CULVER JUNIOR HIGH PRESENTS AWARDS

The Culver Junior High Student Council held its annual balloting for the Outstanding Person Award recently. The award is presented to adults on the school staff that the Student Council feels merit special recognition of their efforts in working with the students. The recipient's name is engraved on the award plaque each year, and is on permanent display in the school trophy case.

This year the award has been presented to Mr. Jerry Anderson, Coach and Boys' P.E. Instructor. Mr. Anderson has taught at Culver Junior High School five years. During this time, he has directed the intramural program and has been eighth grade coach.

The Student Council felt Mr. Anderson was especially deserving of the award this year because of the many extra hours he has spent working with the students in various activities over the years.

Each year the W.A. Fleet American Legion Post honors the outstanding boy and girl in the eighth grade. The students are chosen for their qualities of courage, honor, leadership, patriotism and scholarship. The award is determined by a vote of the Junior High faculty members. This year's winners are Debbie Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller, and Matt Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Marshall. Receiving honorable mention certificates were Ann Dutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rod Dutt, and Art Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Newman.

AREA SCHOOL CORPORATIONS RECEIVE FUND ALLOCATIONS

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Harold H. Negley announced recently that state, local and federal funds have been allocated to the Argos, Bremen, and Culver School Corporations.

The money is provided on a matching funds basis for equipment and other nonconsumable materials in critical subject areas. A total of $1,974 was allocated to the Argos Community Schools, $2,942 to the Bremen School Corporation, and $3,148 to the Culver Community Schools Corporation. Negley said that the allocation to the Argos Community Schools would go toward purchase of new equipment and materials for improvement of the arts and humanities instructional program, while the funds for Bremen and Culver would be used to bring about improvement in reading effectiveness instructional programs at those schools.

Motel and Your Car

Melvin's restful night at a motel came to a jarring end when he looked out the window in the morning. His car, which he had parked just outside the room, had disappeared. In fact, he never saw it again.

In due course, he tried to collect reimbursement from the management of the motel.

"I was their guest," he argued in a court hearing, "and my car was on their premises. Therefore, they are legally liable for the loss."

However, the court tossed out Melvin's claim. The court said his argument did not stand up because he had never turned over possession of the car to the management. He had parked the car himself and kept the keys in his pocket.

It is true that motels—and hotels as well—bear a substantial responsibility for the property of their guests. This rule dates all the way back to the Middle Ages in England, when inns were considered a kind of safety zone for the travelling public.

But the rule does not go into effect until the property has been transferred to the possession of the management. In the case of automobiles, possession is ordinarily transferred when the guest surrenders his keys to a company employee.

The exact moment of transfer may become crucial. One woman left her car at the entrance to a hotel and went in to register. When the bellboy asked her for the keys, she replied that she had left them in the ignition.

Shortly afterward, a thief slipped into the car and made off with it.

Had the woman delivered possession of the car to the hotel management, making it responsible for her loss?

A court said yes, even though the keys had never been physically handed over to the bellboy. The court said the woman's words had given him the right to take possession of the car—and along with the right went the responsibility.

NIPSCO AWARDS CONTRACT FOR ECOLOGICAL MONITORING PROGRAMS AT NUCLEAR PLANT SITE

Dean H. Mitchell, chairman and chief executive officer of Northern Indiana Public Service Company, announced today that the contract to implement and operate environmental monitoring programs at the company's nuclear plant site in Porter County has been awarded to Texas Instruments, Inc., of Dallas, Texas.

"Work on the program, which will cost almost $1 million, has already begun," Mitchell said. "The program will last over four years and will monitor pertinent terrestrial and aquatic ecological parameters before construction begins and will continue throughout the construction period."

The monitoring programs were required by the Atomic Energy Commission as a condition of the Commission's granting a nuclear power plant construction permit to NIPSCO May 1, 1974.

The plant will be located on the utility's Bailly Generating Station site on Lake Michigan, about 12 miles east of Gary.

The total project will include the collection, analysis and interpretation of aquatic and terrestrial ecological data, the utility chairman said.

Mitchell said objectives of the programs are:

1. To determine and document existing ecological conditions at the site and in the immediate vicinity of the site;

2. To provide background information to be used in the assessment and minimization of the effect of construction and plant operation on the local environment, and

3. To provide baseline information to be used in the assessment of any future changes in the environment of the site surrounding the Bailly Nuclear-1 power plant.

Texas Instruments will provide progress reports quarterly and annually, Mitchell said, and NIPSCO will forward their findings in their report to the Atomic Energy Commission on a semi-annual basis.

"Texas Instruments is also to notify NIPSCO immediately if any unusual effects are observed or are noted from the data after analysis," Mitchell said.

The utility chief executive officer also said that a separate monitoring program for construction dewatering will also be employed.

"This program has been established to assure that dewatering does not have an adverse effect on the bogs and ponds in the National Lakeshore Park," Mitchell said.

The accumulation of data - which has already started - will continue for at least three months after the end of dewatering activities. This program has been reviewed and approved by the AEC.

"Dewatering for construction will not take place until the fall of 1974," Mitchell said.

NIPSCO first announced plans for a nuclear power plant in 1967, and filed its application for a construction permit at this site in August, 1970, where two coal-fired generating units are presently operating.

The Atomic Energy Commission issued the construction permit May 1, 1974, after safety and environmental reviews by AEC's Atomic Safety and Licensing Board during hearings which extended from October 10, 1972, through November 14, 1973.

CMA COACH RECEIVES DIPLOMA AS "FENCING MASTER"

Few people in Culver are aware of the national prominence of the art of fencing. It is a skill practiced by relatively few in this country, yet has enjoyed international fame as a sport for many years.

Captain M. K. Short, coach of Culver Military Academy's fencing team, has been involved in fencing for decades. His skill and experience have been recognized recently by the National Fencing Coaches Association of America.

At a recent awards assembly in Eppley Auditorium, Culver Academies Superintendent Lieutenant General John W. Carpenter presented to Captain Short the diploma conferred upon him by the national organization.

The NFCAA confers the diploma and title of "Fencing Master" upon three classes of persons: first, on those who present a valid diploma from a recognized European school of fencing; second, on those who, having received extensive training in this country, pass a rigorous written, oral and demonstration examination administered by the accreditation board of the association; and third, upon those who, having coached fencing on the collegiate level for fifteen or more years, present a record of their training and background and of the accomplishments of their teams and students which, in the opinion of the board, justifies their receiving the title without further examination.

Based on the record of CMA's fencing team, which annually defeats two-thirds of their collegiate opponents and wins a majority of the Junior Olympic Tournament medals for the state, but more especially on the records of alumni Schumacher, Keslar, Herring, Royce, Blackburne, Scieszka, and numerous others who have had brilliant fencing careers in college, winning many medals

Strawberry Festival Scheduled For June 8th

THOUSANDS EXPECTED

Final plans are being made for the annual Letters Ford Strawberry Festival, which will be held June 8th at Letters Ford. Paul Davidson and Woodie McGlothlin are co-chairmen of the festivities, which will get underway at 4:30 p.m. Strawberries, of course, will be the featured item on the evening menu.

The parade will begin at 6:30 p.m. with Governor Otis Bowen, Miss Strawberry Festival, Annette Severns and Karen Rogers, Miss Indiana of 1973 as special guests. Miss Indiana will appear through the courtesy of Buckeye Feed and Supply of Letters Ford. Cash prizes, ribbons and trophies will be given for prize winning floats and other units in the parade.

Immediately following the parade, the program will begin on the outdoor stage located on the school grounds adjoining the new Fire Department Building. Miss Indiana and the Culver School Bands, as well as The Harmonica Kids and Dad, will be among the entertainers appearing.

The climax of the evening program will be the crowning of the 1974 Festival Queen. Candidates for the honor are Juanita Mersch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mersch, Alice Kelso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kelso, Joan Sult, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sult, Regina Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pratt, Peggy Pierce, daughter of Mrs. Norma Pierce, Geneva Coby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Coby, Becky Stayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stayton, Candy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clingler, Melinda Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prince Gardner. All contestants are residents of Aubbeenaubee Township. Other eligibility requirements include a minimum age of 15 and unmarried status.

A square dance will begin at 9:00 p.m. at the Aubbeenaubee

Township School with music by the Dewey Anderson Band.

LOCAL ARTISTS FEATURED IN RECENT EXHIBIT

The 45th annual exhibit of Northern Indiana Artists, Inc. at Robertson's Department Store in South Bend includes works by two Culver artists.

Phyllis Helber has two works on display at the exhibit, both watercolor studies titled "Flowers." Erna Short has an untitled watercolor on display.

The show is scheduled to end today, May 30th.

HOW TO CAN TOMATOES AND BEANS

Shown above are two stages in canning beans and tomatoes. Top picture shows sealing a jar of beans with a screw band, while the bottom picture shows whole unblemished tomatoes being washed for a canner load.

With today's cost of food so high, there is more reason than ever to consider canning garden-fresh vegetables.

Some of the most worthwhile vegetables to can include tomatoes, beans, beets, broccoli, brussels sprouts, carrots, cauliflower, peas, pepper and zucchini squash.

The most widely canned vegetables are tomatoes and beans. Here are some hints on canning these successfully:

Tomatoes

Choose only fresh, firm ripe tomatoes. Those with decayed spots or cracks are unfit for canning. Wash and drain enough tomatoes for one canner load. Place tomatoes in a wire basket or cheesecloth and submerge in boiling water about 1/2 minute to loosen skins.

Then dip into cold water and drain. Next, cut out all cores, remove skins and trim off any green spots. Cut tomatoes into quarters of leave whole.

Fill hot canning jars, adding 1 teaspoon of salt per quart, and filling air spaces with juice. Run a table knife between tomatoes and sides of jar to release any air bubbles. Wipe the mouth clean, then seal lightly with lid and screw band. As each jar is filled stand it in a canner of hot water, covering jars 1 to 2 inches. Place cover on canner, bring to boil and leave for 45 minutes in the case of quart jars (35 minutes for pints). Remove jars from canner, and let cool for 12 hours. To test for a successful seal remove the screw band, and press down in the center of the lid.

If lid stays depressed, jar is sealed. Store the jars, without the bands, in a cool, dark place.

Beans

Thoroughly wash freshly gathered beans, which must be young, tender and crisp, then drain. Trim the ends, remove any strings, and cut beans into pieces. Cover the beans with boiling water and boil for 5 minutes, or pack raw into a heated pint or quart jar. Add 1 teaspoon of salt per quart, and cover beans with boiling water. Wipe top of jar clean, then seal with lid and screw band.

Put jars into a steam-pressure canner containing 2-3 inches of hot water, place canner over heat, and lock cover. Leave canner vent open to allow steam to escape for 10 minutes, then close vent. Keep pressure steady at 10 pounds for 25 minutes in the case of quarts (20 minutes for pints). Stand jars to cool for 12 hours, and test for a successful seal by removing the screw band and pressing down in the center of the lid. If lid stays depressed, jar is sealed. Store jars without the bands in a cool dry place. Before tasting, bring the beans to a boil and simmer for ten minutes.

SAILBOAT MARKET APPEARS STRONG FOR 1974; SEVERAL NEW BOATS ARE FROM TOP DESIGNERS

Sailboat popularity was at its peak in 1973, when the industry totaled dollar shipments 23 percent higher than in 1972, and it appears there is no slowdown in the upward climb.

Manufacturers of sailboats are bullish about the 1974 market. Some have made improvements in late entries brought out last summer, but others have brand new models from the boards of well-known designers.

Two California builders for example, each have a 45-footer. Columbia, of Costa Mesa, Cal., has the 45-foot Motor Sailer designed by Bill Tripp. She sleeps eight in three separate cabins, is sloop-rigged and sells for $51,995 with a 4-107 diesel as standard power. Sail area is 694 square feet, and there's also a shoal-draft keel rig available as options.

Also designed by Bill Tripp is the new Coronado 45, built by Coronado yachts, Costa Mesa, Cal., with sloop rig, long trunk cabin and graceful deck sheer. She sleeps eight and sells for $48,995. Her dimensions are 45'3" overall with a beam of 12'4". A spacious cruiser, she carries 810 sq. ft. of sail, affording her good racing potential.

Pearson Yachts, of Portsmouth, R.I. offers a new design from its company president, Bill Shaw. It's called the Pearson 10M, and the specs show a classic design:

generous beam carried well aft on the 33-foot hull, short fin keel and separate skeg-mounted rudder. Inside, she has settee berths rather than a convertible dinette, and optional upper berths which increase her sleeping capacity of six or seven.

The 10M has a waterline measurement of 29' 2" and an 11-foot beam. She carries 524 square feet of sail, draws 5' 11" and has an excellent ballast-to-displacement ratio, with 5,445 pounds of ballast against a total displacement of 12,441 pounds. Power is provided by a 30-hp. Atomic Four, and the list price is $23,975 without sails.

For those sailors with a eye for the traditional, nicely blended with the modern, Nowak and Williams is introducing the Herreshoff Eagle, a new design from the pen of Halsey W. Herreshoff. A classic catboat hull, the Eagle has a graceful clipper bow, wheel steering, a 6-hp. outboard and trim cuddy cabin with v-berths and enclosed head. Where she departs from the traditional is in her sloop rig, and gaff topsail. She's made of fiberglass, has aluminum spars and sells for $7,990, including sails. Dimensions are 26' LOA, 18' LWL, and 8'2" beam. She carries 320 sq. ft. of sail and draws just 1' 10" with her centerboard up. The company is located in Bristol, R.I.

Cape Dory, of West Bridgewater, Mass., has redesigned its Cape 25 fiberglass sloop to provide more storage space, an improved galley and two settee berths in place of a dinette. The boat has a conventional full keel and a flush-top trunk cabin. Her price tag is $7,699, including sails and considerable equipment. Also redesigned for 1974 is the Erickson 29, a popular MORC racer-cruiser which is now available with a re-designed cockpit layout and new cabin appointments.

Optional Wheel

This fiberglass racer-cruiser now has a thwartships cockpit bridge which separates the helmsman, at the rear end of the cockpit, from the rest of the crew. If he chooses the optional pedestal wheel, the skipper can control the boat in splendid isolation both cruising and racing. The new bridge also allows the mainsheet traveler to be attached to its forward side for more efficient sheeting for the mainsail, especially with the new IOR rig.

Below, the head compartment has been enlarged to allow for a stainless wash basin and vanity, the hanging locker design has been improved and the drop leaf table now folds against the starboard side of the main bulkhead. There also are two new teak-framed, lucite hatch covers for better light and ventilation.

A NEW TEN METER FROM PEARSON YACHTS, Portsmouth, R.I., was designed by company president Bill Shaw. The boat is 29'2" on the water, has a beam of 11" and a sail area of 524 sq. ft. Her price is $23,975, less sails, but including a 30 hp Atomic Four auxiliary engine.

OFFICIAL RESUME OF MEETING

The Culver Community Schools Corporation Board of School Trustees met in regular session Tuesday, May 21 at 8:00 p.m. Following the approval of the May 7th minutes, Gene Reese, physical education department coordinator and varsity baseball coach, shared with the Board some situations concerning the baseball field at the high school. A request was made to begin work on filling, grading and sodding the field. It was agreed that before sod would be placed on the field, the advise of a professional on sodding would be solicited and would be done as he recommended.

The Board was advised that Mrs. Kay Peterson, home economics teacher at the high school, requested a leave of absence at the beginning of the 1974-75 school year. Superintendent Allen recommended this leave be granted. The Board did grant leave of absence without pay during the first nine weeks of the 1974-75 school year to Mrs. Peterson.

Authorization was given the administration to continue the past policy of designating Extra Curricular Treasurers in the school buildings and to secure bonds accordingly.

Mr. Allen advised the Board that one new school bus chassis was delivered to the body plant in High Point, North Carolina, late in April. The body company has notified the administration office that this should be delivered within the next two weeks to Culver. The two remaining chassis due the corporation, are not locateable at the present time. The Superintendent stated that he had expressed dissatisfaction to the chasis representative, for the long delay in the delivery of these chassis for school buses.

The Board asked the Superintendent to obtain actual price quotations on a 10,000 gallon gasoline storage tank to store gasoline for school bus use.

An invitation was given to the

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure for us to announce that on May 30th, we are opening our new store, in Culver. This will be our 182nd drug store, all in Indiana.

All of our new stores are designed for your convenience—Front door parking—Self service shopping—Bright, spacious stores, with everything at your fingertips.

Hook's has been in business since 1900 and we've built our reputation on being first a drug store. This means that filling prescriptions is the most important part of our business. In fact, our prescription sales are 25% of our total sales—much greater than the national average (around 18%) of U.S. chain drug stores. Prescriptions are still our greatest health bargain.

In the old days, medications were not nearly as effective as they are today. They didn't cost very much and they didn't do very much either. Today, from our stock of the finest, freshest drugs available, come medicines that could save your health—or save your life! Yet their cost has actually decreased.

We're proud to be serving more than eighty-two hometowns throughout the State of Indiana and are especially proud that you have made it possible for us to grow in this explosive way in the Culver community.

We hope you'll come by soon to see our new store. We're ready to fill your next prescription or provide you with all of your health and other drug store needs. Helping people get well and stay well is what Hook's is all about.

Very truly yours,

Gardeners Grow Too — On Polka Dot Snack Squares

It's true that spring planting means waiting. So treat gardeners, young and old, to an immediate reward after hours of hoeing, digging and spading. Serve them a snack of Polka Dot Squares and ice cream, then harvest the compliments. No green thumb is necessary, just a special ingredient. Enriched corn meal grants energy value and delicate crunchiness. Polka Dot Squares are cousins to chocolate chip cookies, but they "grow" into cake consistency. Just let the gardeners dig in, first into the good earth, then into these morsel-topped goodies.
