SERIOUSLY INJURED.

A Logansport Boy Paralyzed as the Result of Diving from a Pier.

A cloud was cast over the enjoyment of the Stag club of Logansport on the first day of their camping at the assembly grounds by a serious injury to Roy Justice, one of the members. On Saturday the young man dove from the pier into 34 feet of water, striking his head so violently that paralysis set in. For a time he was without feeling or motion from the shoulders down, but later recovered the use of his arms. When taken home Sunday afternoon by his cousin, Dr. Stanton of Logansport, the paralysis was still total in the legs. It is impossible to determine at this time how serious the injury is. The Stag club consists of about a dozen young men of Logansport and vicinity. Justice lives about 3 miles from that city.

Word received yesterday indicated that the young man was a little improved.

Base Ball.

Six of her daughters (including Mrs. Erza Koontz) and one son, were at her deathbed. Mrs. Walter Hand's health would not permit her leaving home. Mr. and Mrs. Barber left Culver eight years ago after Mr. Barber had served a six or seven years' pastorate of the Reformed church.

Oldest Editor Gone.

Charles Holt, for nearly eighty years actively engaged in newspaper work, died in Kankakee, Tuesday, July 21, after a few days illness. He was perhaps the oldest newspaper man in the country, being 91 years of age. Saturday, July 11, he visited the office for the last time.

Mr. Holt was born in Herkimer, New York, March 5, 1817. In 1830 when only 13 years of age, he began his life work in the little newspaper office in his home village.

A few years later he worked under Thurlow Reed on the Albany Evening Journal and for Horace Greeley on the New Yorker and later on the New York Tribune.

In 1846 Mr. Holt decided to seek a new country and came West, locating at Madison, Wis. Here he reported the proceedings of the first constitutional convention and also the proceedings of the first state legislature for the Milwaukee Sentinel, which was then the only daily paper in that section of the country. He was also a member of the committee which drafted the platform of the first republican convention in Wisconsin.

In 1848 Mr. Holt went to Janesville, Wis., where he purchased an interest in the Gazette, a weekly paper in that city. In Janesville he started the second daily newspaper in the state.

On February 28, 1849, he was united in marriage to Miss Ellen Field of Madison, Wis., who was a native of Oneida, New York. In 1864 the couple moved to Quincy, Ill., where with a partner Mr. Holt conducted the Quincy Whig, until 1868 when he purchased the Kankakee Gazette, with which he had been identified until his death.

Besides his aged wife, Mr. Holt is survived by two sons, Arthur B. Holt, editor of the Culver, Ind., Citizen, and Clarence E. Holt, editor of the Kankakee Gazette.

SUMMER GOWNS

Designs for thin summer gowns are always interesting, for, where a heavy winter material may be trimmed with almost any fabric and texture, summer gowns must retain their rather simple appearance, and this naturally places a limit on both cut and adornment. Then again, in winter the half-dressy gowns are not so necessary. Winter dresses are mostly divided into two classes, street and evening gowns, and, while one naturally prefers to own a few house and theater dresses, they are not absolutely indispensable. But in summer there are garden parties and fetes, afternoon teas at home and at clubs, tournaments, races and different festive occasions, and for these nice, semi-dressy, graceful, long and clinging frocks must be on hand.

Soft materials best lend themselves to the long, sweeping lines of the present fashion; so batiste, sheer linen, soft lawns, silks, muslin and voiles are all much worn this season, while the introduction of cotton voile has done much toward the popularity of the style.

A gown of pale rose linen is finished at the waist with a round girdle of black satin and a band of the material, while the satin is also used to finish the collar. Heavy cluny lace is used on the bodices, and it gives the whole dress a sort of "best" look. The hat is composed mostly of a series of ruffles in lace and tulle, and is trimmed with thin ostrich plumes in pale rose pink.

It is well when one has a short-waisted figure not to wear a black belt with a light costume, for it merely calls attention to the defect. The girdles can be made in just the same style, but let them match the material of the frocks.

FRAME EASILY PUT TOGETHER.

Necessary Article for Women Fond of Embroidery Work.

The choicest needlework is frame embroidery. Fabrics are manufactured under tension and in most cases
the result of this tension is secured by the last touches which they undergo when stretched on tenter hooks.
To embroider successfully one should have one of these frames, which can be made by the woman who is deft with her hands. When completed the frame looks much like a miniature curtain stretcher. The frame should be made of hardwood laths, about an inch wide. Holes are bored in each end of each board, so that the frame can be made any desired size. An iron or wooden peg can be slipped into the holes to keep them in place.
When ready for use make the frame
the desired size and then the fabric is ready to be corded around with ordinary twine. The fabric should be turned over the twine about half an inch all around and the cord should be sewed in with fine silk floss rather than cotton, which is likely to cut.
Sew the corners so firmly that there is no danger of their pulling out, as most of the strain will come on the corners.
A large upholstery needle should be used for lacing the article into the frame. Commence in the middle of one side and lace in each direction,
putting the needle under the corded edge and drawing the twine through the distance of several yards. Then lace the two opposite sides and tighten the cords. Lastly tightly lace the fourth side.

Fresh Flowers for Table.

The fern, which lent so much freshness to the dining table all winter, suddenly presents an aspect dead and depressing. Our very souls at this time of the year call aloud for fresh blooms.

Flowers for the table should be scrupulously fresh: Nothing so disarms one at the beginning of a meal
as does a bunch of faded and too often ill-scented posies.

The commonest field flower, freshly plucked, has a transcending charm
over the faded orchid of rarest variety.

Then, too, be sure that the flowers are free from ants or other little insects—harmless, but not appetizing.
See that the water in which cut flowers are kept is always absolutely pure.

Packing Skirts.

When a skirt cannot be packed full length in the trunk, fold the top over a roll of underclothing or a wad of tissue paper to prevent wrinkles, and use soft, flexible paper in filling out sleeves and bodies of the fine lingerie and other waists. Hats also receive

MECHLIN NET FOR YOKES.

Largely Takes Place of Laces Either
in Black or White.

There is wide use this summer of a net called mechlin for yokes, stocks and undersleeves. It takes the place of laces either in black or white. It is also a good substitute for chiffon.

It rarely comes in dead white. It is in pale cream, or is slightly coffee tinted. Its mesh is silky and rather fine. Over the surface are scattered tiny open circles.

It is very wide and although it sells at a good price, it cuts to such advantage that it is quite reasonable in the end.

Some of the new sleeves and yokes
made of it are put in groups of tiny tucks and at the edges is a band of lace laid over with the scallops turning in. This is quite a favorite trick
on many of the fashionable frocks.

Doing Away with the Hips.

The revival of the styles of France about the time of the revolution has made it imperative for women to be hipless, no matter what the cost! The new corsets have done a great deal toward bringing about this important condition of affairs, and long lines,
many straps and heavy bones charac-terize the latest innovation of the cor-setiers. There are other corsets made with rubber seams here and there,
so that, although they are contracted
when midday is standing upright,
when she sits her all-enveloping bandage is sufficiently elastic to allow this natural position with some slight degree of comfort.

The Coat of Taffeta.

Bewitching coats of plain taffeta,
with lingerie and figured silk frocks,
are one of the practical developments
of a season that promises comparatively few practical fashions. With a brown and white checked frock seen
the other day there was a plain brown
taffeta coat of high length cut away
sharply from the front, with the corners rounded and edged all around with a little puffing of the silk. A reseda green coat of cutaway shape
and long panel sides and back will go with little lingerie frocks, and the hat
is ordered in color to match.

No Bridal Petticoats.

Petticoats have no place in trousse-aux being made in Paris just at present. Vogue, describing the interesting feature of one expensive collection of garments for a bride, says that in it were dozens of satin culottes or knickers, in black, white and colors,
each with its distinctive trimming of lace frill or ribbon and buckle at the knee, each with its detachable lining
of fine white batiste or white china

STANDARD OIL WINS

COURT OF APPEALS KNOCKS OUT
$29,240,000 PENALTY.

JUDGE LANDIS REVERSED

His Conduct of the Famous Rebate
Case Is Severely Arraigned
and a New Trial Is Ordered.

Chicago.—Federal judges in the court of appeals lifted the burden of a $29,240,000 fine from the shoulders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana
Wednesday and reversed the judgment of Judge Landis, by which the heaviest fine ever imposed in a federal court
was saddled upon the oil company, found guilty on 1,462 counts of accepting rebates from railroads. Speedy rehearing of the case, which has attracted widespread attention, is considered improbable.

The case was remanded with instructions that a new trial be held.

The jurists making up the court of appeals are Judges Grossepup, Seaman
and Baker.

Judge Grossepup delivered the opinion of the court, Judges Baker and Seaman concurring, and in sharp arraignment of the conduct of the trial judge intimated that he may have presumed to hold himself above the law.

Judge Landis Called Arbitrary.

The decision declares that the manner in which Judge Landis decided upon the number of offenses that had been committed by the defendant company was arbitrary. It holds that some other method than the one he used should have been applied.

Then it passes to the amount of the fine, which it declares was "sufficient to have wiped out many times the property of the defendant." The court holds that the only company on trial was the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. It says that this corporation alone could be punished and that to attempt to punish its holding corporation would be to assert that a person could be punished who was never before the court or who had never stood trial. This, the judges say, would be to assert a startling principle of law.

Others Than Commerce Law.

The court declares that the arraignment of the violation of an interstate commerce law was to be commended and that the results of such violation were not too strongly stated.
It says, however, that the interstate commerce law is not the only one in the United States, and that it is because there are others that the case
is reversed and remanded.

On the amount of the fine, the upper
court said:

"Did the court in the fine imposed abuse its discretion? The defendant indicted, tried and convicted was the Standard Oil company, a corporation of Indiana. The capital stock of this corporation is $1,000,000. There is nothing in the record in the way of evidence that some of the assets of the corporation were in excess of that amount. It may therefore be safely assumed that but for the relation of the defendant to another corporation not before the court, the court would have measured out punishment on the basis of the facts just stated."

Comment on Punishment.

The judges then commented on the punishment of the defendant in such a large amount and continued, saying:

"Briefly stated, the reason of the trial court for imposing this sentence
was because it was brought out on examination that the capital stock of
the Standard Oil Company of Indiana
was principally owned by the New Jersey corporation, a corporation not before the court. The trial court, adding that in concessions of the character for which the defendant before the court had been indicted, tried and convicted, the New Jersey corporation
was not a 'virgin' offender.

"Can an American judge, without abuse of judicial discretion, condemn anyone who has not had his day in court? That, to our minds, is strange doctrine in Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence."

History of the Great Case.

In the summer of 1906 indictments against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana were returned in the federal court charging the corporation with obtaining concessions from railroads
in shipments of oil from Whiting, Ind., where its plant is situated. At the trial of the case involving the Chicago & Alton, which began in March, 1907, many counts of the indictment were quashed, leaving 1,462 counts on which judgment was asked.

The hearing continued six weeks,
and many witnesses were examined.
The jury returned a verdict finding the defendant company guilty and leaving the sentence to be fixed by Judge Landis. In determining the amount of the fine the judge caused John D.
Rockefeller of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey to testify as to the real ownership of the Indiana company, this furnishing one of the most sensational incidents in the case.

Will Ignore Low Fare Law.

St. Paul, Minn.—The Minneapolis,
Red Lake & Manitoba Railroad Company Wednesday served notice on the would charge a passenger fare of three cents a mile, thus ignoring the two-cent fare law.

WAS ONLY RED BLOOD.

And Three-Year-Old Had Been Told
That It Was Blue.

Three-year-old Allan had a very aristocratic grandma, who prided herself
on her own and her husband's blue-blooded ancestry. She told him heroic deeds of them and warned him from ever playing with boys of low degree.

One day Allan came screaming upstairs to his mamma and grandma,
holding his hand up covered with blood, where he had cut his little finger. They were both greatly alarmed, as he was a child who rarely cried or complained when hurt. Mamma washed the blood off and, examining the cut, said:

"Why, dear, it's not so very bad.
Does it hurt you so much?"

"I'm not cryin' 'cause it hurts," he said, "but 'cause it's only red blood,
and grandma said I had blue."—Philadelphia Ledger.

ITCHING HUMOR ON BOY

His Hands Were a Solid Mass, and Disease Spread All Over Body
—Cured in 4 Days By Cuticura.

"One day we noticed that our little boy was all broken out with itching sores. We first noticed it on his little hands. His hands were not as bad
then, and we didn't think anything serious would result. But the next day we heard of the Cuticura Remedies being so good for itching sores. By this time the disease had spread all over his body, and his hands were nothing but a solid mass of this itchy disease. I purchased a box of Cuticure Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, and that night I took the Cuticura Soap and lukewarm water and washed him well. Then I dried him and took the Cuticura Ointment and anointed him with it. I did this every evening and in four nights he was entirely cured. Mrs. Frank Donahue, 208 Fremont St., Kokomo, Ind.,

Had Been Attended To.

An Italian went up to the civil service commissioners' rooms in the federal building the other day to be examined for a laborer's position. He answered most of the questions correctly. Finally they asked him if he had ever been naturalized. He seemed a bit puzzled, but at last his face lighted up.

"Ah, I know whata you mean.

A Difficult Lesson.

"It is next to impossible for a man
to teach a pretty girl how to whistle," said a musician who is a good whistler.

"How is that?" he was asked.
"Well, providing she is not your wife or sister, when a pretty girl gets her lips properly puckered she usually looks so bewitchingly tempting that he kisses her, and the consequence is she doesn't have a chance to blow a note."

The Modern Juggernaut.

Put an intoxicated man at the wheel of an auto and an accident is likely to result. Many of the cases reported day by day in the newspapers are unquestionably due to this cause, though the fact may not appear in print. What show does the driver of a horse stand in meeting a car burning up the road at the rate of 40 miles an hour and the man at the throttle with a half crazed brain? It looks now as if horses would be practically driven off the country roads within the next two years. The farmers can solve the problem, perhaps, by laying out a continuous private road on their own land just inside the fence line and giving up the highways to the auto people; or they can carry shotguns whenever they go out on the roads, after the fashion of the colonial forefathers in the days of the Indians. Just how the problem can be solved is a matter for the future to determine, but solved it must be in the interest of public safety, for it is already unsafe to drive a horse through the country and the number of autos is increasing tremendously every year. Motor cars have come to stay, and they have as much right to the highways as horses, but reckless driving of either must be strictly regulated.

SUMMER SCHOOL NOTES

Interesting Happenings Among the Boys That Have Been Gleaned from the Log.

For the past week the gray clad troopers of Culver's famous cavalry school have been walking abroad with the air of men who owned the earth, and also a goodly portion of the waters appertaining thereto. The reason for this elation has been the way in which they have occupied the limelight upon the social stage and have figured as hosts or guests in the events of the week.

The experience started on Tuesday evening when the entire troop left horses, camp and equipment to take to the water and circumnavigate Maxinkuckee as the guests of Major and Mrs. Gignilliat. The good ship Neeswangee was commissioned to bear the burden of the troopers and she stood up well under the herculean task. The ladies who accepted the hospitality of the hostess were judiciously distributed among the boys and the hum of the resulting conversation and the songs drowned the noise of the engine. After calling at several piers for more ladies, the circumnavigation began. At a convenient time ice cream and cake were served and eagerly devoured by the cavalymen. A shower in the course of the ride added to the novelty but did no damage except to curls. The voyage ended at 10:30 and by that time the stars were again shining and all went happy back to camp.

On Wednesday night the cavalry were again in the front as hosts at the weekly ball, and the incoming guests were welcomed first by Capt. Rossow of the cavalry school and by Cadet Lieutenant Hamberg of the troop.

The gymnasium was decorated with green boughs and black and gold pennants. The main feature of the dance was the entrance figure. Thirteen picked men of the troop were driven with yellow lines and riding whips by their partners. This figure was led by Captain Rossow and Miss McCoy followed by Lieutenant Hamberg and Miss Heaton and the rest of the troop and ladies. The entrance was made in single file which was broken up into double rank and then into a column of fours. This formation, after the entrance of the guidon and the cavalry yell, was turned into the grand march. After the grand march the regular program was carried out with the exception of three numbers which were changed into the barn dance.

The weekly dance at the Lake View hotel on Saturday night attracted a crowd of officers and cadets who spent three hours of pleasant dancing in the big reception hall of the hotel. These dances have always been one of the attractive features of the week in summer school for an evening which the program leaves unoccupied.

A second lieutenantancy in the U. S. marine corps is the prize lately drawn by V. G. Sheller, C. S. N. S. '05-'06 and C. M. A. '04-'06. The appointment to fill the vacancy was in the hands of Senator Beveridge who, knowing Culver's standing as a military school, wrote to the authorities asking for their recommendation of an eligible cadet. It was in answer to this that Mr. Sheller has been named and is now preparing himself for the examinations necessary to qualify for the commission. Last winter he was a student at Wabash college in this state.

The most pleasing sight to spectators is the drilling of the "mosquito fleet," as the fleet of small boats manned by the younger boys is popularly called. Each crew consists of two men and a coxswain and they go through all the drill with as much precision as the larger cutters. The flag ship of the Mosquito Fleet is the good ship "Mud Hen" with Senior Lieut. Boon in command. Capt. Glasecock has offered a $10 gold medal to the coxswain organizing the fastest crew.

If our three crews do not turn out well it will not be the fault of the staff. With Mr. Hendricks for the first, Mr. Brill for the second and Mr. Davis for the third something really worth while should be done. Mr. Brill served Uncle Sam for five and one half years "going around the Horn" to China, Brazil and Japan. He saw service in the Spanish war and was a "jackie" when Dewey made himself famous at Manila. Mr. Brill has had a great deal to do with cutters and racing crews in the navy and we trust will show his entire stock of knowledge to the men under him now. Mr. Davis who, as has been said, will coach the third crew was coxswain of the winning boat in the long to be remembered Inter-Oceanic boat race at Panama. He is also a "jackie" of high rank and one only needs to see him work to realize his ability.

There are about 10 former Winter and Summer school men planning to occupy a cottage on the lake about the first two weeks of August. Among them will be V. G. Sheller, K. M. Whitehead, A. B. Elliott, C. F. MacCarthy, G. M. Crothers, and C. C. Moore.

Chemicals in the Street.
Recently, in New York, carboys of acid fell from a dray and were smashed on the pavement. The released liquids mingled, and the chemical result of their union was a flame which flooded the street. The throngs of shoppers fled in terror. Water was powerless against the blaze, but luckily sand was at hand, and with this the firemen mastered the situation.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Every Man a Sculptor.
Every man is the builder of a temple, called his body, to the God he worships after a style purely his own, not can he get off by hammering marble instead. We are all sculptors and painters, and our material is our own flesh and blood and bones. Any nobleness begins at once to refine a man's features, any meanness or sensuality to mar them.—Thoreau.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. Sold by T. E. Slattery.

Choice of Color.
We used to complain that there was too little color in dress. The general effect of a crowd is still black or gray, perhaps because of the masculine element. Yet in spite of this one feels now that there is too much color about—color wrongly used, wrongly disposed, crudely plastered onto the wrong objects and the wrong people.—The Lady.

Careless and the well known remedy for babies and children, will quiet the little one in a short time. The instructions are printed on the bottle. Contains no opiates. Sold by T. E. Slattery.

Value of Olive Oil.
It has been said that olive oil is good for some people to take all the time and for all people to take some of the time. It is a sovereign remedy for stomach trouble. It fills out the hollows and builds up the system and removes aches and pains and the twinges of rheumatism.

Kidney pills without doubt help anyone who has stomach disorders or stomach trouble. Take Kidney pills and continue it for the short time that is necessary to give you complete relief. Kidney pills sold by T. E. Slattery.

Ideal Determines the Character.
Keep your ideal constantly before you, never let it slip of you. The idealists have transformed the world and changed their kind on to effort and accomplishment. They have made us great by mingling with our daily pursuits transcendent conceptions and so have thrown around our daily life, our common life, the grandeur of a better.

"E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Goldfaden—In 1895, I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. In the spring of 1901 I bought a bottle of DeWitt's Kidney Pills and took all the pills in the bottle and was cured. I can live long and prosper. Yours very truly, C. S. Carroll, Bowling, Mo., Aug. 27, 1900." Sold by T. E. Slattery.

A Drawback.
The great trouble with some men is that they can have self-respect without half trying.

Taft Boom Was Born in Barber Shop

WASHINGTON.—The nursery of Taft's boom for the presidential nomination was a room in the executive offices of the White House grounds, where President Roosevelt, before he left for his home at Oyster Bay, was shaved each work day. Here, when the boom was a green and tender thing, his first young shoots pushed to the light. Here it was cradled to sturdy growth. Here, in full blossom, it was talked over and admired.

Frank Hitchcock was the official and the president the unofficial manager of the Taft boom. The president, at these heart-to-heart talks with the candidate, was in a barber chair. A certain White House messenger wielded the razor and leather brush. It was the only part of the day when official business did not claim all of Roosevelt's time. It was Taft's one chance to be most of the talking.

Even then, the barber had to be watchful, and quick to snatch away the brush or blade. When T. R. wanted to talk he sometimes forgets he is being shaved. If the barber's hand had not a gambler's quickness, the president would have had the latter brush in his eye as often as he had it in his mouth. The shaving of the president and the midday cultivation of the boom of Taft started at 1 p. m. and lasted a half hour.

Taft, when he was in Washington, often saw the president several times in the morning. But Mr. Roosevelt had many things on his mind then and no leisure. For an hour or longer after 11:30 his outer office was filled with men who had appointments.

At the one o'clock shaving time came the first respite. The room in which the president was shaved is a small, narrow one, between the president's office and that of Secretary Loebe. It is used as an anteroom to both offices. On the wall is a long, framed photograph of a squadron of Buffaloes.

At this window is a low-set leather upholstered chair. Against the wall at one side a writing desk.

When the time for shaving arrived the low, leather covered chair was pulled out from the wall. A neat foot rest of two steps was produced from under the writing desk and set in front of the chair.

Roosevelt took his place. Then came Taft, who pulled up another chair alongside.

When Taft was away Roosevelt often received others in the shaving period. Sometimes the correspondents talked with him there. Sometimes it was Hon. Jimmy Garfield, he of the classic brow.

MAKE YOUR OWN HAY STACKER

Directions for Its Construction.

A home-made stacker that will do good service in handling hay is shown in the illustration. There are no castings to break and the timber required in its construction can be readily procured. The dimensions of the various parts are:

The lower timbers which are marked 1 are about 12 feet long and are made of four by five inch scantling. The side uprights, marked 2, are about 14 feet long, and made of the same material as No. 1. The slanting pieces, marked 3, are about 16 feet long, and made of four by four inch scantling. The arms of the stacker marked 4, are 16 feet long, and made of four by five inch stuff. The cross piece, No. 5, is 12 feet long, and made of three by five inch stuff. No. 6 is of two by five stuff, and is beveled on the front edge to allow the hay to slide over it easily when being shoved on by the sweep. Timbers numbered 7, 8, 9 and 10 are made of two by six inch stuff, and are ten feet long, except No. 7 and No. 8, which should be only as long as the stacker frame is wide. Each end of Nos. 9 and 10 should project a foot on each end over No. 2.

Nos. 11 and 12 are made of two by four inch stuff, about ten feet long; those bolted to No. 12 about 15 inches from the higher end of No. 12.

No. 13 is made of two by four inch stuff, about eight feet long; the higher end should be about eight feet above the ground, so that when the stacker is on the ground the weight box, No. 14, should be about two inches from the two pulleys on the upper end of No. 13; also when the stacker is upright, as it is when the hay is thrown on the stack, the weight box should be about two inches below the two pulleys on the upper end of No.

13; and when the stacker is half-way down the weight box, No. 14, should be just clear of the ground.

No. 11 is the weight box, and should be made of two-inch stuff, about eight to ten inches deep and about two feet square; it must be well spiked together. The idea of the weight is to start the stacker back to the ground as soon as the load is delivered from it on the stack, and when the stacker is half way to the ground, the weight acts as a brake for the other half of the way down. The box is filled with stones.

The rope which attaches the weight box to the stacker should be three-quarter inch, passing from the weight up between the two pulleys on the upper end of No. 13, and down to the center of the stacker head No. 5. The pulleys on the frame of the stacker should be attached by means of wooden blocks with a notch cut out so that the pulley can fit between the block and frame. Pulleys for this purpose are six inches in diameter and made of turned hard wood. These are fastened in place by means of a hard wood pin for an axle. The pulleys should be kept well oiled to keep them from clogging.

The rope for raising the stacker should be either inch or inch and a quarter. The teeth on the stacker can be made of two by four inch pine scantling, ten feet long and beveled on the upper side to allow the hay to slide on easily. The short upright teeth on the stacker head should be about five feet long. They are bolted to the long teeth about two inches from the stacker head, No. 5, and rest against the stacker head, No. 6. The stacker arms, No. 4, should be bolted to No. 2 with a large bolt, about 12 inches from the ground.

GOOD PLAN FOR MACHINE SHED

Even the Small Farm Needs Such a Building.

The accompanying illustration shows a machine shed to contain two mowers, one binder, one seeder, one disc harrow, one corn planter, a drag, a roller, a steel harrow, a fanning mill, two corn cultivators with wheels, four one-horse cultivators, two wagons and a manure spreader. These may be nicely stored in a shed 40 feet wide and about 40 feet long, or longer if the builder can afford it. This will mean should be simple, the location dry or filled a foot or so with clay (no other floor is needed), as few posts as may be and a roof wide and low enough to shut out sun. Storage under the roof for small tools may be had and even a workshop up there is easy to construct. By spacing the posts 16 feet apart two rows of machinery may be put in each space. The Breeders' Gazette suggests that it would be well more packing away, not that the tools may be driven in and unhitched from each evening. If that is desired a narrow building, say 24 feet wide and 60 or 70 feet long, will be needed. In some ways the long building is best. It may have sliding doors along its whole length on the back side and on the south side may be left open; the ends may be closed. The construction to make two spaces of 18 feet so that wagons could with ease be driven in side by side. This would make necessary strong plates and good braces. Galvanized steel should be used for the roof.

Feed Pigs Right.—Too much corn in the pig feed means weak bone and frequently, broken bones.

GROUND THAT NEEDS TILING

An Illinois farmer writes that "on high ground the oats are good, but on low ground the seed rotted." The only difference is in the drainage of the ground. The oats are doing well on the high ground because that ground is better drained than the other. If the low ground be given the same condition as to drainage there will be no rotting of the seed sown on it. This problem of drainage enters into the raising of nearly every farm crop. Many a farmer thinks he cannot afford to drain his land, says the Farmers' Review, while every year he is paying out his money in lost crops, and this money would in a few years do much to pay for the drainage materials, to say nothing about the general increase of crops grown on the land. Moreover, the losses occur often in good growing years like the present, when the crop on that same land would be naturally very good.

Exercise Costs Nothing.—Exercise for the sows and pigs costs nothing, and should be freely given. On the other hand, it is a producer of good results. The neglect of giving proper exercise often results in the birth of weak pigs, which are unable either to contend successfully against the vicissitudes of life or to make the best use of their food if they do pull through the weaning period.

DARK HORSE WINNER

SOUTH AFRICAN FIRST IN 100-METER RACE AT LONDON.

AMERICANS DO VERY WELL

Capture 400-Meter Hurdling, Running Broad Jump and Featherweight Wrestling Finals—New Records Made.

London.—Comparative gloom pervades the American camp. The athletes from over the seas had strongly cherished hopes of repeating Tuesday's grand record, making clean sweep in the track events, but a dark horse in the person of the South African youth, H. K. Walker, upset the calculations.

Walker broke the tape in what is considered the most important event in the Olympic games, the 100-meter dash, a short two feet in front of J. A. Rector, the University of Virginia crack, thereby putting an end to the astonishing succession of American triumphs which had begun to sadden the Britons.

Shoulder to shoulder, Walker, Rector and the Canadian star, Kerr, ran down the straight, with Cartmell, the Pennsylvania sprinter, close behind. At the half-way mark Walker forged slightly ahead, but at the tape less than a yard separated the first three men, with the Canadian only inches behind the Virginian, in third place.

The American team did remarkably well at the stadium Wednesday but success had elated them to the point where they were satisfied with nothing less than everything in sight. A world's record, by C. J. Bacon of the Irish-American A. C. in the 400-meter hurdling, which he won in 55 seconds; an Olympic record of 21 feet 6 1/2 inches by F. C. Irons of the Chicago A. A. in the running broad jump; and the victory of G. S. Dole of Yale in the featherweight wrestling, out of seven finals, should be a satisfactory day's performance.

The African colonial flag was raised to the masthead to signify Walker's great spirit and Finland, whose representative, Saarela, conquered all comers in the Greco-Roman wrestling bout, having no flag brought forth the standard bearing the word "Finland," which the Finns carried in the opening parade, and it was elevated on the flag pole.

PRINCE LANDS AT QUEBEC.

Warships Salute Wales and Governor General Welcomes Him.

Quebec, Que.—The prince of Wales landed from the British battleship in donatable Wednesday amid the deafening roar of guns from the international fleet of British, French and American warships, and the tumultuous demonstrations of 50,000 persons massed upon the wharves and the terraced heights of the city.

It was a spectacle of truly royal splendor, for the latest type of British Dreadnought, with the royal standard flying came to anchor among the double columns of foreign warships and the prince was welcomed ashore by Earl Grey, governor general of Canada, Premier Laurier and the assembled dignitaries, flanked by thousands of soldiers and a multitude of people.

DESPERADOES WOUND ELEVEN.

"Shoot Up" Jamaica Plain in Effort to Escape Police.

Boston.—Eleven persons were shot Wednesday, one of whom died later, by two desperadoes who, on being pursued by policemen and a crowd of citizens, fled for two miles through a thickly settled district of Jamaica Plain, firing madly right and left, and disappeared in the woods near Franklin Park. The men are believed to have been two of the gang of three who robbed a saloon in Jamaica Plain Tuesday night after killing one man and wounding two others.

ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY.

Young Woman Found Slain in a Suburb of New York.

New York.—Another murder mystery has been added to the long list of unsolved cases that are now baffling the police of New York and vicinity. Early Wednesday the body of a pretty young woman was found in a tool shed in Irving park, Williamsburg. She was shot through the breast and had been killed almost instantly. Although a policeman heard the shot and ran to the scene, he was too late to catch sight of the murderer.

Battleships Resume Their Journey. Honolulu.—The Atlantic battleship fleet bade adieu Wednesday to the hospitable shores of Hawaii and at 2:30 p. m. the flagship Connecticut left her wharf and steamed outside the harbor entrance where the fleet assembled preparatory to weighing anchor at six o'clock and sailing away to Auckland, N. Z.

AN HONEST DOCTOR ADVISED PE-RU-NA.

M. R. SYLVESTER E. SMITH, Room 218, Granite Block, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Peruna is the best friend a sick man can have."

"A few months ago I came here in a wretched condition. Exposure and dampness had ruined my once robust health. I had esternal affections of the bronchial tubes, and for a time there was a doubt as to my recovery."

"My good honest old doctor advised me to take Peruna, which I did and in a short time my health began to improve very rapidly, the bronchial trouble gradually disappeared, and in three months my health was fully restored."

"Accept a grateful man's thanks for his restoration to perfect health."

Pe-ru-na for His Patients. A. W. Perrin, M. D. S., 380 Halsey St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says:

"I am using your Peruna myself, and am recommending it to my patients in all cases of catarrh, and find it to be more than you represent. Peruna can be had now of all druggists in this section. At the time I began using it, it was unknown."

ONE ON THE DOCTOR.

St. Peter's Query Decided Reflection on Medical Attendant.

Dr. Arthur T. Holbrook told a story on his profession.

"A man by the name of Evans died," he said, "and went to heaven, of course. When he arrived at the pearly gates he said to St. Peter:

"Well, I'm here."

"St. Peter looked at him and asked his name. 'John Evans,' was the reply. 'St. Peter looked through his book, and shook his head.

"You don't belong here," he said, pointing to the exit.

"But I am sure I belong here," said the man.

"Wait a minute," said St. Peter. "He looked again and in the back of the book found his name.

"Sure," said the guardian of the gate, "you belong here. But you wasn't expected for 20 years. Who's your doctor?"—Milwaukee Free Press.

"Good morning," said the lady. "It's a beautiful day, isn't it?"

"Beautiful," he agreed.

Wholesale Prices Are Highest in Years

It will be of interest to those who were busy last year in keeping their eyes on the price of goods that the average on wholesale prices of 258 representative staple articles reached the apex of their upward last October. Three months ago, 1907, the 18 years

The annual report on this subject of the commerce and labor department shows that the average for the year 1907 was 5.8 per cent. higher than for 1906; 44.4 per cent. higher than for 1905; the year of lowest prices during the 18-year period, and 29.5 per cent. higher than the average for the ten years from 1890 to 1899. Prices reached their highest point during the 18-year period in October, 1907, the average for that month being 12 per cent. higher than the average for the year 1907.

When the commodities are divided into nine groups every group shows an increase in price in 1907 as compared with 1906. For farm products taken as a whole this increase was greatest, namely, 10.9 per cent.; for food, 4.5 per cent.; for clothes and clothing, 5.6 per cent.; for fuel and lighting, 2.4 per cent.; for metals and implements, 6.1 per cent.; for lumber and building materials, 4.2 per cent.; for drugs and chemicals, 8.3 per cent.; for house furnishings goods, 6.8 per cent., and for the miscellaneous group, five per cent.

The effect of the money stringency of the latter part of the last year is reflected in the decrease recorded in all commodities during November and December. The average price showing a decrease of 3.5 per cent. below October. Of the 258 articles for which wholesale prices were recorded 172 showed an increase in the average prices for 1907 as compared with 1906; 35 showed no change and 51 showed a decrease.

Wiley's Poison Squad End Their Test

Dr. HARVEY W. WILEY'S hygienic experimental students, irreverently referred to at times as the "poison squad," have ended the season's fasting at the bureau of chemistry, and their condition is being carefully noted to ascertain what effect the diet has had upon each.

Seven young men compose the class, and they have been giving their services to demonstrate what effect wallpaper and a variety of miscellaneous food products chemically or artificially treated have upon the human system.

The students have resumed the regulation boarding house meals without fear of interfering with the scientific investigations of the government.

Besides taking up such matters as summer beverages, widely advertised as possessing medical properties, but thought by scientific men to be objectionable because containing caffeine or other injurious substances, there is a wide field for the students to experiment.

One of the most interesting possibilities is the determination of whether or not feugreek, the famous old world herb remedy, which is part of most medicines advertised to increase flesh, is really what it is said to be, and will accomplish the purposes for which it is advertised. A class in feugreek is said to be one of the possibilities of the early future.

Condition foods for animals also offer a field of endeavor that Dr. Wiley may yet explore to determine if the claims made for the various brands of food are really true.

The experiments conducted by Dr. Wiley are the first large experiments of the sort conducted in the scientific world. The classes, which were started in the fall of 1902, have already gone through a variety of experiments. Borax and borie acid were the first to receive attention, sulphuric acid, benzene, formaldehyde and copper salts have also been fully tested as to their effects on the human system when taken with food.

Makes New Record for Cabinet Changes

THE retirement of Secretary of War Taft leaves but two men in Roosevelt's cabinet who were there when he succeeded to the presidency on the death of President McKinley. These are Secretary of State Root and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson.

Mr. Root was secretary of war when Mr. Roosevelt became president in September, 1901. He shortly afterward retired from the cabinet, but was persuaded to re-enter it upon the death of Secretary of State Hay.

There have been more changes and shifts in President Roosevelt's cabinet than in that of any of his predecessors. He has had two secretaries of state, Hay and Root. He has had three secretaries of the treasury, Gage, Shaw and Cortelyou.

With Luke E. Wright he has had three secretaries of war, Root, Taft and Wright. He has had three attorneys general, Knox, Moody and Bonaparte; five postmasters general, Smith, Payne, Wynne, Cortelyou and Meyer; five secretaries of the navy, Long, Moody, Morton, Bonaparte and McCall.

He has had two secretaries of the interior, Hitchcock and Garfield. He has had one secretary of agriculture, Wilson, and three secretaries of commerce and labor, Cortelyou, McCall and Straus.

The retirement of Secretary Taft has led to some speculation as to how long Mr. Wilson will continue at the head of the department of agriculture. The chances are that he will continue to serve through the term of Mr. Roosevelt, and should Secretary Taft succeed to the presidency, it is possible that Secretary Wilson would continue in the cabinet. It will be 12 years next March since Wilson became secretary of agriculture. He is 75 years old, but a man of great activity. However, it has been a matter of some surprise that he has continued in office so long, as it has been the Roosevelt tendency to get younger men into his cabinet.

THE CULVER CITIZEN

Entered as the postmaster at Culver, Ind., second-class mail matter.

CULVER, IND., JULY 30, 1908.

Plymouth Shows White Feather.

After our baseball team has shown the marked courtesy of going to Plymouth to play a game of ball partially on our own expense, and incidentally giving them a decent trimming, and then in return for this giving them a return game on the 4th of July, entertaining them royally all day at the best hotel the town or county affords, and incidentally trimming them again to the tune of 10 to 1, and that with a team that was weakened down in order that they might have a chance to win the game and 60 percent of the gate receipts, in return for all this, on request for a return game we are utterly ignored. But of course a yellow dog can't help his color, so of course we will let it go at that as we have all to lose and nothing to gain by again meeting our neighbors on the banks of "Yellow" river.

Love-Smitten.

Laporte, Ind., July 22—Herman Murphy, a Culver cadet, whose home is Indianapolis, at first giving his age as 19 and later as 21, accompanied by Miss Ruby Anderson of Peru, aged 18, eloped to this place Tuesday and was married to Miss Anderson, leaving that afternoon to obtain forgiveness at the bride's home. The groom wore his Culver uniform. The marriage is in violation of the rules of the institution, but the groom said he could not wait any longer.

Death of John W. Leland.

John W. Leland, father of Mrs. L. C. Wiseman of Culver, died at Argos on Monday morning after a long and painful illness. Previous to removing to Argos two years ago he had resided east of Rutland for more than twenty years and near Wolf Creek for fifty years, giving him a residence of over seventy years in Marshall county. He leaves a wife, two daughters and four sons. His age was 74 years. The interment was Wednesday in the Argos cemetery.

Slow Up!

The town board has erected signs on the roads entering Culver warning motor cars to observe the legal speed limit of 8 miles an hour in the business and thickly settled portions of town. Many drivers are absolutely indifferent to the restrictions of the state law and hit it up from the head of Main street to Bunker hill at the rate of 20 to 30 miles an hour. What's the use of a man on a vacation being in such a devil of a hurry, anyway?

The body was brought to Culver yesterday for burial, accompanied by Mrs. Snyder who is a sister of Mrs. L. C. Dillon.

POSTAGE STAMPS.

Waxes and Caracandans That Enrich Uncle Sam.

"If we would other things the way we do stamps," said a collector the other day. "Two Americans are put about the most wonderful people on the face of the earth."

"Uncle Sam is much more than half a million dollars in postage every year as a result of stampomania in the use of stamps. The government never loses anything for such mania and it always profits."

"How many stamps do you put on a letter?" asked a collector of a collector of your pocketbook and never thinking again until you come across them again and then, while you are looking at them, they are gone from your pocketbook."

"Lots of people are expressing about postage stamps, and especially about the United States. The point is that often the stamp has been cancelled it has faded off and the letter is left at the other end of the line with postage is paid."

"A great many more folks put on too much postage. They slap on two or three stamps to a package that requires only one. They are too busy or too impatient to take the trouble to have the package weighed and find out how much postage the package requires."

"If too little postage is put on a letter, Uncle Sam simply holds it up at the other end and until the postage due has been paid. But if too much is put on Uncle Sam simply pockets the excess to which he is not entitled and says nothing." —Chicago Tribune.

WATCH THE CELLAR.

If Not Clean It Is a Breeding Place For Sickening.

Underground cellars ought to be done away with. They are a source of a dirty and more sickness originates in them, physicians claim, than anywhere else about the place. They cannot be kept in sanitary condition while vegetables are constantly decaying there. The place for a cellar is above ground and outside the dwelling. Leave the basement for the furnace, the coal bin and a general storehouse. An above-ground cellar is more convenient in every way. Your vegetables can be stored with less than half the labor when you do not have to go up and down stairs with them. You can keep an above-ground cellar clean with but little trouble, while the underground one, being difficult to get at, will be neglected and thus one of the most fertile places to become a source of infection to the family above it.

Ventilation and temperature are much more controllable in such a building than in an old-fashioned underground cellar which retains the hot air, will be too up or down enough in climbing stairs. Leave it convenient to the kitchen, with which it can be connected in winter by an indoor passageway. Watch the cellar. Remember, the doctor who immediately asked, when called to treat a case of typhoid fever, if there was decaying cabbage in the cellar. There does. Keep the cellar sweet and clean and see that it is frequently aired. —Salem Life.

A Mountain of Alum.

In China, twelve and a half miles from the village of Hanchuk, there is a mountain of alum which in addition to being a natural curiosity is a source of wealth for the inhabitants of the country, who dig from it nearly tons of alum. The mountain is not less than ten miles in circumference at its base and has a height of 1,500 feet. The alum is obtained by quarrying large blocks of stone, which are first heated in great furnaces and then in vats filled with boiling water. The alum crystallizes out and forms a layer about six inches in thickness. This layer is subsequently broken up into blocks weighing about ten pounds each.

Travel as Teacher.

"Travel forces the young" Jean French proverbs. So it does, and it also helps a teacher to become formative. Travel is good for teachers professionally, because travel is a teacher's trade. But travel is good for everybody who is hale and strong. "There's a lot of folk what never leaves their feet off their doorstep, little brother," a guy said to me forty years ago. Eggs and the Weather.

Eggs of an abnormal size are being laid in Devonshire, England, and an agricultural expert has given it as his opinion that this is due to changes in the weather. At Weston a duck has laid an egg weighing half a pound; at Ottery St. Mary a duck's egg weighed to contain three yolks; and at South Looe the largest goose's egg ever raised—3 in the shell has been laid.

Determination Conquers.

To a man with a will and a purpose there is nothing impossible. Such a man can do anything he sets his mind to, and he will not be deterred by the odds he has to overcome. He will not let the odds turn him in a backward direction, but always pushes them onward and forward until he has won and revealing to civilization that he has rolled them to the top of the hill.

Dr. Not Wary.

Do not worry, old man, you are not a doctor, and your patients are not coming to you. Keep your attention fixed on your own life, and do not worry. Doctor, there are other things that you should be doing to make your life happy, but my friend, those I cannot tell you. You are a good man. —Abraham Lincoln.

Lax Business Arrangement.

Vladimir is only about 5,000 miles from New York, but it requires from 70 to 80 days to get a reply to a business letter, and to get an order filled and delivered generally takes from five to six months, while it should be accomplished in one-half the time, as is the case from Europe.

Commendable.

We are opposed to selfishness on general principles, but this young man who put into a business case and filled himself rather than his own heart, furnishes an example which we commend to all lovers with benevolent tendencies.
