CCHS Drops Opener To Argos

Hoosier Hysteria, the substitute Indiana residents have for nearly every passion held dear by other Americans, has dribbled its way back into our hearts and minds again this year.

The Culver Cavaliers opened the season last Saturday night at Argos High School, where the Dragons soundly defeated the home town team by a score of 80 to 58.

The score does not reflect, however, the high quality of play during the game by both teams. Culver never let the Dragons rest on their lead, and reserves never entered the game for Argos.

Culver started the game in a nervous fashion, and it seemed that but for a few inches here, a few pounds there, the final score could have been quite different.

The first outing for Coach Ken Hass did not signal disaster, however, and there is a whole season ahead to build upon the first game's experience. Further, there were other aspects of the game discussed in this week's Editorial, "Sports In Public Education".

Pictures of the game can be seen on Pages Four and Five.

NOTICE

The Marshall County Courthouse will be closed for the Thanksgiving holiday from 4:00 p.m. Wednesday, November 21st until Monday, November 26th at 8:00 a.m.

Special Eagles Meeting

The very first combined meeting ever held of Culver Eagles Aerie 3221 took place on Wednesday evening, October 6th. The potluck supper began at 6:30 with the planned meeting following.

Presidents Walter VonEhr and Barbara Flora conducted this first attempt at combining the men and women for a special session. Officers of both lodges shared in the short but impressive ceremony.

Twenty-seven members witnessed the giving of three very special award certificated for outstanding work in the club and community. These awards were proudly presented at the altar by president Walter Von Ehr to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Overmyer, Mrs. Louise Von Ehr and Mr. Kenneth Shei.

The soloist of the evening was Miss Elizabeth Pinder, who presented some of her own works as well as others.

Door prizes were won as follows: first, Joan Lett; Second, Gene Riester; Third, Wanda Von Ehr; Fourth, Frieda Fishburn.

the Ladies Auxiliary Charter was presented for all to see with a beautiful hand-fashioned frame created by Mr. Kenneth Shei. The charter will be displayed proudly in the main entrance of the lodge hall.

THIS CEREMONIAL SCHOOL BELL WAS THE PRIZE, and Argos took it last Saturday night as the Culver Cavaliers lost their opener to the Argos Dragons. The bell is a new circulating trophy—the bell was donated by the CCHS student council, and the base was donated by the Argos student council. A brass plate will be installed on the base to record the winner of each year's contest between the two basketball teams.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT DISCUSSED AT RECENT CHAMBER MEETING

The Culver Chamber of Commerce held its regular monthly meeting at noon on Tuesday, November, 13th at the Culver Inn.

After the invocation given by Rev. Earl W. Sharp, pastor of Culver Wesley United Methodist Church, Chamber president Robert Rust opened the meeting by introducing several guests in attendance. Reports were then made by the secretary and treasurer, and President Rust shared with Chamber members several communications he recently received regarding requests from the Indiana Department of Commerce concerning the availability of buildings in Culver for Industrial Plants and related matters.

After several committee reports were given, President Rust introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, Mr. Phil Grebe, Assistant Director of the Industrial Division, Indiana Department of Commerce. Mr. Grebe's talk centered on the qualities a community such as Culver must have or cultivate in order to attract industry to the area. Several thought-provoking suggestions were made on how communities decide whether they want industrial expansion, what type of expansion would be most beneficial to the town, and how to make industry interested in locating in a particular community. Also explained by Mr. Grebe were several programs available to small communities through the Indiana Department of Commerce for the purpose of financing industrial expansion.

After a brief question-and-answer session, the meeting was adjourned. The next regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held December 11th, at which time election of 1974 Officers will take place.

Association Meeting

Is there a need for a unit of the Indiana Association for Retarded Children for Marshall and Starke Counties? This question will be discussed November 26th at 8:00 p.m. EST at the Culver Eagles Lodge.

Dr. Jack Gruenenfelder, president of the IARC Board of Directors, and Mr. Frank Bell, Executive Director of the IARC, will be present to discuss the functions and formation of the ARC on national, state, and local levels. The meeting is open to all parents, friends and professionals working with or concerned for the mentally retarded.

The ARC promotes the welfare of the retarded through development of programs in their behalf; monitors existing serving systems to insure they meet the highest standards of excellence; counsels and aids parents of the retarded; helps to develop better understanding of the problems of mental retardation in the community; encourages training and research on their behalf.

A local unit would directly unite the efforts in behalf of the children now attending public school special education classes, those served by the Marshall-Starke Development Center, and clients served by Marshall-Starke Adult Services.

SPORTS IN PUBLIC EDUCATION

The opening game of the Culver Community High School basketball team in Argos last weekend brought home a point which merits consideration today.

Despite a larger, heavier team on the other side, the Culver players, under their new head coach Ken Hass, carried themselves as gentlemen despite a heavy loss.

It is easy for a team to carry itself well in victory—it takes character to act like gentlemen, and to play good clean basketball in defeat.

Coach Hass and his men are to be congratulated this week for their ability to act like sportsmen despite the victory of the other team.

Inter-school sports are intended to build character and to constitute a part of an educational process. The actions of the team this past weekend prove our program meets this purpose. Perhaps now is the time to consider expansion of the public school athletic program so more students can participate and benefit from this experience.

OUR ERROR

Last week's editorial entitled "A Time Of Wonder" contained an error that should be corrected.

In that editorial, which discussed the handling of the renewal of the Superintendent of School's new three year contract, and the reasons we thought the subject should have been discussed more openly, we stated that the contract had been passed unanimously by the Board of School Trustees.

We have been informed that our information was in error, and that the motion to grant a new contract was not, in fact, unanimous.

While we could not determine before press time what the exact vote was, we wish to correct this error of fact in last week's editorial.

Remember the story of the ant and the grasshopper?

One of the fascinating tales told us in our childhood.
You remember, the ant worked and was comfortable while the grasshopper played all the time and when the weather changed, was in trouble. The same can be true with people in respect to a savings program.
Systematic savings programs are so rewarding. Take

"Return To Earth", by Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin, Jr. After his historic walk on the moon, Buzz Aldrin returned to earth a hero. This is his story of the daring exploit and of the troubled personal odyssey which followed.

"The African Giant", the story of a journey from the Cape to the deserts of the north, by Stuart Cloete.

"Promises of Power", a political autobiography by the first black mayor of a major American city, Cleveland, Ohio - Carl B. Stokes. This book, though, is about more than liberal politics and about more than one fascinating man. It is about the future of American cities - if they are to have a future.

Kirke Kickingbird and Karen Ducjeneaux have written a new book on the American Indian entitled, "One Hundred Million Acres". Indians from Alaska to Texas, from New York to California, are now claiming lands that are rightfully and legally theirs. This book provides the background for their case; the social and historical as well as legal significance of their claim.

"Wilt", just like any other seven-foot black millionaire who lives next door, an autobiography, is Wilt Chamberlain and David Shaw.
