Culver High School won its third straight game in the Marshall County Baseball League competition last night as the local squad capitalized on 20 hits to defeat Lapaz there 20-2. Last Friday Culver won over Tyner 7-1. The game played at Tyner was a costly one for the local nine as they lost the services of their star pitcher, Hurt, for the remainder of the season when he severely sprained his knee.

Discuss Weeds, Zoning, and Streets At Town Meeting

Early action on clearing the wilderness appearing area at the corner of Mill Street and Plymouth street was indicated at the regular meeting of the Town Board on Monday evening. Since it is so dense with undergrowth, the area will have to be bulldozed in order to clear the land, half of which is owned by the Rollins A. M. E. church.

In the interests of the church, Charles Dickerson and Roy Watts appeared before the board where it was explained that bids on the clearing have been received and as soon as consent of the other property owners is granted the area will be cleared.

Anxious to beautify the church lots, Trustees Dickerson and Watts are seeking donations of fill dirt to fill in the area as soon as the dense undergrowth is removed. This is an extremely worthy project and anyone having fill dirt should call either Charles Dickerson or Roy Watts.

Other business brought up before the Town Board included the possible future hard surfacing of Plymouth Street, a thoroughfare used by heavy trucks, and a thorough discussion of the zoning proposal. In connection with the zoning discussion the advantages and disadvantages of residential and business zoning were brought out. There appeared to be more interest in setting up building requirements than in the zoning among the small group attending the meeting. The matter was tabled for later discussion.

Town Mail Service to be Curtailed on Oct. 1

There will be an important change in postal service in the town of Culver effective October 1, it was announced this week by Fletcher Strang, postmaster. The curtailment of service, which is in keeping with the directives of the Post Office Department, will not effect rural mail delivery.

In a notice to patrons Postmaster Strang points out: "In complying with the Post Office Department for the curtailment of mail delivery, there has been a schedule proposed and submitted to the Post Office Inspectors for this office. This schedule is effective Oct. 1, 1950.

Stamp Window service
7 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Finance window
8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

"All mail deliveries, both residence and business, excepting the residential district in the west portion of the town of Culver will be approximately two to two and one-half hours later than at present. The new schedule is subject to change at any time."

Sometime ago postal officials in Washington announced that service was to be curtailed throughout the nation in order to effect necessary economies. In larger cities curtailment has already been made.

Farm Bureau to Meet

There will be a meeting of the Farm Bureau on Friday, September 29, at 8:00 p. m. in the Lions Den.

Eel grass is the favorite food of waterfowl.

A Fire Extinguisher In Every Dwelling Is Aim of Fire Dept.

A fire extinguisher in every home and dwelling in the township, is the aim of the Culver Fire Department, who this week began selling and distributing the fire prevention equipment to the entire fire area here.

The fire extinguishers are of the carbon dioxide type which were used so successfully during the past war. Dave Burns chief of the Culver Volunteer Fire Department, explained that various sizes suitable for home, garage, car and truck with all types being refillable at a minimum cost are available. The local Fire Chief pointed out that the prompt use of these fire extinguishers in most cases will prevent serious damage or loss of life, save calls to the Fire Department, and at least serve as a check on a fire until the Fire Department arrives.

The fire extinguishers will be on display at the following business houses: Tibbetts Store and Osborn Seed and Equipment Co., Burr Oak; Homer Alberts Store, Hibbard; and in Culver at the Sports Center, the Culver Cafe and the Culver Hardware.

Prices of the extinguishers range from $5.95 to $21.95. Any proceeds derived from the sale of the extinguishers will go to the local Fire Department.

Extra Hour of Sleep Saturday Night

Next Saturday night, September 23rd, will be the night when everyone will catch up with the hour's sleep they lost on April 30th when the area went on daylight saving time for Sunday morning at 2:00 a. m. Culver clocks will be turned back one hour. The community will join other towns throughout the area in reverting back to Central Standard Time. Pleasant dreams.

Community Chest Board To Meet

Ernest Carter, chairman of the Union Township Community Chest Board, has announced that the Board of Directors will meet at the Culver Public Library next Tuesday evening, September 26, at 7:30 p. m. An outline of plans for the year including a possible program for the 1950 drive for funds will be brought before the group.

Mr. Carter urged all Community Chest workers to attend the meeting. The meeting is open to the public and interested persons are urged to attend.

DON'T FORGET

The last date for registering for the November election is October 9. A person must have resided in the state six months on the day of election, sixty days in the township and thirty days in the precinct. Moving from one home to another in the same precinct does not change one's status. If you are in doubt as to your registration status get in touch with the clerk-treasurer of Culver or the county clerk on or before the last date.

Deny Assessment Appeal; Ten Per Cent Hike Sticks

The assessment of all land and city lots and improvements will be hiked 10 per cent, according to a ruling of the State Board of Tax Commissioners. The Board refused to withdraw the order or lower the amount of increase despite evidence submitted at a public hearing in Plymouth on September 5th.

Denial of the Marshall County petitions remonstrating the State ordered increase in assessments was officially handed down on Monday. Increases in real estate assessments were ordered in Marshall County and in 21 other counties late last month.

As a result, if taxpayers do not take court action the ruling will mean the changing of all tax duplicates for land and lot values and improvements. It was stated on Monday that the additional work involved may delay preparation of the tax duplicates which must be in the hands of the Treasurer by January 1st.

Governor Challenges Other State Executives To Milking Contest

Indiana Governor Henry F. Schricker has challenged the Governors of the fifteen leading dairy states to a milking contest October 9th at the International Dairy Exposition in Indianapolis. The Hoosier chief executive claims that he is tired of seeing his gubernatorial friends pose with cows at state fairs and other shows, and that he has never seen them in action.

He plans to rectify this situation at the Exposition's contest which "shall forever decide the gubernatorial milking championship of these United States." The challenges were made up in formal invitation style and are jumbo-size.

Schricker taunted his rivals by declaring: "Actions speak louder than words! I know that the Hoosier state will win the contest, if someone doesn't bring in some loaded pails."

Like Cheese? Now Is Time to Start Studying Labels

"Read the labels when buying cheese," advises Miss Opal D. Stech, extension nutrition specialist at Purdue University. She points out that new cheese standards will go into effect in six months which will require more informative labels.

The Food and Drug Administration will enforce the new standards. Under them, the labels will state the exact class of cheese or cheese product in the packages. If the homemaker knows something about the different types of cheese, she will be able to shop more confidently.

The new standards will provide specifications for the composition of various cheese products and more informative labels. Under the new rulings, if cheese is not made from pasteurized milk, it must meet special manufacturing specifications.

Pasteurized process cheese must contain at least 97 per cent cheese which has been ground, melted and packaged in convenient form. Pasteurized process cheese foods will be similar but with the addition of non-fat dried milk solids, dried whey or other non-cheese ingredients.

Other cheese foods will include pasteurized process cheese spreads, which will contain more water to make them softer. Fruits, vegetables or meat may be added to cheese spreads or cheese foods and sold under various names, according to the new standards.

FISH OF INDIANA

WHITE CRAPPIE

DESCRIPTION: The sunfish like shape, large anal and dorsal fins of equal size and the six or seven spines make this fish different from all other Indiana species with the exception of the Black Crappie. The White Crappie has six, sometimes five, but rarely seven dorsal spines. The dark markings on the body are so arranged as to form vertical bands. It has a longer and less deep body than the Black Crappie. Through comparison of these characters the fisherman should have no difficulty in identifying a Black or White Crappie.

DISTRIBUTION: Common throughout the State.

HABITAT: Found in most all of the larger streams and in the sluggish waters of ponds and lagoons.

FOOD: Chiefly carnivorous. Lives on worms, crayfish and other fish.

STOCKING: This is one specie that needs little help from man. Most stocking is done, however, in new impoundments.

SPAWNING — PROPAGATION: The spawning habits are very similar to those of other sunfishes. Can be propagated in large numbers in hatchery ponds.

SEASON: At present a year round open season. This is set by the Director of the Indiana Department of Conservation by Discretionary Order. Keepers, five inches.

BAG LIMIT: Twenty-five or twenty-five in aggregate with other pan fish.

Constitution Week

This week the nation at large is observing the 163rd anniversary of the adoption of the United States Constitution. It was on September 17, 1787, when representatives of the thirteen colonies assembled in Philadelphia, concluded their deliberations which were briefly compounded into the Constitution.

As a preface to the immortal document they wrote; "WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Their studied approach to the acute problem at hand for the organization of the government and their thoughtful consideration of the development of the nation amply provided for the legislative body, the executive branch of the government, the judiciary, the powers of the states, provisions for amendments, and ratification of the instrument. The constitutional convention in rounding out their work added the first of 21 amendments providing for freedom of worship, speech, press and the right to petition, the right to bear arms, trial by jury, right of states, etc.

Thus it was that the United States became a nation at a time when governments were only thought of in terms of world empires. The reasoning of the founding fathers as set forth in the Constitution has provided a bulwark which has served as one of the outstanding instruments of government of all times. The coming months or years will demonstrate again how well the founding fathers built our esteemed bulwark, and how strongly their sons defend it.

How Deep is the Ocean?

Remember the lyrics to a somewhat dated song which ran "How deep is the ocean? How high is the sky?" — well it appears that right here in 1950 the scientists have found the answer to the perturbing first question. They've had a pretty good idea concerning the height of the sky for some times and the only flaw being that a lot of us haven't advanced our intelligences to the point where we can think in terms of light years nor billions and trillions notwithstanding the present figure of the national debt.

In figuring the depth of the ocean, the boys have given figures we can all understand. They have found that the lowest point on the planet is 34,440 feet. The deep hole discovered by representatives of the American Geophysical Union and the Navy Hydrographic Office is located in "the Cape Johnson Deep of the Mindanao Trench off the East coast of the Philippines."

The deep spot exceeds in depth by more than a mile the highest point, the summit of Mount Everest. The second deepest spot in the Ocean probably is the Ramapo Deep off the coast of Japan. The depth here is 34,038 feet. Both places are quite a bit deeper than Deep Hole in Lake Maxinkuckee.

Welcome

The Culver Citizen joins with other publications in Marshall and Starke counties in greeting Ronald C. O'Neill and Mrs. O'Neill, who recently entered the publishing field in this area. The new publishers are by now becoming acclimated to their surroundings and the Citizen is particularly happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill and to extend to them the best of wishes in their editorial work in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill are the new publishers of The Argos Reflector, a Marshall county publication which has served the Argos community for more than seventy years. Mr. O'Neill has purchased a half-interest in the North Judson News from veteran publisher and editor Mrs. Mildred Kren. The Starke county weekly paper is now being operated as a partnership.

Sirs:

Please send a copy of this week's Citizen to W. H. Adler, Maramac, Okla. I am sure he will be interested in the Zion's Church article, as it was his parents, John Adler and Magdalena Adler that were charter members of this society. W. H. Adler was born March 31, 1862, but is hale and hearty at 88 1/2 years. His father (my grandfather) died in 1870 and he (a boy of nine) lived for a while with John Romig.

My grandmother, Magdalena Adler, was a sister of the older Mrs. Wolfram. Stahl, Zechiel, Romig, Wolfram, Adler, Kaley—a hundred years of church and family ties—and my uncle, W. H. Adler, was a boy among the older generation—he will be interested.

Yours truly,
A. A. Norris

Sirs:

Herewith is my check for renewal of the Citizen. Bob, how about writing an editorial explaining why Culver decreases in population and yet the Bank business grows.

Letter explains action to be taken Against State Tax Board, Requests Public Support

Plymouth, Indiana
Tuesday, Sept. 19, 1950
Citizens and Taxpayers of Marshall County:

As all of you know the State Tax Board has ruled that our recent 10% horizontal tax cut was illegal and has ordered this 10% be reinstated. This ruling affects all real estate and improvements in Marshall County.

At the hearing before the State Tax Board at the court house on Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1950, many taxpayers were there to protest this reinstatement.

The attorneys who were present at the above mentioned meeting protested for themselves and for all the taxpayers against this 10% horizontal increase and no charge was made for their services at this meeting.

It does not make sense to me that our taxpayers will want to let this matter drop at this point. Wishful thinking and hoping is not the answer.

I have talked this matter over with attorneys Albert B. Chipman and Roy Sheneman and their opinion is that if anything is to be done about this matter, it must be done immediately, regardless of the final outcome.

Acting for me and in the interest of all taxpayers I have requested these attorneys to file in our local court a suit directed against the State Tax Board and certain local county officials for relief from the present ruling of the State Tax Board in reinstating this 10% cut.

What the final outcome of this suit will be I do not know and neither does anyone else. It is going to cost some money to find out and I am convinced that it will be money well spent. We all know that it is going to cost our taxpayers thousands of dollars if the present ruling of the State Tax Board is allowed to stand.

Let us presume that these attorneys will get this injunctive relief in the trial court. Then it is possible and probable that the State Tax Board will take the matter before a reviewing court at Indianapolis in which case the attorneys will follow thru until a final decision is made.

Since the time is entirely too short to call meetings of our taxpayers to discuss the matter of raising funds to fight this case and knowing that immediate action is necessary I have personally assumed the obligation to pay these attorneys.

This is in truth, as you all must know, a suit in the interest of every citizen and taxpayer in our county, and win or lose, all have a personal interest in the final outcome of this suit.

Under the circumstances I do not believe it to be fair or just to ask these attorneys to prepare and follow thru in this case without being paid as it will take a great deal of time and effort.

Their charge to me will depend on the time, effort and final result but it is bound to amount to a considerable sum. I have every confidence that if this job can be done they will do it.

To those of you who wish to help in paying the expenses of this case—the case of every single taxpayer in our county—I suggest that you send to me immediately a check for $1.00 made out to Tax Relief Fund and BE SURE to attach a note with your name and address so that in the event of a refund you will get back your share. If you send a dollar bill BE SURE your name and address is pinned to the bill.

A complete alphabetical list of all contributors will be typed and a copy will be delivered to every bank in the county so that you may check for your name. Be POSITIVE that your name and address comes in with any contribution to this fund.

Sincerely—
Eugene Stanley

Your Life Insurance

At the New York Life Home Office is a letter from a woman in Baltimore, dated November 24, 1852, who wrote about her husband's insurance. She said: "It costs much self-denial, but what is self-denial to the mother of two noble boys whom even this sum may aid to educate?" Attached to the letter is a receipt dated less than eight months later. The policy had become a death claim, and payment was made in full.

This is probably the first record of life insurance protection for the specific purpose of providing funds for the education of children. Today many thousands of parents provide this protection for their children

Researchers Breed Better Tomatoes

Agricultural chemists and plant breeders believe they are on the way toward breeding a tomato selection much higher in vitamin C than varieties now commonly grown.

Vitamin C is important to human health. This is the vitamin say the human nutritionists, that prevents scurvy and promotes the growth and healing of bones and the development of good teeth. It also keeps the tiny blood vessels—the capillaries—in proper condition.

One problem the scientists have had to lick is that the most vitamin C has always been found in the smallest tomatoes. But, in 1949, larger tomatoes were grown with more than twice the vitamin C content of standard commercial varieties.

Also grown last year were large-fruited tomatoes with from ten to twelve times the carotene or pro-vitamin A content of commercial varieties. Some of these tomato lines also yielded well. An increase of this vitamin in tomatoes should increase human health, nutritionists assert. Vitamin A is necessary for growth and reproduction, for good vision, and for resistance to infection.

These strains of high-vitamin content tomatoes have been developed after eight years of research. Experiments have been conducted in double time by growing tomato strains in the greenhouse in winter along with a field program carried on in the summer.

Too Many Strawberry Plants Spoil the Patch

The same story holds true in the strawberry patch as with cooks in the kitchen, says W. B. Ward, Purdue University extension horticulturist. He points out that too many strawberry plants this fall will mean few quality berries next year.

The strawberry bed should be well-established by this time of year, and sufficient plants should be set so that the runners are well-spaced and not over-crowded, he adds.

Fall is also a good time to give the berry plantation another thorough cultivation to eliminate the weeds and grass. When cultivating at this time of year, runners should be spaced about one to every eight to ten inches in the row, Ward recommends. The row may be as wide as 18 to 20 inches. All excess runner plants should be cut out.

Replacements should be made for any blank spaces in the rows where plants have died during the summer. The horticulturist discloses that some commercial growers have found the field crop rotary hoe a good tool to go over the strawberry acreage quickly. It will enable good work in weeding, spacing the plants, and cultivating, all in one operation.

Milton V. Robinson, aged 69, of South Bend, died in St. Joseph hospital after an illness of two years. Other survivors are four children, Paul, of South Bend; Vories, of Mishawaka; Mrs. Jennette Batson, of Granger, this county, and son, of Granger, and Joe E., of Syracuse; his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Robinson, of Culver, Ind.; a brother, Harold, and two sisters, Mrs. Fern Fenimore and Mrs. Zetta Shaw, all of Culver.

Rev. William N. Whear, D. D., pastor of the Grace Methodist church, officiated at the funeral on Sunday in the Hay Funeral home. Burial was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery, Rochester.

Panel Discussion Features First PTA Meeting of Year

Approximately 125 persons participated in an interesting discussion at the first meeting of the Union township Parent Teachers Association held last night in the auditorium of the Culver high school. A panel discussion developed around the theme "Building for Freedom Through Recreation" brought forth a lively give and take response from the participating audience and the panel.

Frank McLane was the moderator of the panel which included Arthur Hughes, Ralph Osborn, Jr., Reverend Quentin Hand, Frank Walaitis, and Harold Sering. Fine audience participation was encouraged through the planned small group meetings which were each headed by members of the panel.

Following the small group discussions the group reassembled in the auditorium where the panel propounded questions which arose in the individual discussion groups. Several possibilities and programming problems concerning greater recreation for teen-age and grade school children were suggested.

Mrs. Oscar Wesson, president of the local PTA introduced officers and committee members. Principal Floyd M. Annis introduced the 1950-51 teachers; and Richard Bowles lead some spirited and fun inspiring group singing.

Devotions for the opening meeting were led by Dr. Meredith Sprunger. Travis Harris, vice president and chairman of the program committee, outlined an interesting preliminary program for the year.
