleighs, fall and winter robes, wagons, windmills and cream separators. Call and see us.—Marbaugh Bros., Monterey, Ind.

The oil well crowd out west of town is in tough luck. After putting a four inch hole down over 1000 feet they had to pull up and go down with a six inch pipe to shut out the water. It is claimed the prospects for oil are not very promising but as the contract calls for a 2000 foot hole the drillers will keep plugging merrily away.—Kewanna Herald.

General Lew Wallace, the author of Ben Hur, is affected with an ailment of the stomach, which is slowly starving him. He is at work upon his memoirs and hopes to complete them before death shall claim him. It is notably a race with death and in many respects similar to the heroic effort of General Grant, whose memoirs were completed on his death bed.

Truly it was a landslide of the slumpiest kind when such democratic clay holes as Marshall and Allen counties in northern Indiana are completely obliterated and filled up with republican soil.—South Bend Tribune. The clay holes in Marshall county were filled with republican soil about ten years ago but the filling produced such a stench that even the republicans themselves failed to see any improvement in the soil.

This is a topsy turvy world. One man is struggling for justice, and another is fleeing from it. One man is trying to save money to build a house, and another is trying to sell his "for less than it cost." One man is spending all the money he can make in taking a girl to entertainments and sending her flowers in the hope eventually of making her his wife, while his neighbor is spending the gold he has got to get a divorce. One man escapes all the diseases man is heir to and gets killed on the railway. Another goes everywhere without being hurt and dies with whooping cough. Such is life!

A Letter from Oregon.

EDITOR CULVER CITIZEN:

The summer is ended, the harvest is past and the rain came too late to save the watermelons. The long dry spell which began last April is no more but we now have the beginning of our wet season.

The summer was much dryer than usual, which caused a great shortage in fruits of all kinds. The rains began much later than common but from the way it starts in we will soon have enough rain to compensate for what we lacked during the summer.

Since the rains began, the atmosphere is clear and everything is clean. It makes a fellow feel as if he were living in a new world. And as one looks out on the hills it is pleasing to the eye and sort of refreshing to the soul.

Many of you have seen the high buildings in Chicago. You look up, and up, and up to the top but if you had been with me in the Washington forest you would have looked up once more and then wondered if you saw the top.

In Indiana no doubt the farmers are digging their potatoes and gather the corn. Here the Oregonian style is to dig a few bushels as they want to use them or if they dig them they are put in bags and piled in some shed or on the back porch instead of putting them in the basement or burying them.

Tuesday, October 25th I picked and ate a few strawberries. They were among the first of the second crop to ripen. This crop will hardly be a fourth as large as the first but the berries sell for twenty or twenty-five cents a box. They are not as large as the berries of the first crop but the flavor is just as good.

By this time the frost is nipping the flowers of your lawns while here they are as bright and beautiful as they were last June.

If any of you should come to Portland some of the interesting things to see are the city hall, the city park, which is located just on the west side of the city and will give you a good idea of the Oregon hills, different kinds of timber, oet, and the Lewis and Clark fair grounds. Some of the buildings are being completed and are very beautiful from an architectural point of view, while there are several others to be built yet and the contracts have not as yet been awarded, so there is some chance yet for a job.

I for one feel that a person can't put money to much better use than to come and take a squint at this far off, wild and woolly northwest. This may give some people an idea of some of the things we enjoy in Oregon, or it may help some chicken-hearted youth to leave his mother long enough to see what there is in some other part of the country outside of the township in which he was born and raised.

ELMER M. SCHEUERMAN.

A Quiet Wedding.

At the Methodist church at eight o'clock Thursday evening, Charles Callahan and Miss Bessie Leonard, daughter of W. E. Leonard, of this city, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony. Miss Leonard is an excellent young lady, who has a large circle of friends, and is popular with all who know her. The groom is a young business man of Terre Haute, being engaged in the newspaper business at that place.

The young married couple left for Terre Haute Friday morning, where they will begin married life well equipped in all that is really essential to make them happy and useful members of society.

The wedding was a quiet one, only a few chosen friends being present.—Plymouth Independent.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove what Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of this paper May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

53 Cottage St., Melrose, Mass.

DEAR SIR: JAN. 11TH, 1904.

"Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered every thing and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time. I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water to-day and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition. I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am, Very truly yours, I. C. RICHARDSON.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but it promptly cures kidney, liver and bladder troubles, the symptoms of which are—obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brickdust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, poor digestion, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, wornout feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion, or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in this

George Horace Lorimer has been aptly termed "a twentieth century Poor Richard" by one critic, while many others have compared him to Hosea Bigelow and David Harum. Mr. Lorimer has been able to live up to his reputation and write a sequel fully as good as the first book which made his fame and fortune. His "Old Grogan Graham" (Doubleday, Page & Co.) cannot be better explained than by the simple setting down of its subtitle, "More Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son."

Motor Cycle Causes Trouble.

Banker Charles R. Fishburne of Roanoke, Va., is the son of an ice dealer. He bought a motor cycle. When he appeared on it in the street the boys shouted, "Ice man" and "Hello, ice." He complained to the police. Then he slapped Dr. Fred E. Lefew's stepson. A discussion followed. The doctor slapped the banker and the banker stabbed the doctor. The wound is serious and the bail is $5,000.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in ¼-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. ### CHAPTER XX—Continued.

But the king did not spring upon his foster-brother. Even as they looked, the fire went out in his eyes, spark by spark, until they were lustreless as ashes, and at last he put up his hand and wiped great drops from his forehead. "Heavy is it to lose faith in others, but heavier still to lose faith in one's self. . . . I know that no word of mine urged Edric to this deed, but what my eyes may have said, or some trick of my voice or my face, is not so sure. . . . It may be that I wanted this thing to happen without knowing it. It is true that I do not always know for certain what I have at heart." His eyes came back from space to rest musingly on Elfgiva. "When I began this feasting-time, I thought I had grasped heaven with my hands, but now—he spread out his fingers and released the little bunch of dead leaves that he had been rolling against his palm—"now I let not this go from me more easily. . . . You see that a man is not sure even of his own mind."

He dashed his fist against the tree beside him and did not seem to feel it when his hand was bleeding. "I will be such a king that there will not be many to equal me; such a king that they will wish they had given me happiness and left me a man."

Whirling, he flung out his bleeding hand toward Elfgiva, and his mouth was distorted with its bitterness. "Hear that, you who were so mad to have your lord the King of England that you could not spend a thought on the love of Canute of Denmark! You have got your wish,—go back now to your Northamptonshire castle and think whether or not you are gladdened by it."

"Go back!" Elfgiva fell from her height of injured dignity with a piercing scream. "What is it you say, King? Now by the splendor of heaven, you depart not for London without

The two who rode at their head, however, looked to be of a different mettle. The shorter of the two, while she rode with gracefully drooping head, had left her face practically uncovered, seemingly unconscious of the half-slighting half-pleasing admiration elicited by its pathetic beauty. The other, who showed no more than the tip of her nose, held her head bravely erect, while, even through her wrappings, the straightness of her back breathed haughtiness.

Yet it was not to the pensive fair one that a timid companion appealed for comfort when a temporary damming of the stream pressed those who led back upon those who followed. She stretched out an entreating hand toward the girl with the haughtily carried head.

"Randall! What will he do—the King—when he finds that we have fooled Ulf Jarl, and come hither against his command?"

The Danish girl laughed recklessly. "Little do I care, Candida, to tell it truthfully. Nothing can be worse than sitting in that abbey. Think that you will sleep in the palace to-night."

Catching this last phrase, as her Valkyria came abreast of her, Elfgiva spoke pettishly: "You see fit to sing a different tune from what you did when you tried to hinder me from this undertaking. I should have brighter hopes if I had not given ear to your advice to send a messenger ahead. If I could have come upon him before he had time to work himself into hostile temper—"

Her attention wandered as a couple of tipsy soldiers elbowed themselves between the guards only to catch a nearer glimpse of her face, after which they allowed themselves to be thrust back, shouting drunken toasts to her beauty.

"Is it your wish that I help you to lower your hood, lady?" the Danish girl made offer.

"* * * with this dead emptiness in her breast."

me! Be it known to you that I am going to be your Queen."

At first he laughed at her in genuine astonishment; after that he laughed, neither angrily nor bitterly, but with the quietness of utter contempt. "I will have the London goldsmiths send you a crown if you wish," he said. "That is all you understand about being a queen."

She tried to protest, to cajole, to threaten. She tried to do so many things at once that she accomplished none of them. Her speech became less and less intelligible until tears and hysterical laughter reduced it to mere mouthings, while her tiny hands beat the air with fingers bent hook-like.

But the young King did not look at her again. He had rejoined his nobles and was leading them toward the door, giving rapid orders as he walked. "Do you, Rothgar, see to it that the horses are saddled. Kinsman Ulf, it is my will that you join us some while later, when you have seen these women returned in safety. You, my chiefs, get you ready to ride to Oxford as quick as is possible." His voice was lost in the trampling as they stepped from the turf upon the flagging of the gallery.

When the echoing tread was gone at last from the cloister, the garden seemed strangely silent in spite of the hurrying servants—silent and empty. In the stillness it came slowly to Randall that life was not so simple as she had supposed; that she was not going to die of her grief, but to live with it—live with this dead emptiness in her breast. The years seemed to stretch before her like the snow wastes of the North—white, white, white, without a break of living green.

CHAPTER XXI.

On the Road to London.

From Edgeware, where the Watling street left the Middlesex forest to cross the barren heath known as Tyburn lane, the great road was crowded with travelers. Amid the rabble a band of high-born women was to be seen approaching the city this early December morning. Their hoods were pulled down as before a storm, their mantles drawn up above their chins; and all but two of them appeared to be trying to shrink into their gilded saddles.

quainted with her custom of sweeping the Northamptonshire serfs off any road she wished to possess, but that struck him as being somewhat easier than dispersing a coronation mob at the gates of London; and yet to defy her—that was harder than either of them! It was an interposition of his good angel that at this moment provided a diversion.

Randall broke from her silence with an exclamation: "Thorkel! Yonder!"

Less than fifty paces ahead of them the grizzled head of the King's foster-father rose steeple-like above the crowd, while the mighty shoulders of the King's foster-brother made a bulwark beside it, and the gilded helms of the King's guard formed a palisade around them. The obstacle in the way was nothing less than a royal detachment drawn up in waiting beside the road.

Elfgiva's frown relaxed; for the first time in many days she let the liquid music of her laughter trickle forth. "Be blithesome in your minds, maidens!" she called gayly over her shoulder. "Friends are at hand to take charge of us."

Taking into consideration what they had expected, the attention was so flattering that at first they scarcely dared believe it; but its truth was proved the moment Thorkel turned his head and saw them coming. At his command, the line of gilded helms quickly drew out across the road in a barrier which once more dammed the human stream to overflowing. A break in the middle allowed the party from Gloucester to filter through; then the opening closed behind them; the line bent at either end, and they moved as between walls, guarded against any further jostling or rude contact. Elfgiva sparkled with delight and greeted the Tall One with more affability than she had ever before designed his gruffness.

"Since my royal lord came not himself to meet us," she said graciously—and pushing her hood entirely back so that he might get the full benefit of her face—"he has well honored us in his messengers, than whom no persons could be more welcome. I pray you, tell me without delay how it stands with his health and his fortunes."

Turning from a muttered word to the soldier at his side, Thorkel answered her with his usual curtness. "He thrives well, but his time is full of great matters. To-day he is with the English Witan. Yesterday they chose him to be their king. To-morrow he is to be crowned."

"To-morrow? And he would have let me remain in ignorance!" The Lady of Northampton was unable to repress a start of anger, though she turned it as soon as possible into a plaintive sigh. "Let me be thankful that my arrival is not too late. I can not tell you how we have been beset with hardships!" Whereupon, she instantly began telling him, giving free rein to eyes and lips and all the graceful tricks of her hands. It did not disturb her in the least that he rode beside her in silence, when she had observed that from under the bristling watch of his brows his gaze never left her face.

Judge Believes in Early Rising.

David J. Brewer, justice of the United States supreme court, went to Kansas and entered upon the practice of law at 22. He is now 67 and hale and hearty. "For many years," he recently said, "I have been getting up at 4 o'clock in the morning. Lately, however, the hour has been 5 o'clock, for I find I enjoy taking more sleep. My retiring hour at night is usually about 10 o'clock. I began early rising when I lived in Kansas. As a young judge I was ambitious, and at night I found myself dreaming over the cases I had tried during the preceding day. I did not rest well, and this troubled me so much that I consulted a doctor. He advised me to drop all work in the evening. I was to go out with my wife, attend the theater, play cards or go to parties, but forget the law. I followed this advice and gradually acquired the habit of rising at 4 o'clock."—Chicago Chronicle.

President Polk in Boston.

Charles J. Bateman, a descendant of President Polk, asked to tell of some anecdote concerning his distinguished ancestor, told the following story: "It is said that when President Polk visited Boston he was impressively received at Faneuil hall market. The clerk walked in front of him down the length of the market, announcing in loud tones: "Make way, gentlemen, for the president of the United States! The president of the United States! Fellow citizens, make room!"

"The chief executive had stepped into one of the stalls to look at some game, when Mr. Rhodes, the secretary, turned around suddenly, and, finding himself alone, promptly changed his tone and exclaimed: "My gracious, where has that darned idiot got to?"—Louisville Herald.

Covering the Truth.

A certain man in Philadelphia, who goes fishing two or three times a year and brings home more stories than fish, was talking to a friend not long after his last trip. "And what did your wife say," inquired the friend, "when you told her you had caught thirty-five fish, none less than a pound weight?" "That wife of mine is a queer woman," was the reflective response. "You know the statue of Truth we had there in the parlor without any clothes on?" "Yes." "Well, do you know, when I told her what I had caught, she didn't say a word, but went right over to that statue with tears in her eyes and wrapped a rug around it. Now, what do you suppose she meant by that?" and his friend assured him that it was entirely beyond his explanation.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING

THIS YOUNG WOMAN APPEALED IN VAIN FOR HELP.

When Hope had Almost Settled Into Utter Despair Relief Came from an Unexpected Source.

Mrs. Emma Heidebreder, of No. 1323 Joy street, Burlington, Iowa, whose husband is an employee of the Rand Lumber Co., tells a story of pitiable suffering:

"For about five years," she says, "I had a host of physical ills that kept me invalid and puzzled the doctors. Some of them thought I was going into consumption. At times I was so weak that I could not comb my hair or even wash my face. Then excruciating pains ran suddenly up my thigh and I had to be carried to bed screaming in my agony. I could no longer do my work and the drain upon my husband's purse was very heavy. I craved food but what I ate only gave me discomfort. My liver was torpid, and often I had to be carried to the door for air to save me from suffocating."

"The worst was the pain which seemed as if my thigh were being pushed out of my body. The best doctors could do was to deaden it by narcotics. Once they thought I could not live for more than two days. In one of my worst attacks, a friend said: 'Why don't you try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills? They are the only thing that ever helped my rheumatism.'"

"I took his advice. After using one box I felt better, and I continued to use the pills for three or four months with steady improvement until I was well. For four years I have been able to do all my household work, and no longer have to take medicine for any serious trouble. I gave one box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to a man on crutches because of rheumatism and advised my market woman to buy a box when she was complaining of the same trouble. I heard that he was soon able to throw his crutches away, and she told me she had got rid of the rheumatism by the use of one box and could not thank me too much."

Testimony multiplies as to the magnificent curative powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous headache, palpitation of the heart and all forms of weakness in either male or female. They are sold by all druggists throughout the world.

MAMMOTH CAVES IN FRANCE.

Lately Explored, They Are Now a Popular Pleasure Resort.

One of the strangest holiday resorts, and one of the most interesting, is that recently made accessible to the public at Padirac, in the department of Lot, France. There a wonderful series of caverns, containing magnificent stalactites and a subterranean lake and river, has yielded its secrets to the adventurous explorer, and the dangers of the visit have now been ingeniously reduced, so that the average sightseer may traverse these "antres vast" with ease and safety.

For ages the caves remained absolutely unexplored, but by the enterprise of M. Martell a barrister, they have been thoroughly examined and described, and by means of iron stairways and galleries have been rendered accessible. One vast craterlike opening is 300 feet in circumference, and when M. Martell made his first visit to the depths he had to descend on a board attached to two ropes after the manner of a swing. He went down 300 feet, and, with several companions, began an extraordinary series of discoveries. The chief of these is an underground river, which he navigated in a collapsible boat.

An Honest Opinion.

Mineral, Idaho, Nov. 14th.—(Special.)—That a sure cure has been discovered for those sciatic pains that make so many lives miserable, is the firm opinion of Mr. D. S. Colson, a well known resident of this place, and he does not hesitate to say that cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills. The reason Mr. Colson is so firm in his opinion is that he had those terrible pains and is cured. Speaking of the matter he says:

"I am only too happy to say Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me lots of good. I had awful pains in my hip so I could hardly walk. Dodd's Kidney Pills stopped it entirely. I think they are a grand medicine."

All sciatic and Rheumatic pains are caused by Uric Acid in the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy Kidneys, and healthy Kidneys strain all the Uric Acid out of the blood. With the cause removed there can be no Rheumatism or Sciatica.

Plans Wireless Station.

The navy department is to establish a wireless station in the Farallone islands, a group of rocks, thirty-two miles west of the entrance to San Francisco bay. It would be a very important station in war time.

Hundreds of dealers say the extra quantity and superior quality of Defiance Starch is fast taking the place of all other brands. Others say they cannot sell any other starch.

A wonderful fairy story, linking a fantastic past with the present day by a most fascinating chain of events, is portrayed in "The Pearl and the Pumpkin," by Paul West, illustrated by W. W. Denslow. Raisuli on Warpath Again.
There are indications that Raisuli, the Moor who held Perdicaris in captivity, will shortly attempt another feat of the same kind unless stringent precautions are taken. The native authorities have addressed to all the legations a request that no European be allowed to proceed outside the environs of Tangier without the basha's special permit. There is general unrest and tribal fighting in all parts of the country. The sultan has announced his intention of prohibiting the coastwise shipment of grain, a measure which would cause famine in northern Morocco. The sultan's representative at Tangier agrees to keep the coast trade open for three months pending a discussion of the protest of the European representatives against its being prohibited.

TILL NOON.
The Simple Dish That Keeps One Vigorous and Well Fed.
When the doctor takes his own medicine and the grocer eats the food he recommends some confidence comes to the observer.
A Grocer of Ossian, Ind., had a practical experience with food worth anyone's attention.
He says: "Six years ago I became so weak from stomach and bowel trouble that I was finally compelled to give up all work in my store, and in fact all sorts of work, for about four years. The last year I was confined to the bed nearly all of the time, and much of the time unable to retain food of any sort on my stomach. My bowels were badly constipated continually and I lost in weight from 150 pounds down to 88 pounds.
"When at the bottom of the ladder I changed treatment entirely and started in on Grape-Nuts and cream for nourishment. I used absolutely nothing but this for about three months. I slowly improved until I got out of bed and began to move about.
"I have been improving regularly and now in the past two years have been working about fifteen hours a day in the store and never felt better in my life.
"During these two years I have never missed a breakfast of Grape-Nuts and cream, and often have it two meals a day, but the entire breakfast is always made of Grape-Nuts and cream alone.
"Since commencing the use of Grape-Nuts I have never used anything to stimulate the action of the bowels, a thing I had to do for years, but this food keeps me regular and in fine shape, and I am growing stronger and heavier every day.
"My customers, naturally, have been interested and I am compelled to answer a great many questions about Grape-Nuts.
"Some people would think that a simple dish of Grape-Nuts and cream would not carry one through to the noonday meal, but it will and in the most vigorous fashion."

CHILDREN MARCH OUT OF BURNING BUILDING

Fire Drill Proves Its Efficacy When Put to the Test, 2,500 Little Ones Obeying the Signals.

New York dispatch: Twenty-five hundred school children, the youngest 6 and the oldest 15 years of age, marched out of public school No. 17 in West Forty-seventh street shortly before noon Wednesday without the slightest sign of nervousness, although every one of them knew that their school was afire and that their lives were in danger. The escape of this army of little ones was due entirely to the perfection of the fire drill in the school. Not one of the little boys and girls was harmed. Not one lost his or her courage. It was a wonderful display of discipline.

Public school No. 17 is one of the oldest schools in this city. There are 2,500 pupils, boys and girls, and fifty teachers. There are forty-eight classrooms in the school building proper. The blaze started on the second floor front and almost directly over the main entrance to the school in a room used by the teachers as a dressing-room. To the west of this cloakroom there is a classroom and Miss Mary O'Connell, the teacher, was first to discover the flames. She quietly sent a note to the principal, Mrs. Gordon, telling her she smelled smoke. In an instant the gong meaning "Silence" sounded. A second ring came, which in the fire drill the children had been taught meant "March out without coats or books." Obedient to the sound of the bell, the children formed in line and walked downstairs and into the street. The last class to reach safety had to grope its way through blinding smoke, but the line moved steadily, though rapidly, and all got out in safety.

The firemen battled with the flames for two hours before subduing them.

SENDS THREE MEN TO PRISON

Federal Court Punishes for Fraudulent Use of the Mails.
Cleveland, O., dispatch: Charles H. Carleton, alias C. C. Lawrence, and George Harris, alias F. G. Edwards, both of Boston, were each sentenced to four and a half years in the state penitentiary and fined $1,500 in the United States district court, after having been convicted of using the mails to defraud. Charles G. Carrao, also of Boston, who was associated with Carleton and Harris, was sentenced to serve a year and a half in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $500. The men opened a broker's office here several months ago and sold out the business to a number of different persons. The police believe they have disposed of a dangerous gang of confidence men.

PRISONER DECLINES TO TALK

Refuses to Give Evidence Against Others in a Murder Case.
Muncie, Ind., dispatch: Samuel Sharp, the man convicted of the murder of Edward Zimmerman, who had been paying undue attention to his wife, has refused to testify against the Eley brothers, who were with him on the night of the murder. "How can these men be guilty of killing Zimmerman if I have been convicted of the crime? Ain't I now serving a prison term for the murder? Why should I say anything against them?" This statement is the first uttered by the murderer.

Too Many Co-eds.

Berkeley, Cal., dispatch: Prof. George E. Howison, head of the philosophy department of the University of California, has startled the college community by declaring that the large number of women students attending the university is inconsistent with the attainment of high scholarly ideas.

Boy Loses an Eye.

Pottsville, Pa., dispatch: While playing wild west a crowd of boys surrounded Clarence Pieton, 10 years old, who impersonated an Indian chief. One of the boys had an air rifle and he discharged it full at Pieton. The bullet entered the boy's eye, destroying the sight.

Grain Blockade in Russia.

London cablegram: Reports from Russian correspondents are to the effect that there have been extraordinary accumulations of grain on the railroads in Russia. The blockade is estimated at 91,186 vans and trucks, containing about 1,000,000 tons of grain.

Gets Panama Contract.

Panama cable: The contract for sanitary improvement at Bocas del Torro has been awarded to representatives of an American syndicate. The contract calls for complete drainage of the town and also for the filling of 71,760 square yards of government lots.

Japanese for Florida.

San Francisco, Cal., dispatch: Five Japanese, the advance guard of a colony of forty or fifty families, have arrived by the steamer Manchuria on the way to Dade, Fla. The colony will raise silk, cotton, tobacco and pineapples and experiment with tea.

Drowns From Boat.

Houghton, Mich., dispatch: Henry Prestage of Stanwood was drowned by the capsizing of a small boat on Lake Superior, off Freda. A companion, Henry Kehl, was thrown upon the rocks and did not recover consciousness until the next morning.

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me.

"Better health is all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy.

"Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—Mrs. B. A. BLANCHARD, 422 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

A Severe Case of Womb Trouble Cured in Philadelphia.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been cured of severe female troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was nearly ready to give up, but seeing your advertisement I purchased one bottle of your medicine, and it did me so much good that I purchased another, and the result was so satisfactory that I never be without it. I hope that my testimonial will convince women for falling of the womb or any other female complaints."—Mrs. MAY COPP, 2660 Birch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Her address is Lynn, Mass., her advice is free and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it.

AN OLD FORT WAYNE PAPER

Henry C. Tabor Thinks Trustees
Should Be Chosen Separate From Other Officials.

Henry C. Tabor, residing south of Plymouth, asserts that the choosing of trustees should be isolated from every other election. "Have the trustees chosen in the spring," he says, "when the people are not intoxicated with party patriotism and liable to vote for a nominee simply because both are politically of the same faith. The trustee is responsible for the financial welfare of the township. If competent and honest his power to spread prosperity within the small limits of his jurisdiction is more than the president of the United States. If incapable and untrustworthy, he may wreck and ruin the little community dependent upon him. Giving weight to these considerations it would seem that even women should have a voice in his election and especially widows and other female property holders whose interests he subserves. By all means get the office as far away from politics as possible. A spring election would do it."

A Ft. Wayne Sentinel of 1834 has been raked out of some of the archives in the court house. It is a quaint relic taking us back to the time when "a sale of public lots in the new town of Peru" is being advertised. "Our venerable President Madison" according to this paper "is dangerously indisposed." "Good prices for deer hides are being paid at home" and "foreign war full of shocking crimes" is going on in Hungary. The character of the reading matter is quite solid but in general appearance and for general dryness it is about on par with some of the so-called conservative papers published in Ft. Wayne today. Of course it offers a strong contrast to the real twentieth century journalism represented by such publications as the old Indianapolis Star and Chicago Examiner.

All of the newly elected trustees have been before Auditor Hoy Singrey this week and taken that oath of office which begins "I do solemnly swear to obey the Constitution of the United States." The successor of every Republican trustee was a Democrat and vice versa, except in Green township where a Democrat was succeeded by one of the same party.

Taxes will not soon be less so far as State Legislature has anything to do with them. A law was enacted last year which adds an extra six per cent penalty to all delinquencies of over one year standing.

In German township the republican poll book showed that eighty-three democrats and thirty-three republicans stayed at home on election day. About this percentage governed the whole county.

Daniel McDonald will be the only Democratic official from the 13th District at Indianapolis this winter.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Louis Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by T. E. Slattery, druggist. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Bryan Again in the Saddle.

The overwhelming and contemptuous casting out of Parker and the Cleveland element of the democracy Tuesday will place Bryan's star again in the ascendant. The so-called conservative members of the democracy have tried their hand at campaigning, and they have been beaten worse than the radicals were in 1896 or 1900. Bryan has been vindicated by the stupendous majority which has been rolled up against the man whom he opposed and denounced previous to the St. Louis convention, and whom he fought in that gathering.—Ex.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by T. E. Slattery.

Majority will Reach 2,000,000.

With Pennsylvania giving him 394,225; Illinois, 292,000; Ohio, 250,000; New York, 172,322; Michigan, 164,000; Minnesota, 125,000; California, 115,000, and numerous other states not a great deal short of 100,000 plurality, Roosevelt's popular plurality in the nation will be something near 2,000,000 as it looks now. He has carried thirty-three states, leaving eleven for Parker and has 343 electoral votes. Congress stands 244 Republicans 139 Democrats.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age, dyspepsia, jaundice, fever, constipation all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at T. E. Slattery's drug store.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy sidewalk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." For sale by T. E. Slattery.

Henry Roming, living south of town will have a public sale Tuesday Nov. 22. Horses, cattle and hogs and a full line of agricultural implements will be offered for sale. For particulars see bills. Geo. Sellers, auctioneer; John Marbaugh clerk.

Not Sick a Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c, at T. E. Slattery's, druggist.

County recorder Jo Stipp of Winamac was held up last Friday evening but nothing of value was secured by the robbers. Many robberies are being attempted in this part of the state and great care should be exercised by everybody to avoid all unnecessary exposures.

The Exact Thing Required for Constipation.

"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible griping so common to most purgatives," say R. S. Webster & Co., Udora, Ontario, Canada. For sale by T. E. Slattery.

When You Have a Bad Cold

You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure.

You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keep expectoration easy.

You want a remedy that will counteract any tendency toward pneumonia.

You want a remedy that is pleasant and safe to take.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these requirements and for the speedy and permanent cure of bad colds stands without a peer. For sale by T. E. Slattery.

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership existing between the undersigned as D. A. Bradley & Son, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. All accounts due the late firm will be collected by Edwin J. Bradley, and all accounts due from the firm will be paid by him, he succeeding said firm in business.
