Kept in the basement during winter, growth starts around the end of February at a rate of two inches a DAY until blooms such as these form. When in bloom, the

This is the Golden Text which leads into the Lesson-Sermon on REALITY stud-ied in Christian Science this week. This citation will be read from the Christian Science Textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary baker Eddy · "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the Divine Principle of all that really is. No wisdom is wise but HIS wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows.

GROW VEGETABLES FOR VITAMINS

No vegetable bought from a store can match the nutritional due of vegetables picked fresh from the garden. The longer on keep any vegetable, the greater the vitamin loss.

Most new gardeners will be growing vegetables in 1974 because they have been motivated by the high cost of living. Others will do it because that's the only way to enjoy fresh home-grown flavor. Vegetables are also our most important source of vitamins, and better tasting than any vitamin pill.

The principal nutrients for which vegetables are best known are iron, vitamin A, trainin C, riboflavin and carbohydrates.

BORING WEEKEND
Drive through town, stop at JoBo's and drive around some more. What does this sound like?
Well, its a typical week-end at Culver. Is this what everyone looks forward to after a long week at school?

Why don't we have something to make our week-ends more fun, such as a Teencenter. A Teen-center would add a little something to our week-ends besides the usual boredom. It would be fun just boredom. It would be fun just knowing you could go somewhere and meet your friends and not get dirty looks from the management. This teencenter might help keep us from walking the street, which seems to be the biggest complaint from older people. There would also be less driving around.

We probably won't get a Teencenter because no one cares about the young people of this town. So I suppose we better get ready for another big, boring weekend!

NEW BABY GETS VERY SPECIAL PRESENT

There are many talented persons in Culver and the surrounding area who demonstrate their skill in many ways, from sculptors and painters to architects, gardeners, and seamsters as well as seamstresses. But we have been watching a project take shape during the last few weeks that has a truly "special" air about it.

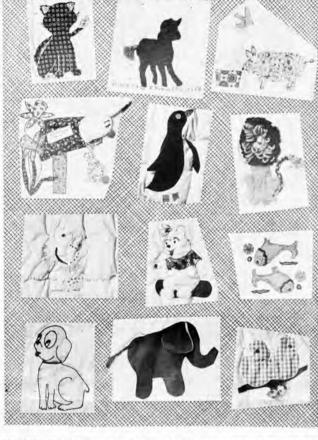

A group of ladies gog together one evening and decided to make a quilt for the baby expected by Dave and Gretta Kelly of Route I. Mrs. Mary Radawski and Mrs. Marje Rinebart suggested that each member of the group make an appliqued square, and the project began. There are many talented persons

Great-Grandma Hatten also yolunteered to make squares for Connie Kelly, Dave's sister who is away at college, and Marge Overmyer, Dave's aunt from LaPorte. SLIM TALK by SOPHIA BRANOFF

Remember the way beautiful Loretta Young used to twirl through the doorway to begin her television show? I have a friend who keeps a mental picture of herself in Loretta's place. Says every time she's tempted to eat something illegal, she stops to see that picture in her mind. Then she knows that a slender future is more important than any momentary pleasure the food will give her. This trick might work for you - why not try it?

IN THE MAIL

Q. My best friend is a thin size 7 and always eating. It doesn't seem fair that she never gains an ounce, while I've gained 40 pounds on the snacks we have after school. How can I lose weight and still keep my friend?

A. First of all you must realize that you can't eat the same way your slim friend does. But you'll be much happier without those extra pounds. Begin to lose them now. Make a production of having only a diet soft drink after school If you carry your lunch, put in extra celery sticks as well a piece of fruit. These will help to keep you feeling full so you won't be tempted to eat again until dinnertime.

How the survey was made:

For the second consecutive year, one of the best-known research firms in America conducted this study of independent TV service technicians' attitudes toward brands of color television. And again Zenith was the number one brand ammed in answer to each question, as shown in the charts at right. To eliminate the factor of loyalty to a single brand, the study included only shops which serviced more than one brand of color TV. Telephone interviews were conducted with TV service technicians themselves in March and April, 1973, in more than 170 cities from coast to coast. Survey details are available on request.
