Local Girl "Heart Princess"

Culver - Heart Princess for 1979, Christi Westafer, age 7½, and her parents, Dennis and Jolene of Culver had lunch with Gov. Otis Bowen at the Columbia Club in Indianapolis on Friday, January 26, along with the other Heart Princesses and Princes and their parents.

Christi is one of 12 children chosen from the state to serve in this capacity during February Heart month by the American Heart Association. She represents the North Central Division with covers six counties.

At six months of age Christi had her first operation to place a clamp on an artery leading from her heart to her lung. In 1977 she underwent open heart surgery to close two holes in her heart. Now she's the picture of health and a very active second grader at Culver Community Elementary School. She is also a Brownie.

Christi will be called on to appear at various Heart fund activities in the six county area during the month.

At the luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Westafer were surprised that Gov. Bowen remembered them from years ago when they lived in Bourbon. The Governor recalled that Dennis played basketball and knew Jolene's maiden name (Reichert). He was her doctor when she was only Christi's age.

Mrs. Westafer said, "Christi was quite taken with Gov. Bowen and went hand in hand with him everywhere during their visit."

"FAT" PROFITS IN PHOTOGRAPHIC JOURNALISM

On a scale of one to ten, I rank myself 29th with me.

Following Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's day, I'm afflicted by the let's watch the calories syndrome.

I do well until the phone rings and I'm informed of an awards banquet by some organization. The voice asks, "can you be there and bring our camera?" Who among you can turn down a free meal?

The last time I attended one of these gatherings, a gal behind me resembling Ann Margaret and weighing about 115 passed up the pies and cakes because she was "on a diet." I felt like hitting her in the mouth as I piled a generous serving of chocolate cake on my plate. There's always the fund raising dinners for worthy causes, too. The last one in town featured spaghetti and meat balls. Menus like that make it very hard for me to "think skinny."

After one such call about a special dinner in honor of a volunteer group in the community, I agreed to go. Before hand I screwed up my will power to its peak and said to myself, "Now look obese one, stick to your guns - salad only and maybe a celery stick or two."

The menu was tossed salad, prime rib, baked potato with sour cream or butter, a vegetable, and pecan pie. The plate was placed in front of me so I really had no choice. We all know that to waste is a sin. Making decisions is not my strong point so when the waitress asked, "Sour cream or butter," I replied, "Both." I felt very proud of myself when I refused dessert. Besides, I was stuffed and I don't like pecan pie.

Now, most of the award banquets and special occasion meals are over and I can get back to planning my own low calorie, high protein, low carbohydrate, non-fat, tasteless meals at home.

My skinny daughters came in to help me with the menus for this week.

"What are you having tonight, mom?" one of them asked.

"I'm not sure," I answered, "what's that you have in the box?"

"A belly buster pizza," she replied.

"I'm having a chef salad with low calorie dressing," I said....."tomorrow night."

Catching Up with The Editor

In the Jan. 11 issue of the Citizen a typo error changed the context of a sentence (last sentence in next to last paragraph) in the column Salvation by David Nix. It read, "but he does not recall saying," while it should have read, "but he does NOW recall saying, "You were there all the time."

"Views in the News"

PUBLISHER'S 'PINION

It was one year ago this past weekend that the local newspaper could not be delivered because of the January Blizzard of 1978. The newspaper was printed in the middle of the week but could not be delivered until the following Monday or Tuesday. The entire area was at a standstill. School was dismissed, mail not delivered, factories shutdown and grocery stores cleaned out of milk and bread. Snowmobiles delivered fuel oil and food to rural residents unable to dig out.

The same type of blizzard was predicted this year for late January or early February. More snowmobiles are now in operation and 4-wheel drive vehicles are in front of almost every home. The main question - Are we prepared? The approximate 7 inches of snow last week caused near-panic once again. Grocery stores immediately sold out of bread and milk. Everyone was trying to be prepared for the worst. Bare shelves in the grocery store can be almost catastrophic to a large family with small children. When this family gets to the store for food, they find that bread and milk are gone because everyone panicked.

If you are concerned about being isolated because of snow, take a few extra minutes next time you are at the grocery store and purchase a few extra gallons of milk and extra loaves of bread. Freeze the bread for later use. Replace the milk as a grocery store changes its shelves. Put the old to the front and the fresh to the back. This might seem like a lot of trouble, but think of the family with an infant who might need the milk and can't get it. Think of your neighbor next time panic enters your mind.

Don't forget that January and February are the slowest months of the year for the local merchants. Please purchase everything in your hometown as much as possible. Since the local merchant is your friend and neighbor, he deserves your support.

Argos - News from the Argos Reflector dated Thursday, February 24, 1927.

A fine gathering of fifty young folks embracing Sunday School classes of Walnut and the Brethren Churches, assembled Friday evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Rohrer south of town, joining forces for a pleasant social occasion.

The business features having been taken care of, the jolly youngsters made merry with games and music and took a ride over WLS in the show boat with Alice Wonders. Refreshments were served at quite a late hour, soon after which the young people dispersed, grateful for the fine hospitality of the Rohrer home.

Notwithstanding the downpour of rain, a goodly membership of the Mozart Choir met with Mrs. Vandorn on Broadway Thursday evening and enjoyed another rehearsal and social hour.

Mrs. Hesse joined the hostess in serving refreshments of delicious ice cream and cake, as a fitting final feature of another pleasant evening.

The Gilead Rainbow class met at the home of Mary Hope Mechling, Sunday, February 20, this being their first meeting. Officers were elected as follows: Wayne DeMont, president; Anna R. Eaton, vice president; Mary H. Mechling, secretary-treasurer; Herschel Town and Mary H. Mechlin, sympathy and relief committee; Mary Redman and Robert Hodson, Look-out committee; Kathryn Redman, Anna J. Wallace and George DeMont, Devotional committee; Nellie E. Eaton, reporter.

A short business meeting was held. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing games and contests. Herschel Town and Nellie Eloise Eaton carried off the rewards.

Indians Claim Judson Trophy

Culver - The fighting Indians of Culver Jr. High added 3 victories and a tournament trophy to their season bounty last week as they defeated the Triton Trojans in a regular season contest and then ventured into Blue Jay country on Saturday to lay claim to the North Judson Four-Way Tournament Championship.

In the tournament's opening game Saturday morning, the Indians were paired against the host team. After playing the first quarter to a 10-10 deadlock, the Indians were able to slowly build a lead as they outscored their opponents in each of the next three quarters, and went on to a 35-27 triumph. Leading the way for the Indians was Scott Keyser and Mike Elliott, both with 11.

In the tournament's championship game, Culver was pitted against the Rensselaer Bombers, a school considerably larger than Culver and owners of a rich basketball tradition. All of this, however, failed to impress the scrappy Indians as they vaulted to a 13-6 first quarter lead, increased this to 26-14 by halftime, and then literally blew the Bombers out of the air in the third quarter as they outscored Rensselaer 14-0 in the period. The whole Culver team contributed to the win as the reserves played the fourth quarter and 11 of the 12 players on the tournament roster scored. Scott Keyser was Culver's leading scorer in the tournament as he had 25 points in 2 games.

In the Triton victory, Mike Elliott lead the scorers with 14 points, but the hero of the evening was Trent Bennett. Playing the best game of his young career, he scored 8 points, hauled down 15 rebounds, had numerous steals, played an outstanding defensive game, the literally hustled his way into the hearts of the Culver fans.

EAGLES WIN CITY MATCHUP IN 3 OVERTIMES

Culver - For the ninth time in twelve meetings, the Culver Military Academy Eagles have defeated the Culver Community Cavaliers, this time in a 3-overtime thriller, 78-73.

The game appeared to be all CMA in the first half, as the Eagles built up a 10 point lead in the second quarters, before leaving for the dressing room at the half leading 36-28.

In the third quarter, the Cavaliers battled back, taking the lead 46-44 at 1:02 on a Kevin Wagner basket. Tom Dunstan scored (2 of his 34 for the night) at the end of the third stanza to deadlock the score 46-46.

The game then seasawed back and forth. Scott Burke hit 2 free throws with 0:42 remaining to tie the game once more, 56-56. With 28 seconds and the ball, CMA only had to work for one good shot to win the game. The Eagles never shot, being content to watch the time run out.

Victory seemed apparent for the Eagles in the first overtime, but Greg Mishler scored with 0:02 left to force a second overtime.

It was then the Cavaliers, who failed to seal the victory, as they watched a 4 point 71-67 lead dwindle with 0:12 left as Dunstan hit two free throws then score again on a last second shot.

In the third overtime, it was all CMA, as the Eagles controlled the ball, while committing the Cavalier's Don Higgins to foul out of the game.

CAVALIERS BREAK LOSING STREAK

Culver - The CCHS Cavaliers bounced back after Friday's 3-overtime loss to CMA by beating Bremen the next night 57-53. The win broke a 4 game losing streak for the Cavaliers (now 6-8), while also beating Bremen for the first time since the 1973-74 season. The Lions had defeated CCHS five straight times since then. Bremen still leads the series by a whopping 10-3 margin.

The Cavaliers led much of the game, except for a short time near the end of the game when Bremen took the lead 49-48. The Cavaliers regained composure in time to caputre their sixth win of the champaign, the first time they've won more than 5 games in 3 seasons.

The Cavaliers shot over 50 percent from the field for the third straight game, while Bremen shot a miserable 29 percent from the field.

FITHIAN'S OFFICE ON WHEELS COMING TO LOCAL AREA

Warsaw - Congressman Floyd Fithian's Office on Wheels will visit communities in Kosciusko, Marshall and Wabash counties next week.

Fithian announced that a member of his staff will be available in the mobile office to help individuals facing problems with the federal bureaucracy. Citizens also will be able to convey their views to Fithian's aide on matters facing Congress.

Fithian noted that the 2nd District covers more than 5,000 square miles, including 113 cities and towns in 14 counties.

"The Office on Wheels enables me to bring Washington a bit closer to Indiana," he said.

Next week, the Office on Wheels will make these stops:

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
 LETTER TO EDITOR
 Outside of the What's Next column written by Arlene J. Wilder or Nix, the Culver Citizen has been reduced to a third rate shopper's guide. Everything that makes a local paper, a paper worth reading is absent. At one time I thought there was hope for the paper.

Bob Kyles column, although a bit on the doomsday side, offered incisive comments on life in this community. The cartoonist RAF gave the paper the tone of an important paper. The mystery photo, I found to be an interesting glimpse of buildings that I had never seen before. Your paper is badly in need of an intellectual resurrection.

A disillusioned Culver Citizen.

Dear Concerned

We are sorry you feel this way and would welcome some "intellectual" suggestions from you. We've had many "verbal" and written favorable comments about the Citizen and welcome all comments about the paper, pro or con. We hesitated publishing this letter criticizing our publication. However, we recognize our responsibility to present all sides of community happenings.

"Views In The News"

Culver - Probably one of the last nickelodeons in Indiana with six songs for a quarter finally gave up the ghost. Bob and Kate May owners of Lake View Tavern report that the machine was located at their business for 18 years, but broke down and parts are no longer available. A new juke box was delivered last week that should contain a record entitled "Inflation. A quarter buys three songs now."

STORY OF THE LITTLE RED HEN: AN UPDATE
 A few years ago someone updated the story of the Little Red Hen. Here it is and we wish we had the name of the author of this updated fable, but we don't.

Once upon a time there was a little red hen who scratched about and uncovered some grains of wheat. She called her neighbors and told them if they all went together and planted the wheat they would have bread to eat. "Who will help me plant it?" she asked. "Not I," said the cow. "Not I," said the duck. "Not I," said the goose. "Then I will," said the little red hen. And she did. The wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain. "Who will help me reap the grain?" asked the little red hen. "Not I," said the duck. "Out of my classification," said the cow. "I'd lose my unemployment insurance," said the pig. "Then I will," said the little red hen, and she did. At last it came time to bake the bread and again the little red hen asked for help from her barnyard neighbors. "That's overtime for me," said the cow. "I never learned how because I wasn't happy doing it in school," said the duck. "I'd lose my welfare benefits," said the pig. And the goose said, "If I am to be the only helper, that's discrimination." "Then I will," said the little red hen. So she baked five loaves and held them up for all her neighbors to see. Of course they all wanted some and demanded a share but the little red hen said, "No, I can eat all of it myself." "Excess profits!" screamed the cow. "Capitalist Leech!" cried the duck. "How about our equal rights!" yelled the goose. So, at the direction of their union leaders, they painted "unfair" picket signs and marched around the little red hen shouting obscenities. Of course, a lot of the clergy and university students joined them and the press, radio and TV covered the demon-

GOSPEL FILM TO BE SHOWN AT ARGOS METHODIST CHURCH

Argos - "He Restored My Soul," a new Gospel Films, Inc. release, will be shown at the Argos United Methodist Church on Sunday, February 4, 1979 at 8:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

In 1961 Merrill Womach was flying alone enroute to Spokane, Washington, to spend Thanksgiving Day with his wife and children. His twin-engine airplane was forced down in a snow storm in Beaver Marsh, Oregon. The next morning he took off on the slushy runway. Two hundred feet above the trees both engines quit. He tried to get back to the airport, but the plane fell short 50 yards and crashed in the timber. The explosion of 108 gallons of high test aviation fuel was heard miles away.

Critically burned, Womach crawled to a nearby road where he was picked up and put in the back seat of a car and hurried to a hospital in Klamath Falls, Oregon. Amazingly he sang all the way.

Though more than 50 operations and months of surgery, Merrill faced many complications, critical illnesses and impending death. Two blood clots passed through his heart and in his lungs and it was only after his family heard him sing after surgery that his family knew he had survived.

The public is cordially invited to attend this showing which will be approximately 30 minutes in length.
