

THE WEEK IN CULVER

Little Items of Local Happenings of Interest to People in Town and Country

AS SEEN AND HEARD BY THE CITIZEN'S ITEMIZER

Note Book News Jottings for the Past Seven Days.

—Few tramps trouble Culver.
—Rain on Monday is now regarded as a regular thing.
—Henry Peeher has opened a tin shop under the hardware store.
—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Garn of Chicago, on Monday, a daughter.

—The annual picnic of the Leiter's Ford M. E. Sunday school will be held Aug. 3. The Culver band will furnish the music.

—The big huckleberry patch on the John Hawk farm southwest of town is producing no fruit this season. The crop is a total failure.

—For Rent—One town clock. Only wants some attention to make it good as new. Apply to A. A. Koen, John Cromley or Charles Stahl.

—O. A. Bennett handled the refreshment privileges for the Union News company on the excursion from South Bend to Indianapolis last Sunday.

—The Reformed church parsonage is being repainted outside and inside and renovated generally for the new pastor who will take possession about Sept. 1.

—The papers say that the price of thread is to be again advanced cents a spool. This will be 10 trust that needs busting. another —The annual excursion of Valparaiso university to Lake Maxinkuckee brought about 500 visitors to Culver Saturday. The excursionists were accompanied by the students' band, an excellent musical organization.

—The cup for the fastest sloop on Maxinkuckee is held by Milton Shirk, of Peru. His boat, a 40-footer, is the fastest on the lake by 30 minutes over a ten-mile course, in any wind.—Logansport Chronicle. The sloop is now owned by the Ogle boys of Indianapolis.

—This is the time of the year when the bass and goggle-eyes bite more readily at grasshoppers than minnows, on the principle, probably, that a fish wants a change of diet as well as a human being. The boys are now making pocket money by peddling the insects.

—Marshal Lem Woods last week constructed a cement crosswalk on Washington street at the alley east of D. G. Walter's. It is a substantial piece of work, costs less than brick, and apparently fills the bill in every particular. It is the second cement crosswalk put down here, and it is probable that hereafter the town will use cement for this purpose instead of brick.

The Yacht Race.

The Aubbeenaube Yacht club held the first race of the season on Saturday. The race was a good one from start to finish. The four cat boats were bunched all the way around, Waldorf's boat winning by a quarter of a minute. The Van Camp boat halted a second and last year's cup winner came in third.

The Scout easily won in its class, making very good time.

In the class of the large boats, through the excellent sailing of K. Ogle the Vesuvius won by several minutes, the Bliss boat getting second and the Gates boat third place.

Mrs. Lottie Baker of Bass Lake is a visitor this week at her father's.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Biennial Convention of South Bend District Held in Culver.

The second biennial convention of the South Bend district Christian Endeavor union was held in this place on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Although the size of the delegation was smaller than desired or expected, the convention as a whole was very successful. That the C. E. work has a place in our ethical progress is undisputed, but as to just what this place is and how nearly the young people of this district are approaching it is a problem for the future disciples of the movement. However, the convention was strongly impressed with the remoteness of the various societies from the ideal course to be pursued.

Prof. Russell, head of the bible department of Earlham college, gave five very profitable discussions on portions of the greatest of books. What he said both during these lectures and the business sessions will go far toward regenerating a healthful atmosphere in the societies of this district.

The part played by the young people of Culver shows their sterling worth. Nothing was wanting from them.

The following officers were elected for the succeeding two years:

District Secretary—Frank Clark, Winona Lake.

Junior Sup't—Fay Hess, Plymouth.

Missionary Sup't—Gladys Hoover, Plymouth.

Co. Secretary, Kosciusko—Harley Firestone, Winona Lake.

Co. Secretary, Elkhart—George Shiffer, Gosben.

Co. Secretary, St. Joe—Rose Berkheiser, South Bend.

Co. Secretary, Marshall—Claude Newman, Culver.

Another Liquor Decision.

And now comes Judge Bratton of the Auburn circuit and decides that the druggist section of the "blind tiger" law is unconstitutional.

Certain indictments charged that the druggist sold liquor in less quantities than a quart without a written prescription of a physician. Judge Bratton held that the law in regard to the sale of liquor in Indiana is in such a state of uncertainty that he could enter no judgment until a ruling of the supreme court has been obtained on the matter.

The judge pointed out that there are at present four different acts in force governing the sale of liquor by druggists—the Nicholson law, the law of 1905, the "blind tiger" law and the Beardsley law, the two latter passed by the last legislature. As to what extent the provisions of one law are annulled or amended by the provisions of its predecessors is the question which perplexes the jurists.

Fernist the Phone.

Geo. Strohm, a well-known farmer 7 miles northeast of Winamac, put a temporary stop to the building of a farmers' telephone line out of Monterey past his farm. It is necessary to put six poles in the road past his property and he demands $6. When Frank Kiser, Carl Dougherty and Wm. Peters tried to set the poles Mr. Strohm threatened to shoot the first man who attempted to go ahead with the work, and the boys were scared out. The law is very plain regarding the telephone company's rights, and after Mr. Strohm has had his fun with the telephone men, the latter will go ahead planting the poles. It is not thought that there will be any bloodshed or expensive litigation over such a small matter.

Farmers Get Busy.

There is a section in the ditch law enacted by the last legislature which provides that all farmers on whose ground the open ditches are located shall keep them clear of weeds and all rubbish from June to August. The first part of August the contracts are let for the cleaning out of the ditches and it is intended that all ditches shall be free from weeds so that the parties who take the contract will not have to cut the weeds and remove the rubbish before the ditches can be cleaned. This provision of the law is called attention to by persons who have the ditch work in charge so that the farmers will have time to get their ditches free from rubbish before the contracts are let.

PERSONAL POINTERS

Brief Mention of Culverites and Their Friends Who Have Come and Gone

PLEASANT ITEMS OF GOSSIP PERTAINING TO PEOPLE

Gathered From Many Sources for Readers of The Citizen.

Mrs. R. E. Hutchison is making weekly trips to South Bend to receive treatment for an injury to her shoulder received a year ago last March when she a year ago last March she was thrown from a carriage. The shoulder has recently become very painful and she is unable to use the arm.

D. E. Overman, the jeweler, left Culver last Tuesday for his home in Montezuma, Ind. He has been here for a year and has done a satisfactory business, but other plans in view induced him to seek another field. He has made many friends here who wish him success wherever he goes.

The Old Boys in Reunion.

One of the pleasant memories which Jacob Speyer carries with him of his visit in Culver is the stag supper given in his honor by his sister, Mrs. W. H. Porter. Around a table spread with good things were gathered a jolly, storytelling company, most of them friends of Mr. Speyer's boyhood. The menu included baked fish, a toothsome evidence of Mr. Speyer's skill that afternoon. The supper hour was filled with reminiscences of the days when Culver and the guests were much younger, and after supper the company gathered on the porch where songs of the old time were sung until after midnight. Those present, besides the guest of honor, were W. H. Porter, Henry Speyer, Dr. B. W. S. Wiseman, D. G. Walter, A. B. Holt, Dr. Rea, T. E. Slattery, L. C. Wiseman, Sam Buswell, S. C. Shilling.

A New Corporation.

The Van Cash Purchasing company is the title of a corporation now being organized with J. W. Vandenberg as president and J. M. Hinshaw as manager. The business of the corporation will be the buying of stocks of goods from merchants who wish to sell out, and the selling of stocks on commission where merchants desire to make a clearing sale. Mr. Vandenberg entered this field after making a successful closing-out sale of his Burr Oak store, and has since been equally successful in other places. A number of wealthy men are taking stock in the new company, and it is the design to incorporate with $200,000 capital. Mr. Hinshaw is a Culver man and has been asso-

To avoid sunstroke—but there seems little danger of sunstroke this year.

In destroying bedbugs an Indianapolis woman set fire to the house. If she got rid of the bedbugs she's ahead.

For long years the relations of the United States and Japan have been uninterruptedly friendly, and they are friendly now. The restlessness shown by Japan at present is greatly misunderstood in this country. It grows almost wholly out of the activity of a certain faction opposed to the existing ministry, the policy being to use assumed wrongs to Japanese in America as a means of arousing popular discontent and so accomplishing the overthrow of the ministry. Such is the germ and center of the trouble. Remotely it might involve complications affecting the United States, but that is not highly probable. Japanese statesmen generally have pretty good sense.

He foregoing, from one of the Citizen's exchanges, puts the situation in as conservative and hopeful a light as possible. The visit of high Japanese officials to this country will, to the optimistic, confirm the belief that Japan desires to assure the United States of its cordial purposes. But the oriental mind is not like the anglo-saxon mind—open, straightforward and frank; it delights in secrecy, circumlocution and intrigue, and all these avowed professions of friendship may properly be taken with a mental reservation. With even the best present intent on the part of the prevailing ministry of Japan the government may find itself controlled by a popular wave of hostility to this country. That the government at Washington is alert and well-informed is evident, and the plan to make a great naval display on our Pacific coast undoubtedly has a wise purpose.

THE ASSESSMENT.

Union Township's Valuation of Property by Board of Review.

The equalized assessment by the Marshall county board of review places the lands of Union township at $25.45 which is fourth in point of valuation, Center being first with $30.13, Walnut second with $28.28, Bourbon third with $28.03, and West last with $20.21.

The personal property valuation of Union township has been raised $16,610, as returned by the assessor.

The total assessment of Union township is placed at $1,052,500, not including railroad, telephone or telegraph property which is assessed by the state board. Only four other townships in the county exceed Union's valuation—Center, German, Bourbon and Walnut.

The total assessment of Culver is $234,210, with mortgage exemptions of $7,140.

FROM CALIFORNIA

Culver Boy Tells of "Land of Sunshine and Flowers."

North Pomona, Cal., July 12—Editor Citizen: When I first came to Southern California three years ago all I did for a few months was to write letters to my friends back East, but since I have become more adapted to the people and their ways in this "land of sunshine and flowers" I have naturally become negligent about keeping up a correspondence with my friends, and consequently I depend much on the Culver Citizen for my home news, which does not require me to keep writing to it like my other friends, for news, but only requires $1 per year (and mighty cheap at that).

Someone might wonder what I have been doing in my sojourn in this country. Well, it would be a task for me to tell in detail and a much greater one to write it, for I have done so many different things. I have worked on ranches (or farms), in packing houses, sugar factories, gold mines and grocery stores and done other things not mentioned, and I am proud to say that I have a welcome awaiting me at any of these places I have mentioned. On July 15 I am going to return to a position I had seven months once before as overseer on quite a large orange ranch. Rather than write and tell my relatives that when I accepted this position again I canceled all hopes of getting home this fall I will let them read it here.

If there are any young men that I know around Culver who are thinking of coming out this way I would be glad to give them a help when they get here by getting them a place to work. I am acquainted with a great many hay and fruit growers in this valley of the San Gabriel and I am quite sure I could help anyone whom I could recommend as being honest and leading a good moral life. No doubt some who may read this might think Will Smith draws his lines pretty close. Well, probably I do, but, boys, I have noticed this—that it is he who is leading that kind of a life who is happiest, has the respect of nearly everybody, good and bad, and in general gets along much better than the one who is leading the other life.

I might say right here that there is a great dearth in the way of labor in California at the present time. Wages are good. Common laborers on ranches receive from $26 to $40 per month and board. Of course men with a trade receive much more.

Let me say just a few words in behalf of Southern California in closing. As far as climate is concerned I think it is as near paradise as any place on earth today, even if it was 110 deg. in the shade on July 4. In the East it is hot all day and all night also, but that is not the case here. You will always require cover to sleep comfortably at night any time of the year here. In midwinter when the young people of Culver are enjoying the results of frigid weather by skating on old Lake Maxinkuckee, we can enjoy a plunge into the waves of the mighty Pacific.

Will just speak a word of praise to the different persons who contribute items to the Citizen. Your items may not interest people so much around home, but I tell you those who are far away appreciate them greatly. For myself, I prefer Burr Oak items above all. Some of you know why.

WILL J. SMITH.

The Flour that Pleases.

Our new Blend flour, the product of our best thought and skill, is rapidly taking its place at the front in the esteem of all good bread-makers. Made of the best winter and spring wheat, properly combined, it produces a flour that makes white, light bread, sweet and nutritious, and housekeepers find that it gives better satisfaction and goes farther than any other brand they have used. Try it.

HIS GREAT GIFT.

Ability of the Man Who Was a Natural Born Speller.

An old friend of the boys dropped into the Mule Pen—which might be included among the lobbies—threw his heels over a table and began drawing pictures on scratch paper. Nobody looked up to see who he was, knowing from his manners that he was a familiar of the place, and he spoke to nobody.

He had been there perhaps five minutes when he tossed the scrap of paper to the table and declared: "There are many men of many minds."

"Admitted," said the man opposite him. "But don't you think that is pretty abstract, irrelevant information to bring into a newspaper office, or did you just want to hear your voice?"

"No; I was sure enough thinking about that adage. Men, no account and lazy, have made fortunes by inventing things we couldn't have invented if an angel had told us that that would be all heaven would ever require us to do. Some men can write poetry, but if they had me on the gallows to hang me and told me to write four lines of the stuff, meter it right and make a rhyme I'd have to say, 'Gentlemen, break my neck.' People are born with all sorts of brains."

"But I don't see that your expansion of the adage adds much force to it," mused the reporter. "Let me alone, now, and I'll slap the local color on," said the loafer. "I'm the local color myself. It is often said and is true that ability to spell is a gift. That's my gift. I am a natural born speller. When I was among the shavers at school I spelled down grown men in the Friday bees, and I never do misspell a word now."

A reporter who had been writing suddenly stopped his machine and cast his eyes up to the ceiling.

"Lemme see, lemme see," he muttered. "Does anybody know how to spell 'weird'?"

"There's the God gifted speller on the spot!" laughed his colleague. "How do you spell 'weird,' my genius?"

"W-e-i-r-d," was the reply. Everybody had become interested. Though not one of them was sure in his heart whether the e or the i comes first, they roared laughing, as if they had a good joke on their visitor.

"What'll you bet? What'll you bet?" was the cry. "That w-i-e-r-d is right? One dollar," said the prodigy.

"But you didn't spell it so. You said w-e-i-d."

"I protest I didn't," said the visitor uncomfortably.

"Now, will you stick to it that it is e-i or i-e? Let's write it down, so we can't misunderstand."

The phenomenal speller took his pencil in hand and wrote and erased several times. It was his ill luck to leave the thing wrong. The errand boy had already hunted up the word in the dictionary.

The reporters were not cruel enough to press their advantage. They resumed their machines without further remark, and after awhile the reflection stole out, doubtless with the reflection that an adage is a dangerous canvas for local color, and that it is unwise to boast of extraordinary powers where the boast may be put to proof.—Charlotte Observer.

When Valuables Are Lost.

When on leaving a theater or lecture hall you discover that some valuable has disappeared do not lose your head immediately. There are, after all is said, many more honest people in this world than dishonest, and the chances are that if you go about it properly you will recover the article.

First of all, register your loss at the box office or superintendent's room. Give your name and address plainly, being sure that they are correctly taken down, and if you wish to offer any reward for its return name the amount. Be sure to leave money for the management to telephone you if their search is rewarded and give your telephone number. Then ask for some one or, if this is not granted, get permission yourself to search the part of the house in which you were sitting.

If after a day or so you have no word of the loss advertise in at least one morning and one evening paper, naming the article explicitly so as to avoid confusion. If you wish you may name the theater as the place to which it is to be returned. Most places are kind and courteous in such matters and only too anxious to help you in your search. If they return the valuable to you do not forget that the man who has acted as their agent is worthy of thanks at least if you do not wish to reward him in any more substantial way.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

When the World is Full.

When will the world be full up? When will the day come when, as in the case of the motor bus going toward the suburbs from the city at the close of the business day, there's no room inside or on top or, in other words, when the earth has all the inhabitants it can properly nourish? Probably this will happen in about 200 years. What will we do then? A learned professor has estimated that the fertile lands of the globe amount to 28,000,000 square miles, the steppes to 14,000,000 and the deserts to 1,000,000. Fixing 207 persons to the square mile for fertile lands, 10 for steppes and 1 for deserts as the greatest population that the earth could properly nourish, the professor arrives at the conclusion that when the number of inhabitants reaches about 6,000,000,000 the earth will be peopled to its full capacity. At present it contains somewhat more than one-quarter of that number. If the rate of increase shown by the latest census statistics should be uniformly maintained the globe will be fully peopled

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally cause about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label. If poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for the very reason mentioned and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

Obituary.

By the death of John Heim Monday, July 19, Bremen lost one of its most highly respected citizens. Mr. Heim had been ailing for about three months with endocarditis, an inflammation of the lining of the heart. Previous to that time he had always enjoyed excellent health; indeed, he had lost no time from his work on account of sickness for thirty years. During his sickness he suffered little or no pain, and was able to walk about the house until a day or so before his death. He was born on a farm near Bremen Sept. 28, 1854, and always lived in that township. On April 26, 1880, he married Miss Lina Kinzie. To them was born one son, Arthur, who, with the wife, survives him. Mr. Heim's aged mother is also living. Mr. Heim enjoyed in the fullest degree the confidence of the people of his community, and his untimely death is generally deplored. He had worked in Wright's factory for the past twenty-nine years without intermission, and for the last twenty-five years had been the trusted foreman of the plant. Funeral services were held at the family residence by Rev. D. T. Williams, and the burial services were conducted by the Knights of Pythias of which order he was an honored and enthusiastic member. He was also a member of the Maccabees, and the members of that order joined in the burial service.

Sunday School Institute.

Saturday afternoon and evening of August 3 the Union Township Sunday School institute will be held in the Methodist church at Culver. Sunday school workers will remember the meetings of last year held at the Assembly ground in the afternoon and in the church in the evening.

Rev. Halponny will not be present, but Mr. Burnie, who is considered one of the best workers in the state, will be here. He is pronounced the equal of Rev. Halponny. Other county workers will be present and have part on the program.

This is a splendid time and place for teachers and officers to get new ideas and inspiration, and these should show their interest by attending the meetings.

Decide now to attend and do not fail to keep the decision.

No Alcohol No Narcotics No Poisons

Zos-Flora Does Not Now and Never Did Contain Poisonous Drugs, Nor Any That Will Cause the Drug Habit

MADE FOR WOMEN

No Higher or Better Proof of the Merit of a Medicine Can Be Given Than Found Here.

When Dr. Fenigelly first compounded Zos-Flora, he was very careful in his selection of the ingredients. He had to have it at all times the best good of his patients, he determined to use no drug that would be in any way injurious to woman's delicate organism. His years of experience in treating a host of womanly weaknesses and diseases, enabled him to determine just the remedies needed. Can you wonder, therefore, that Zos-Flora is so successful? No narcotic, and no habit-forming drug, what is commonly known as the "drug habit" are used in compounding Zos-Flora. Formerly a small amount of alcohol was used in its preparation, but now even that has been eliminated, leaving the valuable medicinal ingredients in the preparation just as they have always been. The medicines used in making Zos-Flora are recognized by the medical profession everywhere as the best known remedies for the diseases and ailments of women. The United States Dispensary and other medical books of equal prominence, in regard to them, as follows: "regulate the menstrual function," "employed by physicians in the treatment of uterine diseases," "has been used with favor in the treatment of periodical sick-headaches," "recommended in debility, nervous conditions, attended with loss of appetite," "has extraordinary power to control capillary circulation and remove congestion," "is recommended for nervous, hysterical women, with irregular, scanty, or profuse menses," "is especially adapted for females who are afflicted with disease of the ovaries or uterus," etc., etc. Many other statements of recommendation for these remedies appear in the most reliable physicians' books. It is not this proof sufficient to convince you that Zos-Flora is the most dependable and absolutely genuine medicine for woman's use that can be found? When you add to the statements of these medical authorities, the experience of Dr. Fenigelly in his more than twenty years' use of Zos-Flora in private practice, and again add the testimony of the multitudes of women in every state in the nation, who have written words of praise for this wonderful "woman's friend," the proof positive of the superior merit of Zos-Flora is indisputable. No better, stronger or more satisfactory evidence could possibly be produced, and come from any higher authority regarding a medicine exists anywhere.

You need not send away for Zos-Flora. Your druggist will supply you with the medicine already prepared, and compounded in just the right proportions, put up in sealed, sterilized, one dollar bottles. Each package contains full and complete instructions for using the medicine, also a copy of "Dr. Fenigelly's Advice to Women," a booklet containing a lot of interesting and instructive information for women.
