NEW SUPERVISORS SELECTED FROM THE STATE LEGISLATURE

Elections Held in the Various Dis- Interesting Letter from Our Representative, Daniel McDonald.

Your letter of recent date re ceived, and I agree with you that the time has come when the law passed thirty-six years ago per mitting counties and townships to vote aid to railroad companies has served its purpose and should be repealed, and I have introduced a bill for that purpose. I voted for this law in 1869 when I was a member of the legislature, because at that time there seemed to be a necessity for such a measure, although I believed then, as I do During the cold weather which now, that the principle of granting prevailed for the past week we subsidies to railroad companies is have noticed a few horses tied to wrong, and I resolved a good while promoters of new railroads who expect to profit by large donations in that way will, of course, oppose it with all the power they have. The continuance of the law on our statute books compels the taxpayers A Newman Bros., piano case, to pay the expenses of an election besides all that it creates ill feeling among the people of every community where an election of that kind is held. Promoters are continually declaring that if a certain locality does not pledge itself to LOCAL AND PERSONAL NOTES give so much they can get it on another line, and then that locality Gathered from Many Sources for takes hold of it, and a bitter feeling grows up between the rival localities. The repeal of the bill will do away with this, and if lines of mouth Saturday. railroad are built, or trolley lines, it will be not because rival places fight each other to secure it, but because the company that proposes to build it selects the line that promises the best returns. I have also introduced a bill for tomie Indians. It has been favor- City, Ind. ably noticed in the newspapers shall know something about the by those who knew him best, most interesting historical episode that ever occurred in the state.

I have been placed on five committees: Mines and Mining, Cor-Lands and Engrossed Bills. These are all important committees, especially those of Corporations and Railroads.

The legislature has been very slow getting down to business, nothing of importance having been done so far. The organization of the two houses, the inauguration of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the meeting of the electors, and now the election of the U.S. Senators which will occupy most of this week has served to occupy the time of the legislature up to the present time. Next week I presume we will get down to business.

The most important legislation that will come before the present session will undoubtedly be the bills of the codification committee, six in number, in all containing probably two thousand sections, which if properly cogsidered would alone be sufficient to occupy the entire fifty remaining days of the session. And then there is the divorce question, and the railroad commission bill, the liquer question, and a hundred other questions of "great pith and moment," to be considered.

Congress Aims to Cut Salaries of Officers Assigned to State Militia.

WILLIAMS IN DEFENSE OF MILES

Representative Contends That Republicans Are Endeavoring to Slight the General and Deprive Him of $2,750 Each Year.

Washington dispatch: Gen. Miles will receive a serious cut in his pay while he is serving as adjutant generat of the state of Massachusetts if the action taken by the house in committee of the whole becomes law. The army appropriation bill was being discussed leisurely under the charge of Mr. Hull of Iowa, when he startled the congressmen by offering un amendment providing that retired officers above the grade of major should not receive the full pay of their grade when assigned to duty with the militia of the several states.

Alleges Attack on Miles.

The amendment was denounced by John Sharp Williams as an attack on Gen. Miles, who, be declared, "is extremely persona non grata in high circles of the Republican party." It was, he said, no new thing for the Republican party to slight the heroes of the nation and push its favorites to the front, and he mentioned the Schley case as an example.

Mr. Hull insisted that he had no such thought in mind and argued that the best results were obtained from officers of the lower grades.

After a lively debate the amendment was adopted.

On the retired list Gen. Miles receives two-thirds of his pay as a lieutenant general, or $8,250. As adjutant general of Massachusetts he would get full pay, or $11,000 a year. If the senate accepts the amendment Gen. Miles will lose $2,750 a year.

Cuts Into Appropriation.

Mr. Prince of Illinois also took a hot at the retired list. He pointed to the fact that at the present time there are 236 brigadier generals on it and insisted that it was next to impossible for that number to have been retired by operation of the law. He later said he was not prepared to charge maladministration of the law, but he added that it took nearly one-half of the money appropriated for the army to pay the officers on the active and retired lists, and he thought the president . aght to be given the power of order.ag retirements.

ARBITRATION PACTS.

President Will Withdraw Treaties if They Are Changed Much.

Washington special: If the arbitration treaties now pending before the senate are emasculated the president will withdraw them from consideration. He has informed prominent senstors of his purpose, which is due partly to the action of southern senators who fear that the ratification of the treaties would bring up the old war bends held abroad which were repudiated by the states

The president has addressed a letter to Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, in part as follows:

"I notice in connection with the general arbitration treaties now before the senate that suggestions have been made to the effect that under them it might be possible to consider as matters for arbitration claims against certaln states of the union in reference to certain state debts. I write to say what of course you personally know, that under no conceivable circumstances could any such construction of the treaty he for a moment entertained by the president. The holders of state debts take them with full knowledge of the constitutional limitations upon their recovery through any action of the national government, and must rely solely on state credit. Such a claim against a state could under no conditions he submitted by the general government as a matter of arbitration, any more than such a claim against a county or municipality could he thus submitted for arbitration."

COSSACKS IN DARING RAID

Work Their Way Into Country Behind Oyama's Army, Tear Up Tracks and Capture Stores.

The Russian Cossacks at last have | Nov. 11, for Shanghai), loaded with justified their reputation. They have coal consigned to Vladivostok, made a daring raid into the country fifty and sixty miles behind Oyama's army, torn up the railroad track and attacked even Newchwang itself.

The daring raid recalls the splendid exploits of the Wet in the Boer war when he led his riders across the Orange river into Cape Colony, and when time and again he tore up the railroad behind Kitchener, destroyed stores, endangered communication and cluded pursuit.

In Toklo the results of the Cossack raids are minimized, but military men here point out that if 2,000 men and eight guns can tear up the railroad at Haicheng, surprise a Japanese fort near Yinkow and attack Newchwang, other hodies of Cossaeks may do equally as much.

Kouropatkin has fully 25,000 of these Cossacks, Icd by Mistchenko and Rennenkampf, two of the most dashing leaders in the Russian army. These 35,000 Cossacks may yet give Oyama a great deal of trouble, and if properly used might interfere seriously with his lines of communication.

According to Tientsin dispatches the Rusians had considerable success in looting during the raid. They captured a provision train at Kaopantze, which they swept clean. They also seized provision stores on the outwirts of Yingkow. The Japanese are harriedly sending out cavalry, hoping to cut off their retreat.

The neutrality of the Chinese railway is ignored. Both belligerents are constantly transporting supplies under fletitious passes, but the Russians, who for some time have been gathering forces near Sinminting, increasingly dominate the track beyond the great wall.

Food Plenty at Port Arthur. The correspondent at Port Arthur of the London Times says: "The total number of soldiers, seamen and civilians in Port Arthur at the beginning of the siege was 55,000.

"There are no signs of privation. There was food sufficient for two months, and the surrender of the Russian garrison is inexplicable,"

The London Daily Mail's Tokio correspondent gives a story to the effect that all the money in Port Arthur was divided among the Russian officers, and when this was discovered a bitter feeling arose in the army and navy, which was largely responsible for the fall of the fortress.

PREPARES TO STRIKE

BLOW TO RUSSIANS Every indication points to an early resumption of hostilities between the armies of Field Marshal Oyama and General Kuropatkin. With the greatest possible dispatch the immense body of artillery used by General Nogi in battering down the defenses of Port Arthur is being rushed to the Japanese army along the Shakhe.

The powerful slege guns which the supposedly impregnable forts defending Port Arthur were anable to withstand are already well on their way to Oyama. The hulk of Negi's artillery will follow as quickly as the transportation facilities will permit, With the exception of a strong garrison the entire army which besieged Port Arthur will be sent north as rapidly as possible to reinforce the Japanese Manchurian army.

When the complete complement of Gen. Nogl's army and artillery has been added to Oyama's already immease army, Kouropatkin will be confronted with one of the most nowerful if not actually the strongest army in men and guns that was ever put in the field in any war. Anthorities high in the confidence of the Japanese government predict that Oyama will begin to take aggressive

Darman Manner Comment of the Thursday, January 12, 1905.
The legislative, executive and Judicial appropriation bill was read at length in the senate and there was considerable discussion of the civil service question and the provision for an investigation of foreign trude conditions by the department of commerce. The bill for the encouragement of the merchant marine was reported to the senate, and Mr. Builey made the point that the commission had been pledged to report in favor of discriminating duties and not in favor of ship subsidies. The suggestion was combated by Senators Galilager and Lodge, who were members of the commission. In the Russia imperial budget for 1965 the ordinary revenue is estimatdinary revenue at $8,794,819. The ordinary expenditure is estimated at $958,032,785, and the extraordinary mission.

The house of representatives devoted its entire session to discussion of the imprachment charges against Judge Charles Swayne of the Northern district of Florida. A dramatic incident occurred when Mr. Littlefield of Maine called on Mr. Larner of Florida, who filed the charges against the Judge, to admit or repudiate an alleged interview which the former claimed tended to incide the people to commit an act of violence against Judge Swayne. Mr. Larner admitted riving an interview, but emphatically denied any suggestion from him that could be construed anto advising assussination or murder. The Shackelford resolution authorizing the committee on interstate commerce to investigate the Panama Bullway company was pussed.

The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was passed in the senate after the chair had sustained a point of order against the amendment increasing the solaries of civil service commissioners from $1,500 to $4,000. Bills were passed amending the law governing the distribution of public documents, granting pensions to the families of Indian policemen killed in the copture of Sitting Ituli in 1890, extending the law relative to the intimidation of witnesses in federal courts, to witnesses before United States commissioners, and appropriating $3,000 for Charles S. Hooper, a black-smith, who lost an eye while in the employ of the government.

Mr. Sheppard of Texas introduced a bill prohibiting the payment of musage to members and senators who ride on free pusses. Discussion of the charges against Judge Swayne occupied the time until adjournment.

Saturday, January 14, 1905.
In the senate another unavailing effort was made by Mr. Reveridge to secure unanimous consent to fix a day for taking a vote on the statehood hill. Mr. Rate spoke for the opponents of the hill saying there were still a number of speeches to be made. There was much discussion of a bill permitting American women who have married foreigners to regain citizenship in the United States.

A bill was passed which makes it a follow to counterfeit the great seal of the United States. Saturday, January 14, 1905.

Pension legislation at the rate of 459 Tension legislation at the rate of 439 bills in 108 minutes was the feature of the house session, all previous records for speed in legislation being smashed. Then unanimous consent legislation held sway for an hour and not a measure presented under this head came under the ban of objection. Among the measures adopted was one revising the copyieth law with reference to trademarks. right law with reference to trademarks and another nuthorizing the use of stone-earth and timber from forest reserves and public lands for the construction of brigation works.

DEFEND SWAYNE.

Congressman Says the Judge ing Hounded by Enemies. Washington dispatch: Vigorous defense of Judge Charles Swayne of Florida by Mr. Littlefield of Maine was the feature of the discussion of the articles of impeachment against the jurist in the house Friday. Mr. Littlefield said fiere had been "no hunting or hounding" of Judge Swayne until, as a result of the O'Neal contempt case, O'Neal sought to get his revenge on Judge Swayne, and charged that since O'Neal died his funds were to an extent carrying on the prosecution. This, the speaker characterized as "an infamous legacy of hatred, malice and reyenge." He read from the opinion of Judges Pardec, Shelby and McCormick of the circust court of appeals in which Judge Swayne was suslained, and in most vigorous manner declared that if Judge Swayne was to be impeached for acting as he did in the case of O'Neal the three judges named also should be impeached.

Mr. Parker of New Jersey said the judge was a victim of persecution. that except in the case of the expense account the alleged impeachable acts were so old and stale that they should not now he revived. Mr. Parker said other judges had charged up the full $10 a day allowance fr expenses, adding such evidence had been offered the committee and ruted out.

"It was not offered," retorted Mr Jenkins of Wisconsin, chairman of the judiciary committee, "and it is no defense of Judge Swayne to show that ten other judges have deliberately stolen $6,000 out of the treasury of the United States."

Mr. Lacey of lown injected into debate the statement that treasury of-Pacific squadron commander by Rear ficial always had regarded the $10 a day as a fixed charge for expenses of judges.

A Lot of Trouble from Too Much Starchy Food.

A little boy of eight years whose parents did not feed him on the right kind of food, was always nervous and suffered from a weak condition of the stomach and lowels. Finally he was taken down with appendicitis and after the operation the doctor, knowing that his intestinal digestion was very weak, put him on Grape Nuts twice a day.

He rapidly recovered and about two mouths thereafter, his Father states, "He has grown to be strong, muscular, and sleeps soundly, weighs 62 pounds, and his whole system is in a fine condition of health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

It is plain that if he had been put on Grape-Nuts at an earlier period in his life, and kept from the use of foods that he could not digest, he never would have had appendicitis. That disease is caused by undigested food decaying in the stomach and bowels, cauring irritation and making for the growth of all kinds of microbes, setting up a diseased condition which is the active cause of appendicitis, and this is more marked with people who was delivered to the legislature Jan. 9. Substantially the document was as

"Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives A generously partial and confiding people, by a verdict more nearly approaching unanimity than any ever before rendered by them, have confided to our care, for a time, the interests of the state, in so far as governmental agencies can effect such interests Such an unexampled and unprecedented expression of trust and confidence by them creates, by the mexorable law of compensation, obligation for us, without example or precedent. Their action rightly and accurately understood is a demand for the strictest possible accounting for our every official act a call to the better angels' of our natures, and in no tostance is it to be construed into licenso to follow selfish or personal purpo either of our own or of others. Public reasons should underlie and impel every public act. That much the people de mand. Less than that they will not long

"I congratulate you upon the happy auspices under which we begin our public service. We are assembled under conditions of unsurpassed material wealth and prosperity. Field, mine and factory have yielded rich reward to the efforts and industry of the wealth producers of the state. Labor is employed and hope ful. Farmers have witnessed a steady incrosse in values and in the accumulation of their savings. Merchants have enjoyed a growing and profitable trade. Manufacturers have held old markets and have gained new ones. Transportation com-panies have closed a year of unequaled profit, and the banking and financial in-stitutions, both state and national, that have to do with the savings and investments of the people are upon sound and satisfactory footing. There have been few failures within the lines of legitimate business. Mismanagement and speculation in some instances have brought Some private banking institutions, for the supervision of which there has been in the law no adequate provi-sion, and a few rational banks have closed their doors, but none of these hus substantially affected general business or mandal interests.

Keeping Institutions Out of Folitics. Usually fortunate in the administration of state affairs, we have been expecially so during the last twelve years. In that time there has been no malfeasance in any public office of the state. Cov. Matthews set a high standard of execuofficiency and excellence, and the late Gay. Mount raised that standard yet higher and loaugurated many wise and improved business methods in the handling and expenditure of the public revenurs. To-day Gov. Durbin goes out of ffice after four years of executive serv ice unexcelled by either of his immediate prodecessors. He carries with him into private life the good-will and kind wishes our best citizenship, and he may just? feel timt be has earned the confidence and the gratitude of his countrymen.

During his administration the public debt has been rapidly decreased and the amenal interest charge materially lessened. Honesty and economy have characterized every department of the gavcrument. The correctional, penal, benev-olent and charitable lostitutions of the have received from him considerate cure and efficient maragement. These institutions have been placed upon a plane far above partisan politics, and there this administration intends to keep Above all personal and party obligations however sacred and binding they may be. I hold the good of the state and the welfare of its unfortunate wards. There shall be no removals of persons holding positions in any of such institutions ex cept for the good of the institutions themselves. Upright and efficient service will guarantee continued tenure of posi-Negligent and incompetent service will insure immediate removal.

Strict But Sane Economy. "The policy of the administration in regard to the institutions of the state Value received shall be required for expended. Necessary improvements will be insisted upon. Needed repairs will be made. To refuse actual needs is not economy, but extravagance. This applies to the educational institutions with the same force that it does to the other fineffutions.

Tuberculosis Institute Commission. "The proposition to establish a state bospital for the scientific treatment of tuberculosis promises so much in the way of the improvement, the cure and the prevention of that drend disease as to deserve serious consideration. There is high authority for the statement that scientific treatment under the favorable conditions to be secured in a state hospital will save to useful life 49 per cent of the persons treated, and bring im-provement to 43 per cent of the others. work appeals to every humanitarian impulse of our people. The con-dition of the finances, however, is such as to preclude an appropriation by you for the immediate establishment of such an institution. But something can be done. An initial step dan at least be recommend that a commision he created composed of five members, one of whom shall be a member of the senate, whom shall be members of the house, and two of whom shall be practicing physicians of the state. Such commission should be invested with authority to investigate the subject and report the results of its investigation, tagether with such recommendations as it shall deem wise, to the pext generally assembly for its consideration.

The governor arges the immediate es-tablishment of an additional hospital for the heave, and holds this to be a wiser policy than making additions to present He elso urges an immediate beginning in cataldishing an epileptic to white, by the appropriation of $150,000.

These bonds are payable at the pleasure of the state, but will not be due until June, 1909. The sinking fund lax rate of 3 cents on the $100 will produce this year a fund something more than sufficient to discharge this issue of bonds in full; $300,000 of the bonded foreign debt consists of 314 per cent funding bonds of the temporary loan of the issue of April, 1895. These are payable at the pleasure of the state after April, 1910, but will not be due until April, 1915. The remaining $500,000 of such debt consists of 31/2 per cent state house temporary funding bonds of the issue of May, 1895, payable at the option of the state after May, 1910, but not due until

Gov. Hardy points out that embarrassment has been caused by diverting money from the general fund and anticipating revenue to pay debts before they were due, when the sinking fund levy would more than provide for such debts on maturity. He declares that the meeting of pressing needs in regard to state institutions should no longer by deferred through such policy. He advises that two cents of the present 3-cent sinking fund levy be transferred to the general fund, and that there be an additional levy of 144 cents. In two years this 114-cent addition may be removed, and in six years the 1-cent sinking fund levy will not longer be necessary, bonded indebtedness eing wiped out.

The governor commends the work of the codification commission and advises that the commission be conlinued two

State supervision of private banks is emphatically urged. In this connection he governor says:

'No private individual, firm, copartnership or institution of any kind should be permitted to use the word 'bank' in conection with its business, or to receive the deposits of the people, or to engage in any manner in the business of bank-ing, without first selling aside a cush um as capital to be maintained unimpaired se long as such business is con-ducted. Need of State Railroad Commission.

"Modern conditions make the 'transportation tax' a mest potential factor in the commerce of the country. It affects every product of the field, shop or mine and levies irlinate on both producer and consumer. Up to the limit of fairness the tax can be institled; beyond that it esti-It is possible for freight rates to determine not only where business shall be done, but who shall do it. In the absence of legislation those who pay the lax have no voice whatever in determin-ing what it shall be. The carrier artitracily determines that for itself. Having power to make freight rates, and freight rates being the controlling factor in determining where and by whom bustness shall be done, the carrier becomes the master, and the people it was creuted to serve its servants. That the common law, the courts and their remedies are inadequate to afford uny practical relief as between the shiper and the carrier, or even between carciers themselves, is now quite generally

"That the competition of carriers, markets and waterways has ceased to be u sufficient safeguard against the evils that necessarily grow out of and accompany country's vast transportation busiress is also a generally accepted truth.

"Neither Congress nor the general asembly of the state has time to investigate and fix transportation rales, and both are precluded by constitutional limitations from conferring legislative functions upon the courts.

"Some impurial tribunal to act as arbiter to determine questions as to rates and collateral subjects, rather than the sellers of transportation, is, therefore, a modern necessity.

"These considerations led some years since to the creation of a federal comnission by the Congress of the United States, upon whom both judicial and legislative power was altempted to be conferred-the judicial power to declare an existing rate to be unjust, and the legislative power to determine what the rate should be thereafter. The purpose of the statute has since been aborted by a decision of the Supreme Court of United States holding that the act gave no legislative power to the commission to fix rates, but conferred only judicial power to determine that a specific rate was unjust. For instance, under the decision of the court the commission may declare that a 20-cent rate was too high, but it has no power to say what a just rate is The transportation company is left free to impose a 18-coot rate until it in turn may be declared unjust and set aside. and so on ad infinitum. The effect of the court's decision is to emasculate the statute and leave little of it worth pro-

"The power of Congress to confer upon t commission both indicial power to decide what is unjust and the legislative power to declare what is right, is not open to debate. That has often been judicially determined. And a like power is vested in the general assembly of this state in regard to commerce within its own borders. "The same considerations that led to the creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Federal Congress and to the escablishment of commissions in by this general assembly. Power to Fix Rates Essential. "Such commission, should have power, not only to decide that an existing is illegal and unjust, but it should also be given authority to determine what would be a legal and just rate and to declare the same. And the rate, when so fixed by the commission, should stand until reversed by the judgment of some appellate tribural to which the right of appeal should be provided for. "The law should also be so framed as to prevent unreasonable and inexcusable delay in the transportation of freight or cars, or unjust discrimination in rates. cither by way of relates or otherwise. It should also prohibit discrimination against localities in furnishing cars and should have some provision relative to the ransfer and switching of cars. Bills of lading, releasing or limiting the common law liability of carriers with reference to property covered by such bills while in the custody of such carrier, should be prohibited, and the commission should have power to hear and determine differences affecting any of the matters sug-gested, whether arising between shippers and carriers, or between the carriers themselves. The recent and growing desire for national ownership of railroads is due very largely to the unjust rates, rebates, discriminations and arbitrary conduct and management of the great transportation companies in their relations with the public. I am sure such a policy is a mistaken one. And I am equally sure that the enactment of a just and fair law creating a railroad commission and clothing it with power to correct the abuses that have grown up in connection with the transportation business of the country, ought not to be opposed by the munagements of such corporations.

Growing Respect for the Law. There are multiplying signs throughout the country of a growing respect and regard for the accredness of the law that are reassuring and hopeful, and nowhere is this sentiment more pronounced than in Indiana. While lawless assemblages. riots and lynching have decreased within the last year in all the states taken as a whole, there have been none in Indiana. It is my most sincere wish and hope that this condition may continue; that respect for the law may increase, and that the sentiment for its enforcement may inten-sify throughout the borders of the state until all shall recognize its majesty and give willing obedience to its mandates. The law 'is freedom's only safeguard; without it there could be no such thing liefore the law all must be equal, and they shall be so considered by this administration. The law shall be enforced without fear or favor, in the cities, in the country and overywhere, in so far as the administration can control

Free Pass Evil.

"A custom of giving and receiving free transportation has grown up on the part of transportation companies on the one side, and of public officials on the other. These favors are not bestowed upon the same men in private life, but are excuted to them only upon their elevation to public place.

its enforcement either by precept, example or mandate.

"It is said in defense of the custom that such favors are mere gratuitles or cour-testes, the acceptance of which creates no diligation to the donor on the part of the officer receiving them, and that many honest men accept these favors and are not improperly influenced by them. It scarcely can be urged, however, that such favors are either given or accepted from a sense of civic pride or rightcoursess. The fact that some men receive them without any recognition of the favor implied by such acceptance and are not improperly influenced thereby is an impercet defense, for it is of itself a confession that some men who accept them are mproperly influenced. There are no more cractical lossiness men in the world than the managers of the great railway, telegraph and express corporations of the country, and these men would not aunually give away to public officials in Indiann thousands of dollars in value of such favors if the net aggregate results of such custom were not beneficial to worth more to them that the value of the transportation or franks given, none

"The officials of the various municipalilies and counties, and the officials of the constitute the jury before whom are brought countless grave and important inthe corporations and upon the other side of which are the people. For this reason such officials baye no right to use or recent substantial and continuing favors from the corporations during their terms of service. Right or wrong, ill or wellfounded, such a feeling is an unwholecome one. The simple truth is that the custom is wrong and indefensible and often leads to abuses title short of scandal. Reduced to their last analysis. such favors are pelly bribes. An end should be put to the custom. The abuse of free transportation and free franking privileges should stop. "The time to reform is now. In recornition of the plainest principles of right, common honesty, in answer to the people's just demand and out of protection to themselves, public officials should discontinue the use or acceptance of such favors. I sobmit for your conideration the enactment of a statute that will prohibit the giving of free transportation or of the franking priviege to any official, municipal, county or state, by any person or corporation, or the acceptance of any such favor by any such officer, either directly or indirectly under such penalties as shall insure its The Inhibition should also at servance. include telegraph and express company franks. Such an act will purify and strengthen the public service and, in my judgment, will meet with the hearty approval of the people of the state.

Lobbyists Not Safe Counselors. "The character of the legislation coming before you for your consideration is such as to bring to your respective chambers the representatives of many great corporations. It is right that they should be heard, but it is wrong that they should exclude from your consideration varied and important interests of the public or the great masses of the people who, of necessity, cannot have paid agents to voice their interest to you.

"Corporate interests of late have become far too powerful in legislative assemblies. This is true in most of the states, and it has been true in ours. There have been instances in the not far distant past when the paid agents of such corporations invaded the sacred precincts of the general assembly, and with unseemly and arrogant assumption took their place upon the floor during a secsion of that body, and on a roll call upon measure involving matters of the gravest concern to the people, sought to dictate the votes of some of the members upon such measure. And, yet, they were not removed nor denied the privileges of the floor, but continued to enjoy them until the end of the session. It is difdoult for the people to believe that such ordiet would have been telerated, much less condoned, by men who owed no favors to the emporations represented by the offending agents. You can end the reign of the lobbyist in Indiana if you will, and I venture to express the hope that you will do so.

Nicholson Law Amendment. "The act of the general assembly of 1895, community known as the 'Nicholson law,' was enacted in answer to the demands of an aroused, an enlightened and righteous public sentiment. In the main is a good law and ought to be permitted to stand.

state railroad commission be created "Rules of practice under the preser statute and many questions of law relat ing to its enforcement have been settled by the courts, and are now established understood. tions of the net bave been so frequently interpreted by the courts that the law. aken in connection with the decisions touching its meaning, constitutes a sys-tem for the control of the retail liquor traffic of such imperiance that the friends law and order ought to stand by it as it is, rather than consent to its repeal. or to the substitution of any new or untried system. An entirely new would require years of vexations litiga-tion before a judicial interpretation of it could be had, or its meaning be estabished or understood,

"There is, however, a grave defect in the present statute. It can be remedied by an amendment, which will add greatly to its effectiveness, without impairing its alue or destroying the decisions of the courts which have uphold it.

"The defect to which I direct your attention is found in Section 9 of said uct. This section grants to a majority of the legal voters of any township, or of any ward in any city, the right to remonstrate in writing against the granting of license to any applicant for license to sell in any such township or ward, and provides that after the filing of such remonstrance, it shall be unlawful for the Board of County Commissioners to grant a license to such applicant during a poried of two years from the date of the filing of such remonstrance. By this statute the right of remonstrance is rested in the majority of the legal voters of any township, or of any ward in any city. But the right is limited in its application to a remonstrance against the individual sceking the ticense and not against the trade, whereas the business of retailing liquors is the evil sought to be excluded or prohibited by the people who remonstrate against an applicant. Their objections are not personal, nor are they directed against the applicant as an individual. They are based upon moral, economic and public grounds, which affect the order, peace and repose of society within such territory, and are against the traffic itself. To the people within such territory the prohibition of the business is everything, and the individual applying for license is nothing.
"When the statute under consideration was enacted, the boards of commissioners of the several counties in the state could hold regular sessions of their respective boards but once in three months. An application for license could be filed only at a regular session. Thus applications were limited to the four quarterly sessions of such boards held within each year. This brought the question of re-monstrance before the people but four times a year. Since the enactment of the 'Nicholson law' there has been a change in the statute relative to the time of the regular meetings of boards of commissioners. Such boards are now required to meet in regular session once each month. The effect of this change In the law has been to make it possible for an application from any township, or iny ward in any city, to be flied every thirty days. This brings the question of remonstrance before the people twelve times a year. Those who desire to enin the retail liquor traffic make use of the present provision of the law, to seople of many townships and city wards. In some of them 'eternal vigilance ceased to be the price of liberty and bas accome ineffectual to preserve the rights of the people. A remoustrance carrying the necessary majority to prevent the granting of license is filed to-day and the come is defeated, but 10-morrow some other applicant, in the pay of the whole sale liquor interests, gives notice of his invention to apply at the next session of the Board of Commissioners, which sesis only four weeks away

"If a new remonstrance is filed and the econd applicant is defeated, the same performance is enacted by some one else, and so on, month after month and fear year, until worn out and discourared by constant effort and expensive Bligation that never ends, and from which there is no respite, the people are defeated and the will of the majority is everborne and trampled upon by the agents of a traffic, the unholiness of which all men, save those engaged in it,

"This condition is intelecable, and ought not to continue beyond the day of your adjournment and the publication of your enuciments. The statute should be so engerments. amended that the remonstrance provided for shall be against the granting of Bconse to any and all applicants, and, where successful, that it shall be unlawful thereafter for the Board of Commissioners to grant a license to any appli-cant therefor during a period of two years from the filling of said remonstrance. Such a remonstrance will strike directly at the traffic and not at the individual. If successful, it will exclude the bosiness from a roweship or ward for period of two yours, and give peace order and repose to the community.

Would Not Impair System. "It will give the right of petition ernetical and an efficient application, and will go far toward satisfying public sentiment upon this most difficult question. Such an amendment will not impair the ystem created by the Nicholson law for the control of the teather nor the fudiold beterpretation it has received. the contrary, it will strengthen and give vitality to its provisions. The precedents dready established will remain procedents atill Public sentiment relative to such legislation nover was ex strong our as pur-poseful as it is to-day, and I would, if I could, direct that sentiment along safe and practical lines. I therefore appeal to you, and to the great body of the people of Indiana, without regard to party affiliation, to join in an effort to secure the amondment suggested. The question is not a party question. It is above and becommon citizenship, us deep as our free institutions, and as abiding as righteousness itself.

In Conclusion.

"This address has already grown too long, but there are so many important questions upon which I have not touched that I close with reluctance. I do not forget that all my predecessors in the high affice to which I am called were capable and efficient executives; that many of them were much more than that, and that one, at least, was supremely great, or that I must in some degree measure on to them. I am conscious that in the discharge of the grave duties that await me I cannot stand alone and I shall not try to do so. I therefore turn to you and to the people of the state for assistance and support. To you and to them I shall often come, and were It not for the confidence I have of your ferbearance and of their partiality, I should have little hope of succeeding amid the multiplying and perplexing difficulties of the coming four years.

"that your strength shall be my strength, and their will shall be my will I believe in you, and they, I am sure, will not go far astray nor long remain way from the path of truth. Both you and I can rafely frust them, They did not full either Lincoln or Morton in their day, and they will not fall us In ours if we do but prove worthy and filly bear their high commission.

Indiana Legislature

LEGISLATIVE TANGLE.

Constituents at home who sometimes think their representatives in the general assembly have nothing harder to do than to draw their salaries, would not have envied them that task last Friday. They had a most troublesome job in passing a measure allowing $115,000 for the expenses of the assembly. The bill was some days overdue when presented by Harry W. Kline of Koschisko county in the house, and members and employes had begun to grow anxious.

After suspending the rules in the house to allow the three readings of the bill and its passage, it was sent to the senate. Presently Secretary Julian Hogate of the latter body came in with a smile on his face and the bill in his hand.

"This bill must be engrossed before sent to the senate," he reported. The senate had almost reached third reading of the bill before it discovered the bill had not been engrossed.

The house members laughed at the unpleasant joke and the engrossment was ordered. That took time. It was nearly noon when the bill reached the

When presented there Senator Slack (Dem.) declared that the amount asked was too large, and moved that the appropriation be reduced to $100,000. He asked for the yeas and nays on his motion. Senator Davis (Dem.) arose to second the motion, but, in expressing his sentiments on the appropriation, forgot the chief purpose for which he was on his

"Lost for want of a second," said the lieutenant governor.

The bill was then passed. In the meanwhile the house, having concluded its work for the day, took a recess to await the return of the bill for enrollment. The members were hungry, but they were anxious about that appropriation. The bill came back to them in due time, was enrolled and sent to the governor for his signature.

Only the signing of another bill a short time previously by Gov. Hanly enabled the appropriation to be made as early as it was. The other bill was that repealing the act of the last assembly providing for special type for the printing of all bills. Had it been necessary to print this bill, in any type at all, they might still be walting for the allowance of expenses.

Health Boards.

A bill to amend the present act governing the State Board of Health and county and city boards of health was offered in the senate by Senator Richard C. McCain of Kentland. It is provided that the State board may adopt rules for the regulation of county and city boards, and that such rules shall have the force of law, for violation of which a fine of not less than $5 or more than $25 may be imposed. By the bill the board is given the power to regulate the plumbing, drainage, water empply, lighting, heating, ven-Sting and all sanitary learnies of any public building and members have the rights of constables to inspect such buildings.

To Regulate Autos.

As treasurer of the National Horsethief Delective Association, William Colvert of Attica, representative from Fountain county, has received petitions signed by more than a thousand names, asking for legislation to regulate automobiles, and he presented the petitions to the house. The names had been gathered in Wayne, Warren, Tipton, Randolph, Putnam, Montgomery and Hancock counties. The petitions ask "the honorable body to pass good, impartial and wholesome laws governing the running and operating of automobiles on public highways."

Garnishee Bill Approved.

The resolution recently adopted by the Retail Merchants' association at South Bond, favoring one of its members, A. M. Jones, for postmaster, has been rescinded at the request of Mr. Jones, it having raised a storm of protest from politicians. The association at the same meeting unanimously indorsed the garnishee measure now proposed, with amendments suggested by the State Merchants' association, and awaiting legislative action.

Liability for Merchandise.

Horace M. Kean, of Dubols and Pike counties, presented a bill in the house for an act fixing the liability of railroads in carrying merchandise. His proposed law is to hold the common carrier which receives the merchandise from the shipper responsible for its safety until delivered at its destination, no matter how many transfers to other lines may have been made before the goods are finally delivered.

Right to Buy Public Utility.

If the bill introduced by Senator Moss of Clay and Owen counties becomes a law, no city will have the right to grant a franchise for more | bill.

than twenty-five years, and every city will have the right, at the end of this time to purchase public nullities at a price based on the actual value of the tangible property.

Teachers' Salaries.

The sort and size of salaries desired by the teachers of the state are made clear to the members of the General Assembly by copies of a bill which has been printed at the instance of the State Association of Teachers, and has been mailed to the legislators. An ontirely new system of payment, one much simpler than the present examination-per cent plan, is desired by the teachers. The act is designed to regulate the minimum wages, and to fix a penalty for violation.

It is provided in the bill that the minimum wages for teaching in the public schools shall be $50 a month for the first year of teaching, $55 for the second and $60 for the third year, and all years thereafter whon teaching on a twelve months' license.

If, after having taught for three years, the teacher obtains a license for twenty-four months or more, he shall receive $65 a month for the fourth year, $70 for the fifth, $75 for the sixth and all years thereafter when teaching on a twenty-four months' license. If, after having taught six years, the teacher procure a license for thirty-six months or more the teacher shall be paid $80 a month for the eighth year and $90 a month for the ninth year and all years thereafter taught: Provided, that the Beense held by said teacher be a license issued by the state superintendent of public instruction.

School officers who shall be adjudged guilty of violating this act, the third section provides, shall be fined any sum not exceeding $100. The state superintendent of public instruction is authorized to bring action against any school officer violating any provision of the act.

Care of Epileptics.

The report of the committee appointed according to to a resolution of the last general assembly to investigate and report on the condition of the state's epileptics, was handed to the senate and the house. The committee recommends that a site be bought for a village for epileptics on the cottage plan, for which an appropriation of not less than $150,000 be made. The institution, the committee believes, should receive all classes of epileptics, including feeble-minded arol insane epileptics, who should be properly classified.

Marriage Licenses.

A bill offered in the house by the Rev. Isaiah P. Watts of Winchester, would make the issuance of a marriage license a far different thing from what it has been. The age limit is made twenty-one years for male and female applicants for a license, except on certain affidavits by the parents or guardian of an applicant under that age. However, the issuance of a Deence to any person under eighteen is forbidden.

Separate Institutions for Girls.

The annual report of the Indiana industrial School for Girls and the Indiana Women's Prison has been laid on the desks of the members of the general assembly. In this, the board of managers expresses the hope to the governor that "an appropriation sufficient to separate the two institutions and establish the girls' school on the cottage plan will be recom-

Many of the officers were heavy losers in the failures, as they handled the trust funds as deposits in the banks,

Will Not Ask Fair Land Money.

The state board of agriculture has decided not to ask the coming legislature for an appropriation of $40,000 to pay for the additional 134 acres of land bought by the board last year for the state fair grounds, but will ask for power to issue bonds to pay off the indebtedness.

Equality at the Circus.

E. B. McDowell. Democratic representative from Wells county, has prepared a bill for the legislature which aims at the circuses-especially with respect to the extravagant prices charged by them for reserved scats.

Railroad Commission.

Senator Fremont Goodwine of Warren county, chairman of the senate committee on railroads, thinks that in ton days the committee will be ready to report a railroad commission

Nicholson Law Amendment.

Representative Morton of Howard county introduced in the house the bill prepared by the Anti-Saloon league for the amendment of the Nicholson law. It is more radical than any other yet presented to the general assembly. The bill provides that a remonstrance by a majority of the voters of a stead of by ballot.

Monument to Morton.

"Whereas, no man in civil life, save Abraham Lincoln, did more for the Union during the civil war than Oliver P. Morton, the great war governor of Indiana," is the introduction to a bill offered in the house by Representative Watts of Randolph county, asking for an appropriation of $35,000 to township, ward, city or town shall build a suitable statue to the memory prevent the sale of intoxicating drinks of Gov. There will be a strong effort made by the teachers of the state to have their salaries increased. The teachers are entitled to liberal consideration at the hands of the people. FEMALE WEAKNESS

FORTLAYD, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed mentration which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstrunted without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Wilhelming Som Tressurer, Portland Economic League

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, that is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. PROVES GREAT POWER

When Regular Medical Treatment Failed, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her Rheumatism.

Hundreds of people afflicted with rheumatism have spent years under the care of excellent physicians in vain. Then they have settled down to the conviction that it is fastened on them for life. Mrs. Dinsmore was not willing to join the ranks of the hopeless merely because her doctor did not know how to help her. Here is her story :

" Four years ago I suffered greatly with rhenmatism in my hands and tnees. After I had been sitting a while hy limbs seemed so heavy I could hardly walk on the first attempt. So long as I kept moving I was all right, but just as soon as I stopped, something seemed to settle in my knees and make them ache. My hands were so bad I couldn't touch the palms of them on a flat surface; they were swollen and pained so,"

"Did you call in a physician?"

"I ductored stendily for over a year; then one doctor said : 'You have taken stedicine strong enough to kill almost anything.' Still, it did not kill me nor the rheumatism."

"How, then, did you get rid of it?" "At different times I had read in various publications about Dr. Williams' wonderful Pink Pills for Pale People, and I finally decided to try them. I took them steadily for four mouths in accordance with the directions. By that time I was completely cured."

"Have you been free from it ever since?"

"Since then I have had but one slight return of my trouble, and a box or two of the same pills made me all right again."

enjoyment of her recovered health at Woburn, Mass., entirely freed from the grave anxieties that rheumatism always brings. When it appears in but a single joint it shows that the blood is in a faulty state in the whole body. It may at any moment break out elsewhere, and one of the dangers is that it may break out in the heart and then the result must be fatal. "I wonder," she said, "what those little creatures up there will think whon a few months hence the blue sky becomes leaden, such that no one of them ever before recollected it so dark, and the sun that is wont to creep to them through the leaves has gone out like a candle before the winter winds? The girl's lips parted before her quickening breath, and the old nun smiled at her tenderly as she moved away with her hands full of the green symbols of healing. "If you would be of use now, go gather the flowers for Mrs. F. A. "Why are your cheeks so hollow?" she demanded, "And so gray-as though you had lost blood? Lord, what has come near you?"

But she was a warrior's daughter, and she would not be put off. Coming close to him, she polled aside the dusty cloak, hot as a live coal in the glare of the day, and there-behold!there were blood stains on the breast of his blue kirtle. Forgetful of everything else, she flung her arms around him as though to shield him. "Sebert, you are wounded! What is it?"

Nothing that troubled him very much, apparently, for his haggard face had grown radiant with gladness. Yet he was enough afraid of the reaction to answer her as gravely as possible: "It is Rothgar Lodbroksson,, whom I met coming from the city as I was journeying back from my errand in Northampton. Drawing softly near her, he spoke in noblest conciliation: "Is it your pride that cannot pardon me, Lady of Avalcomb? t assertion as she remembered the Jotun's last threat.

"He tried to kill me." the marshal assented quietly. 'And his blade did manage to pierce my mail; he is a giant in strength as in other things. But it cut no more than flesh; and after that, Fortune wheeled not toward him."

"You slew him!"

Her lips were white as she gasped it, but he knew now that it was no love for the Jotun that moved her. and he answered promptly to her unspoken thought: "No, sweet-for the king's sake I spared him. Before this, his men have taken him aboard his ship and England is rid of hlm."

Murmuring broken phrases thanksgiving, she stood holding the cloak she had grasped, but he dreaded too much the moment of her awakentog to await its coming inactive. Slipping his arms around her, he began to speak swiftly, the moment her silence gave him an opening.

"Never did I blame Rothgar much for his enmity against me, and now I thank him for this cut as for a gift, for through it I know that at least you have not outlawed me from your love. Dear one, as you are not unkind in so slight a thing as this wound in my flesh, so neither be without pity for the one that is so much deeper, in my heart! As the scratch stayed your anger for a while, so, in the gentleness of love, let this which is mortal stay it for all time."

With his arms around her, she could not shrink very far away-por was it seen that she tried to-but all at once her words came in uneven rushes: "How can I hold anger against you when, with every breath, my lips sigh for your kisses? Aou lot no one wonder at it that I am frightened. You cannot conceive what a lurking place for terrors the world looks to me! Never, I think, shall I see men sitting together that I shall not suspect them of having murder in their hearts. Never shall I see two friends clasp hands but my mind will run forward to a time when they shall part in wrath and loneliness. Nav. even of the sound of my own voice to twisting the words in his mind into avils I have not dreamed of. Sebert, I do not reproach you with it! think it all the fault of my own blunders-and therein I find a new terror. That one should suffer for wrong-doing is to be looked for, but if one is to be dealt with so unsparingly only for making mistakes, who knows where his position is or what to expect? Oh, my best friend, make me brave or I am likely to die only through fearing to live! With my ignorance my boldness went from me, urtil now my courage is lowly as a willow leaf. Love, make me brave again:" Trusting, in her very declaration of distrust, she clung to him to save her from herself.

It was in the briar-pricked fingers, which he was pressing against his check, that he found his answer. Suddealy he spread them out in his palm before her, laughing with joyful light-"Randalin, the thorn wounded your hands the while that you stripped yonder hedge, but did you stop for that? If I can prove to you that all these dark days you have been plucking roses, can you not bravely bear with the pricks?"

Putting her gently from him, he gathered up the spoils she had let fall, picking from among them with great care the fairest of oither kind, while she, catching his mood, watched him April faced.

"This," he said gaily, "Is the red rose of my heart. Battle fields lay between us and tower walls, and the way was long and hard to find, yet can you deny, my clf, that you came in and plucked it and wore it away in your hair-to keep or to cast aside as pleased you?"

Smiles and tears growing together, she caught the blossom from him and pressed it to her lips. "I will wear it in my bosom,' she answered, "for my breast has been empty-since the day I saw you first."

Smiling, he held out the white rose, but his mood had deepened until now he looked down upon her as he had looked down upon her in the moonlit forest. "This, beloved, is the symbol of my faith," he said. "Your eyes took it from me that day at evensong. I hold it the dearer of the two, for with it goes my honor that is as stainless as its petals. It is worth more than life to me-is it not worth some pricks to you?"

She took it from him reverently, to lay it beside the other, and as her face was too proud for fear so was it too tender for jesting. "I am more honored," she told him, "than Canute by his crown; and I will live as bravely to defend them."

But as he would have caught her to him, she leaned back suddenly to stretch a hand toward a dark-robed figure standing under the moss-grown arch, and her pride melted into a laugh of breathless happiness. "Sister Wynfreda, you were right," she called softly, "the world can be so beautiful that one has no hunger for heaven."

Pictures Drawn in Fire.

Dissolve saltpeter in cold water till the liquid is completely saturated with it. This can be seen by the feet that bits of the saltpeter will at last refuse to dissolve.

Dip a fine brush or pointed stick into the solution and draw the outline of an animal or any other desired figure on a piece of thin paper. Use paper that has no printing on it. Let the paper dry thoroughly. The picture will be invisible then, or almost so. Now hold it flat, light a match, blow it out and touch a part of the drawing with the glowing end. The saltpeter will catch fire at once and the tiny flame will burn all along the lines of the drawing, leaving the paper intact.

A Royal Treasure-House.

The plate-room at Marlborough House contains what is probably the most valuable collection of treasures in any private house in England. The room is underground and is lighted by electricity, the walls being lined by bookcases containing many rare volumes presented to King Edward and the Prince of Wales from time to time, forming a very valuable library. In big iron safes in the center of the room is stored away a wonderful collection of gold and silver plate, including two enormous silver pilgrim bottles presented by Alexander III of Russia to King Edward, and a priceless solid gold embossed shield, which was a present to the sovereign from a number of Indian princes.

Kruger Statue Forgotten,

Before the Boer war it had been intended by the people of the Transvaal to erect a colossal statue in honor of Kruger on an imposing pedestal in Church square, Pretoria. Only the base was erected, however. While the war was in progress the statue, ordered by the Transvaal government, was delivered by the sculptors at Delagoa bay. It was impossible to convey it then to Protoria, so it was laid in a timber yard belonging to the Lorenzo Marquez Wharf company, and there, neglected and almost forgotten, it has since remained.

Bravery on Both Sides. Honor to whom honor is due. A dispassionate view of the turn of affairs in Manchuria discovers a sentiment that is scarcely in tune with the situation. Sympathy for the garrison and their commander, whose defense of Port Arthur is the bravest record of the war in Russia's possession, is freely accorded by the world at large, but in praising and extolling Gen. Stoessel let equal praise be given to the wonderful courage and bravery of Gen. Nogi's forces. Somehow the sacrifice of the Japanese for their country does not at this hour meet the reward it deserves. Even England, Japan's ally, speaks with a certain reservation of a victory over obstacles that render it a thousandfold greater than any siego in modern history.—Boston Herald.

DISFIGURING ULCER

People Looked at Her in Amazement -Pronounced Incurable-Face Now Clear as Ever-Thanks God for Cuticura.

Mrs. P. Hackett, of 400 Van Buren St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I wish to give thanks for the marvelous cure of my mother by Cutieura. She had a severe ulcer, which physicians had pronounced incurable. It was a terrible disfigurement, and people would stand in amazement and look after her. After there was no hope from doctors she began using Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and now, thank God, she is completely cured, and her face is as smooth and clear as over."

Man of Versatility.

It would be difficult to find a man of more pleasing versatility than Sir Gilbert Parker, Sir Gilbert has been professor in a deaf and dumb institute, lecturer in English literature, journalist, author, theological student and deacon in the church-all in Canada, the land of his birth and love. In Australia he has sat in an important editorial chair and produced successful plays, while in London, where he has made his home, he has placed himself in the very forefront of novelists and playwrights. He is a doctor of civil law, a fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, a colone, of artillery, as well as a member of parliament, and there is scarcely a section of the earth which he has not

PECULIAR CAUSE FOR RUN ON BANK

Rush of Depositors to Put Money at Interest Produces Alarm in Others

Specie in Proportion of Two to One Is Given to Clamoring Men and Women, Who Lose Tempers When Redeposits Are Refused.

New York dispatch: Three policemen and two Jewish women were in-Grand street, in the heart of the business section of the east side, Wednesday. The run was attended by some sensational incidents.

The 5,000 persons crowded about the bank became so insistent that they broke down an fron railing around a light well in front of the building, and it was only by desperate clubbing on the part of the police that the excited and unruly mob was prevented from forcing many of its number into the well.

The policemen and women were hart at that point. The emergency police detail of the Delancey street station was finally called out, and policemen were stationed at intervals of five or six feet for two blocks either side of the bank.

Cause of the Run.

The cause of the run was as extraordinary as the frenzied character of the run itself. Tuesday there was a rush of depositors to get their money into the bank in time to begin to draw interest at once, and the long line of waiting depositors convinced the excitable Jews that something was wrong with the institution. Five hundred persons waited in front of the building all Tuesday night, and their number quickly swelled to 5,000 when the bank opened Wednesday, though not all of that number were depositors.

The bank, which has deposits of $10. 500,000 and a cash reserve of $4,000, 000, and which, Cashier A. I. Voorhis said, carned 244 per cent profits last year, sent for money early in the day, and $250,000 was brought by the wagon load, largely in specie. At the sight of the money those waiting became only more impatient to get at it. The bank officials paid depositors off as fast the the operation could be conducted. In all, the bank paid out $550, 000 and received in deposits $140,000.

Try to Redeposit Money.

Remarkable scenes attended the paying off within the bank. The officers paid off in two-thirds specie and one-third bills, and some of the depositors were fairly overwhelmed by the amount of currency thrust upon them when they passed in their books.

Immediately upon getting their money into their hands and becoming convinced that the bank was able to pay them, the frantic Jows became equally anxious to get their money into the bank again, and several of them created scenes when the officers refused to accept it. The depositors were pald in specie to prevent a redeposit, as this was the sixth run the bank has experienced from equally trivial causes.

Gets Sixty Pounds of Silver.

One of the aged depositors received sixty pounds of silver, and staggered under the load when he carried it away. Women swept their accumulated savings into shawls, aprons and their outer skirts, held in the form of aprons, and got through the crowd as best they could.

Payment of depositors was made up to 6 o'clock Wednesday night, Officers of the bank declare it is absolutely sound, and can secure $1,000,000 at an hour's notice. It received many offers of help, and declined most of them.

Of the five previous runs on this bank one was started by a fire, another by a fight, a third by a rumor in the Bryan campaign that silver dollars were to be cut in half, a fourth by the Spanish-American war, and a fifth by the failure of a bank in Nebraska. There was a small run also on a branch of the State bank in Brooklyn.

HOMESICK BOY ENDS HIS LIFE Indiana Youth Hangs Himself While at Military Academy.

Asheville, N. C., special: The body of O. A. Whitaker of Paragon, Ind. a student at the Bingham Military academy, was found hanging from a tree in Victoria woods. The coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that the decedent committed suicide. Whitaker, who was 22 years old, came to the military academy ten days ago. After his arrival the school authorities say he suffered from bomesickness and it is thought that he killed himself while homesick. He left the school without permission and, according to witnesses, was seen pacing the platform of the railway station late at night.

ALL CROPS GOOD IN WESTERN CANADA.

"Potatoes the Finest I Ever 3aw." Owing to the great amount of interest that is being taken in Westorn Canada, it is well to be informed of some of the facts that are bringing about the great emigration from per-tions of the United States. The Canadian government has authorized agen's at different points, and the facts related in the following may be corroborated on application. At the same time they will be able to quote you rates, and give you certificates entitling you to low rates on the different lines of railway. The following letter copied from the North Bend (Nob.) Eagle is an unsolicited testimonial, and the experience of Mr. Auten is that of hundreds of other Americans who have made Canada their home during the past seven or eight years:

"I presume some may be interested to know how we have progressed this year in the Canadian Northwest. We have no complaint to offer. We have had a good year, crops were good and we have had a delightful season. 1 threshed from my place 8,650 bushels of grain. My oats made 65 bushels per acre and weighed 421/2 pounds per bushel. My wheat made 311/2 bushels per acre and is No. 1 quality. My barley made about 30 bushels of good quality. My crop is a fair average of the crops in the Edmonton district,

"All crops were good here this season. Potatoes the finest I ever saw, and all vegetables adapted to the climate. We have had a very fine fall, but no exception to the rule, as thefall season is, I think, the most pleasant of the year. We have had no snow yet (Nov. 9), and have been plowing and working the land preparing for an early seeding next spring. Last night the mercury dropped lower than any previous night this fall, and this morning there is a crust of frost on the fields sufficient to prevent field work. No doubt many would imagine that Alberta had not on her winter overcoat before this and that the pcople were wrapped in furs, but it is only a question of time when this country will not be looked upon as an leeberg, but a country fit for the best of mankind to live in. "We are now assured of a transcontinental railway, which is to be built to the Pacific during the next five years. The Canadian Northern road is graded to within seventy-five miles of Edmonton. It comes from Winnipeg, and will reach us next summer, so with one rallroad already at hand, the second to reach us in less than a year, and the third to penetrate our city and open up this country to the west across the Rockies to the coast within five years, we surely have reason to believe that the country is progressing.

"Very respectfully, L. J. AUTEN."

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz .- one full pound-while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in %-pound packages, and the price is the same, 19 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Deflance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

A Hopperdozer.

The Nebraskan laid his large felt hat on the floor, ordered a bottle of ginger ale and took out a cigar. "Yes, George. I'm prospering now," he said. "I am a hopperdozer." "What is a hopperdozer?"

"A hopperdozer is a grasshopper vender, George, I, being one, kill grasshoppers and pack them in bricks, and these bricks I sell to phicken raisers all over the country. Grasshoppers are to chickens what terrapin and canvasback duck are to you and me-a prime delicacy.

"There's billion of grasshoppers in Nebraska. To capture them I use a machine called a hopperdozer. It's a large, flat pan, with a quart or two of kerosene held in a cavity in the rear. A horse drage the pan slowly over the fields, and every grasshopper within a five-yard radius hops aboard to get a free ride. He gets a free ride and the kerosene suffocates him. The insects, after they are dried, are put in a press and pressed into bricks.

"The bricks, grasshopper bricks, command a high figure. There's no fowl alive that won't fatten and flourish on them. They are the very choicest food of the poultry yard."-Philadelphia Bulletin.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary

Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is unequalled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

> Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N. J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

> How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpe.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb bave all left me, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your medicine to all who suffer from female weakness."

— MISS FANNIE KUMPE, 1922 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. (Dec. 16, 1900.)

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflan tion of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, nervous prostration, and all forms of woman's special ills.

Garnishee Bill.

A garnishee bill is to be introduced in the next general assembly according to the intentions of retail merchants, and it is supposed that there will be another fight between the merchants on one side and union labor on the other, such as there was two and four years ago. The bill probably provides that 25 per cent of a man's wages or income may be garnisheed to compel the payment of debts contracted for the necessities of life. The same purpose of the legislation, it is said, is to compel men to pay their grocery bills. The union labor lobby fought the bill most intensely two and four years ago and succeeded in keeping it out of the statutes. The retail merchants however, have not given up. They have said that their cause is just and that in time union labor will cease opposition.

Honor to whom honor is due. A dispassionate view of the turn of affairs in Manchuria discovers a sentiment that is scarcely in tune with the situation. Mrs. P. Hackett, of 400 Van Buren St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I wish to give thanks for the marvelous cure of my mother by Cutleura. She had a severe ulcer, which physicians had pronounced incurable. It was a terrible disfigurement, and people would stand in amazement and fook after her. PECULIAR CAUSE

SILVER IS DEALT OUT FREELY

Specie in Proportion of Two to One is Given to Clamoring Men and Women, Who Lose Tempers When Redeposits Are Refused.

New York dispatch: Three policemen and two Jewish women were injured in a run on the State bank in Grand street, in the heart of the business section of the east side, Wednesday. The run was attended by some sensational incidents.

The 5,000 persons crowded about the bank became so insistent that they broke down an iron raining around a light well in front of the building, and it was only by desperate clubbing on the part of the police that the excited and unruly mob was prevented from forcing many of its numher into the well.

The policemen and women were hurt at that point. The emergency police detail of the Delancey street stamen were stationed at intervals of five

Cause of the Run.

The cause of the run was as extraordinary as the frenzied character of the run itself. Tuesday there was a rush of depositors to get their money into the bank in time to begin to draw interest at once, and the long line of waiting depositors convinced the excitable Jews that something was wrong with the institution. Five hundred persons waited in front of the building all Tuesday night, and their number quickly swelled to 5,000 when the bank opened Wednesday, though not all of that number were depositors.

The bank, which has deposits of $10,-500,000 and a cash reserve of $4,000, 000, and which, Cashier A. I. Voorhis said, carned 244 per cent profits last year, gent for money early in the day, doctors she began using Cuticura and $250,000 was brought by the wagon load, largely in specie. At the sight of the money those waiting became only more impatient to get at it. The bank officials paid depositors off as fast the the operation could be con-It would be difficult to find a man ducted. In all, the bank paid out $550.

000 and received in deposits $440,000. Try to Redeposit Money. Remarkable scenes stiended the paying off within the bank. The offieers pald off in two thirds specie and one-third bills, and some of the depositors were fairly overwhelmed by the amount of currency thrust upon them when they passed in their books.

Immediately upon getting their money into their hands and becoming convinced that the bank was able to pay them, the frantic Jews became equally anxious to get their money luto the bank again, and several of them created scenes when the officers refused to accept it. The depositors were paid in specie to prevent a redeposit, as this was the sixth run the bank has experienced from equally trivial causes.

Gots Sixty Pounds of Silver.

One of the aged depositors received sixty pounds of silver, and staggered under the load when he carried it away. Women swept their accamulated savings into shawls, aprons and their outer skirts, held in the form of aprons, and got through the crowd as best they could

Payment of depositors was made up to 6 o'clock Wednesday night. Officers of the bank declare it is absolutely sound, and can scenre $4,000,000 at an hour's notice. It received many offers of help, and declined most of them.

Of the five previous rous on this bank one was started by a fire, another by a fight, a third by a rumor in the Bryan campaign that silver dollars were to be cut in half, a fourth by the Spanish-American war, and a fifth by the fallure of a bank in Nebraska. There was a small run also on a branch of the State bank in Brooklyn.

"Potatoes the Finest I Ever 3aw."

ALL CROPS GOOD IN WESTERN

Owing to the great amount of interest that is being taken in Western Canada, it is well to be informed of some of the facts that are bringing about the great emigration from pertions of the United States.

The Canadian government has suthorized agents at different points, and the facts related in the following may, be corroborated on application. At the same time they will be able to quote you rates, and give you certificates entitling you to low rates on the different lines of rallway. The following letter copied from the North Bend (Neb.) Eagle is an unsolicited testimonial, and the experience of Mr. Auten is that of hundreds of other Americans who have made Canada their home during the past seven or eight years:

"I presume some may be interested to know how we have progressed this year in the Canadian Northwest. We have no complaint to offer. We have had a good year, crops were good and we have had a delightful season, I threshed from my place 8,650 bushels of grain. My oats made 65 bushels per acre and weighed 421/2 pounds per bushel. My wheat made 311/2 bushels per acre and is No. 1 quality. My barley made about 30 bushels of good quality. My crop is a fair average of the crops in the Edmonton district, "All crops were good here this season. Potatoes the finest I ever saw, and all vegetables adapted to the climate. We have had a very fine fall, but no exception to the rule, as the fall season is, I think, the most pleasant of the year. We have had no snow yet (Nov. 9), and have been plowing and working the land preparing for an early seeding next spring. Last night the mercury dropped lower than any previous night this fall, and this morning there is a crust of frost on the fields sufficient to prevent field work. No doubt many would imagine that Alberta had put on her winter overcoat before this and that the poople were wrapped in furs, but it is only a question of time when this country will not be looked upon as an iceberg, but a country fit for the best of mankind to live in.

"We are now assured of a transcontinental railway, which is to be built to the Pacific during the next five years. The Canadian Northern road is graded to within seventy-five miles of Edmonton. It comes from Winnipeg, and will reach us next summer, so with one railroad already at hand, the second to reach us in less than a year, and the third to penetrate our city and open up this country to the west across the Rockies to the coast within five years, we surely have reason to believe that the country is progressing.

"Very respectfully, L. J. AUTEN."

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz .- one full pound-while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in %-pound packages, and the price is the same. 19 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he have a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Deflance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

A Hopperdozer. The Nebraskan fald his large felt hat on the floor, ordered a bottle of ginger ale and took out a cigar. "Yes, George. I'm prospering now," he said. "I am a hoppordozer."

"What is a hopperdozor?" "A hopperdozer is a grasshopper vender, George. I, being one, kill grasshoppers and pack them in bricks, and these bricks I sell to chicken raisers all over the country. Grasshoppers are to chickens what terrapin and canvasback duck are to you and me-a prime delicacy. "There's billion of grasshoppers in Nebraska. To capture them I use a machine called a hopperdozer. It's a large, flat pan, with a quart or two of kerosene hold in a cavity in the rear. A horse drage the pan slowly over the fields, and every grasshopper within a five-yard radius hops aboard to get a free ride. He gets a free ride and the kerosene suffocates him. The insects, after they are dried, are put in a press and pressed into bricks.

"The bricks, grasshopper bricks, command a high figure. There's no fowl alive that won't fatten and flourish on them. They are the very choicest food of the poultry yard."-Philadelphia Bulletin.

Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is unequalled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating detalls which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

> Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N. J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continned its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

> How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpe.

"DEAR Mus. PINEBAM: - I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb have all left me, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your med cine to all who suffer from female weakness."

— Miss Fannie Kumpe, 1922 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. (Dec. 16, 1900.)
