HOLIDAY GOOD DEED IN LEITERS

In these days of tinsel and glitter at holiday time, it's good to know there are some people who really know what Christmas Spirit is all about.

The people of Leiters Ford found out recently that a friend and neighbor needed help, and responded in a way that was particularly touching at this time of the year.

Larry Mersch, a resident of the Leiters Ford area, was admitted to Plymouth's Parkview Hospital November 24th after having suffered a heart attack. He had not yet gotten his corn out of his field, and the weather couldn't be trusted much longer. Larry's neighbors knew this, and decided to do something about it.

So, the next Tuesday, a group of people met at noon at the Park-Inn Cafe in Leiters Ford. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, the owners, opened their dining room to the approximately 45 people who appeared to give Larry Mersch a helping hand.

The Girls Brought Lunch...

A lunch to speed the men on their errand was brought into the restaurant by Dorothy Miller, Elaine Rans, Esther Hawk, Pat Foust, Joann Mishler, Marcia Smith, Vera Reichard, Jenny Perkins, Phyllis Fields, Joan Clingler, Virginia Sellers, Betty Jean Goss, Carol Lahman, and Maria Reichard. The ladies also helped out wherever they could. After lunch, the group went to work.

Corn Pickers Were Everywhere...

The men arrived in Larry's field with seven 4-row corn pickers, three 2-row pickers, and a fleet of 15 trucks to get in the corn. In a short six hours, the crew had harvested Larry's entire crop of about 120 acres.

The men who helped get in the harvest were Dave Smith, Tom Miller, Carl Overmyer, Dale Overmyer, Charles Talbott, David Stangle, Dean Lahman, Cecil Stangle, Bob Hawk, Jim Kline, Larry Rans, Melvin Pratt, Fred Ditmire, Clarence Sellers, Ron Reinholt, Dick Young, Ivan Troutman, Ronald Winterrowd, Dean Rensberger, Oscar Lahman, Walt Talbott, Harold Foust, Don Van Horn, Randy Letitl, Elmo Drake, Gene Reichard, Cliff Reichard, Bob Kline, Bill Huddleston, and Ray Reinholt. The men and women mentioned in this story come from the Leiters Ford area, and not all were farmers. They were all friends who came to help when their help was needed. Their act of friendship speaks for itself far more loudly than we could ever do.

Incidentally, we checked with Parkview Hospital, and Larry was moved out of Intensive Care and to a regular care floor on Tuesday.

What a nice Christmas present for everyone!

TOWN BOARD MEETING

The Culver Town Board met in regular session Monday, December 3rd, at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall.

A report was presented concerning a pending suit between the Town of Culver and the Culver Military Academy on the issue of sewer rates. A trial date has been

A trial date of April 22, 1974, has been set to hear the case. In other business, Mrs. Melissa Miller was reappointed to the Town Plan Commission for a four year term of office, beginning immediately.

A letter was received from the Estate of Edna C. Stahl, bequeathing to the Town the sum of $300.00 for the purpose of "either maintaining or improving the facilities at the Culver Park located on the north bank of Lake Maxinkuckee, in Culver, Indiana."

It was reported that damage in the storm sewer system was causing flowage onto Everett Easterday's farm. Replacement of the broken tiles is anticipated by the Board as a 1975 expenditure. A problem with lighting on Houghton Street was reported, and the Board agreed to have NIPSCO contacted regarding the matter.

Mr. Verl McFeely, Street Superintendent, reported that children have been found in recent weeks using the storm sewer system as a playground. Entrance to the sys-

THERE WERE CORN PICKERS EVERYWHERE as friends harvested the corn for Larry Mersch And his family a week ago in Leiters Ford. See the story to the left and read about true Holiday Spirit in action!

COMMUNITY SURVEY COMPLETED

The Culver Jaycees recently distributed about 200 copies of a community attitude survey compiled by the local chapter with the hope of learning some areas in which to direct their club efforts. In addition to the copies circulated door to door, an additional 30 copies were submitted to the senior civics class to sample the opinions of our local youth.

The results of the survey were prepared through the use of computer print-out. This very accurate and time saving method was provided by the Data Processing Department of the Culver Military Academy.

The information from the print-out was transferred onto a survey report which will be forwarded to local organizations and various individuals. Anyone wanting a copy of these results may receive one by mailing a request with a self-addressed "business" sized envelope to: Culver Jaycees, P.O. Box 15.

A brief recap of the results follows:

LIKES: The survey pointed out that most people find our community to be a nice, quiet, friendly place to live, with our fine lake and churches frequently singled out as strong points.

DISLIKES: Some of the more frequently mentioned dislikes: High taxes and water rates, criticism of our park system, police enforcement, teen loitering and drug use.

NEEDS: More light industry to provide more employment, a small shopping center, a recreation center for teens, adults and senior citizens, frequent requests for tennis courts, swimming pool, larger bowling alley, and high school football team.

MAXINKUCKEE FESTIVAL: Suggestions to improve the annual event were: a large parade with numerous marching bands, a concurrent Little league tourney, participation by more organizations and individuals, and more events with the addition of a famous person as a drawing card.

4-H CLUBS

The enrollment deadline for next year's Marshall County 4-H Club program is January 1st and families who have children active in this organization should remember to complete the proper forms to continue their participation.

For the parents and children who have not yet joined the more than 1100 members, we urge you to consider and actively participate in this fantastic group.

The 4-H Club program in Marshall County is very strong, offering participants activities ranging from the well-known agricultural and livestock categories to more urban and domestic pursuits like small engines, crafts and electricity.

Membership is open to children, both sexes, from age 9 to 19, and the range of activities, plus the need for leaders; makes the Club one in which parents can also join and contribute.

For interested persons, we recommend contacting the following address: Marshall County Extension Office, 210 West Garro Street, Plymouth, Indiana 46563. The effort will be well worth the little trouble.

GOD THE ONLY CAUSE AND CREATOR

This is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in Christian Science this week. Golden Text: Ps. 100:3, Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves.

One section of the lesson considers the belief of our heritage and includes Ps. 16:5,6. The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea I have a goodly heritage.

"The enslavement of man is not legitimate. It will cease when man enters into his heritage of freedom, his God-given domination over the material senses," is from the Christian Science Textbook, by Mrs. Eddy.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The Culver Community School Corporation Board of School Trustees met in regular session at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, December 4th, with one member absent. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and the Board moved to an item on the Agenda concerning the current energy shortage. Superintendent Allen made a series of recommendations on conserving energy for the Board's consideration. They were:

Conserving heating fuel by reducing temperatures in the school buildings during the day, and reducing them even further at night and on weekends, whether extra-curricular activities are taking place or not; using only essential lighting (the preceding three suggestions have been in force throughout the school corporation since November 26th); Curtail use of school buses by suspending all field trips and denying use of the buses to groups not connected with the school. Exceptions to this suggestion were made in the cases of certain athletic events and certain musical events; Honor present commitments for outside use of school facilities, but schedule no more; and confine or combine extra-curricular activities so that they take up no more than two or three nights per week.

Superintendent Allen reported that Mr. Miller, the Transportation Supervisor, was in the process of discussing with the bus drivers for the corporation the possibility of pooling trips to and from school in an effort to save gasoline, which the buses use liberally (4-5 miles per gallon). The Board unanimously agreed to accept Allen's recommendations.

Next, a report was given by the Superintendent and Board member Harold Fitterling concerning problems with the Public Address system in the High School gym. Mr. Albert Sytsma, owner of Al's TV and Appliance in Culver, reported on an experimental addition to the system he made in consultation with a technician from South Bend at Friday night's game, and it was generally agreed that the modifications to the existing system would be good enough for announcing purposes, until a more thorough revamping of the system could be made. Accordingly, the Board unanimously voted to purchase a new 100-watt amplifier, to have the old 70-watt amplifier repaired, and to look into the purchase of two new bass speakers and a microphone.

Mr. Charles Byfield, School Bands Director, then presented to the Board a proposal concerning an invitation received by the band to participate in a nationwide competition at Six Flags Over Mid-America Park, to be held in May of 1974. Mr. Byfield explained that it was a great honor for Culver's band to be chosen for this competition, since only the top bands in each state are invited to compete.

Mr. Byfield estimated the cost of the three-day trip for 63 band members plus chaperones to be approximately $3,000. He explained that the Band was willing to try to raise the money on its own, provided it had the Board's permission to proceed, and that the Music Boosters had already raised about $1,600 of that figure. It was pointed out that the necessary money-raising projects would not conflict with the energy-conservation measures adopted by the Board. The Board gave the band permission to go ahead with the project.

Next on the agenda was a presentation by faculty members Mrs. Kobbé, Mrs. Surber, and Mr. Kaiser, concerning the establishing of a Media Center in the High School Library. The center would be a centrally-located resource for all students to draw upon, as well as faculty members, and would contain multi-media learning materials on all subjects taught at the school. Anticipated expenses for the program include initial stocking costs, some of which can come out of each department's budget for materials, salary for a full-time Teacher's Aide to assist students in the proper handling of the materials, and maintenance costs. Mrs. Charles Byfield offered her services on a volunteer basis as a Teacher's Aide. The Board concluded that there were enough funds budgeted to endorse the project for two years, and gave their unanimous consent to go ahead with the project. The Board asked that they be kept fully informed on the progress of the Media Center and the use being made of it.

In other business, Mr. Mishler presented to the Board a detailed list of shop equipment items needed for the High School Industrial Arts Program. The list clarified a general request for funds made last year by the department, and the Board approved the purchase of the items specified. A second request for equipment was tabled until it could be given more detailed study by Board members.

Rev. John Krueger then shared with the Board and the Superintendent his uneasiness over the emphasis on winning being placed on this year's basketball teams.

Describing such emphasis on winning and determination as have appeared in the brochure recently published by the Coaching Staff as "professionalism in school-boy sports", Rev. Krueger pointed out that such overemphasis obscures other valuable assets to be gained by participating in sports, such as honesty, fairness, and sportsmanlike conduct, whether the team wins or loses. The desire of the community for a winning team, Rev. Krueger said, puts pressure on coaches and school boards, not to mention the players.

Rev. Krueger mentioned reports of extreme penalties being levied against players for missing practices or coming late to practices, and observed that it seemed to put an unfair burden on the player, especially when absences are caused by family activities. Rev. Krueger observed that a town's priorities are often reflected in the construction of the school buildings, and noted that in Culver, the gymnasium is much larger than the attendance at basketball games would seem to warrant, while the school library is far too small for the needs of the students. Rev. Krueger concluded by asking the Board to consider de-emphasizing the importance of winning in school sports, in favor of emphasizing the other character-building traits it lends. Mr. French, principal of the High School, replied by promising to look into any excessive punishments that may have been given, but that he felt that competition was a valuable asset in school sports; it helps to promote discipline among participants. He also mentioned that, in spite of Culver's 1 and 3 record, he has had game officials approach him and the coaching staff with the comment that they had never seen a team who behaved more like gentlemen on the court than the Culver teams. Mr. French also commented that the motive behind the Athletic Council's composing the brochure for the Basketball season was to unite the community around the school.

After general discussion of several other items, the meeting was adjourned. The next regularly scheduled meeting of the School Board is December 18th at the Superintendent's Office.

SUPPLEMENTAL INCOME STARTS IN JANUARY

Living arrangements will determine the standard payment amount for an individual and couple under the new Supplemental Security Income program starting next January 1st, according to Don R. Zimmerman, Social Security manager in South Bend. "Payments are for persons 65 or over, or disabled, or blind with little or no income," he said.

"The monthly standard payment amounts of $130 for an individual and $195 for a couple if persons are living in another person's household," Mr. Zimmerman said.

"If the individual or couple live in a public institution, no payment can be made. If the institution is proprietary and Medicaid is meeting 50% of the cost, the payment will be $25 for an individual and $50 for a couple," he said.

The standard payment amounts are maximum payments and will be reduced by "countable" earned or unearned income, Mr. Zimmerman said.

Mr. Zimmerman said further information can be obtained from the South Bend Social Security Office at 125 S. Lafayette Blvd. The phone number is 234-4001.

Snow Tires Alter Speedometers

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA cautions motorists whose cars are equipped with snow tires that they could be guilty of speeding even though the speedometer indicates a speed within the posted limits.

Snow tires are generally larger in diameter than a standard size tire for a particular car.

News About Books

THE WALTZ EMPERORS, by Joseph Wechsberg is about the life and times and music of the Strauss Family.

RANCH ON THE LARAMIE, is a rich nostalgic memoir of a now vanished way of life in the West, of growing up on a small working ranch in Wyoming during the first two decades of the century. This entertaining book is by Ted Olson.

Two books on the New Testament are: THE NEW TESTAMENT a guide to its writings by Gunther Bornkamm; and INTERPRETING THE NEW TESTAMENT TODAY, by R.C. Briggs.

AS IF* a novel by the Indiana author, Ken Edgar, is about a scientist in his mid forties whose military research has separated him from his wife, becomes involved with a woman eighteen years his junior while perfecting an advanced bomb for the government.

Ernest K. Gann has titled his latest novel, BAND OF BROTHERS. When a celebrated aviator is blamed for a tragic crash of a routine flight from Manila to Taipei, some of his colleagues stake their careers on his innocence and set out to prove it.

Gore Vidal's novel is one that so many are asking for the library at this time: BURR. Aaron Burr sits down near the end of his long, eventful life to compose his memories and in the process chronicles the birth of a nation and its founders.

Those who enjoyed reading THE MAN WHO LOVED CAT DANCING, Marilyn Durham, will be delighted with DUTCH UNCLE. The Evansville, Indiana author displays again her brilliant gift for storytelling in this, her second novel. DUTCH UNCLE has its share of menace, violence and death, but it also includes romance, comedy and has a happy ending.

THE CORNUCOPIA: Being a Kitchen Entertainment and Cookbook containing good reading and good cookery from more than 500 years of recipes and food lore, by Judith Merman and Marguerite Shalett. Five centuries of European and American cooking lore, 1390-1899, including a 1653 recipe for stuffed pike and a 1890 formula for a drink called "The Boson CAreser"

CULVER COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL

Of all the school months, probably none are as busy and exciting for those of us interested in our school as the month of December. Along with basketball games, wrestling meets and other sporting events, there are the Christmas concerts and parties. We her at Culver hope that you will plan to attend as many of our events as your schedule will allow. We wish to call your special attention to the annual Band Christmas Concert on Sunday afternoon, December 16.

Have you ever wondered about a high school education and what it should do for our students? It's a question that those of us who are responsible for educating students often consider and it's a never-ending search to find the right answer. Public education is in trouble these days throughout the land. So much arthorith has been taken away from the school that especially in the large city, a public high school has ceased to often carry on its traditional function. Other considerations enter the too, such as the current restlessness of youth, the drug culture, and a general break-down of the home in our land. Now wonder teachers find themselves in a dilemma as to just what should be the important thing to dwell on in the classroom.

Recently a Butler University News Letter sent to schools in Indiana ahad a most interesting statement that caused me to think things through again. Part of the article is quoted for your consideration:

".....Voltaire once wrote, 'Appreciation is a wonderful thing; it makes what is excellent in others belong to us as well.'"

All teachers are attempting to produce splendid human beings! A casual observation of the mediocrity that engulfs the broadcast media, our newsprint, magazines, books, movies and the theatre, leads one to suspect that most classroom teachers must feel like the little Dutch boy with his finger in the dike. How does a teacher compete with the commercial hucksters and Pied Pipers who sell their wares in such glamorous packages outside the classroom? Little do kids realize that it is all done in the interest of making an easy buck at their expense. They are the victims of marketing techniques, and one thing is certain; they can't tell their friends from their enemies. If they could, they would revolt against this blatant exploitation their personalities.

Eric Hoffer said, "When people are free to do as they please, they usually imitate each other." So today, when heman beings are freer to be themselves than at any previous time in history, we find the utmost conformity in taste, in dress and in life style. And because it is common it is mediocre. One would have to agree with Walter Lippman's quip "Where all think alike, no one thinks very much."

This point is important, because a young person's rationale for his dress, his taste and his values is likely to be, "Well, everybody's doing it." He hasn't yet com to the wisdom of a Bertrand Russel ("If fifty million people say a foolish thing, it is still a foolish thing") or a Thomas Carlyle ("I do not believein the collective wisdom of individual ignorance.")

Some day, some of our young charges will discover that excellence will never be produced by a teen age guitar player who knows at the the most three chords, can't read a note of music, yet makes a sensational amount of money. In the meantime teachers will have to "stay in ther" and keep trying. That's what teaching is all about.

THAT'S WHAT WE ARE TRYING TO SAY HERE AT CULVER.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Sincerely,

Donald R. French
Principal

8th GRADE BASKETBALL

As the eighth graders of Culver prepare for the coming season, they appear to have many of the ingredients necessary for a successful year. Strength and size under the basket with speed and quickness at the guard positions are always desirable and the Indians appear to enjoy both. Often more important than physical ability in competition is the mental preparation of the individual and team. Here's where the Indians will come out on top in many of their games. They display tremendous amounts of determination, desire, hustle, and a willingness to make personal sacrifices to help in the team effort.

When any avid basketball fan thinks of size, speed, and quickness it is usually in terms of the scoring punch, but the look around Culver this year will be defense. The boys have been working extremely hard on defensive fundamentals since October 1st., and are really taking pride in their defensive play. It is ahrd for the average fan to appreciate the tremendous dedication and hard work it takes to be an outstanding defensive player. Most of the fan support goes to the scoring leaders while the defensive ace must be content with the self-satisfaction of a job well done.

Equal to the enthusiasm of the Culver teams is the enthusiasm displayed by the Jr. High students and teacher. Through the combined efforts of Mr. Mills and Mrs. Susan Spiegel, fan support should be better than ever this year. Mrs. Spiegel, cheerleader sponsor, has organized a cheer block and pom-pom girls besides doing an outstanding job with the cheerleaders. Mr. Mills has arranged for the playing of the National Anthem before each home game and the Jr. High band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Byfield, will play at several games.

All in all it appears the fortunes of Culver Basketball are looking up and we urge all you to really get out and support thes young men representing your schools and your community. BE A BASKETBALL FAN.

CULVER LOSES TO ROCHESTER

In a basketball game that showed the difference height can make in competitive success, the Culver Cavaliers lost last week to the Rochester basketball team by a score of 89 to 51.

The pictures tell the story here, as the Rochester team gained and maintained control of the rebounding. Below, Faulstich (44), is dwarfed by Rochester's Bemen derfer (54). The CCHS team took several tactical time-outs, but nothing could slow the opponent down. The Pom Pom squad did manage to lighten home town fans' spirits during the intermission with a kick and patterned march routine, accompanied by a pep band.

GET ORGANIZED FOR CHRISTMAS

'Tis the season to be jolly— IF you can get the cards addresses, the baking done, the parties planned, the shopping completed, and the gifts wrapped! And that can be a pretty big IF.

"All too often Christmas jollies have a way of turning into Christmas jitters," notes Jean Bauer, Extension home-management family economics specialist at Purdue University. "However, you don't have to be so rushed that you can't enjoy the Christmas season," she quickly adds.

Her secret formula? Getting organized! Mrs. Bauer offers several suggestions to help you do just that.

The first step in her game plan is to make a list that will help get you through the holidays without threatening to pull out your hair. Such a list should include:

- All activities your family plans to attend.
- All meetings or activities for which family members have some responsibility— such as bringing refreshments or making decorations.
- Gifts, cards, and decorations to be made or purchased and names of those who are to receive them.
- All entertaining you plan to do, including when and how you plan to do it.
- Any special outfits that need to be coordinated.
- Any new decorations you need to make or buy for your home.

When all your holiday activities are down on paper, get a calendar and start setting priorities and time deadlines, Mrs. Bauer advises. As you do this, keep several things in mind.

For example, remember that some things, such as addressing cards, can be done weeks in advance. If you have freezer space, you can do some Christmas baking before time gets too short. And it's always wise to get any large cleaning tasks done before the onset of holiday happenings.

"Do your Christmas shopping as early as possible, too," Mrs. Bauer suggests. "And organize each shopping trip to save steps and frustrations."

The specialist recommends shop- ping in the early part of the week and between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m. when the stores are the least crowded. Also allow yourself enough time so you won't be frustrated by other shoppers.

"Your shopping trips will also go smoother if you know exactly what you need—and have substitutes in mind—before you leave home," Mrs. Bauer observes. Also take along a list to help eliminate back tracking.

Turning to gift wrapping, the home management specialist says it's wise to set aside a time to wrap several gifts at once. "Plan to keep equipment and supplies for wrap- ping together in a box to save time. And keep a folder of gift wrapping ideas as you come across them," she adds.

As you set priorities and deadlines, remember to assign responsibilities to other family members. Trying to be a miracle mommy can turn anyone into a holiday horror! So let your family know that you'll need their help—and do it soon so they can plan their schedules, too.

After you've made a schedule, remember to be flexible. Mrs. Bauer stresses. Allow for adjust- ments. You might have to eliminate an activity or two due to foul weather, a sick child, or just plain being too busy or too tired.

"When Christmas is over, take time to review the schedule you've followed this year," the specialist advises. "Cut out the tasks that take too much time and energy so you won't be tempted to try them again next year."

With your revised schedule, you're all set when Christmas comes next year. And you're probably laughing when you hear others say, "Well, I somehow managed to get through the holidays in one piece—but just barely!"

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS EASE SHOPPING PAINS

"U.S. Savings Bonds provide an easy approach to Christmas shop- ping this year," Mr. Harold E. Rose Marshall County's Volunteer Chairman for the Treasury Depart- ment's Savings Bonds Program, suggested today.

"A Savings Bond on Christmas Day is bound to please," the Chairman added. "You don't have to worry about style, size, shape or color. And they're priced to fit almost any pocketbook."

"Your bank has them available in denominations ranging from $25 to $1,000. Buy a gift that keeps on giving—a U.S. Savings Bond."

COLLINS JOINS CMA STAFF

Thomas F. Collins of Tipton, Indiana has been named the new director of data processing at Culver Military Academy. He will also assist in the Academy's crafts and models club as an experienced radio controlled model airplane operator.

Previously, a computer program- mer for E.I. duPont in Huntington, West Virginia, Collins is a 1966 Purdue graduate with a bachelor's degree in industrial management and computer science. While in Huntington he also served as part-time math instructor at Morris Harvey College. Before coming to Culver, where he graduated from the Summer Naval School in 1960, Collins was self employed at Collins Industries, Inc., a zinc foundry in Tipton.

BE PRACTICAL THIS YEAR

Shopping for something special to wear for the holidays—maybe an elegant dress for a Christmas party or loungewear for an at-home Christmas? If so, maybe you should think again.

"Buying clothing for a single event or season is obsolete," says Billie Chambers, Extension cloth- ing and textiles specialist at Purdue University. With clothing prices on the rise, it's more important than ever to choose clothing that will fit into your way of life for several seasons to come.

"Even fashion leaders, who spend large sums on their ward- robes, are collecting clothing that can be worn for several seasons," Mrs. Chambers notes, adding that such practicality is particularly wise at this time of year.

If you buy a dress that is unmistakably Christmas '73, it will be out of date a month later—and may even look out-dated next year, she explains.

If you buy new clothes for the holidays, Mrs. Chambers suggests you look for versatile colors, classic designs, and light-weight, season- spanning fabrics. For example, you might choose light-weight, body-hugging fabrics such as challis or jersey that are equally appropriate for cold or warm weather.

"Pale neutrals and pastels, popular for fall and winter this year could easily move into spring," she continues, adding that the slinky metallics may look dated soon after the holiday season.

If it looks good on you, white or off-white in a simple design may be a good choice for holiday parties. The specialist says even simple designs can take on a festive holiday look when worn with elegant jewelry and accessories. And after the holidays, they can move into spring, summer, and fall with a change in jewelry or scarves.

If you are in the market for a long party dress, Mrs. Chambers has some special advice: keep it simple.

"Think in terms of fabrics and designs that can be worn later for at-home entertaining or that will be suitable for dining out," she advises. "Long dresses that have a cover-up look are likely to get out of the closet more often than those that are very bare!"

FT. WAYNE PHILHARMONIC TO HOST SKITCH HENDERSON

Skitch Henderson will conduct the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra on December 7th and 8th at 8:30 p.m. in the Scottish Rite Auditorium in Fort Wayne. Pia Sebastiani, a brilliant Argentinian pianist, will also be appearing as guest artist.

Skitch Henderson has conducted virtually every major symphony orchestra in the United States and is now music director of the Tulsa Philharmonic Orchestra. His nationwide appearances as guest conductor, plus his years in television, have made him one of the most widely known conductors in America today. Henderson also has conducted every leading orchestra in Canada and several throughout Europe.

The program for December 7th and 8th will include Leopold Mozart's "Sleighride"; DeFalla's "Nights in the Gardens of Spain"; Grieg's "Piano Concerto"; and Skitch Henderson narrating a "Hollywood Then and Now" medley.

Pia Sebastiani, born in Argentina, is an internationally acclaimed piano virtuoso and presently is Artist in Residence on the International Music Faculty at Ball State University in Muncie. Miss Sebastiani is an extremely versatile artist with a repertoire that spans all eras of keyboard literature. She has studied and appeared throughout Europe and the United States.

In the 1950's, Skitch Henderson met Arturo Toscanini, then conductor of the NBC Symphony, who invited Skitch to conduct two of the summer concerts being given by the NBC Symphony. Skitch became music director of NBC and conductor of the Tonight Show orchestra. That show, under his music direction, was television's first major effort to incorporate serious artists into a night-time variety show format. He booked Van Cliburn on the Tonight Show before the American pianist conquered Moscow in the Tchaikovsky competition.

The influences on Henderson's career began with Albert Coates, the Russian born conductor. In the east, Henderson worked with the late Fritz Reiner and studied composition with Schoenberg and with Ernest Toch, who gave him a taste for Bruckner and Mahler. Fritz Reiner, one of the world's great opera and symphony conductors of this century, was the major influence on Henderson's career. Reiner, who at the time was conductor of the Metropolitan Opera, agreed to take Henderson on as a pupil and assured him that, "Not having a traditional background has nothing to do with your conducting. You are learning your craft in a variety of ways, just as I did."

In addition to conducting every major American orchestra except Philadelphia and Seattle, Henderson has conducted every leading orchestra in Canada. In England, he has conducted the Royal Philharmonic, the London Symphony, and the BBC Symphony of Hamburg, the Stuttgart and Baden Baden Orchestras, and in France, he has conducted the Paris Conservatory Orchestra and the Radio Diffusion Francaise Orchestra.

Miss Sebastiani will play DeFalla's "Nights in the Gardens of Spain" and Grieg's "Piano Concerto". Her musical stature and contributions to cultural life in many countries have been recognized by a number of honors, including the Golden Palms of the Order of the Belgian Crown (presented by Queen Elizabeth of Belgium), Office of the Order of Cultural and Artistic Merit (France), and the title of Diplomat of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Argentina.

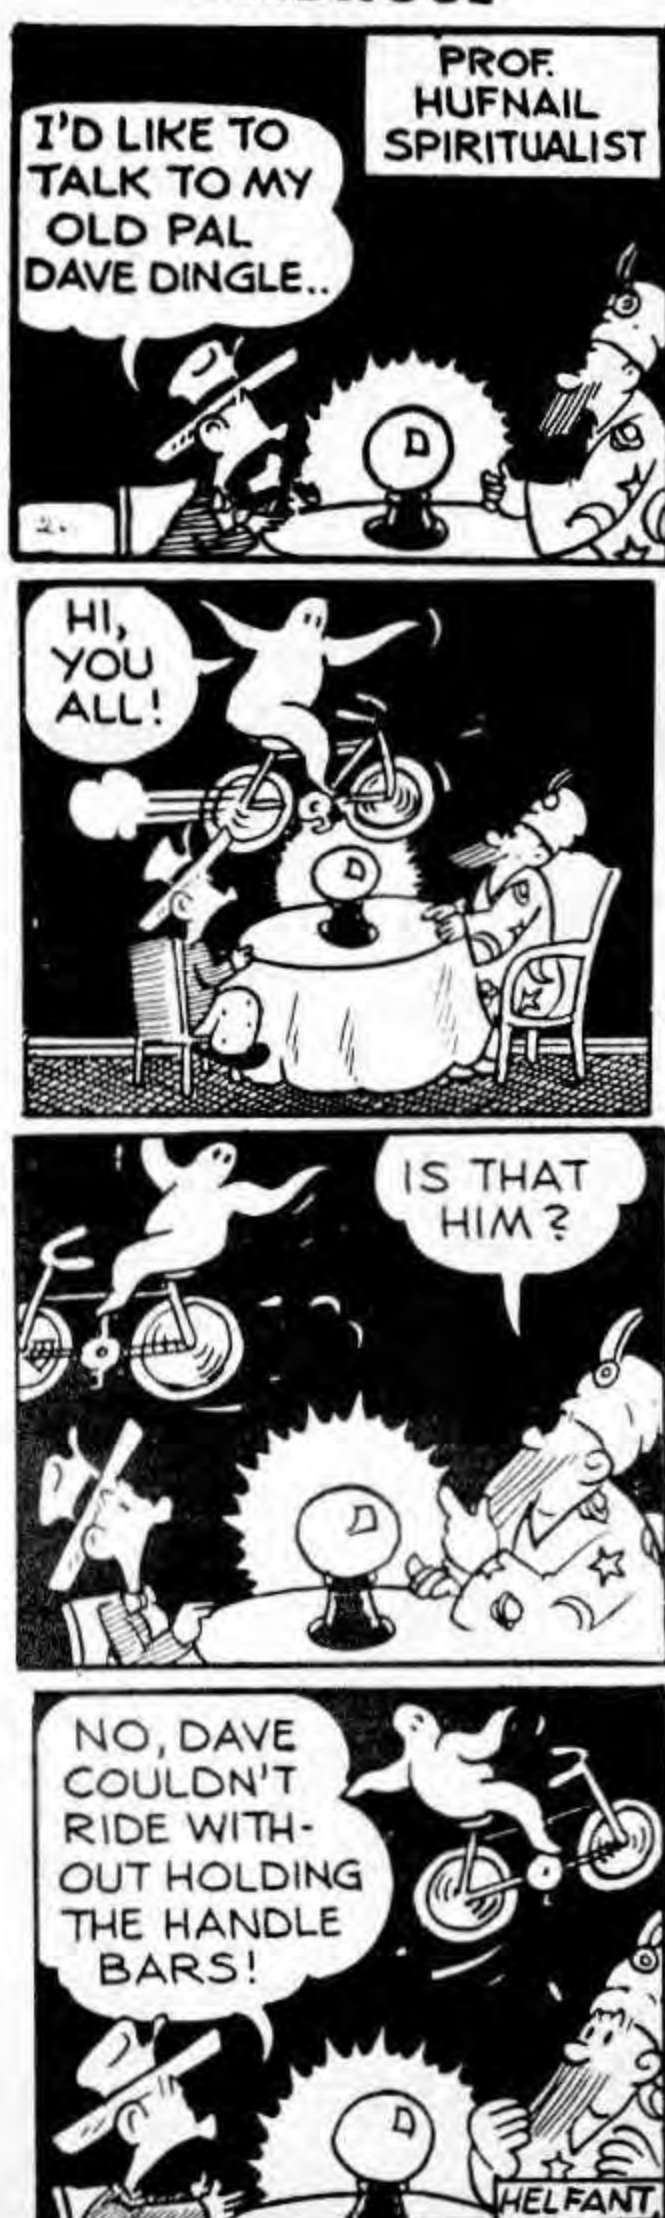

Tickets can be purchased for the December 8th concert by contacting the Fort Wayne Philharmonic office, 927 South Harrison Street, 46802, or telephoning 219-742-1321. Tickets will go on sale on December 3rd at the box office at the Community Center for the Performing Arts and on December 7th at the Scottish Rite box office. Ticket price is $4.00 with discounts available for senior citizens and students. The December 7th concert will be for Season Subscription holders. Limited tickets available for that performance.

The Women's Committee of the Philharmonic is planning an after-concert breakfast following the Saturday, December 8th concert, for those who wish to meet Skitch Henderson. The reception is open to the public and will be held in the ballroom of the Keenan Hotel. Tickets can be purchased at the box office for the reception.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Rights Of Grandparents

Do grandparents have a legal right to the companionship of their grandchildren? Consider the tale of woe brought into court by an elderly couple.

"Since our daughter died, relations with our son-in-law have gone from bad to worse. Lately he won't let their little boy come to visit us, or even let us go to visit him. Surely we have a right to see our own grandchild."

But the court refused to come to their aid. The court said that since the father had legal custody, he alone could decide whom the child should see.

This is the usual rule—that grandparents have no independent right, against parental wishes, to spend time with their grandchildren. However, courts have held the other way if the child's own welfare is clearly at stake.

For example: Custody of two little girls in a divorce case was awarded to their mother. At the time, she did not object to giving visitation privileges to the father's parents, since the children had a long and loving relationship with them.

Later, she changed her mind and tried to end these visits with the grandparents. But this time, a court ruled—for the sake of the children—that the contact should not be broken off.

"To have suddenly severed this close blood tie of love and affection," said the court, "might well have caused emotional disturbance."

Furthermore, there is always the possibility that grandparents can take over full-time custody by proving that the parent is no longer a fit person to be in charge.

Thus, in another case, the grandparents of a three-year-old boy were able to show that his mother was guilty of frequent intoxication and immorality.

The court switched custody to them outright. The boy would be better off not merely to visit, said the court, but to move right in.

ISN'T IT COLD IN HERE?

Last Monday A.F. Allen, Superintendent of Culver Community Schools issued a memorandum to all school personnel outlining new energy conservation measures. Among these measures effective immediately is the lowering of all thermostats in the schools to 70 degrees as opposed to the previous 72 degrees, and turning out all but essential lighting. A temperature of 65 degrees was ordered for the schools on weekends and after school.

This is the first official action taken by the Superintendent to conserve energy in the school corporation but is nothing new for the high school. Mr. French, weeks ago, instructed personnel in the High School to turn down the thermostat to 70 and extinguish all nonessential lighting. Some schools have gone to a shorter school week and others in the area have announce a longer Christmas vacation. This has not been proposed for Culver, however, and no stricter measures have been proposed as yet.

To give some idea of how much energy CCHS uses, last week the average heating fuel consumption was 279 gallons a day! When the temperature gets below zero this figure can get as high as 1200 gallons a day! Even in the summer months it takes about 150 gallons of fuel each day to boil water to operate the air conditioner. The school consumed 17,496 kilowatts of electricity last week!!

Superintendent Allen will be making additional recommendations to the school board this Tuesday for more steps to conserve energy.

You may not notice a drastic change in temperature during regular school hours in the upcoming months, but the 65 degree temperature after school will be enforced even though there may be some school activity in the building. So when someone asks you "Isn't it cold in here?" You'll know why. MARTY DICKIN

WHAT'S THE WORD WITH HEALTH CAREERS???

Has anyone taken a look at the bulletin board in the cafeteria? If not, LOOK- the Health Careers club has taken it over and is really making it interesting. The bulletin board contains a lot of information that involves a large number of our student body. Each month the bulletin board will be different due to a rotating bulletin board committee, so if you are one of the people who complains about not having anything to do in the mornings, or at noon time, use up some of that time to mosey on over to the bulletin board and learn some things that you didn't know before!!!

Over the Christmas season we are going to spread some cheer to the older folks in our surrounding communities by visiting nearby nursing homes. Since the club is so large, we will be divided into teams of 6-8 persons and each team will visit a different nursing home.

We are also in the planning stages of getting a man by the name of Mr. Russell to come and give us a program. Mr. Russell is presently the longest living heart transplant patient. He should be a very interesting man to listen to, because of the tremendous emotional and physical changes he's been through. This will be open to non-members as well as members. Our community will also be more than welcome to attend.

Active and Inactive Membership List: This year, due to our size, we are establishing something that will be called "the active and inactive membership". This list will be determined by the amount of service each is willing to give to the club. To help yourself get on and stay on the active list, I suggest: entering the local and state poster contests, serving on every committee you are put on (for example, there were a total of eight people that contributed to the decoration of our car for the pep rally parade, and that contributed themselves in the Walk for Mankind), these people are already on the active list, also try to attend every meeting. The advantages to becoming an active member are that you will be permitted to participate in all the field trips and activities Health Careers goes on. The inactive members will be restricted as their participation. So get with it, it's to your advantage!

Our next meetings are December 4th and 18th. Mrs. Ervin and Mr. Reese have already started the inactive membership list, so do your best to benefit the club. We are just about the largest club in the school, so we ought to be especially effective this year.

Kim Thompson, President-Elect
Health Careers Club, CCHS

ORGANIZED CLUTTER

My desk is always cluttered with silly things I never need and never use...like these stacks of paperback classics that I haven't read and never will. The overdue library books that I haven't used for my term paper...the orange juice can, pencil holders my little sister makes for me every Christmas, full of that have long since run dry...the cracked-faced alarm clock that wakes me at six-thirty in the morning every day...the torn spiral notebook that I carry to school with me everyday, full of meaningless facts...every night I bring them home and put them on my desk and never open them...every night I sit at my desk and think...and dream...and wonder...what am I learning?? Will Studying English Lit. help me solve the problems of the world...I wonder, what is it really for...what am I learning???

We would like to welcome Mr. Reese to our school and wish him the best of luck in his coaching.
Val Bauer

Consider 4-H

November 29, 1973
Union Twp. 4-H
Jr. Leaders

Dear Parent,

As 4-H members and Jr. Leaders we would like to take a few minutes of your time to consider your child's future.

We have found how to accept responsibilities, to think for ourselves, and how to create and develop the ability to work with adults and others our own age. Only a few can be grand champions. But, we know that no one can destroy what we have learned while working toward that goal. Also we have found there is no generation gap when both parent and child are working toward a common goal.

If your child will be 9 (nine) years old or more within the calendar year of 1974, he or she may join 4-H.

There are projects of interest to every child, whether he lives in town or out in the country. Adult leaders are available to explain the various projects with you.

It is advisable for first year members to take only or two projects so as to become familiar with the process.

If your child is interested, there are enrollment cards available at the school office and Mr. T's Drug Store. Please fill the card out and send back to the office as soon as possible, because the clubs will be meeting soon to start on next year's projects. ENROLLMENT DEADLINE IS JANUARY 1, 1974, so don't delay. Cards can be turned into school offices up to December 21, 1973, and to Leaders listed below after that.

For answers to any of your questions pertaining to the projects or clubs, please contact us, your Jr. and Adult Leaders from Union Township 4-H clubs.

Jr. Leaders: Linda Ringer, Dave Allen, Mark Kepler, John Newman, Herb Newman, Jr., Kaye Mahler, Neala Hyndman, LuAnn Voreis, and Jeff Good. Adult Leaders: Mr. and Mrs. Herbe Newman, Sr., Helen Osborn, and Dorothy Miller.

Herb Newman, Jr.
Sr. Secretary
Union Township 4-H Clubs

TIME IS SHORT!

You will be zoned whether you like it or not. If you don't like it, you must speak up NOW. The County Commissioners need to know YOUR opinion on this major issue. Voice it at the Thursday, December 13th open meeting at Morrison Livestock (2 miles North of Culver on State Road 17) at 8 p.m.
