LIFE

Together Again On The Same Train of always amount, not We'll never be reget detops along the ways going to the same place

We'll Never Be

Righing the rails of life is not always amouth, not always easy. There are a lot of stops along the way, stops where friends get off the train, strangers get on, stops where tracks are switched, destinations changed, lives aftered.

We senture are nearing one of these stops now. At graduation we'll be leaving the train we have taken through our high school years and hourding those that are leaving for colleges, jobs, and families.

We'll be leaving friends and a way of life we have become accustomed to; ready for whatever the Junue holds. We'll be boarding trains filled with new faces, going places that will further after our lives. We'll sever be regather egals on the same train, going to the same place. But maybe one day, on our way to some faraway place, the doors of the car will open and instead of attangers boarding, we'll be reunited with friends from a time almost furgotten.

However, just as we seniors are stepping off the high school train, our seats will be taken by the freshmen that are boarding. To them, to everyone we're leaving on the train, we wish the best of luck.

Humecoming is a special time of the school year when spirit is high and fun is pleatiful. The hectic days before homecoming are filled with preparations for the many festivities. Much effort is put forth by both the administration and the students.

The Student Council, under the direction of Mr. Konzelman, is in charge of the many activities. The students are in charge of making all arrangements involving the parade, queen contest, and the dance. The students have many responsibilities and obligations to fulfill.

The hamecuming week festivities began with spirit days. The cheerleaders designated each day a certain dress day. The charrienders also sponsored a "Great Legs" contest. The contestants were football players. To vote, students put a small donation. Tammy Keller, and Nancy Keller. in a cup with the corresponding picture of their choice. The legs with the most munyy won the contest. John Pugh was the winner. The money are Culver fought hard, although they were itswent to the cheerleading fund.

This past fail, the drama department presented Chaper By You Doors. The directors of the show, Ma. Futrell and Ma. Fearmow, worked diligently to make this production a large success.

Chaper by The Cases was a lively enuteal play about the rang, but organized, Gilbreth family. In this play, Mr. Gilbreth tries to tun his family like he runs his factories, but finds out that he can't when he has 12 children.

His oldest daughter causes him a lot silk stocklogs. She wants to wear them, but her pacents don't want her to. Then there is her first date. Because her father is old-fashinned, he don't think she should go without a chaperone. He finally gives in and says she can go, but only if he can meet her date before she goes. Her date turns out to be a charefender, and as soon as Mr. Gilbreth sees him, he changes his mind and decides to go with her.

The whole play is a flashback told by two of Mr. Gilbreth's children. They are remembering when their father was alive. The cest included Don Baker as Mr. Gilbreth, Both Rakich as Mrs. Gilbreth, and Chris Harris, Clay Kobelt, Keith Willia, Mike Woods, Sury Got, Katis Lunnard, Bonnie Beach, Missie Overmyer, and Saura Kulso as the Gilbreth's children. Other cest members were Floyd Reed, Husty Prosess, Angle Hogan, Scott Ready, and Jill Neidlinger. Tracy Mevis and Scott Ready were in charge of the lighting.

This play will long be remembered as one of the test productions at Culver since Garapell.

Sust Cut can't understand who her father won't lot her go not with a cheerfooder.

45 Minutes from Breading, a fun, vaudoville-type musical, was really a musical within a musical.

Beginning with a group of high school students trying to pick the spring musical, it soon turns into a dream about George M. Cohan, when the student director falls and is knocked unconclous. The student director, played by Chris Harris, dreams that he not only meets, but also stars in and directs on of Cohan's playe. The play he directs is about Toss Bennett, played by Don Baker. Mr. Bennett's rich uncle has died and Mr. Bennett thinks he left all his money to him.

Mr. Bennett is also engaged to Miss Flora Dorra-Dean, played by Katie Leonard, who is only matrying him for his money. Flora is still in lave with Joe Crentin, a two-timing, lowlife crook. Jos, played by Mike Woods, has sold old Mr. Cantelina some bogus stock, and wants to get it back before Miss Purdy, played by Jill Niedlinger, Mrs. Cantleton's triend, takes it to the police. He and Miss Higgins, the bousemaid, played by Jennifer Eplay, are discussing this when he seen Mrs. Dean, Flora's mother, whats actually Tessie Tottingham, a safe rabber. He talks her into opening the safe and getting the stock papers out.

Meanwhile, Mr. Bennett is falling in love with Mary, another maid. Mary, played by Share Blessing, is an innocent girl who was also in lave with Joe Cronin.

Kid Burns, played by Chris Harris, is trying to help them fall in love. He knows shout Flora and tries to tell Bennett, but Bennett won't believe him. If a going to leave, but then decides to stick around and see how things work out.

In the end, Mr. Bennett marries Mary, Flora marries Joe, Mrs. Dean keeps the stock she stole, Mary ands up with all the muony, but rips up the will, and they all live happily ever after. The play then goes back to the high school students. Chris wakes up from being unconcious and realized he's found a play to do. He calls everyone out on stage and they do the finale, "Yanker Doodle Dandy".

Throughout the play, Kill Burns was making wisecracks and helping everything fall into place.

There was a lot of singing and dencing, G.M. Cohan's songs were used all through the musical.

The Culver Community Jr.-Sr. High School spoosored the 1986 prom on May 31st at the Holiday Inn in Plymouth, Indiana. A buffet dinner, which constated of coast heef and perch, was served.

The proces thome of 1986 was "An Evening In Beaven" and the colors were blue and silver. Music for the prom was supplied by Unique Lighting and Sound.

It was a perfect evening. Everyone looked exquisite in their formals. The walls and ceiling were decorated with blue and allver belloons and stars.

After dinner, everyone danced and awayed to the music.

Finally the moment everyone waited for the crowning of the 1986 prom King and Queen. The locky emply who received this bonor were Beth Bakich and John Bickel. The court consisted of Tammy Keller, John Zehner, Nancy Keller, Carl Latkowski, Sman Strycker, Joe Werner, Judy Smith, Matt Averill, Beth Rakich, and John Bickel, The queen and king danced to the theme song "Heaven", then averyone else joined in.

The after-prom's theme was "Punker's Paradise Casino". It lasted from 12:00 a.m. to 5:00 a.m. It was sponsored by members of the community. Key. chains were handed out at the door along with the phoney money. Everyone gambled all night long. At three s'clock the auction took place. Friends hid against friends for prices, such as $50, chirt, radio and five video rentals to name a few. Overall, everyone enjoyed themselves and had a good and safe

On May 7 1986, we Seniors skipped school to depart on the greatest Senior trip ever! We boarded the train that evening and settled down into our little groups of eard players, sleepers, and practical jokers.

As we walked out onto the streets of Manhatien, our comeras captured all of the interesting New Yorker's including business men, punk-rockers, and fleshy ladies on street corners. That night, after a gournet dinner at the world famous Mamma Laon'es restaurant, we were entertained by the longest running broadway musical ever, "A Chorus Line".

After a good night's sleep, (Ha) we set out on our sightsering tour of Manhatten guided by the famous actor, Jim (or was life name Chail?). We experienced such places as Central Park, famous homes, Rockefeller Place, Greenwitch Village, China Town, and Wali Street. For lunch, we are a scramptions meal atop The World Trade Center inverting over Manhatten.

The next morning after a good night's sleep, (Ha) we toured the famous Radio City music half and off to shop whereever we wanted (some of us got pizza & Pepsi and raided Macey's with foom pop guns.)

With a hearty farewell to the "Big Apple", we boarded the train to Warsaw. Throughout the night, conductors begged for murcy us we threatened them with our foam guns. As it turned out, New York was just one hig play ground for this group of Senior "unnevers"!

On Sanday, June 8, the Culver Community High School Class of 1986 graduated. The program began with the invocation led by Ray, Robert Hansen of the Leifers Ford/Montarey Methodist Churches. Next the Culver High School Band played several relections of music. Brad Schuldt, principal, walcomed the people and introduced the commencement speaker, the Honorable John Hiler, United States Congressman, Hiller told the graduates they must strive for a better future for themselves and their lamilton. He stressed that each graduate should leave today with their most meful tools and make the most out of them. No one can take your possessions away from you, only you can do something with them, make those around you feel your presence. What America needs from you is to see what is good and right and it will be atrengthened from that. Hiler added that he hopes the world will be a better place 18 years from now because his daughter, Allison will be graduating then! The graduation continued with the presentation of diplumas. Each graduate stepped up to the platform to receive their diploma from Superintendent Wil-Ham F. Mille, then they shook Congressman Hiller's hand and returned to their seat.

After the benediction, the graduates moved their tassels to the right and were presented as the newest graduates of Culver Community High School. At that point morter boards lilled the air along with abouts of joy and signs of relief. The directions, never to see each other again.

News Of The Year

Cavalcade, sponsored by Mr. Button, was an experience that many of us won't forget. From rushing aimlessly about getting ads to making our deadlines, we worked hard to captivate an exciting yearbook for this school. Many days we would hear Mr. Button say, "I want your layout by Friday!", or "We need more pictures! Who is going to take them?". Cavalcade was a fun class, and we are proud of our accomplishments that are resting in your hands.

Journalism, like Cavalcade, had us hurrying to make our deadlines. We learned important information on becoming a reporter. Along with writing short articles and reporting the school's sporting events, we also added the Cavalcrier, our school newspaper. Mrs. Benner, who sponsored our class, would always be telling us to "make our layout sheets" and "bring In your Culver Citizensl". Each week we would take current-event quizes to help keep us up to date with the news. Most of all, we'll always remember drawing with our "Snoopy pencils" and just having plain fun!

Our American Heritage in '85-'86 left us with something to be desired. Whether it was sailing the Seven Seas with Admiral Latham Lawson, discussing top secret government information in the Pentagon with General Paul Pare, connecting oil lines with "Scebee" Phil Hiatt in Vietnam, or just flying high in the Air Force with Lieutenant Colonel Ron Wyatt, we did find our fair share of time to work. We spent many hours working on maps and studying for quizes, current events, and tests.

"If I don't have your map on my desk in two weeks it will be dropped a letter gradel If I don't have it by the end of the nine weeks you will fail!" Although it was scary to think about, that threat did not daunt a few proud and courageous historians taking U.S. History, We would discuss the major events of the past and present in class and have a short quiz over them later in the week. Many times we would find ourselves struggling through those quires because we didn't watch the news or read the paper. In the end, though, it really wasn't all that had. Why? Just look at all the vast knowledge we have gained.

History will help prepare you for the socially advanced world and make you a better per-

Mr. Lawson taught U.S. History, government, and economics. Mr. Pare thought government, city life, psychology, and 7th grade so-cial studies. Mr. Wyatt solemnized with his fith grade students and pondared with his U.S. History, psychology, and government classes while Mr. Hiatt struggled valiantly with his Jr. High social studies classes and his world cultures students.

imagine yourself basking in the sun on top of the famous "Pyramid of the Sun." As you look down on the rest of the ruined city, your guide, Senor Rick Button, starts explaining some of the history of this massive pyramid. It was a long climb up, so you sit down along the edge of the pyramid. Looking around, you begin to realize how really far up you are

Boom! The bat bangs on the chalk-board and jars you, stunned and started, out of your daydream. At first, you can't remember where you are, but, as you look around and get your bearings, you remember: "Oh. yes, I'm right where I was before — in Spanish class. But what was it Mr. Button was trying, but not succeeding, to teach so? Oh, yesh. It was more of the burng-cultural stuff!"

But no matter what we did in Spanish, whether it was conjugating verbs, doing our activity sheets, or even our cultural unit, there was always a lot of laughing and joking.

The first year Spanish class is taught general vocabulary. This includes days of the week, numbers, colors, animals, parts of the body, articles of clothing, present tense verbs, and general conversation.

The second year Spanish class learns mostly verbs. The learn to conjugate verbs in the past tense as well as the present tense. Also, there is a cultural unit they have to do.

The third and fourth year Spanish classes learn more about verbs and also get to read some Spanish novels.

One of the most popular college prep courses offered by our school is French, taught by Miss Dearth, French I, II, III, and IV are offered. French I is usually taken by Freshmen, French III is taken by Sophomores, French III by Juniors, and French IV by Seniors.

The French I students are taught; general vocabulary, basic present tense verb conjugations, numbers, colors, clothing, spings, cultural background of France and is the primary language (Africa and Canoda for example).

The French II students are taught: more complex grammar and verb tense, extended vocabulary, conversational experience, cultural differences and similarities.

The French III and IV students are taught; poetry, prose, and literature, their reading and writing skills are more developed, and they do more detailed work with already familiar grammatical structures.

The Culver High school band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Byfield, has the reputation for being a bunch of clowns, but still manages to win the hearts of audiences and the votes of Judges. Last summer the band placed first at the South Bend Ethnic Festival Parade, the Bremen Fireman's Festival Parade, and the Rochester Round Barn Festival. The band also bosted the Culver Lakefest Parade in which they weren't permitted to compete.

The band also performs pre game at basketball and football games and half time shows at football games. The junior high band performed during half time of homecoming last year. A few band members formed a pep band and played during football names to add spirit.

When not at parades or games, both the high school and junior high bands performed at the Christmas and spring concerts and also want to contest last

The band members for many special bonds and friendships over the years. By the time a member is a senior, he or she has become a part of Mr. Byfield's famtly. Each member feels a special friendship for their leader, even though he sometimes thinks of them as "a bunch of dommtes."

Special Ed. Strives For A Goal

Students in Mrs. Wise's and Mr. Rausche's special education classes learned alot this year. Several of the classes include English, math. History, business, and government. These classes cover the same material as other classes except they incorporate a slower pace and emphasise personal attention.

Practical applications of the material learned are incorporated into everyday coursework. For example, students use business and math skills to maintain and balance a checkbook, record bowling scores, and average baseball statistics. Every Friday students read a selection out of a school magazine and discuss it in class.

This year's special education classes learned alot of the three "R's" and also applied them to everyday life situations. This year's students sure are special!

Art Works

Mrs. Harness' art classes accomplished a great many projects over the past year. Her students sharpened their creative imaginations and practiced their art skills in several mediums.

Students in Art I were introduced to the most popular and widely used art mediums, including pencil, charcoal, pan and ink, water color, and oil paints. Students were also given the opportunity to experiment with several 3-dimensional mediums such as plaster, wire, and clay.

More advanced students joined specialized classes of their interest. Classes offered were Ceramics and Textiles, drawing and painting, and independent study. Independent study students work on their choice of projects at their own pace. This allows students to budget their time.

Where did our mothers learn to sew so well? Where did they learn to cook the fabulous meals they serve us? Have you ever wondered?

Well, now you have the answer, they probably had teachers like Mrs. Winters and Mrs. Schwartz. Who taught you everything from caring for a child to coping with family problems, from cooking extravigant meals to cooking frozen pizza, from sewing an apron to sewing your own prom dress.

"Home Ec. — A way of life, you can't live survive without knowing how to cook, handling your family problems, and sewing a little, whether it's just putting a patch on a pair of pants," says Mrs. Winters.

There are a lot of different fields a person could go into after taking a Home Ec. class.

For instance, you might consider being a cook, after all you did take that foods class in high echool. Or maybe a tailor/seamstress, the textile class wasn't that hard. Or maybe just a plain old housewife/mother. Afterall the family management class did help a lot.

What ever your decision is, you will always need to know some aspect of Home Ec.

There is a time to study and a time for trades. The building trades class may not contain some of the high academic students in the school, but we are very knowledgable in our own way.

If you didn't know anything about carpentry at the start of the year, you did by the beginning of spring. Apprenticeship and hard labor were just two of the many ways to learn. Sometimes this class wasn't a class, but back-breaking free labor for contractors. That's when the students started complaining for a payroll! Instead we had to settle for food. This past year the Lion's Club treated the building trades class to a full buffet chicken dinner. The remofing and remodeling of the Culver depot really paid off Besides the depot, we also added an addition to the house of Louis and Alice Banks. Alice was kind enough to bake us cookles, cake, ple, and lasagna. The Big Man, Mr. Mills, and his employees even bought us two dozen donuts for reroofing and remodeling the whole superintendant's building. Finally, Teachers Credit Union invited us to a chicken dinner at Pinders.

Trace Widness is up against the wall again.

Hammer, Hammer, Hammer, Drill, File. Sand. Come on people! Use the things on hand. We should have turned those blueprints in and made sure they could be read. Sketching was not permitted, we had to get that through our heads. The wires went plus to minus, and the battery blew up. Should have got that car together instead of drinking cola from a cup. We used up all the sandpaper. The machines could have used some oil. Type set letters were missing. Hummel's temper was on boil. Gangloff and Mishler were angry. Though we tried to get it right. They seemed to think when we'd mess up, that we did it just for spite. We worked upon our projects, and gained some skill that way. The teachers were so helpful, but we can't wait to work for PAY!

Mr. Hummel taught Mechanical Drafting.
7th and 8th grade Industrial Arts, and Architectural Drafting. Mr. Gangloff was in charge of Power Mechanice, Machine Practice, Adv. Machine Practice, and Auto Mechanics. Mr. Mishler instructed Woods I and II and Graphics I and II.

"Very nice, chair. Now let's do the scale in three parts: first soprano, second soprano, and alto

"La, la, la, la ..."

"Throw out your gum! Don't you know you're in the 'NO GUM ZONE'?"

"Opps, I forgot!"

These were some of the sounds that were heard in the choir room at the beginning of each class period. Later, when they really got serious, the choir made some very nice sounds. They sang a wide variety of songs, including "Sunrise, Sunset", "Greene", "Song Sung Blue", and "Celebration". Everyone had a terrific time singing, descing, and laughing.

Aside from all the fun, there was a lot of hard work involved in choir. Lyrics had to be memorized, ports had to be learned, and there were always the infumous warm-ops to do each day. All the singers loved the breathing exercises

"Breathe in, two, three, four, five ... and out, two, three, four, five, stx ..."

Most people ran out of breath by the time they had counted to thirty or so. Then, to relax, everyone would line up and manage the shoulders of the person in front of them. This, of course, was one of the favorite parts for everybody. Each choir member learned a lot about singing and music, and they had loads of fun, too.

The high school choir performed for audiences a few times this year, and they did very well. The residents of the Miller's Merry Manor were entertained twice by the group. Everyone, including the singers, enjoyed this time very much. In the Christmas concert, the group sang "Christmas Feeling", "Tiny Child", "Can It Be", and others. One day, they sang a few songs in the cafeteria during the first lunch hour. This uncome event was an effort to attract upcoming students to join choir. The spring concert was also a big success. The high school chair sang two numbers in chair robes, standing on the risers. Then they went off stage to take off their choir robes, and they came back on stage to sing three more songs, which they had choreographed themselves. Among the choreographed selections were "Flashdance", "Candy Man", and "Everybody Rejoice!" The junior high choir also song four songs, including "God Bless America" and "I Sing the Body Electric".

All in all, everyone in chair had a super time, and they learned a lot. Mo. Futzell led the junior high choir class, and Mr. O'Neal taught the high school choir.

Chad Koupper - "What test"

Mr. Stanene fluide humar in his new depts' replies.

Health was unforgettable for every lucky student who had to take it. Each day was filled with new and exciting things to learn and do. Because of Mr. Stevens' great skill in teaching it was impossible to not learn.

One way students were tricked into learning complex ideas was roll playing. Each person in class had a chance to act out an idea or situation. Roll playing brought out some creativity in everyone. It was also a way to take out frustrations (instead of kicking the dog).

Other popular health topics were "Hill Street Blues" and football. Mr. Stevens learned not to bet with students when he lost $5 on a game. Students also learned about birth control. V.D., and drugs by watching antique movies about hippies. Another unforgettable aspect of health was the many matching tests which didn't have answers.

Because he felt lonely for the gym. Mr. Stevens gave his health classes physical fitness tests that everyone loved — bouncing balls off walls, jumping over lines on the floor, and balancing with closed eyes, to munition just a few.

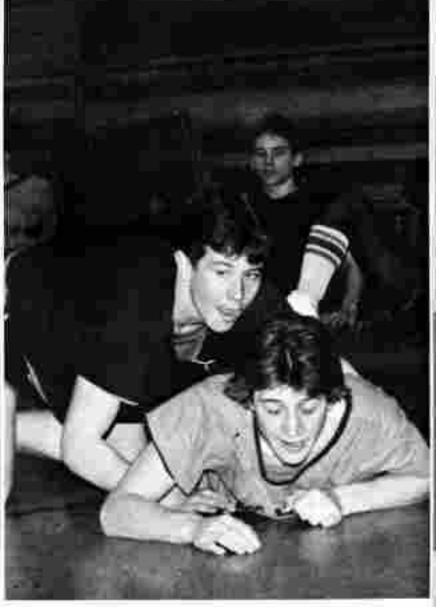

All the excitement of health ended with a seven page exam which covered everything anyone would ever want to know about health, but was afraid to ask.

Doing your calisthenics, running your laps, participating in class, and taking your showers, means you might get an "A".

Physical Education isn't all fun and games. We all know how hard we had to work. Like the times when we played kickball inside and someone hit the celling with the ball and had to run ten to twenty laps. Or just playing the different games, like speedball, flag football, succer, track, aerobics, or just competing against the other class, isnn't the easlest thing in the world.

But then again it isn't all hard work. For instance, the girls always have their gossip sessions, and the guys, of course, do all the "hard work"! Not to say that the guys don't have their gossip sessions elther.

This year we had a new addition to our P.E. staff. She did a great job, and we would all like to congratulate her on her effort, Mrs. Arquette.

We would like to add thanks to Mr. Anderson and Mr. Stevens for another great year in the world of Physical Education.

If you're signing up for your clauses and you don't know what you're goin to take, chances are one of the guidance counselors will suggest a Business class to you.

There are many to choose from, for instance, Business Math, Office Lab., Typing, Computer Lit., and Accounting, while the list goes on. However, these can not be taught without someone in front of the class yelling at everyone and telling them to shutup and listen, right? Right! Nor could they be taught by one of "us" who knows absolutely nothing about the class. Consequently, we have ... TEACHERS! Ab, however, they're not just ordinary teachers, they're special - they're Business teachers! And these special - Business teachers include, Mrs. Slyb, Mr. Perry, Mr. Schwartz and Mr. Hummel.

Mrs. Slyh teaches typing and Office Lab. among others. While Mr. Perry teaches Business math, Likewise, Mr. Schwartz and Mr. Hummel teach Computer Lit.

Everyone of these classes are special classes. You get a lot of knowledge out of them. Knowledge, for Instance, on how to type 60 words a minute or how to play games on the computers! In addition, how to handle and save ... MONEY!!

They're all an experience (along with the teachers) in themselves. So sign up for a Business class right away and learn something today!

Mr. Schmidt was our calculus man, trig, and computers too. When he got mad, he jumped around. Those who avolded his wrath were few. But he couldn't compete with Adam's voice, that one was really vocal. The Jr. High kids have heard him yet! (Along with the neighbors who were local). Mrs. Coby knew a lot. About the horse and computer. Whether Hoppy diecs or saddle bags. Teaching seemed to suft her. Mr. Browder made us laugh. Even while we were learning. The Jr. High and the Pre-Algebra hide looked forward to his class with yearning. Mes. Stoffaed knew her stuff, 100. She tried to teach us wall. but Physics and Algebra were so hard, We'd pray for the diumtanal bell! We finally gut the hang of it from computer glitch to Pt. If we said our math teachers were the best, it wouldn't be a lie.

Mr. Adams taught 8th and 9th grade math. Mr. Browder Instructed 7th grade and latro to Algebra. Mrs. Coby taught Algebra I, Geometry and Math 7. Mr. Schmidt was to charge of Computer programming, intro to Algebra, Math 4, and pre-Calculus, Mrs. Stafford taught Physics. Algebra II, and General Math II.

Death Of A Science Teacher

Chemistry, Biology, and Life science all have some thing in common. They all were different. To Mr. Konzelman everything was "intuitivily obvious." Mr. Garver helped us disect pigs. (I still wonder if they weren't made into the school lunch.) Mr. Ross, voted outstanding rookle of the science department, just learned the ropes of Culver students, hanging a few in the process. Mr. King was atill burdened by his students filth and smut.

Mr. Konzelman would never bet the ranch on anything, but he knew that if you didn't have 3 to 4 hours of concentrated study every night you would not survive, and he was serious. It was always surprising he did everything in next, clear, consise, vertical, logical, labeled steps. Although Mr. Konzelman did have a rodent problem with all those moles running around.

Mr. King had a very large pet rock collection, in which he gave names to each member of his collection and then forced his students to call them by name.

Mr. Garver on the other hand was infatuated by leaves and wanted to see if anyone else could collect more than he. He also didn't have any mercy on pork, forcing his students to stab piglets day after day.

Yes, they called them the mad scientists of Culver Jr.-Sr. High School.
