MERIT SCHOLARSHIP SEMIFINALIST HERE

Donald R. French, Principal of the Culver Community High School, announced to a school convocation last Friday that Miss Deborah S. Bernhardt, a CCHS student, has been named a semifinalist in the 1974 National Merit Scholarship Program.

Deborah will compete for about 3,100 Merit Scholarships to be awarded next Spring. In the eighteen previous annual competitions, 34,450 students have won Merit Scholarships valued at more than $95.5 million.

Miss Bernhardt is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bernhardt Semifinalists were the highest scorers in each state on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) administered last October to over one million students in about 17,000 schools across the nation. These students, who constitute about one-half of one percent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States, will complete high school and enter college in 1974.

TOWN BOARD MEETS.. Child Safety Discussed

The Culver Town Board met for its regular meeting September 17 at 7:30 p.m. After the minutes of the last meeting were read, the board received information regarding Change Orders 8 and 9, involving improvements on the waste water treatment plant, located south of town. Change Order No. 8 deals with increasing the capacity and updating the performance of the plant, especially with regard to keeping the plant fully operational during the entire year.

Change Order No. 9 involves redesigning the plant to correct current design defects which hamper the effectiveness of the system during winter months.

The cost of the two change orders was quoted as $3,463.80 for Change Order No. 8, and $27,215.78 for Change Order No. 9. After discussion and questions from the floor, a motion to accept the change orders was passed by the three board members present.

In response to an invitation for comments from the floor, Mrs. Marilyn Bickel presented a letter to the board requesting action by that body and the School Board in the interest of insuring the safety of local children on their way to and from school. Mrs. Bickel read a list of suggestions drawn up by concerned parents of the community. Among those presented for consideration were: hiring adult crossing guards at the corners of School st. and College Avenue and Main street and Lake Shore Drive (near Bonine's), staggering the dismissal times of the Elementary and High Schools, re-routing vehicular traffic leaving the high school, high school safety patrol, eliminating parking on the east side of School Street, running a driveway east and west across the elementary school playground north of the equipment, painting yellow stripes along crosswalk areas.

Suggestions raised by citizens present at the meeting included hanging a flasher at the School Street/College Avenue intersection and prohibiting truck traffic on School Street during school hours. The town clerk stated that there was no tax money available for implementing any of these suggestions, as this year's tax money went toward repaving the town streets. Any money committed for such safety measures will have to come from other funds. The board committed itself, however, to searching for sufficient funds and personnel for the two extra crossing guards mentioned above. These would be in addition to Mrs. Eunice Schrimsher, who presently guards the intersection of School Street and Lake Shore Drive.

Mrs. Jan Peterson then presented a suggestion to the board regarding the children who live on the south end of town within corporation limits. It was suggested that a bus stop be established to take these children to and from school. The proposed stop would be

RETIRED TEACHERS MEET

The Marshall County Retired Teachers met at the Holiday Inn in Plymouth for breakfast and a business meeting on September 13th. In addition to 53 members, Mrs. Stewart Reese of Plymouth, Mrs. Jeanette Rockstroh of Elkhart, and Rev. C. Ed McClarnon of Bourbon attended as guests.

The secretary's and financial reports were given by Mrs. Margaret Carter. Mr. Walker of the Legislative Committee then gave a report on the retirement fund.

The election of officers for 1973-1974 was then held. Elected were: Mrs. Robert Kyle, President; Carl Wilson, Vice-President; Mildred Stuke, Second Vice-President; Margaret Carter, Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. Grosvenor, President, called attention to a meeting to be held at the REMC Building on September 20th, from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. in regard to the legislation to improve retirement benefits for teachers who taught for low salaries and retired many years ago. Mrs. Kyle and Mrs. Carter will serve on the registration committee.

The President then introduced Rev. C. Ed McClarnon of the United Methodist Church of Bourbon, who entertained the group with slide pictures of the Holy Land. Everyone enjoyed the presentation.

Mrs. Byron Haag again delighted the teachers with one of her original poems written during the meeting, entitled, "Thank You God For Everything."

Glenn Disher installed the new officers. Mr. Grosvenor thanked all in attendance for their co-operation and help during his term of office.

The next meeting is scheduled for December 6, 1973.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FIRST FALL MEETING

The Culver Area Chamber of Commerce met for its first fall meeting at the Culver Inn on Tuesday afternoon, September 11.

President Robert Rust introduced Mr. Curtis Middleton, Cooperative Extension Agent, who was present to discuss his role on the County Plan Commission, and the work they are doing.

The goal of CPC is to improve the county, and keep it the good place it is in which to live.

The function of maintaining that quality of life is the role of the CPC. This has resulted, through the use of consultants and extensive research, in an extensive plan being proposed to, and approved by, the CPC. Tuesday, September 25 at REMC in Plymouth is the date when the County Commissioners will have the opportunity to accept the plan by resolution. Following acceptance of the plan, if this happens, the zoning ordinances will be introduced at the same meeting.

A presentation was then made of a zoning map to illustrate the zoning proposals contained in this plan.

Mr. Middleton then discussed the Plan Commission's desire to

Editorial

Child Safety

Last week's issue was devoted to child safety in our community. In our editorial of that issue, we urged each independent agency in our community to contribute to the solution of the safety problems noted by a group of parents and citizens who had approached us, and others in our community, with a letter of concern.

We have noted this week an extra effort by the Police Department to police school areas during hours when children were coming or going. That was encouraging.

Then we heard that several individuals had volunteered their time to assist children crossing certain intersections. Fantastic!

We attended the Town Board meeting on Monday, and heard a discussion of the merits of different solutions to what everyone seemed to accept as a community problem. In this positive spirit, with several guests and parents present, the Town Board expressed a willingness to assist in the financial support of adult crossing guards to augment the individual now employed. The Town Board also expressed interest in meeting with the School Board to work out co-operative solutions to some of these problems. At that point, the week was progressing at an excellent pace. We were seeing dynamic community action in progress.

The pace of action stopped on Tuesday night at the meeting of the School Board of Trustees. Despite the CITIZEN'S efforts to obtain materials and legal information about school safety patrols and adult crossing guards from the Chicago Motor Club, and delivering them to the President of the Board more than a week before, they were passed back at the meeting without comment. No attempt was made to share the information with the other Board members. In spite of our Editorial suggesting that this was a system-wide problem that should be tackled by the Board, rather than the Administration, the Board listened while the Superintendent talked.

Readers should know that no one showed up at the School Board meeting to discuss the subject of child safety. Perhaps this will explain, in part, the hostile reception the subject was given at the meeting.

Whatever the reasons, however, this is a subject that should be of interest to the members of the School Board. After all, they are representatives who are placed in a position of responsibility, given access to information which could provide possible solutions, and have the power of hiring and firing in the school system.

One further thought affects our opinion of the School Board attitude towards this subject. The joint meeting scheduled next Monday with the Town Board is organized as a closed meeting, despite statutes in Indiana which make every meeting of most governmental bodies open to the public, requiring that no decisions be made in closed ("Executive") session, and providing criminal penalties for failure to abide by the law.

We hope that child safety is not a subject to be discussed in smoke filled, closed rooms, without the benefit of input from the public.

What's so secret about school safety, anyway?

OPEN LETTER TO THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF CULVER

I think it's time for you teenagers to stand up and be counted.

Monday night at the Town Board meeting many concerned parents were in attendance to ask for better and definite safety street crossing measures for the young children.

An excellent suggestion of hiring two more guards was presented. This, however, is not the total solution since at least five more are needed. Hence, a suggestion of a Safety Patrol from the Senior High was also presented. It seemed to me that the majority of the adults there scoffed at the idea.

What we need here is mutual respect. You can't convince me that the number of responsible Culver teenagers doesn't surpass by far the irresponsible!

In my opinion, a steady, subtle progression of good deeds by you might be in order. Why not volunteer for a Safety Patrol?

Problems generally stem from most of us, teenagers and adults alike, from boredom. Culver is blessed with many natural resources - why aren't we taking advantage of them?

The Beach Lodge could be used year round, hockey teams, ice skating parties, ice races, square dancing in the winter; topped with hot chocolate in front of a roaring fire provided by the two working fireplaces in the Lodge.

Parents, does this sound familiar? Parent: "Son, where did you go tonite?" Son: "Out." Parent: "What did you do?" Son: "Nothing."

Culver has all the makings of a great model town - it has a future, with one of it's main ingredients: Responsible Teenagers.

Mrs. E. Black.

COPAD STUDIES AREA DEVELOPMENT

Several community members met on Tuesday evening, September 11th at a meeting of the Culver Organizations for Planning, Action and Development (COPAD) to discuss the subject of community development.

Walter Glaub, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee and past president of the Plymouth Industrial Development Corporation (PIDCO), Fred Morrow, past president of PIDCO, and Paul Truman, past president of PIDCO, presented a two-hour program on the history of Plymouth's efforts over a sixteen-year period to encourage industry to settle in Plymouth.

As a result, 26 industries have come to Plymouth since 1954, for a total of 53 industries in the community. Employment increased from 1,000 to 3,000 persons.

Industries in Plymouth are now expanding at a level close to the expansion of the Plymouth labor market. This leaves that labor market in balance. Other town facilities have also expanded at similar rates.

The group stressed the need for "orderly growth", and credited the help of townspeople, under both political parties.

The growth of the services to serve the population includes the Plymouth Airport, recently expanded.

Dave Gaskill, COPAD president, states that COPAD is beginning to determine what "orderly growth" should be considered in Culver while preserving what we have.

The Development Committee will be led by John Deery, and a group of interested citizens will address the problems of transportation, zoning, a retail merchants' association, professional society, and areas of interest in next year's Maxinkucke Festival will be discussed at future COPAD meetings.

CULVER CITY CLUB TO WALK

(Note: Project Concern is sponsoring a city-wide Walk for Mankind on September 30, organized by the American Home Group of the Culver City Club. In five countries, Project Concern is bringing medical relief where people receive little medical attention. The following story is about the Navajo Nation, the need that exists there, and Project Concern's role.)

The Navajo reservation of the American southwest is a beautiful and haunting stretch of silence the size of West Virginia. No train comes whistling from far away across its expanse. No cities sit in the shadows of its mesas and buttes; there exist only a few towns, grown from trading posts as old as America, but as young as the sand dunes beneath the pinon trees. The ancestral land of the Navajos stretches farther than the imagination.

But for 120,000 Navajos today, a constant economic depression and too few medical facilities encourage intense poverty.

Even with two new Indian industries, half of the labor force of 32,000 is unemployed. The Navajo lives in a land of extremely sparse industry. If he chooses to improve his means by expanded sheep-herding, for which the land is most suitable, he may face, as he did last year, a glutted wool market. Half of 20,000 Navajo homes consist of one room and only one quarter of the homes have electricity.

The average yearly income per person on the Navajo Reservation is about $300, with the average family of five to six persons living in a one-room dwelling.

Children always suffer the most. The height and weight of Head Start Navajo children from all over the Reservation were below national norms, which may be the end result of the chronic calorie and protein malnutrition acting together with repeated bacterial and viral infection. Clearly, the living conditions on the Navajo reservation are not conducive to developing healthy children.

In 1970, the Navajo Tribal Council asked Project Concern to establish a medical and dental program, seeking other avenues of assistance to supplement the government efforts which had not been sufficient.

The young Project Concern program on the edge of the reservation near Bisti, New Mexico continues as a nursing and dental station. The dentist faces, as do the other few dentists serving the reservation, a backlog of nearly 593,000 decayed teeth recorded as of May, 1971.

Funds from the Walk for Mankind on September 30 will allow the Project Concern Navajo Program to continue and expand, as well as the programs in Appalachia, Vietnam, Ethiopia, Hong Kong, and Mexico.

Everyone in Culver can Walk for Mankind. Junior High School students can sign up in the hallway outside the office from Wednesday, September 19 to Friday, September 28. High School students can sign up in the hall during lunch hour at the booth being supervised by the Sunshine Society, also from September 19 to 28. Adults in our community who would like to Walk may sign up at Mr. T's and Trone's from September 19 to 28.

Mrs. Ted Strang is the Chairman for the Walk this year, and would appreciate hearing from anyone who wants to help in any way. Call her at 842-2986, or call Mrs. Sue McCombs, publicity director, at 842-3604.

COME AND GET IT! - There were lots of people and lots of good food at the 4-H Buyers Recognition Dinner held recently on the 4-H Fairgrounds in Argos. Mrs. Robert Kepler and her "girls" whipped up a batch of potato salad for the occasion, as usual [about 100 pounds!], and, as usual, it was all gone by nightfall. After dinner, some of the more ambitious couples worked off their meal in a lively square dance.

located in the parking lot of the CulverBible Church, offering the added protection of an off-the-road pickup point.

As this suggestion, as well as others presented, involve considerations that are the School Board's as well as the Town Board's, the Town Board agreed to arrange a meeting with the School Board before October 1, to discuss these matters with them.

Other requests from the floor were made regarding town safety. It was stated that some sort of traffic control is necessary at the corner of South Plymouth and Wabash. Street signs are also needed there. Also, it was mentioned that children playing on College Avenue are in danger because of poor visibility for drivers along that route. It was requested that a "Slow - Children Playing" sign be erected at the corner of Liberty and College Avenues.

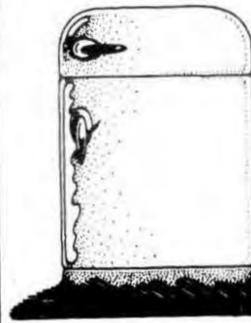

Mr. William Mills, principal of the Elementary-Junior High School, offered his thanks to those members of the community who are giving and have given their time and effort for the safety of Culver children. Among those Mr. Mills thanked were Mrs. Schrimsher, Officer Richard Woodward, who will be presenting a program on bicycle safety to elementary school students Friday morning, Don Overmyer, Culver-Union Township Fire Chief, for scheduling fire drills at the school, and Verl McFeely and his Street Crew for clearing sewers around the school.

In other Town Board business, a resolution to rename Carl Street to Houghton Street was read and adopted. After several transfers of funds, the meeting adjourned.

MEXICAN-AMERICAN STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN PROGRAM

Students from Culver Community High School Spanish III and IV, under the direction of Miss Carmen Vasquez, are participating in an experimental Spanish teaching program for 12 of our Mexican-American elementary School children. Their parents are employed by Osborn's Farms during the crop harvest each September and the students attend Culver Elementary school during that time.

These boys and girls, whose basic language is Spanish, regularly study in Weslaco, Texas, where they learn to read and write in English, but rarely in Spanish.

The Spanish reading program, Mis Primeras Lecturas, is a facet of the Houghton-Mifflin Reading Program presently being initiated in Culver Community Schools under the direction of Mrs. Jeanne K. Epley, Reading Supervisor.

Our community is fortunate to have the opportunity to add depth to the education of these regular visitors.

School Board Meeting No Visitors, No Patrol

The Board of School Trustees of the Culver Community School Corporation met in regular session Tuesday, September 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Superintendent's Office. After approval of the minutes of the September 4 meeting, the board approved various claims.

Mr. Alvin Triplett and Mr. William Keith inquired about a letter they had received from the Superintendent's office regarding payment of the bus drivers who took the Little League on an outing to Wrigley Field in Chicago recently. Superintendent Allen explained that drivers for extra-curricular activities are normally paid $2.50 per hour, including down time, and the organization using the buses is billed by the school corporation accordingly. Mr. Triplett explained that in past years the drivers donated their services to the Little League, and the League paid each driver a gratuity in return. Mr. Allen explained that if the drivers wished to donate their services, the proper procedure was to pay the drivers, and if the drivers wished, they could then give the money back to the organization.

The board next reviewed its Inspection Tour of the corporation held last Saturday. It was mentioned that general housekeeping seemed not as good at Leiters Ford as at the other buildings in the corporation. It was also noted that the grounds at the Culver Elementary School were in need of better care. The floors at Monterey were noted as being the best-cared for in the system, and it was suggested that inquiries be made as to whether the same method could be used with similar success in the other buildings. General maintenance problems at all buildings were noted, and possible solutions discussed.

The board then discussed Public Law 217, dealing with Negotiations with employees. The concern of school boards regarding this law is 1) to decide which teachers' organization to recognize as official bargaining agent for the teachers, and 2) to give notice to the teachers stating the board's intentions in the matter.

Mr. Allen reported that there are currently two teachers' organizations in the Culver Community School Corporation; the Culver Classroom Teachers Association, and the Indiana State Teachers Association. He stated that the board may choose one of two methods for determining which of the two organizations to recognize. They may assume that only one organization is involved and simply post a notice stating which organization they plan to recognize; or, they may ask each teacher to complete a form stating his or her affiliation, if any, with a teachers' organization, then make its decision based on the results of the teacher survey. The Culver board chose the latter alternative, and will poll the teachers regarding their affiliation.

In other business, the board voted unanimously to approve the immediate start of Adult Education classes for the first semester. Local interest in past years has centered on such courses as welding, art, and various phases of home economics. More details about the program will be announced later.

With upcoming trade-ins and the proposed purchase of three new school buses, the fleet of school buses will number 21, 18 of which will be used on regular routes, and three of which will be held as spares. The oldest bus in the fleet after trade-ins are complete will be a 1965 model.

Mr. Allen then shared with the board an account of a discussion held Tuesday afternoon with Mr. Ed Pinder, Town Board president, regarding proposals made at Monday's Town Board meeting concerning the safety of school students. Mr. Allen also read to the board a list of suggestions offered by Mrs. Marilyn Bickel. The board agreed to meet with members of the Town Board Monday, September 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Superintendent's office.

The board next considered a request by the teachers at Aubenaubbee School to replace the chairs at the teachers' desks. Mr. Allen received the board's unanimous approval to act at his discretion to replace the worn chairs.

Two transfer requests to Eastern Pulaski School Corporation, which were refused by the Superintendent's office, have been appealed, and the appeals were heard in Indianapolis on Wednesday, September 19 at 1:00 p.m.

It was reported that work was scheduled to begin this weekend on moving dirt into the football and baseball fields, after the rocks are removed. McGill Manufacturing is supplying the dirt.

A letter from Mr. Donald French, principal of Culver Community High School, to Mr. Allen was discussed with the board, regarding the speed of traffic on the boulevard at the high school. Mr. French suggested the use of speed bumpers on the pavement to control the speed of traffic in the area. No decision on the matter was reached by the board.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned. The next regular meeting of the School Board will be October 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the superintendent's office. These meetings are open to the public by law, as are all decision-making meetings of such public bodies in Indiana.

DOUGHNUTS FOR BREAKFAST

MANY people ask: Can't Danish pastry or doughnuts be considered an adequate breakfast for some people?

It may be "breakfast," but it probably won't get you through the morning. If you eat two Danish pastries, with two pats of butter, you've consumed some 400 calories, but only five grams of protein. This negligible amount of protein in a high calorie breakfast may provide a quick pickup, but can result in symptoms of hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) in two or three hours. As a result, you'll feel tired, despite the fact that you've eaten "breakfast."

Ounce for ounce, doughnuts have even less protein than Danish pastries. Two plain doughnuts (250 calories) provide three grams of protein; two raised doughnuts (also 250 calories), four grams.

Nutritionally speaking, neither Danish nor doughnuts adds up to a good breakfast.

take effect from and after its passage, approval by the President of the Town Board of said city, and publication as provided by law.

THE LAW OF TWO WHEELS

Bicycle riders in Culver must abide by the laws pertaining to these vehicles. To disobey the laws can result in trouble, and might also result in serious injury.

Despite these facts, few people know exactly what laws pertain to bicycle riders in Culver, so here are a few of the main points of the two Culver ordinances that apply to bicycles.

•NO RIDING ON SIDEWALKS. Ordinance 44 provides that bicycles cannot be ridden on sidewalks, and offenders can be fined.

•NO RIDING AGAINST TRAFFIC. Ordinance 54 requires bicycles to behave in traffic like other vehicles.

•SIGNALS MUST BE GIVEN FOR TURNS AND BICYCLES MUST OBEY STOP SIGNS TRAFFIC LIGHTS AND OTHER CONTROLS. These, and other common sense requirements, are made binding by state law.

Children should be told about these rules, so that they can be safe while riding this fall. Safety while riding requires both knowledge of the rules and common sense.

The full text of the ordinances are reprinted below as a service to CITIZEN readers.

CROSS COUNTRY REPORT BY COACH KEN HASS

The cross country team has been working very hard, but the results have not been victory, yet! We have run three meets and all three have been against top notch opponents. Northwood had been running all summer and Plymouth and Rochester had many runners back with experience.

Although the Culver team is still looking for its first win, I believe that there has been a good deal of success. Individually, the underclassmen have been excellent in their performances. Every meet has seen an increase in their endurance. A young team of this nature must mature and learn what it is to compete at the varsity level.

Our first runner, Joe Milo, has done an excellent job so far this year. His times have been, 15:17, 15:12 and 14:48. This improvement shows a dedication to success and winning. Another bright spot is freshman John DeWitt. John started out the season with a time over 16 minutes and 10th place finish. Last time out John broke the 15 minute barrier with a time of 14:54. John is a freshman and we are looking forward to his progress as a runner. Three more men are helping us with their hard work and effort, Ron and Don Sytsma, and Tim Beck have been finishing high on the list because of their hard work. We need two more men to fill in the holes for our top seven men.

Remember: Check your schedule and get out and see the Cavaliers run.

NEW TEACHERS AT CMA AND ACADEMY FOR GIRLS

Three new faculty members have joined the English department of the Culver Educational Foundation's two college preparatory schools, Culver Military Academy and the Culver Academy for Girls. They are Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Ely of Salem, Ohio, and Kathleen J. Steiner of Plymouth.

Mrs. Ely, in addition to her duties as an assistant instructor of English, is an advisor to the Culver Academy for Girls. She received a bachelor's degree in English, summa cum laude, from Kent State University in 1972 and is working on a master's degree. A member of Alpha Lambda Delta education honorary, Mrs. Ely was awarded a university scholarship and a graduate assistantship at Kent State. Her teaching experience includes the Mahoning County Joint Vocational School, where she was an instructor in social studies and English.

Mr. Ely is an assistant instructor of English and history. Additionally, he is a member of the audio-visual committee and assistant crew coach. After receiving a BA degree from Hiram College in 1971, he entered the English graduate program at Kent State, where he was offered a doctoral teaching fellowship.

Miss Steiner, also an assistant English instructor, graduated with honors from Ball State University in 1972 and began work on a masters degree in English. She was awarded the Ball State Scholarship and a graduate assistantship and was a member of Kappa Delta Pi education honorary and Lambda Iota Tau, an English honorary of which she was vice-president.

IT NEVER FAILS

ALTHOUGH YOUR COINS HAVE LOST THEIR SILVER... WE LOVE THEM JUST THE SAME!

It's been some time now, --as a matter-of-fact, it was back in the mid'60's when silver was drained from nickels, dimes, quarters, and half dollars, not to mention silver dollars.

Seems like a long time ago. Though there may be a lingering fret or two, the minted replacement is currently very much in vogue. Even the "clink" of the former coins is a mere matter of nostalgia, though it may be more familiar to coin collectors.

However it may be, just as long as the present ones are coins of the realm they will always be welcomed at our banks where they are credited to your checking and/or your savings account, -- yes, and guarded with our traditional concern for safety. Incidentally, silver laden coins, once coins of the realm, are welcomed.

"KNOW YOUR INDIANA LAW"

By

John J. Dillon, Attorney at Law

[This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Indiana law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.]

"TOUGH NARCOTICS LAW"

The increasing drug problem in the United States has caused considerable thinking by law enforcement and penal officials as to how best to cope with the problem. The ideas or solutions have been as varied as the law enforcement agencies involved. Whereas the problem is well defined, the solution to the problem has not been as easy as law enforcement officials might hope. The State of New York, wherein one of the greatest drug problems exist, has taken a radical approach to the elimination of the illicit sale of drugs.

A law recently adopted by the New York Legislature and now going into effect provides that any person convicted of selling hard drugs illicitly will receive a mandatory life sentence. The law also provides for life sentences for the selling of larger quantities of non-narcotic drugs. Under certain circumstances, persons convicted more than once of possessing marijuana can receive up to fifteen years in prison.

In addition to these stern measures, anyone who receives a life sentence for selling dangerous narcotics or hard drugs is subject to lifetime probation and surveillance even if they are eventually paroled from a New York State Prison. The Legislature further indicated the severity of the enforcement of this law by putting very narrow limitations on the right of the law enforcement officials to plea bargain with the attorneys of persons charged with this crime. This is of course the widespread practice that is prevalent throughout the United States wherein defendants agree to plead guilty to lesser charges, thereby getting less punishment than they could be expected to receive if found guilty of the principal charge pending before the Court. This, of course, facilitates the business of the Courts, clears crowded dockets, and makes it possible for law enforcement officials to obtain enforcement even where the evidence in some cases might not be very explicit.

Law enforcement officials all over the country are watching the effect of the New York statute. Many criminologists feel that the statute is too harsh and can only lead to more difficulty for law enforcement officials. Law enforcement officials also feel that it may be difficult to get convictions because if plea bargaining is prohibited or made available only under limited conditions, then the Court dockets will become even more crowded. If, on the other hand, the stern enforcement proves successful in New York, then it is almost a certainty that other Legislatures, including Indiana's, will begin investigating the soundness of tougher laws against those persons who would participate in the illicit sale of drugs.
