Famous Tramp Quits Road.

"A-No. 1," America's most famous tramp, has gone out of business, so to speak, by getting married to a young woman in Erie, Pa., where he expects to settle down.

Since he was a small lad, A-No. 1 has been a wanderer over this land and his sign, "A-No. 1," with an arrow, has become a familiar figure along every traveled road in the United States and on several occasions he has visited Europe and other foreign countries.

"A-No. 1" visited Culver in 1911. He would not reveal his name, but said he was born in San Francisco. In taking out his marriage license he gave the name of Leo Livingstone. He is a well-educated man and dresses well when not riding on the trucks or "blind baggage" from town to town.

MAXINKUCKEE

Nellie Whittaker was sick at her grandparents' home last week.

Rev. Kenrich and family were dinner guests at Rev. S. C. Norris' last Thursday.

Party at the Palmer Pouse.

Mrs. John P. Walter and Mrs. E. V. Boblett entertained at the Palmer House last Tuesday. About thirty ladies were present and bridge and guessing contests furnished the entertainment for the afternoon. Miss Sheerin won first prize in bridge, a cluny centerpiece, Mrs. Bennett the second, a cut glass dish, and Miss Rose Temple the third, a pair of silk stockings. In the guessing contest Miss Elsie Wasson and Mrs. Greiner were the prize winners, receiving a set of tea napkins and a pair of silk stockings. A five-course luncheon was served in the dining room, where all the guests were seated at one long perfectly appointed table beautifully decorated with carnations, smilax and white freesias. Guests from away were the Misses Temple of Chicago.

Long and Faithful Service.

Charles E. Coffin's many Culver friends will be interested in the Indianapolis Star's item announcing his retirement from membership on the board of park commissioners after a service of 15 years. A resolution passed by the board says:

His long term of service made each succeeding year's service increasingly valuable, says the resolution. His vision was not narrow, and he was appreciative of the importance of the work and gave to it his time, energy and best thought. He had a real and sincere interest in bringing about better living conditions in Indianapolis. His long, faithful, gratuitous and honorable service as park commissioner is deserving of the gratitude of the community and is characteristic of an older English civilization. Our association with him in the work has been agreeable and harmonious and we regret that it is not to continue.

The Weather for January.

January weather was characterized by several peculiarities. The month was uncommonly warm there being but one previous January on record where conditions were practically the same with reference to the month's temperature, says the Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph. A second notable feature was the fact that there was no prevailing direction of the winds for the reason that there were just as many south breezes as there were north. A third feature was that there were only four clear days in the entire month of thirty-two days [only two in Culver]. Other readings for the month show the records about normal.

The month of January was very warm in comparison with the records for years past. The monthly mean temperature for January was 32.2 degrees. This was 6.6 above normal. Of all the records kept by the United States weather bureau in Bloomington only one previous January has any comparison with last month. This was January in 1906. In this year the monthly mean temperature was about the same as last month. Thus it will be seen that last month was uncommonly warm. A variation above or below normal of two or three degrees is quite common but a variation of 7 degrees is seldom experienced in this region.

This Is Some "Ground Hog."

Wabash county's long sausage contest is over. Waiting until others had exhibited sausages ranging from 40 to 60 feet, Mrs. W. H. Hornaday and Mrs. C. E. Hornaday produced a sausage which eclipsed all others. It weighed sixty-nine pounds and filled a large tub, as it averaged six inches in circumference. When measured the sausages were found to be 85 feet and 5 inches long.

Mock Trial.

A mock trial, "A Cunning Conspiracy," will be held by the Christian Endeavorers at the Reformed church next week, Thursday night, Feb. 19. No admission, but an offering will be taken.

GREAT WATERWORKS SYSTEM

D. A. Elick Writes of the Splendid
Plant at Asheville, N. C.

Editor Citizen: I wish to thank you for your forbearance and the space you have allotted me, but I still crave more. It appears to be human nature to always want more. [Mr. Elick's letters are welcome. We are glad, always, to have our friends, whether temporarily absent or living at distance, tell the home folks their experiences.—Editor.]

In this communication I want to describe to the readers of the Citizen the most wonderful and grandest water system that has ever been brought to my notice. Mount Mitchell is 18 miles from here. It has the distinction of being the highest mountain east of the Rockies, being 6,711 feet above sea level. There is a group of fountains near the summit whose waters flow down its rugged steep in great profusion. Some years ago the city authorities evidently knew a good thing when they saw it and bought 10,000 acres of land in that locality so as to control the water supply beyond any dispute. They then dug a deep trench through hill and dale and piped the water to Asheville through a 16-inch pipe. The intake to the pipe is nearly 500 feet higher than Park Square, which is located in the main business portion of the city. The pipe terminates in a large cement tank located well up the side of Sunset mountain. It is high enough so that the entire city is supplied with water. The tank, as we see it from the city, does not look large, but when we passed near it it looked to be 50 feet in diameter. Wardens are employed constantly to guard the premises in order to insure the purity of the stream of delightfully cool and soft water.

It seems to me this system cannot be improved on. There are no pumps to break, no suckers to wear out. The gravity line brings it in sufficient quantity for all purposes. I now have a problem I wish some one would solve. I have heard it said, when a boy and still hear it, that no fountain will flow higher than its source. Mount Mitchell is the highest mountain east of the Rockies and the fountain is near its crest. Now, where is its source? Now, no guessing, no jumping at conclusions, but give us a real solution from a scientific standpoint. D. A. ELICK. Asheville, N. C., Box 118.

A Great Company's Anniversary.

The Citizen has been much interested in looking through the Fiftieth Anniversary Souvenir of the Wrought Iron Range Co. of St. Louis. The Souvenir very beautifully and thoroughly illustrates the various departments of the company's plant which covers about four city blocks and is said to be the largest and finest of its kind in the world. The company was established in 1864 by the three Culver brothers, one of whom, Henry H. Culver, was the founder of the Culver Military academy and the father of the present generation of Culvers who are building an institution which will be a monument to the family name during succeeding generations. The Wrought Iron Range Co. has a capital of $1,000,000. It is a cause for admiration that it has attained its commercial eminence by the innate ability of its founders and their successors through all the progressive but trying steps which have led from a very humble beginning.

A Business Trade.

William Kepler has traded the Hibbard branch of his livery business to Robert L. Crump for 72½ acres near Beardstown, between Bass lake and Winamac. The livery property includes five horses, one carriage, one automobile and a barn.

THE WEEK IN OUR SCHOOLS

Items of Interest Concerning the Faculty and Students.

The past week has been a strenuous one for the high school quintet. On Wednesday they defeated Plymouth by the overwhelming score of 115 to 24. This is the largest score that the maroon and white have made in any one game this season. Sayger led in the scoring as usual, making a total of 55 points. On Friday night the team went to Kokomo where they met the first defeat of the season by the close score of 25 to 24. The game was very rough and several of the players were hurt. Charles Cowen had his left knee badly injured. The boys are not in the least downhearted over the outcome of the game. They outclassed Kokomo in team work and passing, but were unable to hit baskets owing possibly to the largeness of the floor. Kokomo won by a foul toss in the last 15 seconds of play. The team stopped at Galveston on their way home from Kokomo and defeated that team 55 11. Prof. Hahn refereed.

The chapel exercises Monday were very interesting and helpful. The Christian minister had charge. Rev. Kenrich will talk next Monday on "Self Discovery."

The Freshman play given Friday proved a success. It was well given and appreciated by a large audience. The receipts were nearly $30.

The H. S. Dramatic club is hard at work on the play "A Rival by Request," which will be presented in the near future.

Buys the Thayer Mansion.

The Old Thayer mansion, at one time one of the finest residences in Northern Indiana, and built at a cost of over $65,000, was sold Monday by the J. B. Bowell Agency to Ed Garn of Plymouth. Mrs. Albert Overmyer of Culver was the former owner. Mr. Garn thinks that he may wreck the building but this has not definitely been decided upon.—Plymouth Democrat.

County Sunday Schools.

We remind the Sunday school workers in this vicinity that the county Sunday school convention is scheduled for Feb. 19-21. The usual varied and comprehensive program will be given under the direction of state workers, with strong musical features. A banquet will be given at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, for which 40 cents per person will be charged.

New Barns Near Burr Oak.

Charles Overmyer, Lewis Overmyer and Philip Working are getting out material for new barns. They are all going to build large buildings and expect to get started on them early in the spring.—Plymouth Republican.

A Surprise Coming.

The men who spend all their time reading the bible will be surprised when they get to heaven and find that the men who always paid their grocery bills are occupying the reserved seats in front.—Billy Sunday.

Raise the Flags Today.

Today (Thursday) is Lincoln's birthday, and the G. A. R. post request that the national colors be displayed everywhere possible. It is also requested that at 11 o'clock this forenoon all the schools sing "America."

Inwood Revival Closed.

The big revival at Inwood closed last week with 104 conversions, 95 per cent of which were adults.

—Mr. Snoeberger and his foreman, Mr. Hildebrand, were in town yesterday. The electric light line is completed from Plymouth to Walkerton, and the men are setting poles between Plymouth and Culver.

Parent-Teacher Club.

The February meeting of the Parent Teacher club was held Friday, between thirty and forty being present. The afternoon program was opened with a short talk from Rev. Kenrich on the constructive element in home and school work. This was followed by prayer. The children from Miss Proctor's room then entertained the club with two choruses, very sweetly rendered.

The committees on soliciting funds for fire escapes reported over $50 subscribed, which with the fund on hand will give the club about $120 to turn over to the school board.

Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Eisenhard then gave brief and interesting resumes of two addresses delivered at the Fort Wayne meeting.

Mrs. Eisenhard then outlined the plans for the coming year's work, and Mr. Kenrich made a few remarks upon the way in which the churches and the club might be mutually helped.

A motion was carried to serve luncheon to the county teachers who meet here in a few weeks.

Questions which had been written during the meeting by those present were then taken up and discussed by President Mrs. Eisenhard and the club. This proved an interesting feature of the afternoon.

Following the adjournment tea and wafers were served, which testified to the skill of Miss Cook and her bright domestic science class. Mrs. Michael and Mrs. Kenrich poured.

An encouraging number of new members were added to the club at this meeting.

Ice Crop at Last.

When the mercury shot down to 2 to 8 below zero Sunday morning and "stuck around" the zero mark all day, joyous visions of an ice crop after all became a reality. "The ice man" has since been about the busiest proposition this man's town has seen for lo! these many days. On Tuesday a big gang started to feed the elevator at the south ice house, and on Wednesday another gang got busy at the north house. The ice yesterday was not less than 7 inches in thickness, and with the present weather every 24 hours will add about an inch.

First Precinct—P. D. Berlin.

Second Precinct—W. S. Easterday.

Third Precinct—Will Myers.

George Garn was certified as delegate and H. J. Meredith as alternate to the district convention.

JOTTINGS ABOUT THE TOWN

Little Items of the Week's Events
From Many Sources.

—Good old groundhog!

—Rain about Thursday, followed by colder is what we are advised to expect.

—The Nickel Plate station at Rutland has been discontinued. Not enough business.

—Seventy-one horses were sold at the Lemert sale in Plymouth on Saturday. The prices were high.

—Born, Feb. 10, to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Carlisle, a boy. Jan. 29, to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Eckman, a girl.

—Harry Menser moved in from the farm last week and is domiciled in the apartments over Beck's store.

—Let's all turn out and make the fire boys' supper the biggest thing of its kind ever given in the old town!

—S. A. Shaw is the petit juryman from Union township for the February term of the circuit court now in session.

—The examination for a clerkship in the Culver postoffice to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Roy Porter will be held on Feb. 28 instead of the 18th as published last week.

—Culver is third in the list of Red Cross seal sales in Marshall county. Plymouth comes first, of course, with $78.32, Bremen next with $24.55, Culver third with $23.38, and Argos fourth with $7.07.

—An overheated furnace which set fire to the partition around a register in N. W. Rector's house yesterday forenoon brought on the fire department. Axes and buckets of water prevented any serious damage. George Speyer discovered the fire while delivering groceries. Mrs. Rector was not at home, and no one responding to his knock George opened the door and saw the blaze around the register. He then stepped to the phone and called Mr. Rector, and put the visible flames out with water from the sink.

—Canvassers for money for outside organizations appear in Culver at frequent intervals. Those we call to mind are the Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, the Christian Volunteers and the Little Sisters of the Poor. Of course there are others—such as the Children's Aid society, etc., which make the rounds only once a year. But there is hardly a week that an appeal for money to help distant organizations is not made. These objects may be worthy, but it is the business men who are asked, over and over, to give to them. Our conclusion on this matter is that Plymouth and Logansport and South Bend should take care of their own charities, and not compel these well meaning beggars to come to little towns like Culver to secure funds to keep the organizations running. We have here at home worthy objects of charity—enough of them, in fact, to keep our loose change circulating. What do you think about this, Mr. Business Man?

A Terrible Tragedy.*

George Speyer

Discovered a fire

While making his morning round. He sprang to the phone

And soon it was known

In every part of the town.

LATER—It is now believed, after investigation, that the fire was not caused by the furnace, but was generated by the friction of Bert's rapid rise from bed when called in the morning.

*The poetry—not the fire.

Took His Own Life.

Alois Grolich, aged 50 years, with a wife and six children, committed suicide in Plymouth last Sunday morning by hanging himself to a rafter in the barn. Brooding over his ill health which prevented him from working is assigned as the cause.

CULVER, INDIANA, FEB. 12, 1914

Congressman Barnhart has introduced another bill for a $65,000 postoffice building in Plymouth.

"There are nearly 100,000,000 people in these United States, and not more than half a dozen who ever did anything mean to you. Cheer up!"

"Uncle George" Olney of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has been traveling all over the Middle West for stationery houses for 60 years, has just retired at the age of 80. He has ridden about 800,000 miles and has never been in an accident.

The women of Chicago are making a strong campaign to abolish smoking on street cars, and we hope they win. When we abuse our privileges and become nuisances we should be suppressed. This applies with equal force to both sexes.

Of 10,000 bushels of corn delivered at elevators in Champaign county, Ill., recently none was good enough to grade No. 4. It was all sold as sample corn, bringing 10 cents below the average price. It is said that for the first time in years practically all the farmers in that vicinity will have their seed corn shipped in.

That's right, girls. March up to President Woodrow Wilson with a brass band, banners and transparencies and demand your rights. It's true he'll tell you in that nice way of his to "Run along home, girls," but you will have had the distinction of getting into the newspapers and some day will be able to tell your grandchildren how you were one of those "crusaders" who topped the world over.

Those who have declared that automobiles are putting horses out of business seem to have another guess coming, says the Winamac Democrat, especially as far as draft horses are concerned. Reports from the Union Stock Yards of Chicago give the interesting fact that there are now employed in Chicago 72,939 horses, or only 287 less than a year ago. In Boston the number of horses is only 50 less than ten years ago. Minneapolis has 150 more and St. Louis 730 more than ten years ago. Inasmuch as the city driving and carriage horse has rapidly disappeared the figures show that more draft horses are in use today than ever before.

According to estimates of officials of the Department of Agriculture, the indicated total shortage of meat animals since the census of 1910 is nearly nine beef cattle, seven sheep and more than three hogs for each 100 of the total estimated population in the country today. In other words, it will require 18,259,000 more meat cattle, sheep and swine than the estimates show at the present time in this country to furnish to the present population the same meat supply that the census of 1910 showed to exist.

The department believes these statistics represent the most accurate information obtainable on the number and value of live stock, including meat animals.

Her Wish.
Fargone—This evening I shall ask your father for your hand. Don't you wish me luck?
Miss Cutting—Sure; I hope he'll have on his slippers!

His Occupation.
She—What are you doing these days?
He—I'm unmaking history.
She—How's that?
He—I'm writing historical novels.

What He Wanted.
Constable—Now, then, don't you think it is time you were home? I expect your wife is waiting for you.
Brown—All right, policeman, dear. Do you really think my wife is waitin' for me?
Constable—Yes, I do.
Brown—Then run me in.—Ally Sloper's Half-Holiday.

Her Thoughtfulness.
Maid—Please, mum, the baby has gone and turned the jug of cream all over my best dress.
Mistress—Never mind, Bridget; we can use the condensed milk.—Illustrated Bits.

Inborn.
Victim—"Say, where did you learn to draw teeth, anyhow? In an art school?"
Dentist—"No! It came natural. I've always had more or less of a pull in this precinct ever since I was a kid."

Not a Bit Nice.
"The man I marry," declared Miss Elder, "must be capable of great self-sacrifice."
"Yes," murmured Miss Yonger, "he'll have to be."—Cleveland Leader.

Believed in Working.
Mrs. Sittuppe—Why didn't you wait till you were in the house before taking off your shoes?
Sittuppe—M'dear, never put off till t'morrow what you can do t'night.

NEWS OF LOCAL CHURCHES

EVANGELICAL.

Sunday school, 10; special services conducted by pastor and laymen, 11; Y. P. A. 6:30, subject, "Why everyone should sign a temperance pledge," leader, N. W. Pinkerton; preaching, 7:30; prayer meeting Wednesday 7:30. The Ladies' Aid society will meet at the parsonage on Thursday all day for work. J. E. Young, Pastor. Telephone 208.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL.

The members of classes 1, 2 and 3 of our Sunday school spent a very enjoyable evening together in the church basement last Friday evening. Numbers 1 and 2 completed the work of organization and discussed plans of procedure for the future. The men served light refreshments to all present. The Sunday school orchestra furnished some delightful music, and many of the brethren distinguished themselves as public speakers. The signs are favorable for some aggressive work being done in the way of social betterment. Ten members of our Teacher-Training class took an official examination on the part of the text book used in the first standard course, last Monday night. The pastor hopes to open the revival effort in the church next week. A more definite announcement will be made next Sunday. Is there any reason why we should not have the co-operation of all christian people of the community, in this special religious effort. It is not our purpose to conduct the meeting just for our denomination alone. If any other church can profit by the effort, we will be greatly pleased. What we want in Culver, is more truly Christ-like people, regardless of the denominational label. Sunday services as follows: Bible school, 10; morning worship, 11; Epworth league, 6:30; Even song and sermon 7:30. All are invited.

POPLAR GROVE.

Four weeks of revival meetings have certainly wrought some change in this church. With the mercury below the zero mark, the people of the community under ordinary circumstances would consider it too cold to attend Sunday school or church, but last Sunday, in spite of the severe cold, 51 were in attendance at the Sunday school and remained through the church service. Something like twenty communicants partook of the Lord's supper. Twenty-two are being added to the church, which means an increase of better than 50 per cent. We expect to follow the regular schedule of services inaugurated some time ago with the addition of a Wednesday night service each week. The pastor will be present the 24 and 4th Wednesday nights unless other matters prevent his attendance.

J. F. Kenrich, Pastor.
