Chief Geronimo Revisits Culver High School

As the patron spirit of Culver High School, Chief Geronimo decides to satisfy a gnawing curiosity by finding out for himself how his successors to the happy hunting ground around Lake Maxinkuckee are getting along in the school year of 1952-53. So the indomitable old warrior digs out his ancient Culver pennant, rehearses "C-C-Cul, v-v-ver," limbers up his somewhat rusty vocal chords with a couple of rounds of "Here's to old Culver," and makes his way back to the reservation. On the pages that follow you will accompany Geronimo on his visit to C.H.S. as a "student for a day," and meet the groups and individuals as he encounters them on his busy tour. The staff hopes this volume will serve also as a history of the school year and a reminder of many happy hours in the old wigwam.

The editor-in-chief of The Tomahawk, Marlene Stubbs, brings the visitor up-to-date on past history by leafing through last year's annual and briefing him on plans for this year's edition. After grunting his approval, the old warrior is now ready to start his one-day tour.

Geronimo Arrives At Culver High

Chief Geronimo is greeted at the entrance to the high school building by James (Piney to most of us) Kowatch, president of the Student Council. In case you don't recognize him, that is Bill Baken in the chief's outfit. While the old warrior arrived on foot, he found that about 350 students travel by bus each school day.

These nine modern school buses travel a total of about 384 miles each school day to bring a little over half of the student body to school from the surrounding community. Pictured below are, left to right: Dewey Overmyer, Gerald Young substituting for Herman Young, Ira Ringer, Donovan Overmyer, Eugene Benedict, Norman Ringer, William Millbrath, David Wallen. Howard Mikesell was not present when the picture was taken.

UNION TOWNSHIP COMMUNITY BUILDING, generally known as the gym, has been the scene of many an exciting basketball game, interesting class play, enjoyable sock dance; perspiring gym class, noisy pep session, and tear-shedding commencement exercise.

The Chief Views The Reservation

CULVER HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING. Home of generations of Culver Indians.

Although Geronimo is to attend school for only one day, he has to take care of that little matter of paying his tuition bill. But to his consternation he finds that beads are unacceptable to Trustee Maurice A. Curtis, who insists on legal tender or coin of the realm, inflated or otherwise.

Chief Meets The Administration

Principal Floyd M. Annis explains the schedule of classes to the chief, who is puzzled at not finding any classes in buffalo hunting or the latest technique in scalping. Explanations about major and minors, electives, curriculum and course of study were just as confusing to the chief as they are to most students.

And of course the newcomer has to visit Assistant Principal Raymond J. Ives, Jr., and get an admit card as well as an explanation of the kinds of excuses, the relation between detentions and tardiness, and what price truancy. Needless to say, the old Indian doesn't get a chance to utter a word.

Although Geronimo is to attend school for only one day, he has to take care of that little matter of paying his tuition bill. But to his consternation he finds that beads are unacceptable to Trustee Maurice A. Curtis, who insists on legal tender or coin of the realm, inflated or otherwise.

Chief Meets The Administration

Principal Floys M. Annis explains the schedule of classes to the chief, who is puzzled at not finding any classes in buffalo hunting or the latest technique in scalping. Explanations about major and minors, electives, curriculum and course of study were just as confusing to the chief as they are to most students.

And of course the newcomer has to visit Assistant Principal Raymond J. Ives, Jr., and get an admit card as well as an explanation of the kinds of excuses, the relation between detentions and tardiness, and what price truancy. Needless to say, the old Indian doesn't get a chance to utter a word.

Next comes a visit to the bookstore where more money is extracted from the chief before Mrs. Lucille (Lucy) Cox, office clerk, loads him down with textbooks and a warning to have the handful of cards filled out by the teachers. Now Geronimo is ready to start the daily round of home room, classes, extra-curricular activities, and maybe a session in detentions.

And Gets His Books And Views Students

The sudden scurrying of students on the stairway bewilders the chief as does the confusion of the traffic jam in the corridor. While he finds the wild chatter beyond his comprehension, he is thrilled by the winsome two-somes exchanging confidences at their favorite meeting spots. But he soon finds that the mad scramble is all over in a few minutes, that no one has been maimed, and that through some kind providence everyone has reached his proper destination. The stairway and corridor sag back into quietness as all await the class bell.

Then Geronimo Visits The Classes

MR. FRED K. STETTBACH-ER. English, speech, High school: Altamont, III. Colleges: North Central, Michigan.

Allyn Dowd reads his composition in English 12 and his writings must be good, judging by the attentive audience, that is all but Bob Boswell who appears to have dozed off.

First Comes English

A class in English 10 is taking a test in grammar, hence the tense expressions and worried looks. At least they didn't have any diagramming and book reports to struggle with.

MISS MARY E. NASH. English. High school: Tyner. Colleges: Indiana, Wisconcin, Michigan, Colorado.

MISS VIOLET OVERMYER. English, physical education. High school: Culver. Colleges: Indiana, Northwestern, Indiana State, Purdue.

An oral summary of a story he has read is given to an Eighth Grade English class by Donald Fahlgren while the group listens with varied degrees of attention.

And More English Classes

Diagramming confuses some members of this Seventh Grade English class, but Dale Houghton must have the right answer, judging from his pleased expression.

MISS DOROTHY REED, English, library, High school: Battle Creek, Mich, Colleges: Alma, Purdue,

MISS ELIZABETH FLETCH-ALL. Latin, mathematics, High school: Poseyville, Ind. College: Indiana:

LATIN 9 is being shown the practical use of Latin through English definitions and judging by the number of upraised hands the students are beginning to catch the idea.

Then Comes Math And Latin

The class in Advanced Algebra appears to be a bit bewildered, though hardly bewitched, by a problem posed by Mr. Annis Can you work out the answer? No, neither could we.

MR. FLOYD M. ANNIS. Principal, mathematics, High school: Lakeville. Colleges: Purdue, Indiana.

And Junior High Mathematics

MR. LAMOILE FORD. Mathematics. High school: Jackson Township (Jay County. Ind.). College: Ball State.

Juggling figures keeps this class in High School Mathematics busy and requires an occasional appeal for aid from Mr. Ford in order to come up with the correct answer.

And Then To The Ag Classes

The Biology class is watching Mark Radovich examine his fourteen-day culture. Each student had chosen his own particular method of contamination for the experiment.

MR. JOSEPH W. FURNAS. Biology, agriculture. High school: Westfield. College: Purdue.

Chief Views Industrial Arts

MR. HAROLD SERING. Shop, athletics. High school: Flora. College: Ball State.

Mr. Sering helps the Mechanical Drawing class over a rough spot as it struggles with T-squares, compasses, circles, arcs, and even straight lines, They are quite a serious group, aren't they?

Is Enraptured By Home Economics

Critics score the serving of a regular dinner in Home Economics I. It was real food that looked and smelled good. The nervous cooks aren't shown in the picture.

MRS. EDITH B. STRAIT. Home economics. H i g h school: Pontiac, Mich. Colleges: Albion, Michigan State Normal.

Science Department Bewilders Geronimo

MR. RAYMOND J. IVES, JR. Assistant principal, science. High school: Francesville. Colleges: Manchetter, Ball State, Indiana, Valparaiso.

What makes the wheels go around holds the Physics Class in rapt attention. The gentler sex is not only in a distant minority, but is also shut off from it all.

Chief Drops In On Commerce Classes

Commercial classes are all crowded and this class in Beginning Typing is no exception. In fact, one of the problems is to keep elbows out of the ribs of your neighbors.

MISS RUTH SHANKS. Commerce, High school: Orleans. Colleges: Indiana, Miami, Salem.

Art Appeals To Our Visitor

MRS. MARY C. ALLEN, Art. H i g h school: Springfield High, Akron, Ohio, College: Akron.

A wide variety of projects are going on at one time in the crowded ART room, but clay modeling seems to be one of the most popular with some artistic results.

And So Does The Music Department

Ensemble instruction keeps the Music department busy when it isn't band and vocal rehearsals. Culver has an unusual program for individual instrumental instruction.

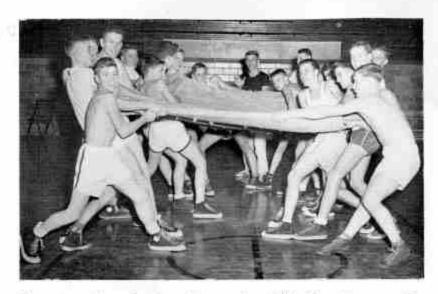

MR. RICHARD W.
BOWLES. Music. High school: Decatur Commercial
High, Oberlin, Kans. Colleges: Phillips, Indiana, Wis-

MR. JAMES R. COX. Social studies, physical education. High school: Fairview, Ind. Colleges: Central Normal, Earlham, Ball State.

A mat tug-of-war develops the muscles of this Boys Physical Enucation class under the supervision of Mr. Cox. Jim Miller appears to be riding the mat instead of pulling.

Physical Ed Classes Attract Chief

Volleyball is one of the popular sports among the girls, giving them a chance for a lot of action as well as an opportunity to do a lot of screaming.

At a signal from Miss Overmyer, there is a great burst of activity in the Girls Physical Education class as the group participates in a variation of the ancient game of tag.

MRS. EDNA OBENAUF. Secial atudies. High school: Shelbyville, Colleges: De-Pauw, Indiana.

San Francisco is located by Bobby Taylor as his seventh grade class in Geography continues its study of the states that make up the Pacific coast area.

And Hears Social Studies Groups

Gloria Kurtz discusses the Indian country in a class in United States History and her attentive listeners follow her tracing of a tribe's migration to a new reservation.

maRolinson

MR. M. R. ROBINSON. Social studies. High school: Tulsa, Okia, Colleges: Baker, Columbia, Indiana, Manchester.

Geronimo Meets Serious Seniors

Robert Boswell, president; Richard Steele, vice president; Phebe Aley, secretary; Virginia Hook, treasurer.

In the fall of 1949, a group of students, who were later to be the graduating class of 1953, enrolled as green freshmen at Culver High. Their class officers were: president, James Kowatch; vice president, Robert Boswell; secretary, Nancy Graham; treasurer, Charlotte Gignilliat; student council, Nancy Graham and James Kowatch. We were glad to add to our class roll Ann Johnson, Everett Miller, Maxine Tasch, David Lee Smith, Meril Overmyer, Charlotte Wallen, Harriet Storey and Dickie Grunawalt. Barbara Doll was elected "Carnival Queen" by the students of C.H.S. We enjoyed a skating party at Argos as our only entertainment of the year. Illness struck our class with Maxine Tasch getting polio, Meril Overmyer breaking his hip, and Harriet Storey and Marlene Stubbs confined with rheumatic fever. Larry McDonald and Hazel Thompson withdrew from school.

In our sophomore year our class officers were: president, James Snyder; vice president, Robert Boswell; secretary, Marian Warner; treasurer, Joan Amond; monitor committee, Maxine Tasch; student council, Robert Boswell and Joan Amond. Our only money making project was a bake sale. Students withdrawing from school were Clarabelle Lolmaugh, Ann Johnson transferred to California, Dolores Busart to Indianapolis, Beverly Clark to Detroit, and Charlotte Gignilliat to Chicago. New members of the class were Lois Wagenknecht from Chicago, Pat Stovall from Arkansas, Robert Grossman from Argos, and Allyn Dowd from VanBuren, Ind.

The following year we were juniors and class officers were: president, Robert Boswell; vice president, Maxine Tasch; secretary, Nancy Graham; treasurer, Virginia Hook; student council, Nancy Graham and Jack Snyder; monitor committee, Richard Steele. The highlight of the year, as it is with every junior year, was the Junior-Senior Prom, which had the theme, "Sidewalks of New York." For money-making projects we sponsored a square dance, a bake sale, dances after the home basketball games, and presented a play, "It's a Great Life." The class welcomed Alice Wynn from Argos, Betty Barnett from Hopkinsville, Ky., David Allen Smith from Milford, Dolores Busart from Indianapolis, and Maxine Owens from Rochester. Maxine later withdrew. as did James Carpenter and Eddie Lewis. Injuries included a laboratory accident for James Snyder that kept him out of the county tournament, and Jack Snyder broke a leg.

The next year, the year every student in C.H.S. long awaits, was finally here-we are seniors! The class officers were: president, Robert Boswell; vice president, Richard Steele; secretary, Phebe Aley; treasurer, Virginia Hook; student council, Alice Wynn and James Kowatch. Beverly Clark joined us from Detroit and Sally Graham from Urbana, Ill. Lois Wagenknecht withdrew from school to marry Kenneth Martin, a 1952 graduate, and Everett Miller transferred to Knox. The class sponsored a magazine drive, two bake sales, and popcorn sales at ball games to raise money for the class trip. We also sponsored a Halloween sock dance in the gym at the noon hour. Four of our classmates were involved in accidents-David Allen Smith received a broken arm and thigh and Helen McCoige a broken collarbone in automobile accidents, while Richard Steele and James Kowatch suffered injured knees in basketball games.

We, the Class of 1953, wish to thank anybody and everybody at Culver High School for aiding us in reaching our highest goal — a C.H.S. diploma.

The Chief Greets Jovial Juniors

> The first of the school year the juniors were among the fortunate students who went to Plymouth to hear the Republican presidential candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower, speak from the rear of his special train. Next, the juniors organized themselves in October and held a successful square dance at the Delong Conservation Clubhouse.

> In November the big excitement was the arrival of the long awaited class rings. Also in November came the basketball games, which meant dances after the home games sponsored by the eleventh graders. There was usually a fine turn-out, especially around Christmas when some of the class members became enthused and hung mistletoe around the Lions' Den as a special inducement.

During January the juniors had a bake sale that was profitable in spite of the bad weather. The juniors are thinking about giving a play, and of course they will give the traditional prom in the spring.

Geronimo Inspires Our Indians

Old Man Injury played as the sixth man against Culver most of the season to ruin the dream of another sensational season, but even so the Indians, under the leadership of Coach Harold "Red" Sering, compiled a highly successful record of twenty victories and only five losses.

During the season the Indians netted a total number of 1,469 points, a remarkably potent scoring punch for a team that rarely had all of its squad off the hospital list at the same time. High scorer was James Snyder with 340 points, while James Kowatch was second with 301, but it should be remembered that "Piney" was kept out of twelve contests due to an injured knee.

Speaking of injuries, other players who were bothered by injuries much of the time were Richard Steele, who damaged a knee in the season's opener; and William Baker and Paul Overmyer who received ankle sprains. Other player injuries were not so severe, although they reduced the over-all efficiency of the team.

Getting back to individual scoring records for the season, Robert Boswell ranked third with 279 points, and was followed in this order by the balance of the squad: William Baker, 171; John Middleton, 136; Allyn Dowd, 98; Richard Steele, 81; Robert Kurtz, 33; David Burns, 12; Robert Ross, 10: Paul Overmyer, 8; while Larry Geiselman failed to score. Ross, Overmyer and Geiselman played with the B-team part of the season, so didn't get into very many of the varsity contests.

Besides compiling an impressive won and lost record, the Indians annexed the county tournament, which seems to have become sort of a Culver habit. This title may stay with the Indians for some time as the county tournament will not be staged next year, but will be replaced by several invitational four-way meets.

The Indians also gave a good account of themselves in the sectional fracas by upsetting the favored Plymouth Pilgrims and being one of the participating teams in the final game.

A summary of each game of the season follows:

Culver 72, Lapas 31

The Culver Indians started off their 1952-53 basketball season with a smashing success against LaPaz. The packed home gym soon realized that the local quintet had all the ear-marks of a classy outfit as it played as a unit and displayed uncanny form for the first of the season. Kowatch was the high scorer of the evening with a total of sixteen points, while Jim Snyder was right on his heels with fourteen. However, the victory was a costly one as Coach Sering lost Dick Steele until the closing moments of the season, due to a banged-up knee.

Culver 69, Walkerton 43

Although Walkerton came to Culver with an impressive record, the visitors were no match for the hustling Indians who easily chalked up their second win of the infant season. Piney poured in twenty-two counters and Snyder accounted for seventeen. . While Walkerton couldn't keep up with the Sering-lads in the scoring column, the fans found the affair interesting as they watched the smooth floor game of the Indians and their accurate shooting.

Culver 52, Akron 43

In the third game of the season Culver took to the road for the first time, heading for Akron. A goodsized crowd of fans greeted the team with "Indians beat that foe," and that is just what they did. Ko-watch, who was beginning to wear the label of "Culver's red-headed scoring chalked up nineteen digits during the evening and again Jim Snyder was backing him up with eleven.

In their fourth encounter the Indians ran up. against the hard-hitting quintet from Michigan City, which had not tasted defeat up to that time, and the local athletes took the floor as the under-dogs. But the prophets hadn't reckoned with Captain Kowatch and his courageous crew. All Piney did was to tie the gymnasium's scoring record of thirty-seven points held by Edward Davis, and inspire his mates to give the awed fans a display of basketball that has seldom been viewed in these parts. It was so dazzling that the city visitors couldn't believe their eyes, and several of them returned the next night to see if the country boys play like that all the time. Bob Boswell was second high in Culver's scoring column with seventeen points to help Culver maintain its unsullied record and make the hardwood fans of the state sit up and take notice.

JAMES SNYDER

Culver 64, John Adams 62

The next night the gym was packed to the roof to see the Indians tangle with another undefeated outfit, John Adams of South Bend, and they were rewarded with an evening jammed with thrills, surprises, spills, baskets, chills, and fouls. The Indians were plainly tired from the battle of the night before, but they didn't ask any favors of their opponents and they didn't give any. It was just that kind of a ball game as the fortunes of war swayed back and forth. Then came those closing minutes! John Adams staged a rally that closed the count to a mere two points with seconds left to play. Down the floor they came! There went the shot! It hit the rim, paused and then fell away from the hoop. A Culver player recovered the rebound, the gun sounded and the terrific struggle was over, leaving both players and fans weak and exhausted. Piney sank twenty-three units, while Snyder had sixteen important points.

58 James Towated

50

Culver 71, Mishawaka 69

With the fans now really convinced that the Indians were going to have a great season, Coach Sering pitted his hopefuls against the Mishawaka Maroons, a big, hard-hitting quintet that is always a tough nut for Culver to crack. Both teams concentrated on offense and hit a high percentage of their tries during the battle that ran the count up to another high total. It was another heart-rending evening for the spectators as the regulation time ran out with the score tied, necessitating a tingling overtime. Though the Maroons threatened up to the final gun, the Indians managed to come through with a game-winning two points.

Culver 77, Knox 70

Another thriller was the battle of the Indians: Culver versus Knox, the latter enjoying the prestige of being last year's sectional champ. But the Maxinkuckee Indians refused to be awed with the result that the local victory string was extended to seven straight.

Culver 47. Washington 46

But the era of thrills and suspense wasn't over for the Washington five of South Bend pushed the Indians to the limit to win on the foreign floor, most of the action being packed into the final quarter when Kowatch was excused with five personals. But the determined Indians managed to keep the slate reading seven victories, no defeats.

County Tournament

A surprising Argos outfit gave Culver a big scare in the first contest, but the Indians stayed in the meet with a 62 to 59 victory. Bourbon was the next foe and furnished easier going as the Culverites won 67 to 33 to pit Culver against Plymouth in the title match. This was a typical Culver-Plymouth battle and it took the final whistle to settle the issue, Culver winning 48 to 46, giving the Indians the coveted trophy and the right to cut down the nets.

Culver 56, Bremen 45

County competition engaged the Indians in their initial post-tourney contest with Bremen furnishing the opposition. Sparkling teamwork marked the game as the scoring was well distributed among the players.

Culver 60, Bourbon 41

The Comets couldn't make the game very interesting so Kowatch and Snyder staged a scoring duel, the latter coming out on top, nineteen to seventeen. Outside of that sideshow the affair merely marked up the Indians' thirteenth win of the season.

Culver 47, Riley 67

Then the roof fell in. On a drive-in shot in the first quarter, Culver's scoring power, Kowatch, was injured and the stunned team couldn't recover in time to keep the first defeat of the season off the books.

Culver 36, Delphi 45

The crippled Indians found themselves on a foreign floor for their next encounter, a contest with the capable Delphi Oracles. But determination wasn't enough for the remodeled Culver machine, which was yet to find its scoring balance.

Culver 63, Flora 52

The next game was on the Culver reservation and the home athletes were determined to show their followers that they knew how to win, and win they did. With Snyder's seventeen points showing the way, the pupils of Coach Sering got back on the victory trail in a convinc-manner.

Culver 57, Plymouth 63

Then came the game with Plymouth on the county seat floor. The Pilgrims were all fired up to get revenge for that county tournament defeat and to capitalize on the injury to Kowatch. They weren't to be denied, although the Indians fought hard all the way. Snyder was high point man with twenty-two points, while Boswell dumped in eleven.

Culver 49, Argos 46

Those pesky Argos Dragons invaded Culver with victory uppermost in their minds and gave the home outfit a rough evening. The scoring lead veered back and forth, leaving the outcome very much in doubt up to the closing seconds when a convenient free throw made a tie an impossibility. Snyder was tops with sixteen units and Bill Baker came in next with eleven.

Culver 70, Nappance 59

Long hours of practice in revamping the Culver scoring machine paid off in the Nappanee game as Snyder and Baker sank sixteen and fourteen points each in a game that was marked by fouls and free throws.

Culver 60, Winamac 58

This could well be called the season of thrills for Top: That thrilling moment when the ball is tossed up at center. Middleton goes up in the air for Culver.

Center: Snyder takes one of his effective one-handed push shots from well out and as usual he sinks it.

Below, right: a shot that failed and Argos takes the rebound as Soyder shifts to break up the dribble. once more the loyal rooters from Culver were favored with one of those ding-dong tussles that make weak hearts grow weaker and cause strong hearts to race wildly. Dick Steele and his heavily bandaged knee returned to action and the capable center led the way to victory with nineteen points, giving cause for fans to wonder just what kind of a record this crew would have chalked up if they could have been at full strength throughout the season. Getting back to the game itself, the climax came in the final second and the score was tied and an overtime seemed inevitable. Baker was fouled just a split-second before the gun was sounded and the husky blond sank both shots to give Culver another victory.

HAROLD SERING

Culver 52, Lakeville 61

Then came the final game of the scheduled season, a contest with Lakeville on the neutral floor. But much to the surprise of all concerned, the Lakeville quintet reached its peak of the season and upset the Indians.

Sectional Tournament

The drawings for the sectional tournement were very much along the lines of the county meet, except that some powerful Starke county aggregations were scattered through the drawing. Hopes ran high in the Indian wigwam, even though Coach Sering had announced that Captain Kowatch was definitely out of action for the balance of the season. In Culver's initial appearance in the court classic it drew Argos and again the Dragons threatened all the way, but Steele chalked up sixteen points and Boswell added nine to give Culver the winning margin, 52-47. Bourbon then got the idea of making life miserable for the Indians and had a seemingly safe lead as the contest drew near a close. A series of breaks gave the Indians their chance and they seized them to tie the score at 47-all and send the affair into an overtime. These three minutes were all Culver's, 55-47, and Culver had fought its way to the semi-finals. Once again the old rivals met — Culver and Plymouth — and the saying, "third time is the charm," proved true as the Indians eliminated the bewildered Pilgrims in a convincing manner, 54-36. Then came the final game with Knox, but the Starke county Redskins were not to be denied and they won 66-50.

Papooses Inspired By Chief's Spirit

During the 1952-53 basketball season the Papocses, Culver's B-team, compiled a record of five wins and thirteen losses under the leadership of Coach James Cox. However, it should be noted that seven of the losses were by the narrow margin of three points or less.

In the initial contest of the season the Papooses faced LaPaz and came out on the short end of a 37-25 count. Osborn was the high scorer with ten points, followed by Rich and Calhoun with seven each. In spite of the loss the team looked promising with its high percentage of free throws.

Watching the Paposes rack up their first victory furnished plenty of excitement, though the Culverites owned the lead all the way through the rugged contest, and won 41 to 32. Osborn was again high point man for Culver.

The third game of the season was with Akron and it turned out to be a tough battle. The hardhitting B-team narrowed the margin at the end of the third quarter to one point, but just couldn't hold it in the final period, the Baby Fliers winning 47-38.

Osborn topped the Papoose scoring.

Coach Jim Cox must have 38 as his unlucky number as Michigan City held his team to that number while the City boys bounced in 52 points. David Osborn came out once more as the best for Culver in the scoring honors.

John Adams sliced off another win from the hapless Papooses, 37 to 20. The Eagles held the top score for all four quarters with the losers never a serious threat. In this game Jack Rich took over high scoring honors.

In a real hour of excitement the Papooses smashed the husky Mishawaka Reserves by a thrilling 47 to 44 margin. Rich poured in fourteen points to lead the way to victory.

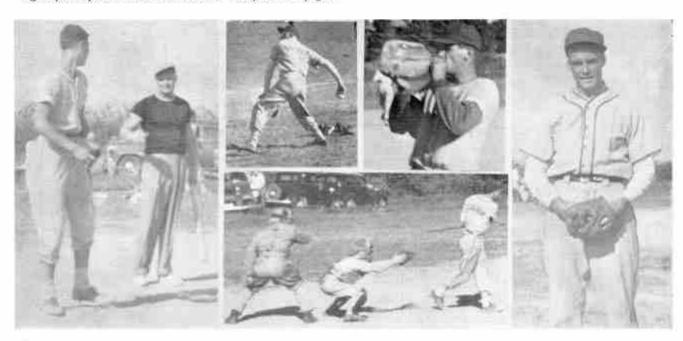

The next victory for the Papooses came when Knox visited the shores of Lake Maxinkuckee, the home lads taking the encounter, 43 to 38, after a strenuous tussle. Culver had held a wide margin (Continued on page sixty-five.)

The Baseball Season

The Indians enjoyed another outstanding season in baseball last fall, winning five games and losing two, both losses going to the Bremen Lions. The Indians' success reflected the top-flight coaching of Harold "Red" Sering.

The season got off to a good start with a victory over West High, 7 to 2, as "Piney" Kowatch made a successful debut on the mound.

The next team to face the Indian tribe was Tyner, with Piney hurling a shut-out while the Culverites crossed the plate seven times.

Red's tribe scalped the LaPaz nine in the third war of the season, the final count being 12 to 2.

Following a victory over Argos, the four-game winning streak was snapped when Bremen won by a mere one run, a run that loomed awful large when the season ended in a three-way tie.

The Indians went on the warpath against Bourbon, a game that featured Dowd smashing out a homerun and a two-base hit in the same inning. Kowatch struck out eight Blue Comets during the contest.

When the season ended in a three-way tie between Culver, Bremen and Argos, the Lions disposed of the Indians in a slaughter on the neutral Plymouth diamond. The Lions went on to win the county title by eliminating Argos.

B-Team Highlights

during the first three periods of the game, but in the final lap Knox staged a rally that cut the margin to a mere five points. Bob Ross was tops in the scoring column with twelve points.

The Papooses had quite a struggle with Washington in the next encounter of the season, but just couldn't slip by with a victory. The victors annexed a mere 30 points, but 25 represented Culver's best efforts. Paul Overmyer's eight points were high for Culver.

One of those heart-breaking one-point losses was written in the record books in the next engagement. Bremen took a neat first half lead, but the Papooses came back and hit hard to narrow the count to a single digit, but that one point was enough to give the Lion Cubs a 36-35 win. Gary Bennett led the Papooses in scoring.

The Papooses engaged their next enemy on the Bourbon floor and came off with a 39-37 defeat, although the Culver quintet owned a three-point lead at the close of the third round. A Bourbon rally overcame the Papooses and snatched away what had seemed to be a sure victory. McCarthy was high pointer for Culver.

The next contest was with Riley and what a hard hitting game this was! Although the Papooses were trailing all the way, they were very much in the ball game until the final four minutes when the Riley youngsters popped in fifteen torrid points to ice the game, 50 to 33. David McCarthy was Culver's scoring king in this game.

Delphi acted as host in the next game, but they weren't very gracious about it, leading most of the time and winning 34 to 21. Osborn came back as Culver's scoring ace.

Culver furnished little opposition for Flora as the latter won 49 to 36. Bennett sank the most points for the Papooses.

The hardest loss of the season came when the Papoeses met Plymouth in the county seat gym. The count was all tied up at 28 points each at the half, but the final gun found Culver shy by one bitter point, 44 to 43. Osborn led the Papoose scoring.

Culver and Argos tangled in a thriller that saw the teams tied up time after time all the way—except in the final minute when Argos went ahead to win by a mere 46 to 43 margin. Jack Rich was Culver's best in swishing the nets.

Culver got revenge for some of those narrowmargin defeats by handing Nappanee a bit of the same medicine, 32 to 30, as Doug Burns took over the scoring honors. Culver was behind by a single point at the half, but had the big two points at the final gun.

The Papooses gave the spectators a thrill in the Winamac encounter by overcoming a ten-point deficit at the half and a five-point arrearage at the threefourths point to win 32 to 30. With four seconds left to go Jack Rich sank the big fielder for Culver, although Mikesell was head man in scoring honors.

The season ended with Culver meeting Lakeville on the neutral Bremen floor and absorbing a 44 to 35 defeat. The Papooses were never ahead at the close of a period although they gave a good account of themselves all the way. Rich copped the scoring honors.

So ended a season that might well be remembered as a year of close calls!

Chief Geronimo Visits Papooses . . .

THE OLD GRADE SCHOOL BUILDING was built in 1906 and was occupied jointly by the grades and high school until 1921, when the high school moved into its present quarters. Culver's earliest basketball was played on the second floor of this building until the court was made into additional classrooms. Time took its toll of the structure and about two decades ago it became apparent that the building, whose floors had becomed grooved by the shuffling of many hundreds of youthful feet, some eager and some not so eager, was nearing the end of its usefulness. Plans finally produced the partially completed structure pictured at the top of the page and the old structure tell victim to the wrecking crew in November of 1952.

Geronimo Reviews The Past Year

September

- Those inevitable school days are here again. C.H.S. opened her portals to another year of work and play.
- Our industrious seniors haven't wasted any time. They opened their magazine and Citizen drive today.

General Eisenhower Speaks at Plymouth

- A great day!! The juniors and seniors journeyed to Plymouth to see and hear "Ike" on one of his whistle-stops.
- Oh happy day! No school. Our band was asked to play at the Bourbon Fair so school was dismissed. Love that Band!
- Those seniors can work for me anytime. They made $814.49 on their magazine and Citizen drive.
- After many hours of worrying and rushing to get late copy, the first edition of The Schoolbell, which is printed as a part of The Citizen this year, went to press.

October

 Big Chief Sering put out the call for boys to try out for the varsity basketball squad.

Photographer Bill Downs of Lockridge Studio poses Virginia Hook for senior pictures.

- The faculty entertained the student body by sponsoring a sock dance in the gym at noon. Those great singers, Miss Shanks and Mrs. Allen, and those two masters of the dance, "Red" Sering and "Jim" Cox, were on stage.
- The annual district meeting of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs was held at the Methodist Church with our clubs presiding.
- 14. When you have a team you gotta have cheer-leaders, so today they were selected by a committee composed of a boy and a girl from each class and faculty representatives.
- Those seniors sure are good-looking when they dress up. The occasion? Senior pictures, of course.
- Speech class gave a skit on the history of the Community Chest to help open the drive this year.
- The juniors held a square dance at Delong to get some money for the class treasury.
- 23-26. The teachers had to go to school, so they dismissed us poor ignorant souls.
- Back to school again. Sad for some but the seniors were pretty happy. Their proofs arrived.
- "Smile." "Don't blink that eye!" You guessed it—pictures were taken of everybody in school. Basketball season is almost here—the student season tickets went on sale today.

One of the bus loads of Argos, LaPax and Culver students on the Chicago trip.

- The seniors left for the Windy City (Chicago) to visit the Continental Bank, the Board of Trade, and the Union Station as guests of The State Exchange Bank. How that fried chicken disappeared at Teibels!
- Halloween and the seniors are back to join in some Halloween pranks.

November

- Now we know basketball season is here—we got our seats for the games.
- Our first game!! Our Indians met LaPaz and scalped 'em 72-31.

Old Chief Writes A Bit Of History

- 12. What would we do for refreshments at the games if the seniors with their popcorn and the Hi-Y with their cokes and candy weren't around?
- "Culver beat Walkerton!" We did—69-43.
- Tri-Hi-Y has changed its society to the Sunshine Girls. The members and officers were initiated by the Tyner girls in an impressive ceremony in the Bank Lounge.

Typer and Culver members of Sunshine Girls at initiation.

- If you noticed a lot of happy looks coming from the juniors, don't rack your brain trying to figure out why. I'll tell you. They got their class rings!
- Those mighty Indians hiked over to Akron to meet the Flyers and won 52-43.
- Thanksgiving vacation gets under way and that is something to be thankful for.

December

- Vacation is over and we are back again roaming the halls of C.H.S.
- Today we had the first snow of the year. Four inches!!!
- The undefeated Culver Indians met undefeated Michigan City with Culver putting the visitors on the losers list, 81-61. Our blind red-head racked up 37 points to tie our gym scoring record.
- The Indians met another undefeated team tonight, John Adams, and they fell into the discard of beaten quintets, 64-62.
- Those junior class rings have changed hands so many times it's hard to keep account.
- The undefeated Indians scalped Mishawaka in an overtime thriller, 71-69.
- Knox proved to be an enormous threat, but they couldn't stop our Indians, who beat 'em, 77-70.
- Culver journeyed to South Bend to meet the Washington Panthers in a close tussle, with our Indians coming through with a tight 47-46 win.
- 23 January 5, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

January

- Everyone is back in school, happy over the way Santa Claus treated them, and glad it is 1953.
- County Tourney is almost here and everyone is ready and willing to accept that trophy.
- Our undefeated Indians met Argos in the tourney tonight. Those Dragons proved tougher than we had anticipated, but not tough enough for our valiant warriors, as they pulled a 62-59 victory out of the bag to remain undefeated and still in the tournament.
- Jubilance is bursting out all over C.H.S. as great plans are made for Saturday's session when we hope to cop that trophy.
- 12. That trophy is ours!! Saturday, the afternoon session, the Injuns beat the Bourbon Comets to go on to the big evening game in which our stalwarts met the Plymouth Pilgrims. The Culver quintet added another scalp to their string of eleven victories, the final count being 48-46.

Piney Kowatch accepts county championship trophy from Mr. McLane, county superintendent of schools.

- Our precious trophy! Broken!! Yes, it seems the net got tangled with a figure on the trophy and it was accidentally broken. That's all right, Dick, we don't mind.
- 15-16. There are worried looks on many a C.H.S. student. It could be because these are final examination days.
- The Indians added a twelfth win to their string by scalping the Bremen Lions, 56-45.
- Second semester starts today. A half a year has passed us by, and in a hurry, too.
- 20. We listened to Ike take his oath of office and deliver his inaugural speech, using the new inter-com system for the first time for such an event.
- The mighty Culver Braves met the Bourbon Comets and added another notch to their tomahawks by winning 60-49.

24. Oh dear, oh dear, oh dear! The Riley Wildcats put a stop to our victory streak by spanking us 67-47. But worse than that, our red-headed firebrand, Piney, was injured in the first four minutes of play.

28. The Brown Bombers, farm team of the Globe-Trotters, beat the Culver Vagabonds, but the seniors really cleaned up on popcorn and coke sales, putting them much nearer to their class

 The Indians traveled to Delphi to lose their second contest of the season by a 45 to 36 score.

 The Injuns trounced the Flora Badgers in an exciting game by a count of 63-52.

February

- Another month is upon us. Our school year is almost over. Shall we cheer or cry?
- Our mighty warriors hiked up to the county seat to meet their rivals, the Plymouth Pilgrims, the latter winning 63-57 in a valiant battle.
- If anyone expected to see long faces after the Culver-Plymouth tussle they were very much disappointed. The Culver fans were very proud of the way the boys put up a courageous fight.
- Again those pesky Dragons made it tough going for our Indians, but our boys showed they had stout hearts by winning 49-46.
- C.H.S. musicians set a new record by winning 108 medals at the State Solo and Ensemble Contest in Kokomo. Even so, several did not compete due to the flu. All those medals will make the band members hump-shouldered.

- 10. All those medals were distributed to the winners by Mr. Bowles at a special assembly. Congratulations to everyone of you and your hardworking director!
- And Friday at that! Anyone superstitious?? The Culver players aren't for they took the bark out of the Nappanee Bulldogs by a count of 70 to 59.
- 14. "Will you be my Valentine?" Valentine's Day was celebrated by the Sunshine Girls with a sweetheart dance in the Bank Lounge. It was loads of fun.
- The Culver quintet motored to Winamac and won on Bill Baker's two foul shots, 60-58. Dick Steele, back in the lineup since the first of the season, scored 19 points.
- 18. The Civics Class went to Indianapolis by chartered bus and saw the Indiana Legislature in session. They also toured the Capitol, visited the Circle Monument and the War Memorial, and caught pigeons. Everyone stayed awake on the bus, thanks to Jeanette.
- The Lakeville team met the Indians at Bremen for the last game of the season and trounced us. 61-52.
- Jack Snyder's saxophone solo won first place in the Indiana Music Educators state contest at Indianapolis. Stanley Cline won a second with his clarinet. Both were accompanied by Sandra Hoesel.

Happenings Of The Past Year

- Big week of the Sectional Tournament! Hopes are running high.
- 24. Great plans are in store for big pow-wow of Indian chiefs and squaws (pep session)!

Helen and Bozzie featured sectional pep tession.

- Culver won over Argos in first tilt of sectional basketball tourney. 52-47, and then defeated Bourbon Comets 56 to 47 in overtime thriller.
- Big pep session given to cheer team in tomorrow's semi-finals and finals. Helen McCoige and Dolores Busart stage clever skit and varsity seniors receive handsome jackets. Coach Sering gets "shot" by Captain Kowatch.

Winning varsity sweaters is a serious business.

March

- We are all proud of our battling Indians who upset Plymouth in semi-finals on Saturday, 53-34, and then fought to the end before bowing to Knox in the finals, 66-56. Thus ended the basketball season.
- The Culver Citizen Press announces the deadline for copy is here, so The Tomahawk goes to press.

This is the Calendar of the Year.

All past events are recorded here;

Memories both sweet and dear.

Things that will always be so very near.

Autographs

Chief Geronimo, like everyone else around Culver High School, autographs a Tomahawk. Here it is—
